"Yes… Obscurum not only takes the dark element life out of worlds, but they absorb the spiritual lifeforce of it. If the lifeforce was gone, then the world would disappear, and become a part of Obscurum. If Obscurum was born in other universe, then that universe would be the only one in trouble, but since Obscurum is in the Grand Universe, every reality is in deep trouble!" Crazy Hand then looked away from the illusionary cosmos, "The last thing I want to do is to creep you guys out even further, but you need to fully know how threatening this situation is. I'm going to use my powers to show you what would've happened if Vorago didn't exist during that crucial time of need. What you are about to see will make the revival of nutjobs, and turning kind people into psychopaths are nothing but just a tiny fragment of what the true horror that world can unleash!"

Crazy Hand then snapped his fingers as the crew paid close attention to the grand universe. They could see Obscurum in the universe, growing and growing as time passes by quickly. Obscurum then got big enough for the crew to see clearly without squinting their eyes. It was in size of a regular star they would see during the night, but it didn't end there. Obscurum grew even more, and eventually, it swallowed up all the worlds of the Monarch Ring, including Smashworld.

The crew were shocked to see that, but they were even more shocked to see that Obscurum was still growing bigger. It's size was engulfing the boundaries in it's way, and the worlds that were close to it's immense size disappeared, which helped the world grow much bigger. The Strawhat pirates were now absolutely terrified as Obscurum already engulfed over the Grand Universe, and several universes in the unlimited realities. Eventually, it engulfed over all realities, and all of space where now a part of one giant world that took everything away.

Obscurum then stopped growing as it stood several inches away from the crew, with Luffy being the closest. They were all nervous, even Zoro and Sanji couldn't remain stoic after what they just saw. Nami fell on her knees from seeing this, and Usopp fell on his rear while Chopper was paralyzed in fear. Robin just stared at Obscurum while shivering in the process, and Franky gawked in fear out of seeing this as well. Luffy was probably the most nervous of all; he simply stood in front of Obscurum without showing any emotion from his backview, but in reality, by the looks of his eyes, he was scared.

Crazy Hand then looked up into the nothingness, "What you just saw… was Obscurum's purpose… to be life itself!"

Super Smash Bros Pt 5

Okay… it took me awhile… but I finally did it. Everything else you wanted to know are right here too. This chapter perhaps has the greatest ending to an arc I have ever done so far! Enjoy!

The spacial eclipse. Crazy Hand explained everything the Strawhat crew needed to know about Obscurum, and they learned more than they bargained for. It turns out that Obscurum is one of the first worlds to be born in the Grand Universe, the original universe that binds all unlimited realities together, but was destroyed after the first war between the light and darkness. After the crew knew the entire history of Obscurum, Crazy Hand showed them what would happen if the Obscurum of now is remains alive… and it was not something anyone can avoid. What will the Strawhats after they just found out the truth?

Chapter 119: A heavy obligation, We must stop Obscurum!

The Strawhat pirates remained staring at the dark planet, Obscurum, which swallowed the entire cosmos, and thus, becoming the new space. Crazy Hand then touched the floor, which made the big book of everything appear as it opened up to make the dreadful illusion to disappear. Everyone was now back at the big room they were in before, but the crew was still shocked at what they have just seen.

"… We've been dealing with… something like that this whole time… !" Usopp said, too afraid to even scream.

Nami, who was on her knees, shivered as she closed her eyes out of fear while trying to be calm again, but was having a hard time. Franky removed his sunglasses, and his eyes showed signs of fear as he too couldn't believe what he saw.

"The hell…" Franky muttered.

"We've been trying to avoid that planet for so long, and yet… we now know that it was hopeless from the start." Robin said sadly. Chopper then fell on his rear, and lowered his hat over his eyes, trying to hide his tears.

"Are we… are we going to die?" Chopper asked sadly.

"Like hell we would!" Sanji muttered while getting out a cigarette, "We've come a long way to get here, and you plan that after looking at this is going to destroy our will to live!" Sanji then lits the cigarette, and placed it on his lips, "The hell with that! I don't plan on thinking how that shitty planet is going to destroy all of space! Nothing like that will ever happen!

"You can't be serious." Zoro said with a frown, "This isn't the time to go soft on us; you and I both know that we just saw might be our future! If you're going to be in denial about it, then just kill yourself already; we don't need someone as pathetic as you to ignore this situation!"

"I know what I am talking about!" Sanji said, glaring at Zoro, "What we saw was actually a theory; it's not like these guys knew what would happen from the start! No matter how great and powerful that world used to be; it can never do anything like that!" Sanji then looked at Crazy Hand, who wasn't looking back, "Am I right! You said so yourself that Obscurum was stopped by that hero a long time ago! You couldn't have possibly known what would've happened if he didn't do anything that day! What makes you think that we would believe that Obscurum would really destroy us all!"

Crazy Hand didn't reply as he closed the big book of everything, and placed it back on the shelf, where the book shrunk back to it's smaller size. Crazy Hand only sighed as he looked through the glass wall.

"I didn't show you that just to scare you." Crazy Hand said, "If you need to know, then my brother was the one who showed me that possibility from the start." The crew then looked at Crazy, except for Luffy, who remained looking at the direction where he saw the Obscurum illusion, "My bro is pretty smart, and I always pay attention to him when I do stuff to piss him off, especially when I use the big book of everything to stalk on other people from other universes. He always knows what to do, or what to say; he is like the biggest genius ever! If he says that Obscurum can engulf the entire cosmos, then I believe him. He never lied, and he was never wrong, so… yeah, Obscurum is the one and only life threatening world to all life itself, and there is nothing that can change that."

The crew was then calm again as Usopp stood back up, while Chopper raised his hat out of his vision, and wiped the tears out his eyes and face. Zoro and Sanji were stoic, while Nami got up as she brushed the dust off her knees.

"So what have you been trying to do while all this was happening?" Nami asked bluntly.

"Well… to be honest, I haven't done anything at all." Crazy Hand said regretfully, "I've been hiding in here ever since Obscurum was acting nuts again. It all happened right during that day when my brother got kidnapped."

"Oh, that's right." Robin said in realization, "You never told us how Master Hand was kidnapped by the rulers."

Crazy Hand sighed as he slowly twirled finger along the ground, "Now that is something I wish I can forget, but for some reason, that thought is like burned into me; I can never forget about it. It was that freaky…" Crazy Hand said as he then looked at the crew, "But… seeing how this involves you guys, I need to show you what and where it happened. Come on, I'll take you guys outside."

"Wait a minute, I thought this mansion was in lockdown." Zoro said.

"Oh yeah… lock-down. Hergh… such a stupid name…" Crazy Hand muttered, "Anyway, yeah, I think I remember a secret passageway somewhere; it's suppose to lead you back outside. Let me just remember where it was…"

Crazy Hand then pondered about the whereabouts of the passageway, while the crew looked at each other.

"Hmm… I seriously don't know what to think right now." Nami said a little irritably.

"What is there to think?" Franky asked, "We just found out that this stupid new world we've been hearing about this whole time is going to kill us, despite where we go."

"I don't wasn't that world to destroy everything!" Chopper cried.

"We all don't want that to happen." Usopp said, "But it's not like we can do anything about it!"

"We can find those rulers, and stop what they are doing." Zoro suggested.

"There is no point in taking care of the supporters; we need to worry about how to destroy the life Obscurum is gathering." Sanji said.

"You can't be serious!" Usopp exclaimed, "We don't have the power to destroy a world! Sure, we are all very strong, especially me, but not enough to take down a world!"

"It's not like we can just go back to our world, and pretend we don't know about this." Robin said concernedly, "We should atleast do what we can to help Crazy Hand rescue Master Hand."

The crew were then silent again as Nami then glanced at Luffy over her shoulder, "Luffy…" Nami called, but didn't get a reply from Luffy. Nami then sighed as she looked back at her comrades with a stern look, "We're all just a little stunned after what we just saw. Let's all just calm down, and we'll see what happens, then we can decide what to do."

Crazy Hand then approached the crew out of nowhere, startling Usopp and Chopper as they gasped, "Okay, I just remembered where the secret passageway is." He said as he then pointed at the ground, "It's right here, in my brother's office."

"Great, but where exactly do we go from here?" Franky asked uncaring.

"You guys don't have to do anything." Crazy Hand explained as he then turned the other way, "All you have to do is watch me open the passageway in a dramatic manner."

"Whatever…" Nami sighed. Crazy Hand then faced towards the glass wall before speaking.

"R.O.P., if you please…" Crazy Hand said to R.O.B..

R.O.B. then played a drumroll theme from out of unlocatable speakers as Crazy Hand cracked his fingers, and opened up a small hatch in front of the glass wall with a red button inside. Crazy Hand then twirled his finger upward, and pressed the button as soon R.O.B. finished playing the drum roll theme. Crazy Hand then sighed happily as he then backed away from the glass wall, while the Strawhat crew approached him from behind.

"… KARATEKAAAA!" Crazy Hand yelled insanely, startling off the Strawhat crew as Crazy Hand then did a karate chop at the glass wall, which shattered into a million pieces afterwards. Most of the crew were dumbfounded as Crazy Hand sighed happily again. "There we go; now we can get out."

"What was that just now!" Nami asked furiously, "I thought you were going open up a secret passageway!"

"I did!" Crazy Hand said as he pointed at the destroyed glass wall behind him with his thumb, "No one would ever suspect that through here would be a secret passageway. That's why it's a secret."

"Then why did you press that button there?" Usopp asked dumbfounded.

"Oh this?" Crazy Hand asked as he then took out the button from the hatch, but it turns out, it was actually a red plushie with a smiley face sticking it's tongue out, "This is just my best friend, Mr. Cuddly-kins. I always feel him so I can get motivated for the day. And I always keep him in my brother's private office, just so I can have an excuse to come in here uninvited… but don't tell him that, though."

"… So you could have gotten away from here anytime you wanted to?" Zoro asked while his eye twitched. Crazy Hand thought what Zoro just said, until he then gasped upon realization.

"Oh, I get it!" Crazy Hand exclaimed, "I could've escaped through here when I activated the lock-dowwnnnuh mode to keep you guys from getting away. Hahahahahahhahahaa! Oh man, if I wouldn't have known about that, and that I have never found out that you guys are my favorite group of people, then you would've have been so dead by now! I mean, I would've bathed in your blood to sexually relieve my daily depression, but then I would commit suicide after I find out that I killed my favorite pirate crew! Although… I don't think I can die… but thank goodness that nothing like that ever happened! Ahahahahhahahaaa!"

"I hate your theories." Nami snarled.

"Oh, lighten up! I've been acting very serious-uh for the past 100 sentences! I need to get back to character before I literally explode!" Crazy Hand said as he then flew out of the mansion through hole he made, "Now come on, I need to take you guys to the backyard."

The crew were silent as they followed Crazy Hand out through the hole, until Usopp realized that Luffy wasn't following. He glanced over his shoulder to see Luffy standing on the same spot. "Luffy, we're going already." Usopp said.

Luffy didn't reply, but nonetheless, he followed his crew out of the mansion in silence. It was a little troublesome for the crew to leave the mansion from the second floor, but R.O.B. helped Nami and Robin down using his boosters to gently lower them down outside while they hanged on to him. Luffy and the others jumped out of the mansion, with Chopper holding onto Zoro's head, and Usopp holding onto Franky on the way down. Once they were all out, Crazy Hand led them around the mansion, and through a nice playground, where the young Smashers would go, and play whenever they are bored.

"This mansion sure has tons of stuff around here." Franky commented while walking with his comrades, "I wouldn't be surprised if this place had an outside swimming pool, or a hangar to keep all the fancy machinery like the ones back in Corneria."

"Oh, that's in the other side of the mansion, but the hangar is actually undergound; it has all sorts of awesome things in there. I'll probably give you a tour of it later."

"Thanks, but why are we going to the backyard?" Nami asked. Crazy Hand was a little quiet at first before speaking out.

"… To show you the aftermath of my brother's capture." Crazy hand said sternly.

The crew pondered at what he meant as they made a turn around a corner of the mansion, ending up in the backyard. As soon as they arrived, however, they were stunned.

"Wha… What happened here!" Chopper asked in shock.

The entire backyard was a complete mess. There was several craters along the field of flowers, and burned bushes along the border walls. Speaking of the border walls, the center of it was destroyed, allowing anything to come in or out. Some trees were burned or cut in half, including some of the pathways towards the mansion's back entrance, which was no longer there as a big hole was formed there instead. In the grassy fields beyond the border walls were also a wreck, filled with craters and cuts; every detail of it was total chaos.

The Strawhat crew realized that something bad happened in the backyard, "This is terrible." Robin said, "Who could have done such destruction?"

"The Obscurum rulers." Crazy Hand said, "It was right here when they took my brother away."

"No way! You're saying that they took him away right out of his own home! That's insane!" Usopp exclaimed. Usopp then noticed something far away into the horizon. He blinked in confusion until he puts on his goggles, and zoomed his view into the horizon ahead. What he saw there shocked him, "O-Oi! Is that natural!"

"What is it, Usopp!" Sanji asked.

"The sky there… I can see cracks on it!" Usopp exclaimed. The crew were shocked to hear that as Usopp was actually right, there was indeed some cracks on part of the sky over the horizon. Around those cracks was a hole, showing a glimpse of space.

"Why would there be cracks in the sky? That doesn't make sense." Zoro said.

"It does here." Crazy Hand said, "What you see in the skies is actually an illusion of pure daylight. It's something that my brother and I made after we made this world. This illusion allows this world to make day and night happen everyday, kinda like the worlds in the Monarch Ring, but with the inclusion of our powers. This world just illuminates itself every 12 hours, and then stops for another 12 hours more. We can even make it cloudy, rainy, and all that kind of weather stuff whenever we want to. This world is under our eternal control."

"So is the imaginary sky broken now?" Chopper asked.

"No… not really…" Crazy Hand said sadly as he then looked at the cracked sky over the horizon, "It's just that… somebody had to break it… and it wasn't me…"

FLASHBACK

We now return back in time, to the day before the Strawhat crew have been taken out of their world, and started their journey throughout the worlds that await their arrival.

In the Smashworld, everything was as peaceful as it has always been. It was a couple of weeks ago that day that the last tournament had ended, and everyone has returned to their worlds. The Smashtown was once again remained empty, but it stood strong, awaiting for the next tournament to take place so that it could flourish with people once more.

All was the same in the Smash Mansion as well; the mansion was in top condition as always, as the alloys that resided there were doing there daily chores with a joyful attitude, even though it was hard to tell since they don't have faces.

The backyard was as beautiful as any backyard could be. Just like in the front lawn, there was several squared flower gardens, and healthly-looking bushes along the endurable border walls. There was also some trees that were aligned from both sides around the flower fields, and there was a vertical cross-shaped path in between the fields as well. The paths lead everywhere, and in the center of backyard was a round and gray concrete, where there were four benches around it, and in the center lied another Super Smash Bros. emblem.

In the back of the mansion were also two regular-sized glass doors that can be opened sideways, and could lead you into the garage. The garage is where the Smashers could leave their stuff in their magical lockers on the wall, which you can put anything inside, and it will never fill up, and through the garage will lead you straight into the back part of the living room.

Everything mentioned so far is not as important as where the Hands were. Crazy Hand and R.O.B where in the center of the backyard, with Crazy Hand talking to another hand, which looked exactly like Crazy, only he was a righty as he was looking at some documents on the floor while tapping his finger.

"So it's like this, the old guy was about to smash the ship with this giant flail, but the ship suddenly skyrocketed into the air, and got away in time! There ship is sooo cool now; you should've seen it with us!" Crazy Hand exclaimed excitedly, talking about the time when he used the book of everything to stalk a certain group of people.

"I would love to do nothing but spy on people all day, but right now, I am very busy." The other hand replied. This hand held many tournaments throughout the years, and is known far and wide as the creator of smash- Master Hand.

"You always say that, but I know you're lying!" Crazy Hand exclaimed, "I know that you always use the big book of everything to spy on people too!"

"That is only when I am looking for new Smashers, and not to spy on others in order to feel entertained by their lives." Master Hand said as he then looked at Crazy, "Besides, that is not what the book is for. I made that book to properly link itself to the unlimited boundaries, so it can automatically record every single moment of each world out there, allowing me to study how that dreadful war has affected those worlds upon their birth, and to find out how to balance there peoples' elemental lifeforce, so that they could be as peaceful as the people of the worlds our gods created are right now. It's certainly NOT a television set where you can just look at everything you like everyday."

"That's exactly what it's for!" Crazy Hand yelled with a pointed finger, "And it's not like I am doing anything bad. I'm actually helping you out too! The people I have been looking at are perfect for the next tournaments! If you could just look at them for one sec-"

"Crazy, the people you have been looking at all come from the Ganmaenima reality, and you know perfectly well that we're only focusing on people from the Egasm reality." Master Hand stated, "We will gather people from the Ganmaenima reality as soon as we made great progress with Egasm."

"But that's going to take foreeveerrr!" Crazy Hand whined, "And those guys from Ganmaenima aren't going to live long enough for that day to come!"

"That doesn't matter; we can always get them from their era regardless of the time." Master Hand said.

"Still, that's going to take forever, and I want to meet them before they get to the one piece!" Crazy Hand exclaimed, "And not just them, I also want to meet those other guys that are also my favorites; those guys would also fit perfectly around here!"

Master Hand sighed as he then looked back at his documents. Crazy Hand then took a glimpse at the documents Master Hand was looking at, and looked worried, "… There is going to be another tournament, right?" Crazy Hand asked.

Master Hand froze a bit before looking back at Crazy Hand, "Of course there will be another one. How else am I suppose to bring peace across universes if I don't do things my way? I just have to finish this paperwork, and I'll be on my way." Crazy Hand sounded reluctant hearing that, which made Master Hand sigh as he patted Crazy Hand with his pinky, "Look, everything is going to turn out fine. Things have just gotten a little rough now, but that's part of making a good progress. You just leave things to me, and everything will run perfectly again. I have never let you down before, right? There is no reason to do so now."

"Ugh… hm, yeah! You're right! I shouldn't be so emo about this! You're the best, Mastah hando!" Crazy Hand said happily.

"I'm glad that I cheered you up. Now, go do some 'research' or whatever you usually do while I finish my work." Master Hand said while turning back towards his documents.

"Oh, right! It's that hour of the day where I look at BUTT pictures! Let's go, R.O.P.!" Crazy Hand exclaimed excitedly. He and R.O.B. then left Master Hand alone, while Crazy Hand kept singing about butts as he and R.O.B were just about to leave the backyard, until…

"Hmm?" Master Hand looked up after sorting out his documents as he felt an odd presence. Crazy Hand felt his brother's disturbance as he stopped singing, and turned around.

"Hey, what's up?" Crazy Hand asked.

"I don't know… but I can sense something strange…" Master Hand said unsure.

"Is it my song? I can sing about noses if you want." Crazy Hand said.

"No, no… it's not that." Master Hand said while looking at his surroundings, "It's just that… this sensation is very familiar, but… !" Master Hand then looked at Crazy Hand, "Tell the alloys to stop what they're doing, and get everyone inside the mansion; I will be back shortly!"

"What? What's going on?" Crazy Hand asked.

"I'm not sure, but I need to investigate this right away!" Master Hand said as he then looked over the border walls, "I've felt this presence before, and if it has to do exactly what I think it is, then I must do something about it this time! Stay inside the mansion, Crazy! I'll be back as soon as I can!"

Master Hand then flew off as Crazy Hand watched him leave, "Hey, can you atleast tell me what you're going to do!" Crazy Hand asked, but Master Hand as already left. "Ugh… this is so frustrating. He should know by now I get all loony if he keeps something from me…"

Crazy Hand was then jittery as he immediately looked at R.O.B., "Hey, go get Mr. Cuddly-kins! I need to feel him erotically so I can get rid of this stupid tension!"

R.O.B. immediately went to do what he has been ordered while Crazy Hand followed him while acting all crazy as usual. They entered the mansion through the front side since the front doorways were big enough for him to get in through without breaking anything, and locked the doors as soon as they, and the alloys outside got inside.

Later…

It has been one day since Master Hand has left unexpectedly to check on the strange presence he felt as Crazy Hand and R.O.B. were on the roof, which was plain enough to stand on, not that it matter for Crazy Hand anyway. The skies were pretty cloudy that day, which was rather strange since it was They were waiting patiently for Master Hand to return, well except for Crazy Hand, who was rocking back and forth while floating as he was holding tightly to his stuffed smiley face ball, Mr. Cuddly-kins."

"Oh… it's been 24 hours, 52 minutes, 33 seconds, and 58 milliseconds since my bro left! Oh where, oh where could he have gone!" Crazy Hand asked dramatically until he gasped, "Dooouhh! He must've gotten captured by some evil people that used some evil machinery that captured him in such evil way, that my brother must be crying his hand off just looking at his evil surroundings while the evil people just laugh at him… EVILLY!"

Crazy Hand then collapsed on the floor next to R.O.B., who kept staring where Master Hand went to, "We're too late, R.O.B.! My brother is done for! It's already been 24 hours, 52 minutes, 54 seconds, and 64 milliseconds since he left, and he still isn't back! When will this tragedy end! When will it end! Ohh, I am so sad, I could jump off the roof, and end my life… although, I might survive since I can just fly… GAAAHUUHUUHUHHHH! Why did this have to happen… WHHHYYYHYYHYYY!"

While Crazy Hand continued with his tantrum, R.O.B. noticed someone approaching far over the horizon. He zoomed in his vision, and saw Master Hand coming back to the mansion with great speed. R.O.B. then patted on Crazy Hand, who repeatedly slammed his thumb on the rooftop out of agony.

"What! Can't you leave me alone to drown myself in perpetual sorrow without you-wha?" Crazy Hand stopped crying, and finally noticed Master Hand coming. With just seeing him coming made Crazy Hand act immediately calm again, "Oh, well there he is. He sure is back early. You see; patience is a virtue, R.O.P.. If you wait patiently, you get good results."

R.O.B ignored Crazy as he activated his boosters to get off the rooftop, and meet up with Master Hand, who landed on the backyard. Master Hand sounded exhausted as he was panting while resting on his palm and fingers. Crazy Hand flew down to him to check up on him.

"Hey, bro; where did you go? And why do you look so exhausted; you're freakin' hand! You're supposed to be handy all the time!" Crazy Hand said, dulling the moment with his lame pun.

"Eh… I'm not tired, I'm just shocked…" Master Hand said while raising himself up with his fingers, "… Crazy… I saw it…"

"Huh? Saw what?" Crazy Hand asked.

"It has begun again… Obscurum has been revived once more!" Master Hand exclaimed. Crazy Hand and R.O.B were shocked to hear this.

"Are you kidding! There is no way that world can be back in action this early!" Crazy Hand yelled.

"I know, but somehow, it's back!" Master Hand said before floating, "And it has already begun! We cannot stay here, and watch this time!"

"What do you want us to do! If we get close to that world, the darkness is going to destroy us!" Crazy Hand said.

"I know that, but fortunately, we do have a choice this time!" Master Hand said as he pointed at Crazy, "Call the Smashers; we need their help to stop this!"

"Wha! A-Are you sure about that!" Crazy Hand asked.

"I know what I'm doing, and they are the only ones who can truly make things right this time! Now, call them!" Master Hand yelled angrily.

But suddenly, both Master Hand and Crazy Hand felt another presence, and it wasn't just one. "Hey, did you bring someone here?" Crazy Hand asked.

"No… I did not." Master Hand replied a bit worryingly.

Beyond the back border walls of the mansion, eight figures slowly approached the wall after walking out of a dark portal behind them. The portal disappeared as the eight people look at the wall curiously before the one in the center charged up a sphere of energy.

KABOOM!

Master Hand and Crazy Hand gasped as the wall in front of them was blown away by one of the intruders. They gazed at the intruders, who none other than the Obscurum rulers: Xemnas, Yojimbo, Dimentio, Kefka, Bison, Hojo, Sweet Tooth, and Sigma. The eight looked at their surroundings until they noticed the hands.

"So there is life in this planet afterall." Xemnas said as he then smirked, "Hmph! And such odd ones at that."

"They don't seem to be a threat; they're just floating hands." Bison said with a step forward.

"Ah ha ha ha! You must never underestimate your opponents, Bison-kun. You may regret it…" Dimentio chuckled.

"Oh, shut up! They're just stupid hands waiting to get slaughtered! Let's kill them already!" Kefka yelled angrily.

Master Hand was on alert as he then approached the rulers, "You are trespassing into our property! I demand to know why you are here, and how you arrived at this world!"

"It looks like they can talk." Hojo said upon observation, "Hmm… perhaps it's best that we keep them alive to observe their natural habitat, and dissect them to see what they are made of."

"We don't have time for that!" Sigma said with a frown, "We need to make sure that nobody will dare come between us, and our destiny!"

Crazy Hand then gasped upon realization, "Oh my emperor god; I know those guys!" Crazy Hand said while pointing at the rulers, "They are the most wackiest nutjobs ever, and they are not merciful! I stalked on those guys once too, and they are evil… except for that really big guy; he is just really mean." Crazy Hand referred to Yojimbo, "But I don't get it; they all died before! How are they back!"

Master Hand took one good look at the rulers, and sounded angry, "It must be Obscurum again." He said, "It already started reviving the ones that had the most dark element in their systems… but I don't understand; how did they get here in this world!"

"Hey, can we kill them now? I haven't killed since I was revived." Sweet Tooth said while taking out his combat knife.

"Now, now; let's not be to hasty, my friend. Even though they are just hands, I'm sure they can do more than just touch things." Dimentio said with a chuckle.

"Either way, we've already made our entrance." Xemnas said stoically, "There is no point in turning back now, and these hands seem to be against our wishes. It's best to settle with them before they get in our way."

"Ergh… alloys! Come and take care of the intruders!" Master Hand ordered. Several alloys then came rushing out of the mansion, and charged at the rulers.

Xemnas formed beam blades out of his palms, and did a blade dance while slashing through several alloys in his way. Yojimbo snapped his fingers, ordering his dog to attack the alloys with several bites and headbutts.

"Ah ha ha ha!" Dimentio laughed as he threw some energy spheres through some other alloys destroying them in an instant.

"Die, die, DIE!" Kefka floated in midair, and threw three simultaneous fireballs that pierced through several alloys, which were then destroyed as the fireballs exploded on one of the flower fields, creating a crater in the process. Bison crossed his arms with a frown as he levitated inches away from the floor with his feet together, and knocked down some alloys while passing by. He continued doing this as he making several blurs behind him.

Hojo took out his capsules, and threw them to the alloys. The capsules then bursted open to big monstrous squids, which destroyed the alloys that were in there way. Sweet Tooth punched, kicked, and even stabbed some alloys away as Sigma cuts some down with beam sword.

Evidently, the alloys stood no chance against the rulers as this was only causing destruction to the backyard. The alloys continued fighting nonetheless as the rulers regrouped.

"I wouldn't mind doing this all day, but we're losing our patience with you two." Xemnas said while facing his beam blade to Master Hand.

"Ergh… alloys, withdraw for now!" Master Hand ordered. The alloys immediately disappeared as Master Hand looked at R.O.B., "I want you to get inside the mansion where it's safe. Do not come out here no matter what happens, understood?" R.O.B. was reluctant at first, but he agreed to follow orders by responding with a nod, "Good. Don't worry; we'll handle things here. Now, go."

R.O.B. immediately turned around, and got inside the mansion through the back glass doors, and locked them shut.

"Ha ha! Seems like you two have a deathwish. We'll be happy to fulfill them for you!" Sweet Tooth said with a chuckle. Master Hand and Crazy Hand then faced towards the rulers while cracking their fingers.

"I'm afraid this has to end now!" Master Hand said sternly.

"I'm going to whoop your butts so hard, that you will be bottomless!" Crazy Hand threatened.

"Very well, then…" Xemnas replied as he, and his comrades charged at the Hands.

Xemnas tried slashing at Master Hand while running at him, but Master Hand has proven to be quite an opponent as he was dodging every slash Xemnas made while moving back. Xemnas then leaped, and attempted to stab Master Hand from above, but Master Hand dodged back, and flicked Xemnas up high in the air with his index finger. "GUH!" Xemnas cried as Master Hand then fired three bullets at him with his finger. Xemnas saw this coming, and placed his hand forward, "SPARK WALL!" Xemnas raised a reflective wall in front of him, but the first bullet destroyed it immediately as the other two exploded upon hitting Xemnas. "Ahh!" Xemnas limplessly fell, but recovered as he managed to land on his hands and knees while panting.

"I'll gut you mercilessly!" Sweet Tooth cried while falling down above Master Hand from out of nowhere. Once he landed on him, Sweet Tooth literally stabbed him in the back with his combat knife, causing Master Hand to grunt a bit. "Wha… no blood?" Sweet Tooth asked in shock, which made him lose his focus as Master Hand smashed him between himself, and the wall of the smash mansion behind him. Master Hand then grabbed Sweet Tooth, and threw him hard on the floor. He then flicked him in the gut, causing Sweet Tooth to fly across the backyard, and crashed into Xemnas as they both got knocked through the border wall they destroyed earlier.

As Master Hand handled himself, Crazy Hand squared off with Bison, "Ladies and Gentlemen; welcome to WWS, World Wrestling Smashathon!" Crazy Hand yelled, acting like an announcer, "Todays' competitor is none other than Mr. Steroids, who has been sticking a needle up his buttocks to become as buff as the Incredible Hulk!"

"Your mockery of me will not save you!" Bison yelled furiously. Bison then did a front flip at Crazy Hand, who immediately grabbed Bison halfway of his flip. "Grr! Let go!" Bison struggled, but couldn't break free as Crazy Hand held him upside-down with his middle and ring finger as he flew up high in the air.

"Oh lord, It's Crazy Hand's finishing move, the Tombstone Piledriver!" Crazy Hand yelled as he dived all the way down to the floor with Bison's head facing towards it. Hojo's creatures where in the way as Crazy Hand piledrived Bison right into the ground, creating an immense crater. Hojo gasped while taking some steps back as Crazy Hand emerged from it while still holding onto Bison. "Mr. Steroids can't fight anymore, so Crazy Hand wins!" Crazy Hand exclaimed as tossed Bison into Hojo.

"Ahh! DOH!" Hojo tried to run away, but got knocked down, and was getting crushed by Bison's weight.

"And the crowd goes wild! Haaaa-hey!" Crazy Hand was interrupted by some fire balls that were falling from the sky.

"FIRE 3!" Kefka was the one casting the fireballs down at Crazy Hand as they were showering on him, "That's it! Burn! I want you to die!"

"Dude! Keep your balls to yourself!" Crazy Hand replied as the fireballs weren't harming him that much. Crazy Hand then flicked at some fireballs towards Kefka, who immediately dodges by floating to the side, or spreading his legs as some flew underneath him. The last fireball went towards Kefka's face, but Kefka ducked to avoid, and glanced at the fireball that just went past him before looking back at Crazy with a smirk.

"Mwa ha ho ho! You miss-"

KAPOW!

"DUUUGHHH!" Kefka was socked in the face by Crazy, or in this case, his entire front body was hit as he was blown like half a mile away back into the grassy fields before limplessly crashing into the ground. "Ugh… that hurt! Gah…"

Yojimbo, Dimentio, and Sigma remained standing as the Hands regrouped. "Crazy, let us work together against these three." Master Hand said.

"Ho ho, let's turn these sour heads into sour cream!" Crazy Hand laughed.

"I will not be defeated again!" Sigma yelled angrily while leaping towards the Hands, and brought down his sword at them. The hands swiftly flew apart as they surrounded Sigma from both sides. The hands then faced their palms at Sigma, creating an eerie force that was messing up with Sigma's concentration, "Err… what is this… ahh…" Sigma tried to regain focus, but it was too late; the hands clapped repeatedly with Sigma in between, nearly crushing him like a bug as the Hands then swept him off his feet, knocking him right out of the backyard.

The Hands then looked at Dimentio and Yojimbo, who were standing next to eachother. Yojimbo's dog growled as it charged towards Crazy Hand, but Crazy Hand stomped his fingers to the ground, creating a loud tremor that frightened Yojimbo's dog as it scurried behind it's master. Yojimbo remained quiet as Dimentio chuckled.

"Ah ha ha! It seems it's just you and me, my dear friend." Dimentio said happily before looking at the Hands, "You two may be stronger as one, but you'll be surprised how teamwork usually fails at the most unpredictable moments."

"We'll see about that!" Master Hand replied as he and Crazy Hand flew towards Dimentio. Dimentio only chuckled again as Yojimbo stood in front of the hands, and threw three large knives at the duo, "Ugh! Crazy, deflect them!"

"Wah!" Crazy Hand quickly fired laser beams from his finger tips, deflecting the knives sideways as they went through some trees, and pierced into the side border walls. Upon doing so, the bushes and trees that the knives passed were cut into several pieces, and supporting then bursted into flames. Inspite all that, Crazy Hand continued firing his lasers at Yojimbo, who stood back as Dimentio appeared above him, and fired several energy spheres at the hands repeatedly.

"I will not let you destroy this place!" Master Hand yelled as he then charged up his finger, and fired out a fully-charged bullet at Dimentio as it exploded upon making contact.

"Ooohh…" Dimentio cried dazedly as he flew out of the backyard, and landed next to some of his comrades. Yojimbo was the last one standing as Master Hand swiftly flew behind him.

"Crazy, let's finish him off!" Master Hand said while signaling Crazy to come forth.

"Aye aye, captain!" Crazy Hand replied as he folded into a fist, and flew incredibly fast towards Yojimbo, who couldn't seem to avoid as Crazy Hand punched him hard, pushing him forcefully into Master Hand's palm as Yojimbo was crushed like a bug. Crazy Hand then backed away as Master Hand grabbed Yojimbo from his cloak, and tossed him back into his fellow rulers.

And just like that, the Obscurum rulers were defeated. Kefka regrouped with his comrades after running all the way back from the spot he was punched into, but collapsed soon afterwards. Bison dazedly got off of Hojo, who groggily got up too as he held his back in pain. Dimentio's eyes circled out of daze as Yojimbo slowly managed to get back up, and helped Dimentio up on his feet soon afterwards. Sigma, Sweet Tooth, and Xemnas then managed to the same as well as they looked at the Hands, who didn't even looked tired.

"Was this a part of your of plan on defeating us? I am not that amused…" Master Hand teased.

"Haaahahahahahaaa! All you guys are a bunch of wusses!" Crazy Hand laughed, "You guys are not so tough when it comes to facing me and my bro, and we weren't even going hardcore on you! Heck, we were only going 'very easy' mode on you! You're all bunch of washups now! Hahhahahaa!"

"Dammit… why are we so weak! We've been manhandled by a bunch of freaks!" Sweet Tooth growled.

"Tsk! I don't have all my powers with me!" Kefka yelled while looking at his fists, "I used to be a god, but now I don't feel like that anymore! What gives!"

"We must have approached here too soon." Xemnas said with his head lowered, "We've only been revived since yesterday, and I've noticed that I didn't had full control of myself during that time, but then as time passed, I've been gaining some control over some of my strength. It must be an aftereffect from being suddenly revived, and we can only get our full strength back after a certain amount of time has passed by."

"Hmph! Even if we did had all our strength, it would mean nothing if it means going against those two!" Hojo said with a frown while adjusting his glasses, "We were only target practice to them! We cannot defeat them by brute force alone!"

"Then what the hell do we do then! I don't intend from running away from a prey!" Sweet Tooth yelled. The rulers remained silent as Xemnas looked up with a glare.

"If we were brought to life here… then we must have a purpose!" Xemnas said, "I do not intend to die here without knowing what our purpose is!"

The Hands then had enough of the rulers, "I'm usually against this sort of thing, but Crazy, please help these men out of this world."

"Heh heh heh… it will be my pleasure." Crazy Hand said with a wicked tone. The Obscurum rulers backed away as Crazy Hand approached them while laughing insanely, "I hope you all enjoyed your stay, because I'm going to give you guys a nice trip to hurt island! Let's get-"

CRACK!

"Huh?" Crazy Hand stopped as soon as he heard something cracking loudly. Master Hand also wondered it came from, including the rulers. More cracking noises could be heard again as the sounds were getting more frequent, "What the heck is that?"

Master Hand then looked past the rulers, and he was able to notice some cracks appearing on the illusionary sky over the horizon. "What is going on!" He asked as it seems that the sky about to break… and it did.

The sky over the horizon shattered like glass, and opened up a cracked-shaped hole that showed the depths of the grand universe. Everyone was silent until they could hear an odd and eerie sound coming from the hole in the sky. Crazy Hand was getting a little nervous as Master Hand was in shock. "This is the same power I felt yesterday… can it be… !"

Xemnas and his fellow rulers turned around as he smiled upon feeling this new presence. "It's here… the new world." Xemnas said with a smile.

Then something emerged from the cracked hole. It was a black fog, which radiated dark life. The clouds grew darker and darker upon it's appearance, the winds blew strong, and the atmosphere was turning purple. The eerie black fog continued to flow into the world as Master Hand sounded frightened.

"That's the dark energy from Obscurum!" Master Hand gasped, "It gives off the same radiating feeling when you look at it's dark energy, so that fog must be from Obscurum, but something like that has never happened before!"

The black fog then stopped spreading around the skies as it shot out a purple beam towards over the rulers, and towards the shocked Crazy Hand, "Crazy!" Master Hand grabbed his brother, and tossed him towards the back of the mansion where it was safe. Crazy Hand was shocked as the beam headed towards Master Hand.

"Bro, get outta the way!" Crazy Hand yelled, but it was too late.

ZAAAAPPPP!

"AAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAHH HHHHHHHHHHHHHHHH!" Master Hand cried in pain as the dark energy greatly electrified him. Black lightning coursed through his hand as he collapsed to the center of the backyard, with the dark energy destroying everything in the backyard as well.

"I'll save you!" Crazy Hand yelled, but as he approached Master Hand, he felt he was getting burned alive. "Ahh!" Crazy Hand backed away as he felt normal again. "Ah… oh no! If I get too close, the dark elemental life is going to mess me up! Dammit, I can't do anything!"

"UUUUAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAAAAGGGGHHH!" Master Hand cried even louder until he lost consciousness as the dark energy around as completely engulfed around him. This pleased the rulers as Kefka was enjoying this the most.

"Mwa ha ho ho ho ho ho! Yes, he's been burned alive! What a great way to kill someone!" Kefka yelled happily as Sweet Tooth nodded in agreement.

"No, he's not dead; I can still sense life in him. He's just unconscious." Sigma said.

The dark energy then raised Master Hand from the ground, and slowly took him away from the backyard. Xemnas quickly opened up a dark portal as the dark energy took Master Hand through it. Crazy Hand could have done something to save him, but he was so terrified to even lift a finger as he watched the rulers that were about to take their leave.

"Seems like we're done here." Bison said while smirking, "Let's leave that fool to suffer in his own misery."

The rulers laughed as Crazy Hand started moving again, "What do I do! There is nothing that… no, wait!" Crazy Hand thought of an idea, and placed his palm on the floor. Part of the ground beneath him the glowed brightly as Crazy Hand magically pulled out the second Master Door from the light. The rulers noticed as they looked towards him.

"What is that fool doing now?" Sweet Tooth asked.

Crazy Hand was shivering as he circling his fingers. "Okay, okay, okay… I just have to think of that world, and do this!" Crazy Hand then touched the door, which shined from within as it opened up to reveal a path of light streams, just like the first Master Door has. "Come on, be here, be here, be here… !"

Suddenly, the black fog in the sky shot out another purple beam, and this time, it struck the Master door, causing Crazy to fall back. "Wha! Oh no!" He cried as the second Master Door was caught in purple flames. The path of light streams from inside the door also turned into dark streams. "No! Don't do that! My favorite pirate crew is going to have to look at that!"

The door eventually then burned into crisp, leaving nothing behind, but it's ashes. Crazy Hand was at a lost of words as the rulers wondered what he tried to do.

"Hmm… that looked like a portal, did it not?" Dimentio asked, "I think he was trying to bring someone here."

Xemnas frowned as he looked at the others, "We'll wonder about that later; right now, let's take this hand back to our quarters." He said.

"What about that one? He might pull another portal again." Bison asked. Crazy Hand shivered in fear as he looked at the ashes that used to be the second Master Door.

"He's already lost hope, so he is no longer any trouble." Xemnas said, "And I'll trace where that portal appeared, and find out who it took, just incase. For now, let's leave. We still have other errands to run."

The rulers then left into the dark portal behind him, taking Master Hand as captive. R.O.B. watched the whole thing from inside the mansion, and he looked very upset. Crazy Hand was mostly hurt as he shivered as the black fog suddenly dispersed into nothingness, turning the sky back to normal.

"Egh… ugh… huh… AAAAAAAAAAAHHHHHHHH HHHH!" Crazy Hand turned around, and flew through the mansion wall, leaving a huge hole as he went to hide in his brother's office along with R.O.B.

END OF FLASHBACK

The Strawhat pirates were stunned; they couldn't believe that all of that has happened during the same day they were taken out of their world. The only one that very furious about this was Luffy, who was clenching his fists tightly as his face showed nothing but anger upon what he just heard. Crazy Hand noticed the crew's expressions, and couldn't help, but sigh.

"I went hiding ever since. I haven't left my brother's office until you guys showed up." Crazy Hand said, "It was all so terrible; I couldn't do anything to save my bro! The only thing I did was to call for help, and when I saw the door being destroyed, I thought that you guys might have been gone… I really didn't expect you'd make it here, but well, your the Strawhats; nothing is impossible for you guys."

Nami then looked at Crazy sternly, "And that's where we come in, right?" Nami asked as she looked at Crazy, "Out of all the people in existence, you picked us to help stop this mess… am I right?" Crazy Hand lowered his fingers in sadness as a reply as Nami grew angry, "Why us! Why did it have to be us! Surely, there must be somebody stronger than us out there, and we now know that you stalk on everyone, so why didn't you pick any of them!"

"I-It's a little complicated, and I was under a lot of pressure!" Crazy Hand replied a little nervously, "There was so many to chose from, but I needed to pick the best ones for this kind of thing, and like I told you before, I can't meddle with other peoples business, especially when they are in the middle of something! Like, I could have picked this ninja kid that clones himself all the time, but he's busy. I could have picked this orange-haired guy that could use banzai, or whatever, but he is busy too! I could have picked this white hair exorcist kid, but like the rest, he's also busy. I could even picked the fire eating kid, but he was also busy!" Crazy Hand then pointed at the crew, "You guys were just leaving Water 7, and that I considered of being not busy, so that's why I picked you guys to come here!"

"Are you kidding me! Just because we were sailing to our next destination, doesn't mean we weren't busy!" Nami barked.

"Well… you guys are my most favorite guys out of the ones I mentioned just now! You can consider yourselves lucky to even be here!" Crazy Hand said happily.

"Screw that! It's because of you, we suffered! I oughta strangle you here, but you're so lucky for not having a neck!" Nami growled, causing Crazy Hand to cringe.

"Sheesh… you're so meaner in person!" Crazy Hand replied.

"Not that I'm angry about this; but why couldn't you just call the Smashers for help?" Sanji asked.

"I would've done that by now, but I can't!" Crazy Hand yelled, "I already told you that the second Master Door was burned to crisp! And the first Master Door was created by my brother, so only he knows how to use that door!"

"But we got all the hearts to that door now! You can try something to bring somebody here!" Usopp said, but Crazy Hand just shook.

"You don't get it!" Crazy Hand cried, "Master Hand made the first Master Door! He created it so he can be the only one who uses it! I have no control over that door! The second Master Door was something me and my brother made together, so that we could use it whenever we want! But that door is gone now, and there is no other way for anybody to come into the Smashworld… it's only you guys now."

Master Hand then got on his fingers, and bowed down as he sounded like he was crying, "Please… I never meant for all this to happen! I only want one thing from you guys… please… please, save my brother! I'm nothing without him! There is no one else that can do it, but you! Please, help… please!"

R.O.B. was also sad as he lowered his head while closing his eyes. The crew didn't know what to say to this as they then looked at each other.

"Well, since we're here, I guess we have no other choice." Zoro said while placing his hands on his hips.

"We cannot abandon someone in need… we have to atleast try to save Master Hand." Robin said concernedly.

"Eh, but we're dealing with guys that wanted to kill us for so long, and not to mention that they have a space-eating world with them!" Usopp said nervously, "We don't even know where Master Hand is!"

Chopper then looked at Crazy, "Do you know where the rulers could have taken him?"

"Actually, I do." Crazy Hand said, "My brother and I have a special trait; we can always tell where we are when we are separated. It's kinda like twin telepathy, only it's more natural in our case. Those ruler guys took them to this one spot after they left, and it has been like that ever since. I'm guessing that's where their headquarters is."

"So where are they?" Sanji asked.

"… They are right here, in the Smashworld." Crazy Hand replied, "Right now, we are on top of the world, and I can sense my bro being on the bottom of it, so the rulers should be over there too."

"I don't think we have the time to go halfway around the world." Usopp said, "And if we did, we don't have a clue what to do! It's going to be a total disaster if we go there!"

"Hold on, we're not going to stay here, and do nothing!" Franky stated, "I say we go over there right now, and teach those stupid rulers a lesson!"

"Ergh… this is not something we can do! I know we have no choice, but this is way out of our hands!" Nami said.

"We're going…" Luffy said. The crew looked at Luffy, who was looking at the sky cracks over the horizon, "We're going to save Master Hand… and we're also going to stop that world from getting any bigger."

The crew were silent as most of them were very concerned, "Luffy… this isn't like anything we've done before." Nami said, "This is a world that can destroy everything we know, and we can't just expect to fight against the odds this time."

"I know that… but we will stay stop that world." Luffy said sternly, "We'll stop those ruler guys, and we're going to kick that world's ass."

"L-Luffy, this is suicidal!" Usopp shivered, "We can't expect to do anything this time! We have to-"

"DID YOU NOT SEE HOW THAT WORLD DESTROYED EVERYTHING IN FRONT OF US!" Luffy yelled furiously while turning to his crew as his shout echoed throughout the fields. Usopp and the others were stunned by seeing Luffy angrier than ever before, "Didn't you see it! That world used to be great, but now, it's destruction is what making it suffer! It was never created to make chaos!" Luffy then clenched his hands into fists, "That hero… he sacrificed himself to save everyone… and we must help him finish what he started! We met very nice people on our way here, so can you even imagine their lives to be taken away like that! It's not fair! What did they ever do to deserve this! I don't plan on sitting here, and watch that happen! We are not only going to save Master Hand… but we are going to stop that world! And not just the world's energy… but the entire world itself! We're going to completely destroy Obscurum!"

Crazy Hand was shocked hearing that as Luffy continued, "There would be no point to simply wipe out the world's energy like the hero did… because if we did, it would not stop the real threat. It would just keep getting back alive again until it eventually fulfills it's goals. I know that it's one of the important worlds that made us… but in order for life to stay how it is, then we have to destroy that world for good!"

The crew then smiled upon hearing Luffy's motivational speeches as Luffy then placed his fist forward, "It's all up to us now… we have to make things right! We are the only ones that can destroy this threat, and no one else! Let's not waste our journey here for nothing! Let us go, and stop those rulers, and save Master Hand from them! We will stop Obscurum!"

"Heh… I don't know how, but you always make a good point at the right times. Count me in." Zoro said as he placed his fist next to Luffy's.

"We might as well give it a shot; I don't plan on running away either." Nami said while also placing her fist next to her comrades.

"Well… I suppose the manly Usopp has to do what's right! You can count me in too!" Usopp said as he also placed his arm forward.

"My future is bright, and I plan to keep it that way." Sanji said while placing his fist forward too.

"Me too! I will put my life on the line to save everyone!" Chopper said while trying to reach his friends' fists, but had to raise his hoove over his head to reach it.

"This certaintly has been a wild journey. I wish to see this to the end as well." Robin said while placing her fist forward.

"Supaaa! This is going to be our week! Nothing will mess our lives up!" Franky said as he placed his fist forward. All of the hands, and Chopper's hoove, we're all connected as the crew looked at each other confidently, knowing that they can truly save life from total destruction.

"No matter what happens; we will stop Obscurum even if we die! Let's do this!" Luffy yelled.

"AYE!" The crew raised their arms upward upon approval as Luffy then pointed forward.

"Yosh! Let's go! To the bottom of the-"

"WAIT A MINUTE!" Crazy Hand yelled super loudly, knocking the Strawhat crew on their backs, which completely ruined the moment.

"What! We just agreed to help you! Why are you yelling all of a sudden!" Nami asked with a glare. Crazy Hand then scratched himself with his thumb, being very quiet.

"Um… okay, I know you're mad that I ruined one of your cool moments, but I just forgot what I was going to say." Crazy Hand said. Almost the whole crew was pissed off at Crazy, who suddenly remembered something, "No, wait! I just remembered! First off, I'm so glad that you're going to help me out, but in order to do this right, you guys are going to need something from me!"

"What do we need?" Chopper asked.

"Your balls!" Crazy Hand exclaimed. The whole crew got up as they didn't how to respond to Crazy, "No, seriously! You guys definitely are going to need your balls for this! Come back to the office; I'll give you your balls there!"

Crazy Hand then turned around, and kept yelling out 'balls' as he went through the back mansion wall, creating another hole next to the one he made during the flashback. R.O.B. followed him through the hole using his boosters as the crew were a little suspicious of what Crazy had in mind for them.

"Okay, I know this ain't my place, can he atleast stop messing this place up; it's urging me to fix things up around here!" Franky complained.

The crew then shrugged as they went inside the mansion again. To make it short, they went all the way back to the second floor, and got inside the office, which was now a complete wreck as their were books lying around everywhere.

"How cruel…" Robin said upon the mess. They saw Crazy Hand taking out every book from the bookshelved walls, with R.O.B standing behind him as they walked up to them.

"What are you doing?" Zoro asked a little annoyed.

"He keeps them around here… they are the newest thing, and it will help you for sure!" Crazy Hand said as he kept pulling out books until he touched a certain one, "Here it is!" Crazy pulled the book, which turned out to be a lever as the bookshelves magically raised up from the ground, revealing a large vault behind them. The vault was obviously locked, but Crazy Hand placed his palm on it, and the vault scanned him. Crazy Hand then backed away as the vault unlocked itself, and opened up to reveal an ocean of smash coins inside.

"Whoooooaaaaaa!" Nami and the others were flabbergasted upon seeing so many coins; they have never seen so many coins in one place before, and they couldn't even see the wall ahead. Crazy Hand went inside, and took out a big chest from the vault before locking it shut again. The bookcase then covered the vault as it was before as Crazy placed the regular-size chest on the floor.

"So much money… so… much… money…" Nami said in awe as her jaw nearly dropped. The others looked at the chest Crazy took out.

"Okay, what's inside here are what will make you guys powerful enough to be gods for just several seconds!" Crazy Hand exclaimed. This interested the crew as Crazy unlocked the chest, and slowly opened, "Behold… the Smash Balls!" Crazy Hand opened the chest, and inside were eight rainbow-ish balls with the Super Smash Bros. emblem on them. They magically turn to different colors within each second passing by as Luffy, Usopp, Chopper, and Franky looked at them in awe.

"Wow! Those are some nice balls!" Luffy said happily.

"What are they for?" Robin asked.

"Well, we use these balls as items for our tournaments. They help unleash all your inner strength, and put it all in one attack!" Crazy Hand said proudly, "They usually pop out during a match, and the smashers have to go, and smash their ball… PFFT, HAHAHAHHAHAHA!" Crazy laughed upon that line for obvious reasons, "Ahem, anyway, they smash the ball, and they can do their strongest attack without suffering any bad effects like dying, and such. What you guys are looking at are newly designed smash balls, where they don't move at all, and don't have to be smashed in order to use them."

"How do you use them then?" Sanji asked as Luffy picked up a smash ball, and started playing with it.

"Not really sure; but my brother say they activate once the user is having one of those epic and determined feelings. He didn't say it that way, but that's how I understood it." Crazy Hand explained, "So anyway, the rulers are sure to be pretty tough by now, but with these balls, there is no way you can lose!"

"It all depends if they work or not." Zoro said. "And I don't need an item to win my fights."

"This is not about you, this is about all of us! Now quit nagging, and grab yours." Nami said while grabbing her smash ball. The others did the same, and puts them away.

"Okay… this is it now." Crazy Hand said sternly, "It's now or never. If you guys need any stuff, go to the vault room downstairs, and take any useful item you need for this journey. Don't worry; we will make it through this… and I will touch you guys after this is over!"

"Enough with the harrasment!" Nami barked.

"Just tell us how we're going to get to the other side of this world in a hurry." Zoro said.

"I can help you guys with that." Crazy Hand said, "All you have to do is to take me to your ship, and I will handle things from there."

"Really! You're so awesome for doing so much for us!" Luffy said happily.

"Yeah, it's thanks to you, I'm very certain that we can do this!" Usopp said.

"Oh, enough with you guys, already." Sanji said while turning the other way, "I know it's hard not to relate with your idiotic kind, but can you atleast wait until this is all over?"

The only reply Sanji got was that Luffy, Usopp, and Crazy Hand raising their middle fingers at him.

KAPOW! KAPOW! KAPOW!

After the trio were nearly beaten to death by Sanji, the others started moving out, "Okay, let's get going! You three, come on!" Nami said.

"Aye, aye…" The beaten trio said dazedly.

Meanwhile…

It was beautiful day again back in the world of Corneria. The citizens were once again living peaceful after everything they went through thanks to Andrew, who is now spending the rest of his days in jail. In some of the streets, there were floating machines, and construction workers repairing the damages they got from Andrew's invasion, but they were progressing quite nicely as they were reconstructing one of the buildings that were destroyed.

"Okay, move that to the side right there!" A construction worker said as he instructed some of his employers, moving a support beam with a crane. They all enjoyed the hardwork, and everyone was at their happiest… well, except for one.

"Ooooeeeeeeuuuggghhh…"

One person walked around a sidewalk, with his arms hanging lose, and walking in a sloppy fashion, his eyes half open, and walked slower with each step.

It was Bowser… again… as it turns out that he is in Corneria, but just like the last worlds, the Strawhat crew has already left a long time ago. The poor Koopa was covered with bruises, cuts, stings, and burned skin from the mines he stepped on from the previous world. Nobody paid attention to the poor guy as he suddenly collapsed on his chest, without even having the strength to stop himself. He sticked out his tongue as he was too exhausted to even get up.

"That's it… I can't take it anymore." Bowser said exhausted, "I have been beaten, crashed, stung, ran over, almost eaten alive, head banged, blown to bits, and for what? To get revenge on a kid with a straw hat…" Bowser then sat up, and tears poured out of his eyes as started crying like a little baby, "I don't want to do this anymore! I want to go home, and sit on my throne! I rather get beaten up by that plumber than to suffer this! I wanna go home now! WAAAAAAHHH!"

Bowser's tantrum was loud, but even this didn't grab anybody's attention. As this went on, the automatic glass doors of a building close to him opened, and out came none other than the Starfox team, with Peppy with them.

"It was nice of you guys to come by, and help sort things around here, but it wasn't necessary." Peppy said.

"It's no problem, Peppy." Fox replied with a pleasant smile, "Afterall, it's not like Luffy and his crew are the only heroes here; we did our part too."

"Yeah, this town would be nothing without our support. The humans were only extra help." Falco said arrogantly.

"It was our pleasure to help out with some of the construction around here afterall, so it was no trouble at all." Krystal said kindly.

"Yeah, just give us another rang, and we'll come to do whatever we can. I can even improve some of the details around this place if you want." Slippy suggested.

"Well, it was very thoughtful for you guys for the help. Remember, you are always welcome here anytime." Peppy said.

"Just be sure to call us for emergencies only, alright? You know I can't live without the action." Falco teased.

"Feel free to call us anytime you want, Peppy. Take good care of the town while we're gone." Fox said.

"I will. Take care now." Peppy said as he waved goodbye. The Starfox team left as they walked along the sidewalk.

"I wonder how the Strawhats are doing now. You think they made it back to their world?" Slippy asked.

"I'm sure they did. They are an active bunch; I'm sure they already made it back." Krystal said with a smile.

"Yeah, I'm sure they did too… but if they ever try to steal our groove again, I'm not going to take them so lightly." Falco said. They then stopped as soon as Fox stopped in front of them, "Hey, what's up, Fox?"

"Look who's here." Fox said. The team looked ahead to see Bowser, still weeping on the sidewalk. Bowser noticed them, and grew angry.

"Oh, well ain't this a koinky-dinky coincidence!" Bowser said sarcastically, "What are the odds that I find yet another person that used to be a Smasher, and comes to see me out of the blue! What's next, huh! Do you have something else in store for me!" Bowser yelled into the sky, obviously referring the one responsible for his misery… hee hee!

The Starfox team just looked at Bowser strangely as Fox then looked at his team, "You guys go on back to the ship; I'll see what he's doing here."

"Are you sure, Fox?" Krystal asked.

"I know this guy from head to toe; if he does anything funny, I can take care of it myself." Fox replied.

"If you beat him up without me, you're going to hear from me later, Fox." Falco warned.

"Trust me, Falco, If there was going to be action, I wouldn't do this without you. Now go on, I'll meet up with you guys later." Fox said.

"Alright, Fox. Good luck." Slippy said.

The Starfox team left as Fox then approached Bowser, who frowned while sitting. "Hey, Bowser… how did you-"

"Don't even start with me, Fox!" Bowser yelled while getting up, "Let me just get this over with! Have you seen a boy with a straw hat! Of course, you have, but he left some time ago, right! Of course, he did! Why else would he wait for me to show up! It would be unnatural if he would have waited for me! And when I go find him, I get attacked by something you will do before leaving!" Bowser then turned away while clenching his fists angrily, "Grr! I'm sick of this stupid chase! It's the stupidest chase ever! All I want is to find that kid, and get my revenge on him, but he keeps jumping all over the place! Where could he be going!"

"You know Luffy?" Fox asked, "He and his crew left to the Smashworld."

Bowser's eyes widened in shock as he looked at Fox, "Wh-What! The Smashworld! They went… ugh! Of course! Why didn't I think of that before! That door always leads there! I'm so stupid, I could have gone there, and wait for them to show up this whole time!… Forget about going home, I'm settling this now!"

Bowser then took out his portal remote, and started shaking it, "No more stupid tricks; take me to Strawhat right now! You hear me! Do it now before this furry does something to hurt me!"

"Hey!" Fox said.

"Come on! Work!… WORK, YOU STUPID PIECE OF TRASH! TAKE ME TO STRAWHAT!" Bowser was so angry, he threw his remote to the ground, which shattered into pieces. "Ugh!" Bowser realized what he was has done, and froze out his unthoughtful move. "… Whoops…"

But suddenly, upon it's last act, the main parts of the remote did open one last portal in between Bowser and Fox. Fox took a step back as Bowser was surprised.

"Y-Yes! That's it! Gwa ha ha ha ha ha! I'm finally going to get my revenge!" Bowser said as he looked at Fox, "So long, Fox! From this day forth; you are going to see me as a winner! Bye-bye!" Bowser then took one proud step forward, but a rock suddenly landed on his head, "Oh! Waaah!" Bowser then tripped, and fell into the portal before it closed, leaving Fox to wonder what happened.

"… Oookayy, that was weird." Fox said while scratching, "But I guess I'm done here." Fox then shrugged as he then left.

Meanwhile…

The Strawhat crew were in front of the mansion, waiting for Crazy Hand as he was talking to R.O.B., "Now, I know you want to come too, but I don't to risk your life. Watch the mansion while we're gone, and we're sure to be back in a little while." R.O.B. nodded as Crazy Hand then turned to the crew, "Alright, you guys grabbed what you need? We're heading out now."

"Bye, robot guy! Will you see later!" Luffy said as he, and his crew waved goodbye to R.O.B, who waved goodbye back as the crew left through the border gates.

It was a long walk back to the Smashtown, but they managed to walk all the way back to port, where the Thousand Sunny was still docked.

"Ohhhh! The ship looks bigger in person!" Crazy Hand exclaimed as he started touching the ship, "And it feels so good too."

"Stop touching my ship like that, bro!" Franky yelled.

"So how do you plan on getting us to the other side of the world?" Sanji asked.

Crazy Hand then looked at the crew, "It's going to take a while, but it's easy for me to do. Don't worry; it's the easiest method to get to the other side of this world as quick as possible! It is the best idea I have ever came up with!"

A couple of minutes later…

"THIS IS THE WORST IDEA YOU EVER CAME UP WITH!"

The Thousand Sunny was actually flying over the fields with great speed. It was thanks to Crazy Hand that the ship was flying since he is pushing the ship in the air in the first place. The crew were hanging onto anything that was close by in order not to get blown away by the strong current.

"This is crazy! I can't even believe the ship can even hold against this wind!" Zoro yelled.

"It's my ship; of course, it will hold! But if it doesn't, you are going to regret this, you stupid hand!" Franky yelled.

"Don't worry about the ship!" Crazy Hand yelled, "I'm using my powers to coat the ship with a barrier, it's strong enough to hold off against this current! If I hadn't done this before, your ship would've been torn to pieces by now!"

"It's still too windy here! We can barely hold on like this!" Nami yelled while holding on.

"We'll be there shortly, so calm down! I'm doing the best I can over here!" Crazy Hand replied. The ship flew across several kinds of fields, which seemed surprisingly familiar. While holding on, Luffy saw the bridge of Elden from Hyrule, including some of it's atmosphere. Next to it was a castle, but it wasn't the one from Hyrule. There also a big forest, platforms next to a big waterfall, a racing circuit, and lots more areas that come from different worlds.

"Hey, I have seen some of those places before!" Luffy yelled out in order for everyone to hear.

"Oh yeah, those are the stages where the Smashers fight!" Crazy hand said, "My brother thought it would be a good idea if we used a teleporter to bring the Smashers into a fake reality of their homelands as stages, but I thought that was too cliched, so I made exact replicas of some places of their worlds here without his permission. He got angry, but since I already made them, we decided to use them!"

"Whatever! How much further till we get there!" Nami asked.

"Just a little longer! Hang on, I'm going to go a little faster!" Crazy Hand replied.

Crazy then flew faster than a space rocket leaving orbit as it was fast enough to turn into a blur. The Strawhat crew then got used to the wind, and managed to stand. They were around the helm, and looked straight ahead as they were all nervous, but ready at the same time.

"Hmm?" Luffy realized that the sky was getting darker as the ship kept going forward. He and the crew realized that they must be getting real close to their destination as they could no longer see the sky, but the dark depths of space. "I think we're getting close!"

As the shipped moved forward, so was the atmosphere; it was as if it was getting darker and darker with each second passing by. It was then that they could see it coming from the horizon.

"Oh… OH! I-I-Is that it!" Usopp panicked while pointing ahead. What Usopp was pointing was Obscurum as it slowly raised over the horizon as the ship moved forward. The crew could finally see how it looked from up close; it was a giant sphere of dark elemental life, swirling around itself like if it was lava. It's radiation was visible as they could see a black ozone layer around it, making the world even more eerie to look at.

"There it is… Obscurum…" Nami said in awe.

"Don't look at it; you'll go berserk!" Crazy Hand yelled, "Cover your eyes, and keep your spirits strong!"

The crew looked away from the terrifying world as the ship got closer to reveal something more. Chopper took a peek, and gasped upon what he saw. "Guys, look at that!"

The crew saw something more than just the world. Ahead on the bottom of the Smashworld lied the Obscurum rulers' headquarters. It was big and dark fortress, with buildings that resembled that much of a town at night. It had the same structures just like what Obscurum used to have before the world. In the center of it all lied a giant black castle, the biggest castle the crew has ever seen. It was on a big hilltop, and it had multiple towers, countless of floors, and it's inner terrain was big enough for a city to fit in.

"They are in there! I'm positive that the rulers are right in there!" Luffy yelled with a fierce look.

From the top center of the castle lied the top of a tower, and through it's doors lied the room where the Obscurum rulers always have their meetings. Inside, Xemnas was focusing greatly as dark aura formed around his body while his fellow rulers watched.

"Obscurum… it's now time to take back what is yours…" Xemnas said as he then opened his widely, "Take us back to our origins! Let us become truly united again!"

From the outside, the fortress started to shake tremendously. The crew watched as this happened, "What's going on!" Franky asked.

"Is that an earthquake!" Chopper asked.

"N-No! Look at Obscurum!" Usopp cried. Obscurum was letting out another black fog onto the dark fortress. It flowed with dark energy as it eventually covered the entire fortress. It was then that the fortress was starting to rise. The crew watched in awe as the entire fortress was pulled out of the ground, taking most of the ground it stood on with it as the black fog of dark energy was taking it towards Obscurum.

"The fortress… it's flying away!" Sanji yelled in shock.

"It's heading into Obscurum!" Robin yelled. The fortress was quickly getting out of the Smashworld's orbit, and was heading towards Obscurum.

"What do we do! We can't just follow into Obscurum! We'll surely die by it's radiance!" Usopp yelled.

"No! Keep going forward!" Luffy yelled while pointing forward.

"We've come a long way; we're not turning back now!" Zoro yelled.

"Oi, Crazy; speed it up! We have to catch up with that place before it's too late!" Franky yelled loudly.

"Hooooooo, alright! Get ready guys; I'm going to give it all I got!" Crazy Hand yelled determinedly, "Here I go! Uwaaaaaaaahhhhhh!" Crazy Hand then formed a golden aura from himself, and around the ship as they were going so much faster than ever before. There were going a little faster than sonic speed, and that was already fast enough. Crazy Hand flew the ship towards fortress out of the Smashworld's orbit, and was currently in space. The aura around the ship was allowing the crew to breath as they could see that Obscurum was so much bigger up close.

"Waaaaaaaaahhh! We're going so fast!" Chopper cried while holding onto Robin's leg.

"We still have to go faster; we're nowhere near that fortress yet!" Luffy yelled. Despite how fast the ship was going, the fortress was already close to Obscurum as to the crew's surprise, it went into Obscurum's dark energy.

"Whoa, whoa, WHOA! It went inside Obscurum!" Usopp yelled.

"The hell are we supposed to do now!" Franky asked.

"KEEP GOING! GO INTO OBSCURUM!" Luffy yelled intensely.

"This isn't going to end well! We're going to die like this!" Nami cried.

"CRAZY! GO FAAASSSTEERRRRRR!" Luffy demanded.

"UWAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA AAAAHHHHHHHHHH!" Crazy Hand gave it all he got, and went at top speed. He flew the ship closer to Obscurum's surface, which was already kilometers away.

"HANG ON!" Sanji yelled as the crew took cover.

BOOM!

Crazy hand flew the ship inside Obscurum's dark energy with great force. Inside was nothing, but absolute darkness; the crew see nothing around them but feel the immense of dark elemental life around them. They all cried as Crazy Hand flew the ship deeper and deeper into the everlasting darkness until the crew could see a faint light ahead.

"GOOOOO!" Luffy yelled as everyone prepared themselves for what lied ahead.

SPLASH!

They were out; they've managed to go through the dark energy surface, and into Obscurum. The crew panted as they were then shocked by their new surroundings.

"WHAT IN THE WORLD IS ALL THIS!" Franky asked.

It turns out that Obscurum had no mass; the entire dark energy they went through was actually a humongous, dark, energetic layer of the world's core. They saw in their surroundings that Obscurum's dark energy from the inside was mostly purple, with dark colors flowing around in it as well. Inside of all Obscurum was somewhat bright to see everything, and the crew gasped upon where the light was coming from.

"Is that the… core!" Zoro asked in shock. The crew saw Obscurum's core right ahead of them. It was perfect sphere, with dark blue surface that was transparent as the crew could see white electricity emitting from the core's center, kinda like one of those electric glass balls you see in some shops. The crew could then see the fortress ahead of them as Luffy grew then serious.

"There they are! Crazy, fly us over to that castle!" Luffy yelled. The ship then started rocking a bit as Crazy was exhausted.

"Oh… I don't know if I can! I'm too dizzy from going through that darkness!" Crazy Hand said dazedly, "I'm going to have to throw you guys over there!"

"What are you talking about! You can't just throw us in the middle of nowhere! What if we don't make it!" Nami asked from peering over the ledge.

"Trust me; you will get on there no matter what! Don't worry about me; I'll come back to you guys as fast as I can!"

"Hurry, it's getting farther away!" Chopper cried. Crazy Hand then moved towards the bottom of the ship, and aimed at the fortress.

"Here goes nothing! HEERRRRRAAAAAAGHHHH!" Crazy Hand used the last of his strength to throw the ship right towards the fortress. "Oooooh…" After he did, though, he limplessly fell into the dark energy below.

"CRAZY!" Luffy cried to Crazy as the ship was heading straight towards the fortress.

Back inside the castle, the rulers were proud upon the fortress successfully getting into Obscurum. "Finally, we made it in here. I can feel the world's power from in here, and it feels great!" Sigma said with a smirk.

"Alas, all our hard work will finally pay off! Ah ha ha ha ha!" Dimentio laughed.

CRASH!

Xemnas' eyes widened as he heard a faint crash from the outside, "What was that!" Xemnas asked while facing towards his fellow rulers. They were as confused as he was they all then hurried to the exit. They walked outside to a huge balcony, and looked over it to see a huge dust cloud from the edge of the fortress. The dust cloud cleared as it revealed the Thousand Sunny there. Sigma zoomed in his vision to get a better look at it.

"It's the pirate's ship! They're here!" Sigma yelled angrily.

"What did you say!" Kefka asked in shock.

"The pirates are here! How!" Sweet Tooth asked.

Xemnas looked stoic upon hearing this as Dimentio chuckled, while Yojimbo remained quiet. "Those fools… they've actually went this far!" Hojo asked.

"I never expected that a fool's ambition would be this extreme." Bison said with a frown.

The Thousand Sunny was into the ground surface inches away from the fortress ground. The crew all panted heavily as they got up on their feet.

"Is everyone alright!" Zoro asked. They all nodded as they managed to regain their composure.

"I hope we never have to do anything like that ever again." Nami panted.

"Crazy! What happened to Crazy!" Chopper asked.

"He should be able to take care of himself." Sanji said, "We're all here now… and that's all that matters."

The crew grew silent as Luffy panted while looking up towards the castle that lied far away. He squinted his eyes, and could actually sense that he and his crew were being stared at.

"… Oi, guys… It's them…" Luffy said bluntly. The crew looked at Luffy before looking at the castle ahead on the hilltop. They all grew serious as they stared at deeply.

"Yep… I can see them too…" Zoro said sternly.

"It's time they pay for all the trouble they've given us." Sanji said sternly as well. The others also looked serious. Usopp was held his kabuto slingshot while placing his other hand on his hip, Chopper and Franky had their arms crossed against their chests with a stern look, Nami and Robin also looked stern, and Zoro and Sanji were just as ready as they were. Luffy then jumped up on the Sunny's figurehead, and glared at the rulers on top of the castle.

Xemnas raised an eyebrow as he got on the ledge of the balcony, and stared down at the pirate crew. Even when both of them were far apart, they can perfectly see each other's faces.

"Are they serious! They do really think they can stop us now!" Kefka asked.

"Let them try…" Xemnas said with a soft smirk, "All will end the same for them… just like the rest that will soon know Obscurum's power."

The Strawhat pirates and the Obscurum rulers continued to stare at each other without showing emotion. Their gazes have yet to get apart as the fortress floated around Obscurum's core, where it continued to glow, full of it's everlasting power.

And there you have it; the ending to the Super Smash Bros. arc, and the beginning of the final arc of this story. I still can't believe I've made it this far… this is truly awesome! My fingers were sore from typing this chapter, and I'm very proud how it turned out in the end.

I probably won't update fast enough, so this might be the last chapter of the year. We sure had a fun year, and in 2009, this story will be finished. It makes sad just to think about that, but… all stories need to have an ending, so I have to deal with it.

I hope you guys enjoyed this chapter very much, and expect the start of the final arc real soon! Ciao for now! And have a happy new year!

Final arc Pt 1

Sorry for the wait, but writer's block can be a pain sometimes. Now, just to let you know, this may not be one of the best final arcs you may see, but either way, I guarantee it will still be pretty awesome. Enjoy the beginning of the final arc!

The heart of darkness. After Crazy Hand has explained what happened to his brother to the Strawhat crew, they decided they have to do to everything in their power to stop Obscurum from engulfing all life itself. With Crazy's aid, they were able to get to the other side of the Smashworld to get to the Obscurum ruler's fortress, where Master Hand is held captive. But in a shocking turn of events, the fortress was taken away into Obscurum, and the Strawhat's followed them inside. They were able to catch up to the rulers in time, and are now about to face them in the mass-less world that used to be called… great. Will the Strawhats be able to survive in this dreadful world?

Obscurum… a world filled with darkness and despair. It's core emitting an unlimited source of power that grows stronger and brighter with each minute passing by. As it did, the ruler's fortress was flying around it from a long distance, and in the fortress were the only creatures that were in the planet.

The Obscurum rulers remained on the top balcony of the dark castle, staring down at the Strawhat pirates, who over the edge of the dark and gloomy fortress.

"This is not how I wanted to enjoy this moment." Bison said, who had his arms crossed, "Xemnas, you said that they were not going to be a problem anymore, and yet, they are already here."

Xemnas was silent as he kept staring down at the pirate crew, while his fellow rulers talked about this situation "They must be out of their minds…" Hojo said sternly while adjusting his glasses, "What I want to know is how they managed to come here in the first place. They certainly couldn't have made it here with that ship alone…"

"The hearts were the key to lead them into the Smashworld." Sigma said, "They must have met with that other hand. He might have told them what happened, and decided to confront us. Hmph! Such foolishness; even that they now know of their fate, they plan to stop us anyway."

"Bunch of morons; of course it was pointless from the start!" Kefka said furiously, "They should've just killed themselves to save the time, but instead, they come here, and do all this!"

"Don't worry; this won't change anything." Xemnas said stoically. His fellow rulers listened to him as he spoke, "I told them before that there actions would be all for nothing. They cannot change their faiths by coming here. Even if they did manage to defeat us, they cannot destroy a world that created all of us."

"Are you saying that we should just let them kill us! The hell with that!" Sweet Tooth growled, "We worked hard to keep this thing going, and I am not going to get killed again by someone as weak, and pathetic as they are!"

"Ah ha ha ha! Wouldn't it be dramatically ironic if we did get killed by them?" Dimentio asked happily, "It would feel the same as an elephant getting killed by a mouse. Ah ha ha ha ha!"

"You idiot! We're not going to die again!" Kefka growled, "We're going to kill those pirates once and for all! We'll tear them limb from limb, and make them beg for mercy!"

"Let's not rush into things." Xemnas replied while facing towards his fellow rulers, "We've already achieved our main goal here, and all we have to do is wait for Obscurum to do it's part. Until it's done with it's purpose, we are going to have wait a long time, and in order to make the time pass by quicker, let us enjoy this moment, and have some fun with the determined pirates." Xemnas then glanced over his shoulder to look down at the crew, "They are a strong group, and teamwork is their strong point. Since we haven't been together that long, I highly doubt that we can defeat them together."

"You're right… I rather finish them off alone!" Sweet Tooth said.

"Are you suggesting we go at them one on one? Hmph… highly foolsih." Hojo said with a frown, "But since we do have plenty of time to spare, I guess I cannot refuse."

"I can't say this will be enjoyable," Bison said reluctantly, "I've already fought with one them, and he was weak. That means he needs his companions to get what they desire!"

"Alright, then… how about this?" Xemnas asked as he turned to Bison, "If they manage to come into the castle, they are bound to separate. Once they do, we will come across their paths, and the one who manages to kill off their opponent, will be worthy to live under Obscurum's conditions. The ones who lose… well, we obviously the answer to that."

"The best man left standing, huh? Fine! I'll play along in your little game." Bison said with a sneer.

"Ah ha ha ha ha! This is going to be so fun! I cannot wait to face my opponent!" Dimentio said cheerfully while placing a finger on his chin, "Oh, I wonder; who could possibly be the one to face me?"

"I, for one, want that tramp who made my prey get away from me the other day!" Sweet Tooth while looking at his reflection from his combat knife, "She will be a special prey… if she ends up going around my turf."

"And that is if she and the rest of them manages to get all the way here." Sigma added. He sneered as he looked over the ledge to see the fortress, "Thanks to all of our hard work, we've managed to improve the defenses, and revive some controllable lackies into this place. Those fools won't stand a chance against our armada!"

"This is the first time we actually have any intruders, though." Hojo said while rubbing his chin, "But we are only dealing with eight people. That minimal amount won't be enough to pass through the fortress."

"The quantity doesn't matter to them; there determination is what they will use to destroy everything in sight." Xemnas said, "But still… let us see if they can really manage to get here." Xemnas then got down from the ledge, and walked past his fellow rulers without looking at them, "Go to your respective quarters; if they do manage to get here, they are bound to confront you all eventually. Concentrate on eliminating them, but do make it last since they will be the only ones who dares to confront us."

The Obscurum rulers were silent as some of them looked at the pirate crew over the balcony before leaving.

From all the way to the front ledge of the fortress, Luffy and his crew could no longer see the rulers in sight. "They're leaving…" Usopp said, "Didn't they see us?"

"Oh, they did." Zoro said with a stern look, "They probably just want us to get to them instead."

"Bunch of cowards…" Sanji mumbled.

"It's a long walk to get all the way over there; I doubt that it's going to be easy." Franky said. He then took off his sunglasses to look at his surroundings, "But, look at this place! I have never seen a world like this before!"

"I thought this place was going to have a creepy atmosphere, but… there is nothing here!" Usopp said, dumbfounded by his surroundings, "This place is empty; it's like getting inside a giant's stomach, only this is bigger than any giant should have!"

"It's rather strange… but it does make sense." Robin said. She observed the surroundings, seeing nothing but the dark elemental life around them, flowing around like black and purple lava, "It seems that the dark energy that Obscurum gathered was first surrounding the core, and later expanded from the outside, but remained hollow from the inside. If that's so, then if Obscurum were to engulf all of the cosmos, it's scenery would be like this forever…"

"Eek! That's scary!" Chopper shivered nervously.

"I have noticed something when we got here." Nami added, "Obscurum usually adds the dark life into people's element properties when you look at it, but since we are in here, I haven't been feeling any different."

"It could be that Obscurum only radiates the dark life from the outside, and not in the inside." Robin said, "In a matter of speaking, Obscurum's weak point comes from within itself."

"So if all of this is the energy that Obscurum gathered, then that big thing over there… is the core?" Franky asked. He pointed at the gigantic core, which was so big that the fortress was a size of an ant compared to it's size.

"It's humongous!" Chopper said in awe, "But how are we suppose to destroy something as big as that?"

Luffy then jumped down from the Sunny's figurehead, and walked up to his crew, "Maybe if we throw something at it really hard, it could break." Luffy suggested.

"What do you plan on throwing? There is nothing in here big enough to destroy that core!" Nami said.

"Well, I don't know… we could crush this fortress into the core." Luffy said.

"It still wouldn't be strong enough, and if this place was good enough, how do you expect that we get out of here in one piece?" Nami asked as she then looked at the others, "Look, we'll think about what to do with the core later; right now, those guys up there have messed with us for a long time, and it's about time we teach them some manners."

"You're right, Nami-san! We cannot forgive for what they have done! They will pay with their lives!" Sanji said with a determined look.

"We have to be careful; we don't know what may lie ahead of us." Robin said while looking at the fortress that lied ahead of the ship, "It's all or nothing when we step foot in that place."

"It doesn't matter if it is; I don't plan on dying in a place like this." Zoro said while wrapping his bandanna over his head, "We've came out of our world to stop this one here… and I plan to finish what we started."

"Yosh! Let's move, guys! To that big mystery castle!" Luffy yelled determingly while pointing at the dark castle on the hill.

The crew got ready to leave the ship as some of them grabbed what they needed. They then got off the ship, and were all about to walk into the fortress zone, until Usopp stopped, and looked at the Sunny behind him.

"Are you guys sure about this? We can't just leave the ship there." Usopp said worryingly.

"It can't be helped; it's better that the ship is there then all the way in here." Franky said, referring to the fortress, "I'm worried about her too; but I know she will be alright. Come on, let's go."

Usopp took one last look at the Sunny before catching up to his comrades. As the crew walked closer to the fortress, the more tense their surroundings were getting.

"I hope Crazy Hand is okay. Do you think something bad has happened to him?" Chopper asked worryingly.

"I'm sure he's fine." Sanji said while walking beside Chopper, "A big immortal hand like him can take care of himself. And besides, he has the same confidence as some other idiot we know."

"Hmm? What are you talking about?" Luffy asked while glancing at Sanji.

"Forget it…" Sanji replied.

The crew cautiously walked into the big fortress. It looked more like an abandoned neighborhood, with the houses and small buildings having their lights on. The streets had a darkish purple color, and everything looked completely gloomy, yet comfortable to be in at the same time. Somehow, this all looked very familiar to the crew.

"Doesn't this place look like how Obscurum used to be that Crazy Hand showed us?" Nami asked.

"It seems so, but this place looks too much like it." Franky said by observation, "You know, I think this place is an exact replica of the towns before this world was destroyed!"

"Really! But how is that possible!" Chopper asked.

"This place certainly looks like the ones Crazy Hand showed us, but how? I don't think those guys knew how Obscurum's towns were like this back then…" Zoro said curiously.

"They must have found some ancient resources, and decided to rebuild Obscurum's towns as their territory." Nami said while walking up to a building, and placed her palm on it's wall, "It's not a fake from what I can tell… I'm surprised they were able to get such into detail."

"Hey, let's see if there is a restaurant here too!" Luffy suggested.

"There is no time for that, idiot." Sanji said with a sigh, "And besides, we shouldn't get too comfortable around here. Whether this place looks exactly like the towns this world used to have or not, this is still enemy territory. Keep your guards up at all times."

"Yeah, we know the drill." Usopp replied. He then gulped nervously as he and his comrades walked a little further into the fortress, "This place is getting creepier… it's weird that there is no one in sight. Shouldn't those guys have atleast some men around here to try and stop us?"

"Those losers must've grown overconfident, and think they can handle us by themselves." Franky said with a smirk.

"Yeah, themselves…" Zoro said bluntly while unsheathing his swords, "… It's strange, but I sense someone else here. I can't tell where it is, but it's presence is everywhere."

"Whoa! Somebody is trying to attack us!" Chopper asked nervously while leaning onto Robin's leg.

"Oi! If anyone's hiding around here, show yourselves now!" Luffy yelled.

Suddenly, the fortress' entry the crew went through earlier sealed off as a black and purple barrier formed on it. It was not just the entry, but the whole surroundings of the fortress also had the same barriers sealing off all exits, and Strawhat pirates were shocked by this as they were completely trapped.

"They trapped us in here!" Nami gasped, "Dammit! There really is no turning back this time!"

"Guys, look!" Franky yelled. The crew looked in front of their path, and saw that the concrete of the street was moving around like water. It was then that a purple hand popped out of the liquid floor as a strange humanoid shaped creature, along with several more of it's kind, pulled themselves from out of the floor before it turned solid again. All of the creatures had purple bodies, and no faces. They all came in different shapes and sizes, and they slowly approached the crew while their arms hanged loose.

"What are those things!" Nami asked. The creatures then moved faster as they sprinted towards the crew. Zoro and Sanji immediately got in front of the creatures as Zoro cuts one of them in half. The creatures cried in terror as it slowly faded into thin air.

Sanji performed several roundhouse kicks at some of the creatures' heads, knocking them all out of the street as some of them faded away, while the rest got back up, and charged at the crew again.

"WEAPONS LEFT!" Franky helped by firing rapidly at all of the creatures with his left arm. The creatures got shot at their vital points as they all faded away while screaming in terror. The crew had no idea what they were as they regrouped.

"Wh-Wh-What the hell were those things! Some kind of monsters!" Usopp asked.

"We're not sure, but I highly doubt we won't be seeing more of them soon!" Zoro said while keeping his guard up. The crew were highly cautious now as the floor started to move weird again.

"Here they come again!" Nami warned as she backed away close to a wall next to her. Unbeknownst to her, the wall was starting to move around just as weird as the street. Chopper's ears perked up as he turned around, and saw one of the strange creatures pulling themselves out the wall, and was about to strike Nami from behind.

"Look out, Nami!" Chopper yelled. Nami turned around, and gasped as the creature's arm turned into a blade. Chopper got into his walk point, and galloped quickly towards the creature before turning into his Heavy Point, "HEAVY GONG!" Chopper socked the creature in the face as it cried in terror before slowly fading in thin air.

"Wah!" Both Nami and Chopper backed away from the walls as more of those creatures were pulling themselves out of it.

"They come out of the walls too!" Usopp gasped in fear. It was not only the street and the walls the dark creatures keep popping out of, but everything else in the crew's surroundings as well. Windows, light posts, sidewalks, fountains, rooftops, and even out of thin air. The crew were facing back to back from each other as they were completely surrounded by these dark creatures, who slowly approached the crew while moaning in sorrow.

"Dammit! We don't have time to take care of all these guys!" Sanji said while gritting his teeth.

"We'll have to fight our way through here if we want to get out of this!" Robin said.

"GOMU GOMU NO MUCHI!" Luffy stretched his leg, and horizontally kicked all of the dark creatures into the wall beside them. The road ahead was now clear as Luffy ran ahead, "Let's go! We have to get to that castle!"

"Aye!" The crew followed their captain as the army of the dark creatures chased after them. Some of them jumped onto a brick wall, and ran along it as some of them jumped down to the crew below.

"Tsk!" Sanji noticed them coming as he jumped to a lightpost in front of him, and jumped off it as he flew towards the dark creatures, "JOUE SHOT!" With a strong flying kick, the dark creatures that were in midair were blown backwards as they faded away before they could crash to the ground. Sanji then confronted the dark creatures that were chasing the crew as he delivered several kicks to their faces.

Franky stopped running, and turned around to as he aimed at the dark creatures, "WEAPONS LEFT!" Franky fired some blasts, shooting away most of the creatures as this helped Sanji to escape. "Take that, take that, TAKE THAT!" Franky kept on firing until Sanji ran past him, allowing him to fire freely at all the creatures, creating a big dust cloud as Franky then retreated.

Some of the creatures then jumped out of the dust clouds, and jumped onto the houses, chasing the crew below while jumping to each house in front of them. Nami noticed this as she took out her PCT, and separated it. "DARK CLOUD TEMPO!" While running, Nami created some dark lightning clouds above her, preventing the dark creatures from attack her and the crew from above. However, some of the creatures were able to jump over the dark clouds as they got in front of the crew's way, but the crew didn't stop running.

"GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!" Luffy repeatedly stretched his arms back and forth, punching away all the dark creatures in his way. Sanji then ran ahead, and kicked the airborne creatures Luffy knocked over just now, and knocked them high up in the air.

"LONGE DE GRACI!" Sanji performed several midair kicks, kicking every single creature airborne in the ribs. They flew right into the houses next to them, going through the rooftops, or crashing into their comrades in the process. Despite this, more dark creatures were popping out of the rooftops of those houses mentioned.

"Tsk!" Zoro leaped on the property walls, and ran across it as he focused onto the creatures jumping across the houses nearby. Two of the creatures jumped towards Zoro, who instantly flip forward to avoid the leap, and balanced on his sword to do a backward slash before getting on his feet again. He then continued running along the wall as more creatures were starting to appear ahead of the crew. Nami gasped as she turned around, and connected her PCT together.

"THUNDERLANCE TEMPO!" The dark clouds Nami created earlier let's out a stream of electricity, which struck through some of the creatures in the process as the electricity was gather into the tip of Nami's PCT. The top end of the PCT then hang lose as Nami swung it like a flail while charging at the group of dark creatures ahead. "SWING ARM, SPLIT!" Nami hits a dark creature with her PCT as it's electricity not only shocked him, but to the rest of his kind as streams of electricity came out of his body, and zigzagged it's way through the rest of them.

They faded soon afterwards, but more dark creatures appeared from out of thin air, only they were in shape of bats. "I-I got them!" Usopp while getting his slingshot, Kabuto, ready, "KAMAKIRI RYUSEI!" Usopp shoots a high speed exploding pellet that flew upwards in midway flight, and exploded onto the dark bats with a green explosion. Some of them survived, however, and continued flying down at the crew. Usopp gasped as he took out a bottle of grease, and poured it down on the road in front of him. He then leaped, and landed on his knees as he slid along the greasy path.

"BOSHI! BOSHI! BOSHI!" Usopp rapidly fired more explosive pellets at the bats above as he slided across the greasy path. "Yosha! A couple of scary bats can't stop Captain Usopp!"

BANG! BANG!

"Whatta! Whoa!" Usopp was nearly by something hiding in some bushes he slid passed by. It was then that dark creatures, who looked like snipers, popped out of the bushes, and aimed for Usopp's head. "Yaah!"

"DOCE FLEUR!" A couple of arms sprouted from the ground, and pulled Usopp away before he could have gotten shot. The dark snipers then faced towards Robin, only to get arms sprouted from their bodies. "TRIGGER!" The arms forced the snipers to aim at each other as one of the arms pulled the sniper's triggers, firing at each other as they cried in terror before fading away.

Chopper turned into his original form, and cried in fear while throwing some chemical viles behind him. The viles exploded into a thick cloud, blinding the dark creatures as Chopper ran past Robin, who looked at the cloud. "FENCE!" Robin sprouted multiple arms in front of the cloud, creating a spiky fence inches away from it. Some of the dark creatures who manage to get out were then pierced through their chests by Robin's spiky fence. While most of them fell for this trap, others leaped over it, and were about to fall into Robin, until Sanji heroically leaped towards them.

"SANTEN DECOUPAGE!" Sanji performed three powerful roundhouse kicks in midair, sending the dark creatures flying in several directions before they faded away. He then did one drop kick to another dark creature, allowing him to do a back flip while turning around, and landing on his feet as he, Chopper, and Robin ran back along with their crew again, with Usopp following them after he nearly got shot down.

Zoro was doing fine running along the houses, and slashing through some dark creatures along the way, until there was a slight tremor that nearly knocked Zoro off balance, and had to pierce his sword into the rooftop he was on in order to stay standing.

"What's going on!" Zoro asked. His eyes widened as he realized that the houses around him, and the one he was standing on, pulled themselves out of the ground, and they were now floating in the air. It wasn't just those houses, but it was all of them from the entire neighborhood that were floating in the air as well. "What the! The houses can float! Gah!" Zoro was attacked by more dark creatures that appeared from the rooftops. He had no trouble slashing at the ones around him with just one sword before pulling out his other one. Once he did, he started jumping to other rooftops while more dark creatures went after him, despite being in a higher altitude.

One of the houses then dived into the crew from behind, and crashed hard into the floor behind them. The crew were shocked by this as they turn around to see the remains of the house. "What just happened!" Nami asked.

"Up there!" Robin yelled as she, and the crew just noticed the neighborhood houses floating in the air.

"What is wrong with this place! None of this makes any sense!" Usopp cried. Suddenly, the brick walls next to them were coming apart as each brick were now floating in the air too. The crew gasped as the bricks rained down at them, engulfing themselves with purple flames upon going so fast.

"GOMU GOMU NO FUUSEN!" Luffy inflated his stomach as the bricks bounced off of him, but the flames left burned marks on him as Luffy fell on his back. "Gah! Run!"

The crew ran away as fast as they could, avoiding the meteor-like bricks along the way. They ran downhill of the streets as Franky pulled a lightpost from the ground next to him. "Come on! Is this the best you got!" Franky yelled at his surroundings as he knocked some of the bricks with the purple lightpost. As the crew ran downhill, more creatures pulled themselves from the ground behind them as they chased the crew down the hill with great speed.

"Ah! They are going to get us!" Chopper cried while running. As the crew ran down the hill quicker, Luffy noticed a park just ahead.

"Usopp! Franky! Block the road!" Luffy commanded.

"Yosh! Longnose, bring out the heat!" Franky exclaimed while holding onto the lightpost with both hands.

"Aye, aye!" Usopp quickly took out several oil pellets, and dropped them along the downhill. The dark creatures eventually stepped on them, which caused them to explode oil around, and caused them to slip downward. The crew finally to get to the bottom of the hill as Franky turned around while raising the lightpost above his head.

"See ya!" Franky slammed the front end of the lightpost, shattering the glass as the purple flame inside engulfed some of the oil pellets

Usopp just dropped, which caused the flame to expand as it headed towards the group of dark creatures that had oil on them.

KABOOOOOOOOOOOOOM!

The whole hill was covered in purple flames, blocking the exit as the crew ran into the park. They ran between some trees and benches along the way, but as stopped as they noticed several more dark creatures, who were really fat and big.

"GOMU GOMU NO BAZOOKA!" Luffy thrusted his palms into one of the fat dark creature's stomach. It staggered back a few steps before he curled up into a ball, and rolled towards Luffy afterwards. "Whoa!" Luffy jumped onto the fat dark creature as he tried keep his balance on it as it rolled around inside the park. The other two fat dark creatures then dug into the ground, and dug around it like moles as one of them popped out of the ground, blowing away some sharp rocks into the crew.

"COLLIER!" Sanji kicked an incoming rock to pieces as he then did a sweep kick at the fat dark creature, but missed as it hid inside the ground again.

"I'll take care of them, Sanji!" Chopper yelled as he ran at Sanji in his walk point. Sanji knew what Chopper had in mind as he raised his right leg right before Chopper jumped on it.

"ARMEE DE L'AIR POWER SHOOT!" Sanji kicked hard upwards, sending Chopper flying high above the park as he transformed into his Heavy point.

"HEAVY PRESS!" Chopper flew down at the park with his rear facing downward. Sanji got out of the way as Chopper landed hard on the ground, creating a pink shockwave that spread across the ground. This made the dark creatures underground get knocked out halfway out of the ground as Robin crossed her limbs.

"QUINCE FLEUR, PUSH!" Arms sprouted from underneath the fat dark creatures as they were limplessly knocked up in the air. Usopp and Franky then preceded to shoot down every one of them down as the dark creatures faded afterwards after getting shot.

After they were dealt with, Luffy came back while balancing on the rolling dark creature. The crew jumped out of the way as it rolled past them. "Hey, don't hurt my crew!" Luffy yelled as he jumped onto a tree branch in front of him to get off. The dark creature made it's way around to go rolling back towards Luffy again. Luffy jumped off the branch as he faced the rolling dark creature head on. "GOMU GOMU NO ONO!" While in midair, Luffy slammed his foot onto the creature's body, which pushed the creature into the ground, creating a crater before it faded away.

The crew were finally able to relax, until they heard a strange noise behind them. They turned around to see the purple fires from the hill suddenly spewing out flames into the park's trees. From there on, the fire kept spewing around the park until all of the park's tree were in blaze.

"We have to get out of here!" Sanji yelled. The crew ran for it as the trees were letting out some purple fire around the ground. The crew then ran past an elegant water fountain, which the water suddenly turned black as fountain suddenly erupted into a black water geyser. More geysers kept erupting from random places along the park. Some of them nearly blew away Chopper and Nami, but they and the rest manage to avoid them while running away.

The crew were close to the exit, but the closer they got to it, the more chaos was happening in the park as a purple fire was forming from the opposite corner of the park where the crew entered from, to the corner of the park where the crew was trying to escape.

"Jump, now!" Luffy yelled. The crew then made a leap right out of the park, right before the fire wall could seal the entrance. The crew panted as the entire park was being burned to a crisp. "Come on, we're getting closer!"

As the crew proceeded to run deeper into the fortress, up in the skies, Zoro was keeping up by jumping from house to house. "Dammit! This is getting ridiculous!" Zoro muttered while being chased by some dark creatures with blades for arms. Zoro then realized that the floating house ahead of him was a bit too far for him to jump. "Huah!" Nonetheless, he jumped towards it, hoping he could reach it. "Grr! Damn!" He didn't make it however as he was only inches away from landing on the house's ledge.

Zoro quickly pierced his swords through the house's wall, preventing him from falling all the way. However, his swords were slowing cutting the wall as Zoro would fall down if this kept up. "Ha!" Zoro jumped from the wall, and pierced his swords into another house that was in a lower altitude from the higher ones. As Zoro slowly went down, some dark creatures that were standing on the rooftop below the house Zoro pierced his swords into waited for him to show up. Zoro then backflipped from the wall he was on, and tried landing on the rooftop behind him, but the dark creatures I mentioned earlier leaped towards him.

"Geh!" Zoro parried the creatures' attack, but this pushed him over the ledge, and was in danger again. "Tsk! HYAKU-HACHI POUNDOU HOU!" Zoro swung his swords, creating a powerful cutting wave that destroyed the dark creatures, and the house they were on. The force of Zoro's attack also blew Zoro all the way back into a rooftop behind him, saving himself from the big fall to the ground. Zoro panted a bit as he saw more dark creatures pulling themselves out of the objects, and chased after him. "Tch!" Zoro ran away again, cutting the head off a dark creature that was halfway from pulling itself off the rooftop along the way.

The crew down below were running along a street again, but there was nobody chasing them this time. "It looks safe around here!" Chopper said while running in his walk point.

"Don't stop running; everything around here is trying to kill us! We can't afford to slow down!" Usopp cried as tears poured out of his eyes. Suddenly, from the park, some of the purple fire from the park formed a giant ball of fire. It remained stationary in midair as it let out some fire balls far ahead to the crew. Usopp glanced over his shoulder, and saw the fireballs coming, "You see! Even the fire we made is trying to kill us all!"

"Dodge them, everyone!" Franky yelled. The crew were moving left to right while running, avoiding the fireballs as they exploded upon crashing into the ground. Things got harder for the crew as spikes were now popping out from the ground. "Oi, oi! This is getting too extreme!"

The crew were now dodging the fireballs, and the spikes that were popping out of the ground. The big fireball back at the park then flew towards the crew, but it flew slower since it was pretty huge. The crew could actually here the big fireball coming as they sprinted ahead as fast as they could.

"Grab onto me, guys!" Luffy yelled. The crew grabbed onto eachother around Luffy, who stretched his arms to the separate corners ahead. "GOMU GOMU NO ROCKET!" Luffy sprung himself forwardly, with his crew hanging on tightly as the fireball was about to make impact.

KABOOOOOOOO OOOOMMMMMMMMMM!

The fireball created a massive explosion that knocked the crew farther ahead then before. "Waauuaahahaa!" The crew stumbled forward along the ground until they came to stop around a circular road.

"Uwah.. oh, is everyone okay!" Sanji asked. The crew were fine as they got up on their own pace.

"Phew, it looks like we made it." Usopp said while wiping the sweat off his brow. Suddenly, a spiked wall formed into the exit ahead, shocking the crew, "… Or not. Wah!" Usopp took a step back as something was pulling itself off the ground. It turned out to be the biggest dark creature yet as it was a semi-giant, with a buff bodyframe, and spiky shoulders. The dark semi-giant pulled himself halfway out of the ground as he looked down at Usopp, who was petrified in fear. "WAAAHH!" Usopp cried as the semi-giant pulled out his huge battle axe, and brought it down on Usopp.

"Usopp, get out of there!" Nami yelled. Usopp was too nervous to move out of the way. Instead, he took out his impact dial, and placed it in front of himself as the giant's axe made contact with it. The dial absorbed the damage that Usopp was about to take as Luffy stretched his arms, and pulled Usopp out of there. The semi-giant then pulled itself out, and faced the crew.

"We don't have time for you!" Sanji yelled as he front flipped several times before leaping onto the semi-giant's head. "EXTRA HACHE!" Sanji repeatedly kicked the giant in the face, but the creature wasn't even facing he raised his axe over his back to strike Sanji.

"CUATRO MANO, HOLD!" Robin sprouted several arms that formed into four big arms as they held the semigiant's arm back from attacking, giving Sanji the chance to jump away from it.

"WEAPONS LEFT!" Franky repeatedly fired some blasts at the giant's face, causing it to stagger back into the spiked wall. Robin casted away her sprouted arms as the creature was slow on recuperating. From above, Zoro jumped onto one final house before noticing his comrades below him.

"Why are they wasting time with that thing!" Zoro growled, "Oi, Robin! Help me down!"

Robin turned around, and looked up to see Zoro on the house. "Understood! CINCUENTA FLEUR!" Robin sprouted a line of arms from the ledge of the rooftop Zoro was on as the arms stopped sprouting right when the last arm was facing towards the semi-giant.

Zoro jumped on the arms, and grinds down along it, preparing to face off against the semi-giant, which already regained his composure, "Compared to the ones we're after, you're nothing!" Zoro yelled as he leaped off the arm line, and towards the semi-giant, "HYOU KINDAMA!" Zoro span around with his swords, slashing through the semi-giant several times before landing on the ground.

The semi-giant was about to fall forward, until Luffy wrapped his stretched arms around the creature's body. "GRR! GOMU GOMU NO TSUCHI!" Luffy lifted the semi-giant over himself, and slammed into the spiked wall, crushing it into small pieces. Luffy pulled his arms back to normal again as the pathway was now clear. "Let's go!"

The crew ran past the unconcious semi-giant, who faded away soon afterwards as the crew were now leaving the neighborhood. They ran along the streets with some pine trees between them. The further they ran, they closer they were getting into the new level of the fortress.

"There's a town up ahead!" Robin said.

There was indeed a town just ahead of the crew, only it looked darker, and much more gloomy than the neighborhood. There were countless of buildings, and most of them were pretty tall. They were all black, and most have their lights on.

"That place looks a little dangerous than the neighborhood! I can't believe we are going there!" Usopp yelled.

"I don't care how big this place is; nothing is going to stop us!" Luffy said confidently.

Suddenly, one of the houses from all the way back in the neighborhood crashed into the ground behind him. "Whoa! What was that!" Nami asked. Franky glanced over his shoulder to see all the houses from the neighborhood flying down at them.

"Man, they just won't give up!" Franky yelled. One of the houses then tried to crush the crew, but it flew over them, and crashed into the street ahead. "Damn you! WEAPONS LEFT!" Franky turned around, and fired some blasts at the houses, blowing them up consecutively, but he was nowhere through with all of them. "Tch! Run!"

The crew were almost at the town boundaries as the houses were about to fall on them. They then dived into the boundaries, and turned around to confront the houses, but suddenly, a dark barrier formed on the boundary as the houses crashed into it, and turned into little pieces. The barrier sealed off the exit, making sure the crew doesn't leave the town.

"Damn, getting around here was tougher than I thought." Sanji said.

"It ain't over yet." Zoro said as he looked at his surroundings, "We better move now; I don't like the looks of this place."

"Yeah, this place is scarier…" Chopper whimpered.

"Then let's keep moving already!" Franky yelled impatiently. Suddenly the ground started shaking. The crew tried to keep their balance as they wondered what was happening.

"An earthquake!" Nami gasped. It was more than an earthquake; this quake is shaking the structure of the town itself. The floors were cracking open, the buildings were tilting to the side; everything is loosing it's figure.

"We have to go now! Move!" Luffy yelled. The crew ran along the street, despite the earthquake that was going on. The building to there right was tilting over slightly. It didn't fall down, but when it stopped, all of it's windows were shattered into pieces from the sudden halt. The shards rained down at the crew, who tried to find a place to protect themselves, while Usopp readied his slingshot.

"SANSEN ROKUREN MAMUSHIBOSHI!" Usopp fired 18 consecutive explosive pellets, with 6 of them slithering up like a snake each. They slithered around each other as they exploded massively at the shards, blowing most of them away as the crew were safe from where they stood.

"Good work, Usopp!" Luffy exclaimed while running ahead. Usopp's legs were trembling after that brave act he pulled off as Franky patted him on the back.

"Yo! Quit shaking, and get movin'!" Franky said. Usopp regained his senses as he and his comrades continued running along the streets. The buildings continued to tilt, and floors were cracking and splitting open as the earthquake continued to cause havoc. The floor split in front of the crew, but they didn't stop as they jumped over to the other side. They kept on running until they spot a tunnel ahead.

"Let's get through there!" Luffy suggested.

"Are you kidding me! There is an earthquake going on! We'll get caved in!" Nami yelled.

"There is no other way around here! We have no choice!" Robin said. Suddenly the floor ahead of them cracked open, and strange-looking walls sealed the tunnel. More walls then appeared as they were heading towards the crew. Zoro faced towards the walls as he crossed his swords against his chest.

"ENBIMA YONEZU!" A silouhette appeared behind Zoro, making his swords bend around for a wider reach, "ONI GIRI!" Zoro cross slashed right through every single wall that lied ahead. As soon as he opened his eyes, were cut to pieces, allowing the crew to run through.

The Strawhat pirates ran through the dark tunnel, where they could see a faint light ahead, but the tunnel was still too dark to see anything. "I can't see anything!" Franky muttered.

"Just keep running forward!" Luffy yelled. As the crew kept running to the other side of the tunnel, they could hear the sounds of something really big and loud behind them.

"Is there something behind us!" Chopper asked while running.

"Don't look back; we're almost there!" Sanji yelled. They ran a little faster as the light at the end of the tunnel grew bigger.

Once they finally got out, they didn't stop running as the tunnel, including the wall around it, was blown away by another semi-giant dark creature.

"Oh great, not another one!" Usopp cried while glancing at the dark creature over his shoulder. The semi-giant stood still as regular sized dark creatures with wings chased after the crew. One of them dived into the crew, but Sanji turned, and kicked him across the face, knocking him into a wall. The crew could have stopped, and faced the winged creatures, but the earthquake was giving them a hard time to stand still.

As the crew ran further, they saw a humongous bridge that led to the other side of the dark town. "Hurry; go to that bridge!" Zoro yelled.

The crew ran to the bridge, which was a little far, and it was for them getting there since the flying dark creatures wouldn't leave them alone. The earthquake was doing massive damage to the town's structure as a very tall building in front of the bridge was going to fall down. Usopp and Chopper glanced over their shoulders, and screamed in fear with their eyes popping out, and their tongues flailing around.

"THAT BUILDING IS GOING TO CRUSH US!" Usopp and Chopper cried in unison. The others didn't had time to see that, but instantly ran faster upon hearing that cry. The building was halfway down as the crew were just about several feet away from the bridge.

BOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOM!

The building crashed hard into the floor as it's structure fell into several pieces, and created a large dust cloud upon it's crash landing. From all the way into the bridge's entrance, the crew were alright. They were on their backs and bodies, inches away from the top end of the building that just crashed. Luffy, Nami, Sanji, and

Robin dazedly got up in the center part of the entry of the bridge, while the others were around the right side.

"Ahhh, wow; that was very close; we could've died for a second there." Luffy said plainly.

"Don't talk like that now. Ow…" Nami muttered while rubbing her head in pain.

"Nami-san, are you alright!" Sanji asked worringly.

"Yeah, yeah. I'm fine." Nami replied irritably before looking at the others, "Hey, you guys okay?"

"Geh… it's a miracle we even made it this far." Usopp said while there were swirls on his eyes.

"Heh heh! Looks like we all made it!" Luffy said cheerfully while taking a step forward. When he did that, though, strange symbols appeared from the below Luffy, Nami, Sanji, and Robin as a blue barrier formed around them.

"What the!" Sanji gasped as the ground they were suddenly flew upwards, with Nami screaming on the way.

"Ahhh! Oh no, what happened!" Usopp asked. He, Zoro, Chopper, and Franky watched as the platform his comrades were on suddenly stopped in a very high altitude, higher than the tall building that collapsed.

"YAAAAAAAAAAHHHHH! Somebody, get us down from here!" Nami cried while trying not to look down. The crew down below didn't know what to do.

"We have to do something to get them down!" Chopper exclaimed.

"It may not reach, but I'll use a Coup de boo to get up there, and bring them back down." Franky said.

Suddenly, the semi-giant that destroyed the tunnel earlier went after the crew that was on the ground. "Oooooh! Here comes that big guy again!" Usopp cried with his arms held high.

"Dammit, we have to go!" Zoro yelled as he, Usopp, Chopper, and Franky ran away from the semi-giant, and ran along the bridge. Luffy and the others on the platform watched this happen.

"Oi, we have to get down there now!" Luffy yelled.

"It's too far to jump from all the way here!" Nami cried. Just when they ran out of ideas, rubble of the destroyed building suddenly floated in front of the foursome, combining with each other to create a rocky, but a big path.

"It seems we can walk on there." Robin said. Without a second thought, Luffy ran across the path, and kept an eye on his crew down below.

"I-I'm too nervous to walk on there!" Nami whimpered. Sanji allowed Nami to give her a piggy back ride, which gave him a boost of energy since Nami is holding on to him as he ran ahead in full speed, with Robin following them from behind.

Down on the bridge, the semi-giant was swinging his battle axe left and right with each step he took as the Zoro and the others were avoiding him as much as possible.

"It's too embarrassing to keep running like this! Let's just take care of this guy first!" Zoro said.

"NO! NO! We have to keep our eyes out for the things that might attack us out of nowhere!" Usopp cried, "Let that big scary guy just chase us for now! Uuhhuhuh…"

"How much further do we even get to the damn castle! It's like were running in circles around here!" Franky yelled. He then heard the sound of waves coming from his left. He looked towards the left, and saw a big stream of black water that was rising up like a stream, and it was heading towards Franky and the others are. "Oh shit!"

"Wah!" Franky grabbed Chopper tightly as he, Usopp, and Zoro ran leaped towards the ledge facing the current. The black stream of water slammed into the bridge hard, going over the ledge that the foursome were hiding underneath. The semi-giant was nearly washed off the bridge, but his massive weight allowed him to stay on the bridge as the stream landed on the other side.

"Like I said; everything here is trying to kill us!" Usopp stated to Zoro. They started running away again as the semi-giant regained his composure after be hitting by the stream, and chased after the foursome again.

Luffy, and the others on the floating path weren't running to their fullest since the path was a little rocky to begin with. "Tsk! It's long way to the other side, and this is not even the worst of our problems!" Nami complained, even though she wasn't running since Sanji was giving her a piggyback ride.

"Whoa! Did you see that water! That was really awesome!" Luffy exclaimed happily, peering over the left edge of the path while running. His foot then went through a part of the path, making a hole that he nearly if he hadn't jumped over.

"You idiot! Remember, this path isn't very stable! We have to be careful where we step on!" Sanji criticized.

Down below, another huge stream of black water rised up from the black ocean, and it streamed towards the right side of the bridge this time. "Whoa! Watch out!" Usopp warned as he and the others leaped behind the ledge where the stream was coming from. Just like last time, the stream hits the bridge hard, with the current passing over the ledge, and into the water again. The semi-giant behind them recuperated from this as the foursome went running again.

"Hey, there is another one coming!" Chopper yelled as another stream was coming up from the left side again. The foursome quickly hid behind the ledge again to avoid, and ran again as soon the danger was over. This procedure repeated itself several times, same goes Luffy and his team as some of the path were stepping on were falling apart.

"We're almost there! Go faster, Sanji-kun!" Nami cheered.

"Yes, Nami-swaaaaaaann!" Sanji exclaimed happily while going faster. It appears that the crew will make it to the other side, but just like in most situations, things always gets harder in the end.

The black water streams were weakening the bridge, and it seems it can't take another hit as another water stream flew towards the bridge from the left side. Zoro, and his team quickly hid behind the rail as the stream hits the bridge harder than before.

"Whoaa!" Chopper cried as the 2/3 quart of the bridge was broken apart, was being blown to the right side.

"The bridge is destroyed!" Luffy exclaimed while running. It wasn't only Zoro and his team in trouble; the floating platform Luffy and his team got out of suddenly exploded into purple flames, engulfing the bottom of the pathway. The fire spreads out along the path, going into Luffy and his team's direction.

"Yaaawaaawahhh!" Zoro and his team rolled along to the other side of the bridge as it collapsed into the ocean. They held onto the ledge as the bridge was now tilting downwards, leading to the black ocean.

"We're stuck! Someone help us!" Usopp cried.

From above, Robin glanced over her shoulder, and gasped upon seeing the purple spreading towards her and her comrades. "We have to jump off now!"

"What! What are you talking about Ro-BIN! WAHH!" Nami saw the path of flames coming closer. "SANJI-KUN!"

"I know! We have to get out of here!" Sanji replied. They looked peered over the edge beside them, and gulped upon seeing how far they were from the water.

"Here we go!" Luffy and his team jumped out of the path right before it engulfed into purple flames as it fell apart over the bridge.

The ones on bridge upon seeing the incoming rubble as Franky wrapped his arms around his crewmates. "Hold on; we're getting out of here!" Franky said. His butt then inflated like a balloon as Franky faced towards the northeastern part of the town ahead. "COUP DE BOO!" Franky released a stream of air from his air, flying through the air while holding onto his comrades, who cried nonstop, except for Zoro.

"YAAAAAAAAAAAHH!" Nami cried while frantically swinging her arms and legs in panic. Luffy placed Nami and Sanji on his back, while Robin quickly Luffy underneath his armpits.

"CIEN FLEUR, WING!" Robin sprouted several arms from her back, which formed into two giant wings. She flapped them around for a few seconds to remain in the air as Sanji had heart popping out of his eye from seeing this.

"OH MY, AM I IN HEAVEN!" Sanji asked happily as Nami slapped him from behind.

"Luffy, hurry! I can't hold on like this much longer!" Robin panted.

"Yosh!" Luffy stretched both of his arms all the way to the ledge of the northwestern side of the town ahead. Both Nami and Sanji gasped by this.

"GOMU GOMU NO ROCKET!" Luffy sprung quickly towards the town, stumbling across the ground upon landing roughly. They ended up close to a building wall as Luffy popped up from a pile of rubble, while the others were still dazed from the landing.

"Woooo! That was fun!" Luffy said happily before Nami slapped him.

Franky and the others also managed to land into town, but in the northeastern part instead. The semi-giant watched them leave as the bridge suddenly collapsed into the black ocean, with the burning rubble above falling ontop of it. The bridge was long gone now as Zoro watched the destruction while getting up.

"Eugh… we made it." Zoro muttered while rubbing his head. Franky rubbed his butt as Usopp and Chopper got up as well.

"That was so terrifying! I hope we never do something like that ever again!" Chopper panted.

"Yeah, well… atleast we finally made it here!" Usopp panted happily. Usopp then blinked in confusion as he then looked what lied ahead. He could see the castle, which was still pretty far away, much to his dismay.

"Aw, you're kidding! After all we've just been through, we're merely halfway there?"

Preview: Maaaaaaan, this place is really crazy! And we got seperated from the others too. It's a good idea we find them before going to the castle. Next time on One Piece: A Smash Adventure; Chapter 121: The ruler's minions, The arrival at the dark castle. I am gonna be the Pirate King!

Just to make things clear, those creatures I mentioned are not Heartless, or anything. They are my OC creatures, and their identity will be explained later on. Anyway, I think this chapter turned out alright; hope you enjoyed it! Ciao for now!

Final arc Pt 2

Hello! Yes, I am not dead, it's just that this chapter was hard for me to finish for some reason. Anyway, I hope you like it. Enjoy!

A nostalgic fortress. The Strawhat pirates entered the Obscurum rulers' fortress, which looked exactly like the towns the old Obscurum had before it was destroyed in the first war. The place was out of control to even go through as the Strawhat's were attacked by floating houses, falling buildings, and strange creatures that kept appearing from almost everywhere. It was thanks to this that the crew split up into two teams of four, and they only made it to the halfpoint of the fortress before they could reach the castle. Will they be able to regroup again?

Chapter 121: The rulers' minions, The arrival at the dark castle

Luffy, Nami, Sanji, and Robin got after going through that hard landing in the previous chapter. They are around the dark alleys just on the western side of the dark town passed the bridge, which was now rubble thanks to the strange water currents that destroyed it.

"This town is certainly not like any other." Robin said while looking back where the bridge used to be, "It was sheer luck that we even manage to get into this deep. Even I can't imagine what will happen now…"

"Robin-chan, it's best that we don't think about that." Sanji said while approaching Robin, "Let's go and find the others. I don't usually say this, but we won't be able to stand a chance against this crazy place just the four of us."

"Tell me about it…" Nami said while brushing the dust off her skirt, "If I remember correctly, I think the others landed just east from here." Nami then walked down the alley to get a good look at where she and the others are now. She could see a corridor just out of the alley, and it lead straight towards the main road where it could also be accessed by the bridge if hadn't collapsed. "It looks clear from here. If we go straight towards that path, we should meet up with the others."

"Wait, Nami-san. We have to make sure we're not going into a trap." Sanji said cautiously as he then walked ahead, "I'll make sure that it is safe to cross."

Luffy gave off a smug frown as he rubbed his head while walking up to Nami and Robin, who watched Sanji cautiously walking along the corridor. Sanji took note of the big buildings to his left, and black water over the ledge of the corridor to his right. Even though Sanji didn't know what was going to happen, he was ready for just about anything. He managed to almost get to the other side of the corridor, and into the main road as the Luffy, Nami, and Robin watched him get there.

"Be careful, Sanji! You don't want to die over there!" Luffy reassured, which annoyed Sanji.

"Idiot! Don't go saying things like that while I-!" When Sanji took one step on the main road, a dark barrier suddenly formed from right under his foot, knocking him off his feet, and on his back. "Ahh!"

"Sanji-kun!" Nami cried out as she, and the others went to see if Sanji was okay. Sanji was fine as he stared at the dark barrier in front of him, which prevented the crew from getting into the main road. As the crew regrouped, Nami got frustrated upon seeing that their easy way out was blocked.

"It seems we must go find another path." Robin said stoically while looking at the barrier.

"Dammit! That took me by surprise!" Sanji said while getting up, "I'm not even sure where is safe to go anymore."

"Ergh! It's like this town is playing with our heads here!" Nami yelled out before sighing, "Oh, looks like our way only path is through…" Nami and the others looked to their left, and saw a narrow and dark alleyway, which looked eerie to even step foot it in, "… that place."

"Okay! Let's get going!" Luffy said confidently while pointing at the alleyway, "The sooner we get back to the others, the better!"

"Right… I'll protect Nami-san and Robin-chan no matter where we go, even if it means dying!" Sanji said bravely while straightening his tie.

Nami could only sigh in fear while Robin patted on her shoulder. "Okay, let's just get through here quick." Nami said sternly as she and the others walked into the dark alley.

Meanwhile…

Zoro and the others with him where having the same predicament just like Nami and her team. They stood on the eastern part of town, just the opposite side where Luffy, Nami, Sanji, and Robin are. Unlike the west part of town, though, they stood on a tall cliff, where the buildings of the east part of town looked bigger than the west part. There were dark barriers blocking the way from where they just came into. Zoro sighed at this as he looked at the others.

"We'll have to move on without the others." Zoro said, "I'm sure they are looking for us, so we better go look for them too."

"I don't really know if that's such a good idea." Usopp said as he and Chopper were whimpering close together, "This spot here is by far the safest place out everything else around here! And just incase you didn't know, look what lies ahead behind us."

Behind the crew was a corridor that lead into a very big street, with several dark buildings around it. The driveways were connected in several parts like any other streetway, but from the looks of it, a regular alley would be safer to go through than through that place.

"We have no choice, bro. We have to get through that joint." Franky said while raising his sunglasses above his eyes, "All we have to do is go west to find the others. If we go there, it might be easier to go west from there."

"Let's not waste more of our time then." Zoro said bluntly while gripping onto his swords, "Let's move. Usopp?"

"Y-Yeah. We're coming." Usopp as he then stood up bravely, "Captain Usopp will assure nothing bad will happen from here on."

"Really? Oh good, I was getting worried something bad might happen." Chopper sighed in relief. The foursome walked along the narrow corridor as they then ended up in the vast streetway. From the crew's view, everything looked eerie and dead, no living thing was present, not even those mysterious dark creatures were lurking around.

"This place looks bigger when you have a good look at it." Franky said while looking at his surroundings.

"Just stay on your guard; we don't know where those things from before will pop up." Zoro said, holding his third sword with his teeth.

Usopp and Chopper were nervous, but they were ready for combat nonetheless. They slowly walked around the area, but as far as they went, the dark creatures were not appearing. "Strange… I thought we would be attacked by now." Chopper said while blinking in confusion.

Unbeknownst to them, on the rooftop of a building on the opposite of where the crew was now, there was somebody stalking them.

From the stalker's point of view, it's vision was blue, and as it looked at the crew, retinal target locks appeared over their bodies. The stalker remained quiet as he aimed at the crew with something attached on his shoulder.

The crew had no idea that their lives were in danger as Chopper noticed a big pathway that leads to the main road in the west. "Hey, I think we can go over there! Everyone else should be around there!" Chopper exclaimed. He then ran off to that pathway while the other three followed. Zoro blinked as he heard an odd sound coming from somewhere distant. He looked to his right to see some sort of projectile heading to where Chopper about to go.

"Chopper!" Zoro sprinted, and pushed Chopper away as the projectile exploded onto the ground. Zoro and Chopper were alright as Usopp and Franky rushed over to them.

"Guys, are you alright!" Usopp asked while helping Zoro and Chopper up.

"Yeah, but we're not safe here!" Zoro said as he looked up towards the direction where the projectile came from.

"Bro, what the hell was that just now!" Franky yelled, "Are there more of those blobs trying to kill us again!"

From ontop of the rooftop, the stalker sat down on his mech as he activated it's boosters, allowing to fly. He flew his mech from the rooftop, towards where the crew was right now.

"Look out!" Zoro and the others got out of the way as the stalker landed his mech on the floor, creating a small crater in the process.

The crew were a little surprised to see that the stalker was not one of the dark creatures. Instead, it appeared to be a humanoid robot with purple armor, a black T-shaped visor, a shoulder cannon on his right shoulder, with it's ammo connected to the ammo storage on his back. He rides a big armor mech called 'Ride Armor', which helps him in combat, and navigate through difficult places at ease. The humanoid stood up from the cockpit of his ride armor, and placed his foot on the armor with his elbow on his knee. He looked down at the crew, who have no idea that this humanoid robot is famous for having a harsh personality- Vile.

"Just four?" Vile asked unimusedly, "I expected to kill off all eight of you at once, but I think hunting the rest of them down would be a little fun too."

The crew got into a defensive stance, "Who are you! What do you want with us!" Zoro asked angrily.

"What do I want? It's more of what my master wants." Vile replied, "I am Vile, and all I want you to know about me is that I am going to kill you where you stand."

"K-Kill us! Why do you want to do that! Do we even know you!" Usopp asked.

"I don't have to know a human in order to make it personal. I just like to kill off your kind, because it's fun!" Vile replied, "It's no use in denying it; you guys are all the same. Killing you four will not mean anything to my kind. In fact, this will probably help my master to get a bigger portion of this… 'world' to rule forever."

"Master?" Franky asked, "For some reason… hearing you say that just pisses me off, bro!"

"Huh… then you're ready to die. That's perfect!" Vile yelled as he then got back into his ride armor, and piloted towards the crew.

"Wah!" The crew jumped out of the way as the ride armor zipped past them. It turned towards Usopp, and swung it's fist at him, but Usopp leaned backwards to avoid, but fell on his back afterwards. The ride armor was about to punch him while he was down, but Chopper got into his Heavy Point, and punched the mech in it's body.

"Hmph!" Vile chuckled as his mech and Chopper were duking it out with several punches. As Chopper swunged his fist horizontally, Vile maneuvered his mech to go in reverse, causing Chopper to miss as he almost lost his footing. While this happened, Vile's ride armor punched him in the gut, causing Chopper to stagger back while holding his gut in pain.

"TORA GARI!" Zoro brought down both of his swords on the back of Vile's ride armor, leaving two cuts on it as Vile turned around for a counter. Zoro jumped to the side as the ride armor punched the ground, that's when Franky charged at the ride armor head on.

"FRANKY BOXING!" Franky repeatedly punched the ride armor, causing it to stagger back a few steps. Vile then activated the ride armor's boosters, allowing it to tackle Franky off his feet. "Guh!" While Franky was in midair, the ride armor jumped towards Franky while raising it's hands above it's body.

"KAYUKI BOSHI!" Usopp fired a pellet, which exploded onto the ride armor's back, causing it to lean forward in midair. Franky took then took the chance to remove the skin off his right hand, "STRONG HAMMER!" Franky punched the ride armor's body hard, knocking it backwards as Zoro then leaped at it from behind.

"HYOU KINDAMA!" Zoro spun around with his swords in midair, leaving several cuts on Vile's ride armor before it landed hard on the ground. The crew then regrouped as they panted a bit.

"Whoa! That guy was strong!" Chopper gasped.

"He must be working with the rulers!" Usopp said while panting nervously, "So far, this guy is more stronger than the monsters we fought here before. He must be an elite or something!"

"Oh, I can take a hint who this guy TRULY works for… and actually, I don't mind tearing this guy limb from limb, and sending those pieces back into his master's face!" Franky said while cracking his knuckles.

"Oi, oi, no need to go that far." Usopp replied a little nervously.

"Good… atleast you guys are no pushovers."

The crew turned towards Vile, who got his ride armor back on it's feet again, "You humans do have some skill after all, but that doesn't mean much to me! I still consider you four the weakest of all the foes I confronted so far."

"Enough of this already." Zoro said irritatedly, "I can understand why your masters sended you to get rid of us, but are you willing to go that far just so you can please them?"

"Ho? No, no; you guys are just a part of my warm-up exercises." Vile explained, "If I continue defeating strong foes, I will be strong enough to take care of those so called rulers, and have this 'world' for myself to rule alone."

"That's cruel! How can you betray your masters like that, even if they are bad!" Chopper asked.

"That's not the point here." Zoro said while pointing his sword at Vile, "We just shown you that you can't beat us alone! What makes you think you can win!"

"Oh, well… I am not exactly alone on this, heh heh." Vile chuckled, "I actually have friends too, you know?"

Suddenly, the walls of the buildings behind Vile were blown away, shocking the crew as they took some steps back. They then looked to see that was something coming out of the buildings.

"What the!" Usopp gasped upon seeing what came from the buildings. It appeared to be two Iron giants, who were wearing big armors, with one having purple armor, and the other having blue armor. The purple Iron giant was holding a club with his left hand, while the blue iron giant was holding a broad sword with his right hand. The giants walked forth, and stood around Vile. These giants are a strong team, and hard to defeat- The Gemini.

"Just what we needed; more giants!" Franky said sarcastically while aiming at the giants with his left arm.

Before the crew could strike, strange octopus-like creatures were coming out of the building the giants came out of. They look like the creatures Hojo used to fight Chopper several chapters ago.

"Ahh! What is going on here!" Usopp panicked while aiming nervously at the creatures.

"HYAKU-HACHI POUNDOU HOU!" Zoro unleashed a strong cutting wave that sliced through several of the octopuses. The wave headed towards Vile, but he moved his ride armor out of the way in order to dodge. The Gemini remained standing as the wave hits them head on, but they hardly fazed upon getting hit. "Tsk! We don't have time for this! Let's go!"

Zoro, Usopp, Chopper, and Franky then ran away as Vile watched them run.

"Ha! I knew they would run eventually." Vile chuckled, "Alright, let's hunt them down for good!"

Vile, The Gemini, and Hojo's creatures then gave chase to the crew, who were heading towards the path that leads into the main road.

Meanwhile…

Luffy, Nami, Sanji, and Robin walked around the dark alleys, being very cautious of any suspicious activity. "Ohh… this is so boring. I thought there would be monsters around here, but it's just dark. I wanna see monsters around here." Luffy whined.

"Shut up, and keep walking!" Nami hissed, "The sooner we find a way out, the better. I really don't like to go through a place like this, but since there was no other choice, we might as well go through it fast."

"I will make sure nothing bad will happen to you, including Robin-chwan." Sanji reassured, "But I think we are just about to make through now, so don't worry."

"I hope so…" Nami replied.

As the crew made a turn around a corner of a building, they could see an exit ahead that led into the main road. "I think that's the exit over there." Robin said.

"Perfect! Let's go!" Nami said in a hurry. Before the crew could get any closer out of the alley, however, a dark barrier suddenly blocked their way again. The crew stopped inches away from the barrier as Nami got angry over this, and slammed her fist on the barrier. "Ergh! We're never going to get anywhere with these barriers keep popping up!"

"Maybe we can just get up on one of these buildings, and walk around there." Luffy said.

"That's actually seems better than walking around here." Sanji said while turning towards Luffy, "Let's go with that idea."

"Oh ho ho! None of you guys are getting on anything!"

The crew were shocked to hear a voice from out of nowhere. They looked around to see where that voice was coming from, but they saw nobody in sight.

"Who's there!" Nami asked. Dark barriers then formed on the openings that lead to the rooftops of the buildings around the crew, making them almost feel trapped like rats, "Huh! Why does this keep happening!"

"I can't let you guys just runaway. It's my purpose to lead you guys into your demise!" The voice yelled.

"Where are you, coward! Show yourself!" Sanji yelled while getting in a defensive stance.

"Oh, I can't show myself just yet; I'm not done examining you guys." The voice replied. The crew didn't know what the voice meant by that as it continued speaking, "But tell you what; if you go into a certain spot just north from here, I'd be happy to talk to you guys in person."

"How dumb do you think we are! You are likely to have a trap set for us there!" Nami yelled. The voice then got quiet after hearing that.

"… Aw, shoot! You already figured out my plans." The voice said in disdain.

"AND YOU ADMIT IT!" Nami and Sanji said, baffled with angry expression looks.

"Hey, it's not like you have a choice." The voice replied, "You either go, and do as your told, or you are going to end up lost forever in this part of town. Trust me; as long as I am around, then it will happen."

"Are you saying that you're responsible for these strange barriers that keep blocking our path?" Robin asked.

"Only around here; If I had the power to control everything in this fortress, then I wouldn't be talking to you now, would I?" The voice said a little sarcastically, "Now, go north from here right now. If you don't get there in a minute, I'll seal you guys in the alleyway forever!"

"Heeey! You fight dirty!" Luffy exclaimed angrily, "There is no way I'm going to be ordered around by a mysterious voice!"

Suddenly a dark barrier sealed off the exits, except for the corridor that leads where the voice wants the crew to go to, "53 seconds left, man! You better pick up the pace quick!" The voice yelled.

"We have no choice, Luffy! Let's move, quick!" Sanji yelled.

The crew then started running along the alleyways that weren't sealed off. They ran left to right, turning around a corner every time they see a dark barrier ahead of them. Even when they were running so quickly, they had no idea how far they had to go north.

"39 seconds!" The voice yelled.

The crew was getting frustrated by the voice, but ignored him… well everyone except for Luffy. "That's it! We're taking a shortcut!" Luffy yelled as he turned towards a building next to him, "GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!"

Luffy repeatedly punched his way through a building wall, and ran forwardly while destroying more walls that lied ahead. Nami sighed at Luffy's idea of a shortcut as she, Sanji, and Robin followed Luffy north. Luffy yelled angrily as he kept punching through every single wall in sight, until he finally broke down the last wall that was close to him. He, and his crew were now in a open squared field of the alley, which was exactly the place where the voice wanted them to go to.

"Wow. I didn't think you guys would do that. I am kinda impressed." The voice said approvingly.

"Enough games!" Sanji yelled while looking up, "We're here, now show yourself!"

"Give me a sec; I'm heading to where you at right now." The voice replied, "In the meantime, why don't I introduce yourselves to my buddies?"

A bright light then appeared in front of the crew, which blinded them for a sec as they wondered what was in front of them. Luffy squinted his eyes, and saw something he never expected to find in such a spooky place.

"Hey! Is that a restaurant?" Luffy asked. Luffy turned out to be right as there was a small restaurant in front of the crew. It appeared to be like any other restaurant, which makes you wonder why it's doing in the middle of nowhere.

"Why is that in a place like this? Is this some kind of hallucination?" Sanji asked.

"Um… guys. Wh.. What is that?" Nami asked in a nervous tone. The crew looked at what was above the restaurant, and it appeared to be a giant head of a demonic clown. This took the crew by surprise as the head started laughing demonically.

"Uwahhh! A crazy restaurant!" Luffy exclaimed.

Suddenly, the restaurant was being raised from the ground, tearing up the pavement around it. There appeared to be something raising the restaurant from below. When it stopped moving up, the restaurant was actually a part of a tower, with a strange tank moving it from below. Inside the bottom of the tower, and on the tank, was another demonic clown head, only it was smaller, and there was fire coming out from it's head- Tower Tooth.

"A strange monster… it's face… it reminds me of… !" Robin trailed off from Tower Tooth as she and the others saw some people appearing from the rooftops in front of them. The crew couldn't see who it was as the people suddenly jumped of the roof, and landed on their feet.

"They are… !" Sanji gasped as the people turned out to be women. They wore dark jumpsuits with red ties, and they all had emotionless expressions; just like Juni and Juli from Bison's henchmen- The Shadoloo army. Luffy and his crew got into a defensive stance as they were facing off a strange army of dolls, and a creepy tower.

"What do you think?" The voice asked from out of the blue, "These guys are all going to help me finish you off before you guys do anything you'll regret."

"We have had enough of your tricks, you stupid voice! Come on out already!" Nami yelled furiously.

"I'm already here." The voice replied bluntly. This time, the voice sounded as if he was standing in front of the crew, but they couldn't see him. "They call me Shadoo. I was once created by the tribe of ancients where I came from, and all I wanted to do was to destroy them in return with my own cursed powers. They sealed me up in a pit of trials, and after 'they' managed to get through the pit, they managed to get rid of me for good. But I am now back thanks to this world, along with the people you see before you. And I now serve for one of the rulers of this world. I'm sure you know him by now. My new master's name is Dimentio."

Nami then grew angry, "That clown again!"

"I'm sure he'll be happy to know that his loyal servant will be the one to wipe you guys into the darkness!" Shadoo said as there was something taking form in front of the crew, "Because you won't be able to defeat me, especially when…" Shadoo then appeared out of thin air, and the crew was surprised to see what he looked like. His whole body was pitch black, and his body shape was the same as Sanji's figure, "… you're fighting yourself!"

"What is this! Why do you look like Sanji!" Nami asked.

"I have the power to copy my opponent's looks and abilities. That's why it took me a while to appear; I wasn't finished making the clones ready for our confrontation. Now that I am, we can finish this little chit-chat."

"Damn you…" Sanji muttered. The crew got into their defensive stance as Shadoo, and the the Shadoloo army behind him got ready to fight.

"Oh, heroes… blessed souls… I must destroy you all with the power of shadow!" Shadoo yelled.

The Shadoloo army ran past Shadoo, and attacked the Strawhat crew. Since Sanji didn't want to fight back for obvious reasons, he stood back as Nami and Robin faced off with the army.

"CIEN FLEUR!" Robin sprouted multiple arms from out of the army's bodies, binding them in place as Nami loosened up the end of her PCT, and swung it around like a flail towards her opponents.

"SWING ARM!" Nami repeatedly every single soldier that was close by. While Nami and Robin took care of the army, Luffy ran straight towards Shadoo.

"Hiya!" Luffy threw a fist at Shadoo, who blocked by raising his knee over his chest. Shadoo laughed as he started doing the same moves Sanji would usually use, but Luffy was agile enough to avoid his attacks while taking some steps back. Shadoo then jumped over Luffy, and got behind him.

"QUASI!" Shadoo did a handstand, and spun around with his legs extended. Luffy blocked with his forearm, but was knocked off of his feet as he flew back, but managed to land on his feet. Sanji got angry as he rushed at Shadoo while he was still spinning.

"LONGE!" Sanji slid across the ground, and kicked Shadoo in the neck. Shadoo grunted as he rolled back across the floor, and rested his back on the tank part of the Tooth Tower. Sanji was about to charge at Shadoo again, but noticed that the bottom head of the tower was about was breathing out fire, "Whoa!" Sanji rolled out of the way as the Tooth Tower breathed out a stream of fire, burning everything in it's way, including some of the soldiers of the Shadoloo army. "Bastard! You will regret that!"

"Ya!" Nami knocked one of the soldiers again, but turned around to another one was about to kick her. She blocked the soldier's kick with her PCT, but staggered back from the force of the kick. The soldier was then about to hit Nami while she was open, but Robin sprouted an some arms from the ground, and grabbed the soldier's tie. The arms then pulled the soldier down by the tie, smashing her face against the pavement. This happened to the rest of the soldiers as well, but it didn't finish them as they were slowly getting back on their feet.

"It's best that we retreat; we don't have time to be fighting here." Robin suggested.

"Oi, you two; finish that guy off! We're leaving now!" Nami yelled while forming a thundercloud with heat and cool balls.

"On our way!" Luffy replied as he threw a backfist at Shadoo, who blocked with his foot, and at the same time avoided a horizontal kick by Sanji by ducking. Shadoo then countered with sweep kick, which knocked Luffy off his feet, but Sanji managed to jump over it as Sanji kicked Shadoo in the face, knocking him off balance as Luffy did a handstand. "GOMU GOMU NO YARI!" Luffy thrusted his feet into Shadoo's face, knocking him all the way back into Tooth Tower, which was still breathing out fire.

Nami finished making her thundercloud, which was about the Tooth Tower as it spewed out more flames. Shadoo was about to get up on his feet until he noticed the cloud sparkling with lightning. "Oh, come on…"

"THUNDERBOLT TEMPO!" Nami threw a thunderball at the cloud, which unleashed a powerful thunderstorm that struck Shadoo, the tower, and the Shadoloo army. This caused a big explosion, which also created a big fire wall in front of the crew. "Okay, now we must leave!"

The crew then started heading west, going back into the narrow alleys. As they ran, they could hear a sound behind them. "You didn't think you finished me off, did you!" While running, the crew glanced over their shoulders to see the Tooth Tower chasing the crew, and ontop was Shadoo, only his body figure was the same as Luffy's figure, "I won't die until I finish you guys off!" Shadoo yelled while stomping his foot repeatedly.

The Shadoloo army also survived the explosion the crew could also see they were being chased by them as well. "Drat! This place is too narrow to fight in! Keep running, and stay alive!" Nami yelled.

The Tower Tooth breathed out more fire to the crew from behind. In order to prevent from getting burned, the Shadoloo army starting jumping from wall to wall, chasing the crew faster than usual. Robin noticed this as she sprouted some arms in the soldiers' way. Some of them got knocked, and got ran over by the tower, while the rest managed to avoid them, and continue the chase.

The crew then finally got out of the alleys, and ended up in the main road, which was huge as it illuminated a blue light from it's surface. The crew turned left, and ran forwardly as the road leads all the way towards the dark castle. The Tower Tooth then got out alleys, leaving rubble of the corner of buildings it went through as the Shadoloo ran ahead of it, and chased the crew down the road, with the tower following behind.

"Burn them down! Hurry!" Shadoo yelled at the Tooth Tower, which he was still standing on.

At the same this was happening, Zoro, Usopp, Chopper, and Franky appeared from the streets next to the main road. Since they were on a higher part of town, there was a steep hill ahead of them that leads to the main road. Zoro glanced over his shoulder to see the army of Hojo's experiments running towards him and his team, and frowned.

"If we go down now, those things will jump on us!" Zoro said, "Let's run along this street until we get farther away from them!"

They ran along the street, managing to out run the creatures as Usopp noticed the Tooth Tower on the main road. "UWAAAAHH! WHAT IS THAT BIG THING!" Usopp asked as his eyes popped out of his head. The others took note of the tower as Chopper was nervous as Usopp. Franky, however, noticed Luffy and the others running away from the tower.

"Oi, it's Strawhat, and the others! They're still alive!" Franky exclaimed.

"Looks like they are in much as we are! We better get back to them fast!" Zoro yelled. Suddenly, a giant broad sword from behind the building next to Zoro, and his team as it was brought down to the ground in front of them, nearly cutting Usopp's nose off.

"AAHHHH!" Usopp cried as he fell on his rear while shivering. Zoro frowned again as the Blue iron giant appeared in front of them. The crew was about to turn around, until they saw the purple iron giant standing behind them, trapping the crew from both sides.

"Time to die!"

The crew looked at the building next to them as it's front glass doors shattered into pieces. Vile then flew out of the front doors with his ride armor, and dashed towards the crew. Franky gritted his teeth as he got in Vile's way.

"HOSHI SHIELD!" Franky's arm turned into a shield as Vile's ride armor punched him hard. "Grr!" Franky was knocked off his feet, crashing into his teammates behind them as they fell off the street, and went down the steep hill.

"Usopp!" Chopper turned into his walk point as Usopp grabbed onto him while falling. Chopper then managed to land on his hooves as Zoro and Franky landed hard on their feet to. Zoro looked up to see Vile riding down the steep hill, and was about to fall on him and his team, until they moved out of the way, and began running away in order regroup with the rest of the crew.

Vile then gave chase to the four as Usopp, who was still on Chopper's back while in his walk point, turned around, and started firing explosive pellets at Vile, who kept moving side to side with his ride armor in order to dodge. "Hergh!" Vile countered with some shots from his shoulder cannon, which Usopp fired down with his pellets as Chopper were now running towards some of Shadoloo soldiers from behind.

"Huah!" Chopper used his antlers to knock over the soldiers in his way, clearing some of the path as Franky noticed Shadoo from ontop of the Tooth Tower.

"Don't know who that is, but…" Franky opened his left wrist, and fired several blasts at Shadoo.

KABOOM!

"OOOWW!" Shadoo's Nami form disappeared as it was now replaced with a Robin figure. Shadoo looked down at the side of Tooth Tower, and growled at Zoro and his team, "You'll pay for that!" Shadoo crossed his limbs, sprouting arms from the ground ahead of Franky, but Zoro ran up to them head on.

"ONI GIRI!" Zoro cross slashed through the arms, which caused Shadoo to cry in pain as the pain was so unbearable, he fell unconscious on the tower.

"ATLAS SUISEI!" Usopp fired four explosive pellets at Vile as they exploded upon making contact.

"Gergh!" Vile had to slow down as his armor received heavy damage, allowing his targets to escape. Luffy could hear some noise, and glanced over his shoulder to see the rest of his crew running up to them.

"Oi! You guys are okay!" Luffy exclaimed happily.

"It's about time!" Sanji yelled, "Where were you guys! We're having problems over here!"

"Don't yell at us! It's not like we didn't have trouble along the way here either!" Zoro replied.

"This isn't the time to be talking!" Usopp panicked while repeatedly fired explosive pellets at the Tooth Tower, but the explosion hardly left scratch on them, "There is a giant monster coming at us, and my shots aren't working on it!"

"The only thing to destroy that is to knock it over!" Franky yelled, "And we need to go uphill in order to do that!"

As the crew continued to run, Hojo's creatures were catching up to them from the sides. Some of them then jumped down towards them. "We need to get rid of what's in the way first!" Zoro said as he slashed an incoming in half. Franky helped by backhanding some of them away. He then turned around, and fired some blasts at Tooth Tower's treadmills, which slowed down a bit, and allowed the crew to get away from it easier.

It was then that the crew finally got to the final part of the fortress, which was going up the hill to the castle. Since they are going uphill, they ran a bit slower. Lucky for them, this was also the same for the monstrous people chasing them. As they went up hill, Usopp continued firing on the Tower Tooth's bottom head.

"How's this for size! SHURIKEN SUISEI!" Usopp shot several shurikens simultaneously, but these shurikens were flying towards the bottom head so fast, they left afterimages as they flew by. The shurikens flew through the head, and moments later, the head exploded into little pieces. "YOSHAA! How do you like that!" Usopp yelled victoriously. Unfortunately for him and the crew, the big demonic clown on top of the tower then fired napalms down at them from it's mouth. "EEEKKK! I'M SORRRYY!"

The napalms streamed along the main road, making the crew to split up in order not to get hit by the napalms. The napalms eventually went into some buildings along the road as they then bursted into flames. This continued to happen along the uphill as Franky had enough of the tower. He turned around while connecting his arms to a tube, which inflated his arms with air.

"Okay, get lost! COUP DE VENT!" Franky unleashed a powerful current of air, blasting the Tower Tooth back as the current was strong enough to knock it over. The Shadoloo soldiers got out of the way as the tower fell hard on the ground, and skidded down the hill.

"Oh, finally that thing is gone!" Nami sighed in relief.

"Oi, we're almost to the castle!" Luffy yelled. The crew could finally get to the castle up close, which was bigger than they imagined it to be. Once they finally reached the top of the hill, there was yet, another thing in their way.

"You got to be kidding me! Who are they!" Franky asked.

In the crew's way were four creatures wearing white robes with zippers, and their sleeves zipped together. They were floating in the air as there were also some magical orange cubes floating behind them as well- Sorcerers.

Behind the Sorcerers was big, and a muscular four-legged creature, with it's back revealing machinery joints. It also had blue horns, and a very a long tail. It snarled at the crew as he took some steps in front of the sorcerers- Ultima Weapon.

"My name is Ultima… I am power both ancient and unrivaled… I do not bleed, for I am but strength given form… Feeble creatures of flesh… Your time is nigh!" Ultima Weapon growled.

"Yaah! It can talk!" Usopp gasped while getting off of Chopper.

"How do we get past them! They seem very strong!" Chopper said worryingly.

"THEY ARE JUST THE LEAST OF YOUR TROUBLES!"

The crew turned around to see Vile, the Gemini, and the remaining of the Shadoloo soldiers appear from behind. Before the crew could say anything, the remaining of Hojo's creatures dug themselves out of the ground to appear from the crew's surroundings. Then Shadoo, who was now in Nami's figure, walked past his comrades, and pointed at the crew.

"This is as far as you go!" Shadoo exclaimed, "This is where you will die! Give it up! There is no chance for you to escape!"

The crew faced their backs against each other, having a stoic look while not saying anything. "So you decided to give up at last? You were troublesome up to this point, but now, I'll make your heads into trophies, and stick them up on my wall!" Vile said.

"Ha ha ha ha! It was fun while it lasted, but now let's finish this!" Shadoo exclaimed.

"… Looks like we have no choice, guys." Luffy said while raising his head, "To think we were actually being nice for once, and allow these guys to escape while they can."

"What!" Shadoo asked.

"We could have kicked your ass anytime we wanted to, but since we were in a hurry, we decided to let you off for now." Luffy said as he then smirked, "But since you insist on fighting so much, I guess we have to kick your asses to get into that castle." Luffy then cracked his knuckles as his crew looked ready to fight too, "Okay, guys. Let's finish this quick. We have some people waiting for us in the castle, and I don't want them to wait any longer."

"You idiot! You can't beat all of us here!" Shadoo yelled as he, and his comrades got ready to fight, "We'll prove to you how dreadful we can be! Attack!"

"Hee hee… yosh! Let's go!" Luffy yelled. The crew then separated, and fought against the monstrous creatures.

Vile dashed towards Franky with his ride armor, and attacked with several fists. Franky blocked his attacks with his arms until he saw an opening. "FRANKY BOXING!" Franky dashed, and repeatedly punched Vile's ride armor. "STRONG HAMMER!" Franky finished his combo with a steel fist, which caused the armor to spark as Vile had no choice, but to jump off his mech.

"Bad move! I'm much stronger on foot!" Vile yelled. He activated his boosters from his back and feet, allowing him to fly in the air as he fired his shoulder cannon at Franky several times. Franky fired back with his left arm, dodging Vile's shots in the process.

"You're still nothing special, bro! Eat this!" Franky yelled as he launched his right arm at Vile.

While the fighting was going on; from all the way down the hill, the eyes of the Tooth Tower's figurehead glew red as the back of the restaurant opened to reveal two big boosters. The boosters ignited as it helped the tower stand straight up again, and boosted it's way up the hill. "Hm?" Robin looked down the hill, and noticed the Tooth Tower coming up the hill with great speed. "… It's still active…"

"HUUAAHH!" Chopper pounded at Hojo's creatures with backhands, and pounds. He grabbed one by the tentacles, and swung him around and around, knocking some of the creatures around him out of the way. "HEAVY PRESS!" Chopper leaped up, and landed on his rear, creating a pink shockforce that blew most of the creatures away.

At the same time, Sanji was avoiding the kicks from the Shadoloo soldiers. Since they were all women, Sanji had no choice, but to dodge them as long as he could. "Oh, If only you all could see that this isn't right. I really don't want to fight you at all." Sanji said sadly, but the soldiers kept on attacking, and kept on missing.

"QUAKE!" Ultima Weapon slammed his front feet into the ground, causing a quake that almost knocked Usopp off balance.

"Uwaawaawawawaa!" Usopp managed to stay on his toes, but then saw Ultima Weapon leaping down towards him, "AAAAHHH!" Usopp jumped out of the way as Ultima Weapon landed on the ground again.

"You are a pathetic human!" Ultima Weapon growled while turning towards Usopp, but stepped on something in the process, "GRR!" Ultima Weapon stepped on some caltrops, which inflicted pain on Ultima. He then noticed he was in a middle of a caltrop field, and every step he took, he kept stepping on caltrops. "What is all this! Grr!"

"Th-Th-Th-That's right! You can't beat me!" Usopp said bravely, but with his legs shaking incredibly shaking in fear.

Nami faced off against Shadoo, who tried to hit Nami with his version of the PCT, but missed as Nami rolled behind him. "SWING ARM!" Shadoo turned around to hit Nami with his PCT again, but Nami blocked his attack with her PCT. Shadoo's weapon then wrapped around Nami's, and Shadoo intended to knock it off her hands, but Nami smirked as she took apart her PCT, causing Shadoo to lose his balance while pulling his weapon back.

"HEAT BALL!" Nami thrusted the parts of her PCT into Shadoo's feet, and released several heat balls onto them.

"YEOW!" Shadoo jumped up and down while his feet was on fire, which looked silly since he has Nami's figure.

Zoro simply stood in front of the two iron giants. He sighed as the blue iron giant lowered his broad sword to him. Zoro sidestepped to avoid the slash, and dashed towards him. "OUTOUROU!" Zoro raised his swords, slashing the blue iron giant in the leg. The giant staggered back a step as Zoro leaped, and pierced his swords into the giant's armor, but it didn't kill it. While Zoro was on the his chest, the other giant tried to smash Zoro with his club. Zoro saw this, and leaped out of the way, causing the purple giant to hurt his counterpart. The blue giant fell on his back as Zoro landed on the purple iron giant's club, and ran alongside.

"HIRAMEKI!" Zoro leaped, and slashed across the purple iron giant's face, causing it stagger several steps back as Zoro professionally landed on his feet. He looked back at the giants, who were still wanting to fight more. "Still want to fight, huh?"

Luffy was surrounded by the four sorcerers, who used their magical cubes to attack him repeatedly. Luffy was having a hard time dodging the cubes since they were pretty fast, and somewhat big. "Like I said… WE DON'T HAVE TIME FOR YOU!" Luffy spreads out his arms angrily, knocking away the cubes, which took the sorcerers by surprise. "GOMU GOMU NO…" Luffy twisted his body several times, "HANABI!" Luffy untwisted himself, unleashing a countless amount of punches in every direction. The sorcerers were hit in the face, and were dazed afterwards, giving Luffy the chance to strike again.

"GOMU GOMU NO GROUNDSHAKER!" Luffy repeatedly pounded his fists on the ground around him, slamming his fists into the sorcerers' faces hard enough, that they disappeared into thin air.

Zoro crouched down while sheathing his swords. The two stood next to each other as they prepared to unleash their strongest attack, the double breaker. They raised their, and were about to cross them at Zoro head on.

"NITORYU IAI:…" The giants' weapons crossed with each other as they were about to hit Zoro, "RASHOUMON!" With incredible speed, Zoro slashed through the giants, and sheathed his swords again in a matter of miliseconds. The giants were cut in half as they then exploded into dark element life.

Shadoo leaped at Nami, and thrusted his PCT through Nami's chest, "Ah… heh heh!" It turned out that Shadoo attacked a mirage as Nami's afterimage disappeared.

"Where the!" Shadoo gasped as he turned around, only for Nami to point her PCT inches away from his face.

"THUNDER CHARGE; BOMB!" Nami released a big thunder ball than usual, and shocked the daylights out of Shadoo as he skidded across the ground paralyzed.

Ultima Weapon slowly approached Usopp, who nervously backed away until he nearly fell off the edge. He turned around to see a an endless between the ground he was on, and the dark castle. "Any last words, human!"

"Uh… UH… YOU COWARD!" Usopp yelled, "You're too big enough of a coward to fight me head on! Instead, you plan knock me into this pit so you can win like a coward! If you're a real beast, then you should give me all you got right now!"

"Is that so! Fine then, I'll kill you with my strongest attack!" Ultima Weapon then opened his mouth, and started charging up. As soon as he finished charging up, he laughed, "Ha ha ha! It's time to-"

"TORIMOCHI BOSHI!" Usopp fired some sticky pellets into Ultima's mouth. Ultima gasped as he tried opening his mouth, but his mouth was glued tight together, and bad thing was that the energy he charged is about to go loose.

KABOOM!

Ultima Weapon exploded into dark element life, which caused Usopp to blink in surprise. "I did it?… Wow…" Usopp said in awe.

Sanji kept avoiding the soldiers attacks until they all surrounded Sanji, and attacked at him in the same time. Sanji sighed sadly as he sidestepped several times, and got out of the way as the soldiers ended up hitting each other hard. They all got knocked out as Sanji sighed at this, "I'm so sorry. I hope you don't remember that when you wake up…" He said.

"HEAVY TAKEDOWN!" Chopper did a quick tackle to all the creatures in front of them, knocking them out of the hill, and all the way down at the bottom of the fortress.

The Tooth Tower was getting closer up the hill as Robin took a deep breath, and breathed out slowly. "DOSCIENTOS FLEUR; HALFLOOP!" Robin sprouted over 200 arms from the hilltop, which formed into a half a loop. The Tower Tooth ended riding the unfinished loop, and went spiraling back several times until it crashed several times back down the hill before it fell apart. The figurehead's eyes slowly rolled into the back of it's head before it exploded into pieces.

Vile shot some napalms at Franky, who dodged some of them, and countered with some blasts from his left arm. Vile then got angry, and shot out electrical streams from his body, which struck Franky head on. "Guah!"

"Ha ha ha! Die!" Vile yelled, but by doing his powerful attack, he was left wide open. To Vile's surprise, Franky managed to maintain balance, and leaped at Vile, "HEN TAI! FRANKY KENTAROUS!" Franky's legs split open as Franky wrapped his legs around Vile's body.

"What! How can a human still be standing after that!" Vile asked while trying to break free.

"Looks like your boss forgot to tell you that I am also a machine!" Franky smirked as he rasied his fist up, "ULTIMATE HAMMER!" Franky slammed his fist into Vile's face, cracking his visor in the process.

"GUAH! I CAN'T BELIEVE I LOST THIS WAY!" Vile yelled before he suddenly exploded into dark element life.

The crew defeated their opponents with ease. Shadoo was the only one left as he was loosing control of his body figure, changing into every figure of Strawhat with each second passing by. "Uwah! I don't understand how did we lose! You guys are suppose to be weak! WEAK!"

"Like I said; we're in a hurry!" Luffy yelled while stretching his arms back, "And we don't have time to deal with you anymore! GOMU GOMU NO…"

"No! Wait!" Shadoo cried, but it was too late.

"BAZOOKA!" Luffy hits Shadoo hard, sending him flying all the way to the castle gates, where he exploded into dark element life afterwards. The crew were silent afterwards as Luffy turned towards his crew, and gave the thumbs up.

It was then the cross bridge lowered, allowing the crew to enter the dark castle at last. "… Well, this is it." Zoro said.

The crew looked at the entrance bravely as Luffy pointed forward.

"Let's go, guys!" Luffy said. The crew then walked across the bridge, and entered the dark castle.

Final arc Pt 3

Before I start, I would like to answer Cybertoy's question about the guardian from One Piece UA is going to show up here. He is not going to show up, but it's not like he's needed here anyway.

So anyway, the chain of Obscurum ruler battles are about to begin! Have fun!

Troublesome foes. The Strawhat crew got separated upon the way to the castle, and tried to find their way to regroup, but however, the Obscurum ruler's minions tried to stop them from progressing any further. Seeing that they were only in the way, the crew escaped, and reunited with each other just before they could confront the minions again. The Strawhat crew had no choice but to fight them as they were able to defeat them in battle. Now that the crew has gone through every obstacle the fortress threw at them, they now entered the dark castle. The question is, will they get to confront the rulers?

Chapter 122: The supaa bro!, Franky vs Sigma

The Strawhat crew slowly made there way across the bridge to the dark castle, with nothing appearing in their way, which made them feel extra cautious of their surroundings. They could feel the dark aura coming from the castle as they got closer to the castle gates; they have never felt this intimated up until now.

Once they have went through the castle gates, the Strawhat crew could see the environment of the dark castle from inside. The castle itself was the biggest thing the crew have seen yet; the castles the crew have seen in the previous worlds don't compare to this one. The castle consisted of multiple towers, with some of them hanging from one of the castle side gates, and a few others floating in midair. The front gardens were massive, but it looked more like a dead meadow than a garden. There was nothing but a field of purple grass, with a black road in the center that lead up into the castle's front door, which was a big door behind some dark-looking statues beside it.

"This place sure is huge." Sanji said while looking at his surroundings.

"Look at the size of this place!" Usopp said, bewildered at castle's sights, "This place looks creepier than the time the castle back in Hyrule was taken over, and that was scary enough!"

"You can't expect less from a place like this." Zoro said bluntly while looking up at the castle, "… Either we finish what we came here to do, or this will be our final resting place."

"D-Don't say that, Zoro! We are sure to get out of this!" Chopper said confidently, and a little nervously.

"Strange that there are no guards around here." Robin said, "The rulers must have set another trap for us."

"Heh! Let them set their stupid traps; nothing is going to stop us from kicking their asses!" Franky said with a smirk.

"Speaking of them; where do you think they are?" Chopper asked.

"My guess is that they should still be up there." Nami said, pointing at the main tower at the back of the castle, where she and the crew first saw the rulers upon their arrival on the fortress.

"Sheesh, even from here, getting all the way over there still looks too far!" Usopp said while rubbing his head irritably, "And that's not even the least of our troubles; we don't even know what's in the castle. We could get lost in there, that's for sure."

"We won't know that until we get inside." Luffy said while turning towards his crew, "Remember guys, we are the only ones left to stop this world from eating up all of space, and we have to get inside this big castle to do that!"

"I have no problem with that." Zoro said while crossing his arms, "It's time we go end this thing. Let's do this."

"Right…" Sanji said with a smile, "The sooner we finish this, the better."

"Let's not get arrogant, guys. If we happen to mess something up here, then it's all over." Nami reassured.

"I'm not sure we can do that, but I know that we will get through this alive… I hope…" Usopp said nervously.

"Yeah! I'm ready to fight for my life!" Chopper said confidently.

"Let us proceed into the castle now, and stop the Obscurum rulers once and for all." Robin said with a smile.

"Ow! Let's get it on!" Franky exclaimed while doing his pose. Luffy then turned towards the castle doors, and smirked confidently.

"Yosh! Let's move out!" Luffy exclaimed.

The crew then made their way towards the front entrance. They walked past the dark statues along the way, and went up the small steps to get in front of the double doors. Luffy winded up his fist, and punched the door open to get inside. Usopp and Franky immediately walked ahead, getting ready to fire at anything that moves as the others walked inside the main hallway. The hallway was dark, and there were purple lamp posts hanging from the walls in order to prevent the hallway from being completely dark.

"I must be brave, I must be brave…" Chopper repeated to himself in order stay calm. The crew cautiously walked along the hallway until they ended up in a big room. The room was as big as two floors; the floor was made out of purple and black tiles, laid out in a checkerboard fashion. There was also a staircase that lead up to the second floor, with an entrance that leads to who knows where. The first floor also had two entrances, but the crew had no idea where they lead to either.

"Where do we go from here?" Franky asked.

"The tower is somewhere up, right? We should go up." Luffy said.

"I don't know… maybe that's what they want us to do." Nami said while rubbing her chin. "Anything could happen in a place like this, and it won't matter what route we'll take, it will still be a challenge to get to the main tower… I suggest we split up."

"W-What for? In a situation like this, it's always best to stick together. We barely made it out of there out of that spooky fortress if we hadn't found each other along the way!"

"I know that, but seeing that we don't know which route to take, we don't have much of a choice." Nami said, "We have to cover all the grounds here in order to survive. Of these routes in front of us, one of them must lead to the tower. If they all lead to the tower, then that will be perfect, but I doubt it will be that easy." Nami then gave off a stern look, "We don't have time to guess which way is the right way, we have to split up, and go through all the routes. The group who manages to get to the main tower first, make sure you wait for everyone else to show up as well; it's better that we attack these guys in a team then alone." Nami then smiled as she gave a thumbs up, "I'm very positive that we will all make it through this, so there should be no excuse to die in a place like this. We're the Strawhat pirates, and nothing will get in our way to victory!"

The others smiled at Nami's speech as Nami then pointed at the entrance in the second floor, "It's time to group up. Luffy may be right about going up here, so him, Zoro, Usopp, and I will go up through that route just to make sure. The rest of you go through the entrances here in the first floor, and try to find a way that leads to the main tower." Nami then took out two den-den mushis, and gave one to Sanji, "If you guys get to the tower first, contact us. Keep your guard up at all costs. Don't let anything in your way."

"We'll take down anything those losers throw at us!" Franky said confidently, "You guys take care too!"

"Okay! Let's get going now! Good luck, guys!" Luffy yelled enthusiastically. The crew nodded at each other before splitting up into groups.

"Don't worry; Captain Usopp will make sure nothing bad will happen!" Usopp said proudly.

"Whatever…" Zoro replied.

Luffy, Zoro, Nami, and Usopp walked up the stairs, and went through the big door in the second floor. The others walked towards the two entrances, wondering who goes where.

"You guys take the left one. Chopper and I will take this one here." Franky said.

"Let us go then, Mr. Cook." Robin said with a pleasant smile.

"Aye! I will protect you from anything that dares to harm you!" Sanji replied happily. He and Robin then walked through the door to the left as Chopper and Franky entered the door to the right. Chopper and Franky walked along the hallways, with nothing coming across there way as of yet.

"It's strange that there were so many monsters in the towns, but nothing in a place like this." Chopper commented.

"It could be that those rulers bunch wants to have a piece of us for themselves this time." Franky said. Chopper then glanced at him while walking.

"You really think so?" Chopper asked.

"Don't know; but I could be right here." Franky said, "I don't care either way if this placed is filled with monsters or not anyway."

The two continued walking along the halls as Chopper could see a stairway up ahead. "Oh look, there's a way up." Chopper said. He ran to the staircase without a second thought, and stepped on a floor panel that opened a trap door beneath his feet. "Wah!"

"Chopper!" Franky leaped, and pushed Chopper to the staircase as Franky then fell through the trap door before it closed. Chopper gasped as he trapped to open the trap door with his hooves, but it wouldn't open again.

"Franky! Are you okay! Franky!" Chopper cried repeatedly.

Meanwhile…

"Yaaaaaaahhhh!" Franky fell all the way down, and landed on a heap of junk below, which cushioned his fall. He slid himself down the junk, and got on the ground. "Dammit! I was too careless up there!" Franky said as he then looked up from where he has fallen from, "Oi, Chopper! You hear me up there!" Franky didn't get reply. He only heard the echo of what he just yelled. Franky sighed as he placed his hands on his hips while shaking his head, "Ugh, I can't just stay in here. There has to be a way out."

Franky then turned around, and saw a white and purple gate in front of him. Franky walked up to it, and examined the gate in order to find out how to open it. "Let's see here…" Franky touched the gate upon examining it, but upon doing so, the white circle in the center of the gate turned. Franky stepped back as the gate then opened from top and bottom. "That was a little too easy. I better get moving!"

Franky ran through the open gates, and ran along a steel hallway. When he reached to the other side, he found another gate that looked exactly the same as the one he just opened. Franky shrugged as he touched the second gate, which opened up, and allowed Franky to run inside a dark room.

"I can't see anything in here." Franky said while squinting his eyes. Suddenly, the gate he just opened closed shut behind him. "What the!"

The room then got brighter by a wall to Franky's left. Franky looked at the wall, which turned out to be several monitors in one spot. An alarm siren then went off as the monitor showed some red words that read 'WARNING', which flashed bright red three times along with the siren. Franky didn't know what was going on as the siren and the monitor turned off, and the lights turned on.

Franky could see he was in a big squared room, with some junk around the corners. The walls were made of steel, and the room itself looked indestructible. "Where am I?"

"You're at your final resting place."

Franky was startled upon hearing that, and looked at his surroundings to see where that voice came from. A secret door then opened from a wall in front of Franky as somebody was walking out of it.

"I'm rather surprised to see you here. I didn't expect to meet you here out of the rest of your comrades. It's a shame really, I expected to confront the leader of the group instead of one of his pawns. But atleast I can finish what I started back in Aether long ago."

Once the mysterious figure walked into the room, the secret door behind him closed behind him. Franky raised his head a bit as he gaved off a smug frown while crossing his arms across his chest.

"Yo… long time no see, tinhead bro." Franky said while giving off a glare.

The Mysterious figure turned out to be Sigma, who smirked while taking a few steps forward. He and Franky glared at each other in silence; it has been awhile since they have last seen each other back in Aether. Franky still hasn't forgotten what Sigma did to him back then, and was ready for payback. Sigma could only smirk upon Franky's desire for vengeance.

"It seems that Vile didn't get the job done afterall." Sigma said as he looked at the wall monitor to his right, "The fool; how could he lose to someone like you?"

"Simple, bro!" Franky said as he then pointed at himself with his thumb, "It takes more than a solid body and machinery to take down a guy like me! You can tell him I said that yourself after I am done with you!"

"Don't get cocky. You haven't changed since the last time I saw you." Sigma said as he then pointed at Franky, "It was that foolish attitude of yours that nearly got you killed back in Aether! It seems that your kind doesn't understand that their actions will always lead to consequences. Like now, for example; you and your friends had the nerve to confront us here even though their is no point in trying to fight your superiors!"

"We don't need a reason to beat the hell outta guys like you! But dammit, what you guys did back then really pissed me off!" Franky replied, "We know everything, Tinhead bro! Crazy Hand bro told us everything that you guys did to him, and his brother. We even know everything about this new world garbage you've been bragging about! I can't tell you how pissed I was when I couldn't tear you limb from limb when we first met, but now, things are going to go my way!"

"Is that so!" Sigma asked with a frown, "Didn't I once tell you that you had no purpose in life! You still don't, and yet, you keep trying so hard to gain one!" Sigma then smirked again, "It's hopeless! Whatever it is you're trying to accomplish here will not happen! I am one of the rulers of this world, and even though you may know this world's past, that still won't help you stop this world from fulfilling it's purpose even if you do manage to defeat me!"

"Damn, Bro, you still talk too much." Franky said annoyed while scratching his head. He then grew serious as he cracked his knuckles, "This won't end like last time, bro. I'll admit, you did took me down that one time, but let me assure you that will be the last thing you will achieve on me!"

"Ghaa ha ha ha ha! Pathetic human!" Sigma said while taking out his laser blade, "I always finish what I start! I never give up on my goals!" He then pointed at Franky with his blade, "I will not spare your life this time. This place will be your grave!"

"Funny… that's what I was just going to say to you." Franky said as he got into his battle stance, "Too bad there can only be one guy that will live up to that statement. I can't wait to see the look on your face when you lose, bro!"

The two remained stationary on their spots as Sigma slowly got into his battle stance, "… I can never understand that kind of enthusiasm you humans have… but I might live off better not knowing the answer! Prepare to die!"

Sigma dashed at Franky with several diagonal slashes, which Franky avoided by jumping back several times. "Ha!" Sigma then leaped over Franky, and jumped off a wall behind him. Sigma then jumped off the opposite wall, and flew towards Franky while readying his blade with both hands. "Die, human!"

Franky quickly ran towards Sigma, and leaned back while sliding forward as he slid under Sigma. "STRONG HAMMER!" Franky punched Sigma in the cheek, sending him flying as he crashed into the monitor wall, but the monitor remained intact. Sigma landed on his feet afterwards as he looked a little shocked.

"How… you weren't this strong before!" Sigma exclaimed.

"Ahahahaha! I am not even in full power, and you're already losing!" Franky said while putting his dukes over his face, "Come on, Tinhead! I ain't done with you yet!"

Sigma frowned as he leaped at Franky with an upper slash, which Franky avoided by moving side-stepping, and countering with a left fist, but Sigma ducked under his attack, and countered with a shoulder barge, staggering Franky back as Sigma did a horizontal slash across Franky's chest. "Grr!" Franky received a little cut on his chest as he staggered back, while Sigma dashed at him with a thrust. Franky fell on his back on purpose to avoid the thrust as he shoved Sigma back with his foot, giving him some space to take a deep breath, "MASTER NAIL!" Franky spat out multiple nails at Sigma, who used his blade like a propeller to slash away at the incoming nails.

"Hragh!" Sigma leaped above Franky, and flew down at him with his blade facing towards him. Franky rolled out of the way as Sigma plunged his blade into the ground. Franky then stopped rolling as he opened his left wrist, and fired a blast directly at the side of Sigma's face, "Gah!" Sigma staggered sideways a bit as Franky, and pulled back his right arm.

"STRONG RIGHT!" Franky launched his right arm at Sigma, who faced at Franky, and knocked away his incoming arm with the back hilt of his blade. Franky's arm flew the other way as Sigma tried to cut the chain connected to Franky's arm in half, but Franky quickly pulled the chain to the right in order to prevent Sigma from cutting it.

"Rah!" Sigma leaped towards Franky, who was reeling back his right arm as Sigma leaped at him while holding his blade above his head.

"HOSHI SHIELD!" Franky's left arm expanded into a shield, and knocked Sigma over himself as Sigma landed behind Franky. Sigma tried slashing Franky's legs off from behind, but Franky leaped backwards to avoid the slash as he crashed Sigma into a wall behind him. Franky grabbed hold of Sigma's hand holding the blade with his left hand, and used his free arm to elbow Sigma right in the face.

Sigma retaliated with a headbutt on the back of Franky's head, causing Franky to stagger forward while letting go of Sigma's arm in the process. Sigma then kicked Franky from behind, causing Franky to fall on his hands and knees as Sigma then started leaping from wall to wall, until he flew towards Franky with a flying elbow, which connected right into Franky's face. "Guah!" Franky cried as he tumbled backwards until he crashed into the wall behind. Sigma gave him no chance to recover as he immediately charged at Franky with the tip of his blade facing towards him.

"You knew this was coming! It's already over!" Sigma yelled while flying closer to Franky. Franky then gave off a glare as he moved his head to the side to avoid Sigma's blade from impaling his face.

"AHH!" The shots blinded Sigma for a second as Franky then connected his anti-monster shells to his left arm.

"STRONG RIGHT!" Franky launched his right arm, and hits Sigma in the face with an open palm as his arm crashed Sigma in the wall behind him. Franky then grabbed Sigma using the same arm, and pulled him back towards him as Franky aimed for Sigma's face again using his left arm, "POINT-BLANK CANNON!" Franky fired a powerful blast into Sigma in close range, which was so powerful, that Franky couldn't hold onto Sigma as he flew across the room.

"Gaaahh!" Sigma cried as his body short-circuited before exploding into bits. Franky shielded his eyes until the light of the explosion dimmed away. Franky opened his eyes, and was actually shocked to see he defeated Sigma so quickly.

"What?… Is that all! I knew you're going to be easy, but this is going over the top!" Franky complained.

Suddenly, a purple thunderball came from out of nowhere, and nearly struck Franky in the chest if he hadn't rolled out of the way in time. Franky looked at where that thunderball came from, and saw one of the piles of junk on the front corner. To his surprise, he saw Sigma emerging from the junk, with a different body. He now had yellow shoulder pads, and a pair of claws over his wrists.

"You didn't think I would die so easily, did you!" Sigma asked with a smirk as he crossed his claws over his head, "I was known to be immortal; no matter how many times I get killed, I always come back in a different form! However, my enemies were lucky enough to destroy me for good, but since they are not here to share you the details on how they did it, you're battle with me will be endless until I kill you!"

"Pfft! I don't have much time to be doing this forever! Just bring it on, already!" Franky yelled while putting up his dukes.

Sigma attacked Franky with some vertical slashes with his claws, but Franky dodged them, and then grabbed Sigma's wrists in order to make him stop attacking as Franky took a quick deep breath. "FRESH FIRE!" Franky breathed out a stream of fire, engulfing Sigma in flames, but since Sigma was a machine, it didn't do much harm as Sigma leaped up, and turned upside-down in midair while Franky held onto his wrists. Sigma then brought his legs forward, and kicked Franky in the chest with both feet. "Guah!" Franky let's go of Sigma's wrists as he tumbled backwards upon getting kicked. Sigma then landed on his feet, and brought both claws down to Franky, who rolled backwards to avoid as Sigma impaled his claws to the ground.

"STRONG HAMMER!" While on one knee, Franky socked Sigma square in the face, or so he thought. Sigma suddenly splits into afterimages, which quickly disappeared as Franky got up on his feet, and quickly looked around for Sigma.

"Here I am!" Sigma yelled from above. Franky looked up to see Sigma's afterimages forming back into Sigma, who then flew down at Franky with his claw facing towards him. Franky barely rolled out of the way as he received a small cut on the front of his left shoulder before Sigma balanced on his attacking claw right after landing on solid ground. "Ghaa ha ha!" Sigma did a front flip, and slashed at Franky, who blocked with his forearm, and countered with a right hook, which Sigma jumped back to avoid. "Take this!"

While in midair, Sigma formed purple thunderballs from his back as each of them flew towards Franky from where he was standing. Franky ran to his side to avoid the thunderballs as he aimed at Sigma with his left wrist, "WEAPONS LEFT!" Franky fired three consecutive blasts at Sigma, who easily leaped sideways to avoid them upon landing on the ground again. Sigma then leaped at Franky with open arms, and did a cross slash with his claws. At the same time, Franky punched Sigma in the face right before Sigma cross cut on Franky's chest. "Grr!" Franky closed his eyes in pain, and used the momentum he had to push Sigma back harder with his attacking fist, which knocked Sigma away as he nearly crashed into the wall again if he hadn't flipped back on his feet.

"Ghaa ha ha! What's wrong! Out of energy!" Sigma asked as he charged at Franky while he was staggering. Franky tried hitting Sigma with several jabs, but Sigma had no problem avoiding as he elbowed Franky in the face to knock him off balance, and thrusted his right claw into Franky's gut.

Franky saved himself by grabbing onto Sigma's attacking claw, which was inches away from hitting his gut. Franky then attempted to backhand Sigma at the side of his head, but Sigma splits into afterimages again, and disappeared. It was then that Franky then noticed that his hair was out of place. "Shoot! I should have refilled when I got here! Where did I put that thing!"

As Franky went to search for something around his shirt, Sigma reappeared above him, and flew down with his claw facing at him again. "Here it is." Franky found a belt of cola, and took three of them to replace them with the empty bottles he had inside of him. "MmmmmmMMMMM… SUUUUPAAAAAAAA!"

With his newfound energy, Franky looked up, and grabbed Sigma by his attacking arm, holding him up in the air. "What!" Sigma gasped as Franky threw him to the other side of the room. Sigma landed on one knee as Franky aimed at him again.

"BEANS LEFT!" Franky fired several bullets at Sigma, who got hit by the first shots, but started deflecting them with his claws.

"THUNDER WALL!" Sigma created more thunderballs using his claws this time. The thunderballs then formed into a thunderwall that flew towards Franky. Franky barely avoided the wall as it discharged afterwards. After Franky avoided the wall, he saw Sigma creating more layered walls that headed towards Franky, showing no possible escape route this time. "You're finished!"

Calmly, Franky placed his hands on his sideburns, which started to glow as the thunderwalls were coming closer. "FRANKY OCTAGON JACKER!" Franky threw not one pair, but four pairs of his shuriken-like sideburns to the thunderwalls. They slashed through the thunderwalls with ease as the walls discharged immediately as the sideburns headed towards Sigma.

"Guahh! Geeyaah!" Some of the sideburns pierced through Sigma's body and face as Sigma short-circuited again before exploding once more.

Franky didn't let his guard down at this however as he quickly looked at his cola belt before putting it away, "Good thing I brought this along, or I would've been dead already." Franky then heard something coming from the junk to his right as he backed away to see Sigma in a new body. He now had purple and green armor, with spikes on his shoulder pads, a cape on his back, and was now holding a big round shield.

"You're wasting your breath, human!" Sigma said, "I will never be defeated by you!"

Sigma's left hand then turned into an arm cannon as Sigma then fired fireballs at Franky. Franky charged at Sigma while avoiding the fireballs, "BEANS LEFT!" Franky fired several bullets at Sigma while running to him, but Sigma's big shield was in the way as Sigma used it to defend himself. As Sigma guarded, Franky got up close, and started pounding on Sigma's shield repeatedly, "FRANKY BOXING!" Franky slammed his fists repeatedly at Sigma's shield, but he was not even leaving a dent on it as Sigma pushed Franky back with the shield before leaping up into the air. Sigma hovered in the air as he fired fireballs down at Franky, who rolled out of the way to avoid.

"I'd be careful, if I were you!" Sigma warned. Franky realized that the fireballs Sigma fired didn't explode, but trailed along the floors and walls instead, which was a big problem since he will have a hard time avoiding them, and the ones that Sigma will fire at him at the same time.

Franky then got an idea, and leaped into the air while taking a deep breath, "FREEZE!" Franky breathed out a cold stream of air, which frozed the ground, and evaporated most of the fireballs moving around it. Sigma frowned at this as he landed on his feet, and fired more fireballs at Franky, but evaporated as soon as they touched the ground.

Franky took advantage of the icy floor, and skated along the ground towards Sigma while pulling back his fist, "STRONG HAMMER!" Franky punched Sigma, who blocked with his big shield as the force of the blow slid him back due to the icy floor. Sigma attempted to counter with his arm cannon, but as soon as he moved his shield out of the way, Franky crouched under him, and delivered a strong uppercut across his chin.

"Geeh!" Sigma was knocked off his feet, but quickly hovered in midair as he fired several fireballs at Franky in retaliation. Franky used his forearms to knock away the fireballs this time as Sigma landed back on the ground with an angry look, "Try knocking this away!"

Sigma threw his shield like a boomerang as Franky quickly ducked to avoid it. The shield then came back as it knocked Franky forward upon hitting the back of his head. "Owww!" Franky cried as he fell flat on his face. Sigma laughed as he caught his boomerang, and fired at Franky with more fireballs while he was down. "Grr!" Franky punched the fireballs with ease, and aimed at Sigma with his left arm, "WEAPONS LEFT!" Franky fired several blasts at Sigma, who guarded using his big shield again as the blasts created a dust cloud upon impact. Franky gasped as he saw Sigma's shield flying towards him again. He leaned back to avoid the shield as he saw Sigma leaping above him.

"Take this!" Sigma fired some fireballs at Franky at the same time Sigma's shield was flying back at him. Without a second thought, Franky inflated his butt, startling Sigma a bit.

"COUP DE BOO!" Franky let out a current of air from his rear, causing him to fly above the shield as it flew by, but was struck by Sigma's fireballs in the chest. "Gyah!" Despite getting hit, Franky continued to fly towards Sigma while he was open, and wrapped his arms around Sigma's arms and chest. "FRANKY SUPLEX!" While moving forward, Franky did a backflip with Sigma, and slammed his head right into the floor.

Franky then got back on his feet, and laughed at what he accomplished, "Ahahaha! How do you like that!" Franky asked, but with no reply. He then turned around to get knocked back by Sigma's shield. "Guah!" Franky crashed into the pile of junk in the corner, and saw that the shield was moving back in forth as if it had a mind of it's own. "I had just about enough of you!" Franky yelled as he leaped up, and managed to grab the edge of the shield that almost flew past him. While still in midair, Franky spun it around in circles with the shield before throwing it to Sigma, who just got up while holding his head, and then got split in half by his own shield.

Sigma cried in pain before him and his other half exploded, including his shield. Franky landed on his feet, and wiped the sweat off his brow while keeping a sharp lookout at his surroundings.

"Whoa!" Franky then jumped back while avoiding a scythe, with the blade actually being a laser. Sigma then jumped out of nowhere with a new body again as he picked up his scythe he just threw. His armor was now mostly yellow, and he had red blades on his shoulders this time. Franky sighed at this.

"I don't care how many forms you got! I am going to keep kicking your ass until you're done for good!" Franky yelled before charging at Sigma again.

Meanwhile…

Sanji and Robin walked along a dark hallway, where there were big windows to the right side. You can see the dark grassy field throw those windows, but there was nothing really special out there. Sanji couldn't care less about the gloomy areas, as long as he was with Robin, he was as happy as ever.

"Don't you think this is kinda romantic, Robin-chwan?" Sanji asked happily with his eye turning into a heart, "Just the two of us alone, surrounded by this dark atmosphere that makes this place look more elegant? Ohh, just imagine what this place would be like if we used the power of our love to make this place bloom. That would be so wonderful!"

Sanji then started dancing happily, while Robin was ignoring him as she started staring out the window. "This castle is very old… I'm actually a little happy to be in a place like this. If only this wasn't in the hands of those fiends…"

"Ahem, rest assured, Robin-chwan. I am sure we can calmly look around once we've dealt with the rulers." Sanji said while walking up to Robin. Robin smiled kindly to Sanji as she then started walking along the hallway. Sanji followed her as they saw a dead end ahead, with a doorway to the right. "Let's go through here."

"Careful, it could be a tra-"

Before Robin could finish her sentence, a line of spears emerged from the ground, separating Sanji and Robin from eachother. "R-

Robin-chwan!" Sanji gasped as Robin was startled by the spears while staggering back. As she did, more spears keep emerging from the ground in front of Robin, causing her to stagger back even further until she backed up against a wall. "I'm coming, Robin!" Sanji kicked through the spears, trying to get to Robin, who was trying to calm herself until she felt the wall moving.

"Ah!" The wall turned out to be a trap door as it revolved 180 degrees, taking Robin back outside before Sanji could get to her. Sanji ran to the wall, and tried kicking threw it, but it was very durable, and no matter how much Sanji was kicking, it wasn't budging.

"Robin! Are you alright! Can you hear me!" Sanji yelled.

"Yes! I'm fine!" Robin replied while getting up. Sanji quickly ran back to the windows, and tried kicking them open, but they were as durable as the walls. He cursed as he ran back to the wall.

"Robin-chwan, hold on, I'll come after you!" Sanji yelled.

"No, wait!" Robin said, "Go ahead without me; I'll find my way back inside!"

"I won't leave you alone! It's too dangerous!" Sanji replied.

"Go on ahead, Sanji!" Robin said, "We can't afford to waste time! I can take care of myself! I'll meet with you later, I promise!"

Sanji kicked the wall out a frustration before he let out a sigh, "Alright, but I'll be waiting around the first floor! If you take more than 30 minutes to find me, I'll come and get you! No exceptions!"

"Alright." Robin replied with a soft smile, "Be careful."

"I will!" Sanji replied. With an angry look, he went back to the door, and kicked it open before entering it. Robin could tell he left as she turned around, and was somewhere around the eastern part of the castle. From the corners ahead, she could see a faint light.

"Something must be there…" Robin said as she then walked towards the corner.

Meanwhile…

"Yaaa!" Sigma swung his scythe horizontally as he nearly cut Franky's head off if he hadn't backed away. Sigma then brought down his scythe, which Franky rolled out of the way to avoid as countered with by firing several bullets at Sigma. Sigma jumped back to avoid, and hovered in midair as he then threw his scythe like a boomerang as it flew around the bottom half of the room. Franky managed to avoid the scythe as Sigma landed on his feet, and leaped towards Franky with a horizontal slash. Franky caught Sigma's scythe as he tried to take it from his hands. Sigma smirked at this as he overpowered Franky by throwing Franky into a wall with his scythe.

"Gah!" Franky limplessly fell on the floor as Sigma hovered in the air again, and threw his scythe to Franky while he was down. "Gyah!" Franky leaped out of the way as the scythe into the wall, and released an electrical current along that side of the wall only. "WEAPONS LEFT!" Franky fired some blasts at Sigma, who landed on his feet, and jumped back to avoid the blasts.

"Gha ha ha!" Sigma then fired a stream of lasers from his eyes, trying to hit Franky, who tried to avoid by lowering his head while running to the side.

"FRANKY TRIANGLE JACKER!" Franky threw his sideburns at Sigma again as Sigma moved his head to the side to avoid them. Sigma then stopped using his laser vision, and went to retrieve his scythe, but Franky stood in the way again, "BEANS LEFT!" Franky repeatedly fired bullets at Sigma, who zigzagged forwardly as he tried to get past Franky, but failed as Franky caught him by the face, and smashed the back of his head into the ground.

"Grr!" Sigma slammed his fist to the side of Franky's head, knocking Franky out of the way as Sigma got, and retrieved his scythe from the wall. Sigma then faced towards Franky, only to see that Franky lowered his shirt from his shoulder, which raised up a bit while Franky grunted upon that.

"CHASER BULLET!" Franky fired missiles from his shoulders as Sigma retreated to avoid them. Franky then chased Sigma around the room, firing multiple missiles at him nonstop.

Sigma had enough as he turned around, and threw his scythe at Franky, who jumped onto the heap of junk next to him as the scythe released an electrical current along the ground. Sigma hovered in the air as red boomerangs popped out of his shoulders, and flew towards Franky, who stood on the pile of junk to prevent getting shocked.

"Time to test the new missiles! SHOCKING HOU!" Franky fired some yellow missiles towards the boomerangs. The missiles exploded into a stationary orb of electricity that remained there for a few seconds. Franky then fired more of those missiles at Sigma, who didn't see it coming as he got one of them.

"Uwah!" Sigma was stunned as he began to fall to the electrified ground.

"FRANKY KENTAUROS!" Franky's legs separated as he leaped towards Sigma while he was in midair, and wrapped his legs around his body. Sigma tried breaking free as Franky smirked while raising his steel fist. "This one's for you! ULTIMATE HAMMER!" Franky brought down his into Sigma's face with great force just before they landed on the ground, and get electrified a bit by the current.

"GAHH!" Sigma cried before he exploded, knocking Franky back as the scythe was also destroyed, and the floor was back to normal. Franky's legs went back to normal too as Franky sat up while rubbing his head. He then raised an eyebrow as Sigma appeared in front of him again, only in a white and black armor this time. "I underestimated your full potential. However, you will not-"

"Yeah, yeah, just shut up, and come at me already!" Franky said irritably while getting up on his feet.

Sigma frowned upon being interrupted, and fired blue thunderballs at Franky from his palms. The thunderballs moved up and down while towards Franky, who discharged them by blasting them away with his left arm. "Ugh!" As soon as Franky destroyed the thunderballs, Sigma teleported right in front of him.

"Huah!" Sigma leaped forward, tackling Franky into the air, and crashing into the wall before Sigma jumped off of him. Sigma continued to jump up the walls before he started jumping down from them, and headed towards Franky again, who landed back on the ground, and took a deep breath. "That won't work on me!"

Sigma teleported behind Franky, who continued to take a deep breath regardless as Sigma was about to him from behind. Sigma threw a fist forward, but Franky lowered his head to avoid as he then breathed out a stream of blue fire, "FRESH HELL!" Franky's blue fire spreads in a 15 feet in diameter as the flames were so intense, the ground was disfiguring, and the heap of junk around the corner were starting to melt altogether. Sigma got caught by this heat as well as his legs were slowly disfiguring.

"Dammit!" Sigma cursed as he teleported out of the fire's range before being completely burned. Franky's fire didn't last long however as it died out after a few seconds of being released. Sigma then noticed Franky was nowhere on the ground. "Where did he go!"

"Right here!" Franky emerged from a pile of junk next to Sigma, and leaped at Sigma when he was off guard. "FRANKY CHOMP!" Franky dug his teeth into Sigma's left arm, crushing it hard enough to make it spark. Sigma growled in anger as Franky then teared off Sigma's arm with his teeth, and threw them to the other side of the room.

"Why you-!" Sigma tried hitting Franky with his right arm, but Franky blocked Sigma's hit with his forearm, and countered with a right hook across Sigma's face, "Gah!" Sigma staggered sideways as Franky then grabbed hold of Sigma's legs, and spun him around in circles before throwing him into the monitor wall, and crashed hard into it that it left a crack on it.

Franky then opened his left pinky, and aimed at Sigma with one eye closed. "PINK BOMBER!" Franky fired a really small and pink bullet at Sigma, and got hit by it.

OOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO
OOOOOOMMMMMMMMMMMM MMMMMMMMM!

The bullet exploded immensely, taking atleast half of the room as Franky was also blown away by this attack, but managed to roll back on his feet as he couldn't see Sigma from the pink dust cloud the explosion created afterwards.

"PLASMA WAVE!" A blue wave emerged from the dust cloud, and struck Franky in the chest.

"Guah!" Franky crashed into the wall behind him as Sigma emerged from the dust cloud, having several sparks spewing out of his injuries.

"I will not be humiliated by the likes of you!" Sigma yelled before throwing another plasma wave at Franky. Franky dazedly got up, and used his hands to push the plasma wave back. Franky cried in pain as he managed to throw the wave out of the way.

"Ahh! Dammit!" Franky cried while blowing on his burned hands. He then glared at Sigma as he leaped in the air while connecting his arms to his tube. Sigma frowned as he then started charging up another plasma wave as Franky faced his arms the other way instead of towards Sigma. Franky's arms inflated a bit as Sigma fired his biggest plasma wave yet, and Franky couldn't avoid since he was in midair. "1.0 cola hou, COUP DE BARGE!" Franky unleashed a current of air from his tube, sending him flying right through the plasma, and shoulder barged Sigma into the monitor wall in the wall process.

"GAAAHH!" Sigma cried as the monitor wall shattered completely before he exploded.

The room was getting messier by the second as Franky emerged from the wall, and fell onto his hands and knees out of exhaustion. He got back up again, and turned around to see Sigma, yet again, in a new form as usual. Sigma's new armor, however, looked unfinished as Sigma had a robe over his armor, and he was limping very slowly.

"What's up! You outta' breath?" Franky asked while facing towards Sigma, "I can still go on at this for 100 years more! Don't tell me a robot can't handle that much!"

"Silence! I will teach you not to mock your superiors!" Sigma yelled as he then fired a yellow projectile from his mouth. It was very fast, but Franky managed to avoid it by stepping aside as the projectile left a round hole in the wall behind him.

"Alright, if you wanna play it that way!" Franky yelled as he then charged at Sigma. Sigma tried hitting Franky with his fist, but he was slower now as Franky dodged it without using full effort. "FRANKY BOXING!" Franky countered with several fists right into Sigma, who got hit repeatedly since he was too weak to avoid. Franky then punched Sigma in the stomach, causing Sigma to double over as Franky then grabbed him by the cloak, and threw him across the room.

"Aahh!" Sigma cried while souring across the room, but as he did, purple blobs spawned out of his armor, and fell into the ground in front of Franky.

"Eww! What the!" Franky gasped as he realized that the blobs looked hazardous, and it could harm him greatly if he touched it. Sigma then finally crashed into the ground, but once he did, yellow thunderballs came out of his body, and flew into Franky's direction. Franky tried dodging them, but the purple blob on the floor didn't give him much room to move on, so he expanded his forearms into shields, and covered his face with them as he got shocked by Sigma's thunderballs. "Grr!" Franky remained standing as his arms turned back to normal, while he saw Sigma getting back up. Sigma furiously threw a purple plasma wave at Franky, who looked at his surroundings as until he looked at the heap of junk to his right.

"STRONG RIGHT!" Franky launched his right arm, and engraved his fingers into the junk, and pulled himself towards it to avoid the plasma wave, which burned away the blobs Sigma spawned on the ground earlier.

"Damn!" Sigma yelled as he fired more plasma waves at Franky, who first got up on his feet, and started running around Sigma to avoid the waves. Sigma then opened his mouth to fire another projectile at Franky, but Franky predicted he would do that as he opened his left index finger.

"OUCH FINGER!" Franky fired a bullet into Sigma's mouth, shooting the projectile inside as it exploded inside Sigma, causing him to feel dazed afterwards.

"Ergh…" While Sigma tried to regain his composure, Franky ran up to him while pulling his arm back.

"STRONG HAMMER!" Franky punched Sigma straight in the gut, but grabbed his cloak at the same time to prevent Sigma from souring across the room again. Franky then slammed his fist across Sigma's head several times, hoping that will come flying off from his body, but to no avail. Franky then delivered two consecutive headbutts into Sigma's face, which dazed Sigma even further as more sparks were spewing out of his injuries. Franky then finished off his combo by picking Sigma by the back of his cloak, and piledrived his head into the ground hard. Sigma tumbled back as he spawned more purple blobs like last time, only Franky made sure to get out of the way in order to have more room this time.

"Enough of this… ! HURAGH!" Sigma furiously got up as he created a green pave of plasmatic energy from his hand. It remained stationary until Sigma threw it at Franky, and Franky wasn't fast enough to avoid it since the pave was very wide.

"Hmph!" Franky raised his left arm, and opened his wrist sideways, his index finger, and revealed his bullet holes from the top his forearm, and aimed at the incoming pave. "ARSENAL LEFT!" Franky fired regular bullets, rapid bullets, and consecutive blasts all at the same time, hitting the pave repeatedly as it started to slow down. It eventually was starting to move back towards Sigma, who could only stand as his own attack was coming back towards him.

"Heh heh heh heh…" Sigma chuckled for some reason as the pave exploded onto him, creating an explosion that could have destroyed him for good. Franky somehow knew that wasn't true as the dust cleared, only to reveal nothing in sight. The lights then turned off, alarming Franky as he stood sharp on his feet.

"Enough of these stupid reincarnations of yours!" Franky yelled, "Come on out, and fight me like a real man!"

"I have yet to unleash my full power…" Sigma's voice echoed throughout the room, "I would be more than happy to kill you with full force, but I question that you can stay alive until I reach my ultimate form."

"Pfft! I told ya, I won't be dying here today! Come on out, Tinhead bro!" Franky said while hitting his palm.

"As you wish…"

Suddenly, the floor started shaking. Before Franky knew it, the floor started descending from the walls. It turns out that the ground was also a hovering elevator as it descended down in massive speed. "Whoa!" Franky looked at his surroundings, and saw the walls, made out of purple crystals. He then looked up, and saw Sigma flying down from above as he landed on the platform with ease.

Sigma's new armor was more buff than his previous ones, and made him looked bigger than usual. It was also mostly purple, and consisted a winged jet pack on Sigma's back. Sigma was also holding a big rifle with his right hand.

"Don't worry about falling; this elevator is designed to not let anything fall off while descending in this speed, unless you step off the ledge, of course." Sigma explained, "Let's see if you can last before we reach to our destination below. You will see how powerful I can really be!"

"Heh! Not if I can take you down first!" Franky said with a smirk as he got ready to fight again.

Sigma smirked back as he then fired some beams at Franky, who at the same time, fired some shots at Sigma as well. Franky moved around to avoid Sigma's line of fire, but Sigma remained stationary as he got hit by Franky's shots, but his armor was so durable, he didn't even flinch when he got hit. "Ghaa ha ha!" Sigma then walked forward while firing some more beams at Franky, who stopped firing, and tried to attack Sigma in close range. Sigma toyed with Franky by shooting around his path to knock him off balance, forcing Franky to jump, leaving him wide open as Sigma aimed at him properly.

"COUP DE BOO!" Franky let out a mild stream of air from his butt, allowing him to fly forward to avoid Sigma's accurate shot, and get above Sigma.

"Err!" Sigma aimed his rifle above, and fired more beams while Franky protected his face with his forearms. Sigma managed to shoot him at some point, but Franky managed to remain conscious while falling straight towards Sigma.

"STRONG HAMMER!" Franky thrusted his fist downward at Sigma, who used his rifle to block Franky's attack. Franky's fist did, however, pushed Sigma down to one knee as Franky landed behind him, and wrapped his arms around his waist. "FRANKY SUPLEX!" Franky leaned back while holding Sigma, and crushed his head into the ground.

"Let go!" Sigma then teleported, escaping from Franky's grip as he teleported outside of the platform, hovering with his jetpack wings to remained stationary in midair. "Yahh!" Sigma fired rapid beams at Franky, who ran around to avoid the beams while firing back at Sigma in the process.

Sigma then started flying around the platform, shooting even more beams at Franky from various angles. Sigma grew frustrated of this as he started firing at the crystal walls, which made the beams bounce off them, and went towards the platform Franky was on to have more chance shooting Franky, but this didn't even made Franky sweat as he kept his eyes on firing at Sigma, despite he was in. This went on for a little while as there were beams and bullets flying all over the place. Sigma then teleported on the platform again, only his rifle started to glow.

"I doubt even you can survive something as this!" Sigma said as his rifle suddenly turned into a gigantic cannon that Sigma held with his arm and shoulder. Franky gasped at this as he saw the cannon was charging up huge amounts of energy. Seeing that there was no way out of this, he connected his arms to his tube again, and aimed at Sigma.

"I'm gonna to give it my all on this one too! 70mm Koukei 1.5 max cola power…" Franky's arms inflated upon sucking in a massive current of air at the same time Sigma's cannon was fully charged. "COUP DE VENT!" Franky unleashed fired a powerful current of air at the same time Sigma fired a huge plasma beam from his cannons. The attacks collided as the forces of the attacks pushed each other greatly. Franky nor Sigma knew which stream would surpass the other as it seems that the streams were about to explode any second now.

"What!" Sigma gasped as he saw noticed that his plasma beam was dispersing from the massive air current. "That's impossible!"

"Whoa!" Franky held on to the ground as his Coup de vent managed to scourge through Sigma's beam, and hit Sigma head on.

"GAAAAAAHHH!" The current smashed Sigma into crystal wall exploding afterwards, while Franky held onto the ground in order from being blown away from the explosion.

"Wooww!" Franky yelled as the platform finally reached it's destination with a loud thud. Franky shook his head for a sec as he looked up, and saw his new surroundings. "You're kidding me…"

Franky was now outside, and he was on a floating platform that lied right under the entire land of the dark fortress. The platform had marble columns near the ledges, and the entire floor was white. Franky got up on his feet, and could see a part of Obscurum's core in front of him.

"This is just great… how the hell am I suppose get back to the castle from all the way down here!" Franky asked. He then realized his hair was lost it's original look again, "Okay…"

While Franky replaced his empty cola bottles with new ones, he felt something strange coming behind him. He turned around to see somebody coming out of a portal.

It was none other than Sigma again, and he was in his ultimate form. His whole armor was black, and looked somewhat demonic; even his face looked creepy as his eyes and mouth let out a red glow, and he also had black horns from the side of his head, with his left one letting out a green energy flow. Speaking of energy, some of his body parts were made of green energy, and he also had some spikes on his back, his wrists, and his ankles. He was also holding a long broad sword that was half solid and half laser blade. This has to be the most creepiest form ever.

"Hmph! Congratulations… you managed to make me use my strongest form." Sigma said, "Don't feel too proud, though. As far as you may have lasted against someone like me, with my ultimate form, you don't stand a chance in coming out of this."

"Hmm…" Franky said as he turned to Sigma while putting his cola bottles inside him. "MmmmmMMMM, SUPAAAA!" Franky's hair went back the way it was as Franky then smirked at Sigma, "I guess this is our final bout, huh?" He then frowned while getting into his battle stance, "… Let's go!"

"Ghaa ha! Bring it on!" Sigma yelled.

Franky charged at Sigma with a right fist, but Sigma laughed as he teleported away from harm. Sigma then appeared all the way on a ledge, very distant from Franky as Sigma fired hollow plasma rings at him. Franky charged at Sigma gain, and jumped through the rings to prevent getting harmed in the process. "STRONG RIGHT!" Franky launched his right arm all the way towards where Sigma was, but missed Sigma teleported away again. Sigma reappeared above Franky, and tried to cut him in half with his broad laser sword, but Franky avoided him by rolling forward as Sigma landed on the ground. Franky tried attacking Sigma from behind, but he teleported away, and appeared above Franky yet again.

"Eat this!" Sigma faced his sword downwards towards Franky, who instead of trying to get away, he instead leaped up towards Sigma, and grabbed by the spikes that were sticking out of the back of Sigma's ankles.

"FRANKY KENTAUROS!" Franky flipped back, spun his body around, and wrapped his legs around Sigma's body again, holding him tightly as they both were falling down. "ULTIMATE-"

"Not this time!" Sigma yelled as he fired red lasers from his eyes. Franky leaned back to avoid the beams as they ignited in flames on a column behind him. Sigma then teleported, causing Franky to fall down on his back while still in his centaur mode.

Sigma reappeared in front of Franky, and tried stabbing him in the chest while he was done, but Franky quickly pushed Sigma back with his feet, giving him the time to turn his legs back to normal as he got up on one knee under Sigma, "STRONG UPPERCUT!" Franky did a powerful uppercut up across Sigma's chin, knocking Sigma off his feet as Franky leaped above him. "SUPAA HAMMER!" Franky clamped his hands together, and slammed them hard into Sigma's chest.

"Gragh!" Sigma crash hard on the ground, and teleported away afterwards as he appeared behind Franky while hovering in the air. "Time to teach you a lesson!" Sigma used his laser vision on Franky again, only Franky leaped to the side to avoid as Sigma shot another column again.

The whole side of the column bursted into flames as Sigma teleported back on the ground, and fired more plasma rings at Franky, only now, the rings were moving faster, making it harder for Franky to avoid. Franky jumped through the center of the rings like last time as he began firing more blasts at Sigma with his left arm.

Sigma used his blade to knock away the blasts as he then countered with a upper slash, which Franky stopped by clamping his hands against the side of Sigma's blade.

"GAHH!" Franky cried as by touching the blade was burning his palms. Sigma took this moment by hitting Franky in the chest with his laser vision, which bursted Franky's chest into flames. "Gyah! Oww!" Franky tumbled back, and got between the burning columns Sigma burned earlier as he rolled around the ground to die the flames that were on him. Franky then got up furiously as he took out a cylinder case. "You wanna play with big weapons! I got weapons of my own!" Franky took out a pair of heavy nunchucks, and held them above his head. "Let's get serious!"

"Wragh!" Sigma lunged at Franky with an downward slash, but Franky wrapped the chain of his nunchucks between around Sigma's blade, and prevented the blade from coming down at him. "What!"

"Hoooaahh!" Franky then got to Sigma's left side while unwrapping his nunchuks from Sigma's sword, and swung his nunchucks directly into Sigma's face.

"Goouhh!" Sigma staggered back as Franky then got behind Sigma.

"KNEE CRUSHER!" Franky did a lower tackle with his nunchucks, hitting Sigma at the back off his knees, forcing him to fall on them as Franky quickly got in front of Sigma while shaking his nunchucks in circles. "Take this!" Franky thrusted his nunchucks, but Sigma teleported away before he could get hit. "Crap!"

Sigma reappeared behind Franky, and fired horizontal plasma rings at him. Franky obviously couldn't jump through them this time as he did his best to avoid the rings, but received some cuts on his arms and shoulders upon doing so. "Give it up! You're at your limit!" Sigma yelled.

"No, I'm not!" Franky replied as he then knocked down the burning columns from before as they were about to fall on Sigma, but he only laughed as he teleported away again. Franky then got an idea, and attached his nunchucks to the burning columns, making them bigger and heavier for anybody to use, but Franky held them just fine. As soon as he saw Sigma reappearing, he charged at him with full force, "YARI HEAVY NUNCHUCKU!" Franky swung his giant nunchucks horizontally, but missed as he only brought down some more columns that were still standing. Sigma then reappeared behind Franky, but that was a mistake as Franky turned around, and brought down his nunchucks at him.

"GAAAUUGHH!" Sigma got hit by the tip of the burning column attached to the nunchuck as he fell on his back in pain. Franky glared at Sigma one more time before spinning his nunchucks above his head in circles, nearly creating a blazing tornado.

"1.5 MAX COLA HOU, COUP DE MONSTRO!" Franky threw his nunchucks at Sigma as they spiralled continuously. Franky then inflated his arms with air again, and released the massive air current into the blazing nunchucks, causing the flames to grow bigger, and the nunchucks to sour across the ground even faster as Sigma could only scream until…

OOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO OOOOMMMM!

Another massive explosion engulfed Sigma, and this time, Franky hoped he was gone for good. Even though he still had some cola in him, he was still physically exhausted from fighting this long. He fell on his knees, taking some deep breaths to calm down as he looked forward when the dust could of the explosion disappeared. The explosion left nothing but rubble, Franky couldn't tell if Sigma got hit by that explosion or not.

"YOU'RE WEAK!"

Franky suddenly got grabbed in the neck by something invisible as he was lifted off his feet. That person turned out to be Sigma, who was still intact, and was choking Franky mercilessly while several towers of plasma rings formed behind him. "This.. is as far as you go… human! You will die now!" Sigma knocked Franky on his back as Sigma then leaped up with his sword above his head, and brought it down to Franky, "SIGMA NULL!"

SLAAASSSHHH!

"GUAAAAAAAGGGGHHHHHH!" Franky got slashed vertically across the chest as the Sigma's sword released a plasma wave that knocked Franky back into the plasma rings behind him.

KABOOOOOOOOOOOOMMMM!

The rings exploded upon getting hit by the waves as the explosion was big enough to cover atleast two quarts of the arena. The explosion dimmed as Sigma then laughed victoriously. "GHAA HA HA HA HA HA! I told you! There is nothing that will stop me from beginning the new age! You're time of peace of your kind will soon be vanquished forever! Ghaa ha ha ha ha ha haaaa!"

The dust cloud from the explosion dimmed as Franky could be seen laying on his back with his arms and legs spreaded out. The cut he received on his chest was bleeding, and his sunglasses were broken as you can see that Franky had a stern look on his face. He then let out a soft sigh as he groggily got on his hands and knees before he got onto his feet. Sigma saw this as this made him laugh again. Franky only removed the half full bottles of cola inside them, and drank one of them.

"… 'Build it with a don.'… That's what the old man used to say." Franky said calmly. He drank his cola again before dropping the bottles on the floor, "As a shipwright, you must never deny the things you build… especially when it comes to trying a save a friend…" Franky then looked up, "I thought I would never build another ship again… until I realized that I had to in order to fulfill my biggest dream. You see, a ship is your comrade. You take good care of it, and it will take good care of you." Franky then glanced at Sigma over his shoulder, "Did your creator do something so bad to you, that you ended up like that?"

"Hmm?" Sigma raised his head, "No, I chose to be this way. It's my destiny to start the age of machine, and end the human race."

"… You're lying, bro." Franky said with a smug frown, "Even though your made of tincans and volts, you still act like a human." Franky then faced towards Sigma, "It's not like your creator made you like this, did he? Either he must have not been a good companion to you, or that you haven't been a good sport to him. Personally, I think it's the second reason."

"That's not of your business!" Sigma replied, "I already told you of my intentions! I don't expect a human like you to understand them, especially someone who is pretending to be a machine!"

"Alright… I guess talking to you won't change anything." Franky said as he then took out his smash ball, and placed it inside one of his full cola bottles. "Remember when you once said that I didn't have a purpose in life? Well… I am going to tell you what it is!" Franky then placed the full bottles of cola inside him as a colorful aura formed around his body. His eyes also glew yellow as he placed a new pair of sunglasses over his eyes, "My purpose… is to get my comrades to the ends of our world, and beat the living crap outta guys like you along the way there!"

"What is this!… Why is his body glowing like that!" Sigma asked. Franky then crouched down, and did his signature pose while gritting his teeth.

"FINAL SMASH!" Franky yelled as he activated his final smash.

Suddenly, Sigma could hear music in the background. It was the same music when Franky was introduced in the anime. "Where is that coming from! Ugh!" Sigma then realized it got a little darker as Franky started to dance by shaking his hips.

"Ow… ow… OOOWWWW!" Franky sang as he kept dancing, "Let's go! Ow! Shake it! I'm da number one supaastar! You can't touch this! I'm untouchable!"

"Enough of this nonsense! I will kill you now!" Sigma yelled while as he brought his sword down at Franky, but to his surprise, Franky disappeared in sight.

"Yo! You can't hit what you can't touch, tinbro!" Franky yelled, as he was suddenly dancing behind Sigma. Sigma turned around, and then saw something glowing underneath his feet. It was an image of a giant light blue star, which looks identical to the ones Franky has on his arms. As the music got louder, the star was getting bigger, and while Franky was following the beat, there were colorful clones of his figure forming around the platform, and were mimicking Franky's dance moves. The clones were also sparkling as if they were live disco balls, as the entire battle platform now looks like a giant disco party. "Let's take this tune to out of this world! Ow!"

"Grr!" Sigma fired several plasma rings at every direction, but Franky easily dodged somehow while dancing around his clones. All of the bright lights, loud music, and colorful figures dancing around was giving Sigma a hard time to attacking Franky, who kept dancing as the music was going a little faster.

"Oh yeah! You can't stop this! Wooowwaaa!" Franky sang even louder. The star in the center was now twice as big as the platform, and it kept getting bigger. Sigma had no idea what to do as he now saw Franky in front of him.

"Damn you! What are you doing!" Sigma asked.

It was then that star stopped getting bigger as it was now three times as big as the platform. Franky remained stationary for a couple of seconds as he then smirked at Sigma.

"Time for the big finale!" Franky yelled as he leaped into the air, and stayed up there while doing multiple front flips, gathering his colorful clones into his hands.

"I won't allow this to happen!" Sigma tried to stab Franky in midair, but was blown back by Franky's momentum as Sigma fell on his back. "Gah! I don't understand this!"

OOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO
OOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO
OOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO
OOOOOOOOOOOOOOOMMMM MMMMMMMMMMMMMMMM!

An explosion erupted soon afterwards as the explosion was blue, and in shape of the big star over the platform. The explosion left nothing but a big shaped star on the bottom of the floating fortress.

Final arc Pt 4

Valentine's day… what a peculiar day to update something like this. Before you begin, take in mind that Robin and Sweet Tooth are like the creepiest characters ever, so their battle might be a little gruesome. You have been warned. Anyway, have fun!

A mecha battle! After their last encounter in Aether, Franky got his chance for payback for what Sigma did to him. After a long fought battle, Franky used his smash ball to activate his final smash, and hit Sigma with his strongest attack ever. The question is, did Franky finished him off? And as for Robin, what will she have to go through to get back into the dark castle?

Chapter 123: A deadly funfair, Robin vs Sweet Tooth

In the center bottom of the floating dark fortress, the dust cloud, which formed soon after the explosion that Franky unleashed thanks to his final smash, has started to clear up. The fortress now has a big hole in the bottom in shape of a star. The hole was only half as wide as the dark castle up above, however, but the hole itself was still pretty huge to behold.

In the floating platform below the hole, Franky stood up from the ground, with his hair loosing it's figure since he used up all his cola power in his final smash.

"Phew… that was sure something else." Franky said while shaking his head. He then looked up, and whistled upon seeing the star-shaped hole he created. "That hand wasn't kidding when he said those balls would make us use all your strength in one blow, but even I didn't know I had so much power in me. I'm surprised that I am still alive after even using it." Franky then touched his hair, and sighed, "And I used up all my cola power in that move too. Good thing Straw hat, and everyone else wasn't around when this happened, or they would've probably been taken out by this too. Speaking of those guys, I better go find them."

Franky turned around, and saw the elevator platform that brought him down to the floating platform in the first place. He started walking towards it, until he heard someone groan. "Hmm?" He looked to his right, and saw a spark coming out from something on the ground. "Whoa… I don't believe it…"

Franky walked towards the object, which turned out to be Sigma's head, laying on the ground. Sigma was still alive, despite not having a body anymore as his face was covered in scars, and there was some dents around the back of his head. It's a little shocking to see him still alive after getting hit by Franky's final smash.

"Ugh… I can't afford to die again…" Sigma snarled while Franky walked up to him. Sigma looked at him before frowning even deeper, "I don't know how… but you managed to do me in…" Franky remained silent as Sigma continued talking, "I can't go on anymore. You've won, human. Aren't you happy that you got your revenge?"

"Happy? This has nothing to do about what I feel." Franky said while crossing his arms, "You and the rest of your so called buddies were asking for it. None of this would've happened if you guys haven't attack the hand guys, and took the master one away, making the crazy one to call me and comrades here and fight you guys off." Franky then uncrossed his arms with a smug frown, "But you know? I'm glad he called us here. Because Straw hat, and the rest of us are the only ones left to stop you guys from helping this dead world, which you guys call 'a paradise', and take everything that means dear to us and everyone else out there! For all I know, you guys should have stayed dead instead of selling yourself out to this dead land."

"Hmph… so naive." Sigma scuffed, "What makes you think that you humans can stop this from happening? Just because you happened to find your way in Obscurum, doesn't mean you can do anything to stop it from growing! And just because you somehow defeated me, that doesn't mean that you're friends will do the same against my companions… or should I say former? Since I am going to leave again any second now."

"If me and my pals can't stop this world, then that's just how big of pirates we managed to be." Franky said as he then smirked, "But I know we are much bigger than that. I don't know how, bro, but even if we do die here, this world is going down no matter what! You can count on that with every stinkin' body you had until now!"

"So foolish as ever…" Sigma replied as he then got quiet. Franky could see some small words on Sigma's vision, and once the words disappeared, the elevator started to function. "… I changed the coordinates. Stand on the center of the elevator, and it will lead to the eastern garden of the castle. That's all I can do for you now…"

Franky looked at the elevator before looking back at Sigma, "You helping me now? Why?"

"… If I can't be a part of the new world, then nobody will!" Sigma stated, "Don't get me wrong, human! Even though you have fate in your comrades, you still won't be able to stop this world from fulfilling it's purpose. There will be a new beginning, and it will never end!"

"That's your opinion, bro." Franky replied, "But unfortunately for you, Straw hat already made up his mind, and whatever he says is most of the time a fact. And I know for sure that when he said that we will stop this world, then that will soon be a fact too."

Sigma was stoic until he then smiled in response. He then closed his eyes, and remained motionless soon afterwards. Sigma was gone.

Franky stared at him for a little while until he then sighed, and walked up to the center of the elevator. The elevator rose up from the floating platform, and ascended up into the hole as Franky remained quiet while going up.

Meanwhile…

In the western garden of the castle, there was something there that put some life into the gardens. However, it wasn't something that you would want to see, nor ever want to imagine anytime soon. Robin was standing in front of this 'something', and her expression showed that she was at a lost of words.

"This is… not what I expected to see here." Robin said in awe, and a little disgusted at what she was seeing.

What lied in front of Robin was the biggest circus tent that has ever existed. This big tent was big enough to cover atleast more than half of land in the western garden. It had a white and red color layout, and the entrance resembled a happy clown's face with his mouth wide open. Looking at this entire tent just makes you want to stay away as far as possible.

Robin was not amused by the looks of the tent at all, "… It's rather big." Robin said as she observed around the tent's sides, and couldn't see a way through, nor an entrance into the dark castle. Robin looked at the creepy clown entrance as she gave off a stern look, "I can't go all the way back to the front entrance of the castle; it will take too much time… and there is something wrong about this place. It doesn't fit along with the castle… it's as if somebody made this here."

Robin rubbed her chin until she took a step forward, "I will have to investigate, and see what this place is about."

With a stoic look, she walked through the creepy entrance, and went inside the huge circus tent. Once she did, everything was pitch black; she couldn't see a thing inside. She slowly walked forward despite this, and once she did, the lights in the tent turned on. Robin could then see what lied under the tent, and she was disturbed even more. "This can't be right…"

Inside the tent was the biggest carnival in existence. Everything you expect to see in a fair was all inside this big tent. There was a Ferris wheel at the opposite end of the tent, a roller coaster that had a course that goes around the entire tent, a haunted house on the east side of the tent, several stands where you play some simple games to get prizes as they were aligned in different colors; like I said previously, this place is the biggest carnival ever.

Yet, inspite of having all this, this place was not family-friendly. The karts of the ferris wheel had paintings of demonic faces of clowns on them, the coaster on the roller coaster had sharp spikes coming out from it's bottom sides, the haunted house actually looked like it was really haunted, and one of the stands' games, where you shoot rubber ducks down with a fake gun actually had real shotguns on their counters. Nobody would go in here even if they didn't had a choice. Unfortunately for Robin, this was probably her fastest route back into the castle.

"There has to be an entry to the castle from in here. I must look around carefully." Robin said, not having anything else to say about the creepy carnival at all. She walked past a red ticket booth, with a dummy dressed up as a ticket booth person inside. As Robin walked ahead, the dummy in the ticket booth shifited it's eyes to Robin, and watched her walk away. Robin was walking past some more game stands, and as she did, the rides in the carnival turned on, and a joyful carnival music began to play in the background. Robin did not find this comfortable as she continued to walk on, until she heard something behind her.

"Hm!" Robin turned around, but saw nobody behind her. She looked to her left, and saw a feint blur running around inside the stands. Robin kept her guard up as she walked past some garbage cans that head figure heads, resembling demonic clown heads with sharp teeth.

She eventually started walking by a small building, with a sign ontop reading 'House of mirrors' around the stairway that lead into the building were some mirrors that had different shapes and sizes. Robin walked past the mirrors, which showed off funny reflections of her like a wobbly Robin, a fat Robin, even a big headed Robin. Robin then stopped walking as she heard a sound from her right, and when she turned to find out what it was, it turned out to be nothing but a teddy bear that fell off it's stand.

Robin walked up to the teddy bear, and picked it up from the ground. She noticed that the bear was missing it's eyes, and it had cuts and gashes over it's entire body. What Robin found even more strange about this bear is that it had the same hair as Robin has. The bear was also wearing clothing she would usually wear often. It was this that Robin was getting a little nervous as she started backing away with the bear in her hand until her back met up against a mirror.

Robin turned towards the mirror, and it looked ordinary from the rest of the silly ones she saw, but as Robin looked at it, she was starting to feel pale. She could see how nervous she looked upon looking at her reflection, and she could see the reflection of the teddy bear she had wrapped around her arms. She was thinking that, if she doesn't survive here, she would end up looking like that teddy bear. Robin then grew angry, and threw the teddy bear away. She panted softly as she looked back at her reflection, but furrowed her eyebrow as she noticed something else about the mirror.

She peered into the mirror while squinting her eyes, and noticed that it was a little transparent. From what she could see past the mirror, was nothing but darkness. That is, until she saw a pair of eyes staring back at her.

"Yah!" Robin leaped to the side as the mirror suddenly shattered into pieces by a fist that came from behind the wall the mirror was leaning up against. While she fell on her right side, Robin looked back, and saw none other than Sweet Tooth, who emerged from the hole in the mirror while holding a combat knife. Robin's eyes widened in shock upon seeing him, "It's you…"

"Hi…" Sweet Tooth said a glare.

Sweet Tooth then yelled as he tried stabbing Robin while she was down on the ground, but Robin rolled to the side to avoid, and countered by kicking Sweet Tooth in the face. Sweet Tooth hardly flinched at that as he then grabbed Robin by the legs, which startled Robin as she sprouted arms from the back of Sweet Tooth's neck, and plunged their fingertips into Sweet Tooth's eyes. "Agh!"

Robin took this chance to get away as she also got back on her feet, but then cried in pain once Sweet Tooth stabbed one of her sprouted arms in the elbow.

"Ah!" Robin collapsed on her knees as her sprouted arms on Sweet Tooth's neck disappeared. Sweet Tooth then got up, and ran at Robin, who rolled on her back, and sprouted some arms around Sweet Tooth's body in order to bind him, but Sweet Tooth quickly overpowered the sprouted arms by spreading his arms and legs out with full force. "Ngh!" Robin muttered in pain as her sprouted arms disappeared. Sweet Tooth then leaped above Robin while doing front flips in midair, and headed down towards Robin like a cannonball, "TREINTA FLEUR, SPEAR!" Robin sprouted multiple arms from the ground around her as more arms sprouted from their palms. The arms continued doing this until they struck Sweet Tooth in midair.

"Grr!" Sweet Tooth was knocked upwards as the sprouted arms then grabbed him by his ankles. The arms then slammed him through the roof of a game stand, shattering it to bits before the sprouted arms disappeared.

Robin panted as she got up while looking at where Sweet Tooth landed. Her eyes widened a bit as she then saw Sweet Tooth emerging from the rubble, with his back facing towards her. Sweet Tooth then slowly turned towards Robin, giving off his murderous glare as usual.

"Still hard to kill, I see…" Sweet Tooth said while holding his knife in front of his face, "You know, alot of women usually cower in fear when they see me, but you… you're the first woman to stand up against me. I can't say it amuses me, but atleast this will be challenging. Our time together is going to be pretty special… especially when I start cutting you into pieces."

Robin was at first scared, but her expression then looked stoic as she stood straight while staring at Sweet Tooth, "I remember you… you're that man that chased us when we were on Arsenal gear." Robin said as she then clenched her fist, "I thought you died…"

"Please… you expect that I'd die by a little crash?" Sweet Tooth snickered, "… Don't underestimate me, you little tramp! What you did to me back then was rather cute and unexpected, I'll admit that much. But when you did that when I had that urge to kill off your friends… I was very upset." He said with mild sad tone, "There has not been a soul that has ever stopped me from killing my prey, except for that day you interfered in my work. It's because of you that I dreamed of paying you back!"

"I did what's right." Robin replied bluntly, "You had no reason to unleash your hatred on us. You attacked us first, and it was common sense for me to stop people who dare try to hurt my family! I will do anything to protect them, even if I have to kill off scum like you!"

"I don't need to listen to your lecture crap!" Sweet Tooth replied as he then raised his arms, "It's rather pointless anyway. Haven't you realized where you are yet? You're in my turf now… Since the day I was revived, I worked very hard on making my dream land, and after such hard work and fuss, I managed to turn my dream into reality. Look at the wonders that I created. This deadly funfair is 'Carnage Tooth'; the greatest carnival of all time. Once you step foot in here, you will never want to leave even if you had that choice."

"So this monstrous place is all your doing?" Robin asked, "How dare you turn part of this ancient land into your own sick image! Do you have any idea what this place meant to all those people who were born here!"

"I don't give a damn about the past. It's all about shaping the future that's important." Sweet Tooth said, "Who cares about the people that used to live here? They're all dead; there is nothing they can do to me."

"How disgusting…" Robin replied with a frown, "I can see what kind of man you really are now; you're nothing but a sadistic man who enjoys to kill innocent people all the time. Someone like you will never see the true value in life…" The wind then whistled by a bit as Robin then gave off a serious glare, "I'm afraid I cannot walk away from this. I will take you back to hell where you belong."

"Ha ha ha ha ha!" Sweet Tooth laughed, "You're funny; I like you. I like the way you're glaring at me. It's almost how I look at my victims before I kill them. You don't seem to be that bad afterall…" Sweet Tooth then stood up, "I have had a change of heart. How about instead of trying to kill me, you can join me in my new killing spree? We could be great together; there would not be a soul that could stop us! We could be invincible! We can be legends, and spread fear into all the realities, and turn people's lives upside-down forever!"

"If this is your way of sparing my life, you can forget it!" Robin replied, "I have already made my decision! I will end your life in this place, and help my captain stop this planet in order for you to stay dead for the sake of humanity!"

Sweet Tooth was quiet after he heard this. His fingers jitter with hatred as Sweet Tooth nodded his head, "There it is again… you already gave me that sense of feeling when I fail to do something again." Sweet Tooth then looked at Robin, "You really are unbearable; I can't stand looking at someone like you! Where is your despair! I pondered about this, day and night without sleep! I kept thinking about you everyday… and wondered why I failed to kill someone like you!" Sweet Tooth then dug his hands into the rubble, and pulled out a teddy bear, which looked exactly like the one Robin was holding not too long ago, "You see this? I made this for you! I made dozens of these while I think of you! I pretend it was actually you while I tear these bears apart, but it doesn't satisfy me a bit, it doesn't even reprieve me of my agony I have towards you!" Sweet Tooth then ripped the teddy bear's head from it's body before throwing it away, "Now I can finally be at ease; knowing that you're here… now I can put part of my pain to rest, and hear you scream while I take your life nice, and slowly as I can."

Robin remained stoic after hearing this, "… I don't feel like talking to you anymore. I want to live up by my promise, and go back to my family as soon as possible." Robin said with a soft glare. Hearing this made Sweet Tooth feel even more unpleasant.

"Funny… I don't want to talk to you anymore either." Sweet Tooth said as he then picked up a pole laying on the ground, "Instead… I want to see you bleed! HURGH!" Sweet Tooth raised the pole over his head, and threw it at Robin with great force.

Robin immediately sprouted two line of arms from the ground in front of her, and caught the incoming pole, which was inches away from impaling Robin in the face. "Eh!" Robin gasped as she saw Sweet Tooth heading her way with great speed. Sweet Tooth leaped forwardly, jumping over the pole that the sprouted arms were holding as he swung his combat knife horizontally at Robin while in midair.

"DIEZ FLEUR!" Robin sprouted arms from the pole Sweet Tooth was over as they thrusted their palms into Sweet Tooth's gut. Sweet Tooth nearly lost control of himself as he began spinning fowardly while going over Robin.

Sweet Tooth landed on his feet, and turned around as he then jumped towards Robin again. Robin jumped sideways as she quickly sprouted arms from underneath Sweet Tooth, who suddenly tripped once the sprouted arms grabbed his ankles. "Grr!" Sweet Tooth fell as the arms that were holding the pole from earlier positioned the pole's end towards Sweet Tooth's face as it came closer, but Sweet Tooth saved himself by grabbing the pole, and pushed himself up on his feet. "Yrragh!" Sweet Tooth took the pole out of the sprouted arms' hands, and then threw his combat knife at Robin's direction.

"Ngh!" Robin ducked to avoid the knife as it flew over her, but the startle caused her sprouted arms to disappear.

"I'll beat you to death!" Sweet Tooth growled as he charged at Robin with a pole in hand. He swung it several times at Robin, who backed away in order to avoid. Sweet Tooth then swung his pole again as it caused Robin to fall on her rear, giving Sweet Tooth the chance to try and stab her while she was on the ground. Robin rolled sideways to avoid, but still got hit anyway as Sweet Tooth managed to lay a small cut on Robin's right leg with his pole.

"Eh…" Robin grunted as she faced at Sweet Tooth while lying on her back, "SEIS FLEUR!" Robin sprouted four arms from Sweet Tooth's upper chest. One pair grabbed Sweet Tooth by the neck, and started choking him, while the other pairs grabbed his pole from both ends, and started bending it. Sweet Tooth struggled to break free as the arms managed to bend his pole in shape of a 'U'. While this was happening, Robin picked up the knife Sweet Tooth threw at her earlier, and charged at Sweet Tooth while he continued to struggling.

"GRR!" Sweet Tooth grabbed the pair of arms that were choking him, and squeezed them tight, causing Robin to lose her momentum as she fell on one knee.

The arms on Sweet Tooth also disappeared as he then brought back his right fist, and tried socking Robin in the face. "VEINTE FLEUR, CALENDULA!" Robin sprouted multiple arms in a circular motion around her left elbow, and blocked Sweet Tooth's fist with them. "Ah!" Despite this, Robin fell back in pain, dropping the knife as Sweet Tooth laughed at her pain. Sweet Tooth then retrieved his knife from the ground, walked over to Robin, and grabbed her by her left arm while raising his knife in the air.

"Let's see; where do we start first?" Sweet Tooth asked before he brought down his knife at Robin.

"DOS FLEUR!" Robin quickly sprouted a pair of arms from Sweet Tooth's upper legs, "BREAK!" The arms clenched their hands into fists as they then punched Sweet Tooth's private section with full force.

"Ugh-UOOOUGH!" Sweet Tooth let's go of his knife, and fell on both of his knees while curling himself into a ball position as he mourned in sheer pain.

Robin crawled away from Sweet Tooth, and got up on her knees as she crossed her limbs again, sprouting more arms from Sweet Tooth's body as they forced Sweet Tooth to stand up straight, "CLUTCH!" The arms then cracked Sweet Tooth's back, causing him to cry in pain as the arms then disappeared, allowing Sweet Tooth to fall limplessly on his chest. It seems that Sweet Tooth was down and out as Robin went to check if he was really unconscious.

But before Robin could tell, Sweet Tooth quickly got up on his knees, and backhanded Robin on the side of her rib. "Ah!" Robin cried in pain as the force of Sweet Tooth's attack knocked her off her feet, and she crashed into a stand that was beside her afterwards. She slowly got up on her feet, and tried binding Sweet Tooth again, but she saw him crawling towards another stand behind him, and grabbed a machine gun from it's counter. "No!" Robin instantly jumped over the counter behind her before Sweet Tooth started firing his machine gun nonstop. The bullets flew into the stand, destroying everything in sight. Luckily for Robin, Sweet Tooth ran out of ammo before he could have completely destroyed the stand she was in.

Robin then popped up from behind the counter, and sprouted arms from the stand Sweet Tooth was leaning on. The arms broke the wooden support poles of the stands, causing the stand to collapse over Sweet Tooth. "Ooh!" Sweet Tooth cried before the rubble fell ontop of him. Robin got over the counter she was standing behind, and looked at the house of mirrors to her right. "If this keeps up, I will never get out of here. I need to find another way to destroy this man…"

With that said, Robin rushed over to the house of mirrors, but stopped as she heard an explosion coming from the rubble behind her.

She turned around, and saw the fire from the explosion burning the rubble, and as she looked on, she noticed Sweet Tooth coming out of the flames, with a shotgun in hand. "I'm angry!" Sweet Tooth growled before he fired his shotgun at Robin. Robin barely avoided this as she hid behind the side of another counter. She went moving from counter to counter as Sweet Tooth kept firing his shotgun at her while walking. "Do you have any idea who you're dealing with here! You and your friends will bleed to death!" He yelled before firing another round. Sweet Tooth was about to fire again, but he ran out of ammo already. Robin peered over the counter's side to see this as she took the opportunity to attack.

Robin got on one knee while appearing over the counter's side as she sprouted two line of arms behind Sweet Tooth, "TREINTA FLEUR, SWING!" The arms from both ends grabbed Sweet Tooth by his suspenders, and pulled him off his feet, and threw him across the field, crashing through every stand until he tumbled across the ground before crashing into another stand.

"Oohh…" Sweet Tooth groaned while sitting up as he could see Robin fleeing into the house of mirrors from a distance. Sweet Tooth grew frustrated as he happened to be standing on a counter that had weapons and ammo. He grabbed a bigger shotgun, and some bandannas of shotgun ammo. He placed those around his chest before holding his big shotgun with both hands. "This is getting a little fun… ready or not, here I come!" He yelled before he chased after Robin.

Robin ran up the stairs to the house of mirrors, and went through the door. What she saw inside was, unsurprisingly, a bunch of mirrors. The bad thing about it was all the walls were made of mirrors, and Robin couldn't tell which way to go. She tried finding another exit, but it was hard for her to run around since the place was filled with mirrors.

BANG!

Robin turned around upon hearing something shoot. It turns out that Sweet tooth entered the house of mirrors by blowing the door open. He ran inside, and couldn't see Robin, but could see her startled reflections from the mirrors. "I know you're here! Come out, come out, wherever you are!" Sweet Tooth teased.

It was then that Robin started to run through the maze of mirrors. Sweet Tooth chased her while shooting his shotgun at every reflection he sees along the way. The noise was making Robin more nervous by the second as she then bumped into a dead end. Robin could hear the sound of footsteps behind her getting louder, giving her no choice but to barge through the mirror, which automatically led her outside of the house. She crawled away as Sweet Tooth jumped out of the hole from the house, and aimed his shotgun at Robin, but before he could fire, he saw some arms sprouting from the ground in front of him, "Tch! This again?" Sweet Tooth asked as he then aimed for the arms, which was exactly what Robin wanted.

"VEINTE FLEUR, SPIKE!" From the intact part of the wall behind Sweet Tooth, a line of arms sprouted from it with their hands clenched into fists. Sweet Tooth turned around, only to get hit by the arms, causing him to stagger forward while nearly losing his balance. He staggered towards Robin, who sprouted more arms from the ground as they grabbed Sweet Tooth by the front of his suspenders, and flipped him over Robin as he was about to fall into a spooky bench.

"Not good enough!" Sweet Tooth somehow flipped forwardly in midair, and landed on the bench with his feet. He then jumped on the light post next to the punch, and then jumped across the air, and fired more shotgun rounds at Robin below.

The bullets rained down at Robin, who ran while lowering her head, but some of the bullets managed to land on her ankle and shoulders. "AAAAHHH!" Robin cried in pain before she collapsed on the ground. Blood was starting to come out from her wounds as Sweet Tooth laughed upon this while landing on another light post close to the house of mirrors.

"Mmmm… oh yeah, I can smell your blood from here." Sweet Tooth said while panting excitedly, "It smells very good from where I am. I can't wait till I bathe in it!"

Sweet Tooth then leaped from the light pole, and headed towards Robin, who immediately sprouted a line of arms from the top side of the pole, and grabbed Sweet Tooth by his ankles. "POUND!" The arms swung Sweet Tooth in a half circle, and threw him back into the house of mirrors, where he crashed through several mirrors inside, causing the shards to fall into him.

"AHH!" Sweet Tooth cried as the pain caused him to accidently fire his shotgun around the house, shooting at the mirrors above as the pointy shards all fell into him. "GAAAAAAAEEHHH!"

Robin groggily got up on her feet, and slowly limped away from the house of mirrors without looking back while putting pressure on her wounded shoulder.

Meanwhile…

Sanji was running around the hallways, but couldn't find anything that led outside to the west garden. "Dammit, where is the exit! I need to find Robin-chan!" Sanji yelled. He continued to run until the only thing left he found was some stairs. "… I made a promise to her that I'd find her… Perhaps there is a way up on a higher floor!"

Sanji then ran up the stairs, hoping he could find an exit there.

Meanwhile…

Some time has passed as Robin stumbled into a small garden, with a creepy fountain in the center that resembled a clown's head on fire, with the water coming out of it's sockets and mouth. Robin collapsed on her hands and knees on a brick road that was between some poisonous vines that could be fatal if touched.

"I need to keep moving… eh!" Robin muttered in pain from her wounds. She then used that same healing technique she used back during her fight with Ocelot. She replicated her cells around her wounds, causing them to seal up in perfect condition again. But thanks to this, Robin felt much weaker than before. "Ugh…" Despite this, she forced herself to get up, but stopped as she saw a stick of dynamite landing in front of her.

KABOOOM!

"Ah!" Robin fell back after the dynamite exploded. She was alright, but the flames from the explosion scattered around the vines, causing them to burst into flames as well. Robin turned around, and saw Sweet Tooth, who had several cuts and some shards stuck into his body, as he was holding a bag filled with dynamite.

"Found you!" Sweet Tooth snarled as he lits up a dynamite stick with the fire from his head before throwing the stick at Robin. Robin ran away as the dynamite exploded behind her. She started to get out of the garden, but Sweet tooth then threw his entire bag of dynamite all over the place. They all exploded simultaneously, creating a big ring of fire that surrounded the garden. Robin realized that she was trapped as she had no choice, but to confront Sweet Tooth again.

"Is this how you treat mankind! As if they were puppets to your little game!" Robin asked.

"Not really, but I'm having fun anyway!" Sweet Tooth replied as he charged at Robin.

Sweet Tooth tried clotheslining Robin while running at her, but Robin rolled under his fist, and got behind him. Robin then held her arms back while sprouting some arms around them. "DOCE FLEUR, JAB!" Robin thrusted her multiple arms forward, hitting Sweet Tooth in the chest as soon as he turned around.

"Urgh!" Sweet Tooth countered by grabbing Robin's real arms, and pushed her towards him as Sweet Tooth kneed Robin in the gut.

Robin cried in pain as Sweet Tooth then grabs her by the neck with both arms, and started choking her to death.

"Ahhaah!" Robin gasped as she was nearly losing consciousness. Before she could, though, she sprouted some arms from Sweet Tooth's body as they plunged their fingers into Sweet Tooth's cuts he got from the house of mirrors. This caused Sweet Tooth to yell in sheer agony as he accidentally let's go of Robin, who gasped for air as she then stood back while crossing her limbs again. "TWIST!" The arms on Sweet Tooth's body then started twisting Sweet Tooth's back bit by bit. As it seemed that Robin was about to break Sweet Tooth's back, Sweet Tooth overpowered the arms, and forced himself to stand straight before dashing at Robin, and punching her across her face.

"AAHH!" Robin fell hard as the sprouted arms on Sweet Tooth's body disappeared. Sweet Tooth then took out a pair of brass knuckles, and brought his clamped fists down at Robin, who rolled sideways to avoid. Robin then got up on her feet, and sprouted arms from Sweet Tooth's legs as they tried breaking Sweet Tooth's legs.

"Urgh!" Sweet Tooth cried in pain as Robin then sprouted a stairway of arms for her to get out of the ring of fire. As she went up, she grunted in pain once Sweet Tooth was slamming his fists into the sprouted arms on his legs. Robin did her best to ignore this, however, as she then jumped over the ring of fire when she reached ontop of her sprouted arm stairway.

"Eh!" Robin landed a little rough on the ground as she then ran across a bridge over a small lake. It was then that Sweet Tooth appeared from walking through the fire, and rushed over to Robin on the bridge. He stopped several feet in front of her when he saw that Robin was ready to sprout more arms again.

"Huh… you really want to live that much?" Sweet Tooth asked, "If you do, you should be more careful over here. This lake is not exactly filled with water, you know?" Sweet Tooth then demonstrated as took out a rock, and tossed into the lake. The rock dissolved into the liquid, much to Robin's surprise.

"Acid!" Robin gasped.

Sweet Tooth chuckled as he then charged at Robin, who instantly sprouted arms from his body and part of the bridge around him to push him back. Sweet Tooth tried to move forward, but Robin kept sprouting more arms as they were trying to knock Sweet Tooth into the lake of acid. "Ugh!" Sweet Tooth laid on his chest, and wrapped his arms around the ledge of the bridge to prevent from falling off. Inspite of the danger he was in, Sweet Tooth started to laugh as he searched for something under the ledge of the bridge, and took out a rocket launcher he held with one hand. Robin gasped at this as she ran out of the bridge before Sweet Tooth fired the rocket at her.

BOOM!

The rocket exploded behind Robin, knocking her forward as the arms she sprouted over Sweet Tooth were gone. After they did, Sweet Tooth got up, and charged at Robin with the empty rocket launcher. "Yaah!" Sweet Tooth swung the rocket launcher horizontally, which Robin caught using the arms she sprouted from the ground beside her.

"Haa!" The sprouted arms then pushed the rocket launcher into Sweet Tooth's gut, causing him to stagger back as he drops the rocket. The arms then threw the launcher at Sweet Tooth, who simply knocked it away with his right arm as the launcher fell into the lake of acid, and melted afterwards.

Sweet Tooth then saw Robin running deeper into the carnival, trying to get away from him as far as she could. "Where are you going! There is nowhere for you to run!" Sweet Tooth laughed before chasing off after Robin again.

Robin ran until she ended up in the carnival rides section. She was around the smaller rides like the go-karts, or the merry-go-round, which were a little spooky to go near. She didn't had time to stop, and look around as Sweet Tooth was catching up to her with great speed.

"Time for a little exercise!" Sweet Tooth yelled as he then did several front flips and cartwheels while chasing after Robin. He then leaped into the air while curling up into a ball, spinning in circles so fast that the fire on his head was engulfing around him. "HELL BALL!"

Robin jumped out of the way as Sweet Tooth dived into the ground like a comet, creating a shockwave that knocked Robin into an ice cream stand, knocking that over as well. Robin dazedly got up on her feet, with her clothing nearly covered in ice cream with different flavors. Robin then saw Sweet Tooth, who was still spinning in his ball form while covered in fire, but wasn't moving anywhere.

"Hwa ha ha ha ha!" Sweet Tooth rolled towards Robin, leaving a trail of fire behind. Robin got out of Sweet Tooth's way as he was bouncing off of every small ride, and stand that was in the way like a ping pong ball. The objects Sweet Tooth bounce off also bursted into flames afterwards, making this section harder to get through.

Robin climbed up ontop of a merry-go-round, and observed the destruction Sweet Tooth is causing. Sweet Tooth then bounced towards Robin, who ducked as Sweet Tooth flew over her.

"CIEN FLEUR!" Robin crossed her limbs, and sprouted a mass of arms ontop of the merry-go-round she was on. "BIG TREE!" The arms resembled into a giant tree as Sweet Tooth then went towards it. The big tree of arms inclined a bit, and spinned it's top side all over the surroundings of the merry-go-round. Sweet Tooth was too close when this happened as he got hit by the giant tree of arms. "Ugh!" The flames from Sweet Tooth's body touched the arms, inflicting pain to Robin, but she held on as the tree knocked Sweet Tooth into a stand filled with drum oils. Once Sweet Tooth crashed into the drums, they exploded instantly.

"OOOHH!" Sweet Tooth soured through the sky until he crashed into the go-kart field with a loud thump. Robin then dismissed the big tree of arms as she then jumped off the merry-go-round, and ran away again. Back in the kart field, Sweet Tooth got up, and went to a red go-kart with spikes in the front. "Die, die, die, die… what part of that word doesn't that tramp understand!" Sweet Tooth asked himself as he turned on the go kart, and drove out of the field, and chased after Robin.

Meanwhile…

Chopper nervously walked around the hallways, "Um… hello?" Chopper said silently, "Is anybody here? Guys? Franky? Ohh… I didn't wanted to walk here by myself. It's my fault that I got separated from Franky…" Chopper then grew confident, "No! I have to stay strong! My friends are depending on me! I must never give up!"

Chopper then walked confidently along the hallways until he came across a dead end, with a door to the left. He bravely walked to the door, and opened it slowly. What he found inside was some kind of laboratory, with giant capsules with green liquid inside and some machinery along the room.

"Oh my… what's this place?"

Meanwhile…

Robin ran along the darker parts of the carnival. The road around her were filled with giant presents, but who knows what contained inside of them. While running, Robin glanced over her shoulder to see Sweet Tooth coming at her. "Ah, the present aisle! One of my favorite attractions!" Sweet Tooth said. While running, Robin glanced over her shoulder while trying to sprout out arms from Sweet Tooth's kart, but all of a sudden, Sweet Tooth drove the other way, and out of Robin's sight.

"Where is he going!" Robin asked herself.

It was then that the giant presents around her started to open by themselves. Out of the presents came out several objects like bombs, knives, arrows, spiky balls, and everything that could kill. Robin gasped at this as the objects came flying down around her surroundings, blowing up almost everything it landed on. "Egh!" Robin slipped during this process as she tumbled forward before bumping into something. She looked up, and saw a big colorful box. The top of the box opened suddenly as a big and terrifying jack-in-the-box appeared holding a giant axe. Robin quickly got out of the way before the jack-in-the-box sliced her in half with it's axe.

"Ahuh.." Robin panted as she ran around a corner, but when she did, she fell suddenly tripped again into a path of wet cement. "What is this!" Robin asked while trying to get up. Then from her surroundings, multiple spotlights turned on towards her. The light was unbearable for Robin, and that wasn't the worst part; since there were so many spotlights, Robin was feeling hotter by the second. She could also feel the cement around her drying up a little faster as well. She had to get out of that road to stay alive. "Ergh!" Robin moved forward as fast as she could, but wasn't moving that fast thanks to the small river cement she was in.

Sweet Tooth then appeared from the first end of the cement road, observing Robin from behind. "Oooh.. let's see how you get out of this one." Sweet Tooth said a little excitedly.

Robin started to sweat, and she was losing her energy; she couldn't take of the light in her eyes, and the heat much longer. "CINCUENTA… FLEUR!" Robin sprouted a line of arms from the end of the road in front of her as the sprouted arms reached towards Robin, who held them tight. The arms then helped through the cement road, and managed to get her on dry ground past the spotlights. Seeing this angered Sweet Tooth.

"Shit! You're such a pain in the ass!" Sweet Tooth snarled while pushing some buttons on his kart. The kart then hovered as it turns out there were burners underneath it. Sweet Tooth flew his kart over the cement road, and headed towards Robin despite the spotlights blinding his way. Robin then looked up at one of the spotlights over where Sweet Tooth was about to fly pass, and sprouted arms around there. The arms then pushed the spotlight down from the building as it fell down at Sweet Tooth, who looked up, and saw it coming, "Aaahhh!" The spotlight crashed into Sweet Tooth from above as the kart lost control, and flew over Robin before crashing into the ground, and skidding across the ground a bit before stopping.

Robin turned around, and slowly approached the kart while wiping some of the cement off her lower body. A noise the came from behind the kart, causing Robin to back away a bit as she saw Sweet Tooth emerging with the broken spotlight on him. Sweet Tooth picked it up, and tossed the broken spotlight aside, revealing even more wounds than before, including red and burned skin on some parts of his body. Robin was disgusted just looking at him.

"You're such an amateur." Sweet Tooth panted while slouching as he took out another knife, "We're not getting anywhere in this chase, so come here, and I will slit your throat slowly."

Robin didn't reply as she crossed her limbs, sprouting arms on Sweet Tooth's body again, but when she did, she could feel the burns on Sweet Tooth's body. This caused her to dismiss her sprouted arms immediately afterwards as Sweet Tooth then laughed.

"Ha ha… what's wrong? Can't take the heat?" Sweet Tooth asked as he then realized something, "I see, you're a little hocus pocus has a weakness too. Everything those arms of yours feel, you feel, right?" Robin looked away from him as a reply, "Hey, come on; I know how you feel." Sweet Tooth then pointed at the fire coming out of his head, "I got this curse for killing people too much. I could have gotten rid of it when I had the chance, but I would've given up the thing I love most, and that would be to kill. Let's face it, a man has got to have his priorities, and if I didn't had them, I wouldn't be calling myself a man."

"You're not a man, you're a monster!" Robin replied strictly.

"Heh, maybe I am…" Sweet Tooth agreed.

Sweet Tooth then grabbed the broken spotlight next to him, and threw it at Robin, who ducked as the spotlight fell into the road of wet cement. Sweet Tooth then dashed forward, and grabbed Robin by the neck. Robin struggled to break free as Sweet Tooth brought her to the edge of the cement road.

"You know, you're pretty much a monster yourself." Sweet Tooth said while tucking Robin's hair at the back of ear, "The way you talk and look at me… I can't help but feel that you are like this to everyone. Is it because you were alone all your life? You don't need to answer; I can see it in your eyes… or maybe this is your way of trying to seduce me?" Sweet Tooth then observed Robin's body before he chuckled, "Oh, that's very flattering what you're trying to do, but I am not that kind of assassin. You're just going to have to look for someone else to screw over, you filthy whore. Eh ha ha ha!"

Robin then sprouted arms behind Sweet Tooth as they hit him in the back of his knees. Sweet Tooth flinched as Robin then broke free of his grip, and sprouted more arms behind Sweet Tooth as they pushed him into the cement road after Robin got out of the way. Robin then ran away towards the Ferris wheel ahead as the fire on Sweet Tooth's head grew hotter for an instant. Sweet Tooth then got up, and chased Robin to the Ferris wheel.

Robin ran past the blue ticket booth, and headed towards the active Ferris wheel. She turned around to see Sweet Tooth catching up, and faced towards the ticket booth. "Ryah!" Sweet Tooth placed his hand in the booth, and took out a big chainsaw, which had two chainsaw blades. Sweet Tooth got it running as Robin quickly got on one of the carts of the ride. Sweet Tooth followed soon afterwards as he jumped on the cart that was next to Robin's cart. As they were going up, Sweet Tooth pushed his chainsaw through the bottom of Robin's cart, nearly cutting Robin from below as she opened the door to her cart, and climbed above it.

Once the two carts were on the highest part of the ride, Robin and Sweet Tooth faced each other, with Sweet Tooth readying his chainsaw. Robin thought quickly what to do until she noticed the roller coaster track to her left. It was far for her to jump, so she came up with another idea. "GRAN FLEUR!" From the back center of the Ferris wheel, Robin sprouted a countless amount of arms there to create a massive arm that reached towards the roller coaster track. The arm grabbed the track, and pulled hard. Turns out that the coaster track was more endurable than the Ferris wheel as the ferris wheel was tipping over to the side.

Sweet Tooth was loosing his footing when this occured as Robin jumped off the Ferris wheel, and landed on her sprouted arms. She ran across them to get towards the coaster track before dismissing her arms as the ferris wheel then crashed into the ground with a loud thud. Robin turned back, having no clue if Sweet Tooth fell with the ferris wheel or not. She soon got her answer as she saw Sweet Tooth pulling himself up on the tracks too while still having his chainsaw.

"Unbelievable…" Robin said in awe, surprised to see Sweet Tooth still alive, inspite of everything he went through.

Once Sweet Tooth got on the track, he could hear something behind him. He looked back, and saw the roller coaster, racing along the tracks. Robin saw this too as the roller coaster was coming at her and Sweet Tooth with great speed. "Hmph!" Sweet Tooth took out a remote, and pushed a button, causing the coaster to slow down enough for him to jump on. He then looked at Robin, who gasped as the coaster was now going fast again.

"VEINTE FLEUR!" Robin jumped off the tracks as arms sprouted from the side of them, and caught Robin. The arms then swung Robin from underneath that tracks, and over them as she managed to jump on the back seat of the roller coaster.

Sweet Tooth turned around, and saw her, keeping her balance on the coaster while it was moving. Sweet Tooth then headed towards Robin with his chainsaw, but did it slowly so he wouldn't fall off the coaster. Robin waited for him to come closer as Sweet Tooth yelled while lowering his chainsaw down at her. "CIEN FLEUR!" Robin got out of the way as she sprouted over fifty arms around Sweet Tooth, binding him in place as Robin was moving towards the front seats of the coaster. The other fifty arms she sprouted where at a far distance of the track. The arms were pushing down the support beams, tearing the track apart as this was Robin's cue to leave.

She dismissed the sprouted arms around Sweet Tooth and on the tracks as she leaped out of the coaster, "CIEN FLEUR, WING!" Robin sprouted a countless amount of arms from her back, which formed into a pair of wings.

As Sweet Tooth saw her gently flap herself down at the floor, he looked ahead of the tracks, and saw that they were leading off course. "SHIT!" Sweet Tooth snarled. He screamed as the coaster flew out of the tracks, and headed all the way down towards the house below.

KABOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO
OOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO OOOOOMMMMMMMMM!

The coaster went through the roof of the house before it let out an explosion. The house was now getting burned to bits as Robin approached it while keeping her distance. She panted as she saw the fire get bigger.

"Did that kill him!" Robin asked. She couldn't tell if Sweet Tooth was still alive from the outside of the house, but she then saw the front side of the house getting blown to bits. She couldn't see what's inside, except for these big glowing eyes staring at her. Robin eyes widened in fear as she then jumped away before a big truck came out of the house.

Robin nearly fell on the ground as she then observed this vehicle. It looked like Sweet Tooth's ice cream truck, but with some differences. It was black, it was bigger, and it had mechanic jaws in the front. It still had the same demonic clown figure head ontop as Robin could see Sweet Tooth driving this monstrous thing- Dark Tooth. Sweet Tooth puts his truck in reverse, turning towards Robin while backing away, and then puts it in on drive while getting his truck ready.

"It's time that I take this game a little more seriously!" Sweet Tooth snarled. "How fast can you run? HA HA HA HA!"

Sweet Tooth drove his truck at Robin, who leaped sideways as the truck drove by her. Robin didn't waste any time to get away as she ran between the food stands to buy some time. Sweet Tooth drove back to where Robin left to, and crashed through the stands with ease. The jaws of the Dark Tooth teared it's path clean as Sweet Tooth could see Robin several feet ahead. "Take this!" Sweet Tooth fired some missiles at Robin, which exploded behind as she fell on her chest. She quickly rolled to the side, avoiding the truck again as it drove by her again. Robin then ran down to the center of the carnival, and saw a big circus tent there.

"I don't know what's in there, but I can't stop running now!" Robin said as she headed towards the tent. It was then that she saw the Dark Tooth appearing in front of her as it came skidding across the ground sideways before blocking Robin's path.

"Ha!" Sweet Tooth fired five simultaneous missiles from the side of his truck towards Robin, who sprouted arms from the stand next to her that pulled her out of the way before the missiles released a small explosion upon impact. Sweet Tooth then drove his truck towards Robin again, but this time, Robin jumped while sprouting multiple arms from the jaws of his truck, preventing them from closing down on her.

Robin stood on the truck's jaw while it was jammed as she glared at Sweet Tooth through the windshield. She sprouted arms from Sweet Tooth's body again as they moved his arms on the steering wheel. The arms forced Sweet Tooth to steer his truck around in a mid-circle, facing the circus tent ahead. Sweet Teeth lifted his foot off the gas pedal to stop the truck from moving, but Robin was one step ahead as she sprouted arms around there as they pushed the gas pedal. The truck headed towards the tent with great speed, and Sweet Tooth kept stomping on the sprouted arms, inflicting pain to Robin more by the second. Robin held on as the truck went through the tent, and got inside.

"Oh, that's it!" Sweet Tooth managed to grab a hold on a machine gun on the passenger seat, and aimed at Robin's face, but the sprouted arms that were steering the truck steered the truck to the side quickly, causing Sweet Tooth to lose his composure as he fired his machine gun upward.

"CUARENTA FLEUR, BED!" Robin leaped off the front of the truck as arms sprouted from the ground, and caught Robin before she could land on the ground. Sweet Tooth was now free to control his truck again, but it was too late. The truck tipped over to the side, and tumbled sideways repeatedly until it landed straight back up again.

The sprouted arms disappeared as Robin dazedly got up, feeling a little exhausted as she then saw Sweet Tooth facing his truck at her again. Sweet Tooth didn't say a word; he only readied his ice-cream truck, and plan to run over Robin with it. Robin took note of her surroundings, and for once, everything around her looked like an ordinary circus tent would have. This didn't ease Robin, though, as she was ready for anything unexpected.

"AAAAAAGHH!" Sweet Tooth drove his truck at Robin once more, and while he did, he pushed a button that caused all the missiles and weaponry he had appeared from all the sides of his ice cream truck.

Robin simply closed her eyes, and crossed her limbs, ready to sprout arms at any moment. Little that Sweet Tooth knows, Robin actually sprouted an eye from the passenger seat inside Sweet Tooth's truck. She observed carefully at Sweet Tooth holding his ignition button on his steering wheel. Once it seemed that Sweet Tooth was about to fire, Robin sprouted an arm in the center of his steering wheel as it punched Sweet Tooth in the face. "Ooh!" Sweet Tooth accidentally steered the other way, and fired his weaponry at another direction when he got hit as he drove his truck by Robin again, who kept her guard up as Sweet Tooth was driving around to get towards her again.

It was then that spikes emerged from the balance beams of the circus tent, much to Robin's surprise as Sweet Tooth then pressed another button, causing the spikes to fire out all directions. Some of the spikes struck Robin on her knees, and most others left cuts on the sides of her skin. "Ahh!" Robin collapsed on her knees, leaving her wide open for an attack as Sweet Tooth drove at her one more time.

"DIIIIIEEEEE!" Sweet Tooth yelled as Robin glared back at him while still on her knees.

"DOSCIENTOS FLEUR!" With all her might, Robin sprouted over 200 arms from the side of the tent as they formed into a giant wave, "OCEAN WAVE!" The arms went towards the truck from the sidelines by unsprouting the arms on the far back, and reappearing from the front to make it look like it's moving. Sweet Tooth saw the arms coming, but it was too big to try and drive away from them as he could only watch as they came closer.

SLAAAAAAAAAAMMMMMMMMMMMMM!

The arms slammed into the Dark Tooth, crushing it along with Sweet Tooth inside. The arms then all disappeared simultaneously as they revealed that the truck was nearly into a garbage cube.

Robin was nearly losing conscious after that as she tried to get up, but didn't had much energy left in her. It was then that there banging sounds coming from within the ice cream truck. Robin didn't even bother to look as Sweet Tooth got himself free of his own crushed truck by punching the doors open. He pulled himself up from the drivers seat, and limplessly fell into the ground, as was nearly soaked in blood, it's a miracle that he was still alive.

"Oohh… hergh! Hargh!" Sweet Tooth got up, and looked at Robin for a minute. He snarled as he walked towards her while giving off a murderous glare. Robin didn't do anything but to stay in that spot she was on as Sweet Tooth pulled her up by the hair, and punched her across the face. Robin cried in pain as Sweet Tooth then grabbed her by the head, and gave her a headbutt in the face before dropping her on the ground.

Robin was bleeding from her head now as she tried to crawl away, but Sweet Tooth kept kicking her from the sides, trying to break her down as much as he could before he could kill her.

"It's been fun… I had my fun… now…" Sweet Tooth leaned down, and grabbed Robin by the neck again while raising his arm back, "I will beat you senseless before I go, and kill your friends. I'll make sure they die quick so you can all be together forever in the depths of hell! Bye bye!"

"YYAAAAHH!" Robin glared at Sweet Tooth before she sprouted arms from Sweet Tooth's shoulder. They pulled his shoulder back until they broke it. Sweet Tooth cried in pain as he took some steps back, while Robin got up, and sprouted more arms on Sweet Tooth's other shoulder. They broke that shoulder too, causing Sweet Tooth to fall on his knees as all the arms on him grabbed hold of him tightly. "CLUTCH!" The arms then snapped Sweet Tooth's back again as he fell limplessly on his back, with Robin hoping that he is dead this time. Unfortunately for her, Sweet Tooth was still breathing as he managed to get himself up with broken arms. Robin stepped away, and couldn't take it anymore.

"Why are you doing this!" Robin asked, "Is revenge that important to you that you are willing to go this far! Look at you; you can barely walk anymore!"

Sweet Tooth was panting as his body was shaking in pain. It looked like he didn't wanted to die, "I can't afford to lose my life again… I just can't!" Sweet Tooth yelled, "You know nothing of hell, nor it's limits." Sweet Tooth coughed before speaking again, "Even hell is not as dreadful as the things I have been through before the moment I died! Actually, I don't even remember what real hell felt like before I lost my life, but I can clearly remember the things that happened before I did, that I wished that I died sooner!"

Robin calmed down as she looked curious for what Sweet Tooth was trying to say, "You're saying that as you didn't expect what was coming to you. You knew the dreadful things you did to people; it's not like you weren't going to get killed for it!"

"Huh… yeah, I figured my work would end one day." Sweet Tooth shrugged, "But…" He then started shaking again, as if he was remembering something scary, "… I didn't believe I would get caught so easily. It's all because of that day, I swore to get my revenge the moment I came back to life." Sweet Tooth then looked up, "I was once the greatest assassin of all time; I was known throughout the world as the unstoppable killing machine. I wreaked havoc to every place I went, and enjoyed it all to the part of hearing a dying heartbeat of a little innocent girl. It was such a great time. Even my dreams were so wonderful; I'd dreamed that other people would get there life back together by killing off the people they loathe the most. I was living the greatest time of my life in that point… but the strange thing in life is that it can turn upside-down in a matter of seconds…"

Sweet Tooth then remembered back in the day when he was driving through a dark and empty street. "It all happened that one night… when I met the man that ruined me!"

One night, Sweet Tooth was driving his ice cream truck through a dark and empty street after killing a family that were on their way home after playing in the park. Sweet Tooth then stopped his truck when he saw somebody blocking the road. It turned out to be a man, but Sweet Tooth couldn't see him that well from where he was. He decided not to think about as he tried to run over the man with his truck. The man, however, didn't move out of the way as he took out a sword, and much to Sweet Tooth's surprise, the man charged at Sweet Tooth head on.

"At first, I figured the bastard was trying to be some kind hero, and I tried doing the right thing by ending his life there and then, but… he somehow took me down in that moment!"

It was now raining as Sweet Tooth's ice cream truck was covered in flames. Sweet Tooth was lying on the ground, nearly losing consciousness as the man that walked up to him. Sweet Tooth looked up to the man in fear, but still couldn't see his face. He could only see the man's silhouette as three rays of light shined down on him.

"That man… was a complete freak! He alone was he able to stop me, just him! I couldn't do anything after that because I lost conciousness during that time. The worst part was when I woke up."

Sweet Tooth woke up, and appeared to be in a small empty room. There was nothing special about this place, but the more he was in there, the more he was shivering.

"There was something about that room I was in that was making me lose my mind." Sweet Tooth said while shaking even more, "It was much worse then the time I was held in that asylum. I felt like I was loosing something, but I didn't know what! In just ten seconds, I already wanted to get out of there!"

Sweet Tooth yelled as he tried to slam the door open, but it opened by itself as he fell on his chest. He looked up, and saw the man that caught him in front of him. Sweet Tooth could have attacked him, but he was so afraid, he couldn't control his emotions.

"I wanted to kill that guy so bad, but…"

Sweet Tooth then saw another man walking by while writing something down in his clipboard. He knocked the guy down, and took his pen. Sweet Tooth then did the unthinkable; he stabbed himself deep into his chest. He wanted to kill himself.

"I wanted to end the pain, and I thought that man would do something to keep me alive, but he did the opposite!"

The man simply stared down at Sweet Tooth dying before walking away. Sweet Tooth's eyes widened in fear, and extended his arm to try to get to the man, but died in agony soon afterwards.

"I know what he took from me that day! He took away my pride! He destroyed my reputation!" Sweet Tooth yelled, "By the time I came back to life, I did some research on my world, and it turns out that nobody remembers me! Every memory I left into their minds were gone, they don't even remember their siblings I killed! I can never forget that man for what he did; it torments me from within just trying to forget about him and his actions! It's a complete nightmare!" Sweet Tooth then somehow snapped his shoulders back in place by swaying them around a bit. He then limped towards Robin, "That's why I need to stay alive, so I can go, and kill the man that completely took away my life's work! I will make him pay for taking everything away from me!… But first, I am going to kill you!"

Robin was silent; she had nothing to comment for what Sweet Tooth just told her. She then looked stoic while looking at Sweet Tooth, "… After all that, you still haven't learned the consequences of yours actions! You're still going to kill!

The smash ball in Robin's pocket then glowed as a colorful aura enveloped from her body. She slowly crossed her limbs while standing straight as gust of flower petals flew around her body, "I will bring you fear… FINAL SMASH!"

The petals were then blown away, and disappeared into thin air. At first, nothing was happening, Sweet Tooth had no idea what Robin just did. He then found out as a regular arm was sprouting out from the ground in front of him, but it was sprouting more slower than usual.

"Ha ha… ha ha ha ha ha! What is this!" Sweet Tooth laughed, "Is this the best you got? Just one little arm! You have really lost here, woman! Ha ha ha!"

Robin didn't reply as she kept her limbs crossed. Sweet Tooth sighed as he walked over to the sprouted arm, "This will just take a second." Sweet Tooth took out his knife, and cuts the sprouted arm's hand off. Sweet Tooth expected to hear a scream from Robin, but she didn't. What was stranger was that the arm started to wiggle. "Hmm!" Suddenly, several more arms sprouted from the wrist, which looked kinda gross as Sweet Tooth stepped back. "What's going on here!"

"This is your punishement…" Robin replied with a devilish glare. More arms then started to slowly all over the tent, much to Sweet Tooth's shock, "You will forever regret the day you have existed… I will take you back to hell now… INFINITO FLEUR; PESADILLA ETERNEL!"

Sweet Tooth started slashing through the arms sprouting out from the ground, but that only made more arms to appear from those decapitated arms. One of the arms grabbed him by the ankle, which startled him as he quickly broke free. The sight of many arms trying to grab him got to him as he then escaped from the tent. But when he got outside, things weren't looking so pretty.

"This can't be!" Sweet Tooth yelled.

The entire carnival, including the tent over it had arms coming out of it now. The whole place was filled with arms as some of them were also appearing from the stands, the rides, even from the mouth's of the figure heads on the garbage cans. Sweet Tooth tried running away, but the arms grabbed, and held him in place. "No! Stay back!" Sweet Tooth tried breaking free, but it was no use as the arms that were holding him grew longer, and held him up high in the center of the carnival. He yelled as he could see Robin looking up at him with that devilish glare of hers. The arms from above also grabbed Sweet Tooth around his upper body. To make it short, almost every arm sprouted in the carnival was holding onto Sweet Tooth from different angles. "I can't.. eh.. I CAN'T DIE LIKE THIS!"

He managed to get his arm free, and face his knife towards his face, "I only have one chance!" Sweet Tooth tried to commit suicide, but to his surprise, arms appeared from his body, and knocked the knife out of his hand. "Ahh!"

"No… I won't let you get away from me!" Robin growled, almost sounding like a devil to Sweet Tooth, "You must pay for the lives you have taken! You will die!"

The arms were now almost finished covering Sweet Tooth's entire body, and the entire carnival below as well as Sweet Tooth lost his composure for good.

"NNNNNNNNNNNNNOOOOOOO
OOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO
OOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO
OOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO OOOOOO!"

CRRRRRRRRRRRRRRRRAAAA AAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA
AAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA AAAAAAACCCCCCCCCCCCC
CCCCCCCCCCCCCCCKKKK KKKKKKKKKKKKKKK KKKKK!

From outside the carnival tent, the tent collapsed as everything inside the tent also fell into pieces.

Preview: Man… what is with this castle; it's so huge and confusing. I don't think I'm getting anywhere here, it's like a mystery castle. Next time on One Piece: A Smash Adventure; Chapter 124: A doctor's cure; Chopper vs Hojo. I am gonna be the Pirate King!

Whoa… I kinda feel sorry for Sweet Tooth now… anyway, 'Pesadilla Eternel' means 'Eternal Nightmare' just incase you wanted to know. I am going to try, and update the next chapter a little faster this time. Well, that's all for today! Ciao for now!

As I promised, I updated quicker this time… well not really, but this is still quicker. Honestly, I don't know how this fight turned out, but I'll let you guys decide if it was good or not. Have fun!

A demented priority. Franky defeated one of the Obscurum rulers, Sigma. After that, Frankfy went back to the elevator to take a long trip back to the castle. Meanwhile, Robin confronted Sweet Tooth in his own, crazy turf known as 'Carnage Tooth'; a demonic carnival Sweet Tooth made. Inspite of the territory advantage, Robin used her deadly final smash to defeat Sweet Tooth, and destroy his carnival. Will the rulers make a comeback, or will the Strawhats continue taking them down one by one?

Chapter 124: A doctor's cure, Chopper vs Hojo

The carnival's tent collapsed from within, and loud destructive noises could be heard as well. When the tent finally fell flat, spreading it's fabric and structure all over the garden, everything went silent. Lumps of rubble could be seen under the flat tent, and one of them was moving along the ground.

"Eh…" From under the tent, someone teared a hole, and emerged from the ground while being mildly covered in dust. It turned out to be Robin, who was finally safe and sound as she looked at her new surroundings. She could see that the carnival, Carnage Tooth, was now completely destroyed.

"That takes care of this unwanted structure…" Robin said to herself as she looked around. She looked on ahead, and saw an entrance back to the dark castle. She didn't see that earlier due to the big tent that was in her way. "Finally… a way inside…" Robin was about to walk into the entrance, but stopped as she realized something. She felt that something was unfinished as she turned around with a stern look. "I doubt it, but… I must make sure…"

Robin walked around the rubble, looking for something in particular, or in her case, someone. As she walked deep into the center of the rubble, she went walking on a red and wet surface. she looked down on the liquid, and realized that it was blood. Robin didn't flinch over this, however, as she continued walking closer to the center, walking past the bloody path, even though it wasn't necessary.

When she finally reached towards the center, she found what she was looking for. She looked down, and frowned upon the small object in front of her. It turned out to be Sweet Tooth's mask, laying on the ground with it's front part looking up at the dark atmosphere. There was some blood dripping off from it, and it appeared to be the only thing left of Sweet Tooth after what Robin did to him.

"You foul creature…" Robin said sternly while looking at the mask, "I hope you are satisfied… now, you can forever loathe humanity in the afterlife. No one will disturb you, except for your own twisted mind…" Robin then placed her foot on the mask, "Don't fret; I will make sure that not even this deceased planet will bring you back. I will make sure… that every sin you have committed… will always be forgotten!"

With one push of her leg, Robin destroyed Sweet Tooth's mask into pieces, destroying the last piece of what used to be a part of a once-known famous assassin.

Meanwhile…

Chopper slowly, and somewhat nervously, entered into the laboratory he discovered in the last chapter. He closed the door quietly before exploring around this experimental facility. "Oohh…" Chopper was both astounded and frightened of this dark lab.

The laboratory was dark and eerie; there was a green light coming from around the room that's making the lab faintly bright. The room had green capsules, which are used to put creatures inside, that are lined up against the walls, but had nothing but green liquid glowing from the inside, explaining why the lab has a green light . There were several tables, with different kinds of chemicals and jars filled with different kinds of organs on top. The lab also contained two big containers at each side of the room, with something glowing through their round windows, but it was hard to tell what lurked inside. In the center of the lab, lied a experimentation desk, where scientists would use to lay their subjects on, and experiment on them.

A lightbulb hanging from the ceiling was shining it's light above the desk, but it was flickered with each second passing by. Chopper approached the desk, noticing the belts that are used to restrain the subjects into the desk. The desk also smells bad, causing Chopper to almost gag as he walked away from it. "Eww… this place is scary." Chopper said to himself.

Suddenly, Chopper could hear noises coming from the other side of the lab. With a mild brave look on his face, Chopper went to check out what was going on. He walked past some chemical tables and capsules until he found someone at the end of the room, mixing black chemicals together on a chemical table, that also had a small lamp illuminating the man's surroundings a bit.

It was none other than Hojo, who raised a vile filled with a purple substance up towards a light to look at it better. He flicked the vile atleast twice to see a reaction from the substance, but nothing happened. He sighed as he placed the vile back on the vile holder, and started writing something down on a research paper.

Chopper couldn't tell it was Hojo since Hojo was facing his back towards him, so Chopper cautiously approached him from behind. "Um… excuse me…"

"Hrrgh…" Hojo groaned while putting his pencil down, and laying his hands on the side of his chemical table, "Truly a unique moment…" He said without looking back, "Usually, a monster barges into a room, and destroys everything in sight. Naturally, this sort of behavior is common for a monster; the act of going berserk, and killing everybody that shuns it isn't because it lacks the ability to refrain itself, but it's because that it's in their blood to wreak havoc at all costs. That is why they are called monsters in the first place." Hojo explained before turning his head to the side, "You, on the other hand, just calmly comes in here, making sure you don't break anything with your little hooves, and to leave everything nice and clean, so you don't upset the people who uses this facility every now and then. You're acting like a regular person with a regular morality. I find that in something like you so… stupid."

Hojo then turned towards Chopper with a smuggish grin while he straightened his tie. Chopper was shocked as he instantly remembered who Hojo was while taking a step back.

"I know you! You're that man who almost killed me back then!" Chopper said angrily while getting into a stance. Hojo chuckled while adjusting his glasses.

"I see you're still alive and healthy; I didn't expect to meet the freak who destroyed my beloved research on the night we met…" Hojo said while his eye twitched a little, "Have you come to destroy more of my work to ease your envy over my success as a real man of science?"

"Shut up!" Chopper yelled, "I came here to stop whatever it is you're trying to do to Obscurum!"

"Oh…" Hojo said with a frown, "You're still spouting nonsense, as usual. You truly are a freak of nature that I could never comprehend." He turned back towards his table, and picked up a clipboard. "Hmm, the symptoms react in a mild manner when I hold them up to the light, but react more when I hold them up to dark places. But the density increases when it's reflected by the light… and from the side where the symptoms are being shined on, it automatically pushes away from the light, and from the side of the vile as well." Hojo then rubbed his chin while thinking deeply, "The core emits a light as well, and the dark element life substance forming around the core is being pushed back by it… could this be why this planet has no mass? Hmm… perhaps if I come up with a new hypothesis, I might find the answer."

"Hey, don't ignore me!" Chopper yelled while swaying his arms up and down.

Hojo placed his clipboard back on the table, and faced towards Chopper again, "You are obnoxiously loud; do you mind! I'm trying to discover something, and I don't have time to deal with the lower lifeforms!"

"I don't care what you think!" Chopper said while bravely taking a step forward, "I am going to stop you if it's the last thing I do! I won't let you destroy everybodys' lifestyle for your own personal goals!"

"What am I to you; a barbarian!" Hojo asked, "Do you think you can provoke me into some pointless quarrel of good and evil by saying things that I think differently of! Please… I am not a retard! I am a superior lifeform with great intellect, and I have more important things to do then to figure out why a rectangular-shaped block cannot fit through a triangle-shaped hole like common people do!"

Hojo then turned towards his table again as Chopper was getting a little impatient. "He doesn't want to fight me?" Chopper thought while watching Hojo observing the chemicals from earlier, "Oh, I don't know what to do here… I can't just walk away; he's a terrible man, and I must do something to stop him… but I can't just attack someone who won't fight back; that would make me the bad guy… but if I don't attack him, I would end up being a coward." Chopper then closed his eyes out of frustration, "Oooh, what do I do! There must be a way to do this properly!"

"Since you're still here…" Hojo began to say without looking at Chopper, "I might as well ask you something." Hojo then glanced over at Chopper, "How is it that a freak of nature, such as yourself, have such an interest in helping others?"

"Huh?" Chopper said confusedly.

"You claimed before that you were a doctor, correct? I don't believe that someone of your stature could have achieved such knowledge alone. There must have been somebody that taught you how to act like a human being, and turned you into their own puppet."

"No! Don't say that!" Chopper yelled before looking away, "… Doctor Hiruluk… he took care of me. He inspired me to become a doctor…" Chopper then looked at Hojo confidently, "One day, I am going to become a great doctor that can cure all diseases! Nobody has to worry about illnesses anymore, because I will do everything I can to make people have healthy lives!"

Hojo blinked in confusion as he then snickered before bursting into laughter, "Kha ha ha ha ha! What silly dreams you have! Is it because that 'friend' of yours was so much of a failure, that he gave you false hope to make himself feel better?"

"DON'T MAKE FUN OF HIM!" Chopper replied with a deadly glare.

Hojo frowned upon seeing Chopper's expression, and sighed with a smuggish look while looking away, "Well, none of that matters now. While you try to accomplish your fantasies, I am already living in mine. I have discovered so many gorgeous things in my world, and I have done so much to make good use of them… sadly, nobody shares my kind of enthusiasm. They all wanted me to die… hmm hmm, and yet, I am still here, discovering more wonders that nature can produce. They just don't understand that people like you and me are trying to make life better than before. It's people like us that have true value, unlike the people who love to count how many times they fart each year. In conclusion, Even though we may be researchers of different levels, we both share the same taste in discovering new things for the better good." Hojo then glanced over at Chopper again, "Don't you think so?"

Chopper calmed down, and couldn't help but respond, "Y-Yes. I think so…"

"Good. I'm glad you said that." Hojo said while facing towards Chopper. He then walked towards the corner of the room, "Come, come; allow me to show you my latest research of this deceased planet so far."

Chopper felt reluctant in following Hojo, but he did so nonetheless as he was curious what Hojo was working on. Once Chopper stood next to Hojo, Hojo pushed a secret button on the wall, causing a hidden door to open, revealing another container inside. "Whoa! Isn't that-!"

"Yes, it is." Hojo replied with a smirk.

Unlike the other containers, this one had several lights shining from the inside. What lurked inside this container happens to be one of the mysterious dark creatures that attacked the Strawhat crew while they were in the dark fortress back then. It was a female humanoid dark creature to be precise as it cowered in the center of the container, shivering in fear from the blinding light. This horrified Chopper as he took some steps back from the container. Hojo, on the other hand, enjoyed the despair of his 'specimen'.

"That is one of the monsters that I saw before we got here…" Chopper said in awe.

"… They are rather vicious, aren't they?" Hojo asked, "I know how you feel; when me and my comrades first entered this dark town, these ferocious creatures came out of the bloom, and attacked us without remorse. Strangely, this castle is the only thing that's keeping them away. Once we found out how to transport ourselves into the castle and out without hesitation, these creatures here were no longer any threat to us… but I must say, catching one of them alive was rather difficult. Atleast this one here was worth the catch."

"What is it?" Chopper asked.

"I am not exactly sure yet." Hojo said while rubbing his chin, "But what I can confirm is that by observing this one creature here, I can say that all of them have very special qualities. I have a theory that they must be the inhabitants of this land."

"Really?" Chopper asked while looking at Hojo.

"Possibly. You can even say that these creatures used to be the residents of Obscurum before it's demise." Hojo replied, "However, that does remind me of something else I haven't figured out yet. You see, several weeks ago, when I was reborn again, this land here… suddenly appeared right in front of me and my new comrades. It was very strange, and I have yet to find out why. What I find more irritating about this though is that Xemnas knows something about this place, and has the gall to deny he does!" Hojo then clenched his fist in anger, "Whatever he is hiding, I will soon figure it out! And I will learn more things about this world, things that he will never comprehend. I swear it!"

"So… it is true. This entire land is a part of Obscurum!" Chopper exclaimed as he then grew angry, "Then that means you guys were trespassing! Those spirits out there were just trying to protect there land, and you guys are destroying it!"

"Don't be ridiculous!" Hojo replied while adjusting his glasses, "What I said before is just a theory; I have no proof that these foul creatures used to be residents here!" Hojo then walked up to the container, and looked through the glass, startling the dark creature inside, "I have done countless of experiments to this specimen… but I have yet to be finished." Hojo then looked at Chopper, "I'm willing to forget that little 'incident' that occurred that night we met if you do me one favor." Hojo then pointed at the female dark creature, "I would like for you to mate with this creature, I want to see if she could reproduce. If she doesn't in the first try, feel free to mate with her as many times as you like until she does."

"A-ARE YOU INSANE!" Chopper gawked. "What can you possibly get out of that!"

"You'd be surprised. Heh heh…" Hojo snickered.

Chopper then grew furious as he got into his fighting stance, "I have enough of this! You're not doing all this research for the better, you're just doing it for yourself! I can't let you treat humanity this way!"

"Oh, really? How do you suppose you are going to stop me?" Hojo asked cockily.

"I… will beat you up so hard, you will forget who you are! That's a promise!" Chopper yelled. Hojo sighed once more while facing towards the container.

"Really, now… that's quite a shame." Hojo said, "Here I thought that you would help me with my research, yet I have no choice, but to kill you now."

"You can't kill me! If I have to die, then I will after I am finished with you!" Chopper said bravely.

"Is that so?" Hojo asked before looking up, "You better do it quickly then; the cells are multiplying by the second."

"Huh?" Chopper said curiously.

KAPOW!

"AAHH!" Chopper was knocked by something hard as he crashed into the wall beside him. Chopper groaned as he then saw Hojo's favorite pets, the Bad Rap Sample, and the Poodler Sampler. Chopper frowned as these two aquatic creatures approached him, while Hojo merely smirked while standing between them.

"You remember my pets, don't you?" Hojo asked, "I'll let you play with them a little while longer until I can figure out what a better way to make use of you."

"Shut up!" Chopper as he turned into his Heavy point, and tried socking Hojo in the face, but the samples wrapped their tentacles around his arms, pulling him back as he stopped Chopper from harming their master. "Graah!" Chopper tried breaking free, but the samples held him tight as they were trying to pull Chopper's arms out of his body. "No.. you.. DON'T!" Chopper overpowered the samples by pulling back his arms up close to his chest, pulling the samples towards him as they both ended up hitting each other hard. The Bad Rap Sample got the worst of the damage since he had a soft head as Chopper then grabbed it, and threw it across several chemicals on a table.

"Hragh!" Chopper then grabbed the poodler sample by it's purple tentacles, and swung it around in circles above his head before slamming it down hard on the floor. "HEAVY GONG!" Chopper slammed his fist down at the Poodler sample, crushing it's brown shell, and it's body it had inside as it appeared dead soon afterwards.

It was then that the Bad Rap sample appeared from over the tables, and flew towards Chopper's face. Chopper grabbed the sample's head before it got to him, turned around, and slammed it through an empty table next to a wall. It remained motionless afterwards as Chopper faced towards Hojo, who for some reason, was smiling.

"Is this all you got! I can still fight!" Chopper yelled.

"I know…" Hojo said while taking out a small capsule from underneath his labcoat, "CAPSULE!" Hojo threw the capsules, which glowed into spheres of energy as they flew past Chopper.

"Huh?" Once Chopper turned around to see what happened, he saw that the Samples were alive again as the Poodler Sample rammed it's shell into Chopper's gut. "Ugh!" Chopper staggered back as the Bad Rap sample approached him, and repeatedly swung it's tentacles at him. Chopper felt like he was being whipped as he walked back while blocking the Samples strikes with his forearms. Chopper then threw a fist at the sample while it was open, but it moved to the side to avoid, and countered by whipping it's tentacle at Chopper between the eyes. "Ohh!" Chopper covered his face in pain as the Poodler Sample rammed his shell into Chopper's foot.

"OOohh!" Chopper was now jumping up and down while holding his foot in pain.

"Kha ha ha ha! You insignificant creature! Not only you live for false dreams, but you completely are a pathetic monster!" Hojo laughed.

"Ehh!" Chopper could see that the Bad Rap Sample was about to hit him again, but Chopper quickly leaned back, avoiding the tentacle as it flew over his face, but leaned too far as he fell back. "WALK POINT!" While turning around, Chopper turned into his walk point, and galloped alongside the room.

"Hmm?" Hojo watched Chopper run as the samples tried to catch him. While galloping by several capsules against the wall, Chopper jumped around the corner, and galloped along the empty walls for a second while the samples chasing him lost control of their speed, and crashed into the empty wall. "What is he up to?"

"Here I come!" Chopper bounced off the wall when he reached to another corner, and galloped towards Hojo, who didn't seem like he was going to get away. Chopper then transformed into his Heavy point, and leaped towards Hojo, "HEAVY GONG!" Chopper struck Hojo across the face hard.

"OOOUUGHH!" Hojo soured across the room until he crashed head first on the wall behind him. He limplessly fell on the ground afterwards as Chopper went towards him, but got struck from behind by the Poodler sample.

"Eh!" Chopper fell on his hands and knees as the Bad Rap sample showed up, and wrapped his tentacles around Chopper's neck from behind, and pulled his head up to start choking him. "Gyah… ah!" Chopper tried to get Bad Rap off of him, but the Poodler Sample made sure he didn't move again by ramming his shell into his back again. Chopper cried in pain until he then gasped in shock upon seeing Hojo getting up as if he didn't get hurt at all. "Wh-What!"

"That's twice you've strucked me." Hojo said with a smirk, "If I wasn't prepared, you would've killed me a long time ago."

"H-How are you still-gah!" Chopper choked upon the tentacles around his neck.

"Hee hee hee! Curious, aren't you? I might as well share my secret." Hojo said, taking out a shot filled with the purple substance he was researching on seconds ago, "This here contains the dark element life that Obscurum gives out, and revive the dead. I like to call them Obscurum's tears, because this dead planet cries upon receiving so much sorrow of the deceased, and gives it away to those who bring more sorrow to their enemies. Doesn't that sound wonderful?"

"Grr!" Chopper replied while trying to break free of the samples.

"I extracted this from the dark creature I have here, who is nothing, but dark element life, just like Obscurum gathers." Hojo explained. "One day, while I tried to figure out what to do with it, I decided that I should inject this substance into my body." Hojo said with a smirk, "And you know what; it has given me what mankind has forever desired… immortality! By injecting dark element life into me, it has given me more then I ever bargained for! Not only this dead world can revive people, but could keep people alive as long as you know what are you doing with this stuff! However, the side effects were disturbing; every time I get into the light, I would have a seizure, and after it stops, my body would feel very strange. So, in order to keep my body intact, I constantly inject myself with dark element life every time I would feel strange in the slightest."

Hojo then injected himself with the dark element life in the neck, and threw the shot away while his eyes glew purple for a second. "Ahh… that felt wonderful! I feel completely recovered!" Hojo exclaimed, "You see, I am living in your dreams! I have already found a cure for all diseases, and we're surrounded by it! Kha ha ha ha ha ha!"

"Huagh!" Chopper thrusted his fist into Hojo's gut, knocking him down on his rear. Chopper then unwrapped Bad Rap's tentacles off his neck, and grabbed it and Poodler by their tentacles. "That's not a cure you discovered…" Chopper yelled while charging at Hojo with his Sample creatures, "You created a virus!"

Chopper then swung both Bad Rap and Poddler into Hojo's face, "Goh!" Hojo cried as tumbled back. Chopper then spun around the sample creatures, and threw them into Hojo. They crashed hard into Hojo's chest as Hojo cried in pain, while Chopper walked over to a chemical table beside him, and lifted it above his head before throwing it at Hojo.

CRASH!

The table crashed into Hojo and his sample creatures up against the wall as Chopper panted afterwards. While Chopper took a little rest, the table started shaking, "CAPSULE X2!" The table then got blasted away into several pieces as Hojo stood up straight, with Bad Rap and Poodler beside him, including a new pair of clones, which caught Chopper by surprise. "It seems that two weren't enough for you, so I decided to make things more interesting!"

The samples then charged at Chopper, who got defensive as the two Bad Raps whipped their tentacles at him. Chopper blocked for several moments until he wrapped his arms around the Bad Raps' tentacles, and pulled them to him in order to deliver a headbutt at them at the same time. This dazed the two flying samples soon afterwards as Chopper held onto them like weapons as soon as he saw the two Poodler samples trying to attack him from both sides. "Haa!" Chopper turned into his original form, letting go of the Bad Rap samples as the Poodler samples accidentally rammed into them with their shells like a sandwich. Chopper took this chance to transform into his Heavy point again, and head towards Hojo.

"Grr!" Hojo growled before Chopper punched him in the gut. "Goh!" He cried as Chopper continued to deliver more blows, before grabbing Hojo by the shoulders, lifting him up above his head, and slamming him down on chemical table afterwards. "GAAH!" Hojo cried as his body fell on some glass from the chemical viles before rolling sideways on the ground in pain. Chopper wasn't satisfied as he approached Hojo from around the table, while Hojo crawled back while holding his stomach.

"Ow!" Chopper then got ambushed by all the samples from the side, knocking him down on the floor as the samples then dogpiled him. This gave Hojo the time to inject himself with more dark element life in order to recover his wounds.

"Ah… how dare you lay a finger on your superiors!" Hojo growled while grabbing a empty shot, and filling it up with a poisonous substance, "I'll show you not to get the better of me!" Hojo then ran at Chopper, and tried injecting him with poison, but Chopper took his hand out of the samples that were on him, and grabbed Hojo's incoming wrist. "Egh!" Hojo tried breaking free, but he was too weak as Chopper was able to get up while carrying the samples that were on him on his left shoulder. "Whoa!" Chopper knocked the scientist away as Hojo fell on his back. Chopper yelled as he then crushed the sample creatures onto Hojo himself. "Gwahh!"

Chopper then turned into his original form, and climbed above the sample creatures before jumping up in the air, "HEAVY PRESS!" Chopper turned back into his Heavy Point, and fell ontop of the sample creatures, crushing them really hard with his rear, that they were crushing Hojo harder into the ground underneath them.

"Ooowwaahh… CAPSULE X2!" Suddenly, all the four samples made replicas of themselves again, making them a total of eight now as the sudden clones knocked Chopper off of them.

"Wah!" Chopper nearly fell into the experimentation seat, but managed to land on his feet as the eight sample creatures charged at him head on. "Yah!" Chopper punched some Bad Raps and Poodlers out of the way, but was struck by the other samples several times around his arms on back. Chopper turned around to deal with them, but he got ambushed by the ones he attacked just now. The samples were finally starting to get to him as Chopper knelt down while raising his arms to his right side, "HEAVY SPIN!" Chopper stood up, and spun in circles with his arms extended, knocking away all the samples around him to get some room. Some of them tumbled across the ground, while the rest crashed into the walls as Chopper then headed for Hojo again.

"Stand back, you!" Hojo yelled as he grabbed a green vile from the desk, and threw at the ground beneath Chopper. The vile exploded into green smoke, catching Chopper by surprise as he started coughing repeatedly. Hojo got away from the smoke's range as he mocked Chopper from afar. "Kha ha ha! You're breathing in a substance that will paralyze your body! You are sure to lose now!"

"Ack… gah!" Chopper gagged as he could see the sample creatures getting back up, and charging at him again. Despite the ailment, Chopper held his ground by punching continuously at the samples around him. He grabbed a Bad Rap sample by the head, and used it as a shield to block an other Bad Rap sample's tentacle attacks before countering by throwing it's replica into it's face. They both fell over a chemical table before Chopper felt more dazed by the green smoke, and fell on one knee afterwards, "I can't let this beat me!" Chopper yelled as he stood up again, and punched away an incoming Poodler Sample by it's shell.

"Tch… those worthless creatures of mine! I have to do everything myself!" Hojo cursed as he turned towards a nearly unconscious Poodler sample beside, and picked it up with both hands, holding it up against his chest as he charged at Chopper while he distracted with the other samples. Once Chopper knocked away a Bad Rap sample, he faced forward, only to get his stomach rammed in by Hojo, who pushed his Poodler sample into Chopper's stomach hard.

"Ow!" Chopper staggered back, and fell on the experimentation chair, causing Hojo to smile as he quickly grabbed another shot, and tried injecting Chopper with poison again. "Wah!"

Chopper quickly turned into his original form as Hojo missed by stabbing his shot into the chair inches above Chopper's head. "Wha!" Hojo exclaimed as Chopper then took a vile of his own out of his backpack, and threw it into Hojo's face. "AHHH!" The vile released a small explosion upon impact as Hojo staggered back before tripping backwards onto the floor.

"Yaaaah!" Chopper jumped out of the chair, and fell on Hojo between his legs, causing Hojo to cringe in pain as Chopper then got on his chest, and repeatedly scratched his face with his hooves. "Take that! Take that! TAKE THAT!" As Chopper unleashed his fury upon the evil scientist, some Bad Rap samples stopped him by wrapped their tentacles around Chopper's body, and pulling him off of his creator. "Hey, let me go!" Chopper cried as the samples held him tight. Hojo groggily got back on his feet, momentarily cringed in pain from the low blow before limping towards Chopper.

"Die, you runt!" Hojo repeatedly kicked Chopper in the stomach while he was being held down, but this didn't last long as Chopper turned into his Heavy point, and double punched the scientist into the floor. "Ugh!"

"Huah!" Chopper then did a back roll, and got up on his feet before spinning the Bad Rap samples that were holding him with their tentacles, and slammed them down through a table, where they remained motionless soon afterwards. All of the sample creatures were now done as Chopper turned his attention to Hojo, who crawled towards a container at the side of the wall.

"Nyah!" Hojo turned the valve on the container's door, and opened it, letting out a different creature this time. Chopper looked at it as it appeared to be a black four-legged beast, with pupiless purple eyes, and a scar over one of them. "I got a new pet for you to play with! This one is named 'Black I'; he's a clone I made from one of those fools who took my priceless life away! I will make you it's chew toy!"

"I don't think so! I will destroy it just like I did with your other terrible experiments!" Chopper replied.

"Don't underestimate my work! Go get him!" Hojo demanded to Black I.

Black I charged at Chopper with great speed. Chopper barely had any time to react as Black I jumped on him, and knocked him on his back. "Egh!" Chopper held back Black I's head as it was trying to bite Chopper in the face. Chopper then knocked the beast over him with his feet, but the creature managed to roll onto it's paws as he turned towards Chopper while he was just getting up again. Black I then leaped, and did a midair roll, hitting Chopper across the face with it's tail as soon as he turned around. "Ow!" Chopper staggered as Black I zoomed right past him, leaving a claw scratch across his chest. "Wah!" Chopper fell on his back again, but quickly rolled sideways to avoid another claw attack by Black I.

"That's it, Black I! Tear that failure of a monster apart!" Hojo yelled before injecting more dark element life in him to recover more of his wounds.

Black I growled as he zigzagged his way towards Chopper while he was getting up, but Chopper stopped him by punching the creature's back. Black I let out a cry, but managed to land on it's paws, and growl at Chopper, who panted a bit. "He wasn't kidding… this creature really is strong…" Chopper thought in shock. Black I then emitted a black aura around his body, and leaped towards Chopper, who held up his arms, and threw a fist at the incoming creature. Chopper managed to hit Black I, but got burned by it's aura for the price. "Wahah!" Chopper swayed his hand to cool it off as Black I then fired black fireballs from it's mouth. "Whoa!" Chopper rolled to the side as the fireballs missed him.

"Shoot, I have to end this before that thing really kills me!" Chopper said as he charged at the four-legged creature. Black I leaped at him while firing more fireballs, but Chopper instantly turned into his Walk point, and galloped towards Black I before it could get back on the ground, and rammed his head into Black I's body. Black I growled in pain as Chopper knocked it down on the floor. Black I retaliated by trying to bite Chopper while getting up, but Chopper took a step back to avoid, and turned into his Heavy point. Chopper then clamped his hands together, and slammed them down on Black I's back hard enough to create a crack on the floor beneath it.

Black I was seriously hurt as it got up angrily, but wasn't moving as fast as before due to the pain. "Yes! I got it weaker! Now I just have to-GAH!" Chopper cried as he got clawed by something behind. Chopper fell on his hands and knees as he glanced back, and saw another Black I behind him.

"Heh heh heh heh…" Hojo chuckled as he was now at the other side of the room, next to the second container that he opened seconds ago, "I made another clone just incase if something would've happened to the first one. That is Black II; same as the first clone, but with a different name! Let's see how you try to prevent them from mauling you to death!"

Meanwhile…

Luffy, Zoro, Nami, and Usopp kept running along the empty halls until they saw a weird mirror ahead. They stopped in front of it so they can observe it. "Why is there a mirror here?" Usopp asked.

"That doesn't matter; we ran into a dead end." Zoro said.

"There has to be a way through here; there were no other passages along the way." Nami said.

"Hmm…" Luffy said while laying his hand against the mirror, "Maybe we should go outside, and-wah!" Luffy suddenly went through the mirror like a portal, which shocked his crewmates.

"Luffy!" Usopp gasped. Luffy then sticked his head out of the mirror, which shocked his crew again.

"Hey, guys, there is another hallway through here! Come on, it's okay!" Luffy said before disappearing into the mirror again.

"Ugh… is it safe to go through?" Usopp asked.

"We have no choice for that matter. Let's keep moving!" Zoro said as he, Nami, and Usopp went through the portal to regroup with Luffy.

Meanwhile…

The second clone, Black II, jumped on Chopper's back, and dug it's teeth into Chopper's shoulder. "Gaaahh!" Chopper cried as he started hitting Black II to force it off him, but that just made the clone even angrier as it bit harder, "Gaah… ragh!" Chopper leaped, and faced his back towards the floor, and landed with a thump, crushing Black II on his back like a flat pancake.

Black II loosened his teeth on Chopper's shoulder, allowing Chopper to get free from it as he turned towards the creature, and grabbed it hard by the neck.

Chopper intended to hit Black II, but once he pulled his arm back, Black I came out of nowhere, and bit Chopper in the arm. "Yah!" Chopper staggered back while trying to get the clone off him. Black II then retaliated by charging towards Chopper, and bit him by his leg. Chopper cried in pain even more as the clones were trying to force Chopper back on the ground.

"Get off of me!" Chopper yelled as he tried moving his arms and legs harder to knock the clones off of him. Hojo saw this, and grabbed a jar filled with organs from the table beside him. He hurried towards Chopper, and smashed the jar right into his face, as the shards and guts showered over Chopper's vision. "Guahwah!" Chopper was shocked by this as Black I and II managed to knock him down on his back, and started mauling him down non-stop. Chopper cried in agony for some time, but then turned back into his original form to get some time to counter. In order to get the clones away from him, he took out two explosive viles, and threw them at the clones at close range.

BOOM!

Both of the viles exploded simultaneously, creating a somewhat big explosion that knocked both Black I and II across the other side of the lab. "Gah!" Hojo got caught by the explosion as well as he tumbled backwards before he laid on his back. After the dust cloud from the explosion disappeared, Chopper could be seen with several bite marks around his body, and some of his blood coming out of most of them.

"Eh… ow…" Chopper groaned in pain while groggily getting up. He looked ahead, and noticed that the clones were still alive, but were severely injured as they too could barely move. "I… have to keep going!" Chopper said before turning into his walk point, and galloped towards the clones.

Before Black I and II could notice, Chopper rammed his head into Black II, and pushed it through a green capsule against the wall. The Capsules glass shattered into pieces as the green liquid flowed out of it, pouring over Black II, which dissolved soon as it's body touched the green liquid. Hojo sat up, and saw this occur.

"What! No! I knew it was too soon to let them loose!" Hojo yelled, "Their bodies were still developing their immune systems! They weren't ready to be released yet!" Hojo then injected dark element life into him again, healing his wounds completely as he got up quickly. "I'm still not ready for combat… I need to stall as much as I can!"

While Hojo ran to the far end of the room, Chopper stood away from the chemicals from the capsule as he watched Black II dissolve completely. "I don't know what happened, but I think this green chemical is their weakpoint!" Chopper exclaimed. Suddenly, Black I jumped on him from behind, and tried to maul at his shoulder, but Chopper quickly grabbed hold of him. "Take this!" Chopper yelled before throwing Black I through an intact capsule, and dissolved quickly once the chemicals flowed through him. Chopper panted as he then had a stern expression before looking where Hojo ran off to. "Oi! I won't let you get away from me!"

Hojo panted while running until he got in front of the container where the dark creature is in, and pushed several buttons on the control pad to the side to turn off the light shining over the poor thing. "Now… be a good girl, and destroy that failure of a monster as soon as I let you free!" Hojo demanded while pushing more buttons to get the container opened. While running, Chopper saw what Hojo was up to, and grabbed the chemical table that had the dark element life Hojo was researching earlier.

"I won't let you use her!" Chopper yelled before throwing the chemical table at Hojo, including with the dark chemicals on it.

"What!" Hojo turned around, only to get crushed by the chemicals and the table. "AUGH!" Hojo staggered back until he crashed through the glass of the container, and fell back next to the female dark creature. Hojo wiped his face, and looked at his hand, seeing the dark element substance on it, which utterly shocked him, "How dare… ugh!" Hojo cried as soon as he saw the dark creature over him, and started biting him like a zombie. "AAAHHHH! AHH! UUGAAAAEEGGHH!"

Chopper watched in horror until Hojo defended himself by taking out a pistol, and shot at the dark creature through her forehead. She cried in agony before disappearing into thin air as Hojo groggily got on his feet, with his upper body covered in dark element substance, and some of his blood with it. He angrily pointed his gun at Chopper while his eyes twitched repeatedly. "Do you have any idea what you have done!" Hojo asked before firing at Chopper. Chopper quickly hid behind the table to avoid the bullets as Hojo then fell on his hands and knees. His vision got blurry, and was losing control of his body. "This is too much darkness… I CAN'T CONTROL MYSELF!"

"Ugh!" Chopper peered over the table to see Hojo crying in agony.

"OhhhhhAAAAAAAAAHHHHe eehhhhh… !" Hojo cried as his eyes widened in shock, "NO… I can feel it! The transformation process has hastened drastically! If this keeps up… I'll…

GUAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAHHHHHHHHHHHH HHHHHHHH!"

Hojo sat up while yelling even louder as something bad was happening to him. His skin grew pale, his teeth were turning loose and yellow, and his eyes rolled back into his head. It was then that his body started transforming. Chopper watched in horror as Hojo's body grew bigger and disformed. His attire fell apart upon this process, as his jaw grew bigger, his body more longer, and his legs mutating into each other. His right arm mutated into a shape of a trident, while his other arm formed into something big and swollen that he used to stand straight. Chopper fell back in fear as Hojo now appeared to be a deformed monster, and lost all sense of control he had left in him- Herretic Hojo.

Meanwhile…

Sanji ran along the narrow hallways in the second floor. "Dammit, how much further! I need to get to Robin-chwan, now!" Sanji yelled as he then saw a door in the way. "Hiya!" Sanji kicked through it, and ended up in a very big room, with a huge window to the side. "Ergh… where do I go now!"

"I'd worry more where you'll end up if I were you."

Sanji got defensive upon hearing that as he could also hear someone coming. It turned out to be Bison, who appeared from the dark side of the room, and next to windows that illuminated his passage. Sanji furrowed his eyebrow as he instantly recognized Bison. "Oh… you…"

Meanwhile…

"Wah.. ah… ahh…" Chopper gawked, extremely frightened by Hojo's new look. "Wha… What happened to him!" Chopper was so afraid of Hojo's form, he couldn't move, "Wait… he did say something about the dark life… could it be if you took so much of it… you'd turn into a real monster!"

Herretic Hojo looked at his surroundings, but as soon as he noticed Chopper, shivering in fear in front of him, he growled, and thrusted his trident-like arm at him. "Wah!" Chopper jumped to the side as Herretic Hojo impaled through the ground hard, creating a tremor that lasted for a few seconds. "Whoa! He's gotten much stronger!" Chopper cried. Herretic Hojo then used his left blob-like arm to move towards Chopper, who instantly ran away once he saw him coming. Herretic Hojo then breathed out a disgusting green odor that flew across the lab, into a row of tables that Chopper was about to run by if he hadn't stopped sooner.

The oder was so foul, that it melted away the tables in less than a second. Chopper's eyes popped out of his head upon seeing this. "Waaaaaaahhh! His breath can even kill me!" Chopper gawked. Chopper then looked at Herretic Hojo, and noticed that despite it having a dangerous hygiene, it's mobility was very slow. "He's slow… perhaps if I'm quick, he won't be able to get me!" Chopper then turned into his Walk point, and galloped at Herretic Hojo with great speed. Herretic Hojo tried impaling his trident-like arm down at Chopper, but Chopper was too quick for him as he leaped over Hojo's arm, and turned into his Heavy point while flying towards Herretic Hojo's face.

"HEAVY GONG!" Chopper successfully punched Herretic Hojo across it's deformed face, pushing his head to the side as Chopper was about to go for a combo, but suddenly felt dazed while still in midair. Herretic Hojo then countered by biting Chopper's back with his deformed upper teeth. "YAAAAAH!" Chopper limplessly fell on the ground as his body twitched, as it turns out that he was paralyzed. Herretic Hojo took this chance by raising his trident-like arm again, and was about to stab Chopper, but luckily for Chopper, he felt his senses coming back as he turned into his original point right before the arm went down on him. "Whoa…" The spikes landed around Chopper's side, just missing him as Chopper sighed in relief.

"Wah!" Chopper then crawled, and ran away while swaying his arms up and down. Herretic Hojo then breathed out his deadly green odor again, but he breathed out onto the center part of the lab, radiating that part of the floor for several amount of seconds, taking away most of Chopper's room.

"Whoa!" Chopper tripped over to the far end corner of the lab, and was nearly consciousness from before, "Eh… this is too hard! He smells so weird, that it is making me fall asleep, and his bite from earlier got me paralyzed for a couple of seconds… and that odor is coming over here, and I barely have enough energy to keep going… unless?" Chopper then took out a rumble ball, and looked at it sternly, "I shouldn't take this. The last time I used this was against Crazy Hand, and six hours haven't passed since that time… but I don't have much choice for the matter. Either I take it now, or I'll die here…" Chopper then bravely got up as the odor's radiation spread towards him. "RUMBLE BALL!"

Chopper ate the rumble ball right before the odor covered him. Several seconds as suddenly, a brown blur flew out of the green odor, and headed towards Herretic Hojo. It turned out to be Chopper in his Jump point as he looked pretty relieved that he turned into the form he wanted, "Phew… good thing I turned into this form." Chopper said in midair before flying closer to Herretic Hojo, "But now, let's see if I can do it again! ARM POINT!"

Due to the effects of the Rumble ball when Chopper eats one before six hours passed after taking the one prior, his transformation abilities have been mixed up as he accidentally turned into his Guard point form. "Huh! No, not this one!" Chopper cried. Chopper softly landed on Hojo's head, and gently bounced up in the air, while Herretic Hojo curiously looked up at him, "Come on, please! ARM POINT!" Chopper transformed again, but into his Heavy point as the sudden wieght change caused him to fall down faster, and fall on Hojo's face with his back. Herretic Hojo shrieked in pain as Chopper fell onto the ground in front of him.

"Come on, come on! ARM POINT!" Chopper then transformed into his Walk point, which he didn't wanted as he cursed, "Damn! I'm not getting anywhere with this!" He said. He then Herretic Hojo growl as it raised it's blob-like left arm, and tried crushing Chopper with it. "Huh? WAAHH!" Thanks to his walk point, he galloped away just in time to avoid the left arm coming down at him. Herretic Hojo then tried stabbing Chopper from behind with his trident arm, but Chopper transformed into his original form, and tumbled forwardly, avoiding the arm as Chopper tumbled until he bumped into the wall in front of him. Chopper panted while he laid his legs against the wall, and his back on the floor.

"Eh.. eh.. eh… ho?" Chopper opened his eyes to see Herretic Hojo slowly coming at him. "Yikes!" Chopper quickly stood up, and faced at the deformed creature until he then realized he was in original form, the Brain point, "Oh, yeah! I can just look for his weakness!" Chopper said before looking brave, "SCOPE!" Chopper puts his hooves together as he scanned Herretic Hojo's body for any weaknesses. A couple of seconds passed until Chopper found two weaknesses, "One on his left arm, and the other on his heart! Okay!"

Chopper then concentrated deeply, trying to turn into the form he wants. "ARM POINT!" It was then that Chopper finally turned into his arm point form. "Yes!" He exclaimed happily before charging at Herretic Hojo, "I will end this quick!" Once Chopper was close to Herretic Hojo's left arm, he pulled his arms back, "KOKUTEI ROSEO METEI!" With a quick thrust of both hooves, Chopper repeatedly hits Herretic Hojo's left arm, leaving deep hooveprints on it faster than a blink of eye. The sudden force destroyed the arm as Herretic Hojo fell on his side. Herretic Hojo wasn't too happy about this as he used his left arm to push himself up, and used the the same arm to attack Chopper with it.

"KOKUTEI DIAMOND!" Chopper thrusted both his hooves diagonally upward, knocking Hojo's trident-like arm as he lost balance, and fell to the side again. Chopper then ran towards Herretic Hojo's chest while putting his hooves together while pulling them back to his left side. "KOKUTEI ROSEO GOU!" Chopper thrusted his hooves forward, hitting Herretic Hojo hard in the heart. The force of the attack was so strong, a pink beam went through Herretic Hojo's chest, and turned into sakura petals afterwards. Herretic shrieked in agony as Chopper stepped away while it curled itself into a ball. "Yes, I did it!" Chopper said happily.

Herretic Hojo sounded like he was dying, but the foul odors he breathed out earlier suddenly flew into his body. The deformed then started dissolving slowly. At this point, Chopper thought he defeated Hojo… but he turned out to be wrong.

"Huh!" Chopper gasped as when Herretic Hojo's body dissolved completely, a new body came out of it like new. It was as tall as a regular human being, only there was nothing human about it. It was a muscular humanoid being with a mostly grey body, with a dark peach color on his muscular chest, and black on his shoulders. His arms were spikes with blue stripes around them, and his face looked like a round yellow visor. He also had a long, smooth, tube-like tentacle from the back of his head as it reached down over his legs, which was one pointy leg in this case as this creature could float in the air. "Ah… yes! This is exactly what I wanted! My experiment was a success after all!" The creature yelled out as it had a familiar voice-Lifeform-Hojo N.

"Wait… you're still alive!" Chopper asked out of shock.

"KHA HA HA HA HA HA HA! You never cease to amuse me!" Hojo N said, "I told you before; the cells were multiplying by the second! In this case, my cells were evolving after I constantly experimented myself with various toxic substances! It wasn't hard, actually. Once I found out you were coming, I had to be prepared to defend myself, of course! A long time ago, you see, I injected myself with cells from a fabulous creature in my world, and when I was revived, It seems that I still have those cells in me, but I had to make sure they don't take over me. That's when I used the dark elements to suppress the cell's process, so I had no choice, but to keep injecting myself anyway! If I kept doing that process, I would be able to keep my senses, and have an indestructible body for an eternity!" Hojo N then pointed at Chopper, "But you nearly ruined it, and hastened the transformation process. Luckily for me, though, I still got what I wanted! I am now invincible! No one can kill me now!"

"Errgh! That's what you think!" Chopper yelled as he leaped towards Hojo, "KOKUTEI ROSEO!" Chopper thrusted his hoove into Hojo N's gut, sending him crashing into the wall behind him as he limplessly fell on the floor afterwards. "Huh? Was that all?" Chopper asked, but then gasped upon seeing Hojo floating again, with no wounds on him, "What!"

"Don't you get it!" Hojo N asked maniatically, "My body is an indestructible work of art for me, and an invincible disease to the likes of you! There is nothing that can kill me, nor will there ever be! It's all over for you, 'Doctor'!"

Hojo N flew at Chopper, and thrusted his spiky arm into Chopper with great speed. Chopper barely avoided as he nearly lost his balance from dodging to the side. Hojo N continued his assault with a swing of his arm, which Chopper blocked with his hoove, but Hojo N then struck Chopper across the face with his other arm.

"Gah!" Chopper cried as Hojo N then slammed his arms onto Chopper's shoulders, forcing him to fall on his knees.

"Kha ha ha!" Hojo N did a quick spin, punching Chopper across his face again as Chopper tumbled sideways across the ground, but managed to roll back on his hooves. Hojo N gave Chopper no time to breathe as he flew towards him, and thrusted his arm at him, but Chopper managed to duck to avoid the strike, and counter with a thrust of his hoove. "Oh!"

But before Chopper could hit him, he instantly turned back into his Brave point form, "Oh no; the effects of the rumble ball wore off!" He gasped before Hojo knocked him back with his arm, "Ahh!"

Chopper tumbled back even further as Hojo laughed at his misery. "Kha ha ha ha! What's the matter! Are you giving up already!" Hojo N asked before flying towards Chopper with a double thrust of his arms. Chopper got up, and rolled out of the way before throwing an explosive vile at Hojo N, which exploded upon making impact on his head. "Oh!" Hojo N staggered back before his wounds automatically healed as chased after Chopper, who was trying to get away. "There is no escape!" Hojo swung his tentacle from the back of his head at Chopper, who leaped as it went passed underneath him. Chopper then turned towards Hojo while turning into Heavy point, and grabbed Hojo N by his throat.

"Yaaaah!" Chopper repeatedly punched Hojo N in the face while holding him, but Hojo N was laughing at each punch he recieved, as he enjoyed Chopper's resistance so much, he didn't bother to break free for that matter. "It's no use!" Hojo N yelled as he decided to break free raising his arms, knocking Chopper's arms off of him.

"Wugh!" Chopper staggered back as Hojo N did a combo attack at him, landing every single hit as this damaged Chopper greatly. "Ugh!" Not only Chopper was getting hurt, but his body was feeling weaker by the second. He pushed Hojo away before falling on his hands and knees as he was starting to lose consciousness again. "My body… it hurts…"

"I already told you my body was a disease to the likes you!" Hojo N exclaimed, "Your skills as a pathetic won't save you from me!"

Hojo N then knocked Chopper to the side as Chopper was about to lose it. He could barely move now as he could only watch Hojo N approach him. "Ugh… I have to keep fighting… !" It was then that Chopper remembered something really important. He looked into his hat, and took out the white and black rumble ball he created several chapters ago. "This… this will be my third rumble ball I take…" Chopper then thought about the consequences for taking a third rumble ball, "But I have no choice! I have to take this, even though I am not entirely sure what might happen to me!"

"What are you babbling about over there!" Hojo N asked, "Let yourself die already!"

"I must do this…" Chopper said groggily while getting, and raised his white and black rumble up, "Here goes nothing… OMNI RUMBLE BALL!" Chopper threw the white and black rumble ball, and ate it as soon as it came down.

The lab then got quiet. Nothing was happening as of yet, not even the 'thing' that happens when a third rumble is used. Suddenly, Chopper's eyes then lit up, with one being black and the other being white. "Yaaaaaaaaaahhhhhh!" A light and dark aura formed out of Chopper's body for a brief until it disappeared, and Chopper's turned back to normal. Hojo N didn't know what was going on, but he didn't wanted to waste time finding out.

"I'll kill you now!" Hojo N thrusted his arm at Chopper, who instantly disappeared in the flash, "Huh!" Before Hojo N could go where Chopper ran off to, he got hit upside the head as he crashed face-first into a pile of rubble in front of him.

"What in the world!" Hojo N emerged from the rubble, and turned around to see Chopper in his Arm point. Chopper looked at his arms in disbelieve.

"Oh, wow… the rumble ball… it didn't made me transform into that thing…" Chopper said in awe, "I feel so warm… and I can use my forms again…" Chopper then looked at Hojo N, "Sorry, but I won't let you get the better of me again!"

"Hmph! Why don't you be silent!" Hojo asked while striking at Chopper. Chopper avoided the blow, and thrusted his hoove into Hojo's gut, sending him flying towards a wall behind him. "Agh!" Hojo N groaned as Chopper turned into his jump point to leap towards Hojo N with great speed before turning back into his Arm point form again.

"KOKUTEI DIAMOND!" Chopper thrusted his hooves forward, leaving an imprint in shape of a diamond on Hojo's chest as the force of the blow pushed Hojo N strong enough to leave a humongous dent that was nearly as big as the wall. Hojo N flew to the side to get some space while he automatically recovered his wounds.

"Just because you've gotten stronger, doesn't mean you will kill me!" Hojo N yelled as he swunged his tentacle at Chopper. Chopper turned into his Heavy point, and grabbed hold of Hojo's tentacle. Using all his strength, Chopper swunged Hojo N around in circles, with Hojo N crashing through several capsules before Chopper let him go as he crashed into the cieling. Hojo N frusteratedly retaliated by flying down towards Chopper, who turned into his jump point, and jumped so fast, he disappeared. "Hergh!" Chopper reappeared planting his lower hooves on the ceiling floor, and jumped straight down towards Hojo N while turning into his guard point.

"GUARD POINT, SPIKE!" Chopper's fur around him shaped itself into hard spikes as he crashed down into Hojo like a cannonball. Hojo N cried in pain as Chopper bounced off him while in his Guard point form, turning back into it's original shape as Hojo N was furious at this.

"N-JAB!" Hojo N repeatedly thrusted his spikey arms back in forth at Chopper, who remained in Guard Point.

"HARDEN!" Chopper's fur turned into a perfect sphere, deflecting Hojo's repeated attacks as they slowed down by the second. Hojo's last thrust pushed Chopper against the wall as Chopper turned into his Brave point form.

"N-THRUST!" Hojo flew towards Chopper with both of his arms facing towards him as they glowed bright green. Chopper stood up, and connected his hooves together in front of Hojo N.

"SCOPE!" Chopper scanned for Hojo N's weakness as he came closer. Once he did, quickly avoided the double thrust, and turned into his Horn point form, "ROSEO COLLONADE!" Chopper galloped through Hojo N while raising his sharp antlers up, leaving several cuts on Hojo N's body as he lost control of his flight, and crashed into the wall in front of him. Before Hojo N could emerge from the wall, Chopper turned towards him while turning his Arm point form again as a light aura then emitted from his body.

"KOKUTEI ROSEO GOU!" Chopper planted both of his hooves into Hojo N's chest hard, shooting a pink beam through his back as it created a hole in the wall afterwards. Chopper panted heavily as Hojo limplessly was about to fall out of the lab, but suddenly sprung forward.

"ABSORB!" Hojo N raised his tentacle over his head, and planted into Chopper's chest. He then started drain Chopper's life into him, but not for long as Chopper teared his tentacle off his chest, and slammed his head into the floor with his hoove. "Kha haaaaa ha ha ha…"

"Eh…" Chopper was a little dazed from being drained a bit as the light aura around him was losing it's color. "Oh… that's strange… I feel very weird all of a sudden…"

"Haa!" Hojo N then sprung up from the floor, and attacked Chopper repeatedly. Chopper blocked with his massive arms, but as his aura was losing more of it's light, the more dizzy Chopper was getting. "Kha ha ha ha ha! You can't kill me! NOBODY CAN!"

"Eehh!" Chopper continued to block, until he was caught by a feint attack by Hojo N, who then thrusted both his arms into Chopper's chest. "GAAAAAAAAHH!" The spiky arms were impaled into Chopper's body, causing Chopper to bleed from the mouth.

"KHAAAA HA HA HA HA HA HA! DIE, YOU MISERABLE WORM! DIE!" Hojo N yelled as he knocked Chopper on the ground. Chopper turned back into his brain point form as his aura was turning from light to darkness. "Hmm? What's this now?"

"Mmmm… it hurts… I can't hold it… anymore!" Chopper cried as the darkness then engulfed him. The darkness around him then grew bigger as there were loud noises coming from the inside. The darkness then dispersed as Chopper transformed into a form Hojo N hasn't seen yet.

"Hello?" Hojo N said curiously.

Chopper's form was similar to his heavy point, but he was so much taller, and he had mis-shapened head and antlers. His eyes glowed from underneath his hat, he had human shaped hands with hooves in front of his finger digits. This form is the most deadliest one yet as this menacing looking form is none other than Chopper's Monster Point.

"RAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAGGGG GGGGGGGGGGHHHHHHHHH HHHHHHHHH!"

Monster Chopper's roar echoed throughout the whole castle, as it created cracks along the ground as well. Hojo N was speechless by this as it was hard to tell what he was feeling about Chopper's new look.

"This is… amazing!" Hojo N exclaimed while raising his arms, "This is very surprising! You finally turned what you were meant to be! You're indeed a monster!"

"RRRRRAAAAAAGGGHH!" Monster Chopper backhanded Hojo N across his body as Hojo N crashed into the wall beside him with intense speed. Hojo N emerged from the wall as his wounds recovered.

"KHAA HA HA HA HA! THAT'S PERFECT! SIMPLY PERFECT! ATTACK ME MORE LIKE THE RAMPAGING BEAST YOU ARE!" Hojo N yelled maniacally. Monster Chopper roared again as he slammed his fist on Hojo N's body. He kept on doing this as the lab shook with each pound Monster Chopper did with his big fists. The creepiest thing, though, is that Hojo N kept laughing every time he got hit hard, since his body automatically recovers whenever he gets injured. "Yes… YES! HARDER! TEAR ME APART! I BEG OF YOU! KHAAAA HA HA HA HA HA HA!"

From Monster Chopper's point of view, the real Chopper could sense the great pain he is in while in that drastic form he is in. "I need to win… my friends… they are counting on me… I have to stop this…"

"Kha ha ha ha ha! Harder! HARDER!" Hojo N yelled while still getting hit.

"I must… help my friends… must help… my family… !" Chopper thought.

Monster Chopper roared one more time as he grabbed Hojo tightly with both arms, and squeezed him up in the air. "Yes! Continue to unleash your destruction! I KNEW YOU WEREN'T A FAILURE! UNLEASH ALL YOUR FURY ON ME!" Hojo N yelled sadistically.

"I will not become a monster! You hear me! I WILL NOT LOSE TO YOU!" Chopper's thought tremendously loud. It was then that the smash ball in his pocket began to glow, and enveloped Monster Chopper with a colorful aura, "FINAL SMASH!"

Monster Chopper's body glowed bright yellow, startling Hojo as he got loose from Chopper's grip, and flew back. "Hmm? What are you doing now?" He asked. Monster Chopper's body continued to glow brighter as the light blinded Hojo N, "Ahhh!" Once the light dimmed, Hojo opened his eyes, and saw what stood in front of him. "Wh-What!"

Chopper was now in a new form as the aura of light and darkness emitted brightly from his body. His new form consisted off of all his previous point forms. He has the intellect from his Brain point; the antlers of his Horn point, only they looked sharper; he has the body and muscles from his Heavy and Arm point, only they didn't look large, but more regular looking, and his arms and feet were human shaped, with hooves over his palms and fingers, including under his feet; his normal reindeer face from his walk and jump point, only it looked somewhat older and better looking; his puffy fur from his guard point, only most of it was on his three pairs of giant wings on his back. His pink hat looks more elegant rather than puffy, and instead of wearing pants, he wore short jeans that barely reach over his knees, and had several pockets. His eyes then glowed with no pupils just like his Monster point.

"GOD POINT!" Chopper said with a more of a manlier voice, that most girls might find sexy. Hojo N was dumbfounded by Chopper's new look as Chopper looked at him, "I'm sorry, but I must end this now, and regroup with my comrades."

"What did you say!" Hojo asked.

"I don't wish to fight any longer. Please, leave now." Chopper forewarned.

"Grr… You dare mock me again!" Hojo N asked before flying at Chopper, "I will destroy you for good this time!" But as soon as Hojo was several feet in front of Chopper, his whole body began to burn from Chopper's pink aura. "UUUUGGGGHHHHHH!" Hojo N flew back, but his eyes widened in shock to see that he wasn't recovering. "Huh? What is this burning light!"

Chopper only sighed as he then pointed at Hojo, "It's now time that I'd finish this! You will no longer threaten humanity with your experiments anymore! I will cast your life away forever!" Chopper said as he then wrapped his giant wings around his body, "GOD POINT; SAKURA PILLAR!"

Chopper spreads out his wings and body, and unleashed a towering pink ray of light from the center of his body. The light grew wider in perimeter, engulfing Chopper and destroying every single thing in the lab. "NO, STOP THIS NOW!" Hojo N yelled, but when the light touched his arm, he cried even louder as the light burned his arm right off, "AAAAAAAAGGGGGGGGGHH HHHHHHHHH!" Hojo attempted to flee, but fell due to weakness as the pink light started engulfing his feet first. "IT CAN'T END THIS WAY… I STILL NEED TO LEARN MORE… I CAN'T DIIIIIIIIIIEEEEEEE!"

The light finally engulfed over Hojo as it also engulfed the entire lab for that matter. The light was so strong, it also teared a hole through the ceiling. From the front right corner of the castle, the light continued to go up as it was now taller than the fortress itself. It burned nearly that part of the castle until the light finally turned thin and disappeared. Chopper's final smash destroyed the mid to the top section of the front right corner of the castle as Chopper could be seen intact in where what used to be the lab, and the hallways and rooms nearby it.

Chopper smiled pleasantly as he closed his eyes before his aura engulfed him. The aura disappeared as Chopper turned back into his brain point, and fell on his chest. "Ah… wow… I looked really… cool…" Chopper said before he passed out.

Preview: This place sure has weird mirrors, but if they will take me faster to that black coat guy, then I will not complain! Next time on One Piece: A Smash Adventure; Chapter 125: A real man's pride, Sanji vs M. Bison. I am gonna be the Pirate King!

I'd like to give credit to Greymonkey for suggesting those RedXIII clones he talked about in his previous review; thanks for the suggestion, man, I appreciate it. Anyway, the next fight is sure to be intense. Ciao for now!

Hello again! It's great to see the Street Fighter series getting back alive again, and what better to honor it's return than by using one of their characters in this chapter? I really liked how this fight turned out, so I hope you all enjoy it! Have fun!

Mad scientists never learn. Chopper wandered into a laboratory around the higher floors of the dark castle. Chopper then realized the lab belonged to Hojo as he found them there, experimenting on the creatures that resided on the dark towns. They then both fought each other, with Hojo doing his best to stay away, and let his pets do most of the work. He later transformed into monstrous forms, and pushed Chopper to the very limit. Despite all this, Chopper activated his smash ball, and turned into his powerful point, God point, where he then defeated Hojo and destroyed his entire lab with it. Meanwhile, Sanji confronts Bison, and our about to begin their psychotic battle. Who will be the last man standing?

Chapter 125: A real man's pride, Sanji vs M. Bison

The room was big in perimeter; inside lied no furniture of any kind, except for some big paintings hanging from the side of the walls. In the center of the floor had a symbol of a black heart, with purple flames blazing from the bottom to the both sides of it, and the light coming from the big window on the left side of the room illuminated the symbol, and almost the rest of the room. Inside the room were Sanji and Bison, who just met with each other again since their last encounter back in Dreamland.

Sanji clenched his right fist in anger upon seeing Bison again. His heart beated more frequently upon feeling his inner rage, and seemed as if he was about to strike Bison at any moment. Bison was rather amused by Sanji's hate as he let out a smirk.

"I never thought I'd be seeing you again." Bison said, "For someone as weak as you, you certainly had the courage to reach this far. However, you will not go any further."

It was then that Juli and Juni, Bison's elite henchwomen, appeared from the shadows of the room. Sanji was a little surprised to see them again, and could see that they still had some of their injuries they got from Bison in Dreamland. Yet, despite the wounds, they were completely emotionless, and they stood tall around their master's side. Sanji wasn't in the least amused.

"… You really know how to piss a guy off…" Sanji said with a frown while taking out a cigarette, "First, you use your lackies to wore me down, and then, you gave me the last blow, and acted so proud of it as if you did all the hard work yourself." Sanji then placed his cigarette on his lips, and lits it up, "I can't say that was very manly, but I suppose every guy has his own ways of treating their problems."

"Hmm hmm hmm… It seems you haven't forgotten our last encounter. You haven't changed one bit since I last saw you." Bison said before he frowned, "I'm disappointed; didn't my words change your ways of thought at all? I allowed you to live to see the errors of your way of life, and this is how you thank me? By not getting stronger?"

"Consider it as me spitting at your pity towards me…" Sanji replied while breathing out some smoke, "I could care less what you think of me, including anyone else for that matter." Sanji tilted his head sideways with a stoic look, "Besides… I've gotten worse beatings from another old man who can kick my ass twice as hard than you did before."

"Hmph! Perhaps I should've killed you when I had the chance." Bison said as he crossed his arms against his chest, "So, why is it that you're here then? Do you want to redeem yourself by trying to defeat all three of us? Surely, you should know the outcome of that by now… unless, you haven't learned your lesson yet."

Sanji furrowed his brow as he briefly looked at Juli and Juni, taking note of their injuries again before sighing, "I'm here for two major reasons, and one of them has to do with you."

"Oh? So this is about revenge afterall…" Bison said while he smirked, "As I do admire your lust for vengeance, it won't mean a thing unless you have the power to back it up. You failed to impress me when my elite soldiers attacked you that day, you didn't even raise a finger. And when you finally decided to act, it only took one hit to knock you back on the floor like the weak insect you are! You have nothing else to prove to me other than showing your disgraceful taste towards power! But, what can I expect from you? You're only a chef afterall…"

"You're the one to talk; atleast I can act for myself." Sanji replied while taking the cigarette off his lips, "You, on the other hand, talks so much about power and inner strength, and yet, you let your soldiers to do the hard work for you! Isn't that considered weak and disgraceful!"

"Ha ha ha ha ha ha ha! What do you think this is, boy!" Bison asked with a chuckle, "A fight never has rules; that's how it determines one person to another. The strongest fighter will always come out on top, and those who don't deserve to be casted out from society!" Bison then reached his hand forward before clenching it into a fist, "This isn't a game, you know! From the moment I heard about you pirates advancing to other worlds, despite the un-surpassable obstacles that lied there, I expected so much from all of you!" Bison then frowned deeply, "But no; unfortunate for me, I encountered someone who has mercy for the weak, and has no real goals other than to serve people his roasted heart on a stick!"

"Huh…" Sanji chuckled with a shake of his head, "If that's your way of saying that real men fight by using every opportunity they get possible instead of relying on their own skills, then that I can really pity you for."

"You still don't understand!" Bison replied furiously, "I only take the strongest of warriors into my league, and no one else! When I realized that you were one of those pirates, I had to make sure you were worthy of facing me… and you failed miserably! What makes you think you would stand a chance beating me back then if you couldn't even harm my warriors! And what makes you think that you could even do anything to me now!"

"Because…" Sanji began to say with a sharp glare, "My soul is on fire… and the only way for it to be at ease is for me to stop this dead planet from consuming everything I dear most," Sanji then dropped the cigarette on the floor, "… and to kick the living shit out of you, until you can no longer move!"

"Don't test my patience; I will not hesitate to kill you here and now." Bison said before smirking, "Our experience in combat are vastly different in comparison. You will never defeat me, nor you will even lay a finger on me! I am too strong for you. I will destroy all your hopes and dreams of ever defeating me, and you will never get your revenge, because I will always emerge ontop. So, I have to ask; what are you going to do, chef? Will you escape from my clutches, and never come back, or will you come back here with your crew? That way, the bout between us will finally be even! Accept the facts; you will never be stronger than me!"

Sanji was so angry hearing this, he stepped on his cigarette so hard, he left a crack on the floor, "THAT'S NOT WHY I WANT TO KICK YOUR ASS, YOU SHITTY PRICK!" Sanji yelled furiously as he pointed at Bison's henchwomen, "It's the way you treat your own soldiers! How can you nearly beat them to death after they did so hard in trying to please you! What kind of a sick man does that! And worst of all, they're women! What gives you the right to even lay a finger on them, huh!"

"Hmm hmm hmm, it's the only way for them to learn." Bison replied, "I told you before that I only accept the strongest of warriors into my league. If they fail in any kind of objective I give them, then it's my duty to punish them for it! I don't care if they are men, women, or even children; if they can't take the pressure, then I will kill them!"

"You damn bastard!" Sanji grunted while lowering his head, "What I find so strange is that those two still follow you, even after what you did to them!" Sanji then looked at Juli and Juni, "Why are you two still with him after what he did to you! You can't possibly say that serving that man next to you is worth living for! A man like him doesn't deserve companionship at all!"

"Our purpose in life is to serve Master Bison; no objections." Juli said emotionless.

"Without Master Bison, we are nothing. Failure is not an option, and therefore, we must always carry out our missions successfully in order to make him happy. That is all." Juni said emotionless as well. Sanji was surprised hearing this as Bison simply laughed.

"Ha ha ha ha ha! Do you understand now?" Bison asked, "They follow me because I am powerful. Life has no meaning unless you have the power to control everything around you, and destroy the ones who oppose you. That's why I am here, so I can control all of life itself, and destroy the things that are meaningless to me!" Sanji was still in a state of shock, which Bison noticed as he pointed at him, "It seems you can longer withstand the sheer power I possess… Juni, Juli; kill him! Make sure you break every bone in his body!"

"Yes sir!" Juli and Juni said simultaneously as they leaped towards Sanji with tremondous speed. Sanji lowered his head as the light from the window next to him shaded his eyes. Once the duo were close to Sanji, he closed his eyes.

"… I'm sorry." Sanji said sadly.

And with that, Sanji moved so fast he disappeared. Juli and Juni landed on the ground, and looked where he disappeared to, but before they knew it, something happened.

KICK!

"Ugh!" Both Juni and Juli got kicked really hard on their shoulders by none other than Sanji himself as he stood on one knee behind the duo, who then lost consciousness as they fell on their backs. This was truly shocking as Sanji has never done this before intentionally, even Bison was somewhat shocked as his eyes widened.

Sanji remained quiet as he turned around, and picked up Juli, and placed her up against around a back corner of the large room. He did the same with Juni as he stood up while clenching his fists in anger.

"Are you happy…?" Sanji growled, "I knew that they were not going to back down on following your orders no matter what, and I had no choice, but to do the thing I was always against… and that is to kick a woman…" Sanji then turned towards Bison, with his expression looking much more angrier than ever, "I can't express how angry I am right now… It was enough seeing you treat them badly, but for me to knock them out just to get them out of harms way… I am not sure if I can hold myself back any longer. This rage is more than enough to destroy you, that's for sure… and it will be enough to beat the crap out of the rest of you woman beaters, I will promise you that!"

"Well, now… you finally have come to your senses. I'm starting to get somewhat amused. Hmm hmm hmm…" Bison said as he then stood straight while crossing his arms, and placing his feet close to eachother, "It will be my pleasure to end this feud. The time to talk is over! I will now show you the real strength of my psycho power! Now, come at me with all you got!"

"Believe me, I will! YAAAAAAAAAAAAAHHHHH!" Sanji yelled as he finally charges at Bison.

Sanji zigzagged towards Bison with blinding speed until he was several inches close to him, "Ha!" Sanji swung his leg horizontally across Bison's face, but missed as it turns out that Sanji attacked an afterimage. "Wha!" Sanji immediately turned around to see Bison appear before him. "Hergh!" Sanji quickly ran at Bison again before he could do anything, and leaped at him with a flying kick, but Bison moved out of the way, leaving another afterimage of himself as Sanji flew through it. Bison then reappeared in Sanji's way, and thrusted his palm into Sanji's chin while avoiding his attack. "Gah!" Sanji tumbled back, but managed to roll back onto his feet as he watched Bison levitating inches away from the ground.

"Hmm hmm hmm hmm hmm! I already told you that your lust for vengeance won't be enough to destroy me!" Bison said with a grin, "Although, I am still willing to make things easier for you. Just stop resisting, and let me finish you off right now."

"Just shut it! I have no intention in listening to you!" Sanji yelled.

"Hmph! Then it's already settled; you will die with regrets, and your loved ones will suffer the same fate!" Bison said with a frown.

"Shut up!" Sanji yelled while leaping at Bison with a spinning kick. Bison evaded the kick without even moving a finger as he levitated to the side without breaking his natural pose. Sanji then continued to charge at Bison with even more kicks, but the results ended up the same as Bison kept evading effortlessly.

"Useless!" Bison exclaimed as he warped away before Sanji could kick him. Sanji then looked up to see Bison coming down at him with his feet together.

"Whoa!" Sanji leaped to the side as Bison landed hard on the ground, leaving a big crack on the floor. "Tsk! He's really strong…" Sanji muttered before charging back at Bison again, "POITRINE!" Sanji aimed for Bison's chest, but Bison suddenly released his psycho aura around himself. "Ugh!" The aura sends Sanji tumbling back until he crashed into the wall behind him. Sanji groaned a bit as he saw Bison forming a purple sphere from his palms.

"PYSCHO SHOT!" Bison's energy sphere shot out towards Sanji, who immediately jumped out the way as the ball exploded onto the wall. Bison continued firing more pyscho balls as Sanji ran alongside the walls of the room to avoid. When he saw an opening, Sanji cartwheeled towards Bison, evading the pyscho balls being shot at him as he then leaped up into the air.

"CONCASSE!" Sanji did multiple forward rolls in midair, and was about to slam his heel onto Bison's head, but Bison levitated back a few feet as Sanji kicked down at the ground instead, leaving a big dent on it.

"Heh heh heh!" Bison chuckled as he then slid across the ground while standing straight, and his feet facing forward. He zoomed past Sanji, tripping him up in the air as Bison teleported in front of him, and grabbed him by his shirt collar. "Heragh!" Bison raised Sanji above his head, and slammed him hard down on the floor before warping several feet above him. "Ha ha!" Bison came down at Sanji like a missile as Sanji rolled out of the way, but Bison created a shockwave when he planted his feet on the ground.

"Ah!" Sanji tumbled sideways until he stopped himself with his right hand and knee, and got up to see Bison facing at him.

"Well now, It seems you have grown more endurable, but that will still not be enough to amuse me!" Bison said before firing another psycho ball at Sanji. Sanji merely frowned as he dashed forwardly while the psycho ball flew towards him.

"Out of my way!" Sanji got on one hand, and kicked the pyscho ball into the wall to his left. He got hurt doing that, though, but he quickly got back on his feet again, and charged at Bison again, "MOUTON SHOT!" Sanji swung his leg horizontally at Bison, who smirked as he teleported behind Sanji during the midway of his attack. Sanji expected this, and quickly did a handstand before Bison thrusted his palm at him, missing as a result.

"What!" Bison exclaimed as Sanji spinned around on his right hand to gain some momentum.

"COTELETTE!" Sanji slammed his foot at the side of Bison's ribs. Bison grunted as Sanji then spun himself in the opposite direction, "SELLE!" Sanji then kicked Bison hard on his back, causing him to stagger forward by two steps.

"Grr!" Bison turned around, and swung his fist at Sanji, who strifed to the side, and countered with a strong horizontal kick to the chest. "Gah… heh!" Bison spread out his chest, pushing Sanji's leg off as Sanji staggered back. As he staggered, Bison did a sweep kick, knocking Sanji off his feet as Bison then used his other leg to kick and hold Sanji up in the air, and turned around to knock Sanji down on the floor with that same foot.

"Ah!" Sanji got back on his feet as he then leaped at Bison with a running kick, "VEAU SHOT!" Bison sidestepped to avoid, and grabbed Sanji's attacking leg with both hands. Bison then threw Sanji towards the other side of the room, and fired another psycho ball at him. While in midair, Sanji managed to reach up at the ceiling, and kicked himself down as the psycho ball exploded there. Some debris then began to fall down to where Sanji was about to land as Sanji immediately leaped to the side as the debris crashed hard on the floor. "Ugh!" Sanji saw Bison coming at him with his slide attack again, and immediately jumped up as soon as Bison got close to him.

"JARRET!" Sanji kicked Bison's leg, slowing down Bison's momentum as Sanji quickly attacked with his other leg, "CUISSEAU!" Sanji kicked Bison hard on his thigh, but Bison only smirked as he thrusted his palms into Sanji's chest.

"Yah!" Bison's thrust sending Sanji crashing into a painting hanging from the wall. Bison wrapped back to get some distance as Sanji groggily get's back up on his feet, "Ha ha ha! Well, it does seem that you have some power in you afterall. Your kicks are surely strong enough to leave a dent on a steel platform. However, you'll need to use your fists as well in order to stand a chance against me."

"I'm a chef, you moron." Sanji muttered while standing straight, "It would be really bad for me if my hands get hurt in battle. How else would I make delicious meals for all the beautiful women out there?"

"I see…" Bison said with a smirk, "That makes things much easier then. I won't have to kill you if I can break your arms and legs. That way, you can forever mourn about your loss, which is much worse than death!"

"Hmph! That won't happen even in your dreams, pal." Sanji said before squatting, "I'm determined to take you down without you leaving scratch on me!"

Sanji then dashed, and got underneath Bison, "GIGOT!" Sanji did a sweep kick at Bison's kneecaps, but Bison levitated back, and levitated forward with a right fist. Sanji ducked underneath Bison's arm to avoid, and turned at Bison with another horizontal kick, which Bison evaded by warping away, and reappearing in front of Sanji after his attack. "Ugh!" Bison grabbed Sanji by his shirt collar, and throw him over his shoulder towards the thick window.

"PYSCHO BALL!" Bison shot out a pyscho ball at Sanji, who recovered in midair, and kicked it away up at the ceiling. The ball exploded there as Sanji then jumped off the huge window behind him, and started up and down from the falling debris from the explosion.

"BROCHETTE!" Sanji leaped off the debris, and flew down at Bison with his foot while spinning like a drill. Bison teleported out of the way as Sanji landed on the ground, while Bison reappeared above him, and came down at him with his feet again. "Not this time!" Sanji yelled as he ran towards the wall, and jumped off as he headed towards Bison, who has yet to make impact on the floor, "JOUE SHOOT!" Sanji spins, and delivers a strong kick into Bison's cheek.

"Ahh!" Bison soured across the room, and was about to crash through the window, but teleported in the nick of time as he reappeared on the ground in pain. "Grr… you brat!"

"ESCALOPE!" While still in midair, Sanji attempted to swing his legs across Bison's face when he got close enough, but Bison leaped at Sanji, and elbowed him in the face. "Gugh!" Sanji got knocked back as Bison teleported in front of Sanji again, and did a front flip with his legs alone, kicking Sanji on his back as he then crashed hard on the ground. "Aaah!"

"Yah!" Bison raised his foot, and tried crushing Sanji's head with it, but Sanji got up with a handstand, and thrusted his feet hard into Bison's gut, "Ugh!" He grunted while staggering back as Sanji flipped back on his feet afterwards.

"TENDRON!" Sanji did a side kick, hitting Bison directly into his collar bone. Bison staggered as Sanji jumped, and did a handstand on Bison's shoulders, "MENTON SHOT!" Sanji pulls himself down from Bison's shoulders, doing a perfect thrust kick onto Bison's chin before he touched the ground. Bison grunted as he was about to fall on his back, but using his incredible upper body strength, he stood right back up, and delivered several palm thrusts into Sanji's gut. "Ugh!" Bison then elbowed Sanji ontop of his skull, knocking him on his knees as Bison then did a sweep kick, but missed as Sanji jumped up to avoid, and then did a handstand.

"FRIT ASSORTI!" Sanji kicked Bison in the chin, knocking him up in the air as Sanji then leaped up towards him. "TROISIEME HACHE!" Sanji repeatedly kicked Bison's back with his right foot while still going up in midair. Bison gritted his teeth in anger, and teleported away from the attack as he reappeared facing towards Sanji from a distance.

"PSYCHO SHOT!" Bison fired multiple pyscho balls at Sanji while he was still in midair.

KABOOOOOOOOOOOOOOMMM!

"Guah!" Sanji went crashing down on the floor as the psycho balls exploded on him, creating a big dust cloud afterwards. Bison teleported on the ground again, chuckling after what he just did.

"Hmm?" But Bison then frowned as he saw Sanji emerging from the rubble, with his suit having several burned marks on it. "That's strange… you should be dead by now. I don't see how you can still keep going after all that."

"I am too pissed off to die right now…" Sanji said sternly while removing his suit, revealing his black vest over his blue and black stripped shirt he has on, "I am not going to be killed by the lowest kind of trash! Until I destroy you, nothing will stop me from making you pay!"

"Hrrgh!" Bison frowned as he removed the golden brackets that were supporting his mantle up on his shoulders, "I am sick of your arrogant attitude!" Bison yelled while tossing his mantle aside, "You seem bound and determined to meet destruction under my hands! I will now fight in your own level! Come on!"

"Hiya!" Sanji leaped at Bison with a double midair kick, which Bison blocked with his forearms while stepping back, and countered with a palm thrust, which Sanji avoided by lowering his head once he got back on the ground, and countered with a side kick to Bison's gut. Bison grunted while staggering a step back as Sanji continued his attack with a double horizontal spin kick. Bison avoided the first kick, and blocked the second one with his left leg. He then did a quick turn while nearly knocking Sanji off balance, and delivered a straight elbow into his face. "Gah!" Sanji staggered back several steps as Bison thrusted both of his palms at him, but Sanji ducked to avoid, and countered with a somersault that Bison avoided by stepping back.

"Grr!" Bison threw a underhand fist at Sanji, who jumped, and did a quick handstand on Bison's attacking arm. Sanji then flipped over Bison, and turned around while swinging his leg back, but Bison effortlessly blocked with his left arm. "Not good enough!" Bison said before throwing a back elbow at Sanji, who avoided with a quick roll to Bison's front side, and got up while doing a strong side kick towards Bison's face, but Bison blocked again using both of his arms.

"Ugh!" Sanji gasped as Bison did a quick charge, and thrusted both of his palms into Sanji's chest. "Ah!" Sanji staggered back up against the wall as Bison quickly grabbed his neck, and started choking him.

"Yeerr!" Bison charged his body up with psycho power, electrifying Sanji in the process as Sanji screamed in pain. "Ha ha ha ha! There is no escape from my pyscho power!" Bison exclaimed. Sanji opened his eyes angrily as he raised his foot towards Bison's upper body.

"PARAGE SHOT!" Sanji repeatedly thrusted his foot into Bison's face. Bison got hit by the first few hits until he blocked the rest of them with his free arm, but Bison still felt the pain from Sanji's multiple kicks. Bison had no choice but to drop Sanji on the floor as he staggered back a bit dazedly while Sanji charged at him. "SANTEN DECOUPAGE!" Sanji leaped closed to Bison, and did three near-simultaneous roundhouse kicks, with the first kick hitting Bison's stomach, the second one hitting his chest, and the last one hitting his neck, stricking them all with the big length of his leg. Bison growled in pain as he tried countering with a downward kick, but Sanji rolled around Bison's back side, and side-kicked Bison upside his head.

"Guah!" Bison staggered forward as Sanji then flipped over him, delivering two near-simultaneous kicks with the first hitting Bison upside his head, and the second one hitting Bison directly in the face. "Why you-!" Bison caught Sanji while he was still in the air, and raised his leg, including his body up, and slammed him hard on the floor.

"Ah!" Sanji cried as Bison raised him back over his body, and slammed him on the floor in the other side. Sanji grunted as Bison was about to slam Sanji again for the third time, but once Bison lifted Sanji off the floor, Sanji brought his heel up to Bison's face, but Bison was quick as he moved his head back to avoid. Sanji wasn't done as he reached towards Bison's arm holding him, and pulled his leg out of his grasp before thrusting both feet upside Bison's head before landing back on the ground.

"Ugh!" Bison staggered forward a few steps as he then turned around, only to see Sanji several inches in front of him again.

"CUISSEAU SHOT!" Sanji did a strong sweep kick at Bison's thighs, nearly knocking Bison off his feet as he began to fall forward. Sanji then jumped, and wrapped his legs around Bison's arm, and did a backflip, throwing Bison over him as he was about to fall on his back. "Huh!" But to Sanji's surprise, Bison prevented himself from falling as he used his feet to hover inches from the floor. "Tsk…"

"Hmm hmm hmm!" Bison laughed before gently landing on the ground, "I am starting to feel amused by your newfound strength, but how long are you willing to keep this up?"

"Until I tear you apart, that's when!" Sanji replied while dashing at Bison, who simply glanced over at Sanji with a creepy grin.

Meanwhile…

Robin made her way through the hidden entrance of the castle, and was now back inside. "Cook-san should be around here waiting for me. It's probably best that I'd look for him." She said. She ran along the hallways, hoping to find her comrade as soon as possible. She then heard loud noises coming from above. "Hmm? What's that?"

Robin ran around a corner, and found a spiral staircase leading up. "I won't find out by staying down here. I have to see what's going on!" Robin said as she then went up the stairs.

Meanwhile…

"Gugh!" Sanji cried as Bison punched him hard in the gut. Bison continued his attack by hitting Sanji in the face with a spinning elbow, and finished his combo off with an over the shoulder throw. Sanji was knocked across the ground, until he recovered in midair, and dashed towards Bison with blinding speed. "SHISHINABE SHOOT!" Sanji leaped with a powerful flying side kick to Bison, who lowered himself, and managed to catch Sanji by his attacking leg and body. Bison skidded back upon doing so, however, as he then slammed Sanji's back into the ground again. "Eh!" Sanji grunted as Bison was about to crush his face with his foot, but Sanji rolled aside to avoid, and got back on his feet afterwards.

"COLLIER SHOOT!" Sanji rushed over to Bison, and did a strong side towards Bison's neck. He missed, however, as Bison leaped up in the air, and homed down at Sanji.

"HEAD STOMP!" Bison flew down above Sanji, and stomped both his feet hard on Sanji's head. Sanji cried in pain as Bison jumped off of him, and landed behind him. "PYSCHO SHOT!" Bison fired a pyscho ball at Sanji from behind, exploding upon impact his back.

"Geeragh!" Sanji tumbled forward until he crashed into the wall in front of him. He then got really angry again, and flipped back on his feet. Sanji then did several front flips and cartwheels before leaping up into the air upside down, "NAVIGANT QUASI!" Sanji spinned upside-down with his legs spread out as he flew down at Bison like a flying buzzsaw. Bison frowned as he did roundhouse kick for a counter, stopping Sanji's momentum by kicking one of Sanji's attacking leg. The force of the two kicks hitting eachother created a spiritual force that left small cracks along a part of the floor. Sanji then spinned in the opposite direction, and kicked Bison across the face.

"Oof!" Bison mildly staggered sideways as Sanji landed on the ground, did a handstand, and leaned towards Bison with another kick. "Oh no, you don't!" Bison yelled as he sidestepped to avoid the incoming kick, and countered with an elbow across Sanji's jaw.

"Ahh!" Sanji limplessly tumbled back as Bison teleported behind him, and backhanded across Sanji's head, causing Sanji to sour across the room in another direction. Sanji regained his focus, and landed his feet on the ground, skidding back in the process as Bison charged up his palms.

"PYSCHO SHOT!" Bison fired several simultaneous pyscho balls at Sanji, who ran towards them with a confident look.

"JENGA HOU!" Sanji repeatedly kicked away the pyscho balls in several directions. "Eh…" Sanji felt a slight burn on his feet every time he kicks the balls away, but he disregarded it as he kicked the last pyscho ball towards Bison. Bison merely tilted his head sideways as the pyscho ball flew by his head, and exploded into the wall behind him. Bison then tried punching Sanji when he got close, but the chef rolled through underneath his legs, and jumped up behind him, "TROISIEME HACHE!" Sanji repeatedly kicked Bison's back with his right foot only as Bison gritted his teeth in anger upon getting hit.

"Grah!" Bison teleported to escape from the kicks as he reappeared flying towards Sanji from his side. "DOUBLE KNEE PRESS!" Bison does two simultaneous front flips in midair as the last flip kicked down at Sanji's arms.

"Ugh!" Sanji crashed, and bounced off the floor as he then got back on his feet, and went for Bison, who just got back on the ground, "EXTRA HACHE!" Sanji sends a barrage of kicks at Bison, trying to kick him in the face. Bison merely laughed as he easily avoided the kicks by moving his upper body in several directions. Bison then countered with a right fist, socking Sanji in the face as he then knocked Sanji on his back with a sweep kick to his knees. "Ah!"

"Hergh!" Bison pulled back his arm, charging it up with psycho power before bringing it down at Sanji. Sanji quickly tilted his head to the side to avoid the fist by several inches, and countered with a side kick to Bison's head. "Mmf!" Bison flinched at this as Sanji then placed his hands on the floor behind, and pushed himself from the ground, kicking Bison in the gut with both feet as Bison skidded back afterwards.

"MOUTON SHOT!" Once Sanji got back on his feet, he swunged his left leg horizontally at Bison, but missed as Bison teleported a few feet back, and charged at Sanji with another forward flip.

Sanji leaped in the air, avoiding Bison as he got over him at the end one of his flips, "PARAGE SHOT!" Sanji then unleashed another barrage of kicks directly into Bison's face, with the last kick hitting Bison so hard, that any ordinary man would get knocked on their back instantly. This wasn't the case, however, as Bison was able to lean back straight, and thrust both of his palms up at Sanji, who was still in midair as he blocked Bison's thrust with his legs. After he blocked, the force of Bison's palm attack pushed Sanji way up towards the ceiling, which Sanji jumped down of, and headed down towards Bison. "BROCHETTE!" Sanji spun like a drill while he went down as Bison leaped back to avoid him as he got back on the ground.

"PYSCHO SHOT!" Bison shot a pyscho ball at Sanji who leaped up in the air while raising his leg.

"LANGOUSTE!" Sanji spun his body with his legs spread out in a vertical position, and spun along the ground like a vertical buzzsaw cutting everything in it's path. Bison hovered back while looking at his opponent spinning towards him like a maniac as they both went around the room, with Sanji leaving a path of cracks on the floor behind. Sanji then did a quick leap, which surprised Bison as he looked up, and saw Sanji coming down at him, "REQUIN GIGOT!" Bison teleported away as Sanji thrusted his feet hard on the ground, creating a three-layered shockwave that left a big dent on the ground.

Bison reappeared on the other side of the room as Sanji saw him, and tapped his foot several on the ground. "I am not done yet…" Sanji muttered before dashing at Bison with great speed. He zigzagged to different parts of the room, leaving brief blurs behind as

Sanji then leaped at Bison leg first, with his feet covered in a purple aura, "ANTI-MANNER KICK COURSE!"

"You stupid fool! I will show you why you're weak!" Bison yelled as he then spread his arms out. Bison's psycho aura then covered his body as his eyes glowed purple, "PSYCHO CRUSHER!" Bison lunged forward with his pyscho aura, and flew towards Sanji like a spinning missile.

Sanji's anti-matter kick, and Bison's pyscho crusher collided with great force as both of their attacks pushed each other back, but with no signs of any of them moving back. "Grr.. ergh…" Sanji was sweating as Bison's pyscho crusher was getting the better of him. "Guhh!" It was then that Sanji got knocked away as he limplessly flew back, with Bison still flying towards him. "Dammit… GAAAAAHHH!" Sanji cried as soon as Bison pyscho crusher hit's him hard in the stomach.

"Ha ha ha ha ha! Die, you worm!" Bison laughed as he drilled Sanji hard into the wall, leaving a huge dent on it as Sanji then cried again with some of blood coming out of his mouth.

"Ugh…" Sanji limplessly fell on the floor as Bison teleported back with his arms crossed, and laughed at Sanji's fall.

Meanwhile…

Luffy, Zoro, Nami, and Usopp were now running around the strangest parts of the castle. Every time they walked through a mirror-like portal, they end up in the same kind of room they just left, only standing on the walls or ceilings.

"I don't like this place, it's too freaky!" Usopp whimpered.

"I'm getting a little dizzy just ending up in all these strange places! Where is the exit!" Nami asked.

"We haven't found a single intersection along the way, so I think we're going the right way! We just have to keep focused here, and not fall under these weird illusions." Zoro said bluntly.

"I don't know about that; this place feels pretty real to me." Usopp said.

"Hey, Zoro, why don't you lead the way? If we could get lost intentionally, we might find a way out." Luffy said with a big grin.

"Oi!" Zoro yelled.

"Let's just keep going already! It's not like we have any other choice." Nami said before sighing irritably. They all continued to keep moving forward along the strange room, hoping they would find a way out.

Meanwhile…

"Ha ha ha! Not even a determined worm like you could survive my psycho crusher!" Bison said, mocking Sanji, who was still laying on the ground, "Don't feel too bad about yourself; atleast you were able to entertain me for a while. I haven't had such fun in a long time. I thank you for that, but now it's time for you to succumb to your death."

"Ergh…" Sanji groggily gets back on his feet, wiping some of blood off his lower lip. He then smirked and looked at Bison, "You're are so ignorant, you know?" He said, "I told you that I will be kicking your ass, and yet, you keep saying that you are going to kill me. Could you atleast shut up, and let me fulfill my promise here?"

"Hmm hmm, it seems you still have the nerve to talk to me like that." Bison said with a smirk, "Don't get too cocky; I will make you regret those words in just a matter of moments."

"No… I'd rather make you regret you ever existed!" Sanji said sternly. He then spun around on his right foot with great speed. He then stopped as he raised his right foot, which was now blazing red with heat. "DIABLE JAMBE!"

"Hoo? That strange leg of yours again?" Bison asked while uncrossing his arms, "Are you sure to attack me with that? The last time you did, I knocked you flat on the floor."

"Things don't happen twice in a row! Now, get ready!" Sanji yelled as he charged at Bison with a flying front kick. Bison teleported to avoid, and appeared behind Sanji. This event happened exactly like the time they confronted in Dreamland.

"Still nothing new!" Bison laughed as he was about to backhand across Sanji's head.

"Not until now!" Sanji yelled as he ducked to avoid getting hit. Then in a blink of an eye, and Sanji did a front roll, turning around towards Bison in the process, and lunged towards him with another forward kick with his blazing foot. Bison smirked disappeared as Sanji kicked him really hard in the chest.

"GUUUUUAAAAAAAAAHHH!" Bison soured back across the entire room, and crashed hard into the wall. He emerged from the wall, and gasped in pain as he held his chest, which was really burned. "Damn… where did that come from! I can hardly stand from that kick!"

"HIYAAA!" Sanji dashed towards Bison when he wasn't looking, and did a roundhouse kick, kicking Bison across the face with his blazing foot.

"Gah!" Bison tumbled sideways until he regained his footing, only to see Sanji leaping towards him again.

"TROISEIME HACHE!" Sanji performed a barrage of kicks towards Bison, who instantly teleported away to avoid, and reappeared behind Sanji in a distance.

"KNEE PRESS NIGHTMARE!" Bison did quick and multiple front flips with his legs only, leaving several afterimages behind as Sanji jumped, and ran up the wall next to him to avoid Bison flipping by.

Sanji then jumped off the wall, and spun vertically while curled up in a ball as he fell down to the floor, "CONCASSE!" Sanji slammed his blazing heel on the floor, creating a stream of fire that stretched itself out from side to side. Bison immediately got out of the way as the fire spreads out all over the wall, where Sanji entered the room from a couple of minutes ago. Bison was stunned by this.

" He has grown much stronger than before… but how! " Bison thought while gritting his teeth, "Ugh!" He then saw Sanji doing several backflips to him. Bison got his guard up as Sanji turned towards him in the midway of his last flip, and leaped at him with a blazing kick

"PREMIER SHOOT!" Sanji flew at Bison with great speed as Bison charged his body up with psycho power.

"PSYCHO CRUSHER!" Bison leaped towards Sanji, spinning his body horizontally while covered in pyscho aura as he and Sanji hits eachother again for the second time. Both of their auras grow more immense by the second as Sanji yelled furiously, causing the heat on his foot to grow even faster. "Grrrr-AAAAAAHHH!" Bison got knocked back, and got kicked hard in the gut by Sanji. Bison cried in agony as he felt the tremendous coming from blow of Sanji's leg before he soured across the room, and crashed into the wall again. Sanji gently landed back on his feet, and let's out a soft sigh before looking at his opponent.

"Told ya…" Sanji said with a shrug. He then turned back, and started walking away, "Hmm?" Sanji then stopped as he could still hear Bison groaning from behind. Sanji sighed again as he turned back towards Bison, but what he saw got him surprised. "What the…?"

From the other side of the room, Bison slowly rose up from the ground, with colorful sparks of electricity coursing through his body.

His head was lowered, so Sanji couldn't see his expression, but he could hear Bison taking deep breaths every now and then. "Ugh.. huuuhh… ugh.. err…" Bison gritted his teeth as his pyscho aura started to show around him again, with more streams of electricity appearing over his body now. "Heh heh heh heh heh heh heh heh… HA HA HA HA HA HA HA! YAAAAAAHH!" Bison spreads his arms out as his pyscho aura grew tremendously around him, and engulfed the side of the room he was standing on.

"What's happening to him!" Sanji asked, a little worried as Bison could be seen smirking.

"Haaaa ha ha! I am so excited, now!" Bison yelled as his pupil-less eyes glowed purple instead of white. "I've clearly underestimated your full potential, chef! I finally understand how people can grow so powerful with pure determination alone! You have succeeded in proving me wrong about you, and I am truly thankful for that!" Bison then reached out his hand, "I have had a change of heart. Serve me, and together, we will dominate all lifeforms! Nothing will stand against us, for we are all indestructible!"

Sanji frowned at this, "Forget it…" He growled, "I will not become your slave! It wouldn't even matter if I did join you by my own will, right! You would just try to brainwash me just like you did to the rest of the people you met!" Sanji then clenched his fist in anger as the heat on his foot grew stronger again, "The soldiers I have seen from you so far had no emotions; they were acting like robots! They couldn't even think by themselves because you have taken everything away from them!" He then got on his battle stance, "I will stop you, and free them all from your grasp! You are going to lose here and now!"

"Hmm hmm hmm, ha ha ha ha! HA HA HA HA HA!" Bison laughed maniacally, "Well, now, it seems you still believe that you can defeat me! We've been fighting for quite a while now, but you still haven't lived up to your word in destroying me; you mustn't be too angry to finish me off then, since I am still standing."

"Grr…" Sanji growled.

"Don't worry; this will all end soon!" Bison said as his pyscho aura caused the floor to tremble slightly, making Sanji to be more defensive, "I will now fight with all I got! I pray you survive so I can turn you into one of my soldiers forever!"

"SHUT UP!" Sanji yelled furiously as he charged at Bison. Before he could throw a kick, though, Bison appeared several inches in front of Sanji, shocking him as Bison socked him in the face with his right fist. "UGH!"

Sanji soured across the room, and was about to crash into the blazing wall behind him, but Bison teleported in his way, "Not yet!" he yelled as he threw a horizontal kick, kicking Sanji's head as Sanji flew towards the wall to his side. He crashed into hard as he fell on the ground on his knees. "Ha ha ha ha ha!" Bison hovered quickly towards Sanji with his legs facing forward, and leaped as he then clasped his hands together, and brought them down at Sanji. Sanji quickly did a roll, avoiding Bison as he hits the wall instead, giving Sanji some time to strike before he gets back on the ground.

"COLLIER SHOOT!" Sanji did a side kick with his blazing foot at Bison from behind, letting a stream of fire that burned almost everything in it's path.

"Oooh, too close!" Bison teased as it turns he teleported behind Sanji before he could get hit. Sanji frowned as he did a backflip, and tried to kick Bison's skull with his leg, but Bison was quick as he delivered an uppercut in Sanji's gut. Sanji cried in pain as he knocked into the air, where Bison teleported several feet above him. "PYSCHO CRUSHER!" Bison did a downward pyscho crusher, barging Sanji downward into the floor hard as the attack also realeased an explosion afterwards.

"Eeh!" Sanji leaped away from the dust cloud of the explosion, and grabbed his chest in pain. He had little time to recover as Bison chased after with a double knee press. "POITRINE SHOOT!" Sanji aimed for Bison's head, and did a side kick with his blazing foot that released a thin, but a swift fireball forward, but unfortunately missed as Bison hovered back to avoid being hit, and watched Sanji's fireball hit the side of the ceiling, which released a blazing explosion afterwards.

"PYSCHO SLIDE!" Bison slid forward on his feet, and as soon as he stopped, he released some of his pyscho energy from the bottom of his boots, creating a colorful shockwave that knocked Sanji up against the large window.

"Grr!" Quickly after crashing on the window, Sanji flipped back, and bounced off the window, and landed on the ground behind Bison. Bison laughed as he turned towards Sanji, and flew at him with a flying spinning elbow, but Sanji ducked to avoid, and quickly stood back up as soon as the floor beneath him got hot. "ANTI-MATTER KICK COURSE!" Sanji brought up his blazing leg, kicking Bison up across his chin as Sanji's kick also released a fire pillar from the ground Bison stood on, and knocked Bison high up in the air. The pillar disappeared as Sanji ran up along the wall next to him, and leaped towards Bison afterwards.

"FLAMBAGE SHOT!" Sanji grabbed Bison's right arm, and was about to kick Bison down to the ground with his blazing foot, but to his surprise, Bison caught Sanji's burning leg with the back of his left wrist alone.

"Her ha ha ha ha!" Bison laughed as his pyscho aura grew stronger, electrifying Sanji as the sudden pain caused him to let go of Bison's arm, "How about a little push!" Bison asked as he thrusted his palms into Sanji's chest five times, with the last one sending Sanji flying down to the center of the floor like a rocket. Sanji cried while lying on the symbol on the floor while Bison crossed his arms, and placed his feet together, "PSYCHO STOMP!" Bison headed down at Sanji with great speed as Sanji quickly got up, and ran away before Bison landed on the ground so forcefully, that he created a five layered shockwave made out of his pyscho power as it coursed along the ground, destroying the symbol in the center, and disfiguring the rest of the floor.

"Waah! Whoa!" Sanji tumbled forward, but recovered his footing as he ran up alongside the large window to avoid the layers of the shockwave. "You crazy bastard!" He yelled before landing back on the ground. He then did three cartwheels before lunging at Bison with his blazing leg raised, "EPLUCHAGE!"

Sanji brought down his leg, creating five blazing cutting waves that moved forwardly across the ground in different directions. "Heh heh he-AAH!" Bison decided to take the hit as some of the cutwaves passed through his body, leaving some burned marks behind. Bison leaned forward, and despite getting hurt, he laughed as his pyscho aura around him grew even stronger.

Sanji charged at Bison, and leaped up yet again while spinning his body horizontally with his blazing leg raised up. "SANTEN DECOUPAGE!" Sanji then did a 1080 degree spin, with each regular spin creating a horizontal cutting wave that went diagonally downward towards Bison. Bison hovered back as the waves left a small wall of fire on the floor after making impact, while Sanji lands on the ground, and ran towards his own walls of fire he just created. "BROCHETTE SHOOT!" Sanji jumped feet first, and spun his body horizontally, going through the walls of fire as he was now engulfed by his own flames. He drilled his blazing feet directly into Bison's chest as Sanji flew him diagonally upwards.

Bison grunted in pain as he was going to get drilled up against the upper wall, but he then smirked as he was able to skid forwardly along Sanji's blazing body as Sanji drilled his legs into the wall. While still in midair, Bison did a front flip, wrapping his left arm around Sanji's head, and brought him down to the floor along with him. "Heh heh! One!" While souring down towards the floor, Bison punched Sanji in the head while holding him tightly, letting out an electrical discharge from his fist that damaged Sanji even worse, "Two!" Bison repeated the procedure by hitting Sanji again, nearly knocking him out as Bison then lifted him above his head. "Three strikes, you're out!"

Bison slammed Sanji on the floor hard, with Sanji landing on the back of his head. Sanji limplessly fell on his back afterwards as Bison picked him up by his neck, and started choking him again while also releasing his pyscho power on him to further the damaging process. "Ha ha ha ha! I truly had fun! You will be of great use in my army! Now, submit under my pyscho power! Let me guide your spirit for the rest of your days!" Sanji then raised his blazing leg, surprising Bison as Sanji placed his leg on Bison's cheek. "Guaaahh!" The heat burned Bison greatly as the pain caused him to let go of Sanji, who raised his head upon regaining focus.

"FLAMBAGE SHOT!" While standing up on the ground, Sanji slammed Bison's face into the floor with his blazing foot, creating a mild explosion afterwards. "GET UP!" Sanji yelled as he kicked Bison in the face with his regular foot, knocking Bison up on his feet as Sanji proceeded to kick the living daylights out of him with multiple kicks. "COLLIER! LONGE! JARRET! QUASI! DENTS! TENDRON! BOUCHE! QUEUE! FLANCHET! POITRINE! MOUTON! GIGOT! SELLE! COTELLETE! EPAULE! ESCALOPE! OEIL! NEZ! JOUE! MENTON!" Sanji's last kick hit Bison in the chin as Sanji then prepared the finisher with his blazing foot, "COLLIER SHOOT!" Sanji ended his deadly combo with a powerful side kick that released a stream of flames over Bison.

"GrrrrrrrrrRRRRRRRRA AAAAAAAGHHHH!" Bison screamed in pain, but he was not finished. He moved forward through the flames, and delivered a combo of elbows, knees and palms into Sanji, with the finisher elbowing Sanji down hard on his chest. "You little maggot! Only a few have ever survived against me for this long, and I will not let you be one of them!" Bison brought his foot down at Sanji, but missed as Sanji rolled back on his feet, still willing to fight on, "I am no longer amused; instead of having you in my army, I will kill you instead!"

"Heh! I know you're hesitating to beat me. You don't need to deny it." Sanji said with a smirk, "I'm not done yet, though. So get ready for more!"

"No… I won't let you get the better of me! I am stronger than you!" Bison yelled furiously.

"No use lying to yourself!" Sanji said before growing serious, "Now, I will-huh!" Before Sanji could take a step forward, something was holding his blazing foot back. "Who the-!" Sanji gasped as he saw Juni and Juli holding on his blazing foot, preventing him from walking any further. "Wh-What are you two doing! You're going to die if you hold onto my leg!"

Juni and Juli groaned in pain as they were being burned, but held onto Sanji's leg nonetheless as Sanji didn't know what to do. Bison saw this, and immediately smirked as he decided to act upon this moment. "Now I got you!" Bison yelled as he charged up his hands. Sanji saw this, and gasped in shock.

"Are you crazy! You're going to hit them too!" Sanji yelled.

"PYSCHO BEAM!" Bison created a pyscho ball from his palms, and thrusted it into the ground in front of him. Pillars of pyscho energy then emerged from the ground one by one as they were heading towards Sanji.

"Dammit!" Sanji kicked his leg to the side, causing Juni and Juli to let go before Sanji got hit by one of the pillars, "AAAAAAAAHHHHH!" Sanji tumbled back, with his body nearly burned as Juni and Juli groggily beside their leader. Sanji groggily got up on his hands and knees, and glared at Bison's soldiers. "What's wrong with you two! Don't you realize I am trying to save you!"

"Ha ha ha ha! Don't waste your time! They only follow me, and no one else!" Bison laughed, "Now that I have my elite back, they will help me dispose of you for good."

"You bastard! This fight is only between you and me! Don't get them involved in this!" Sanji yelled furiously.

"I don't see the reason why I shouldn't get them involved! Besides, what better way to destroy you then with the people you try to save! It's all over, chef!" Bison said while pointing at Sanji, "Now go, you two! Destroy… what!" But to his surprise, his elite duo were binded in place by arms that sprouted from their bodies seconds ago. The arms then clutched their backs as the duo limplessly fell on their backs. This was all surprising to Bison, "What just happened!

"You shouldn't abuse your soldiers so much; they are not exactly machines, you know?"

Bison turned around, and saw none other than Robin standing near the doorway to the room. "You! You're that woman who defeated my soldiers back then!"

"Robin-chan!" Sanji yelled in relief, happy to see Robin again. He then gasped upon seeing Robin's injuries, "Robin-chan, what happened to you! Are you okay!"

"I'm alright! I only fought with a disturbing clown, but I was able to defeat him, and get back inside the castle." Robin explained, "Do not worry, Cook-san, I will take care of this man for you."

"Robin-chan…" Sanji said before groaning in pain.

"I see… you came from the outside, so I presume you defeated Sweet Tooth." Bison said, "Hmm hmm, unlike your chef friend, you are certainly much more amusing." Bison then walked towards Robin, "I will take you in as a shadoloo soldier, and you will do everything I say flawlessly."

"Robin, get away from him! He's too strong!" Sanji yelled. Robin sprouted arms from Bison's body, but when she did, she felt the current of Bison's pyscho aura.

"Aaahh!" Robin collapsed on her knees, and with the injuries she got from Sweet Tooth, she could barely stay concious as Bison then frowned.

"What's this? You can't fight anymore? Hmph!" Bison grabbed Robin by the hair, and tossed her on her back between his heavily injured elite duo. Bison then pulled back both of his palms as he charged them up with pyscho energy. "Oh well, I suppose this makes things much more easier for me! Now rest easy while I take over your mind!" Bison then reached his hands towards Robin's head. Robin couldn't move as Sanji was completely terrified by this.

"ROOOOOOOOOOOOBBBBBB BBBBBBBBIIIIIIIIIII IIIIIIIIIIIIIIIINNNN NNNNNN!"

Sanji's cry woke up Juni and Juli as there eyes were shot open. They then sprung up, and got in Bison's way. "What!" Bison gasped as he accidentally grabbed onto his duo elite.

"AAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAHH HHHHHHHHHHH!" They both cried as Bison's pyscho power coursed through their bodies, burning them up to the point that they could no longer breathe. Bison lets go of them as both Sanji and Robin were shocked at what just happened. Juni and Juli glanced over their shoulders, and to Sanji's surprise, he could see them smiling pleasantly at him.

"Thank you… for waking us up…" Juni said kindly.

"Now… we can finally sleep…" Juli said kindly as well.

They then fell on their chests dead as their bodies turned into dark element life streams. The streams vanished in thin air as Sanji couldn't believe at what just happened. "They're gone…" Robin said mildly shocked getting up on one knee. Bison frowned at this loss as he then gritted his teeth.

"Hergh… they somehow broke free of my pyscho control. In any case, it's a good thing that they died; they were pratically useless from the start." Bison said.

Those despicable words struck Sanji in the heart, he was absolutely furious now. He clenched his hands into fists as he slowly stood up from the ground, and stood up straight, "Robin-chan…" he said, grabbing Robin's attention, "I need you to get out of this room now. I can't guarantee your safety if you stay here any longer."

Robin could see the anger and determination in Sanji's eyes as she then nodded slowly, "Alright… be careful…" Robin said. She limped to the doorway, walking pass Bison, who only focused his gaze on Sanji as Robin walked out of the room.

"Heh heh heh! Are you upset? You couldn't save those worthless soldiers of mine afterall. Doesn't that make you feel utterly useless?" Bison asked with a smirk.

"Shut up, Shithead…" Sanji replied while placing a cigarette on his lips, and lits it up, "I'm really not in the mood to talk to you right now. In fact, I have been fighting you so long, I am kinda getting hungry." He then blew out a puff of smoke before holding his cigarette with his fingers, "I feel like making a special dish today… something I haven't tried out yet. I need a perfect ingredient for it, though, and I didn't know what it was until I met you. It's then I decided… that you will be that ingredient."

"What?" Bison asked with a frown. His eyes then widened in shock as Sanji's body glowed colorfully. Sanji activated his Smash ball as his eyes glowed yellow. "What's happening to you?" Bison asked.

"I've made my decision… I am going to make a cuisine out of you!" Sanji yelled before tossing the cigarette away, "FINAL SMASH!" The fire on Sanji's foot then grew tremendously as it took shape of flaming scythe, with the larger blade coming from his heel.

"I don't know what's going on, but I will stop it!" Bison yelled as he threw a fist at Sanji, but Sanji disappeared in a blink of an eye. "What!" Bison turned around, and saw Sanji running around the room, leaving a towering trail of fire behind. By the time he was done running, all the sides of the room were engulfed in flames as Sanji then leaped to center of the room.

"I can't cook without the oven on. I don't intend to serve you raw." Sanji said bluntly.

"Why you! KNEE PRESS NIGHTMARE!" Bison did several front flips towards Sanji, who swiftly avoided Bison, and disappeared. "Huh! Where did he go!"

"First, we cut the lardons into thin slices!" Sanji started explaining as vertically kicked Bison around his body so fast, Sanji couldn't even be seen. Bison cried in pain as Sanji reappeared behind him, "Then we parboil them to remove the excess salt!" Sanji then did a quick spin, unleashing a blazing tornado that engulfed Bison, and knocked up in the air. Bison's skin was nearly burned to crisp as Sanji reappeared above him, "You then saute them to render out the fat!" Sanji double kicked Bison to the burning floor, and kicked him along the ground repeatedly, before knocking him back up in the air, "And then, you add the oil before adding in the vegetables!"

Sanji leaped after Bison, and repeatedly kicked him up higher in the air. Sanji then started bouncing from wall to wall, kicking through Bison in midair, not giving him the chance to land on the ground. "GRRRRRRRRRR!"

"Mushroom stems and pieces will often be added at the beginning of the dish in order to contribute to the flavor of the sauce!" Sanji spun vertically upwards with his blazing leg extended, repeatedly kicking Bison up as he then kicked him down with the same foot. Bison crashed hard on the floor, which was now blazing red from the heat in the room. Sanji then landed back on the ground on one knee while raising his head up, "The sauce is then returned to the chicken and the whole mushrooms are added in the last fifteen minutes of cooking!"

Sanji then stomped his heel on the ground, and raised it upward as all the flames flew upward in the center of the room, slowly creating a giant fireball, which glowed white in the center, and orange in the sides. The room turned back exactly how it was as Bison groggily gets back on his feet. "The juices are thickened by adding blood at the end."

Sanji went towards Bison for a kick, but Bison immediately socked Sanji in the face, staggering him back as Bison was now furious, "THIS ENDS NOW! ULTRA SPECIAL!" Bison did a triple forward flip, hitting Sanji three times as he got knocked off his feet. Bison then did a psycho crusher, and pushed Sanji all the way up towards the top of his fireball. "THIS PLACE WILL BE YOUR GRAVE!" Bison then pushed Sanji towards the fireball, and planted his feet into Sanji's gut to make him fall faster. Sanji then fell into his fireball as Bison teleported in front of the window. "YES! I WIN!" But to his surprise, the fireball suddenly shrunk, and coated around Sanji's entire right leg.

"And now, for the coup de graci!" Sanji yelled as he charged Bison with maximum speed, "COQ AU VIN; FLECHE SHOT!" Sanji leaped, and thrusted his blazing leg forward, kicking Bison hard in the chest for the final time. The blazing coating around his leg was released into a big blazing arrow as it shot Bison through the window, including the entire wall around it, and sends Bison flying out of the castle.

"WAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA AAAHHHHHHHHHHHHHHH!" Bison cried as the arrow pushed him far, far, and farther away, as he flew over the fortress as well. He was literally being blown away in thousands of kilometers per second as he kept flying back as he glanced back to see Obscurum's gathered dark element life force already several feet behind him. "NOOOO! THIS CANNOT BE!"

Bison continued to scream until the arrow impaled him into the pool of dark elemental life.

SPLOOOOOOOSSSSHHHH!

An explosion occurred inside the energy afterwards as Bison was now long gone. Sanji's foot was back to normal as Sanji lets out a smile before collapsing on his knees. Robin came back into the room, seeing that Bison was gone, and rushed over to Sanji's side.

"Are you alright, Cook-san?" Robin asked.

"Yes… I am…" Sanji said as he then chuckled, "… That was some dish… not even Luffy could even eat that in one whole bite." Sanji then looked up, "I couldn't save them… do you think that… they are in heaven now?"

"Mmm hmm. I'm positive that they are." Robin replied kindly.

"Heh… good." Sanji said with a soft sigh, "I hope those two rest in peace…"

Meanwhile…

Luffy, Zoro, Nami, and Usopp emerged from another mirror-like portal, and finally ended up in another place. "Finally, we're out!" Usopp sighed in relief while collapsing on his hands and knees.

"Where are we this time?" Luffy asked. Luffy could see a big spiral staircase in front of him, with stain-glass windows along the side of the curved walls.

"Judging by the looks of this place, it looks like we're in a tower." Nami said.

"A tower, huh? I wonder what's at the top." Luffy said while rubbing his chin. Zoro walked up to one an open window, and peered his head through it. His eyes widened as he looked back at his crew.

"Guys, you better take a look at this." Zoro said.

The others looked through the window, and could see that they were indeed in a tower. It wasn't just a regular tower, however, as it was not on the ground, but it floating over the west garden, or from the garden on the right side from where the crew entered the castle.

"Waahh! Just how did we got over here!" Nami asked while backing away from the window.

"I say we should go back to that crazy room again!" Usopp said nervously while raising his hand up.

"Let's go upstairs, and see where we go from here." Zoro said bluntly.

"Alright, let's go up the stairs. Don't get lost along the way, Zoro." Luffy ordered.

"Shut up…" Zoro mumbled.

The four cautiously when up the long stairway. It took them atleast a minute or two to finally reach the end of the stairway, and find a double wooden door at the end. Luffy punched the door open as through was a circular room with a black and red tiled floor, and hollow balcony as the second floor. There were also regular double door windows on each of the floors, with purple drapes on the sides.

"Oooooooh! So cooOOOL!" Luffy said in awe as he and his crew walked into the room.

"I don't like the looks of this place…" Usopp whimpered.

"Where do we go now?" Zoro asked. Nami looked around the place, until she saw something through the double door window in the other side of the room in the first floor.

"Hey, I think there's another portal there." Nami said, pointing at another mirror-like portal on the balcony outside the room.

"Well, what are we waiting for? Let's get to it." Luffy said as he was about to walk towards it, but Zoro stopped him by placing his hand on his shoulder. "Huh? What's up, Zoro?"

"We're not alone here…" Zoro said while shifting his vision around his surroundings. Both Nami and Usopp got scared as they got close to Luffy and Zoro to feel safe.

Suddenly, the double door window on the second floor bursted open, catching the Strawhat crew's attention. "Welcome, my dear friends! You made it just in time!"

"Who goes there!" Luffy asked angrily.

A colorful triangle appeared over the inner balcony of the second floor as it then shattered into pieces. Kefka then emerged from the destroyed triangle, and levitated over the rail.

"Greetings! It is I, Kefka, the strongest ruler who will destroy everything that has no meaning!" Kefka said with open arms, "As guests in this dark and eerie world, I would like to be the first to CRUSH YOUR HOPES AND DREAMS WITH AN IRON FIST!"

Coq au vin is claimed to be a famous french cuisine. It fits perfectly with Sanji since his attack names are based off food all the time. Anyway, the next chapter should be interesting for all the obvious reasons. I'll try update quicker next time! Ciao for now!

I had a little trouble with the fight in this chapter, considering that Kefka has god-like powers, and Usopp… doesn't. In any case, I think this battle turned out alright. I hope you like it! Have fun!

An end of a psychotic leader. With nothing but having pure anger in his heart, Sanji fought Bison beyond his limits. Inspite of all his efforts, however, it appeared that Bison was about to defeat him anyhow. Robin then appeared, and helped Sanji, but when Bison was about to kill her, his own elite duo, Juli and Juni, took Bison's finishing blow, and died in Robin's place. Seeing this angered Sanji like never before as he activated his final smash, and finally managed to defeat Bison. Half of the Obscurum rulers are now gone. Will the rest of the Strawhat crew be able to defeat the other half?

Chapter 126: I'm the bravest warrior of the cosmos!, Usopp vs Kefka

Luffy and his crew looked up towards Kefka with nearly shocked expressions, watching Kefka as he floated over the rail on the second floor, picking his right ear with his pinky. "Eh… give me a sec here; I think my ears clogged up from screaming at you earlier…" Kefka said before picking out some earwax from his ear, and flicked away.

The Strawhats kept their guard up, but were severely confused at the Obscurum ruler before them. "… Who's this guy?" Zoro asked.

"Tha-Tha-That's the guy back in Dreamland… he nearly killed us back then…" Usopp whimpered behind Zoro.

"Oh? Funny, I don't remember that." Zoro said while tilting his head sideways.

"It's because you were sleeping during that time!" Nami answered to Zoro, but gave a worried look towards Kefka, who was now picking out earwax from his other ear "I didn't expect to see this guy again after everything that has happened back then. Not even his own power was enough to destroy him…" Nami then gritted her teeth, "Anyway, this guy is really dangerous. If hadn't been for Usopp back then, who knows if we had made it out alive…"

"Um, maybe we shouldn't talk about that right now. He is right in front of us, you know?" Usopp whispered nervously. Luffy remained quiet while staring at Kefka with a confused look. In the meantime, Nami briefly looked through the double door window up ahead before looking back at Kefka with a stern look.

"Okay, we can still make it out of this. All we have to do is make run for it towards that portal while this guy isn't looking." Nami whispered to her comrades, "I don't where we might end up, but anywhere is better than here."

"As if running away will make a difference." Zoro replied while glaring at Kefka, "We're in the enemy's territory, remember? Even if we do get away from this… guy, I doubt it will be the last time we see him. He's going to keep chasing us until we're dead, and the only way to get rid of him is to defeat him."

"But he has magical powers, Zoro!" Usopp hissed, "Powers that can even destroy a ship!"

"So what? We've been through much worse before…" Zoro replied. Kefka was still busy with his ears as Nami couldn't seem to wait any longer.

"It's now or never! We have to atleast give this a try before anything else happens!" Nami hissed, "I'm going for it now!"

Nami then sprinted forward, with Usopp following behind as Luffy and Zoro kept their eyes on Kefka just incase he does anything to stop them.

"Eh…?" Kefka shifted his eyes down towards the first floor, and noticed Nami and Usopp running towards the exit. Luffy and Zoro noticed this, and got ready to attack Kefka, but what they found strange is that Kefka didn't try to do anything to stop them.

"Almost there!" Nami yelled happily as she reached her hand towards the double door window. Luffy then looked forward, and noticed a shadow coming from one off the standing columns to the side of the exit. "Huh!" Nami looked to her left to see one of Kefka's guards trying to bring his sword down on her.

"Guys!" Luffy yelled as he stretched his arms forward, and pulled Nami and Usopp back away from the exit, making the guard miss as he brought his sword down on the floor. The crew regrouped again as the rest of Kefka's guards appeared from behind the supporting columns, and surrounded the Strawhats.

"Oh no! We're trapped!" Usopp whimpered.

"This is why escaping was pointless." Zoro said bluntly, "I sensed these guys earlier, and it would be really hard to get through them without the clown noticing this."

"And you couldn't have warned us before! We nearly got our heads cut off, you moron!" Usopp yelled before backslapping Zoro across the back of his skull, but Zoro didn't faze from this.

"Hmph! You guys are really pathetic." Kefka said with a smuggish frown, "I didn't know you guys were such pansies, that you would try to escape from me. Although, I can understand why; I am a force to be reckoned with, and my strength is unmatched to all those who dare oppose me. Especially you stupid pirates."

"Let's see, there is only four of you here?" Kefka asked while raising his eyebrows, "Beh, I wanted to face all of you at once, but I suppose my other… comrades-eh…" Kefka said with a disgusted tone, "… are facing your other friends now. I'll just have to kill you all here, and leave squat for the other guys waiting for you up ahead. That way, I can be atleast satisfied in doing the smart thing that should have been done a long time ago!"

"Look, we're in a hurry here!" Nami stepped up to Kefka, "If you don't want us to get on our nerves like last time, we'll make sure you pay dearly! Now get out of our way, before we make you!" Nami warned while getting out her PCT.

"Oooohh, I'm soooo scared!" Kefka teased before pointing at Nami, "Look, guys, she took out her shiny blue tube! Whatcha' going to do with that, huh? You're going to whack us to death with it! Mwa ha ho ho ho ho!"

Kefka's soldiers laughed at Nami as well, but didn't laugh for long as Kefka hushed them with a wave of his hand, "Seriously, though, you guys have been soooo meddlesome lately. I mean, I can probably imagine a stupid kid with his pets doing that sort of thing, but pirates? Pfft!" Kefka mocked, "If you would've just butted out when you had the chance, we wouldn't be having this conversation." Kefka then gave a smuggish smirk, "There is no turning back, I'm afraid. You have just walked into your final resting place, and there is nothing you can do about it!"

"Yeah, that's right!" The captain of Kefka's soldiers said behind him determinedly, "And since you are outnumbered by Lord Kefka's troops, there is no way you can escape from here! The odds of getting away would be like… a billion to one! You might as well give up now, and we will assure that your deaths will be painless!" Kefka rolled his eyes from hearing that, and glanced at his captain over his shoulder.

"Thank you, Captain Obvious, for repeating the things I just said… except for the 'painless death' part. Now shut it, and let the smart guy talk! Hmm!" Kefka said angrily. The captain gulped upon seeing this as he hid behind his men. "Now as I was saying, you pirate trash are finally going to get what's coming to you! Since the day that stupid punching hand took you out of your world, and got you into this mess, I felt so uneased with myself, and those pathetic comrades-eh of mine were too dullheaded enough to take you seriously. I wouldn't be surprised if the other half of your comrades-eh have already taken care of half of those idiots I hanged out with, considering that the good guys always seem to win if the bad guys take them so lightly from the start."

"Wha? You don't care if your friends might die?" Nami asked.

"It's not that I don't care, it's just that… actually, yeah, I could care less about them." Kefka said with a quick nod, "And they are not my friends; I'm just hanging out with them until I could get back what I want, then I will have no problem killing them all." He said seriously, "It's their fault you're here to begin with! If you guys were able to exceed their expectations, then it's quite obvious what the results would be! Regardless, even if your friends kill them or not, things won't change since I am the strongest ruler of the eight! Isn't that right, fellas?"

"Oh, yes, Lord Kefka! You're truly magnificent!" commented one of Kefka's guards.

"Nobody can surpass your greatness, Lord Kefka!"

"If I had a son or a daughter, I would name them after you, Lord Kefka!"

"Alright already, they get the picture." Kefka said, silencing his troops with a wave of his hands.

"What an idiot… I still can't believe this guy is one of the rulers…" Nami muttered as she, and her friends, except for Luffy, sweatdropped at this scene.

"And furthermore…" Kefka said while lowering his head, and sticking out his finger, "I have the need to destroy a certain pirate that has done a terrible thing to me back then…" Kefka eyes then shot open as he then pointed at somebody, "And that person is you!"

Kefka was pointing at Luffy, who merely tilted his head sideways in confusion while his crew gasped at this, "That's right; the idiot there is the reason for all my hatred towards you pirates. Not only did he trespass into my ship, and knocked all my men down, he took it upon himself to hit me in the face, and chased me all over my ship like a raging lunatic!" Kefka then smirked at Luffy, "You think I was angry before, well wait until you see how angry I am now! Just so you know, I was only playing with you back then. That won't be the case here, however, for I will destroy you and your friends with one blow!" Kefka then looked away from Luffy with a cocky smirk, "I can see that your speechless ever since you saw me again. Are you afraid? I am not surprised. I bet you regret of ever making fun of me now…"

Luffy still remained speechless, but then his eyes widened in realization, "Oh! Now I remember you!" Luffy said while placing the bottom of his right fist on his left palm, "You're that transexual-looking guy back in that ship!"

"Sure, you may be stronger than you look, I'll admit that much, but there is no way in hell you can match up to me." Kefka boasted as if he didn't hear what Luffy just said, "I have powers of a god, you know? Although, all my strength hasn't come back yet, I am still very strong, and I could-DID HE JUST MAKE FUN OF ME AGAIN!"

"No, Lord Kefka! Please control yourself!" The Captain yelled as he and more than half of his companions refrained Kefka from flying over to Luffy, and attempt to rip his head off. You could clearly see the sheer anger in Kefka's expression due to his bloodshot eyes, and wide gritted teeth. Even though his men tried pulling him back, he continuously tried to reach for Luffy, who simply tilted his head in confusion again.

"Um, Luffy, I don't think we should be making fun of the guys who are trying to kill us." Usopp whispered to Luffy, "They might… I dont know, KILL US!"

Once Kefka was able be at ease, his men backed away from him. Kefka then formed a fireball from his palm, which alerted the Strawhats as they got defensive again. "Bah… why do you people always have to be so cocky at times like this!" Kefka asked as he glared down at the crew. His men also got into their battle stances, taking out their weapons as they surrounded the Strawhats again. "I'm going to finish what should have been done a long time ago! And since I have been serious about you from the start, I will not get killed again!"

Zoro unsheathed his swords, and smirked at Kefka, "I can sense that you are one strong guy. Let's see how well you do against all four of us!"

"Hmph! Have you forgotten that I am the strongest ruler here!" Kefka asked, not intimated by Zoro's words, "Give me your best shot; I will take you all down with all I got!"

The Strawhats faced their back against each other, facing towards Kefka and his men surrounding them. "Tsk! There is no getting away from this." Nami muttered, "Defeating these guys shouldn't be a problem, but I am not sure about the clown. Luffy, you and Zoro go face that clown while Usopp and I will take care of the guards, okay?" Nami asked, but got no reply, "Luffy?"

Luffy was simply standing in a defenseless stance, facing in front of Kefka with his head lowered. Luffy then tilted his head up with a determined look, "No!" Luffy said.

"Huh!" Nami and Usopp said in unison. Zoro glanced at Luffy with a confused expression as Kefka's guards looked at eachother with a confused look as well.

"Eh! No?" Kefka repeated in confusion.

"No." Luffy replied plainly. The room got quiet as everyone wondered what the heck Luffy was thinking.

"No… are you really that stupid?" Kefka asked as he then looked at his captain, "He just said 'no' to me. What's he thinking? Did you hear him say 'no' just now?" The captain nodded as Kefka looked back at Luffy with an annoyed expression, "Why are you saying 'no'! It's not like you have a choice here, you idiot! You have to fight me, or get killed here!"

"He's right, Luffy!" Usopp whispered to Luffy, "What do you mean by saying 'no'?"

"I mean that we don't have the time to be doing this." Luffy said while briefly looking at Usopp, "If we have to fight with one of these guys, it shouldn't be all of us." Luffy then smiled, "I trust my crew, and I am sure that only one of them is enough to defeat this guy."

"You're underestimating me now!" Kefka asked with an angry expression.

"Heh, I see." Zoro said with a smirk, "It's best that we all keep going, and find the way to stop this world from getting any bigger. The faster we do so, the more of a chance we might actually stop this." Zoro then sheathed his swords, "I'll never understand how you always say the right things at the right time."

"So we're going to escape then?" Nami asked.

"Yep!" Luffy said as he pointed forward towards the portal behind Kefka and some of his troops. "The three of us will go on ahead, while one of you will stay here, and defeat this weird clown."

"I'm right here, you know! Stop mocking me!" Kefka yelled furiously.

"Oh, what a relief." Usopp said happily while patting Luffy on the shoulder from behind, "For once, you finally made a decision I could actually follow without any trouble. I have to say, this is the best thing you have ever decided."

"I'm glad you could see it that way, Usopp." Luffy said smiling while pointing at Usopp, "Because I picked you to stay here, and fight this guy all by yourself."

Usopp's relieved expression quickly disappeared as jaw dropped, and his eyes turned briefly pupiless. "… Wha… huh?"

"Oh, good choice." Nami agreed as she faced towards the frightened Usopp, "You did make that guy destroy his own ship once. I'm sure you won't have much trouble with him."

"Wha-wha-wha-wha-wha-wha…" Usopp said at a lost of words.

"Good luck, Usopp. You're going to need it here." Zoro said with a nod.

"WHA-WHA-WHA-WHA-WHA-WHA… !" Usopp repeated even louder.

"Heeeyyyy!" Kefka yelled to get the Strawhat's attention, "If you're done talking, I would like to kill you all now! Get them!"

Kefka's guards yelled as they charged towards the Strawhats from every direction. "Well, time to go!" Nami said as quickly took out a smoke pellet from Usopp's bag, and threw it down on the floor. The pellet exploded into a huge smokescreen that nearly covered most of the first floor. The guards coughed from within, including Kefka, who immediately got out of the smoke's range.

"Grr! Why that no good… hergh!" Kefka gasped as he then saw Luffy, Zoro, and Nami dashing out of the smoke screen, and headed toward the portal behind the double door window. "Hey, you nimwits, they're getting away! Stop them!" Kefka yelled at his guards, but got no reply as the guards were having trouble getting out of the smokescreen. From the same spot where Luffy, Zoro, and Nami escaped from the smokescreen, Usopp ran out of the smokescreen, and cried in agony while trying to get towards his crewmates.

"WAIT! PLEASE, DON'T LEAVE ME HERE! UGHHUHUHHH!" Usopp cried while tears poured out of his eyes.

Seeing that his men weren't going to stop the Strawhats anytime soon, Kefka faced towards where the crew were escaping. "Why do I have to do everything myself here!" Kefka asked himself as he then threw a piercing fireball passed Usopp and his crewmates. The fireball burned through the double door window, and exploded onto the portal upon impact. "Mwa ha ho ho ho ho! There is no escape-geh huh! Why are you guys still running!"

"Hold on to me, guys!" Luffy said. Zoro and Nami held onto Luffy by his shoulders as Luffy stretched his arms passed the destroyed double door window, and grabbed the front rail of the outer balcony passed the destroyed portal.

"WAIT FOR ME, PLEASE! I DON'T WANT TO DIE!" Usopp yelled while gaining on his crewmates.

"GOMU GOMU NO ROCKET!" Luffy spring himself right before Usopp could grab onto him, but ended up crashing on the floor instead. Kefka was utterly shocked at this as his jaw was hanging wide open.

"Th-Th… THOSE SONS OF SUBMARINERS! THEY ACTUALLY ESCAPED!" Kefka yelled in rage while moving his arms and legs angrily. He then turned towards his men, which were taking deep breaths after the smokescreen faded away, "What are you guys good for! They got away because of all of you!"

While Kefka yelled at his men, Usopp watched in agony as he saw Luffy, Zoro, and Nami fly across the sky, and actually went right through the dark castle's ceiling in the center. Usopp could here Nami yelling at Luffy for that, but was so upset that he was now alone. "No… I'm alone… alone…"

"Hmm!"

"Ugh?" Usopp gasped as he heard someone behind him. He slowly glanced over his shoulder, making a cranking noise in the process, which showed just how scared Usopp was. Once he finally looked over his shoulder, Usopp could see Kefka, and his men looking down at him with a smuggish frown.

"What's this? There is only one of them left?" Kefka asked with a snarl. His troops next to him then brought down their swords on Usopp.

"WAAAHHH!" Usopp quickly crawled underneath the troops' legs, and ran back inside the main floor, and got some distance between Kefka's men and him. Kefka flew in front of Usopp, and observed him.

"Eeehh… the way you screamed earlier… you're like the coward of the group, right?" Kefka asked, "-sigh-… Oh well, no matter. I actually enjoy killing people who doesn't even have the guts to harm a fly. I can just go after your friends later."

"Wai-Wai-Wait a minute!" Usopp pleaded, "Be-Before you do anything, is it really alright to go after me first?"

"Huh? What are you talking about?" Kefka asked with a confused look.

"I mean… Luffy is the guy you want. He's the strongest guy there is!" Usopp said, "And you're just going to let him get away like that?"

"It's not like he has anywhere else to run to!" Kefka said with a roll of his eyes, "Don't be such a wuss; you're going to die anyway! Why not now!"

"Ohh! There has to be a way out of this… If I can just make him go to Luffy, and the others, there is no way he would stand a chance against them. Come on, Usopp, put your brain to work here." Usopp thought before speaking, "You know, it was Luffy's idea to chase you back in Dreamland. I tried to make him reconsider, but no, he insisted to kick your ass as quickly as possible."

"Oh?" Kefka listened on curiously.

"Yeah, he knew you were trying to get away peacefully, but he just wanted to attack you anyway because he thought you were so pathetic." Usopp said, not exactly telling the truth, "I can understand you had to throw him offboard, and try to kill us afterwards, but I had the right to stop you by firing my tabasco pellet in your mouth. I mean, there was no reason for you-"

"What? You mean that burning ball that went into my mouth, and left my insides so burned, that it accidentally made me destroy my ship?" Kefka asked with widened eyes.

The room got quiet.

Kefka's men backed away from Kefka as far as possible, remembering how much Kefka was very upset about losing his ship that day. Usopp slowly looked at Kefka with a weak smile, seeing Kefka biting his own lower lip as he fumed with sheer hatred. "… Um, you didn't knew that I did that, did you?"

"THAT WAS YOOOOOOOOOOOOOUUUUU UUUUUUUUUUU?" Kefka asked so furiously that the ground shook.

"Waaaaaaahhh!" Usopp cried while crawling up against the locked double door behind him, "Um, maybe I didn't say that right! I-I re-really didn't mean anything bad by it! I was only trying to calm you down!"

"I AM GOING TO MASSACRE YOU, YOU LITTLE SHIP WRECKER! FIRAGA!" While gritting his teeth in anger, Kefka raised up his palm, and threw a fireball at Usopp.

"WAAAAAAAAHHHHH!" Usopp got up, and leaped away to the side as the fireball made impact on the big double door, and released a tremendous that took the whole door down. While Usopp was still in midair, and was screaming his lungs out with a terrified expression, he could only hear his thoughts. "Ooooooooooooooohhhhhhh… damn you, Luffy…"

Kefka's hands then glowed red as he then planted his feet on the ground, "HYPERDRIVE!" Kefka slammed his palms on the ground in front of him, releasing a row of blazing beams from the ground that headed towards Usopp.

"Damn you, Luffy! Damn you, Luffy! Damn you, Luuuuuffffffyyyyyyyyyyy… !" Usopp thought with an exaggerated snarl before landing hard on the ground as one of the blasts hits him from below. "YAAAAAAAWAAAHAAAAH!" Usopp was knocked really far up in the air, and limplessly fell hard on the floor, tumbling back until he crashed into a black column behind him.

"Mwa ha ho ho ho ho!" Kefka laughed as his men clapped their hands to him.

"Way to go, Lord Kefka! Nobody can beat you!" The captain praised.

Kefka smirked cockingly again as he approached towards Usopp, who was sitting down on the floor, laid back on a column with his head lowered. Kefka could see that Usopp was bleeding from the nose, which pleased him as he laughed at Usopp. "Mwa ho ho! Already dying? That's very good." Kefka said as he leaned towards Usopp, "Let me take a good look at you before-"

"USOPP PUNCH!" To Kefka's surprise, Usopp sprung up from the ground, and threw a fist into Kefka's face.

"MGRRHH!" Kefka muttered as he fell on his back. The guards were in a state of shock seeing this as Usopp proudly got on his feet, wiping the blood, which actually turned out to be ketchup, off his of his nose, and clothing.

"Yah ha ha ha ha!" Usopp laughed proudly with his hands on his hips, "Surprised! Even though I may not look like it, but I am also quite strong! In fact, I can actually defeat ten giants with my bare hands alone! Yes, indeed, I am so strong, that I even scare myself sometimes! Yah ha ha ha ha!"

"Te-Ten giants! That's incredible!" The captain said in awe as he and everyone else were awe-strucked by Usopp's lie.

Usopp continued to laugh as Kefka got up on his hands and knees "Heh heh! So, how about you run off before I punish you even further?"

"OooooOOOOOH, WHY YOU LITTLE! YOU'RE DEAD NOW!" Kefka yelled furiously as he turned around, and threw another fireball at Usopp, but was so angry, he didn't aim properly as the fireball flew passed Usopp while he was still laughing, and hits the wall, creating another big explosion that knocked Usopp off his feet forwardly.

"YAAAAAAAAAAAHHHHH!" Usopp cried as he flew over Kefka, and crashed headfirst on the ground before falling on his back. Kefka frustratedly got up on his feet, and hovered in the air again before swaying his arm towards his captain.

"I want you all to stay where you are! This ship wreckor is mine alone to kill!" Kefka demanded.

"Yes, sir! We won't interfere in any way!" The captain said as he and the guards stood back against the walls, so that they can stay far away from the battle.

"Okay! It's go time!" Kefka yelled as he then flew towards Usopp. "BLIZZARD!" Kefka threw a chunk of round ice upwards as it scattered into pieces upon hitting the floor. The pieces then rolled towards Usopp, who just got up on his feet.

"Whoa!" Usopp jumped with his legs spread out, avoiding the shards as he then ran around the room afterwards. Kefka gave chase as he threw several ordinary fireballs at Usopp from behind, but Usopp just kept leaping up with his head lowered to avoid them while running nonstop. Usopp then strifed to his left, doing a side roll afterwards as he then took out his Kabuto slingshot, and aimed at Kefka at the end of his roll. "HISSATSU KAEN BOSHI!" Usopp fired a blazing pellet at Kefka, who quickly flew backwards to avoid as the pellet exploded on the ledge of the hollow inner balcony.

"Tried to lure me into your trap again, huh!" Kefka asked before firing a lightning bolt from his fingertip as it went towards Usopp.

"Yeek!" Usopp moved his hips to the side, just avoiding the bolt as it flew past him, and strucked the ground behind him.

"Grr! How about this!" Kefka asked as he then threw a thunderball, which formed into vertical lightning bolts that streamed across the floor with their bottom ends. Usopp gulped as he stood completely straight, and went through between the bolts to avoid them. "Huh!"

Usopp then did a forward roll, and aimed at Kefka on one knee. "HISSATSU KATAKI BOSHI!" Usopp fired an explosive pellet at Kefka, who moved his body to the side to avoid it as the pellet on the wall on the upper floor. "Yeek!" Usopp then started running again, but Kefka flew in his way, and went straight towards him.

"THUNDER!" Kefka formed a big thunderball from both his palms, hitting Usopp head on as he was being electrified. Usopp was getting shocked so repeatedly, his bones flashed from his skin, and tumbled backwards across the floor afterwards. Kefka laughed as he then flew up, and went down on the ground in front of Usopp. "FIRA!" Kefka lands the ground hard on his feet, creating a fire pillar that leaned down towards Usopp.

"YAAAH!" Usopp immediately rolled aside to avoid, and aimed at Kefka who was still on the ground, "KOSHOU BOSHI!" Usopp fired a pellet directly into Kefka's face, and exploded into a field of pepper upon impact.

"Wah-aachooo! Achooo! Why-achoo!" Kefka sneezed repeatedly upon breathing in the pepper. While this happened, Usopp aimed at Kefka again after standing up.

"HISSATSU KATAKIBOSHI!" Usopp fired an explosive pellet, and managed to hit Kefka as the pellet exploded upon impacting him. "Yosha! I finally got you!" Usopp said happily.

"Guh!" Kefka was about to crash back into a column, but he stopped himself as he floated back onto his feet with a glare. "BACK AND FORTH FIRAGA!" Kefka threw an arrow-like fireball at Usopp. Usopp screamed as he tried to run away from it, but the fireball was chasing after him all over the place. Kefka then flew over Usopp, and got in his way again as he formed something between his palms. "BLIZZARA!" Kefka threw three chunks of ice as they flew towards Usopp.

"Whoa!" Usopp managed to get away as Kefka's fire and ice attacks collided into each other, creating a field of mist afterwards. Kefka squinted his eyes, and tried looking for Usopp. He had no luck doing so, until he saw a faint figure ahead.

"There you are!" Kefka yelled as he charged towards the figure ahead. "Hiya!" Kefka then did a strong kick, hitting the figure's head so hard, it fell of it's body. "Mwa ha ho ho-HUH!" To Kefka's surprise, he saw that it was just a cardboard cutout he just attacked.

"KATAKI HOSHI BOSHI!" From out of nowhere, several explosive pellets flew towards Kefka from behind. Kefka frowned as he turned around, and did some swift evasions, managing to avoid the pellets as they exploded on the upper walls behind him. "BOSHI!" Several more explosive pellets appeared from another direction, which Kefka avoided by flying towards the center of the room. Kefka tried to find Usopp in the center, but could see no sign of him anywhere due to the mist.

"AEROGA!" Kefka spinned himself, creating a tornado that took in the mist, clearing the whole room as Kefka could see his guards holding onto the columns to prevent themselves from getting pulled in.

"Waaah!" Kefka then saw Usopp, who tried to hold onto one of the columns, but his hands slipped as he then got sucked in by the tornado. He got spun around and around until the tornado finally died off, blowing the mist out of the room, and knocking Usopp way up high in the air. "Yaaahahhaahh!" Usopp cried as he limplessly flew upwards right before Kefka flew above him with his right hand glowing red. "GOOUGH!" Kefka punched Usopp hard in the gut, releasing a minor explosion aftewards as Usopp then crashed down to the floor like a comet, creating a dust cloud upon impact. The dust cloud faded as Usopp could be seen bleeding from the mouth, and he also appeared to be losing consciousness.

"Ooww… I am no match for this guy… I think I'm going to die… uggghhh…" Usopp groaned in pain before Kefka lifted him up by his wardrobe.

"You're so annoying, you know that!" Kefka asked, face to face with Usopp, "I expected you to be dead already, but for some reason, you're still alive! Why are you still alive!" Kefka asked. The only replied he receive was a poke in the eye by Usopp's nose. "Gah!" Kefka drops Usopp as he frantically moved his legs up and down while covering his injured eye, "He just poked me in the eye!"

"Hoooh, I'm not finished yet!" Usopp said with slightly scary voice as he aimed at Kefka several inches away with something, "USOPP WAGUUUUUMO!" Usopp shot a rubberband directly into Kefka's other eye, causing him to cover that eye in pain as well.

"Gyeh! Gyaaooww! Yaahaaahaaooww!" Kefka cried even louder as he fell on his knees in sheer pain. "It stingssss! Ahhh, damn it!"

"Now's my chance!" Usopp said as he charged at Kefka with his hammer, "USOPP HA-GUH!" But before Usopp could lower his hammer downward, Kefka instantly flailed his left hand without looking, and managed to hit Usopp right between the legs. Usopp groaned in sheer pain with his mouth as he fell on his back, and curled into a ball. "Oooooooh… that was a cheap shot…"

"Did I hit something! Somebody tell me what's going on; I can't see right now!" Kefka yelled while still covering his eyes. He and Usopp both looked ridiculous trying to recover from their severe injuries as the guards couldn't help but feel sorry for them.

"O-Oi, captain, is it alright to just watch this?" A guard asked the captain.

"Lord Kefka said not to interfere… no matter what…" The captain said while sweatdropping.

Meanwhile…

After crashing through the ceiling of the dark castle several minutes ago, Luffy, Zoro, and Nami ran along a big corridor, going up a huge set of black stairs with a purple carpet along the center shortly afterwards.

"I feel like this place is bigger than it looks from the outside!" Nami said while running, "No matter how far we go, it doesn't seem that we're getting anywhere!"

"I know that we're getting somewhere! We just have to keep running until we get to that black coat guy!" Luffy said while running alongside her.

"There's a door up ahead! Get ready!" Zoro said.

The trio got to end of the staircase, and barged in through a double door. They were now in a strange hallway filled with mirrors on the walls and ceilings, only the strange this is that the mirrors weren't reflecting anything back.

"So many mirrors here. Are they portals too?" Luffy asked while looking at his surroundings.

"They don't look like the ones we've seen before…" Zoro said. Nami squinted eyes, and saw something at the other end of the hallway.

"There is another door up ahead. We should just take the normal route this time." Nami said. Luffy and Zoro agreed as they proceed to run along the hallways, until they heard someone laughing. "Why are you laughing at a time like this, Luffy?"

"Huh? That wasn't me." Luffy said. The trio stopped as they could hear the creepy laughter again echoing throughout the hall.

"Strange, I can't sense anybody here… no, wait!" Zoro gasped as he looked around alarmingly, "There is definitely someone here now!"

The trio got their guard up as the laughter then suddenly stopped, "Peekaboo!" The trio gasped, and looked at the wall to their left to see none other than Dimentio inside a mirror.

"What the! Y-You're… !" Nami gasped upon seeing Dimentio.

"Hey, I remember you! You were that clown from back in the pokemon town!" Luffy exclaimed with a frown.

Dimentio laughed as to the crew's surprise, Dimentio could be seen in every mirror in the hallway. "I don't like the looks of this." Zoro muttered. Then suddenly, one of the Dimentio's in the mirror on the ceiling threw an energy sphere down at the crew, who saw it coming, and jumped out of the way to avoid. "That was too close!"

It was then that all the Dimentio's threw energy spheres at the trio nonestop.

"Woah! Run!" Luffy yelled as he, Zoro, and Nami ran faster across the hallways, avoiding the Dimentios' energy spheres as much as they can.

Meanwhile…

"Nyeeeh…" Kefka rubbed his eyes, and blinked several to regain his vision. Once he did, he sighed irritably while trying to get up, "Okay… that was severely cheap, you runt! Where are ya!" Kefka asked while getting up on one knee. He glanced over his shoulder to see Usopp crawling away, with only using his chin and knees while still holding his private parts in pain. Kefka snarled as he floated up in the air, and dived towards Usopp from behind. "I am going to kill you this tiiimeee!"

"… Now!" Usopp rolled onto his back as he took out a dial from his bag, and faced it at Kefka when he got close, "FLASH DIAL!" Usopp's dial released a bright light, blinding Kefka briefly as he lost control of himself.

"Wha-yah!" Kefka hits, and tumbled forward across the ground, tumbling by Usopp as Kefka then crashed into a column in front of him face first. "GuuuuhhhHHHRREAAH!" Kefka pulled his face off the column, and turned towards Usopp before casting a lightning bolt at him from above.

"Gah!" Usopp got strucked from the side, and tumbled sideways in pain. He panted as he managed to get up on one knee, and reached for something in his pocket.

"QUICK THUNDAGA!" Kefka casted a row of lightning bolts from above, and Usopp was about to get hit by the last one. However, Usopp rolled sideways to avoid, and took out what appeared to be a miniature hexagon shaped bomb.

"MINI-SMART BOMB!" Usopp fired the bomb with his slingshot as it flew towards Kefka. Kefka quickly got out of the way as the bomb made impact on a wall between some guards, and suddenly released a spherical explosion that lasted for about three seconds. The guards that got caught in were blown away in different directions as Usopp smiled in relief. "Good! They work!" Usopp said while taking out more mini-smart bombs, "It's a good thing Slippy made these for me, but I should be careful where I fire these; they really sure pack a punch."

Kefka was angry at what Usopp tried to do to him, and retaliated as his hands glowed brown, "I really hate how this is taking so long! QUAKE!" Kefka raised his arms, creating an earthquake on the main floor. Everyone standing on it had trouble keeping their balance, especially Usopp, who was getting injured by the floor as soon as he fell on his back.

"Damn!" Usopp quickly takes out a pair of springs with a purple cardboard cut-outs of feet, and attached them to the bottom of his shoes. "USOPP HOPPING!" Usopp took advantage of Kefka's quake by allowing the tremor knock him up in midair, and then used his springboard shoes to hop all the way up to the inner-balcony floor. Kefka continued his quake attack as he then fired some fireballs at Usopp, but kept missing as Usopp ran alongside the walls to avoid.

"Hmph!" Kefka flew over the hollow inner balcony, and grinded along the rails towards Usopp's direction. Usopp saw him coming, and immediately ran the opposite direction with Kefka now chasing him around and around the hollow inner balcony. "VARIETY FIRAGA!" While still grinding alongside the rails, Kefka threw an arrow-like fireball which separated into three smaller fireballs that homed towards Usopp. Usopp could hear the attack coming did a front roll, avoiding the fireballs as they made impact on the ground behind him.

"USOPP ROLLING!" While rolling forward, Usopp fired explosive pellets at Kefka with each mid-way of his rolls.

"Ugh!" Kefka got surprised by the first pellet as it managed to explode on his chest, but left minor injuries as Kefka flew back to avoid the other pellets. "Eh!" Kefka faced the other way, and grinded along the rails again before casting a spell, "HASTE!" Kefka casted haste on himself, allowing him to move faster for a couple of moments as he grinded along the rails so fast, sparks spewed out from underneath his feet. Usopp didn't realize Kefka was coming at him, and as soon as he got up from rolling, Kefka lunged at him from the rails, and delivered a strong right kick across his chin.

"GYAH!" Usopp flew diagonally upward, crashing and bouncing off from up the corner of the ceiling, and crash landed onto the center of the main floor. "Ugh…"

"Mwa ha ho ho ho! FIRAGA!" Kefka threw an ordinary fireball at Usopp, which exploded on the ground beside him, and knocked Usopp off the ground, and right out of the broken windows of the floating tower. Usopp regained consciousness, and screamed when he saw he was in trouble, and quickly took out his red and brown belt with the hole in the center.

"Come on, come on!" Usopp puts on the belt, and aimed for the front ledge of the outside balcony. "USOPP AAAaaaAAAaaaAAA!" A grappling hook attached to a rope shot out from the hole in the belt, and hooked onto the ledge of the balcony. Usopp held tight to the rope as it pulled him into the tower's wall. Usopp managed to land on his feet, but he grunted when he did since he landed rather fast. "WrraaaaaAAAaaaaa AAAAHHH!" Using his unnatural speed, Usopp ran along the wall with the help of his rope and hook, and ran up in a curve like pattern towards one of the windows of the main floor. He made a leap to get to it's level, but was several inches away from grabbing onto the edge, and pulling himself back in. "Oh man… !"

Just before Usopp could fall, Kefka flew out of the tower from where Usopp fell off moments, and did a horizontal U-turn, flying faster as flew straight towards Usopp from behind. "YYYRREAAGH!" Before Usopp knew it, Kefka tackled him in through the window, shattering it to bits, and startling the guards standing beside it as Usopp tumbled backwards across the ground, while Kefka floated on the other side. "VARIETY FIRAGA!" Kefka threw an arrow-like fireball, which splited into four smaller fireballs as they homed towards Usopp. Usopp managed to recover as he did a quick back roll, and leaped back while aiming at the fireballs.

"ATLAS SUISEI!" Usopp fired four highspeed explosive pellets that released a smoke trail behind, and released a moderate sized explosion upon impacting Kefka's fireballs. This created a dust cloud as Kefka squinted his eyes to try and find his opponent. Little that he know, Usopp was aiming towards him from the other side, "HINOTORI BOSHI!" Usopp fired a blazing phoenix right through the dust cloud, and directly towards Kefka.

"What the-Gurrrgh!" Kefka was shocked to see this, and didn't had time to avoid it as the phoenix hits him head on.

"Yes! That got him!" Usopp exclaimed happily, but suddenly gasped that his phoenix stopped moving forward, "Wh-What!" From the phoenix's front side, Kefka was actually pushing it back with the tips of fingers. He gritted his teeth furiously, and mustered up his strength to spread his arms apart from his chest, splitting the phoenix in two. "Huuuh!"

"Look out!" The captain yelled to the guards as they all got out of the way before the both halves of the phoenix exploded onto the walls, leaving them ablaze afterwards.

Kefka then hang lose of his arms as he smirked at Usopp. "Ha! That surprised me, but it was no surprise that I destroyed it!"

" Damn it! He even took in that! " Usopp thought in shock as he then closed his eyes out of fear, " None of my attacks are working on him! Can I really beat this guy on my own! "

"If you're just going to stand there like an emotionless statue, how would me killing you be any fun!"

Usopp opened his eyes in shock, and saw that Kefka was no longer in front of him, but was floating behind Usopp instead with a sneer look on his face. By the moment Usopp tried to glance over at Kefka, Kefka kicked him across the back of his head. "Guuughhh!" Usopp soured across the room until he crashed into a column in his way, and limplessly fell on the floor. He groaned in pain as he got on his back, with his head laying up against the column he just crashed into as he saw Kefka charging up something between his palms in front of his chest.

"I want to see you bleed more before you die! Make my day! SHATTER BLIZZAGA!" Kefka threw a big block of ice forward, which then shattered into several shards as most of them headed towards Usopp, who suddenly frowned.

"… I have to win… I just have to! " Usopp thought determinedly as he aimed at the shards, "HISSATSU HIMAWARI BOSHI!" Usopp fired five simultaneous explosive pellets that formed into a pentagon pattern. They exploded when they contact to one of the shards, which burned of the rest of the shards that were headed towards Usopp as well.

Kefka flew back a bit as the explosion created a dust cloud, "Ugh… you're really getting booorrinnng-uh." Kefka said while picking his nose with his pinky, "It's nothing but explosives with you. Maybe you're right, I should have went after your-"

"TABASCO STAR!" Suddenly a pellet flew into Kefka's mouth. The moment Kefka tasted, his mouth bursted into flames.

"YEEEEEEEEOOOOOOOOOO WWWWW! MY MOUTH IS BURNING AGAAAAIINNN!" Kefka yelled while breathing out fire. The guards gasped over this as one of the brought him a glass of water. Kefka merely knocked the glass out of the guard's hands, and dived into a barrel of water that just happened to be next to the wall, and fell down with the barrel before coming out of it. The guards helped Kefka up as his tongue hanged out from his mouth.

"Lord Kefka, are you alright!" The captain asked.

"Uggghhhh… I think this has already been done before…" Kefka snarled weakly.

"Ha ha ha ha ha! You got what you deserved, you foul villain! How does karma taste like, huh!" Everyone looked ahead to see the dust cloud fading away, and saw a mysterious figure coming out of the shadows, "I sensed that my closest friend was in trouble again… so I have come back from my world, and went to assist him once more! I am the man from Sniper Island… Sogeking!"

Just in front of Kefka and his henchmen was none other than the heroic Sogeking, which was just Usopp wearing his Sogeking mask and a red mantle over his shoulders, and it reached down to the bottom of his ankles. The guards were at a lost of words, and Kefka only had a smuggish frown with his eyes squinted out of irritance upon seeing Usopp's attire.

"This time, I got him! He won't be able to stop me like this!" Usopp thought optimistically while crossing his arms against his chest, "So, you are one of the rulers of this evil-like world, eh? As this goes against everything that is pure and good, I will not allow you to do as you want any further!"

Kefka continued staring at 'Sogeking' as he then pointed towards the wall to his left side, signaling his men to back off as the guards walked, and stood with their backs facing towards the wall. "… Seriously… how stupid do you think I am…?" Kefka asked calmly before looking absolutely furious, "IT'S JUST YOU WEARING A STUPID COSTUME! HOW DESPERATE DO YOU WANT TO SURVIVE HERE!"

"METALLIC STAR!" Usopp fired an ordinary pellet at Kefka, but missed as Kefka tilted his head to the side to avoid.

"Okay, fine! If you want to die like a bigger moron, then so be it!" Kefka yelled as he pulled back his arm over his head, and created a fireball from his palm, "FIRA-"

"SOGEKING GUNPOWDER STAR!" Usopp fired a pellet, and exploded onto Kefka's fireball, causing it to burst into flames immediately afterwards. Kefka staggered back at this as Usopp aimed at him while getting on one knee. "SWALLOWTAIL BUTTERFLY METEOR!" Usopp shot another explosive pellet, and it exploded into a shape of a butterfly upon impacting Kefka in the chest.

"GEGH!" Kefka grunted while staggering back, but recovered as he flew up higher in the air, "ROUND AND ROUND BLIZZAGA!" Kefka fired an orb of ice into the ground as the orb rolled towards Usopp. Usopp made a battle cry as he successfully avoided the orb with a side roll as the orb shattered into pieces afterwards. Usopp then did a side leap while aiming towards Kefka.

"SIX-CHAMBER VIT VIPER STAR!" Usopp fired a row of six explosive pellets that moved in a snake-like pattern towards Kefka. Kefka quickly flew to the side as the pellets all exploded onto the cieling, causing some debris fall down to the floor.

"Yrrgghh! METEOR!" Kefka raised his hands up, casting four small meteors to appear out of nowhere as they hit the ground, and converged towards Usopp.

"Yapp! Ugh!" Usopp jumped up to avoid, but once the meteors collided in one another, they exploded, knocking Usopp way high up to where Kefka was at.

"Mwa ha ho ho! I'll break your stupid mask!" Kefka yelled as he flew down towards Usopp with a kick to the face, but Usopp blocked, and absorbed Kefka's kick with his impact dial. "Nergh! What happened!" Usopp then began to fall down as he puts away his impact dial, and aims towards Kefka with his slingshot.

"TRIPLE GUNPOWDER STAR!" Usopp fired three simultaneous explosive pellets at Kefka while falling, but it seems that Kefka didn't wanted to dodge this time.

"REFLECT!" Kefka created a crystalized shield around his body as the shield deflected the pellets back at Usopp.

"Yikes!" Usopp turned to the ground, and as soon as he got back on it, he made a run for it as his explosive pellets exploded on the ground behind him.

"Mwa ha ho ho ho! HERE AND THERE THUNDAAAAGA!" Kefka then spinning around, doing a weird dance as he casted multiple thunderbolts at all of Usopp's surroundings. Usopp stayed focus as he did rolls and jumps to avoid the thunderbolts, and when once Kefka was done casting them, Usopp took out a moderate sized ball.

"BLAZE BALL!" Usopp fired his explosive with his slingshot, but it's velocity was rather slowly that it made Kefka laugh.

"Oh, please…" Kefka mocked while floating to the side before the ball could even get that close to him.

"METALLIC STAR!" To Kefka's surprise, Usopp fired a lead pellet right into the big ball he just fired, and it made impact on the ball as it was just about to fly by Kefka.

KABOOOOOOOOOOOOM!

The ball released a big explosion that engulfed Kefka, and almost all of his surroundings. "Please, tell me that finished him…" Usopp prayed as the dust cloud of the explosion faded away, and to Usopp's dismay, Kefka was still alive as he used a reflect spell to prevent getting harmed in the explosion. "No way, he is still alive!"

"… This is very unexpected and completely retarded…" Kefka muttered, "How is it that a god like me is having so much trouble killing off a wimpy guy who thinks is a superhero such as yourself? It makes no sense at all… and…?" Kefka's eyes then widened as he felt something powerful surging through his body. He looked at his hands in disbelief. "What's this now? What is this feeling…? It feels… familiar…"

"Hmm? Um… I don't what he is up to, but here's my chance to attack!" Usopp exclaimed as he aimed at Kefka, "FLAME STAR!" Usopp fired a blazing pellet towards Kefka, but Kefka merely fired a small fireball from his fingertip to it, and the pellet exploded into flames when it got hit. Kefka looked at his hands again as Usopp when for another attack, "G-GUNPOWDER STAR!" Usopp fired an explosive pellet, and it exploded upon impacting Kefka from the side. "Yes, I… got him?" The dust cloud of the explosion faded as Kefka can be seen unharmed, and acted as if he didn't get attacked at all. "Wait… what's going on now?"

"This power… I recognize it." Kefka said while smiling a bit, "It's the power… the power of the Warring Triad…" Kefka's smile then grew really weird, making him look like a maniac, "The power of the gods! My powers are finally coming back to me! Mwa ha ho ho ho! At last, I can finally be a god again!" He exclaimed as red dense aura emitted from his body.

"Did you hear that! Kefka's full power has returned!" A guard exclaimed happily as the rest of them cheered.

"Excellent! Now our lord can finally fulfill his purpose!" The captain said so happily, that he fell on his knees.

"What!" Usopp gasped while he quivered, "Wait, full power! You mean this guy can actually grow stronger!" Usopp was so shaken up by this, he fell on his rear, "I don't believe this… I'm… giving it my all on this guy… and he suddenly got stronger just like that! This can't be happening to me!" Usopp then looked up, and could see the maniacal look on Kefka's face, still staring at his hands until he finally clenched them into fists.

"Khee hee hee hee… eh?" Kefka shifted his eyes down at Usopp, who gasped upon being stared at it. Kefka chuckled as he pointed his palm at Usopp, "This used to be my strongest attack before I regained the rest of my powers… I would like for you to experience my strongest spell before I regained all my strength just now. If you survive… I'll gladly show you the power of a real god looks like!" Kefka's palm glew blue as he fired a small blue orb towards Usopp, "ULTIMA!"

Usopp didn't want to risk it, and decided to run far away as possible as the blue orb touched the ground.

KABOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO
OOOOOOOOOOOOOOOMM!"

The blue orb released a multitude of explosions, destroying almost everything the center of the room as Usopp was caught in the middle of them. "GUUUUGGHHH!" Usopp grunted as the explosions then stopped before Usopp limplessly fell in the center of the room. He remained motionless there afterwards as if he was dead, which made the captain happy.

"He's dead! Lord Kefka, you did it! You finally got revenge!" The captain exclaimed happily as the guards cheered happily. Kefka, on the other hand, was not satisfied as he got on the floor, and looked at Usopp with a frown.

"Hmm?" Kefka raised an eyebrow as he saw Usopp wasn't dead, as Usopp grabbed Kefka by his ankle while still laying on the floor. "Oh ho? So you survived after all…" Kefka said with a pleased tone. "… NOW I WILL DEMONSTRATE MY TRUE POTENTIAL!" Having said that, Kefka kicked Usopp in the face, which turned out to be a hard kick Usopp got knocked off the floor, and soured across the room as Kefka pointed at the ground beneath him, "FIRA!" Kefka casted a pillar of fire from beneath Usopp as the pillar was so tall, it burned through the cieling.

"Gugh-wah!" Usopp cried in pain as he got knocked away from the pillar, and up into hollow balcony.

"FLOAT!" Kefka casted float to Usopp, allowing Usopp to float in midair involuntarily for a brief moment of time as Kefka then created four ice blocks around him, "SHATTER BLIZZAGA!" The ice shattered into pieces, with the shards leaving several cuts across Usopp's body as they flew by. Usopp cried in pain again as the float spell wore off, causing him to limplessly fall down to the main floor, but Kefka was not done with him yet, "THUNDAGA!" Kefka casted a thick lightning bolt that struck Usopp from above head on, electrifying him hard to the floor with a thud, creating a dent on it afterwards.

"And… FIRA AGAIN!" Kefka casted another pillar of fire from the ground that engulfed Usopp, and knocked him in the air again, and limplessly fell down on the floor once more. "Mwa ha ho ho ho ho!"

"Ugh! -cough-.. gack! Ahh! Ugh-guck! Ugh..!" Usopp gasped repeatedly as he had severe injuries all over his body, including burned marks, and was bleeding heavily as his blood spreads across the ground, and through underneath Kefka's boots.

"Hmm hmm hmm… I simply adore this moment!" Kefka said maniacally, "The carnage, the pain, the hatred! I can never get enough of this!"

"Excellent job, Lord Kefka!" The captain praised, "You really showed him not to mess with you! I'm sure you're very pleased by now!" Kefka then grew serious upon hearing his captain say that.

"No… no, I'm not!" Kefka growled suddenly, confusing his captain, "I will not be pleased… not until every single aspect of life is destroyed! Everyone in this grand universe needs to suffer under my hands! They need to know that life has no meaning, and that they all deserve to die! Mwa ho ho… it's so hilarious, that I still have the urge to kill someone right now!"

Kefka the glanced over at his men, who gasped as Kefka then faced towards them. "L-Lord Kefka? What are you doing?" The captain asked nervously as Kefka walked over to him and the others. He then stopped and frowned as he could hear Usopp still breathing.

"Hmph! Persistent, aren't you?" Kefka asked as he turned towards Usopp, but was surprised to see him already up on one knee.

"EXPLODING CACTUS STAR!" Usopp fired a green pellet directly into Kefka's gut, and exploded into sharp needles. Kefka's eyes widened out of shock as most of those needles impaled into his stomach and chest. The needles weren't too deep, and they were just deep enough for Kefka to bleed a bit, but regardless, this utterly shocked Kefka. "Eh… heh…" Usopp panted as he watched Kefka touch his stomach, and looked at his hand, seeing his own blood on his palm.

"… Blood? This is… my blood?" Kefka asked until he then frowned. "Yoooouu… you injured me! Me! Do you know who I am! I'm a god!" Kefka said furiously, that his aura grew so strong, that it knocked Usopp, and the people in the room off their feet, and onto their backs. Kefka rose from the floor, with such a furious look, that his eyes turned pupiless.

"I hate you… I hate you… I hate… hate… HATE! HAAAAAAAAAAATEEEEE YOOOOOOOOOOOOOOUUUU UUUUUUUU!"

Kefka then flew out of the tower, going through the wall, and leaving a gaping hole on it as he got some distance from the tower, and faced towards it. His body grew red with anger as he raised his palm, and created a giant red fireball like the one he did to attack the Strawhat crew back then, only this one seemed vastly larger than before. Usopp could see through the window what was happening, and gasped as he tried to find cover. The guards panicked as well as they screamed in fear while trying to find a way out, while the captain motionlessly stood in place with a shocked looked. Kefka then faced his giant orb in front of him as it glew ever so brightly.

"MEEEEEERRRRRTTTTTOOO OOOONNNNNNNN!" Kefka fired a huge beam from the fireball as it went towards the main floor of the tower. The guards continued to panic as the beam came close, and the captain couldn't do anything, but let out a tear.

"LOOOOOORRRRD KEEEEFFFFKKKAAAAAA!"

The beam went through the tower without any effort, as it went through the tower, and went by the front side of the dark castle. The long beam continued to go further for several seconds more until it thinned out, and disappeared. The tower now had a humongous holes from both sides, but it somehow remained intact as their appeared to be nothing left inside the main floor.

Kefka smirked, and flew into the center of the room, seeing nothing but debris, and the sound of the wind flowing by the holes. "Ha ha ha ha ha… he's dead! They're all dead! Mwa ha ho ho ho ho!" Kefka laughed continuously. He then stopped as he heard a sound behind him. "Hmm?" He turned around, and saw none other than Usopp emerging from the rubble, as he turned out to be hiding around the spot where the beam didn't hit. "Daaammnn! Alive, after all that, huh! You're like plague, or something! I just can't figure you out!" Kefka said with a slight tease.

Usopp did not reply as he looked down on the floor. He took off his burned mantle, and his mask as Kefka could see a horrified expression. Usopp looked at his surroundings, and couldn't see anybody; all the guards, and the captain where nowhere in sight. He then noticed a helmet, which looked liked one of the guards had on. Usopp gasped at this as he dropped his mask, and shivered in fear for a while, until he stopped, and gave of a extremely fierce glare at Kefka.

"You… you monster! Look what you done!" Usopp yelled while taking a step forward, "You killed them… you killed you're own men! What were you thinking! Why did you do that, you bastard! You took away their lives as if they had no meaning to you!" Kefka didn't reply, which made Usopp even angrier, "They respected you! They were willing to die for you! They even followed your orders to not interfere in our fight, and you killed them all anyway! Don't you atleast regret what you just did!"

"Hmph! As I give a damn about them." Kefka replied cruelly, shocking Usopp even more, "They all happened to be dead soldiers of mine from the start, and Obscurum revived them a couple of days after my revival! I'll admit, it was fun making their lives miserable when they were around, but I no longer need their company anymore." Kefka then smirked, "For you see, I already regained my powers as a god, and as such, having filthy mortals with me would just slow me down! Besides, I swore that I would destroy all living beings! There is no point in living since you mortals are all going to die anyway! Why bother having such hopes and dreams if you know that you're going to die someday! Everything is meaningless, and for you to be mad about this is surely pathetic! Mwa ha ho ho ho ho!"

"That's it… that's your reason!" Usopp asked furiously with his head lowered, "I have never met someone so determined to destroy humanity… you don't even want to rule it! You have no respect for your own soldiers, and all aspects of life… I never thought that someone can be so terrifying…" Usopp then glared at Kefka again, "You're… someone that can't be forgiven! I now know that I can't run away… I need to stop you! I have never meant this before, but…" Usopp clenched his fist in anger, "If I really have to… then I will kill you! I mean it! I won't let you destroy people, and their dreams for nothing!"

"Hooo? You've gotten more tense than usual." Kefka chuckled as he floated from the ground, "And by the way, the things you're fighting for… are all meant to be destroyed eventually! So why bother living for them, if I am going to destroy them after I kill you!"

Meawnhile…

Back in the upper corner of the castle where Hojo's laboratory used to be, Chopper was starting to regain consciousness. "Mmm… oh?" Chopper pushed himself off the ground, and got back up to his hoove-like feet. He had a tired look on his face as he rubbed his right eye. "Hmm… what happened? Where am I? How did I get up here?" He asked, as if he didn't recall what he did to Hojo before. Once he was fully awake, he remembered something.

"Oh! Obscurum! I remember now! I was fighting with that scary guy earlier, but… what happened to him?" Chopper asked. He seemed to have completely forgotten that he used his final smash to obliterate Hojo and his lab just a while ago. "Well, I think that man is gone now, so I think I am safe. Mmm, I still feel tired, for some reason."

Chopper stretched up his limbs to stay awake, but to his surprise, he suddenly transformed into his arm point form. "Huh!" Chopper looked at his muscular arms, and couldn't believe what he was seeing, "This can't be!" Chopper then tried transforming into something else, and that he did as he turned into his horn point form, "I don't understand…" Chopper then transformed into his other point forms that he could only transform into after taking a rumble ball. He then transformed back into his brain point form, and scratched his head in confusion.

"That's weird… I remember using the rumble ball a while ago, but the effects should have worn off by now." Chopper said to himself. He then recalled something, "Wait a minute, I used that black and white rumble ball I made by accident. Could it be that it lasts longer than a regular rumble ball?" Chopper then transformed into his other points again before turning back to normal. "Heh heh! Well, I don't how long this will last, but I kinda like it. I hope this is permanent, but I hope there aren't any side-effects…"

Chopper then shook his head, and got serious, "Wait a minute, I don't have time to ask myself these questions! I have to go find the others! I hope they're okay!" Chopper then started running out of the laboratory.

KABOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO OOOOOOMMMMMMMM!

"Huh!" Chopper stopped, and glanced back to finally notice the floating tower over the west garden. A big explosion erupted on the main floor where the two gaping holes are, as Chopper then turned towards it while walking over to the edge of the destroyed lab. "Whoa? What's happening?"

Meanwhile…

Flames blazed upon the rubble around the main floor after that tremendous explosion that erupted just now. Usopp could be seen on one knee, panting heavily while Kefka just stared down at him while floating in the air.

"Oi, oi… I asked you a question just now." Kefka said with a snarl, "Why did you suddenly attacked me with more of your explosions, huh? I had to retaliate with a bigger explosion of mine." Kefka then chuckled, "Don't take it personally… I didn't mean anything by it. Mwa ha ho ho ho ho!"

Usopp raised up his head, giving off that rageful glare before aiming at Kefka, "KAEN BOSHI!" Usopp fired a blazing pellet directly towards Kefka's face, but Kefka caught it, and allowed the pellet explode into his palm. Kefka wasn't hurt by this at all.

"I told you it was useless. You cannot kill a god." Kefka said with a sneer.

"KATAKI BOSHI!" Usopp fired an explosive pellet at Kefka this time, but Kefka merely flicked the pellet back to Usopp, who did a front roll to avoid the pellet's explosion. "HISSATSU HIMAWARI BOSHI!" Usopp fired five simultaneous explosive pellets in a form of a pentagon, but Kefka flew in between them to avoid as the pellets exploded on the wall behind him.

More debris fell from the ceiling as Kefka sighed, "It's no use. You cannot defeat me. You will never defeat me. Your explosives won't do me in. I'm indestructible, for crying out loud! Just give up!"

"No! I told you I won't run away!" Usopp replied with a snarl, "HINOTORI BOSHI!" Usopp fired a massive burning phoenix at Kefka. Kefka then took a deep breath, and breathed out a cold stream of air. The air was so cold that it frozed the phoenix, and the phoenix crashed down on the floor, and shattered into pieces. Usopp didn't even gasp at this as he was still very angry at Kefka, "What's so good about having so much power anyway if you plan to only destroy everything? If you hate life so much, why don't you just kill yourself now! I don't see the point why you want to hurt others!"

"There you go again with your stupidity!" Kefka replied, "I must show everybody why life is so pointless! I must send my message to all those who adore life so much, and who else can do that besides me!

No one, of course! I alone must show that everything that exists must be destroyed! I will do that using this world!" Kefka yelled with open arms, "Once this world absorbs all of space, I can then destroy this world, and every single spec of life will finally be gone! Every single living thing will be dead forever! Mwa ha ho ho ho ho ho!"

"I will not let that happen!" Usopp snarled, "There is no way I will let you do that! DAIBAKUHATSU BOSHI!" Usopp fired what looked like an explosive pellet, but Kefka catched it as it exploded into his palm again.

"Ha! I didn't even felt a thing this time! My powers have grown so much, that I can feel nothing now!" Kefka said with a smirk. He then raised his arm, but frowned as he saw his arm was covered in glue. "Huh!"

"I lied… I fired a sticky pellet at you instead!" Usopp snarled as he then aimed at Kefka, "SHURIKEN RYUU SEIGUN!" Usopp fired a string of shurikens that flew directly towards Kefka. Kefka quickly heated up his arm with fire, burning off the glue as he then thrusted his palm forward, throwing a fireball that destroyed the shurikens.

"Is that all!" Kefka asked. Suddenly, a green pellet struck Kefka in the arm right after he knocked away the shurikens as the pellet exploded into needles. "Ugh!" Kefka got fazed by this as Usopp quickly ran around Kefka's left side, and fired something else at him.

"ATLAS SUISEI!" Usopp fired four simultaneous pellets at Kefka as they converged together when they got close. Kefka created a barrier that protected him from the explosion of the pellets, and dismissed it as soon as the dust cloud was formed.

"Ugh-achoo!" It turned out that the pellets had pepper in them as the dust clouds were actually pepper clouds. Kefka sneezed for a while as Usopp aimed at him again while he was distracted.

"ROKUREN MAMUSHI BOSHI!" Usopp fired a row of 6 explosive pellets that flew towards Kefka in a snake-like pattern. Kefka turned towards the pellets, only to get hit directly by them as they all exploded upon contact. Kefka staggered back as Usopp quickly fired something else at him before he could counter, "KAMAKIRI RYUSEI!".

Usopp shot an explosive pellet that flew up in a curve pattern towards Kefka, who casted a thunderbolt to hit the pellet as it released a green explosion afterwards. "TRINE!" Kefka then casted three magical triangles that appeared around Usopp as they converged towards him.

"USOPP HOPPING!" Usopp attached springboards beneath his feet, and hopped away from the triangles as he continued hopping towards Kefka, "HISSATSU CHOU NAMARI BOSHI!" Usopp charged up his slingshot, and fired a lead pellet at Kefka, who once again raised up his barrier, but the pellet went so fast it penetrated through the barrier's defenses, and hits directly into Kefka's stomach.

"Gugh-hooh!" Kefka lost got knocked back, and crashed into the wall hard, with some of the hanging debris then collapsing down on him to the floor.

Usopp removed his springboards before landing on the floor as he panted angrily while keeping his eye where Kefka fell. Suddenly, the debris was blown away in several directions, with one of them almost hitting Usopp as it flew by him. Kefka could be seen limping out of the remaining debris with his aura glowing even more dense.

"'I'm a god'… Those three words should strike fear into my enemies!" Kefka growled, "You're just like them! You're just like those people who took everything away from me! No more… I will not be defeated again! I WILL DESTROY YOU!"

It was then that Kefka's aura completely surrounded his body as Usopp could see Kefka's body figure glowing from withing. "Ugh!" Usopp staggered back as the aura released an explosion. Usopp looked on, and saw Kefka looking completely different. Kefka no longer had his clown-like attire, and was only wearing a dark red gown that covered his private sections, and a red feather on the side of his hair. His skin was now purple, and his eyes were ghastly yellow with no pupils, he has three pairs of wings with the top pair resembling angel wings, the mid pair resembling beast-like wings, and the bottom pair resembling devil wings.

"There! That's more like it!" Kefka growled as he spreads out his wings, and glared at Usopp, "Do you see it now! I'm a true god that has the power to destroy everything! Bow down before me!"

Inspite of seeing Kefka's scary new form, Usopp actually managed to remain stoic, "… I'm not impressed. God or no god, I will stop you!"

Kefka grew even more angry hearing this, "Fine! I'll tear you into pieces! TRINE!" Kefka casted three more triangles around Usopp as they converged towards him.

"You may have the power, but I have the brains…" Usopp snarled before taking out a smoke bomb, "CHOU KEMURI BOSHI!" Usopp threw the smoke bomb down on the floor, creating a humongous smoke screen that engulfed the entire floor. Kefka flew around the room, but couldn't see Usopp anywhere. "SHURIKEN RYUU SEIGUN!" Usopp fired several shurikens from multiple directions around Kefka, but Kefka created a barrier around him to knocked the shurikens away.

"AEROGA!" Kefka flapped his wings, creating a big tornado in front of that sucked in the smoke, and Usopp was being sucked in as well. "Found ya!"

"SANREN KATAKIBOSHI!" Usopp fired three simultaneous pellets at the debris that was also being sucked in by the tornado as they exploded several feet behind Kefka, who mildly got knocked forward as the tornado then stopped.

"QUICK THUNDAGA!" Kefka casted a row of thunderbolts at Usopp while he was still flying across the room. Usopp got struck by the last bolt as he crashed hard on the floor. "MISSING ZERO!" Kefka then meditated, conjuring a field of energy that appeared above Usopp, and dropped magical orbs on him. Usopp grunted while getting up, and quickly ran away as the field chased him down while continuing to drop magical orbs down behind him. Usopp ran up the debris, and got onto an intact part of the hollow inner balcony, turned towards the field, and shot it down with an explosive pellet. This created a dust cloud as Kefka flew threw it, and did a midair flip towards the unsuspecting Usopp. "WINGS OF DESTRUCTION!"

Kefka sprouted his wings forward, attempting to stab Usopp with them, but Usopp quickly took out his impact dial, and absorbed the blow. "Egh!" However, the attack was so strong that it knocked Usopp through the wall behind him, and right outside the tower. "Mmph!" Usopp took out his belt, and fired his grappling hook that hooked onto the side of the wall. He swung himself horizontally around the tower until he landed back on the main floor, tumbling forward until he stood up on one knee.

"Eh heh! HYPERDRIVE!" Kefka flew down, and planted his feet on the ground, releasing a blasting row of energy from the ground that headed towards Usopp. Usopp leaped back while aiming at the blasts.

"I did this before, I can do it again! SOGEKAMA BOSHI!" Usopp fired a small light that changed into a figure of a statue-like god with a sword in hand. The figure lowered his sword down at the blasts, which created a humongous explosion that knocked both Usopp and Kefka back. "Gah!"

"Ugh!" Kefka covered his eyes with his forearms until the explosion died down. He then looked ahead, and saw Usopp appearing in his sights with a massive hammer that read '10-ton' on the side of it. "Wha… is that for real?"

Usopp panted heavily after using that last attack as he charged at Kefka while raising the humongous hammer over his shoulder.

"GOLDEN… POUND!" Usopp brought down the huge hammer at Kefka, who simply laughed.

"Real or not, I'll stop it!" Kefka said cockingly while forming a barrier around himself. Once the hammer solely touched the barrier, it immediately popped like a balloon, and inside of it were dozens and dozens of cockroaches that rained over Kefka's body after his barrier was gone. "Bugs!"

"Those are just toy bugs… that I filled up with oil!" Usopp yelled as he jumped back while aiming at the fake roaches, "KAEN BOSHI!" Usopp fired a blazing pellet at the bugs, and it when it made contact, all the toy bugs exploded instantly, engulfing Kefka with flames.

"Gaeh!" Kefka got out of the explosion, and then saw Usopp carrying another big hammer, which was smaller compared to his other one. "Another bug trick! I don't think so! FIRAGA!" Kefka threw a fireball at Usopp.

"USOPP POUND!" Usopp got close to Kefka, and brought down his hammer at the fireball Kefka just threw at him. Strangely, the fire actually got absorbed into the hammer, which caused Kefka to gasp in confusion. As soon as Usopp brought down his '5-ton' hammer directly on Kefka's head, Kefka's body crashed through the floor with great speed, and Usopp's hammer was left destroyed afterwards. Usopp panted heavily, "Urgh! I put my impact dial on the end of my hammer! Even though it destroys my hammer, I won't get hurt from using it! How is that for power!"

Kefka immediately from the ground as his was bleeding over his furious-looking face. Usopp immediately backed away as he threw away the hilt of the broken hammer, and aimed at Kefka with his slingshot. "You fool… I am going to end this now!" Kefka charged his body as it started to glow red, while Usopp faced his aim diagonally down to the ground.

"That's right… hit me with the best you got!" Usopp thought, "If you were paying attention earlier, you could have realized that I placed breath dials all over the place, and they are releasing gas at this very moment! If I have to go down, I'm taking you with me!"

"THE END IS NEAR! FORSAKEN!" Kefka released a huge, red, flashy beam towards Usopp, who closed his eyes before firing his slingshot.

"HISSATSU RAIGAROU BOSHI!" Usopp fired a big thunderball to the ground that bounced forward until it formed into a big lightning wolf that lunged towards Kefka's beam. The gas the breath dials breathed out touched these two attacks as a big light formed in the center of the attacks.

OOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO
OOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO
OOOOOOOOOOOMMMMMM!"

The whole upper part of the tower was blown to bits as the explosion was atleast two times bigger than the tower itself. Chopper watched in awe as he could see two figures that were blown away by the explosion, and were knocked up several meters up in the air. Chopper squinted his eyes, and he could actually see one of them being Usopp, who was limplessly going up in the air. "USOPP!"

Kefka was also limplessly going up, but soon regained consciousness as he used his wings to remain afloat in the air. He breathed heavily as he had wounds all over his body, and some of them were bleeding. His expression showed nothing but hate as he looked, and could see Usopp still going way up that he could hardly see him anymore.

"Hate… hate… HAAAAAATTTTTTE!" Kefka yelled so loud, his voice echoed throughout the entire fortress. He then looked at the fortress around the castle, and frowned, "This place is so meaningless! Where did it all come from! I must destroy it all!" Kefka's wings then glowed brightly as a humongous field of energy formed several meters above him and Usopp. He then raised his hand, and pointed down at the fortress. "LIGHT OF JUDGEMENT!"

The energy field then shot out a humongous beam of light towards a part of the fortress, obliterating a building with ease. The beam then coursed across the ground, destroying even more buildings, towns, and dark forests alike in one big line. Towering flames then arosed from where the beam hit as the beam disappeared.

"AGAIN!" Kefka fired the light of judgement again on another part of the fortress, leaving another trail of towering flames behind. "AGAIN! AGAIN! AGAAAAAIIIIIIINN!" Kefka continued doing this as the fortress was getting attacked in every second. From above Usopp could see this destruction, and didn't had enough energy to even express an emotion.

"Stop… Stop…" Usopp groaned while falling all the way down.

"MWA HA HO HO HO HO! MWWAAAAA HAAA HOO HO HO HO HOOO! Burn! Everything must burn!" Kefka yelled as he then took notice of the Thousand Sunny, all the way on the edge of the fortress in front of him, "DESTROY!" Kefka then coursed his beam directly towards the Thousand Sunny.

"No!" Usopp said as he squinted his eyes in anger, "I have to win… I HAVE TO WIN! DAMN IT, MOVE! I NEED TO STOP HIM! COME ON!" Suddenly, Usopp's smash ball from in his bag glowed as it emitted a colorful aura around Usopp's body. Usopp then opened his eyes with a determined look, and aimed at the energy field above him. "FINAL SMASH!"

Usopp fired a gigantic white orb that was ten times bigger than Usopp, as it flew towards Kefka's energy field with great speed. The orb went through the field, shattering it like glass as this caused the beam to faze out just before it could hit the Thousand Sunny.

"WHAT!" Kefka looked up, and saw that his energy field was destroyed, "THIS CAN'T BE! THE LIGHT OF JUDGEMENT HAS BEEN STOPPED!"

Then the orb that Usopp fired remained stationary in midair, and exploded into thousands and thousands of streams of light that flew downward. Usopp then faced down towards Kefka while falling, and pointed his finger at him.

"I AM CAPTAIN USOPP; THE BRAVEST WARRIOR OF THE SEAS!" Usopp exclaimed, "I HAVE OVER 8000 ENFORCERS THAT WILL STRIKE YOU DOWN LIKE LIGHTNING! PREPARE TO FACE TRUE JUDGEMENT! HISSATSU HACHIKUSEN DAGEKIHAPPA!"

The streams of light were actually nano-sized soldiers flying downward, pointing their swords forward as they all flew passed Usopp, and headed directly towards Kefka. "This… isn't… happening again! I'm a god! I'M A GOD! MWA HA HO HO HO HO!" Kefka laughed sorrowfully before the streams went through his body. "GUUUUGGHHH!" The streams of light pierced through Kefka's god-like form, as the streams then pierced through the floating tower repeatedly like getting shot by a gatling gun.

Chopper watched in awe as the streams kept flying down until they hit the ground one by one, as the tower collapsed down on the floor in small pieces of rubble. After the last 8000th stream hits the floor, nothing remained of the once deranged court mage. Everything was finally at peace.

"That was so… amazing!" Chopper said in awestruck.

After seeing what happened, Usopp smiled while he continued to fall down. A brief moment passed as he then screamed immensely, "I AM GOING TO DIIIEEE! SOMEONE HELP MEE!" Usopp said while now being atleast a mile away from the floor. Chopper screamed at this as well, and then suddenly, part of the west garden opened, and out came Franky on the elevator.

"Phew! I'm finally here." Franky said with a smirk as he noticed the debris of the tower, "Huh? What's this junk?"

"FRRRRAAAAANNNNKKYYYY!"

"Huh?" Franky looked up, and saw that Usopp was about to fall on him. "UWAH!"

CRASH!

Usopp sandwiched Franky into the ground as he had swirls over his eyes. "Uguuugghh…" Usopp groaned as Franky pushed him off.

"What the hell, bro! Where did you come from?" Franky asked, but got no reply as Usopp seemed to have lost consciousness. "Oi, bro? Hmm, he fell asleep. Typical…"

Preview: Whoa, it's the happy clown again, and he's attacking us from these mirrors! How can we beat him if he's all over the place! Next time on One Piece: A Smash Adventure; Chapter 127: The ultimate show!, Nami vs Dimentio. I am gonna be the Pirate King!

Usopp always said he had 8000 enforcers; I figured I give him an 8000 consecutive attack for a final smash. His final smash in english is called 'Eight thousand striking blast', but it sounds better in japanese though.

Anyway, I'm going to go over my limit here, and try to update the next chapter around this weekend. It's going to be a pain, but considering that the next chapter has a long-awaited battle that I have been dying to work on for a long time is in it, then I don't care. I hope you guys enjoyed the chapter! Ciao for now!

I know I am a little late, but updating later is better than never. Anyway, I am certain many of you have been dying to see these two rivals finally duke it out if you have been reading my fic since nearly the start. I did all I can for this chapter, so I hope you enjoy it! Have fun!

The god of hatred. Luffy, and his crew have ended up in a strange floating tower, and there, they encountered one of the Obscurum rulers, Kefka, and his henchmen. Luffy decided to leave Usopp to face Kefka alone, while he, Zoro, and Nami move on throughout the dark castle. Despite the sheer difference in strength, it was strategy that helped Usopp defeat the mad man before he could have destroyed everything in sight. Meanwhile, Luffy, and the others are having trouble of their own with a certain jester. What will be the outcome from this sudden reunion?

Chapter 127: The Ultimate Show!, Nami vs Dimentio

The dark fortress has received heavy damage thanks to Kefka's light of judgment. Rows and rows of towns and neighborhoods were all destroyed, and the once lifeless place looked more dead than it was before. If Usopp hadn't stopped Kefka any sooner, the whole fortress would've suffered the same fate.

Towering flames remained blazing throughout the fortress that got struck by the deadly beam, but the places next to the flames remained intact, so not everything was destroyed. The mysterious dark creatures roaming around the neighborhoods on the far out edge of the floating fortress remained wandering around casually as if nothing happened. Either that they don't care, or they don't have any emotions; that question is yet to be answered.

Then suddenly, in one of the neighborhood areas, a tremendous earthquake began to shake the dead lands. The quake grew stronger by the second, and in the center of a street, the concrete floor was bulging upwards. It was then that the street was suddenly blown apart by something that came flying out from underground.

"BAAAAAAAAAAAAAANNNNN NNZZZZZZAAAAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAIIIIIIIII IIII!"

That something turned out to be Crazy Hand, who was still alive as he flew upward with great speed while folded into a fist. "Gyyyeeeeeeeergghhhaa aahh!" Crazy Hand then opened his palm as for some reason, he allowed himself to fall all the way down to the floor.

CRASH!

Crazy crashed onto the street on his back, creating a crater next to the hole he just bursted out of. His fingers twitched a bit as he got up on his wrist, and looked at his surroundings with his fingers on his thumb.

"Daaaaayyyuuumm! Now that was a hoot!" Crazy Hand exclaimed before floating inches up from the ground, "That was some big fall there; good thing I woke up before I fell into that dark element pool, or I would've been hand soup!… I wonder what that would taste like… oh wait, I don't have a mouth…" Crazy Hand then felt depressed as a gloomy background formed behind him. The background disappeared as soon he then got serious, and looked at his surroundings.

"Say… this place looks so familiar…" Crazy Hand said while rubbing his index finger with his thumb, "Have I been here before? No, let me see… a dark and spooky atmosphere, a bunch of scary-looking houses, a place that looks completely dangerous and unorganized, the streets that look family-friendly, but it's not, and a place where it seems that bad things always happen, but nobody ever finds out.

Hmm… GOH! It can't be!" Crazy Hand exclaimed upon realization, "The Obscurum rulers' fortress is an exact copy of Disney Land!"

After taking a third look at his surroundings, he snapped his fingers, "No, no. It kinda looks like it, but nowhere near similar. There are no men in girl costumes to prove my theory…" Crazy Hand then looked up at the dark castle way ahead of him. "Hold on, this place… no way, I thought this place was long gone! But… everything looks the same. This fortress… is the same town where the last Obscurum ruler, Obstenine XII, resided in." He then pointed at the castle, "He used to live there, and everything here looks exactly the same before the war between Luminarium and Obscurum took place! What's going on here!"

Crazy then folded into a fist. "Eh! There is no time for such questions! I need to find my sexy buddies, and see if they're okay! And my brother… he is must be in the castle too! By the power of being absolutely gorgeous, I must save him!" Crazy Hand was about to go to the castle, but heard a strang noise behind him. He turned around, and saw one dark creature pulling himself off from the floor, and stared at Crazy afterwards. Crazy Hand stared back at the creature as he then slowly turned back around.

"ZOOOOOOOOOOMMMBBBBII IIIIIIIIIEEEEEESSSSS SSSS! AAAAAAAAAAAAAAAHHAAA HAHHAHAAA!" Crazy Hand cried as he flew towards the dark castle with great speed, trying to get as far away from the dark creature as possible.

Meanwhile…

"This can't be real…" Nami said as her lips quivered.

"This is kinda… scary…" Zoro said while Luffy just stared in awe.

After escaping the dreaded hallway filled with mirrors with Dimentio's reflection, they stumbled up into another hallway that weren't filled with mirrors, but were filled with hundreds and hundreds of Dimentios, that were floating across the ground while laughing.

"Whoa! I didn't know that the clown guy had so many brothers!" Luffy exclaimed in awe.

"It's probably just an illusion." Zoro said. Nami then went to touch one of the Dimentios, and gasped while backing away.

"They feel pretty real to me!" Nami said in shock, "This is ridiculous; how are we suppose to get through!"

"Like this! GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!" Luffy charged forward while repeatedly swinging his fists back and forth, punching every single Dimentio illusion in his path. Zoro and Nami followed him as the Dimentios were getting knocked away to the side like a bunch of baseballs.

"Ew! This is too creepy! I want to get out of here now!" Nami cried.

"We're almost there!" Luffy yelled as they came to a door. Luffy quickly opened it as he, and his crew went inside before slamming the door shut behind them. They panted up against the door, trying to forget what they've just seen.

"Okay… let's agree that we will never mention what we saw back there." Nami panted.

"'Kay…" Luffy and Zoro said simultaneously.

They then walked forward, and noticed that they were in a big room, with the ceiling made of stained glass, and it had the symbol of a burning black heart like the one that was in the room where Sanji and Bison were fighting each other, only this one was made of glass. Luffy squinted his eyes to look through the glass, and could see the main tower.

"Look, we're almost there! The black coat guy must be up there!" Luffy exclaimed.

"Let's go before something else happens." Zoro suggested. The trio ran up some stairs, and ran along a purple carpet. They saw a tower-like entrance, and were about to go through the door, until they then noticed a figure, looking at a mirror on a wall beside the entrance.

"Hmmmm, hm hmm hmm, hmmm…" Hummed the figure as it turned out be Dimentio, looking at his reflection with an optimistic look as usual. "Hmm?" He then noticed the Strawhat trio's reflection on the mirror, and turned towards them with his usual creepy smile. "Ah, you made it! I'm so thrilled, like seeing a cat's delightful expression when you give it a ball of string. Did you all enjoy my halls of illusions?"

"We got unfinished business, clown, so get out of our way." Zoro said bluntly.

"Ah ha ha ha! No need to be so angry; it's highly unnecessary and inappropriate when it comes to meeting someone you haven't seen in a long time." Dimentio then turned towards Nami, and laughed pleasantly. "Oh, and Nami-san is here too!" Dimentio said happily, "It's been such a long time since we've last seen each other. It's so good to see you, and your beautiful orange hair again. Oh, and I'm also happy to see Luffy and Zoro here as well. We should really start catching up again; it's been so long, that I'm dying to hear about your recent adventures."

"So it's really you this time…?" Nami asked sternly, "Hmph! I can't say that it's good seeing you again, because I would be lying, and puking afterwards."

Dimentio merely laughed hearing that as Luffy then pointed at him, "You! Don't think we've forgotten what you did back in the pokemon town! You'll pay for tricking us like that!"

"Trick? Oh dear, no; I never tricked you back then." Dimentio said with a wag of his finger, "You just happened to be in the way of Obscurum's purpose at the time. I had no idea you were actually going to stop Mr. Giovanni from accomplishing his goals, and I had no clue that Mr. Yojimbo was going to cut down that building neither. Needless to say, it was all just one big misunderstanding, and I hope that unfortunate event doesn't ruin our beloved friendship."

"We're not your friend!" Luffy replied while taking a step forward, "And we're not going to fall for your lies either! Franky told us that it was you who stole the Thousand Sunny away from us! We will never forgive you for that!"

"Ah, yes, that was rather a cruel thing for me to do, but atleast everything went alright for your ship in the end." Dimentio said happily, "But enough of the negative memories; I would like to congratulate you all for making it all the way up to this point. It brings me such joy to see you all again, that I wish to invite you all to be a part of Obscurum's control over life itself. It's the very least I can do for all the trouble you have endured on your way here."

"No, thanks." Zoro said bluntly as he unsheathed his sword, "You're one of the reasons why we got into this mess. And frankly, I'm glad that's the case. Since this world has the power to consume all life, that means that our lives are in danger too, and we're more than happy take you guys down. You can use all your tricks like the ones you left back in those hallways as much as you want, but nothing is going to stop us from stopping this world!"

"I don't do tricks, Zoro-san." Dimentio replied a little bluntly, but remained smiling, "When it comes to magic, I'm always dead serious. We all have reasons to live, and mine is to bring magic into everyones' hearts for them to enjoy the rest of their lifetime. Having a world without magic is like pirates having a ship with no water to sail it on, but this is beside the point." Dimentio then looked up at the stained-glass ceiling, "We have the power to shape our futures, but we fear that they may never blossom due to other people and their outlook in life. Terrible things always happen first before things could get better, and once they have gone better, you might be already dead without experiencing that good feeling. It's sad, but it's so very true."

Dimentio then smiled at the Strawhats, "But now that Obscurum has reawakened, we no longer have to fear of the future. Once this planet has engulfed all of the cosmos, everyone will no longer have to be afraid anymore. They can finally have the courage to be one with different species, and be at peace! Finally, a world where all creatures can be together in harmony, and nobody will have the audacity to change it."

"That's not harmony!" Nami yelled as she took a step forward, "This planet is taking away life, and bringing chaos to other planets! You can't say that Obscurum will change the way of life that every living thing can accept together, because it's not true! Only the people can decide to accept each other by their own free will, and not by force!" Nami then pointed at herself with her thumb, "I'd rather die than to live the way you want us to! I decide how to live out my life, so back off, before I wipe that grin off your face!"

Dimentio tilted his head in confusion, "Oh? It seems you have yet to understand to beauty in all of this." Dimentio said happily, "Rest assured, I will gladly allow you all to become Obscurum rulers despite our different views. Be grateful, for I might be the only one of out the rulers here that are willing to offer the enemy something this big. I implore you to join, I will guarantee that you will not regret accepting my offer."

"Nope! We don't wanna!" Luffy said with a determined look.

"Please don't say that; I would be so upset if you reject this." Dimentio said, "Think about it; as us rulers, we can be best friends forever, and if you do accept, I'll make my companions to stop attacking your other friends here in a jiffy. We would all be one big happy family, and nobody will ever stand in our way."

"That sounds really boring to me." Zoro replied, "We plan to stop this world, and we're going to do just that. Thanks for the offer, but we don't need your mercy. We can handle our objective, just you watch."

Dimentio stared at the trio before letting out a sigh, "I see… you all reject change…" Dimentio said, but still remained smiling, "I tried to do what's best for you, but clearly, you all want to die. You have wasted my time, but as close friends, I cannot let your actions here be in vain." Dimentio placed his hand on his chest, "Allow me to take your lives away. Further ahead lies more pain, and I cannot bear to see you all get hurt! Let me take all of your misguided lives away peacefully, or suffer eternal pain that your hearts will be crushed into bits within your racks."

"Grr! I had enough of this guy!" Nami said as she took out her PCT, "Luffy, Zoro, you guys go on ahead. I will deal with Dimentio alone."

"Are you sure you can take him?" Zoro asked.

"Trust me; this guy has been on my nerves ever since I laid my eyes on him." Nami said sternly, "I've been waiting a very long time to give this guy a piece of my mind for the things he's done to me, and my friends! I'll beat his head in so deep, nobody will ever see his face anymore! I'll be fine, you guys! Just go!" Luffy and Zoro looked at Nami, who looked very serious, "Hurry up!"

"… Okay. Come on, Zoro." Luffy said. Zoro nodded in reply as he and Luffy ran forward, running passed Dimentio, who didn't do anything, but allowed the duo to enter through the doorway. It was now Nami and Dimentio, all alone in the huge hall in the back center of the dark castle.

"Why didn't you stop them? I thought you didn't wanted to see them get hurt." Nami asked while on her guard.

"Ah ha ha ha! That I do, but if they were to fight alongside you, I'd probably lose." Dimentio said happily, "I've seen them fight in the tournament back in Indigo Plateau, so I know what they are capable of."

"They can do much more than what they showed there." Nami replied with a smirk, "I've also gotten stronger myself, so don't you dare take me lightly.

"Oh, I don't doubt your strength. You look just as strong as you are beautiful." Dimentio commented, "But if we are going to quarrel, I suggest we find ourselves a better battlefield. We wouldn't want to damage this nice architectural hallway, now do we?"

"Wha? Sorry, but I am not going to fall for any more of your tricks. I already fell for your first trick in your magic show back then." Nami said.

"You are still upset about that? I swear, I had no intention of harming you during that time. What I did back then was all part of the show, and you would've gotten a big laugh out of it if Sanji-san hadn't interrupted." Dimentio explained as he lowered his head, "Oh… and that was no trick… that was MAGIC!"

Dimentio then raised his hands in the air. The big hallway that he and Nami were in then started to change. "What the?" Nami gasped as she saw the structure around her were coming off like blocks. As soon as it was all over, the hallway looked completely different. Nami and Dimentio were now in a humongous green room, with a space-like background that had a darker green color, along with some stars, and some dark gray, wavy-line patterns.

"Voila! Welcome to Dimension D, a dimension of my own creation." Dimentio said happily.

"This is another dimension!" Nami gasped as she then felt a little strange.

"That's correct. I am not only a professional magician, but I am also a master of dimensions. With skill such as this, it's hard for people not to be amazed by my work of arts." Dimentio said, "Now, in this mind-bending realm, my attacks have become 256 times more potent! That's right, I am far more powerful here! I can obliterate you with a raise of a finger." Dimentio then started to float up in the air, "Do not be afraid, my beloved Nami-san, your death will be as painless as a mouse breathing in rat poison. I do wish that it doesn't have to be this way, but this is for the sake of an endless, yet glorious future. This will be the ultimate show that I will treasure for all eternity."

Nami didn't reply as she felt a little dizzy ever since she got into Dimension D, but Dimentio didn't notice this, "You will not resist? Splendid…" Dimentio said happily before diving towards Nami, "… AND SO I STRIKE, LIKE AN UNSEEN DODGEBALL IN AN ECHOING GYMNASIUM!" Dimentio formed an energy shard from his palm, but before he could throw it, Nami suddenly sprung towards him, and hits him across the face with the end of her PCT. "OOOOHH!"

CRASH!

Dimentio crashed into a green wall behind him, falling flat on his rear afterwards as imaginary stars could be seen circling around his head, "Oh, my… this is quite a twist." Dimentio said dazedly, with having a shocked and dazed expression for the first time ever in this fic, "What could have gone wrong? I am supposed to be strong here! How could you have possibly injured me?"

Nami sighed as she stared down at Dimentio while resting her PCT on her shoulder, "When you brought me here, I also felt stronger. I don't know how, but you said that this place makes you stronger. Are you sure that it's just you?"

Dimentio blinked as he got up, and was silent upon realizing something. He then smiled as he rubbed the back of his head, "Oops. Clumsy me. I forgot about that little glitch entirely. Ah ha ha, I am so embarrassed, I think I'm blushing." He said happily while actually blushing. Nami slapped her forehead irritably as she smuggishly frowned at Dimentio.

"Then what's the whole point of you bringing me here then? You really are a clown…" Nami mumbled.

"Ahem, alright, then. No more games… let us end this now, like an author that is trying to finish his nearly two-year-old story!"

"Shut up already with your stupid similes!" Nami yelled as she charged forward at Dimentio while swinging the end of her PCT like a flail, "SWING ARM!" Nami swung her PCT horizontally at Dimentio, who laughed as he warped away to avoid. He reappeared floating behind Nami, floating far up in the air from where she couldn't reach him.

"Ah ha ha! What a brilliant way to commence the show! Now it's my turn!" Dimentio laughed as he raised his hand, forming an energy sphere from his fingertip, and threw it at Nami. Nami rolled sideways to avoid as she got up while bending a part of her staff adjacent to the center part.

"CYCLONE TEMPO!" Nami swung her PCT, with the two adjacent parts disconnecting from the part of the staff Nami was holding as the parts flew towards Dimentio while releasing a strong current of air. Dimentio laughed again as he suddenly vanished in thin air as the PCT parts hits the ceiling instead. "Where did he go!" Nami looked at her surroundings, without having a clue that an energy sphere was being formed behind her. The sphere then shot towards Nami, and hits her from behind. "Ah!" Nami collapsed on her hands and knees as she could hear Dimentio's laughter echoing throughout the room.

"Ah ha ha ha ha! If you insist to stay alive, I suggest you keep moving." Dimentio suggested happily as more energy spheres were being formed from out of nowhere, and shot directly towards Nami.

"Eh!" Nami did a front roll, avoiding the spheres as she ran for the rest of her PCT. A sphere was about to hit her from behind again, but she saw it coming as she did a cartwheel to avoid the sphere, and grabbed the parts of her staff in the before landing on her feet. Dimentio then appeared in front of her, and laughed as he threw another energy sphere at Nami. "THUNDER CHARGE!" Nami charged the end of her staff, and got into a batting pose. When Dimentio's energy sphere got close, Nami hits it with the electric end of her staff, bouncing the sphere right back at Dimentio. Dimentio flew to the side to avoid getting hit, and spun around while continuing to float to the side.

"A magician must always have new tricks up his sleeve! Ah ha!" Dimentio stopped spinning, and tossed some purple, crystal-shaped projectiles at the ground, which then bounced off as they homed in on Nami.

"THUNDER BALL!" Nami swung her PCT horizontally, shooting out some thunderball as they exploded upon impacting the projectiles. Nami then ran alongside the room while creating several heat and cool balls up in the air, which formed a thunder cloud. Dimentio gazed in awe upon seeing the cloud.

"Impressive, I didn't know that you could do magic." Dimentio said.

"It's not magic, it's nature!" Nami yelled as she threw a thunderball at the cloud, "THUNDERBOLT TEMPO!" The cloud released a thick thunderbolt over Dimentio, striking him hard as Nami jumped out of the way to avoid the bolt's range. "Eh! That got him!" Nami exclaimed as she turned around, but then gasped when she saw that Dimentio was no longer in sight again. "Where did he go!"

An energy sphere then formed out of thin air, and shot forward to Nami from the side. Nami saw it coming, and had little time to react as she raised her PCT over her face to block, but the sphere regardless knocked her on her back as soon as she got hit by it. "Eh!" Nami sat up frustratedly while panting, "Where are those things coming from! Where are you, clown!"

"Ah ha ha ha ha!" Dimentio's laughter could be heard, "I told you before that I am a master of dimensions. I can flip myself between dimensions whenever I please. I am still here, but not here at the same time, meaning that you can't see me, but I certainly can see you." Dimentio said as he suddenly reappeared in front of Nami,

"Feel fortunate that I cannot be in that position for very long, but it matters not, since this will not affect the outcome of our battle."

"Yeah, you're right." Nami said while getting up with a smirk on her face, "Nothing will stop me from beating you senselessly, no matter how many tricks you have under your sleeves."

"Ah ha ha! So charming as ever! Let us continue!" Dimentio said as he then flew back while creating two energy spheres from both of his palms, "Try dodging this!" Dimentio threw the spheres across his chest, as they spiraled towards Nami. Nami rushed over to Dimentio, quickly sidestepping the two energy spheres as she charged up the end of her PCT with electricity, and loosened that part up to twirl it around.

"SWING ARM!" Nami swings her PCT downward at Dimentio, but missed as Dimentio floated back to avoid while Nami's staff released a small shockwave upon hitting the ground instead.

"More, more! The show must go on!" Dimentio said as his hands glowed purple and yellow. He then released colorful sparks from his palms while floating back, as the sparks exploded into colorful spheres of energy when they touched the ground. Nami backed away to avoid the sparks, and bended part of her staff adjacent to the center part again.

"CYCLONE TEMPO!" Nami threw the parts forwards as the they released a strong current of air, blowing away the sparks in several directions. Dimentio was shocked by this as he quickly disappeared to avoid the sparks as they exploded nearly every part of the room. Nami quickly ran in between the explosions, and grabbed the parts of her staff she just threw, "THUNDER HOLLOW!" Nami slowly spun around, releasing a thunderball from her PCT that formed into a 360 degree barrier, with the center being the only thing exposed as Nami ducked into the barrier to protect herself from the exploding sparks. As soon as it was over, the thunder barrier disappeared as Nami got up, without realizing that Dimentio reappeared behind her.

"I got you again!" Dimentio laughed as he threw an energy sphere at Nami's back in point-blank range. Nami cried in pain, which made Dimentio even happier, but his smile then faded as he saw Nami's body disappearing into thin air. "Oh? What is this?"

"SWING ARM!" Dimentio turned around, to see Nami swinging her electric PCT at him. The end of her staff connected into Dimentio's chest, electrifying him as he then warped away, and reappeared floating in the air while panting in shock. Nami smiled at Dimentio as she connected her staff back the way it was, "You call yourself a magician, yet you can't tell a difference between what's real, and a mirage. I knew you're a fraud this whole time."

"Oh ho, that shocked me, like a cat after seeing it's own reflection." Dimentio panted until he regained his composure, "I cannot let myself be upstaged; I must bring new materials to the floor!" Dimentio then created another energy sphere from the tip of his finger, but as soon as he threw it to Nami, it separated into three energy spheres of the same size that flew forwardly in different directions.

"Whoa!" Nami jumped back to avoid the first two spheres, and ducked to avoid the third one. Dimentio then fired some colorful projectiles at Nami before she could get up, "THUNDER CHARGE!" Nami charged the end of her PCT with electricity, and loosened the end of her staff to twirl it around her surroundings, knocking away the projectiles when they got close. Once the projectiles were out of the way, Nami puts her staff back the way it was, and charged at Dimentio with a horizontal swing, but Dimentio moved his head back to avoid. "Grr!" Nami swung her PCT two more times at Dimentio while taking a step forward, but Dimentio dodged with ease as he floated higher up in the air upon avoiding Nami's last swing.

"CELESTIAL SPARK!" Dimentio threw an energy sphere, which took form of six-edged buzzsaw as it flew towards Nami. Nami ducked to avoid it, but turned around to see the energy buzzsaw coming back at her.

"HEAT CHARGE!" A blazing spear-shaped tip formed from the end of Nami's staff, as Nami swung down at the energy buzzsaw, cutting it in half as both halves flew passed Nami, and exploded behind her. Nami then turned around, and immediately swung her PCT at Dimentio, but Dimentio flew back to avoid, and countered by throwing colorful sparks at the ground in front of Nami. "Ugh!" The sparks exploded into colorful spheres, causing Nami to stagger back as Dimentio threw another energy sphere at her before disappearing. "Hiya!" Nami swung her PCT, knocking away the energy sphere as she then kept a sharp eye out for Dimentio's tricks.

The room then turned quiet, with Nami still at her guard, seeing nothing was happening yet. She then heard a warpping noise as she turned around, and saw Dimentio throwing another energy sphere at her. "Eh!" Nami side-stepped to avoid the sphere as she charged at Dimentio, avoiding and knocking away more energy spheres that Dimentio threw at her. When she got close enough, she thrusted the blazing tip of her staff into Dimentio's gut. "FIRE SPEAR TEMPO!"

A stream of fire bursted out of Dimentio's back once he got stabbed as Dimentio's arms hanged loose, and leaned forward to Nami's staff as if he died. "Ha ha!" Dimentio then raised his head, shocking Nami as she staggered back by this.

"Agh!" Suddenly, Nami got struck from behind as she collapsed on her knees in pain. She quickly rolled sideways to get back on one knee, as she then glanced over her shoulder, and gasped upon seeing Dimentio behind her. "What the!" Nami then looked in front of her, to see Dimentio there also. She then realized there were two Dimentios as she got up on her feet with a shocked expression.

"Ah ha ha! Didn't you know that I can also create illusions?" Dimentio asked, both him and his illusion simultaneously as they then floated side by side, "Even though my copy may be an illusion, you will still feel his attacks as they pierce through your beautiful figure. The more, the merrier, I always say. Ah ha ha!"

"Tsk!" Nami frowned as she stabbed the blazing part of her staff in the ground in front of her. She then ran towards the Dimentios while dragging the blazing blade of her staff across the ground, "PYRO ARM!" Nami brought up her PCT, releasing a flaming wave from the ground that spreads towards Dimentio and his illusion. They both flew up to avoid this, however, as they then floated separately from each other, and threw several energy spheres at Nami simultaneously. Nami ran across the room to avoid some of the energy sphere, but ultimately, got struck by one of them in the ankle. "Ah!" Nami fell on her chest, but quickly glanced back to see Dimentio diving down towards her.

"Get away!" Nami swung her PCT at Dimentio, but it turned out to be the illusion as her staff went right through him. The illusion then flew up, allowing Nami to see an energy sphere flying directly towards her. "Eh!" Nami tried rolling away, but the mild explosion of the sphere caused her to tumble sideways.

"Let us dance more, Nami-san!" Dimentio said as he fired several projectiles at Nami. Nami shield herself with her PCT as the projectiles struck around her, creating a dust cloud afterwards. After several seconds have passed, Nami ran out of the dust cloud, holding her PCT separately. "It's no use running!"

Dimentio's illusion got in front of Nami's path, causing Nami to stop running as the illusion formed an purple and yellow sword of energy, and pierced it through the center of Nami's chest. "AAAAAGHHH!" Nami cried as she tilted her head up in pain. But then she looked at the illusion, and stick her tongue out at him before fading away.

"Another mirage?" Dimentio asked.

"Yep!" Nami yelled from behind Dimentio, and the illusion. They both turned around to see Nami bending her PCT into a shape of triangle. "HURRICANE TEMPO!" Nami pulled back her triangle-shaped staff, and threw it between Dimentio and his illusion. As soon as the staff got between them, it released a strong current of air, causing it to spin as it created a mild hurricane.

"Oooh!" Both Dimentio and his illusion got sucked into the hurricane, and were being spun around and around. Nami then leaped, and retrieved her staff before she could have got sucked in by her own hurricane, and turned it back the way it was as she then looked up to see only Dimentio, who was dazedly falling down to the ground.

"Now you try to dodge this! Huurrghaah!" Nami jumped up while raising her PCT over her shoulder, and brought it down directly into Dimentio's face.

"UGH!" The force of the swing brought Dimentio crashing down into the floor nearly as fast as a comet, creating a dust cloud upon impact as Nami landed back on the ground, and rested her staff on her shoulder.

"I told you that you would regret messing with me!" Nami said confidently, "Just because I'm the cute one of the crew, doesn't mean I shouldn't be taken so lightly! Now get up, or I'll disfigure your face on the ground."

"Ah, no need." Dimentio said as he dazedly got back up. He then turned towards Nami while still smiling, "You are strong as you say; perhaps I am not taking you as seriously as I thought I was, but I will now." Dimentio then snapped his fingers, creating two illusions of himself out of thin air as they floated beside him, "Your strategies in battle are quite astonishing, but how will you last facing against a trio such as us?"

"Ugh! Damn you…"

Meanwhile…

Franky stood up while looking up at Obscurum's core, "Man, just what is happening around here? That thing is starting to look brighter…" Franky said.

"Oi, Franky! Up here!"

Franky looked up to the castle, and saw Chopper waving his arms at him, "Chopper, is that you up there!"

"Yes, it's me! I'm glad to see you're still okay, Franky!" Chopper exclaimed.

"It's good to see you still alive too, but what happened around here, bro?" Franky asked.

"It was Usopp! He defeated a magical ruler, along with a floating tower! He was so cool, you should have seen it! I have never seen Usopp doing something like that before!" Chopper exclaimed excitedly.

"A magical ruler, huh?" Franky asked while looking down at the unconscious Usopp, "Well, the fewer the rulers, the better. I just took down one of them myself just a while ago."

"I think I did so too, but I don't remember exactly!" Chopper said, "Anyway, we should get going! Everyone must be at the big tower by now!"

"Yeah, you're right!" Franky said as he picked up Usopp, and rested him on his shoulder, "Hang tight, I'm comin' up there!"

Franky then started climbing up the walls of the castle, nearly dropping Usopp back down on the ground, which caused Chopper to gasp, but Franky caught Usopp with his leg, and went on climbing again.

Meanwhile…

"Yah!" Nami leaped forward, avoiding several energy spheres as they exploded behind her. She tumbled forward across the ground, until she got back on her feet, and started running around again as Dimentio and both of his illusions chased after her, with the illusions the ones attacking Nami with energy spheres in the first place.

"Why run from destiny, my dear? You'll eventually succumb to your demise one way or another." Dimentio said happily.

Nami then jumped, and turned around while swinging her PCT in midair, releasing several heat balls towards Dimentio and his illusions. The trio separated from each other to avoid, and remained floating in one spot before they each shot three energy spheres at Nami, making it nine in total as Nami barely had any room to avoid from where she is standing. "Let's give this a go!" Nami said as she separated, and puts together her PCT in a 'Y' shape formation. She grabbed the two poles from the staff's back, and aimed at the energy spheres, with the center pole facing towards them, "THUNDER TEMPO!" A big ball of lightning was shot out from the staff, and went through the spheres, obliterating them with ease.

"Ha ha!" Dimentio flew to the side to avoid the big thunder ball, and countered by throwing some projectiles that floated up in the air while they aimed towards Nami. Dimentio then snapped his fingers, causing the projectiles to dive in at Nami, who instantly rolled sideways to avoid as the projectiles intersected each other upon hitting the ground.

"Ha!" Nami rolled back onto her feet, and separates her PCT, and puts away one of them around her waist, while facing the two other poles in front of her, "DARK CLOUD TEMPO!" Nami formed a small, condensed, electrically charged cloud as she separates her PCT poles from each other, allowing the cloud to float forwardly. She then gets moving again as Dimentio's illusions attacked her with more energy spheres.

"You begin to daze with me with your running, Nami-san. I suggest you slow down so destiny can take you away more quicker!" Dimentio said as he threw an energy sphere, which exploded into projectiles as Nami raised her arms over her face, trying to avoid them, but to no avail as some of the projectiles left cuts around her body.

"Ah!" Nami then fell on the floor, and turned around while bending part of her staff again as soon as she saw Dimentio's illusions going after her. "CYCLONE TEMPO!" Nami threw part of her PCT like a boomerang, as they flew past the illusions since they cannot be harmed. They flew around them atleast three times before it finally headed towards Dimentio, who smiled as he formed an energy sphere to fight back, "THUNDER FLAIL TEMPO!" Suddenly, the dark electric cloud Nami formed earlier released it's electricity, as they soured around the room in the same path the parts of the staff flew by just now. The streams of electricity circled through the illusions, and finally struck the boomerang parts, coursing electricity around it's texture.

"Ah!" Dimentio didn't expected this as he threw his energy sphere at the thunder-based boomerang, but it bounced off, and the boomerang hits Dimentio head on. "AAAAaaAAaAAAAaaH!" Dimentio cried before he warped away to prevent getting harmed any further, making his illusions disappear as well as Nami retrieved the parts of her PCT once the electricity around it was gone. "Ugh… not bad at all, Nami-san…" Dimentio's said from between dimensions, "You're now ready for Act 2!"

The ground then started to shake, startling Nami as she nearly lost her balance. "Ugh! What now!" Nami asked as she then saw something blurry from the wall in front of her. It turned out to be a portal as Dimentio came out of it, while balancing on a giant black and white ball with Dimentio's face imprinted on it. "Yaaaaahhh!" Nami then began to ran away as Dimentio rolled his big ball towards her. She threw several heat balls at the big ball while running, but instead of leaving damage, the ball actually absorbed it, and slowly bursted into flames, "Damn it! That didn't work at all!" Nami yelled as she then ran faster. Dimentio then laughed as he jumped out of the ball, causing the ball to roll faster as it caught Nami on a corner.

Once the ball made contact, it popped like a balloon, with the flames on it scattering across the corner of the room. Nami emerged from the corner, supporting herself with her staff as parts of her body were covered in charr from the fire. "Oh ho ho! Nami, you look as crispy as a burned onion. Ah ha ha ha!"

"Ergh… I am not… done yet!" Nami replied as she managed to recover, and twirled the end of her staff above her head, "COOL CHARGE!" Nami's PCT released a cool field around herself, causing some of the fire behind her to die down. The field grew stronger as the tip of Nami's staff looked nearly frozen, "ICY ARM!" Nami swung her PCT horizontally, releasing several icicles that flew forwardly in different directions.

"You never cease to amaze me!" Dimentio said as he fired several projectiles at the incoming icicles, which destroyed them as the remaining projectiles flew towards Nami, who jumped out of the way to avoid.

"Grr!" Nami separates her PCT, and grabbed the cool pole with both hands, "SNOWBALL TEMPO!" She blew into the pole as hard as she could, creating a mild blizzard as the snow formed into a giant snowball that rolled towards Dimentio. Dimentio took out a red carpet, and threw it as it magically grew bigger and longer to cover the snowball. Dimentio then removed the carpet, revealing the snowball was gone, and swung the carpet around, shooting out miniature snowballs that flew towards Nami like bullets. "HEAT WAVE!" Nami charged up the end of her staff with fire, and twirled it in circles in front of her, burning the small snow balls that were coming towards her.

By heating up so many snowballs simultaneously, a dense fog was created as it spreads across the room. Dimentio shook his head, and flew above the fog, "You cannot hide from me." He said as he shot some projectiles that floated in the air, and pinpointed Nami's location in the fog. "There you are." Dimentio then shot several energy spheres from where Nami was, and then snapped his fingers, causing the floating projectiles dive in towards the fog. Dimentio heard the sound of an impact, but no cry from Nami. "How strange…" Dimentio flew closer into the fog, but once he did, several heat and cool balls flew out of the fog unexpectedly. Dimentio suspected a trap, so he instantly warped away to avoid the balls.

He then reappeared as he then saw Nami running out of the fog. Nami glanced over at Dimentio with a smirk before bending her PCT into a triangle. Dimentio wondered what Nami was up to as he looked up, and noticed an enormous cloud thunder cloud that the heat and cools formed earlier after Dimentio avoided them. "THUNDERSTORM TEMPO!" Nami through her triangle-shaped staff into the cloud, causing it to release a thunderstorm, striking Dimentio with numerous thunderbolts.

"Aaaahh!" Dimentio fell to the ground as Nami scurried into a corner, hoping she wouldn't get hit by the bolts as well. Once the storm has ended, the PCT flew back to Nami, who caught it while getting up.

She then walked over to Dimentio with a stern look, and noticed Dimentio motionlessly laying on the ground, but her eyes widened a bit upon noticing that there wasn't a single scratch on him. Nami then realized that the figure laying down before her must be an illusion. "-sigh-… I won't fall for the same trick twice!" Nami yelled as she turned around while swinging her PCT back, figuring that Dimentio must have been behind her. She was right, yet Dimentio was floating while holding a rectangular mirror in front of him. "Huh!" Nami hits the mirror with her staff, which caused the mirror to release a bright light, recoiling Nami's attack as she was knocked over by the Dimentio copy, and fell flat on her back. "Agh!"

"Ah ha ha ha ha ha!" Dimentio laughed as he casted the mirror away, "You've once said that magic is fake, and it's nothing but tricks with mirrors. Oh, I laugh at this ironic moment, like a little boy laughing at someone who gets hurt." Dimentio's illusion then floated beside Dimentio, who grabbed the illusion's hand when he got close. Nami groggily gets back up on her feet, while Dimentio charged up with energy, and coursed it along his illusion. "Here comes the human bullet! MAGIC CANNON!"

Dimentio threw his illusion, as it glowed violet while flying towards Nami, who dodged, but felt so weak, she fell on the side of her knees. The illusion then made impact on the wall, exploding into sparks as this tumbled Nami forward until she fell on her chest.

"Damn!" Nami crawled up to her feet, and swung her PCT horizontally at Dimentio, who ducked to avoid, and countered with a flick of his finger to Nami's forehead. "Eh!" Nami staggered back until she fell on her rear again, and Dimentio formed an energy sphere inches away from her face.

"Your efforts in surviving was admiring, but now, I must bid your life adieu." Dimentio said as he could see Nami quivering in fear, "No need to fear, death is part of nature. Your elemental structure will go back to the monarch ring system, and your dark elements will remain part of Obscurum forever. You won't be alone… I will make sure you friends will join you soon enough. I hope you will still think of me as your friend in the afterlife… oh well, ciao!"

And with that, Dimentio shot his energy sphere directly into Nami's face. He heard her cry in pain, but it later turned into laughter as Dimentio then saw he only attacked a mirage.

"Please… as if you could kill me." Nami's voice could be heard, but Dimentio couldn't see her, "When I attacked you, I released a cool breeze from my staff to create a mirage. You should have seen the look on your face when you thought you had this match won."

"Ah ha ha! You certainly did fool me there." Dimentio laughed, "Where are you? Only because you escaped, doesn't mean you can truly get away. In this dimension of mine, nobody can leave."

"Good… I don't plan on leaving." Nami said from out of nowhere, "It's time that I also put this 'show' of yours into the next act."

"Really?" Dimentio asked while looking at his surroundings. He turned around to see Nami, but her body looked like a mirage, "Hmm, I can't really tell if it's really you or not."

"I know." Nami as her blurry body started to split. Dimentio had a curious expression as he saw Nami split into five different figures. One blurry figure was Nami in a big, bulky form; the second one in a tall and skinny form; the third one in a short fat form; and the last one in a small, and chibi-looking form. The last form was Nami's regular form as she and the other figures smirked, "Using the refractions and reflections in the air, I can create multiple mirages of myself." She explained as she held her PCT sideways, with her other images doing the same at the same time, "Let's see if YOU can figure out this move. MIRAGE TEMPO; FATA MORGANA!"

Meanwhile…

Robin helped Sanji walk through the long corridors of the castle as Sanji then grunted. "Are you alright, Cook-san?" Robin asked as Sanji nodded.

"Yeah… I'm fine. I can make it." Sanji replied. Robin placed his arm around her shoulder, and helped walk again. "Wasn't that an explosion a while ago?"

"I'm not sure, but in any case, we need to keep going, no matter what happens." Robin said.

"Yeah… I hope Nami and the others are okay." Sanji panted.

Meanwhile…

Dimentio clapped happily upon seeing Nami's mirage figures, "Ah ha ha ha! Splendid work, Nami-san! You truly are a genius!" Dimentio praised, "Who knew that nature can be used in so many ways."

"This is just a portion of what I can do." Nami said while she and her images held their PCT vertically with both hands, "You will now know how unpredictable the weather can be! HEAT BALL!" Nami and her images spun their PCT around in circles, shooting out multiple heat balls towards Dimentio, "20 percent of these attacks are real. Can you tell which ones are fake?"

"Let's find out!" Dimentio laughed as he flew forward. He went through some fake heat balls, but eventually got struck by real ones as his clothes got caught on fire. "Oh?" He stopped flying upon getting, and flipped between dimensions to escape from the remaining heat balls. Nami and her images looked at their surroundings, but saw no sign of Dimentio. Dimentio then reappeared from behind the normal-looking version of Nami, and tried grabbing her around her head, but his hands went right through her as the normal-looking Nami then faded in thin air. "A fake?"

"You have a 20 percent chance of finding me!" The chibi Nami said as she, and the other images thrusted their staffs into Dimentio. "THUNDER BALL!"

"GUH!" Dimentio got zapped by thunderballs from the images as he got knocked up in the air. Dimentio recovered, and shot down a mid-sized energy sphere, that splits into projectiles upon hitting the ground. Nami and the images ran separately, with the tall, and the big Nami image getting hit, but they disappeared afterwards. "Only two left… which means it has to be you two!" Dimentio said while looking over at the fat and chibi Nami. They both sticked out their tongues as there bodies split into more mirages, making another bulky, tall, and a normal-looking Nami again. Dimentio gasped as the Nami got around Dimentio in a pentagon form, and faced their PCTs together.

"DARK CLOUD TEMPO!" Nami and her images formed a dark cloud, and released in the air above their heads, with one of them being real, and the others are fake.

Dimentio looked at his surroundings worryingly, and was about to warp away to safety, but one of the Nami's hits him by throwing one of the poles of her PCT upside his head. "Wha! The real one!"

surroundings from above before they went directly into Nami and her images' PCTs.

"UGGHHH!" Even though four of them weren't real, the real lightning bolt inflicted severe damage through Dimentio's entire body, and the aftershock left Dimentio paralyzed as he limplessly fell to the bottom of the floor. Nami and her images then attacked Dimentio from every corner, raising him up on his feet with their PCT. "Oh!"

"Take this, and this, and this!" Nami yelled as he kept hitting Dimentio with her staff, with her images doing the same movements.

Nami then swung her PCT horizontally, hitting Dimentio across the face as he soured across the room, and tumbled backwards across the ground. Nami and her images then charged over at Dimentio, who dazedly get up while holding head in fear, "I beg for mercy! Uncle! Uncle, I say!" He pleaded dazedly. Nami ignored him as she and her images raised their PCT over their heads, and were about to strike Dimentio, but suddenly, a compact magical field appeared around them.

"What's this!" Nami asked as she touched the wall of the field, and tried breaking free. As she did, Dimentio regained his composure with a smile.

"It seems you have gotten too cocky for your own good. Now you must pay the price." Dimentio said as he then raised his hands, "For my next trick… I'll make you all disappear!" Dimentio then snapped his fingers, causing the interior of the magical field to explode immediately afterwards. Dimentio casted away his field, allowing the dust from the explosion to be released as he then saw Nami, collapsing on her knees while being nearly covered in char. Her mirage images were gone too, as Dimentio walked over to Nami, and raised her head up by her chin. "Is there any more surprises you have in store for me?"

"Eh!" Nami replied with a swipe of her staff, but Dimentio caught it with his hand.

"Tsk, tsk, tsk. It seems that you don't." Dimentio said while tilting his head sideways, "Oh well, time to end this." Dimentio raised his hand, but before he could do anything else, Nami pulled her PCT back, separating it as Dimentio ended up holding one of the poles. "Hm-oh?" Dimentio gasped as Nami sticked the center of her PCT in front of Dimentio's face.

"COOL BALL!" Nami fired some cool balls directly into Dimentio's face, surprising Dimentio as he staggered back while dropping part of Nami's PCT in the process. Nami retrieved that part, and connected her PCT back together, "COOL CHARGE!" Nami swung her staff, releasing a cold breeze that made the room a little colder. Nami then went after Dimentio with a swing of her staff, but missed as soon as Dimentio recovered, and retaliated by firing a projectile from off his finger to Nami, but the projectile went through her as Dimentio only attacked a mirage, which disappeared into thin air.

"Wha! OOF!" Dimentio turned around, only to get socked across the face by Nami, staggering back in circles afterwards. Dimentio recovered, and floated in the air as he twirled his finger in circles, "SWORD PLAY!" Several purple and yellow swords made of energy were formed out of thin air, as they pointed towards Nami while shifting around her surroundings. They all then flew towards her as Nami then faced the end of her PCT on the floor beneath her.

"COOL CHARGE!" Nami charged the end of her PCT with cold air as it then got covered in ice. Nami raised it up, and slammed the end of her staff on the floor, "GLACIER TEMPO!" Upon slamming her staff on the floor created several big icicles that destroyed the swords, and Nami was safely in the center of them. She then shattered the ice around her into pieces with her staff, and then bended her staff adjacent to the other before throwing it like a boomerang, "TYPHOON TEMPO!" The boomerang released a strong current of air, creating a mild tornado that sucked in the ice shards, turning the tornado white as it headed towards Dimentio with great speed.

"Nneegh!" Dimentio flipped between dimensions to protect himself, but after he did, he saw the tornado was very wide enough to be in between dimensions itself. "Oh dear-wah!" Dimentio got sucked in by the breezing tornado as he got spun round and around until the tornado died, sending him flying up in the air while automatically flipping back from between dimensions.

"There you are!" Nami ran, and swung her PCT at Dimentio before he fell onto the floor, but Dimentio recovered, and balanced on the end of Nami's staff at the end of her swing with only one finger.

"Ah ha ha!" Dimentio flipped off of Nami's staff, and spun around the room upside down. He then created some swords made of energy that spun around himself as he then spun towards Nami, with the swords around him spinning even faster.

"Grraghh!" Nami held up her staff, and blocked the swords repeatedly, but she skidded back against a wall upon doing so.

"Ha ha!" Dimentio flipped back on his feet, casting the swords around him away as Nami was then able to catch her breath. After she did, she gasped as Dimentio got in front of her, and grabbed her PCT.

"Hey, what are you doing!" Nami asked as Dimentio surrounded Nami's PCT with purple energy, and backed off as the staff turned into a purple and yellow wand, with a black heart on the top. "Wha.. What did you do!"

"I just gave it a little color; it looked so dull before. Doesn't it look pretty?" Dimentio asked happily while taking a step back.

"You idiot! I can't fight with something this stupid!" Nami complained while frantically shaking her transformed staff. "Change it back!"

"It will by itself in a while, but in the meantime…" Dimentio then took out a unflated balloon, "How about a balloon?" Dimentio then inflated the balloon, expanding it to a size of a boulder. Dimentio then tied up it's opening, and pushed the balloon forward to Nami, where it popped, making a very loud, and irritating noise.

"Ah!" Nami staggered back by the noise as Dimentio created some swords of energy, as they flew towards Nami, who used her transformed staff to parry, but fell on her rear after doing so. "Ergh! Come on, change back!" Nami continued to fight back against the floating swords, until she swung her staff hard onto them, hitting them strong enough to make her PCT turn back to normal. She smirked as she then thrusted her PCT to Dimentio, but he floated back to avoid.

"Aww, you ruined it." Dimentio said, still smiling as he then took out a deck of cards, "Let's play a game then. Pick a card, any card." Dimentio then threw the deck forward, revealing that the cards have really sharp edges as they flew towards Nami.

"COOL CHARGE!" Nami released a cool breeze from her PCT before the cards went through her. Nami saved herself as the cards only went through a mirage as it then disappeared. Nami then reappeared with her four different shaped figures again, "FATA MORGANA! THUNDER BALL SHOWER!" Nami and her images then threw many thunderballs at Dimentio.

"Oh, goodie. That technique again!" Dimentio said happily as he let the thunder balls come at him. To Nami's surprise, Dimentio was actually catching the real thunder balls, and juggled them while allowing the fake ones to get through him. He then threw the thunder balls back to Nami as she, and her images separated to avoid. "Wait, it gets better!" Dimentio said as he then snapped his fingers, causing several mirrors to pop up from all the walls in the room.

"Oh no!" Nami gasped as her thunderballs bounced right off from the mirrors, and continued to do so upon touching every mirror in the room, making it impossible for anyone inside to dodge. Dimentio laughed as he flipped between dimension to avoid the thunder ball shower, while Nami and her images were in trouble as the chibi image, and the bulky image got hit, but turned out to be mirages as they disappeared into thin air. "Ergh!" Nami, and her other images stabbed their PCTs into the ground, and ducked for cover as soon as the tall image got hit by one of the thunder balls, and disappeared into thin air afterwards.

"LIGHTNING ROD!" Nami twisted the pole of her staff, causing all the thunder balls in the room to gather into the end of the staff. Nami and her fat image version got up, but then saw the wall in front of them getting blurry as Dimentio emerged from the wall, balancing on another giant ball with his face imprinted on it. "Not again!"

"It's time for the final act to commence! In this case, we need to put all effort into this masterpiece! Let us end this show with style!" Dimentio said happily while rolling his big ball towards Nami.

Nami and her fat image began to ran away from the big ball as fast as they could. Nami didn't wanted to attack it, considering what happened the last time she did, so she ran to the side, with the ball chasing after her. Suddenly, the fat Nami figure slipped, and fell on the floor as the ball rolled over her, and she disappeared into thin air afterwards.

"Only one left!" Dimentio laughed as Nami then stopped, and faced towards the incoming ball, while bending the end of her PCT to an L-shape form.

"THUNDER SLASH TEMPO!" Nami swung her L-shaped PCT diagonally upwards as the tip took form of a scythe-like blade it slashed across the ball, making it pop like a balloon as Dimentio dived towards Nami with two energy spheres in hand. Nami quickly puts her PCT back the way it was, and rolled forward to avoid Dimentio as he thrusted his energy spheres into ground, creating a frontal shockwave that electrified the ground and the wall Dimentio was facing towards to. "HEAT CHARGE!" Nami charged the end of her staff with flames, which formed into a spear-like blade. Nami placed the blazing tip into the ground, before turning towards Dimentio. "PYRO ARM!"

Nami raised her staff from the ground after she did a 180 degree spin, releasing a blazing wave that engulfed the ground and the wall in front of her with flames. Nami thought she got Dimentio where she wanted him, but to her surprise, Dimentio reappeared in behind, and formed a ring of energy around her body.

"It's time…" Dimentio said as he then spinned the ring, which spinned around Nami's body as it knocked off her feet.

"Yaaaaah!" Nami cried as she was being taken to the other side of the intact room. Spotlight then shined down on her from out of nowhere, as Dimentio skipped merrily towards Nami, while confetti was being shot out from who knows where. Music then began to play in the background, like the ones the magic shows, as the ring around Nami disappeared, causing her to fall to the ground, until Dimentio casted a small magical field around her body. She couldn't move inside as Dimentio walked up to her from the side, and stroked his hand against the front part of the magical field. "Damn you… what are you planning to do to me!"

"I plan to finish my magic show from Indigo Plateau. Don't worry; it won't last very long." Dimentio said as he then raised his fingers, "I need you to cooperate in this, so I am going to put you asleep. Don't be afraid; this won't hurt a bit." And with saying that, he snapped his fingers multiple times.

Several explosions erupted inside the magical field where Nami is in. She cried in pain in the first few explosions until she suddenly passed out soon afterwards. Her body was completely wounded from top to bottom, and there was no denying that Nami might be dead inside. Dimentio as he casted away the magical field, but Nami remained afloat as Dimentio turned away.

"Ladies and gentlemen, boys and girls; it's time for the grand finale to begin!" Dimentio exclaimed as if he was talking to some imaginary audience, "I am going to saw this lovely orange-haired lady in half, without the need of a box around her. This is once-in-a-lifetime event, so pay very close attention as this will be the scenery you all will never forget!" He then turned towards Nami, creating an energy sphere that took shape of a saw. He stroked Nami's hair to the side, and smiled pleasantly, "… And I think I forgot to mention this before… but there will be blood when this is all over!" Dimentio then gave off a creepy smile as he raised his saw over Nami, "CIAO, NAMI-SAN!"

Nami's fingers twitched as she opened her eyes, and thrusted her fist into Dimentio's crotch area. "UGH-OOOUUGHH!" Dimentio was surprised at this as he fell on his back in sheer pain, losing his focus as Nami finally fell on the floor. He watched as he saw Nami slowly sitting up, while rubbing her head in pain. "But how… how are you still alive?"

Nami didn't reply, as she got up on one knee while supporting on her staff. She glared at Dimentio, with a nearly bloody face, "I released cool and thunder balls when I got trapped in your field…" She explained, "When the… -cough-, when the explosions occurred, the cool balls pushed the heat of the explosions back into the corners of the field, and the thunder balls partially shielded the explosion by conducting around the cool balls." Nami panted more as she continued to explain, "I still got hit by your sadistic way of finishing me off, but not as much as to kill me. Looks like, egh!" Nami grunted as she fell on one knee, "… Looks like, I ruined your grand finale. I hope you're not upset…"

Dimentio remained quiet as he recovered from that low blow, and dazedly got up on his feet, but slouched upon exhaustion, "Why do you fear change? I am trying to do what's best for everyone… and you are doing so much to stop me, and my comrades, that you are willing to sacrifice your lives in the process. Why? I don't understand why you can't see the perfection this world is willing to share with all worlds. I gave you all a chance to be a part of it, and you rejected me! Why do you reject perfection!"

"Because I want to save everyone for who they are!" Nami replied sternly, "If this world does take over everything life has, nobody would ever be the same again! My friends would change the way they are, and I don't want that! I like them the way they are, and I won't let you change our lives so easily!"

"… So I see… now it all makes sense." Dimentio said before grunting, "Eh! You are so attached to your friends… you would go all out just to protect them. I must say… that's beautiful, but not everlasting. For all we know, the other rulers must have killed your other companions by now."

"They're not dead." Nami replied.

"Are you sure?" Dimentio asked with a smile, "What makes you so certain that all of you would make out of here alive?"

"… That's because I can feel them… everyone is still alive, and we're one step closer in stopping this world! Just watch us; we're going to destroy this place, and everyone will never have to know the terrible things this world has done to theirs. I swear, that this world… will no longer cause havoc anymore!" Nami's smash ball in her pocket then disappeared as her body then emitted a colorful aura, "In today's forecast, there will be massive thunderstorms, a freezing climate, and volcanic eruptions! It will be brief, but it will change the structure of this world as we know it! Here it comes! FINAL SMASH!"

Nami grabs hold of her PCT with both hands, and slams the bottom end down on the floor. Her body then turned blurry as two replicas of herself formed around Dimentio like a triangle. "Huh?" Dimentio looked at the replicas as they all transformed. One of the replicas had Nami's body texture, only it was covered with lava, and had pupiless red eyes, and her body also emitted a blazing aura as she held on her blazing staff with both hands.

The other replica had the same body texture, but it was made of ice, and a breezy aura emitted from her body as her eyes glowed pupilessly blue while holding on her icy staff. The last one was made of electricity, with her eyes glowing yellow, and emitted a sparky aura as she held on to her electrifying staff with both arms.

"They all look real." Dimentio said in awe. The electric figure then shot out a quick thunderball as it struck Dimentio, "Ah!" Dimentio cried as the electricity also coursed massively throughout the entire floor. The icy figure then threw a cool ball above Dimentio, as it formed into a gigantic ice crystal. The crystal shattered over Dimentio's head, as Dimentio cried in pain again. The fire figure then threw a heat ball to Dimentio, and it bursted into a massive explosion of flames that engulfed the entire bottom part of the floor. "GRREEEEAAEGGHHH!"

The electricity, the ice, and the fire then spreads far away from Dimentio, who looked nearly unconscious as the elements then soured around him, and the elemental replicas like a tornado. "It's time that you see how truly devastating mother nature can really be!" All Nami's element figures said simultaneously, "The perfect climate catastrophe has been unleashed! MICROCLIMATE FLARE TEMPO!"

The tornado then unleashed thunderbolts, ice shards, and fire balls all into Dimentio's body, with thunder bolts striking from above, bigger ice shards forming out of thin air, and the floor cracking up to release lava to hit Dimentio as well. All this happened as the tornado was getting thinner and thinner until it took form of a ball around Dimentio's body. The elemental figures then pointed their staffs at the ball as it glowed white from within, and with the elements of mother nature destroying Dimentio from within. This continued for a little while longer as the ball glowed even brighter.

Outside Dimension D…

A void was forming back in the hallway where Nami and Dimentio were in before as the void then suddenly exploded violently, releasing a bright light in the process. The light then faded as Nami could be seen back to her normal self. She was on one knee as she then got up while panting. "Phew… that was a little stronger than I expected!" She gasped, "Good thing I'm still here."

She then glanced over her shoulder, and saw Dimentio, laying back against a column as his body was slowly fading away into dark element life streams. She walked over to him in silence as the jester still had a smile on his face.

"Ah ha ha… oh no." Dimentio said, "I'm really going to die this time… this is sad. I was hoping I was going to be a part of Obscurum 'till the very end."

"It's over, Dimentio." Nami said, "I've already shown you that you cannot stop us from doing the right thing."

"Mmm hmm hmm…" Dimentio laughed as he lowered his head, "I'm really glad that you did survive… I really didn't wanted to kill you. I wish now… that you and your comrades can make this out alive."

"Hmph!" Nami smirked, "Don't worry about that! Luffy made a promise about getting out of here alive, and he always keeps his promises.

"Ah ha ha ha! That's nice… he is such a nice person." Dimentio commented, "A future with everybody that has his personality would certainly be great."

"Pfft! Whatever…" Nami rolled her eyes. Dimentio then started fading away.

"Alas… I must go…" Dimentio said with a weak laugh as he reached out his hand, "Please tell Luffy, and the others… that they don't forget about me. That… even though I was in different terms, I will always be their friend."

Nami was reluctant at first, but she couldn't help but smile, as she held Dimentio's hand, "I will."

Dimentio smiled as he then faded away completely. Nami watched as his dark element streams flew up before they disappeared as well. Dimentio was now gone. Nami was quiet for a while, as she then got up, and looked at the main tower through the stained-glass window on the ceiling.

"We're almost there… Luffy, Zoro, please be careful."

Meanwhile…

Luffy and Zoro were going up the main tower by a floating platform, that went between a big spiral staircase. "I think we're getting closer to the top." Luffy said while looking up.

"Be careful, their might be more traps up ahead." Zoro said on his guard, "I wonder if Nami managed to defeat that clown."

"She can handle him." Luffy replied, "Right now, we need to end this!"

The platform then finally have finally reached the top as the platform stopped as soon as it got through the hole. Luffy and Zoro step out of the platform, and saw that they were in a corridor at the side of the tower. Once they left the corridor, they were now on a massive-sized balcony, the same one the rulers where before when they saw the Strawhats over the edge of the fortress. They walked around the side, until they saw the big double door leading inside the tower.

"There it is! The black coat guy has to be in there!" Luffy exclaimed. Zoro looked at his surroundings, until he noticed something in the center of the balcony.

"Luffy… look." Zoro said.

"Hmm?" Luffy looked where Zoro was looking at, and blinked in confusion, "A tree?"

In the center of the balcony lied a tree, a blossom tree; the same tree that mysteriously appears when a certain swordsman comes in. Speaking of him, Luffy and Zoro saw him appear from that tree. They watched as they saw none other than Yojimbo, walking past the blossom tree, and stood tall in front of the Strawhat duo. They stared at each other silently while the wind whistled as Zoro gave off a serious look.

"Luffy… go. I'll handle him." Zoro said bluntly, "I have unfinished business… just go."

"Yosh! Good luck!" Luffy yelled before leaving Zoro to face Yojimbo alone. Zoro and Yojimbo continued to stare at each other as they seemed ready for battle.

Leaving them aside, Luffy busted through the double doorway, and ran through the corridor until he took step foot in the big round room, where the rulers always talked with each other. In there, he saw Xemnas, leaning against one of the round table chairs, looking at his right hand on the table. Luffy then strictly pointed at Xemnas.

"You! Black coat guy! I'm here to kick your ass!" Luffy yelled determinedly. Xemnas looked towards Luffy with a stoic look.

"So you came… this foolish act of bravery of yours will be your last."

Final arc Pt 9

Story time! I loved how this chapter turned out. I hope you all enjoy this! Have a blast!

A charming, yet a sad loss. Luffy, Zoro, and Nami reunited with an old 'friend, Dimentio, on their way to the dark castle's main tower. Luffy and Zoro went on ahead to the tower, while Nami went to face Dimentio alone. They fought eachother in Dimension D, Dimentio's dimension he created, and fought with various skills of nature and magic. In the end, Nami used the power of mother nature to defeat Dimentio, and return to the castle, where Dimentio then bid farewell to Nami before dying. Meanwhile, Zoro confronts Yojimbo on top of the tower, while Luffy went straight for Xemnas inside. Which one of these two swordsman will be the victor?

Chapter 128: A true swordsman, Zoro vs Yojimbo

Luffy cracked his knuckles as he stared at Xemnas, who was still laying up against the side of a chair next to the round table as he raised his head to look up at the ceiling, "I somehow knew we would meet again." Xemnas said stoically, "After getting a better look at you back then, I knew you were the type that loves to get involved into situations that doesn't concern them." Xemnas then shifted his eyes towards Luffy without moving his head, "Why did you come?"

Luffy then crossed his arms against his chest, "To stop Obscurum! I'm not going to let this world destroy everyones' lives for no good reason!"

Xemnas then lowered his head, "… So that hand explained everything to you then?" Xemnas asked while tapping his fingers on the edge of the table next to him, "I understand now… so you really do plan to do something bad to this new world. Hmph… I am not surprised. Why else would someone like you be here?" Xemnas then stood straight, and faced towards Luffy. "Now that you know the truth, why did you come here after knowing how important this world will be in the future?"

"Crazy Hand called us here for help, and we're going to help him by taking care of you guys!" Luffy exclaimed, "My crew are on their way here right now, and I'll make sure to finish you off before they do!"

"Hmm…" Xemnas replied stoically before looking back at the round table, "Ever since that hand took you and your crew out of your world, me and the other rulers always talked about how to deal with you in this very room." He said as he then looked at the stained-glass window behind the table, "They never took any of you seriously, and I couldn't blame them. We, after all, are remnants of this dark world, and with it, we had the power to spread strength to our allies, and darkness to our enemies. Of course, we can't say we have had this power for long." Xemnas then looked back at Luffy, "We only had this power days before you pirates got into our lives. If it had been a few days later, than killing you all would've been much easier."

"The hell with that! We could've kicked your asses at any time and place!" Luffy exclaimed determingly, "And you guys are not going to get away with this… whatever it is you're trying to do here!"

"Oh, so you don't know of our purpose in all this?" Xemnas asked, hardly shocked, "I suppose I can let you in on our goals. We're here to watch this world consume all life and it's realities. As this world takes everything in it's grasp, we will watch the planets merge into this one.

"Merge?" Luffy asked.

"Every single planet out there will be one with Obscurum, including it's inhabitants." Xemnas continued to explain, "All those with the darkest of hearts will remain the same, while those who don't will forever roam this planet in sorrow, seeking out any lifeform to let out their rage on." Xemnas then pointed through the stained-glass window, "To make things easier to understand for you, the lands will be made in the interior of this planet; the dark element life substance formed around this fortress and the core will soon have the properties of all other worlds combined, and the only speck of light the inhabitants will see once they get here will be the light of the core itself, and nothing else for the remainder of their days. The grand universe will also take part in this, and once this entire world has taken it all, we will see a new world with every single thing in one place. That's how perfect this world is going to be like, and I intend to guide it out without any hassle from outsiders such as you."

"Your planning to watch everyone lose their way of lives! That's your stupid purpose this whole time!" Luffy asked furiously.

"Only to those who are rejected by Obscurum. Those who are accepted will live peacefully amongst each other, and I will help Obscurum prosper by ruling over it's land, and the people it accepted." Xemnas explained.

"Yeah, I get it! You will help all the crazy people live in peace, while you look away from the good ones!" Luffy added. "You can continue dreaming, I'm still going to stop you!"

"You're wasting your time." Xemnas said, "You have no idea how much power Obscurum has, even I can't comprehend the value of it's strength. With that said, there is no doubt that this world will change the way of existence forever, and now that you know the truth, why bother risking your life to stop the inevitable?"

"Because it's wrong!" Luffy replied with a frown, "This world wasn't created for this! You guys shouldn't be messing with something that isn't yours anyway!" Luffy then took a step forward, "Before I kick your ass, tell me what have you done to Master Hand!"

"He is of no importance now." Xemnas replied, "He has been engulfed with darkness. Obscurum will decide his fate, along with those close to him. Until then, I must do everything to help this world grow. Your fate about losing in the end has not changed. You will die here, and whether Obscurum revives you into an accepted lifeform of the new world, or into a berserk creature filled with sorrow, that choice is for it to decide alone." Xemnas then raised his fist in front of him, "I can't allow you to wonder any further now. It's time that you accept your fate." Xemnas then formed a beam blade from his palm, "If you wish to continue, then I will allow you to make the first strike, seeing that this is your final moments alive."

Luffy continued to glare at Xemnas, until he then sighed, "-sigh-… You are such an idiot."

"An idiot? How is it that I am an idiot?" Xemnas asked.

"I mean, why do you even do all this?" Luffy asked, "You're acting as if your this world's slave or something. You've been praising it more than all those other guys you hang out with. To me, this world is already dead. Why bother trying to help a dead world grow?"

"You're so naive…" Xemnas replied as he casted away his beam blade from his palm, "Don't you understand what it means to have a second chance in life? It was more than just a gift." Xemnas then placed his palm on his chest, "Upon my revival, I saw this planet before me. I knew it was special, and I could feel like as if it was talking to me, as if it wanted me to return the favor." Xemnas then spreads his arms out, "It was more than just a coincidence that me and the other rulers were brought back to life again. We were chosen to help Obscurum fulfill it's purpose; to spread it's name across the cosmos. We searched for many people worthy to join us on helping to rule over this world, and we tried to do so by testing their strength over their enemies. We could have gotten more members if hadn't been for your interference, but maybe, it was for the best."

Xemnas then turned away, and looked up at the stained-gass window, "Those who fail to prove themselves aren't worthy in becoming on Obscurum ruler. The day me and my newly comrades were reborn, we were tested by this planet itself, and you can say, that you are part of my challenge."

"What do you mean?" Luffy asked.

"We failed to gather new members for Obscurum, and I feared that we might get punished." Xemnas explained, "The moment you and your crew stepped foot onto this fortress, it came clear to me that this world is challenging our strength again. This world does not want to be ruled by weaklings, but we have received another chance. If we killed you all here, this world may forgive us for our failures. Although, I won't be surprised that your crew may have killed my comrades by now, considering that they don't respect this world as much as I do. Nevertheless, I must please this world even if I too have to die again."

Luffy frowned as Xemnas then placed his hand on the round table, "… If they're lucky enough, I'm sure Obscurum could revive them again." Xemnas then raised his head, "However, I highly doubt they'll be the same. They will probably end up like the others… yes, I am certain of it. They will become part of the Aterneco."

Meanwhile…

Zoro and Yojimbo silently stared at each other, with the sound of the wind being the only thing that can be heard in the area. These two haven't seen each other since the pokemon tournament, and upon seeing their gazes, they have not forgotten each other one bit. Yojimbo's dog, Daigoro, approached Zoro with a growl, but stopped as soon as Yojimbo raised hand behind him. Daigoro looked at his master for a bit, before walking away from him and Zoro.

"Looks like you've trained him well." Zoro commented with his arms crossed, "He showed no signs of reluctance after you told him to leave. You know how to treat your pets right."

"…" Yojimbo didn't say anything as he only stared at Zoro. Zoro lets out a sigh, before talking again.

"How long has it been since that day?" Zoro asked with a smile, "The last time I saw you was during our match back in that tournament.

We didn't lay a finger on each other, but what you did to that big robot was pretty impressive. I have been told that you were also the guy that sliced that building in half too. Did you know I was on it during that time? Heh, I don't think you would've cared if I was…"

Yojimbo was still silent as Zoro then looked over the balcony, and could see mostly everything above the massive castle, and the fortress beyond it. "… It's been a wild trip. Who knew I would one day get taken out of my world, and be in other ones? Hmph…" Zoro then smirked while closing his eyes, "It's all because of that stupid hand guy. First, he scares the hell out of us with that door, and we take a long trip to his place just so he can ask us to stop the guys that have been messing with us our way to him. It's sure pretty strange isn't it?"

Zoro then looked towards Yojimbo with a stern look, "During this whole space voyage, I have fought over eight warriors. They were all challenging in their own way, and I don't regret of ever facing them." Zoro then tightened his bandanna over his head, "If I keep this up, I might end up being the strongest swordsman of all existence… well, only on one reality anyway, but that's good enough for me." Zoro then got into his stance while getting ready to unsheathe his swords, "All of those achievements would've not meant a thing if I were to die here. I plan to officially start and end our fight from before. If you have anything to say to me, I suggest you start saying it while you still have the chance!"

The whole area of the balcony became quiet once more, with Yojimbo hardly moving a muscle. Then in a blink of an eye, Yojimbo threw a dagger at Zoro. "EH!" Zoro quickly unsheathed his swords, and knocks the incoming dagger away with all three of them. The dagger lands on the ground, and after it did, several cuts appeared along floor where the dagger flew over from before as the trail of cuts ended inches away from Zoro's feet. Zoro smirked as he then stood straight. "I thought so… you're just eager to fight me as I am with you."

Yojimbo remained stationary as Zoro then crossed his swords across his chest, "We will settle this once and for all. I will prove myself to you that I am the strongest swordsman that has ever lived!" Zoro yelled, "ONI GIRI!" Zoro dashed at Yojimbo, who quickly vanished as Zoro cuts through the blossom tree in his way in three halves, with all the blossoms of the tree flying out from the branches, and going passed Zoro. Zoro slowly opened his eyes, watching the petals fly past him from behind, until suddenly, they were blown in several directions, "Ugh!" Zoro turned around, and saw that Yojimbo was about to impale him with a dagger.

"Ghuh!" Zoro did a side flip, dodging Yojimbo's knife as he landed back on his feet, and countered with an upward slash with two swords, but missed as Yojimbo effortlessly stepped back to avoid. "Hiya!" Zoro spun, and did a horizontal slash at Yojimbo, who parried with only a tip of one of his daggers. "What!" Yojimbo pushed Zoro's blades back with his dagger, knocking Zoro on his back as he skidded back towards the ledge. Zoro gets up on one knee, and glared at Yojimbo.

"What are you taking me for! Don't underestimate me!" Zoro yelled as he charged at Yojimbo, "USHI BARI!" Zoro repeatedly swung his swords at Yojimbo, who parried all his attacks with one dagger while taking some steps back.

"This is like the time…" Zoro thought, remembering his first battle with Mihawk. He grew furious upon remembering that, "I can't let that happen again!" Zoro then feinted a slash, catching Yojimbo off guard as Zoro then got close to him from underneath, and did a quick horizontal slash like before, but Yojimbo was quick on his feet as he leaped away so fast, you would think he teleported. "He's fast!" Zoro thought as he charged with several diagonal slashes, but Yojimbo thrusted his dagger at Zoro's chest, which Zoro parried as he skidded backwards across the ground on his feet. Yojimbo then threw the dagger to Zoro, who knocked it away with his swords as Yojimbo dashed at him afterwards.

"TORA GARI!" Zoro brought down his swords at Yojimbo, but missed as he ran past Zoro with blinding speed, and faced his back to Zoro's back. "Geh!" Yojimbo turned towards him with a slash of his other dagger, but Zoro ducked to avoid, and countered with a spinning slash. He missed, however, as Yojimbo did a back flip, and landed on the ledge of the balcony, and then jumped above Zoro while throwing several daggers at him.

"TOU ROU NAGASHI!" Zoro did some spins and flips, avoiding the daggers as they struck the ground, leaving many cuts on the floor as Zoro moved quick enough to avoid the invisible cuts the daggers gave off after they're thrown.

"Gragh!" Zoro then leaped after Yojimbo while he was still in midair, and tried to slash him, but Yojimbo stopped his blades with the bottom of his foot. Yojimbo then pushed his foot hard, knocking Zoro downward as he crashed onto the balcony.

Zoro groggily gets up, and saw Yojimbo landing before him. "Grr… SANJUU-ROKU POUNDOU HOU!" Zoro did a circular swing with one sword, launching a cutting wave from his blade as it headed directly towards Yojimbo. Yojimbo raised his dagger, and caught the wave with it. He twirled the wave around with his dagger before throwing it over to the ledge of the balcony. "Damn!" Zoro then gets up, and dashed at Yojimbo, "SAI KURU!"

Zoro faced the tip of his blades at Yojimbo before spinning in a circle with them, nearly hitting Yojimbo if he hadn't jumped to avoid. Zoro then made a quick leap to Yojimbo before his feet would've touched the ground, and did a cross slash across the aeon's armor. The slash released some sparks from the armor, but nothing more as Yojimbo was hardly fazed by this.

Yojimbo then thrusted his dagger towards Zoro's face, but Zoro parried his dagger with his swords. "Ugh!" Inspite of this, the push of the small blade tumbled Zoro backwards, but he managed to get back up on one knee, and attack Yojimbo again, "HIRAMEKI!" Zoro swung his swords horizontally, releasing two air-based projectiles that Yojimbo avoided by stepping to the side, and then crouching. Yojimbo then countered with another horizontal slash with his dagger, which Zoro parried, and spun in the direction where Yojimbo attacked, and countered with a double horizontal slash across Yojimbo's body.

"OUTOUROU!" Zoro brought down his swords at Yojimbo, but his last attack hardly fazed him like before as he leaped onto the ledge of the balcony behind him to avoid, and then flipped over Zoro to get some ground. "Enough of this!" Zoro faced towards where Yojimbo was about to land on, and spun his swords in front of him. "SANSEN SEKAI!" Zoro leaped towards Yojimbo at the same time Yojimbo turned, and thrusted his dagger to Zoro.

SLASH!

Zoro went through Yojimbo after he had thrusted his dagger to him. They remained stationary for several seconds until Yojimbo's dagger were sliced into pieces, and several sparks spewed out from his armor, which seemed to have hurt Yojimbo as he fazed a bit.

"Hmm…" Zoro then sheathed his swords, and faced towards Yojimbo, "I came here, hoping that you wouldn't hold back on me. If you think I am facing you with all I got, then you're dead wrong; I am not even warmed up yet." Zoro then took a step forward, "Draw your sword! Fight me with all you got! I didn't come here so you could make a mockery out of me! If you call yourself a swordsman, you would fight me seriously then! Now do it! Draw your sword now!"

Yojimbo remained silent as he turned towards Zoro while dropping his broken dagger. He opened up his cape from the side, revealing his sword and sheathe around his waist. He grabbed hold of his blade, and unsheathed it slowly. By the time he got it out, Zoro could see that Yojimbo's sword was nearly as big as he was.

"That's better." Zoro said with a smirk as he got into his battle stance, "Now, let's continue!"

Zoro dashed at Yojimbo with a great speed as Yojimbo brought down his sword at him. Zoro leaped to the side as Yojimbo hits the ground, creating a humongous dust cloud that nearly engulfed the entire balcony. Despite the inner view of the cloud, Zoro charged towards Yojimbo from the side as if he could see him perfectly.

"GYUUKI YUSUME!" Zoro attempted to slash Yojimbo around his knees, but Yojimbo parried it with his long sword. Yojimbo overpowered Zoro by using his sword to push Zoro's blades to the side, but Zoro held on to them as he got knocked off his feet, and got spun around in midair. "HYOU KIN DAMA!" Zoro used the spin to his advantage as he spun around with his swords spread out, doing several spinning slashes that Yojimbo then parried with his sword by spinning his blade vertically in the opposite direction Zoro was spinning. This lasted for atleast four seconds as Zoro landed back on his feet while bringing his sword over his shoulder.

"TAKANAMI!" Zoro swung his sword, creating a powerful gust that blew away the dust cloud off the balcony, and charged at Yojimbo with a thrust, but Yojimbo sidestepped to avoid, as he countered with a leg to Zoro's gut. "Ugh!" Zoro cried as he got knocked off his feet from the kick, and was about to get cut in half by Yojimbo if he hadn't turned around in midair, and parried with his swords.

"Eh!" Zoro leaned his legs forward as soon as he parried Yojimbo's attack, allowing himself to flip over Yojimbo's blade after managing to parry it hardly, as Zoro brought his sword over his shoulder, "SANJUU-ROKU POUNDOU HOU!"

Zoro swung his sword in a circular motion, launching a cutting wave in a close distance as Yojimbo leaped to his right side with great speed to avoid as the wave made impact to the tower's doorway, but the door was so endurable, no scratch was left on it.

"Eh!" Zoro faced towards Yojimbo, who sheathed his sword, and got into a draw stance. "Oh? This will seem interesting." Zoro then sheathed his swords, and got into a draw stance also. They both glared at each other as the wind could still be heard whistling by.

When the wind couldn't be heard anymore, the swordsmen dashed towards each other. "ITTORYU IAI: SHISHI SONSON!" Zoro drew his sword, and slashed through Yojimbo the same time Yojimbo did to him. A blinding light was formed between the center of their slashes before they were now facing back to back from each other, slowly sheathing their swords afterwards. The sounds of their swords completely being placed into their sheathes created a violent tremor across the balcony.

The tremor continued to grow more intense as it turns out that the slashes from the two swordsmen actually sliced the balcony they were on in half. The front side of the balcony the swordsmen stood on then began to fall all the way down towards the roof of the castle. Inspite of this happening, Zoro and Yojimbo turned around, and clashed their swords against each other.

"Hiyaaa!" Zoro swung all his swords back and forth at Yojimbo, who kept parrying with his blade as they fell with the balcony. The balcony was falling faster than they were, so they started fighting in midair while the balcony was getting farther away from them. Zoro kept swinging his swords at Yojimbo nonstop, until Yojimbo does a strong diagonal slash, which Zoro parried as the force of the strike knocked him further down to nearly reach the falling balcony below. "HYAKU-HACHI POUNDOU HOU!" Zoro swung all his swords in a circular motion, launching a very strong cutting wave that knocked Yojimbo upward for two seconds.

Before he could fall down again, Yojimbo brought his sword to the side of his shoulder, and swung his sword with great force, launching a perfect wave that headed towards Zoro. "Yah!" Zoro parried the wave, but it was too strong as Zoro spinned his body clockwise to knock the wave pass him without getting hurt as the wave slashed through the balcony below, which left more than one cut as the balcony were cut into several chunky pieces.

Since the pieces were smaller, they fell slower to the ground as Zoro was now falling alongside them. "Huragh!" Zoro began leaping upward from the falling rubble, going up in the air in a steady pace before jumping on the circular wall of the main tower, and running up alongside it to get towards Yojimbo.

"KARASUMA GARI!" Zoro leaped from the walls of the main tower, and did a multiple slash towards Yojimbo from below. Yojimbo quickly parried the slashes, but Zoro was slashing so fast, Yojimbo could barely keep up as Zoro knocked Yojimbo's sword to the side, leaving his chest wide open.

Yojimbo was getting injured by Zoro's slashes as he stopped Zoro's attack with his blade pushing back his to the side. "Geh!" Zoro spun his body, and tried cutting Yojimbo's head of, but Yojimbo clashed his blade against his as they were about to crash onto the roof.

CRASH!

The pieces of the balcony crashed hard on the floor before Zoro and Yojimbo did at the same time, creating an enormous dust cloud on the back roof part of the castle. Seconds later, Zoro and Yojimbo ran out of the cloud, running alongside each other with the stained-glass floor between them. They leaped towards each other from the sides, clashing their swords in midair before they landed in the opposite sides of the stained-glass floor.

They kept doing this while running forward, doing X-shaped leaps over the stained-glass floor with the sounds of their blades clashing against one another with every second passing by. They then stopped, faced each other completely, and leaped at each other again as they clashed their swords with great force, releasing several sparks in between as they then pushed each other back, and landed back away from each other in a distance.

The loud sound from the clash showed that the stained-glass floor between the swordsmen have also been cut as X-shaped cuts were shown above the surface of the floor before being shattered to pieces, starting from where Zoro and Yojimbo first leaped over.

"Huh!" Nami was still in the large hallway where she encountered Dimentio as she looked up at the ceiling to see the glass shattering. "Yah!" Nami quickly hid behind a column as the shards of the glass fell over the center of the hallway behind her. Nami peered over the edge of the column, and looked through the rectangular hole where the glass was.

"What the hell! What's going on up there!"

Meanwhile…

"Aterneco?" Luffy asked curiously.

"They are lifeforms that have gathered too much dark element life, and couldn't control it." Xemnas explained, "I am sure you have encountered them before; they were those dark creatures you've face back in those towns on your way here."

"Really? So that's what they're called…" Luffy said.

"There are two kinds of Aternecos: The first kind are called primal Aternecos; they are Aternecos that have just been formed, and retains their appearances, except that they look a little menacing. A primal Aterneco can grow stronger until it reaches it's maximum dark capacity, turning them into fully grown Aternecos, like the ones you saw outside. A full-grown Aterneco retains their body figures, but their masses are filled with dark element life, taking away all detail of their outside figures. They can still be killed, but unlike the primal ones, they can be resurrected by Obscurum itself over and over again. It's an endless cycle of using life beyond natural proportions."

Xemnas then lowered his head, "Aternecos can be more than just lifeforms, it can be objects as well. Once somebody turns into an Aterneco, it releases a brief aura on it's surroundings, affecting any ground or object with darkness. The Aterneco are able to control their surroundings filled with dark energy by using their rage. One alone is able to release darkness big enough to control everything in one room. Now, all Aternecos are the same, and they can control other dark surroundings besides the ones they made on their own. Imagine a whole place filled with both Aterneco, and dark surroundings. What would you think that would be like?"

"… It would be like that crazy fortress me and my crew went through just to get here." Luffy replied.

"Perfect, now you understand." Xemnas said as he turned towards Luffy, "The area you see before you are all part of the Aterneco."

"But wait, if this place is part of it, how come nothing strange has happened to this castle yet?" Luffy asked.

"Believe it or not, but this is their home." Xemnas said while spreading, "I might as well tell you that this land here is not only part of the Aterneco, but it used to be a part of this world before it's grand demise."

Luffy's eyes widened in shock as Xemnas continued explaining, "All the Aterneco you have encountered here used to be the residents of this world, including the soldiers of Luminarium during the war. The Aterneco here are only trying to kill any intruder who dare step foot on their resting place."

"If that's so, then why are they letting you stay in this castle!" Luffy asked.

"Because… I'm one of the rulers of this land." Xemnas said, "The only thing that can control an Aterneco, is the people that have much more darkness than they have, and are able to control it unlike them. They don't attack you, but unfortunately, they don't listen to you either. Even though that they won't attack you, doesn't mean that they will always be like that. Eventually, they'll attack you when you in the least expect it, and when you are the most vulnerable. And above all us, it's because Obscurum is preventing them entry here by briefly turning their rage into fear when they get close to this castle."

"So this planet really wants you to rule it over? I don't believe it; this world is using it's own people as a tool for revenge sounds like a big lie to me." Luffy said.

"Everything I said was the truth; accept it." Xemnas said sternly. "Obscurum did all this for us since the day of our rebirths, and I will never forget that day! That day is what changed my life for the better!

FLASHBACK

Several days before Master Hand was taken captive, on a beautiful night on the smash world, an Obscurum tear was gently falling down to a plain field. The tear expanded before disappearing as it dropped a figure on the field. The figure turned out to be Xemnas as he dazedly sat up, "Ugh… what! I'm… alive?" Xemnas gasped as he looked at his hands in shock, "How is this possible?"

He got up on his feet, and wondered he was. "Unhand me at once, you tyrant!" Xemnas turned around to see Sweet Tooth lifting up Hojo from his lab coat, "I demand that you release me now!"

"Who the hell are you to tell me what to do!" Sweet Tooth asked while raising his knife towards Hojo's face, "I don't know how, but seeing that I feel alive again, I feel like tearing you apart!"

Then Bison appeared between the two, and separated them from each other, "Their will be no deaths until I find out what is going on around here."

Xemnas was about to talk to them, until he heard somebody fighting behind him. He and the others turned around to see Sigma and Yojimbo sword fighting. They clashed their blades as they glared at each other.

"You seem very suspicious! You must know what all this is about!" Sigma yelled, as Yojimbo didn't reply.

"Now, let us a wait a second." Dimentio said happily, floating in between the warriors, "If we all just take a moment to breathe, I'm sure we can all straighten things out." Yojimbo then used his left hand to choke Dimentio while pushing Sigma back with his blade, "Ohh! N-Not the kind of moment I had in mind…"

"Hold on just a stinkin' second!" Kefka yelled while appearing out of nowhere, and casting a small fireball towards trio, who got out of the way as Kefka looked angry, "I want to know why I am back alive, and why I am so weak! I used to be a god, but not I'm as useless as a roach!" Kefka then noticed Xemnas, "Oh, another one, huh!" Kefka approached Xemnas with a frown, "You better know the reason why we're here, or else I'll kill you right now!"

"… I'm not sure what's going on. I only woke up to see you guys fighting." Xemnas explained to the people around him. They all got quiet as they then heard noise.

"What was that?" Bison asked. They looked up at the stars, and noticed a dark-looking planet that was flashing purple. They all looked at it curiously, wondering what that planet was.

"Why, would you look at that. That certainly looks like a strange world, doesn't it?" Dimentio asked happily.

"Very interesting… but what planet is it? I have never seen something like that in the stars before." Hojo said upon examination.

"Looks like a giant black lightbulb." Kefka said, "Why is there is something like this around this stupid place?"

"It must be new." Bison said, "Who knew something like this would be around Earth?"

"Earth? This can't be Earth." Sigma said while standing beside Bison, "I would've detected life specimens around this area, but there seems to be nobody here but us."

Xemnas then turned towards the group, "It's possible that we all come from different worlds."

"Different worlds? Pfft, what kind of drugs are you having? There are no lifeforms in other planets" Sweet Tooth asked.

"It seems you don't know much about world travel." Xemnas noticed, "Believe it or not, there are other worlds, and many kinds of lifeforms. We may all come from different planets, and ended up here."

"But where is here?" Hojo asked.

"I'm not sure…" Xemnas said before looking back at the glowing world, but it stopped flashing as it turned pitch black, "Something is happening to that world there."

Everyone watch as the world released a dark mist over the areas before these people. They moved back as the mist was starting to take form of a big landscape, filled with towns and such. When it was over, the mist solidified into a fortress with the castle in the center. Xemnas and the others looked at in awe as they couldn't believe their eyes.

"That day, when that fortress was formed in front of our eyes, was the day that we soon realized, that our rebirth wasn't just a coincidence. We were destined to work together, and explore our new lands, and later find out that this land, formed instantly from the dark planet, will be the very thing that would change our lives forever."

Meanwhile…

Yojimbo did a diagonal upper slash, launching a swift cutting wave towards Zoro. Zoro quickly strafed to the side, avoiding the cutting wave as it left a long cut that reached over the edge of the castle. "GYUUKI YUZUME!" Zoro leaned in towards Yojimbo with a double horizontal slash, but Yojimbo parried his attack by holding his blade in front of him vertically.

They pushed their blades towards each other, until Zoro stopped pushing, and strafed towards Yojimbo's side. "TORA TSUME!" Zoro repeatedly did multiple vertical slashes at Yojimbo with two of his swords, but Yojimbo instantly took out a dagger, and parried Zoro's slashes with it.

When Yojimbo found an opening, he thrusted his dagger up across Zoro's face, but missed as Zoro tilted his head back in the nick of time to avoid.

"Egh!" Zoro nearly lost his footing due to his quick evasion as Yojimbo then took a step forward, hitting Zoro in the gut with the bottom hilt of his dagger. "Guahah!" Zoro fell on his back in pain as Yojimbo then threw dagger at him while he was done, but Zoro quickly recovered, and knocked away the dagger with his swords. Yojimbo then brought up his sword to Zoro, who instantly got up, and raised his swords above his head to parry, but it turned out to be a feint as Yojimbo jumped back as soon as Zoro raised his swords. "Huh?"

Yojimbo took out three daggers, and threw them simultaneously at Zoro, who brought his swords down, and knocked away the daggers as quickly as he could, but the last one passed by him. Zoro's eyes widened in shock as the dagger left a trail of cuts behind, leaving several cuts on Zoro's left shoulder and forearm in the process. "GUAAHH!" Zoro cried in pain as Yojimbo appeared right in front of him, and attempted to stab through his gut.

Zoro glared at Yojimbo as he sidestepped to avoid the thrust, and puts his swords horizontally parallel around Yojimbo's head while his head was still lowered. "GAZAMI DORI!" Zoro clamped his swords around Yojimbo's head, as Zoro tried to cut Yojimbo's head off with all his strength, but Yojimbo stopped him with a simple punch to his gut.

Zoro grunted in pain as he was about to fall back, but did a backflip to land on his feet, and charged at Yojimbo from underneath. "TATSU MAKI!" Zoro spun around with his swords spread out, unleashing a tornado of cutting waves afterwards. Yojimbo avoided the tornado by doing a backflip without using his hands, and landed on the ground several feet away from Zoro. He then took out five daggers, and threw them up in the air as they then impaled the ground inches away in front of Zoro. The trail of cuts the daggers made soon followed as Zoro raised his swords, and parried them away as they struck all over the ground around Zoro, leaving small, but many cuts on part of the castle roof afterwards.

After he parried the cutting waves, Zoro crossed his swords against his chest as a silhouette figure stood behind him. "ENBIMA YONEZU: ONI GIRI!" Zoro dashed forward towards Yojimbo, and did a cross slash while going right through him, leaving a parrallel trail of fire around him in the process.

Unfortunately for Zoro, Yojimbo blocked his slash with his blade halfway out of it's sheathe as Yojimbo then sheathed his blade, causing the blue fire around him to disperse, and form a cut across Zoro's chest. "GAAHAGH!" Zoro cried as he collapsed on his hands and knees.

He turned towards Yojimbo to try and slash him from behind, but Yojimbo swiftly moved away, and turned towards Zoro. "Ah… he's very strong… but I am stronger!" Zoro then placed his swords in front of him horizontally, "KUJAKU DANSU!" Zoro charged at Yojimbo, leaving blue afterimages behind as he struck Yojimbo with a cross slash, which Yojimbo avoided by jumping back.

Zoro then started running around Yojimbo while slashing at him from different directions, leaving so many blue afterimages behind in the process, that Yojimbo was getting confused by them. Inspite of this,

Yojimbo parried most of Zoro's slashes from all his surroundings until he saw so many afterimages, he didn't see Zoro leaping above him. "KUJAKU HANE!" Zoro's afterimages took form of a spiritual peacock that formed around Zoro's blades as he spun his body horizontally with his swords spread out while diving downward towards Yojimbo. Yojimbo raised his sword, and blocked Zoro's spinning attack, but Zoro kept spinning in midair as he skidded Yojimbo backwards across the rooftop.

Yojimbo was getting weaker defending against Zoro's spinning slash, but luckily for him, Zoro was starting to slow down as the spiritual energy around his swords disappeared. When Yojimbo saw this, he stomped his foot on the ground hard, creating a shockwave that knocked Zoro away from him. "Ugh!" Zoro grunted as he got knocked back in midair. Yojimbo then did several cutting waves at Zoro, who landed back on the ground, and charged at the waves.

"TOU ROU HOUKOU!" Instead of evading the waves, Zoro slashed through them with his blades. The waves dispersed into two after Zoro cuts them as they left many cuts on the rooftop, and after Yojimbo was done sending cutting waves, he threw three quick daggers at Zoro, who avoided the daggers, but didn't avoid the trail of cuts they left behind. Several small cuts were left on Zoro's chest and shoulders, but that didn't stop him from leaping towards Yojimbo with his swords glowing over his shoulder.

"HIIYAAA!" Zoro brought down his swords at Yojimbo's right shoulder, hitting him so hard that he went through rooftop, and into the castle, creating a humongous dust cloud in the process.

Zoro panted after his attack as he then went through the hole in the roof to go after Yojimbo. As he went down, he noticed that Yojimbo went through several floors as Zoro finally landed on the mid-floor of the castle.

Zoro looked around, until he then turned around, and parried Yojimbo's slash attack. Yojimbo pushed his blade with one hand, causing Zoro to lean back as Yojimbo used his free hand to take out a dagger, and try to leave a cut across Zoro's gut. "Eh!" Zoro used one of his swords to parry the dagger, pushing it and Yojimbo's sword away at the same time. Yojimbo then breaks the hold, and kicks Zoro across the face, "GUUUGHH!" Zoro went crashing through three walls, and ended up in a center of a maze-like library. Zoro got up on his feet, and jumped out of the way as Yojimbo unleashed a cutting wave that sliced through several book shelves before entering the library.

Zoro leaped up on one of the book shelves, and leaped towards Yojimbo from above, "HYOU KIN DAMA!" Zoro spun his body with his swords spread out towards Yojimbo, who moved out the way as Zoro landed on the ground on his feet, cutting several book shelves around him into pieces.

"HYAKU-HACHI POUNDOU HOU!" Zoro swun his swords in a circular motion, releasing a strong cutting wave that went through the rubble of the shelves he destroyed towards Yojimbo. Yojimbo did an upward slash, cutting through the wave as it's current knocked several furniture and more shelves all over the place. Yojimbo then dashed at Zoro, doing a several diagonal slashes at him with great speed as Zoro parried them all, but got knocked into a wall behind him. "Ergh!" Zoro sheathed his swords, and dashed towards Yojimbo, "HEBI HITONOMI!"

The swordsmen clashed their swords against each other, creating a blinding light in the center that eventually exploded. Zoro and Yojimbo leaped up on one of the intact book shelves, and slashed at each other over and over again.

Yojimbo brought Zoro up against a wall again, and swung his sword diagonally towards him. Zoro leaped out of the way as Yojimbo left a big cut on the wall. He then watched Zoro running against the wall, jumping onto another book shelf, and finally, jumping on a big chandelier.

Yojimbo leaped after him as Zoro sheathed two of his swords, and grabbed the one on his mouth with his left hand, and gripped his left arm with his right hand as he then jumped down towards Yojimbo, with a blue blazing dragon suddenly forming behind Zoro. "HIRYU KAEN!" Zoro slashed through Yojimbo's body as the dragon behind them went through them, and engulfed the entire library floor with blue flames.

Flames then bursted out from where Yojimbo was slashed as he landed around the fire on the floor, nearly loosing his footing. He covered the fire on him with his arm, which was big enough to put out the fire soon afterwards as he then turned towards Zoro as if nothing happened to him.

"What now!" Zoro asked from ontop of a bookshelf as he watched Yojimbo spinning his sword above his head. As he spinned it, he was gathering the blue fire that was around him. His katana was now covered in fire as Yojimbo then did a spinning slash, creating a tornado of blue fire. "Wha!" Zoro fled as the tornardo was decimating the library, including the floors above as the tornado was big enough to go through the roof. Zoro slashed his way through walls while going up the floors until the tornado died out. Once it did, Yojimbo swiftly appeared right in front of him, and did a horizontal slash that Zoro couldn't parry it properly up close.

"GRRRR!" Zoro received another cut across his chest as the force of Yojimbo's slash also left several cuts through several walls of the upper walls behind Zoro.

This kept on going until it went through another wall in a hallway where Sanji and Robin were walking by. They gasped as they turned around to see the side walls behind them slashed. "What was that just now!" Sanji asked.

"I think it's better that we keep moving!" Robin said as she continued to help Sanji walk through the hallways.

Back in the battle, Zoro leaped out of the hole in the rooftop, gasping for air as he stumbled around one of the fires that Yojimbo's blazing tornado created just a second ago. Blood was coming out from his wounds as Zoro felt dazed, " No, don't lose consciousness! I won't lose! " He thought as he turned around to see Yojimbo jumping from the hole, and onto the rooftop from where he is on.

Yojimbo pointed his blade at Zoro, and did several thrusts at him with it. Zoro parried the thrusts while taking several steps back as Yojimbo then pulled back his sword, and did a stronger thrust that knocked Zoro off his feet. "Ahh!" Zoro tumbled backwards across the ground until he stopped around the edge of the rooftop. He sat up, only to see Yojimbo right in front of him again. Yojimbo knelt down, and thrusted his palm into Zoro's face, which surprisingly didn't harm Zoro, but the force of the blow knocked him out of the rooftop, and was sent crashing ontop of the west side of the dark castle gates.

"UUGHHH!" Zoro dazedly got back on his feet as Yojimbo leaped from the rooftop, and landed on the western wall gate as he attacked Zoro with several vertical and horizontal slashes. Zoro parried, and countered with a double thrust that managed to struck into Yojimbo's armor, but Yojimbo didn't faze as he countered with a kick to the chest. "Ah!"

Zoro tumbled backwards as Yojimbo tried stabbing on the ground, but missed as Zoro did a backroll, and dashed underneath Yojimbo's vision. "TATSU MAKI!" Zoro spun with his swords, creating a tornado of cutting waves that struck Yojimbo's front side repeatedly before he staggered back a bit.

Zoro then stopped spinning, and did a diagonal upper slash at Yojimbo, but missed as Yojimbo crouched sideways to avoid, and countered with a shoulder barge that knocked Zoro off his feet, and tumbled backwards until he crashed into one of the front towers of the wall gates. Yojimbo then sheathed his sword as he dashed towards Zoro with blinding speed, which Zoro saw as he leaped over Yojimbo before he did a quick horizontal draw slash.

Yojimbo's slash was so powerful, that it sliced the tower in front of him in horizontally in half, but it remained intact as Zoro then landed behind Yojimbo, and charged towards him.

"OKOZE…" Zoro charged Yojimbo from behind his left side, but Yojimbo heard him coming as he took out a dagger, and thrusted it back, but Zoro actually feinted his charge as he strafed towards Yojimbo's right side after he attacked, "ONI GIRI!" Zoro cross slashed through Yojimbo's back, going past the west wall, as he landed on the north gate wall. The slash also damaged the sliced tower as it finally started to collapse. The debris fell over Yojimbo, who was in pain from getting slashed so hard as it looks like the debris was about to fall on him. Suddenly, Yojimbo recovered as he went jumping up from debris to debris until he was very up in the air, and threw several daggers at Zoro from above.

"Whoa!" Zoro started running across the northern gate, avoiding the daggers as they struck the ground behind him. Yojimbo then used the back of his sword to knock some of the debris around him over where Zoro was going. Yojimbo quickly jumped from debris to debris he knocked forwardly until he ended up ontop left-hand tower Zoro was running towards to. Yojimbo threw daggers at Zoro from there, but Zoro avoided them as he crossed all his swords in front of him.

"YASHA KARASU!" Zoro then spinned like a wheel, going up the tower while leaving cuts that were in shape of crows feet. He continued to go higher until he got towards, and did a triple downward slash across Yojimbo's body, causing him to jump back.

They then exchanged several slashes at each other, with the last of their slashes knocking them both out of the tower in opposite directions. They fell as they sheathed their swords, and concentrated deeply. "NITORYU IAI: RASHOUMON!" Both Zoro and Yojimbo unsheathed their swords, cutting through the tower as Zoro landed on the eastern wall gate, and while Yojimbo landed on the northern wall. They stood silently as the left-hand tower then started to fall over towards the front left corner of the castle, where Hojo's lab used to be.

Zoro and Yojimbo turned around, and leaped towards each other as they exchanged even more slashes while riding along the falling tower. They then leaped up from the top end of the tower before it crashed onto the corner of the castle, and delivered more slashes to each other before Yojimbo pushes Zoro away with his palm, and unleashed a cutting wave that struck Zoro head on.

"UGHH!" Zoro went crashing back into the castle again, creating a tremendous dust cloud in the process.

This outrageous battle is damaging the castle more by the second as Yojimbo then landed on the open surface of the castle, and went after Zoro.

Meanwhile…

Crazy Hand flew high up above the fortress, making panting noises after that sudden outburst from before. "Oh man, zombies are soooo much scarier in person… but it kinda looked like an Aterneco though…" Crazy Hand then looked down at the dark castle in front of him, "The castle still looks the same too, but it looks a little broken for some reason too."

Crazy Hand then folded into a fist, "Oooh, when I get my hand on those ruler pansies, they are going to pay so much, that I will force them to sleep in my poop mountains until they say 'Dear gawd, Crazy Hand is so handy, he made this place supah smelly!'." But I'll put that on hold after I come up with some better phrases later!"

Crazy Hand then searched the area from above, "Okay, my bro has to be here! He just gotta!" Crazy exclaimed, "Where could he be!" Crazy continued looking until he noticed a corridor sticking out from the south wall gate. The corridor was leading up to a floating tower just behind the castle, as Crazy Hand flew towards the front of the tower, and couldn't believe what he was seeing.

"THERE YOU ARE! I FOUND YOU AT LAHAAAHAASSTT!" Crazy Hand cried as the tower had bars in the front, and in the cage was none other than Master Hand, lying inside the big cage unconscious.

Meanwhile…

"Goooooo! We must find the others quickly! Run faster!" Usopp exclaimed.

"Shut up! I'm going as fast as I can! Keep yelling, and I'll drop you here!" Franky yelled as he carried Usopp on his shoulder while running across a dark hallway alongside Chopper in his walk point.

"What is going on with this place! I heard so many crashing noises around here, and I think something crashed behind us!"

"The hell I know! This place was crazy the moment we stepped foot in here!" Franky yelled, "Just forget about the noises for now, and keep running!"

"Yosh! We need to go find the others! I'm sure everyone is at the tower by now! Hurry, you guys, we need to go faster!" Usopp exclaimed.

"Bro, you really need to shut up!" Franky yelled.

The trio continued running, as Chopper then picked up a scent. "Hmm! Wait!" Chopper yelled as he stopped running.

Franky stopped as well as he turned towards Chopper, "What is it!"

"It's Zoro! I think he is around here!" Chopper said while looking back at the hallway. The trio gasped as they did saw Zoro running towards them.

"Hey, it is Zoro!" Usopp exclaimed, "Zoro, where have you be-!"

"Move!" Zoro yelled while running in between his comrades, and ran ahead. The Strawhat trio watched him run away with a confused expression.

"Where is he going?" Franky asked.

"It looked like he was trying to get away from something." Chopper said.

"No way. Zoro is too tough to be running… away?" Usopp blinked as he and the others heard loud footsteps from behind. They all turned around to see Yojimbo running towards them with great speed.

"AAAAAAAAAAAAAAHHHH!" The trio screamed as their eyes popped out of their heads when Yojimbo was really close. Yojimbo ran in between them, and chased after Zoro as if he didn't noticed the screaming trio at all. The three panted in shock after they couldn't see Yojimbo anymore.

"That was so scary…" Chopper panted.

"Franky, it's alright now. You can take as much time as you want getting to the tower." Usopp said with a weak smile.

"Tsk…" Franky mumbled as he, and trio kept moving.

Back with the Swordsmen, Yojimbo was catching up towards Zoro from behind, as he then threw some daggers at him. Zoro leaped, and turned towards the daggers, knocking them away with his swords as the daggers left a trail of cuts along the hallway behind. Yojimbo then unleashed a cutting wave at Zoro, who leaned back in midair as the wave flew over him, and left cuts through the walls around him, and a big cut in the wall behind him.

Zoro flipped back on his feet, and went around a corner of the hallway. Yojimbo followed him by barging through the walls he cut, and got into a dining room as he then barged through another wall adjacent to the wall he barged through, and blocks Zoro's path as he surprised Zoro in the hallway with a thrust of his blade.

"Whoa!" Zoro backflipped to avoid the stab as Yojimbo did several diagonal slashes that Zoro quickly parried, before jumping back to get some distance. "ICHI GORILLA! NI GORILLA!" Zoro's flexed his biceps as he raised his swords over his head, "NIGORI ZAKE!" Zoro leaped towards Yojimbo, and hits him in the chest with the tips of his blade. The slash was so powerful, that it sends Yojimbo flying through a door behind him, taking part of the wall down as well as he landed on his feet, skidding back across the center hallway, where Nami was at.

"Whuh!" Nami gasped upon seeing Yojimbo from behind a column as she then saw Zoro running after him. "Zoro?"

"Uragghh!" Zoro attacked Yojimbo with a multitude of slashes as Yojimbo parried them all with his sword. Yojimbo then stomped his foot on the ground, creating a shockwave that knocked Zoro on his back. "Eh!"

Yojimbo then jumped up from column to column of the hall, leaping over the rooftop as Zoro quickly gave chase. "Zoro, wait!" Nami yelled, but Zoro was already gone as she looked up at the hole on the roof. "That guy was from the tournament also! Ergh, I remembered how strong he was. I hope Zoro can take him down."

A door on the other side of the hallway then opened as Robin helped Sanji enter. "Uh? Nami-san?" Sanji said.

"Sanji-kun? Robin?" Nami said before she approached the two in relief, "You two are alright! Thank goodness."

"It seems you are alright, as well." Robin said with a smile. She then noticed the mess in the hall, "What happened here?"

"It's a long story…" Nami said with a sigh.

Then Usopp, Chopper, and Franky entered in the hallway from where Yojimbo crashed through. "Nami! Sanji! Robin, you all are here!" Chopper exclaimed happily as Nami, Sanji, and Robin noticed his comrades coming in.

"Oh good, you are all okay too! And Usopp, it's good to see you're still okay!" Nami exclaimed.

"Don't talk to me like that! It's because of you, I nearly died back there! Don't ever ditch me like that again!" Usopp yelled furiously on Franky's shoulder.

"Nevermind about that; did you all see swordsman bro, and that armor guy running past here!" Franky asked.

"What? You saw Marimo around here?" Sanji asked while Robin allowed him to stand on his own.

"Yeah, he was just here!" Nami exclaimed as she then pointed through the hole in the roof, "Him and that big guy from the tournament are fighting up in the roof right now!"

"What!" Everyone looked up through the roof to hear the sounds of blades clashing against each other.

"TORA GARI!" Zoro brought down his swords at Yojimbo, who did an upper horizontal slash against Zoro's blades to knock Zoro off balance. "Grr!" While Zoro was left wide open, Yojimbo pulled back his blade, and was about to cut Zoro across his gut, but Zoro placed his blades against Yojimbo's sword to parry, and side spin over the swipe.

"HYOU KIN DAMA!" Zoro spun in midair with his swords, slashing Yojimbo's body repeatedly as Yojimbo staggered two steps back. "SANJUU-ROKU POUNDOU HOU!" Zoro then released a quick cutting wave towards Yojimbo, who used his arm to blow it away. As he did that, Zoro got on the ground, sheathing his swords as he dashed towards Yojimbo while he was open. "SHISHI SONSON!" Zoro drew out his sword, and cuts through Yojimbo's body, but he only attacked an afterimage as the real Yojimbo flew down towards Zoro with his sword facing towards him. "Yah!" Zoro leaped away as Yojimbo plunged his sword on the rooftop, creating a frontal shockwave that left small, but deep cuts in a 20 foot radius around Yojimbo.

"TOUROU!" Zoro dashed at Yojimbo, doing a double upper slash at him, but missed as Yojimbo jumped back to avoid, "OUTOUROU!" Zoro brought down his swords at Yojimbo, who parried with his sword, "HIRAMEKI!" Zoro did a horizontal slash with both swords, which Yojimbo avoided by ducking as he then countered with a slash of his blade, but Zoro parried with his blades as he then spun around Yojimbo's sword to get closer to him. "MAGUMA!" Zoro pounded his blades on Yojimbo, who quickly blocked with his arm as the force of Zoro's pound pushed Yojimbo hard enough to leave a dent beneath his feet.

Yojimbo then countered by hitting Zoro's rib with the bottom hilt of his blade. "GUUUHHAAGH!" Zoro tumbled sideways in pain as blood oozed out of his wound. "Tsk…" Zoro felt dazed as Yojimbo did a spin before lowering his sword on Zoro. Zoro then regained focus as he raised his swords over his head, "ZOU TSUNOBUE!" Zoro parried Yojimbo's blade, and then did a clockwise spin, before doing a swift counter clockwise spin, which created force that staggered Yojimbo several steps back.

As Yojimbo staggered, Zoro dashed towards him while sheathing his blades, "RASHOUMON!" Zoro drew his blade, and sheathed his blades afterwards through Yojimbo's body, leaving a big, noticeable cut across his armor. Yojimbo groggily took several steps forward as Zoro remained stationary facing his back towards Yojimbo.

Then suddenly, Yojimbo regained his composure, and turned around to slash at Zoro behind him. Zoro was aware of this as he turned around, and tried to parry, but missed as Yojimbo left another cut on Zoro's chest.

"GUUUUUUAAAAAAAAAAAAA AAHHHHHH!" Zoro collapsed on his knees as his chest was now covered in blood. His whole body was a complete mess, the state he is in was much worse than what Scales did to him back then. Zoro panted as he got up, and glared at Yojimbo as they both looked fatigued to fight on. "Not yet… I'm still alive!"

Yojimbo did nothing for a while until he then took out a small bag, filled with blossom petals. He scooped the petals out of the bag, and threw them in the air as the wind blew them towards Zoro's direction,

"Petals?" Zoro thought as Yojimbo then raised his sword parrallel to his face, doing something as the petals then flew around him and Zoro. Zoro felt some small cuts around his body, which didn't hurt that much, but just feeling them caused Zoro to gasp.

"Damn it!" Zoro swung his swords at all his surroundings as the petals were actually releasing trails of cuts towards Zoro's directions. The petals proved to be harder to hit than the daggers as Zoro kept parrying and parrying the invisible slashes, but there were so many petals that he was getting cut by them anyway.

"GRRRRRRRRRRRRAAAAAA AAAAAAAGGERRGHHHH!" Zoro cried as Yojimbo watched him suffer. Zoro then raised his head while yelling even louder as he got into a pose, creating a dark atmosphere around him, the petals, and Yojimbo. Yojimbo looked at his surroundings in confusion as Zoro raised his swords while gritting his teeth in anger.

"KYUTORYU: ASURA!" Zoro's dark aura gave Zoro an additional pairs of two arms and two heads that held six additional swords, making him have nine swords in total. Zoro spreads his swords out, blowing away all the petals as Zoro's aura petrified Yojimbo. Zoro then slashed right through Yojimbo with all nine swords, "ASURA ICHIBUGIN!"

Yojimbo was in tremendous pain as his katana was cut into pieces. The pieces flew by his head as he seemed like he was going to fall. But he didn't as he merely staggered forward while catching his breath. Zoro remained in his form as he turned around, seeing Yojimbo still standing after all he went through.

"… Why are you with them?" Zoro asked, catching Yojimbo's attention, "You are one the strongest swordsman I have ever encountered. When I fight with you, I cannot sense any hatred in your moves. You sword skills are incredible, and I can still sense that you are still willing to fight after all you've endured. You fight honorably, and I deeply respect you for that." Zoro then frowned, "What I want to know from you is why are you helping these people?

You are different from they are, and I can tell that you don't even want to be with them. If that's the case, then why are you helping these people with this dead world!"

Yojimbo slowly stood straight, as he lowered his head fatigued.

"… I have no choice." Yojimbo said, speaking for the very first time in this fic, "I was brought here by choice, not by destiny."

"Hmm? What do you mean?" Zoro asked curiously.

"This world… no, this dead world… is using me." Yojimbo said while looking up at the dark atmosphere, "We're all being used. We're nothing but pawns to this new order this world is trying to create. I was brought here… by the darkness that was left inside me." Yojimbo then faced towards Zoro, "You're right, I am different from all these people here. The curse of my rebirth has harmed others, and I regret it. If I were to die by any natural cause, I will only be revived again."

Zoro was silent hearing this as Yojimbo panted a bit.

"There is only one way to break free of this curse… and that is to die in battle using every ounce of strength I have left." Yojimbo explained, "I am grateful that someone like you is here to stop all this. Will you please help me in relieving my curse?"

Zoro didn't reply as he simply stared at Yojimbo. He then blinked as he got into a fighting stance in his asura form, "I am not into saving people by taking their lives away, but it would be shameful for me if I were to walk away from an opponent's death wish. Okay… I will help you destroy your curse."

Yojimbo stood straight as he sounded relieved, "I thank you… now, it's time to bring an end to this." Yojimbo then placed hand forward, with his thumb holding down on his ring finger and pinky. Yojimbo's middle and index finger bursted into flames as the floor in front of him turned pitched black. From the darkness, came out a sword in a red and purple sheathe. It flew out of the darkness as Yojimbo caught it with ease with his free hand. He slowly unsheathed his new sword before throwing the sheathe away to the side.

"The Zanmato. If you can surpass the strength of this blade, my curse will be gone." Yojimbo said.

"The sword is only as strong as the user." Zoro said as he then smirked, "But if you say that sword is strong, and you are going to use it, than I have no doubt it will be hard for me to break! I will use all the strength I have left too! Now, let's go!"

"Very well." Yojimbo replied. The swordsmen then charged, and clashed their swords against each other, creating a violent tremor across the entire rooftop.

" Grrr! Even with nine swords, he is still strong! " Zoro thought as he tried pushing Yojimbo back. Zoro then swung his swords repeatedly at Yojimbo who parried with his Zanmato, but every time Zoro hits Yojimbo's blade, it released a flash that was affecting his asura form. "Geh!" Zoro then jumped back, and did a fast dash towards Yojimbo, "ASURA MAKYUUSEN!" Zoro slashed through Yojimbo, and ended with a stance of all his swords in a wheel shape formation.

"… Sorry." Yojimbo said.

Suddenly, Zoro collapsed on his hands and knees as it turns out that Yojimbo struck Zoro, and not the other way around. Zoro's asura form disappeared as Zoro groggily gets up on his feet, while sheathing two of his swords away. He turned towards Yojimbo, and lowered his stance while pointing his sword at him from the right side of his body.

"ITTORYU…" A tremendous amount of lightning enveloped around Zoro's body. The lightning then created an enormous twilight dragon as the electricity also formed around Zoro's blade. Yojimbo wasted no time, and dashed at Zoro, who was ready to lunge forward, "TOWARAITO TATSU!" Zoro lunged towards Yojimbo as the twilight dragon followed him. Zoro and Yojimbo slashed through each other again as everything got quiet afterwards.

Suddenly, the dragon lets out a loud roar as it's body was cut by Yojimbo's blade. Zoro collapsed once again as the dragon fell over him, and exploded afterwards. The explosion knocked Zoro high up in the air as he looked he was going to die.

" Not even that move worked… " Zoro thought weakily, " I think I truly lost this time. I can't move anymore… "

Yojimbo watched Zoro up in the air silently, until he then leaped up towards him, with his sword ready to cut him in half. Zoro slowly closed his eyes, and couldn't sense anything anymore.

"Kuina… I… ugh!" Zoro opened his eyes, and saw nothing but darkness, "That's right… I made a promise. Heh… it's embarrassing if I would really were to die in a place like this." Zoro continued falling as he then closed his eyes again, "I can't tell what's going on; my senses seem to have left me. What good is a swordsman without his senses… unless…" Zoro's smash ball then glowed as a colorful aura emitted around his body, "A battle where a swordsman cannot sense anything is likely to die… but in a battle where both rival swordsman cannot sense anything… is bound to lead into chaos!"

Zoro then turned around in midair as Yojimbo was just several feet away before striking. "FINAL SMASH!" Zoro's colorful aura then turned black as his eyes also turned pitched black also. Yojimbo's eyes widened in shock as Zoro's dark aura was growing tremendous around him and Yojimbo himself. Yojimbo didn't do anything as all his senses have been cut off from seeing Zoro's dark energy "SANTORYU NEKURA…" Zoro crossed his swords against his chest before his aura covered him and Yojimbo as it formed into a black void. The void continued to grow up to the point where it reached towards the wall surface of the main tower, and the rooftop below.

"Everyone, move up against the corners!" Nami yelled as she and her comrades moved far away from the void as they could, with Usopp and Chopper screaming as this happened. They watched as the void suddenly stopped growing, and started shrinking, pulling space and time in it's surroundings like an elastic band as the void shrunk into a micro-sized particle, before releasing a tremendous explosion of bright light.

"Waaahh!" The Strawhat crew gasped as everything turned back to normal, and saw Zoro flying downward past Yojimbo, who was still petrified.

"MAKURAYAMI ONI GIRI!" Zoro sheathed his swords, causing Yojimbo's body to shake violently as if he been cut more than a million times. Suddenly, more than a million cuts were formed on the upper walls of the main tower, including the entire surface of the rooftop, leaving no intact piece behind. The rooftop couldn't handle the damage as not only did it collapsed, but it turned into dust afterwards, including the front part of the upper walls of the main tower as a humongous hole was formed there, but the tower remained intact, despite the damage it sustained. The crew watched in awe until the castle started shaking.

"What now!" Usopp gasped. It turns out that the castle had a humongous X-shaped cut over it's top, causing the castle to split up a bit to make the 'X' cut look visible. Zoro was about to crash onto the floor, until all the men of Strawhat crew rushed in, and caught Zoro as he fell flat on them.

"Damn, that was too close!" Franky yelled. They helped Zoro gently on the floor before Sanji scolded him.

"What were you thinking, you idiot! You nearly killed us too with your stupid move!" Sanji yelled.

"He's really hurt, Sanji! Get away so I can heal him!" Chopper cried. Chopper began checking on Zoro's wounds as Nami and Robin approached them.

"It seems that we all managed to make it out alive this time." Robin said.

"Yeah, now it's all up to Luffy now." Nami said while looking up, "Eh? Wha!" Nami gasped as she saw Yojimbo crashing into the hallway they were, creating a dust cloud in the process. The cloud faded as Yojimbo was STILL alive after all those cuts he received.

"You gotta be kidding me!" Usopp whimpered as Sanji, and Franky got up to deal with Yojimbo, but saw that he was heavily injured. Yojimbo was having trouble getting up on his feet, as he kept collapsing several times before finally getting up on his knees.

Sanji and Franky dropped their stances as Sanji sighed, "He's done…"

Yojimbo's dog, Daigoro, then appeared out of nowhere, and whimpered as he saw his master dying. Yojimbo petted Daigoro before looking over Zoro. Zoro leaned up on his elbows, and watched Yojimbo getting up on one knee, and bowed down.

"Thank you…" Yojimbo uttered his last words before his body turned white, turned into light elemental streams as they floated up in the air before disappearing. Daigoro howled before his body disappeared as well.

The crew was silent upon seeing this as Zoro took out his sword, and raised up towards the air, "… I am one step closer… of becoming the strongest swordsman… eh…"

"Don't move too much! You have already lost too much blood!" Chopper warned while treating Zoro. Zoro rested his arm and sword over his head as he began to snooze. The sword he was holding, the one he got from Wario, looked pretty worn out as there was now a crack on it's edge.

Meanwhile…

We are back Xemnas flashback as we could see Xemnas, along with his companions entering the fortress, and walking around the neighborhoods.

"Even though we didn't like each other, we decided to put our differences aside, and work together as a team to investigate this land.

"Nobody seems to be here." Sweet Tooth said upon observation.

"This place was just made up. What would be lurking around here after several minutes of it's creation?" Kefka asked rudely.

"There is a possibility that their might be lifeforms in the area. I suggest we keep up our guard up at all times." Hojo said.

"You humans are lucky that you have me with you, or else you would all be lost." Sigma said.

"I doubt that. I know I am strong enough to withstand any obstacles. I don't know anything about you all though…" Bison said.

"Ah, isn't this splendid? We are all starting to get along, like one big happy family." Dimentio said happily while Yojimbo silently walked beside him.

"This isn't some kind of vacation." Xemnas explained, "We need to find out why we're here, and what kind of secrets this place contains."

"Secrets? Is that why we're walking around here for? Let's just fly over to the castle! That's quicker!" Kefka said.

"Not all of us has the power to fly… well, to my knowledge, at least." Hojo said.

Suddenly, dark mysterious creatures pulled themselves from the ground, and charged towards Xemnas and his companions. "It looks like we're not alone after all. Get ready!" Xemnas yelled as he and the others attacked the Aternecos.

"We fought the aternecos, and rushed ahead to the castle while trying to stay alive. The more we kept going, the more we learn about this place, it's as if something was feeding us with it's history to us subconsciously. When we finally reached towards this castle, we came here into this tower, and then everything became clear."

Xemnas, and the others walked around the tower, with Xemnas walking up to the crystalized window, and looked up at the dark planet. Then suddenly, a small, but a bright light shined on Xemnas, causing him to stagger as he took a step back.

"Hey, what happened?" Sweet Tooth asked.

"N-Nothing. I just thought I saw something." Xemnas said while rubbing his head.

"I lied. Whatever happened, I suddenly knew so much more of this new place. Everything was so hard to believe in one go, and I looked over to my companions to see that they felt the same way I did. I believed they didn't see that light, and I was the one who have gained the extra knowledge of the dark planet, Obscurum. I know everything about Obscurum's past, and it's purpose… to engulf all the cosmos… we then used Obscurum's power to explore the world we were reborn on, and all the rest is history from there."

END OF FLASHBACK

Luffy stared at Xemnas, who smiled as he lowered his arms, "Don't you understand? Obscurum has chosen me out of the rest. This planet wants me to take over when it's done taking over the cosmos. All of different aspects of life will become one, and I will help make sure it stays that way."

"… And that's it? You lied to your own companions just so you can take over, and you don't even care that they might be dead now…"

Luffy said as he then cracked his knuckles, "I've heard enough out of you. I'm going to kick your ass right now!"

"You still believe you can stop all this, after everything I just explained?" Xemnas asked with a chuckle, "Hmph! Very well. You already know everything about Obscurum's purpose. There is no reason for you to stay alive any longer."

Xemnas then raised his hands as a blinding light engulfed the entire area. "Ah!" Luffy staggered as the light continued to shine brightly, until it finally disappeared. Luffy opened his eyes, and saw that he was in a new place. "Where am I!"

Luffy was standing on a big concreted floor, with a towering building with TV monitors at the top. Over the platform were white buildings waving left to right as if they were illusions as Xemnas then reappeared in front of Luffy in a distance.

"This is Memory's Skyscraper… one of us will die here." Xemnas said before smiling, "Before we begin, may I ask, what do you fight for? Light or darkness?"

Luffy lowered his head as he clenched his fists, "Light? Darkness? I don't fight for any of that…" Luffy then glared at Xemnas, "I fight for my friends! That's all I need to fight for!"

Luffy then charged at Xemnas as the last Obscurum ruler battle has begun.

Preview: It all comes to this point! I am going to kick this black coat guy's ass, and make him pay for trying to destroy life! Next time on One Piece: A Smash Adventure; Chapter 129: One last hope, Luffy vs Xemnas. I am gonna be the Pirate King!

Damn… we're so close to the end now, it's kinda making me feel sad this story is going to be over. Oh well, there is still some chapters left, so I'll spare those feelings towards the end. Anyway, The translation for Zoro's final smash is 'Dark-natured three-sword style: Total darkness demon slash.', It's a mouthful, I know, but it sounds better in japanese.

Before I end this chapter, a quick notice to all you viewers out there that in a while, I'll be posting this story in the new crossover section. This story is probably the only Super Smash bros and One piece crossover, so I don't think you'll have any trouble finding it. Ha ha!

Well, that's it for today. I have to catch up with some schoolwork. Ciao for now!

Final arc Pt 10

One ruler remains… Luffy is now battling Xemnas to stop him, and Obscurum from taking over the cosmos for all eternity. Can Luffy have enough strength to do this nearly impossible task?

Chapter 129: One last hope, Luffy vs Xemnas

Outside of the dark castle, Crazy Hand tried to bend the bars of Master Hand's cage off, but they were so endurable, that not even Crazy Hand has the strength to move them in one go. The cage was also radiating dark element lifestreams, which was affecting Crazy's element properties as he had to back away in order from going berserk from the darkness.

"Looks like there is no way for me to open this thing." Crazy Hand while tapping his finger on the ground in front of the cage, "I can always blow this thing away! No, no… bro always told me to never do anything with full force, or I might obliterate many things like I did to Dr. Mario… If my bro was awake, maybe he can get out of here by himself!"

Crazy then shook as he then raised his finger, "If senseless destruction is not the solution, then revealing nasty truths will do the trick! The things I have in my memories are sure to wake up my bro with so much fury, that he will obliterate this cage apart! Let's get started!"

Crazy Hand flexed his fingers before he approached the cage, where Master Hand silently slept. "Yo, bro! Did you know that I made the alloy team have sex together when you weren't around the mansion? Oh boy, that was so interesting to watch! I have it recorded, if you want to see it?" Master Hand didn't wake upon hearing this, but Crazy Hand didn't seem like he was done, "Oh, and did you know, that I forced R.O.B. to photoshop you, raping a maxim tomato using your wrist, and sended the pictures all over Terranus? That's why there was such a big commotion during that generation."

Master Hand was still asleep, which forced Crazy to tell more crazy tales, "I also made several sculptures on my poop mountains, and I made a perfect one out of you… holding up a sign that read 'I love Tingle from Hyrule.'… Huh? Still not awake? Okay, you leave me no choice…" Crazy Hand snapped his fingers before telling his biggest secret as he peered a little closer to Master Hand's cage.

"… Remember during the Brawl tournament, that I said that we should add in people from the Ganmaenima reality, and you said 'no', because of the same, stupid reason you always said to me every time I ask that question? Well, do you remember several hours later, someone stole all the smash coins from the vault, and placed them out in front of the Smash town, and that the coins were all piled up into big letters, spelling out 'Master Hand is a big poopy head!'? Um… I will admit, I did all that."

Crazy then cowered away from the cage, fearing and hoping that Master Hand would wake up, and get out of the cage to attack him. Unfortunately, it never happened as Crazy looked back at the tower to see Master Hand still asleep.

"Oh, come on! How can an uptight guy like you can NOT be pissed over hearing that! It's not possible that you can stay asleep from hearing this! Heck, we hands don't even sleep at all because we never feel tired!" Crazy Hand exclaimed. "Grr, it's no use!" Crazy Hand slammed his palm on the corridor before turning away from the tower, "I never realized how hard this was! I am going to have to think even harder to crack this up…" Crazy then giggled, "Heh heh, crack… oh, I think this is the crack I'm looking for!"

Crazy Hand noticed a big crack below him, which was getting longer as Crazy heard loud noises from behind. "Huh?" Crazy turned around to see the cracks reaching over towards the cage and tower Master Hand was in. Apparently, when Crazy slammed his hand on the corridor before, he forgot how strong he was as most of the front half of the corridor fell into rubble, and the tower Master Hand was in began falling down towards a steep hill behind the castle. "OH SHIT!"

Crazy flew after the tower as it rolled down the hill sideways with great speed, with Master Hand tumbling across the walls from the inside.

"NO, COME BACK! I'M SUPPOSE TO BE RESCUING YOU!" Crazy Hand exclaimed as he chased after the tower, flying away from the dark castle.

Meanwhile…

"Yaahhh!" Luffy threw a fist at Xemnas, who sidestepped to avoid as Luffy continued his attack with a roundhouse kick, which Xemnas avoided again by ducking while taking a step back. "Raggh!" Luffy then brought his fist down at Xemnas, but missed as Xemnas did a backflip with one hand to avoid as Luffy left a big crack on the pavement instead.

Luffy frowned as he watched Xemnas get back on his feet, and saw him smiling, "Stop running away, you coward!"

"I see you attack using the anger in your heart." Xemnas said upon observation, "It's no wonder you managed to get this far; the only way for someone to achieve their goals is for them to use their anger and hate against others. I can feel that you are boiling with rage, and you easily submit it while in battle. That kind of strength will be the very thing that can destroy all your enemies, but how much rage will you use in order to defeat a nobody?"

Luffy then ran towards Xemnas, "I don't care how angry you think I am! The only thing you should be worrying about is how to get up after I beat you! GOMU GOMU NO MUCHI!" Luffy stretched his leg, and swung it horizontally at Xemnas, but missed as Xemnas leaped over the kick, and flew towards Luffy.

"I admire your effort, but the fate of our duel is yet to be decided!" Xemnas yelled as his beam blades, the aerial blades, formed out of his palms, and Xemnas spun his body in midair before doing a spinning slash towards Luffy.

"Hya!" Luffy rolled sideways to avoid, and pulled back his leg, "GOMU GOMU NO STAMP!" Luffy stretched out his leg towards Xemnas, but missed as Xemnas leaped on Luffy's stretched leg, and ran across it before leaping, and spinning with his blades spread out upside-down in midair. Luffy leaned his head back to avoid the slash as Xemnas went over him, and before he could get back on the ground, Luffy pulled back his stretched leg back the way it was, and charged at Xemnas. "GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!"

Luffy stretched his arm forward, and was about to hit Xemnas from behind, but Xemnas suddenly teleported by wrapping himself in a orb of darkness, and zipped passed Luffy, and reappearing behind him. "Grr!" Luffy quickly ducked as he avoided a horizontal slash from Xemnas, and countered with a back elbow, but missed as Xemnas sidestepped to avoid, and countered with a side kick to Luffy's face, "Ah!" Luffy tumbled back a bit as Xemnas went after him while spinning his body in the process, and did a leaping cross-slash with his aerial blades, but Luffy did a quick backroll to avoid as he turned towards Xemnas in the middle of his roll in midair.

"GOMU GOMU NO BAZOOKA!" Luffy stretched back both of his arms, and thrusted his arms towards Xemnas chest, but Xemnas knelt down to his left side, avoiding Luffy's palms by an inch.

"Huragh!" Xemnas then brought up his aerial blades, diagonally slashing across Luffy's chest before standing up straight.

"Ugh!" Red energy coursed through Luffy's body before he tumbled backwards across the ground before landing flat on his back. Luffy sat up, and glared at Xemnas before noticing that their was no wound on his chest. "Huh? That's weird… did you attack with lightning? I thought I was immune to that…"

"No, I didn't attack you with any element whatsoever." Xemnas said as he cross his blades in front of his face, "My attacks come from the hatred I have in me. I am a nobody, I am nothing more but a shell filled with rage, eager to destroy anyone who dares cross my path!" Xemnas then brought down his blades to his sides, "The only thing that can destroy hatred is hatred itself. If you want to defeat me, you need to release all your fury on me!"

Luffy panted a bit while getting up on one knee, "Again with your stupid hatred talk? Why don't you ever shut up about that!" Luffy then charged at Xemnas as he repeatedly thrusted his fists at him, "GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!"

Xemnas wasn't worried, however, as he was easily dodging Luffy's fists by moving from to side. Xemnas then casted away his aerial blades, and sticked his palm towards Luffy, "SPARK BOMB!" Xemnas shot out a spark bomb, hitting Luffy directly as the bomb expanded into a bigger orb upon impact.

"Geh!" Luffy got knocked back, but he managed to land on his feet as he ran around the orb, and did a handstand when he saw Xemnas in the other side of the orb. "GOMU GOMU NO YARI!" Luffy stretched both of his legs towards Xemnas from his side, but Xemnas jumped back to avoid, and slashed Luffy legs as soon as he brought out his aerial blades again. "Ah!"

Luffy dropped his handstand position, and fell on his head upon getting his legs attacked as he was about to fall on his chest, while Xemnas dashed towards him before then. "No, you won't!" Luffy landed on his knees, and turned towards Xemnas, punching his attacking right arm with a right hook. Xemnas' arm was knocked back as Luffy was about to hit him in the face, but Luffy didn't see Xemnas hiding his left aerial blade underneath his right shoulder as Xemnas wielded his left aerial blade horizontally, slashing Luffy across the chest again. "Gyah!" Luffy staggered back while nearly falling, but recovered as he dodged a diagonal slash from Xemnas by jumping to the side.

"Hoorragh!" Luffy attacked Xemnas with a roundhouse kick, which Xemnas avoided by leaning his head back, and countered with a thrust of his right aerial blade, but ended up missing as Luffy attacked got up close to Xemnas, and tried socking him in the face, but Xemnas was agile as he spun his body while avoiding the fist, and ended up standing behind Luffy as he brought down his blades at him. Luffy avoided the blades by doing a distant backflip, and attacked Xemnas as he turned around.

"GOMU GOMU NO BULLET!" Luffy stretched his arm back, and threw a punch forward at Xemnas, who blocked using his wrists as he was blown off his feet.

Xemnas managed to recover as he landed on his feet, and saw Luffy charging at him while stretching his arms back, "GOMU GOMU NO…"

"SPARK WALL!" Xemnas casted away his aerial blades, and created a deflective wall in front of him with one palm.

"BAZOOKA!" Luffy thrusted his palms into Xemnas' deflective wall, and used all his strength to break it, but the wall endured as it deflected Luffy back several inches. "Ah!" The wall faded as Xemnas ran through it, and did a left and right cut with his right aerial blade, slashing Luffy across his two times. "Ahgeh!"

Luffy once again staggered back, but quickly recovered as he attacked Xemnas with a right fist, but Xemnas engulfed with darkness as Luffy ran through him, nearly tripping as the Xemnas warped to the edge of the strange platform. "SHOT!" Xemnas opened his palm, creating a ring of blue orbs in front of him. Blue beams then shot out of the orbs in a clockwise pattern as they flew towards Luffy with great speed.

"Whoa!" Luffy jumped to the side to avoid the first beams, and ran along the side to avoid the rest as he then charged at Xemnas, as he stretched his arm past him to grab the edge of the ground behind him.

"GOMU GOMU NO KAMA!" Luffy pulled himself forward using the edge of the platform, and was about to deliver a clothesline to Xemnas, but Xemnas did a mid-backflip, doing a handstand as he kicked Luffy in the gut when he was about to fly over him. "Eh!" The force of Xemnas' kick knocked him upward as he was still holding onto the edge of the platform. Luffy saw that over the platform lied nothing but a sea of bright light. "Yah-waaaaahhh!" Luffy's stretched his arm pulled itself back, springing Luffy towards the bright light over the edge below. Xemnas watched Luffy fall, until he noticed Luffy stretched his arms to grab hold of the edge of the platform again.

"GOMU GOMU NO-yah!" Luffy grunted as Xemnas slashed his left hand with his aerial blade, causing him to let go with that hand, but remained holding onto the platform with his other hand. Luffy blew at his injured hand before he realized that he sprung up over the platform to it's right side. "Whoooaa!"

Xemnas went after him by engulfing his body with darkness, and warped towards Luffy in midair. Luffy saw him coming as he immediately twisted his body around before Xemnas reappeared in front of him, and was about to do a cross slash across Luffy's body.

"GOMU GOMU NO HANABI!" Luffy untwisted his body, unleashing a flurry of punches and kicks in every direction, but Xemnas managed to lessened the damage by creating a small spark wall in front of him.

"Eh!" Xemnas was sent flying towards the ground, and crashed hard with a loud thud, creating a dust cloud in the process. Xemnas then appeared from the cloud, doing several backflips while leaving blue orbs behind at the end of each flip. The blue orbs then shot out blue beams that flew towards Luffy, who gasped as he looked at his surroundings until he noticed the big skyscraper to the far, right side.

"Woohoo!" Luffy grabbed the corner edge in the front center of the skyscraper, and pulled himself towards it, avoiding the laser beams as they flew by.

"I knew it…" Xemnas mumbled during in one of his backflips as he then leaped back, and shot out a ring of blue orbs that fired blue beams in a clockwise pattern as they flew towards the corner of the skyscraper where Luffy was going. Luffy landed on the skyscraper's wall on his feet, but it was too late for him to notice about the beams as he got him by them as they exploded.

"Gaahh!" Luffy limplessly fell towards the ground, but he recovered yet again, and twisted his right several times before landing on the ground with his feet. Xemnas warped in front of Luffy, and swung his aerial blades at him, but missed as Luffy jumped back, and did several back rolls in midair before planting his feet on the ground a little distant from Xemnas, "GOMU GOMU NO SNIPE!" Luffy stretched out his twisted arm, untwisting it in the process as it released shockforce around the arm upon doing so. Xemnas managed to avoid the arm itself, but not the shockwave around it as he tumbled sideways across the ground.

"Ah!" Xemnas grunted before landing back on his feet, and noticed that Luffy was about to hit him, "SPARK BOMB!" Xemnas threw a spark bomb at Luffy at a close range, but Luffy slides around the explosive before it expanded, and attacked Xemnas from his left side.

"GOMU GOMU NO FLAIL!" Luffy holds his right arm as he spun it in circles above his head before throwing a right fist towards Xemnas.

"SPARK WALL!" Xemnas created a deflective wall in front of him to deflect Luffy's fist, which he did as Luffy staggered back upon punching the wall, but Xemnas felt a little dazed upon blocking it. "Ugh…" Xemnas staggered back a bit as Luffy took this opportunity to grab Xemnas by his coat, and pulled him in as he spun his right arm in circles.

"Take this!" Luffy threw a fist at Xemnas, but Xemnas saved himself by engulfing himself with darkness, causing Luffy to miss as Xemnas warped in the center of the platform. "Come on, stop running!" Luffy yelled as he charged at Xemnas, "GOMU GOMU NO SHOTGUN!" Luffy stretched his arm forward, and twanged it, causing to move forward in several directions, which made it harder for Xemnas to avoid.

"Yah!" Instead of evading, Xemnas slashed his aerial blades at Luffy's arm, causing Luffy to cry in pain, but later smirk as he still headed towards Xemnas while stretching and twisting his left arm back, "It was a trick!"

"GOMU GOMU NO RIFLE!" Luffy thrusted his twisted stretched arm forward, hoping it would connect, but it didn't exactly, as Xemnas used his aerial blades to block the fist, but was propelled backwards upon the force of the blow.

"Ugh!" As Xemnas soured across the ground, Luffy chased after him while swinging his arms back in forward to build up speed as his arms turned red.

"GOMU GOMU NO CANNON!" As soon as Xemnas flipped back onto his feet, Luffy thrusted his palms at him, releasing a tremendous shockwave upon doing so. Unfortunately, Luffy missed as Xemnas did a quick front body spin before Luffy did his attack, as Xemnas was now behind him.

"AERIAL DANCE!" Xemnas then did a sword dance, slashing Luffy around his body multiple times. Luffy cried in pain as Xemnas did flips, side flips, and doing upside down spins in midair. Luffy then had enough as he caught Xemnas by his arm, and threw him forwardly towards the skyscraper.

"GOMU GOMU NO STAMP!" Luffy stretched his leg forward at Xemnas, who landed on his feet after he got thrown, and knelt sideways to avoid as he was about to counter by slashing across Luffy's stretched leg, but he saw that Luffy wasn't done yet, "MUCHI!" Luffy jumped, stretched his other leg, and swung it horizontally at Xemnas, who did a spinning backflip to avoid as Xemnas countered by creating another ring of orbs that shot out blue beams at Luffy in a clockwise pattern. Luffy ran towards Xemnas, zig-zagging through the beams as Luffy then threw several fists at Xemnas, who avoided while taking steps back as he countered with a double diagonal slash with his aerial blades, but missed as Luffy strafed to Xemnas' side.

"Huuaahh!" Luffy did an uppercut, which Xemnas evaded with a sidestep as he then countered with a side kick, but Luffy blocked it with his forearms as he skidded backwards while still standing.

"GOMU GOMU NO YARI!" Luffy then does a back handstand, and stretched his legs toward Xemnas, who ran, and leaped over the incoming legs as he flew over Luffy, doing a spinning slash across his chest before flying by. "Ahh!" Luffy fell on his back as his legs sprung back to normal, "Grr!" Luffy then grew furious as he stretched his arms behind him while on the floor, and grabbed Xemnas by his legs.

"Ugh!" Xemnas was surprised as Luffy then raised his legs, and flipped onto his feet while swinging Xemnas over his head, and slamming on the ground in front of him. "GAHH!" Xemnas grunted as he bounced from the ground, but somehow recovered as he flipped back onto his feet, only to see Luffy charging at him again.

"GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!" Luffy repeatedly swunged his arms back and forth at Xemnas, who despite was a little groggy from his crash, evaded the multiple fists by doing multiple steps.

"You won't be able to hit me like this!" Xemnas yelled as he got close to Luffy, and was about to thrust his aerial blades at him, but Luffy stopped his attack, jumped up, and double kicked Xemnas' arms apart, leaving his chest wide open for an attack. "Ugh!" Xemnas gasped as Luffy then grabbed his shoulders while twisting around themselves.

"GOMU GOMU NO DRILL!" Luffy was about to untwist his legs into Xemnas' gut, but Xemnas engulfed himself with darkness, and warped through Luffy, getting away in the process. "Ergh… YOU WON'T GET AWAY FROM ME!" Luffy then landed on the ground while his legs were still twisted around each other, and jumped back at the same time he untwisted his legs all at once, doing a corkscrew backflip as flew over Xemnas' warping orb, and landed on his feet as he was now in Xemnas' warping path.

Luffy then yelled as he grabbed held onto his right shoulder, and pulled back his right fist while Xemnas leaped out of orb of darkness, and headed towards Luffy before he could attack.

"Die!" Xemnas did a reversal spinning slash with his right aerial blade, slashing across Luffy's chest yet again.

"GAAAHHHH!" Luffy cried as it seemed like he was going to fall on his back, but he didn't as he took a step forward right before Xemnas could even move back, "Like hell I would fall! YYYYRRAAAAAGHHHHHHHHH!" Luffy yelled furiously as Xemnas could only stare in shock as Luffy swunged his right fist at him.

SMAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAAASSSSSSSS SSSSSSSSSSSSHHHHHHHH HHHHHHHHHHHHHH!

"GUUAAHAAAHH!" Xemnas grunted as Luffy's fist socked him super hard in the face, "GYAAAAHHH!" Xemnas was then blown off his feet, and soured across the platform like a missile as he then crashed into front door steps of the skyscraper behind him, creating a massive sized dust cloud afterwards.

Meanwhile…

From the bottom of the main tower, Zoro opened the doors, removing the bandages Chopper wrapped over him before putting his shirt on. The rest of the Strawhats followed him in as Chopper looked worried.

"Zoro, don't take those off! Your wounds will open again!" Chopper cried.

"Shut up! I'm not putting anything on until this is all over!" Zoro replied furiously while looking around the tower, "There used to be a platform that would've taken us up to the top, but I think it's still up there."

"Then let's run up the stairs! We need to see if Luffy is alright!" Nami yelled.

"That's going to take forever! I can't even see the top from down here!" Usopp said while looking up.

"Don't look at me; I'm not going to carry you again!" Franky stated. Sanji, who was still a little groggy from his fight with Bison, walked ahead towards the spiral staircase up against the wall.

"Instead of talking, we should keep moving! There is no time to lose!" Sanji said while holding his right arm.

"Are you sure you can manage going up the stairs, Mr. Cook?" Robin asked in concern.

"If this idiot can do it, than so can I." Zoro said as he walked beside Sanji, who glared at the swordsman, "I already got my strength back after hearing the stupid health lecture from the reindeer."

"WHAT!" Chopper asked furiously. Thanks to the aftereffects of his black and white rumble ball he used against Hojo, Chopper transformed into his Horn point form, and picked up Zoro and Sanji from their feet with his horns. Zoro and Sanji were dumbfounded as Chopper galloped up the stairs while carrying them.

"Oi, what the hell! Put us down!" Sanji yelled.

"I'm telling you I'm fine! We can walk up the stairs on our own!" Zoro yelled.

"I'm the doctor of this crew, so I'll do the running for you while you rest!" Chopper exclaimed furiously while running even faster. As they the threesome argued, everyone else followed them by running up the stairs as well.

"Are you sure Strawhat won't need our help with the last ruler guy up there!" Franky asked Nami.

"I'm positive!" Nami exclaimed with a serious look as she recalled Xemnas, "That guy did some terrible things right in front of Luffy, and that is more than enough reason for Luffy to kick that guy's ass!"

"In any case, we should still think about what to do after Luffy defeats the last ruler." Robin said running alongside Nami. "It's not going to be simple, considering from where we are."

"Even if we do think of a way, I still have no clue how we are going to pull it off!" Nami yelled, "Let's just regroup with Luffy, and see what happens then!"

"Yosh! We're coming Luffy! Hold on!" Usopp yelled determingly from behind as the Strawhat crew were making their way up the spiraled staircase, despite the tired state they were in.

Meanwhile…

Luffy panted as he watched over the dust cloud in front of him slowly fading away as he could see Xemnas, laying on the front steps of the skyscraper, seemingly unconscious. Luffy frowned as he then raised his fist to the side of his head, "Did you feel that!" Luffy asked, "That was just the beginning! The next time I hit you in the face, it will be a thousand times worse for you!"

Xemnas then slowly sat up with a stoic expression, and stared at Luffy before getting back up, "So it wasn't a fallacy… you truly are the man Obscurum has brought me to test my skills as a ruler." Xemnas arms were then covered in blue energy, "This defining moment of my life cannot get any better. I truly am honored of being worthy of ruling over this perfect world, and what better to show off my gratitude than by killing of the man who stands before me?"

Xemnas' hands then sparked brightly red as he also smirked, "Sorry for keeping you waiting… shall we continue the path to our destiny?"

"GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!" Luffy charged at Xemnas, and stretched his arm towards him, but missed as Xemnas strafed away to avoid, and ran towards Luffy afterwards.

"I'll take that as a yes! SPARK STREAM!" Xemnas then released an electrical-looking, dark elemental energy streams from his palms as they coursed along Luffy's body.

"Gahhh!" Luffy cried in pain as Xemnas then pushed Luffy back using his energy as Luffy skidded backwards across the ground on his back. "Grr, that hurt!" Luffy yelled as he flipped back on his feet, but gasped as he saw Xemnas already inches in front of him.

"AERIAL DANCE!" Xemnas spun around Luffy with his aerial blades, doing a blade dance as Luffy got slashed from the first slashes. Luffy yelled as he then fought back with some fists and kicks, but he only managed to block Xemnas' incoming slashes.

"GOMU GOMU NO BAZOOKA!" Luffy thrusted his palms on the floor, pushing himself up in midair to get away from Xemnas' dance as Luffy then stretched his leg upwards, "GOMU GOMU NO ONO!" When Luffy began to fall closer to the ground, he slammed his foot on the floor beneath him, creating a big dust cloud in the process that engulfed him and Xemnas at the same time.

Xemnas stopped as he looked at his surroundings to find Luffy, but the dust around him prevented from seeing clearly. "YAAHH!" Luffy ran at Xemnas from behind as Luffy threw a flying kick at him, but Xemnas did a reversal side kick, kicking Luffy's attacking leg back as Xemnas continued his assault with some upper slashes with his blades. "Grr!" Luffy quickly spun his body in midair, avoiding Xemnas' slashes in the nick of time as he then got on the floor, and did an uppercut at Xemnas, who leaned back to avoid, and countered with a spin slash, which Luffy stopped by punching Xemnas' attacking arm.

"HIYA!" Luffy was then about to punch Xemnas in the head while his back was turned, but Xemnas ducked to avoid, and countered with a back kick to Luffy's gut, "Ugh!" Luffy staggered back as Xemnas rolled away from him to get some distance, and then later charged at Luffy with multiple spinning slashes.

From outside the dust cloud, you could only see the light from Xemnas' aerial blades moving and spinning back and forth as you could also here Luffy yelling from the inside. "SPARK BOMB!" The cloud was suddenly blown away as a big spark bomb expanded when it made contact to Luffy, who was blown back by the explosion afterwards.

"Ugh!" Luffy cried as he soured backwards. Xemnas then glided around Luffy's left side, leaving red orbs in his trail, and then creating a ring of red orbs at the end of his glide.

"RED SHOT!" The orbs then shot out red beams, which were much faster than the blue beams, as they flew towards Luffy in the order Xemnas formed the orbs just now. Luffy saw them coming as he immediately doing back flips to avoid the beams, and then skidded backwards across the ground on his feet as he saw the ring of red orbs shooting out beams towards him in a clockwise pattern.

Luffy leaped through the center of the ring to avoid all the beams once they were shot out from their orbs, and did a side jump to charge at Xemnas from behind, "GOMU GOMU NO BULLET!" Luffy stretched his arm back, and did a close ranged punch towards Xemnas from behind, but Xemnas saved himself by leaping over Luffy, blocking his fist in the process. "KAZAN!" When Xemnas was above Luffy during his leap, Luffy stretched up his leg, kicking Xemnas in the gut as he was knocked up high up in the air.

"Ugh!" Xemnas spinned his body sideways, allowing himself to fall back on the ground without Luffy's leg pushing him upward.

As Xemnas fell, Luffy pulled back his stretched to bring it back the way it was, and ran up the front steps of the skyscraper. He then jumped on the upper parts a little distant from the skyscraper's doorway, and leaped after Xemnas while stretching both his arms back, "GOMU GOMU NO BAZOOKA!"

"SPARK WALL!" Xemnas created a deflective wall as Luffy thrusted both of his palms hardly at it.

Both attacks were so hard, that Luffy was knocked back by hitting the wall, but he managed to destroy it as Xemnas was also knocked backwards in midair as well. "Yes… this is great challenge…" Xemnas said as he then shot out several red orbs while falling back, as they shot out red beams directly towards Luffy.

Luffy saw the beams coming, and quickly stretched his arms to grab the spikes sticking out of the skyscraper that was over the doorway, "GOMU GOMU NO ROCKET!" Luffy sprung himself downward, avoiding the beams as they exploded on the front skyscraper wall, "FUUSEN!" Luffy then inflated his body, gently bouncing off the ground as he then deflated himself, and charged towards Xemnas as he landed on the ground on his feet, "GOMU GOMU NO STAMP!" Luffy jumped, and stretched his leg forward at Xemnas, who dodged, and tried slashing Luffy's leg, but Luffy pulled it back as soon as he got close to Xemnas, and threw a fist at him.

"Hmm!" Xemnas moved his head to the side as Luffy only punched a strain of Xemnas' hair, and later received another slash across his chest from. Luffy cried as Xemnas spun his body to slash at Luffy again, but Luffy ducked to avoid the second slash, and countered with a straight fist to Xemnas' gut. "Ugh!" Xemnas backflipped upon getting hit, and countered with a upper cross slash at Luffy while dashing towards him, but Luffy leaped back as he then stretched, and twirled legs around themselves, and grabbed Xemnas by his cheeks with his feet.

"GOMU GOMU NO OZUCHI!" Luffy pulled back his legs by untwirling them, spinning Xemnas in circles as Luffy was about to slam him on the ground behind him, but Xemnas escaped by engulfing himself with darkness, and warped towards the front steps of the skyscraper. "Tsk! Raaaah!" Luffy's legs snapped back to normal as he went after Xemnas, who turned towards Luffy, and shot a dark electrical current on Luffy's body, "Huh!" Xemnas then stopped as dark crystals were then absorbing his energy. "Negh.. GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!" Despite this, Luffy stretched his arm towards Xemnas, but missed as Xemnas ran higher up on the front steps, and did a quick high jump, disappearing from his sight afterwards.

Luffy went after him while energy was getting drained by the dark crystals floating around him, "HIYAA!" Luffy spreads his arms, causing the crystals to break as Luffy looked up at the skyscraper to see Xemnas, standing ontop of the scraper's roof.

"Come forth… I still have more to show that I am worthy of ruling over this world!" Xemnas said with a smirk.

Luffy frowned as he then stretched his arms to grab the spikes over the doorway, and sprung himself upward as he then started running up the walls of the skyscraper while screaming. Xemnas then took out his aerial blades, and flew down towards Luffy as they both confronted each other on the skyscraper's television monitor. "GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!" Luffy repeatedly swung his arms back and forth at Xemnas, who parried the fists by repeatedly swinging his aerial blades in front of him.

Xemnas then glides passed Luffy, and fell downward until he then faced towards Luffy, and fired several red beams at him from below. Luffy saw this as he then started running up the monitor while trying to avoid the beams, while Xemnas landed his feet on the ground, and did another high jump, flying up towards Luffy with great speed, and slashed him across his back while flying by.

"Aaahh!" Luffy cried as he lost his momentum, and was about to fall down from the skyscraper, until he stretched his arm, and wrapped around the tip of the satellite ontop of the skyscraper. "GOMU GOMU NO ZENMAI!" Luffy spins around the satellite before letting go, springing himself towards Xemnas as Luffy rammed into him.

"Eeerrghh!" Xemnas grunted as then engulfed himself with darkness, and warped back on the satellite, while Luffy stretched his arm on the tip of satellite again, and sprung back towards the rooftop as well as he was about to crash into Xemnas again after the dark orb around him was gone. "SPARK BOMB!" Xemnas quickly shot out a spark bomb at Luffy, stopping him in midair as he got knocked back, and began falling all the way down to the ground. Xemnas jumped after him with his aerial blades ready as he did several slashes at Luffy from above before kicking him down harder towards the ground.

".. GOMU GOMU NO… !" What Xemnas didn't realize, was that Luffy's arms stretched by him, and were grabbing the ledge of the rooftop above, and worse yet, was that he was in between those arms, "ROCKET!" Luffy sprunged upwards, shoulder barging Xemnas in the gut again as they flew all the way up until they flew over the skyscraper.

"AERIAL DANCE!" Xemnas did his blade dance around Luffy in midair, which Luffy fought back by attacking Xemnas as he did his dance around him.

They both began to fall down towards the satellite on the rooftop, as Xemnas stopped with his attack as a dark electrical orb formed around his body, "SPARK BEAM!" Xemnas spreads out his arms and legs, shooting out long-streamed lasers from out of the orb in different directions. Luffy quickly punched at Xemnas orb, but wasn't doing any damage. The lasers then started turning towards Luffy, ready to cut him in pieces from all sides as Luffy then started punching faster, causing his arms to turn red.

"GOMU GOMU NO CANNON!" Luffy thrusted both his palms directly into Xemnas' orb, creating a powerful force that caused Xemnas' lasers to stop. Both of Luffy and Xemnas' power then created a blue explosion between them, knocking them both back as they were blown over the skyscraper. "Yah!" Luffy stretched his arm, and grabbed the tip of the satellite to spring himself back on the skyscraper, while Xemnas engulfed himself with darkness, and warped on the skyscraper as well. They now stood in front of each other, with the pointy part of satellite in between. They couldn't see each other due to this, but Luffy and Xemnas gave off a glare as if the thing wasn't in the way.

"From the very start… I knew you were strong." Xemnas said, "I knew that someday, we might battle… and we managed to last this long. I think it's fair to say that if you were to die here, you wouldn't have any regrets upon experiencing this once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to do the things that nobody in your planet has ever done, and that is to travel to other worlds."

"Yeah… I don't have any regrets." Luffy replied, "I enjoyed every second going to different worlds, and seeing new things that I probably won't see again, but I won't be satisfied until I stop this world from taking all that away!"

"This world is indestructible! You cannot destroy it!" Xemnas yelled as he raised his hand to the side, "What makes you think this world has the ability to gather life, and not give anything back in return? Because it has the power to do so. This world has the right take control over existence itself, and I will not allow you to mock this world's purpose any longer!" Xemnas then created a blue aerial blade from his left palm as it grew long to be as long as half of the skyscraper itself. "I am the ruler of this world, and it's my sole purpose to protect it! SPARK TOWER!"

Luffy did a very high jump as Xemnas swung his massive-sized aerial blade with both hands through the tip of the satellite, cutting it in half. Xemnas then carried his long aerial blade over his shoulder as he leaped towards Luffy, who frowned as watched Xemnas come to him.

"Since the beginning of time, this world has been treated poorly because of it's dark nature, but now, everyone will see that the darkness of this world will guide all living beings to their purpose! Everything will be engulfed with darkness, and it will bring a neverending future to all people, who will submit to Obscurum's power forever!"

Luffy then gritted his teeth in anger as Xemnas swung down his aerial blade at him. "I already told you; I won't let that happen! I WILL DESTROY THIS WORLD EVEN IF I DIE!" Luffy exclaimed with great ambition. With those strong words, Luffy's fierce ambition created an invisible force, destroying the aerial blade that was about to cut him in half as this force also struck Xemnas.

"UGH!" Xemnas' eyes widened in shock as invisible force that left numerous cracks on the skyscraper below, shattering most of the windows in the upper floors as well. Xemnas was briefly shocked by feeling this as he then came to his senses. "What did he just do? I nearly lost my focus there…"

"Yaaahhhh!" Luffy then fell down towards Xemnas, and stomped him on his head.

"Ugh!" Xemnas cried as Luffy jumped up from him, and flew up high in midair.

"GEAR THIRD!" Luffy sticked out his thumb, bit it's joint, and blew air into his arm to inflate it, "HONE FUUSEN!" Luffy's arm was now a size of giant's arm as he coursed the air inside him into left arm.

Luffy then raised his giant arm as he flew down towards Xemnas, "There is nothing in this world that can get in my way! I will defeat you, and stop this world! You cannot stop me no matter how determined you are in ruling this place!"

"Tsk! I need to get away… ugh!" Xemnas tried engulfing himself with darkness to warp away, but the invisible force from earlier was still affecting him, "I can't concentrate!" Xemnas could only watch in fear as Luffy raised his gigantic arm.

"GOMU GOMU NO…" Luffy then thrusted his fist downward at Xemnas with full force, "GIGANT PISTOL!"

SMAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAAAAAAASSSSS SSSSSSSSSSSSSSSSSSS SSSSSSSSSSSHHHHHHHH HHHHHHHHHHHHHHHH!

"UGHUUUGHH!" Xemnas was hit by Luffy's giant fist in full force. Luffy screamed as he drove his fist downward even further, pushing Xemnas with his fist through the roof, and several upper floors. Luffy screamed even louder as his whole fist was destroying the skyscraper from top to bottom, inflicting Xemnas with so much pain as he finally crashed to the main floor, with the whole skyscraper now completely destroyed. It wasn't over as once Luffy punched Xemnas all the way through the skyscraper, he created a massive tremor on the platform that it eventually broke apart into pieces. Xemnas then limplessly fell to the sea of light below, with Luffy falling behind as he released all the air from his arm in the process.

Back in the main tower…

We are now back in the meeting room in the main tower as a portal suddenly opened way above the round table below. Xemnas fell from the portal in high speed as he then crashed onto the table with a loud thud, breaking it into bits as the chairs around were blown back from the crash, with some of them breaking into pieces when they crashed into the wall behind them.

"Waaaaaaaahh!" Luffy fell from the portal as well as he was in his chibi form due to the aftereffects of his gear third form. He fell until he landed on the floor near the hallway to the only entrance of the room he and Xemnas were in. "Ow…" Luffy muttered while sitting up as he rubbed his head in pain. "Oooh, that really hurt. I didn't think I'd end up back here."

Luffy then got up on his feet, brushing the dust off his shorts and vest as he looked at his surroundings. "Oh?" He looked up to see the portal he came out of as it then closed up, vanishing into thin air. "Huh…" Luffy stared up in awe, but then remembered about Xemnas. He slowly glanced over his shoulder with a stern look, and saw Xemnas, laying unconsciously in the center of the room, with the light from the stained-glass window behind him shining over his body, and shadowing his eyes.

Luffy turned towards Xemnas, feeling really angry just by looking at him, "Is that all!" Luffy asked furiously, "Is that all the power you have in you! I'm still standing, and I don't even feel exhausted!" Luffy then angrily took a step forward, "You better get up! If you want to prove yourself that you are worthy of ruling over this world, then you will get up right now!" Luffy yelled, but Xemnas wasn't even moving, "Damn it, get up! If this is all you got, then I wasted my time coming here! If you are go to give up after saying that you are going to rule over this world, then I might as well leave you here to rot! I can already imagine this world dying again if someone like you is going to rule over it! Your whole purpose here is one big joke afterall, and you're just lying there as if you didn't care anymore!"

Xemnas remained motionless, making Luffy even angrier as he clenched his fist to the side of his body, "If you are going to die… then atleast die for what you believe in! I'm furious just to see you giving up your life like this! Be a real man, and get up! This world has faith in you, right! Then you better get up right now! COME ON, GET UP!"

The room was then silent as Luffy glared down at Xemnas, who hasn't even moved an inch after what Luffy just said to him a half a minute ago. Suddenly, his left finger twitched, catching Luffy's attention as he saw Xemnas was still alive. Xemnas slowly clenched his hands into fist as he sat up from the floor, with his hair shadowing over his eyes as he panted. He then slowly got up on his feet using one hand, and stood upright while breathing calmly while having his other hand over his face. Luffy could see the deadly gaze Xemnas was giving him between his fingers, as Xemnas had a murderous look on his face.

"That wasn't bad… that wasn't bad at all…" Xemnas mumbled as he lowered his head and hand, "From that moment, when you punched me… your rage towards me was unbelievable. I was even paralyzed just by sensing it… not even I have that kind of power in me… you are much more of a challenge than I even anticipated… it's understandable, this world needs an unstoppable ruler. It won't tolerate any weaknesses…"

Xemnas then raised his head, showing off an even more murderous expression than before, "I need more power… I need more rage. That way, I can kill you, and all your friends to become the rightful ruler of this world. I cannot allow myself to submit against your strength ever again. In order for that to happen, I must go beyond my limits… I must use more power than I have ever used before. Only that way, I can fulfill my true purpose for my rebirth!" Xemnas then slouched as he stared at Luffy while tilting his head sideways, "Tell me… Monkey D. Luffy… do you think that you can fight me again, only with me being the victor this time?"

"You're damn right I can still fight!" Luffy exclaimed while raising his fist, "Only I am going to beat you again even harder than the last time!"

"Good… I'm glad you're still confident in yourself, because I intend to destroy your confidence, and kill you altogether!" Xemnas yelled as he then raised his arms in the air, "This time, you will see the true meaning of my power! From this point on, Obscurum will see my full potential as it's ruler! Nothing will stand in my of defeating you! Prepare to submit your life into this world."

Luffy got into his fighting pose, despite that he was still in his chibi form. He glared at Xemnas, ready to counter anything he was about to do, but he only watched him stand in the center of the room with his arms raised.

It was then that something happened.

"Wha? Is someone screaming?" Luffy asked. He looked at his surroundings as he could hear a faint sound of someone screaming their lungs out from somewhere. Xemnas could hear it too as he too wondered where the screaming was coming from. "Up there?" Luffy and Xemnas then looked up towards the cieling, as they could hear the screaming getting louder by the second.

CRAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA AASSSSSHHHHHHH!

Luffy and Xemnas were shocked as something big just crashed right through the ceiling. It was hard to tell what it was at first, but after falling for one or two seconds later, Luffy and Xemnas could tell that it wasn't something that was falling, it was somebody instead.

"Oi, that guy's falling!" Luffy exclaimed.

"Who is that!" Xemnas asked.

The person falling down is very familiar to those who have been reading this story from the start. The person was big, strong, scary, and probably the most smelliest guy there is. IT! WAS! BOWSER!

"GWAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAAAHHHHHHHH!"

Bowser was crying in fear as tears rapidly poured out of his eyes while he fell all the way down, falling towards Xemnas below. "What!" Xemnas tried to get away, but it was too late.

BAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA AAAAAMM!

Bowser crashed onto the floor with a loud thud, creating a mild-sized dust cloud all over the room. Luffy coughed a bit as he took a step back from the cloud. "What just happened!" Luffy asked, as he didn't know that Bowser was in the same room he was.

"Ngurrrughh…" Bowser moaned as he sat up as the dust cloud faded. Bowser rubbed his head a little dazed as he got angry, "What in the world happened! I got out of the portal, only to be found in the middle of this freaky place, and ended up crashing into this stupid place!" Bowser then tried adjusting himself while sitting, but felt something lumpy below him, "Eh? Whoa!" Bowser saw that he was sitting on Xemnas on his back after crushing him with his weight. Bowser immediately got up from him as he noticed that Xemnas was knocked out… again.

"The heck? Who is this guy?" Bowser asked, who didn't seem to care that he fell onto Xemnas, "I swear, this place is getting stranger by the second. Who leaves a dead guy in the middle of a place like this? Honestly!" Bowser then realized something, "Say, this doesn't look the smash mansion, and it doesn't even look like that I'm in the Smash world at all! Tsk! Stupid portal remote! That thing has caused me nothing but trouble! I am going to give the guy who made this a piece of my mind after I get outta here!"

Bowser then turned around with his eyes closed, and with his arms on his hips, "First of all, I need to know where I am. I don't know anything about this place, nor the world I am in. I guess I should start by getting out of this room."

Bowser then started taking a few steps towards the doorway, but then stopped as he noticed someone in front of him. "Hmmm?" Bowser looked down, and noticed Luffy, the very person he was searching for this whole time! Bowser didn't recognize Luffy since he has never seen him in his chibi form before, but it did remind him about him. "This little guy… why is he so familiar?" Bowser looked closely at chibi Luffy, remembering that the regular Luffy had the same clothes, "He is very familiar." Bowser then noticed the dull stare, "Why is this little guy is so damn familiar!" Bowser exclaimed, before his eyes widened upon seeing Luffy's straw hat.

"WHHHHHHHHAAAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAATTTTT! IT CAN'T BE!" Bowser exclaimed as he staggered back in shock. Luffy only blinked in confusion as Bowser finally recognized him as he then pointed at him, "You! You, you! You, you, you, you, you, you, you! YOU! IT'S REALLY YOU! I CAN'T BELIEVE IT! I FINALLY FOUND YOU, STRAWHAT!" Bowser then approached Luffy, looking down at his miniature size in disbelief, "What happened to you! Why are you so freakishly small! You're smaller than a Goomba!" Bowser then shook his head as he then stood upright, glaring down towards with a mischievous smirk.

"Grr, it doesn't matter how you got like that! The important thing is that I finally found you, only this time, you're the one that's going to get beaten to a pulp! I've been waiting a long time for this moment to come, and you're finally going to get what you deserve!"

"… Who are you?" Luffy asked while tilting his head to the side. The room then got disturbingly quiet as Bowser was so caught up in getting revenge, he didn't quite hear what Luffy just asked until several seconds later.

"HUUUUUUUUUUHHHHH!" Bowser gasped as his jaw dropped, and his eyes popped out of his head, "He… He doesn't… remember me?" Bowser was so in shock, that a gloomy atmosphere was made in the background, along some swirly blue lines over his head as the words 'Who are you?' echoed repeatedly in his head, "He doesn't remember me? He doesn't remember me? He doesn't remember… ME! HE DOESN'T REMEMBER MEEEE! UUUUUUUAAAAAAAAGHH!" Bowser was so angry and depressed at the same time, he felt like he was spiraling into his own depressing background. The imaginary background than shattered like glass as Bowser gritted his teeth while a vain popped around his forehead.

"How can you possibly forget about me! Don't you remember that we fought against each other twice! You cheated twice in those battles, and won, remember! I chased after you using a stupid remote that stupid Merlon gave to me in the Mushroom kingdom! After you cheated on our second fight, you broke my stupid remote, and I ended up chasing you to every stinkin' world you kept going to!" Bowser then felt enraged upon remembering the terrible things he encountered throughout his travel, "I HATED every second of visiting those worlds! I fell into a river; I got stung by some crazy bees; I have been run over by F-Zero race cars; I was nearly eaten for breakfast; I met the 'other king' again; I stepped on a stupid land mine; and a rock fell on my head! And then, the remote brought me here before breaking into bits, and I fell all the way down here, thinking I was finally going to die, but thankfully, I managed to find you at last." Bowser then raised his finger, "And the first thing you had the NERVE to ask me is who I am! Really! Are you freakin' kidding me! Have you completely lost your mind!"

"I really don't know who you are, but maaan, you're huge! Are you like a walking turtle dragon, or something?" Luffy asked with a smile. Bowser's eyes twitched as he seem like he was going to collapse in disbelief, but remained focus as he then remembered something.

"Oh, wait! I know! Remember when you called me the cheesecake guy? I bet my life you remember that! Something as stupid as that has to be a treasured memory for someone like you!" Bowser said optimistically, hoping Luffy would remember him. Luffy rubbed his chin, trying to remember, until it finally came to him.

"Oh, now I remember!" Luffy said happily while striking his palm in realization, "Weren't you with that old turtle hag that destroyed that big castle in a volcano! I don't remember who owned that castle, though…"

Bowser fumed with anger again, "You remember that old hag, Kammy, but not me!" Bowser asked until he then rolled his eyes in disbelief, "Ooooh, you know what? The heck with it!" Bowser then grabbed Luffy by the vest, and lifted him up to his eye level.

"Hey, let go of me!" Luffy yelled, but couldn't do much but to try and break free since he was still in his chibi form.

"I came all the way here for my rematch, but seeing that you are too stupid to remember me, then I'll consider this our first battle!" Bowser then shook Luffy back and forth by his fist, trying to make him dizzy, "I'm going to beat the living snot out of you, and I'll make you pay for everything that has happened to me for chasing you senselessly, and then I am going to do something far worse to you, that I don't even know what it is yet!"

As Bowser continued to shake Luffy back and forth to relieve his anger, the entrance suddenly opened as the Strawhat crew made their way inside. "We're finally here. Are you sure Luffy is in here?" Nami asked.

"I saw him come here, but I don't know if he still in here." Zoro said.

"Then let's hurry!" Sanji yelled as he and the others started running. The crew then ran across the hallway until they finally reached the main room. "Huh… uh… WHAT THE!" The crew stopped as soon as they saw Bowser, the person they least expect to see in the room, shaking their captain back and forth.

"Eh!" Bowser stopped as he noticed the crew, "It's you guys…" The room was silent for several seconds until Usopp and Chopper broke. the silence.

"AAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAAAHHHHHHHHHH HHHHH!" Usopp and Chopper cried simultaneously while hugging each other in fear.

"No way…" Nami gasped in disbelief.

"The hell?" Zoro blinked in confusion.

"What's he doing here!" Franky asked while raising his sunglasses over his forehead.

"It's him…" Robin said calmly, but is a little shocked.

"It's Booowwwwwwwwsssssssee eeeeeeerrrrr!"

The crew were obviously shocked by seeing Bowser again. The last time they saw him was when he interrupted the pokemon tournament, and disappeared through the portals he made with his remote.

"Wha-What is Bowser doing here of all places!" Usopp asked while placing his hands on his head in shock.

"I-I-I thought he went back to the Mushroom Kingdom!" Chopper whimpered while leaning on Usopp's legs.

"It seems he still holds a grudge against our captain." Robin said calmly, "He risked his life to get here just to face him again."

"Ergh, this is not the time for something like this to happen! Doesn't he know that we're in a dangerous world!" Nami asked.

"Looks like the turtle doesn't give a damn." Franky said while lowering his sunglasses over his eyes again, "But we're all here now, we can take this guy down together."

"Hurgh? What did you say, punk!" Bowser asked, "So it seems that you all still remember me, unlike your stupid captain here!"

"Oi, you better put him down, or I am going to unleash hell over you!" Sanji threatened, "I haven't forgotten what you did back in the Mushroom Kingdom, and now that I think about it, I'm glad that you're here! We can finally settle this once and for all!"

"Put a cork in it, blondie! My business here is with Strawhat alone. I have no time to deal with the weak cronies!" Bowser said.

"Weak?" Zoro asked before he stood firm, "Alright, now you managed to piss me off as well."

"I don't care! You all are just bunch of weaklings, following this idiot for some reason!" Bowser yelled while shaking Luffy a bit before he talked again, "Why should I be afraid by the weaker foes! You guys better leave me be, or this little guy gets it!"

Nami then approached Bowser, "Do you have any idea what's going on! We have more important things to deal with right now if you hadn't noticed! This world is going to engulf the entire cosmos if you don't let go of our captain anytime soon!"

"Huh? What kind of stupidity are you saying!" Bowser asked before leaning towards Nami, "You better step back, I'm really pissed off right now! Not even you can intimidate me in this moment!"

"Oi, don't you dare lay a finger on Nami-san, you bastard!" Sanji threatened while clenching his fist.

"We're not getting anywhere with this." Robin said, "I suggest we atleast knock him unconscious before we can proceed any further."

"Y-Y-Yeah! I'll help out!" Usopp said while taking out his Kabuto slingshot, "I'll support you guys from the rear!"

"I'll help fight him too! I don't want to lose after getting this far!" Chopper yelled determinedly after hearing Usopp sounding brave as he took a step forward.

Franky cracked his knuckles while frowning at Bowser, "You'd best say your prayers, bro. Your not going to get away like the last time."

Zoro tightened his bandanna over his head, and stared at Bowser silently, while Bowser grew angry, "Okay, fine! I'll take you all on right now! Just let me finish off your captain!" Bowser yelled. but suddenly, Luffy's body turned back to normal as Luffy then delivered a headbutt on Bowser's jaw, "Agh!" Bowser staggered back, letting go of Luffy as he then cracked his knuckles.

"I may not remember you all that well, but I don't like the way you're talking to my crew." Luffy said sternly while getting into his stance. Bowser growled as he swung his claw at Luffy, but missed as Luffy jumped behind him. Bowser looked at both sides to see that he was now surrounded, but he wasn't intimated.

"Grr… you have no idea of the burden I had to put up with, just so I can confront you guys again." Bowser growled with clenched fists, "I don't know about you guys, but I have had enough of this! I don't care if I lose my life anymore! All I want is my revenge, and I don't care how many body parts I would lose upon getting it! None of you will understand how pissed off I am towards you all!"

As Bowser continued to yell, he and the Strawhat crew didn't notice that Xemnas was coming to, and was getting up on his hands and knees, and looked up to see the confrontation. He panted quietly to remain unnoticed as he then noticed something sparking from Luffy's pocket. It was the smash ball, and it was glowing a little brighter by the second.

"What's the point in coming here just so you can let us know that you're angry with us!" Nami asked, "We already know that, but you have to understand that now is not the time for this!"

"I don't care! I want to fight now!" Bowser yelled while stomping his foot on the ground, "I am not going to drop my ambition just because you want me to! I will fight you all, and I will promise that you will all be bowing down to kiss my feet! I am Bowser; the dreaded Koopa King! I will unleash my fury on you all!"

The smash ball in Luffy's pocket then grew even brighter as it was reacting upon Bowser's ambition. Xemnas saw this, and immediately took action as he got up, and ran as he stole Luffy's smash ball while running by.

"Wha! My ball!" Luffy gasped.

"Hurgh!" Bowser turned around to see what's going on, as Xemnas then slammed the smash ball into Bowser's chest. Bowser gasped as the ball fell into pieces. "URRGH!" Luffy and the crew were shocked to see this as Xemnas then did a quick turn, and ran.

"Wait, you!" Luffy yelled, but Xemnas created a dark portal, and ran through it, escaping from the scene. Luffy frowned as he turned back towards Bowser, who was starting to feel very dizzy.

"Grrr… rrrrRRHHGghh…" Bowser growled as something was happening to him.

"Oi, oi, is this bad!" Usopp asked.

"The smash ball allows you to unleash your true power… we know how strong they are, so what is Bowser going to do!" Nami asked while stepping back.

"Heads up, something is going on with him!" Franky yelled as he and the crew stepped away from Bowser. Luffy did the same as Bowser was starting to grow bigger and nastier.

"ROOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOAA AAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAAARRRRRRR!" A bright light surrounded Bowser as he grew. His body skin got darker, his hair, tail, claws and horns were longer, the spikes on his back were longer and pointier, and there was also spikes around the end of his tail as well, and lastly, his muscles grew bigger, and seemed less fat than before. The light around him then vanished as he was now three times bigger than he was before, and roared once again upon finishing his transformation- Giga Bowser.

"GYYYYYYYYYEEEEEEEEEE HHHHEEEEEEEEHHH!" Usopp, Nami, Chopper, and Franky screamed upon seeing this as the others were also very shocked upon witnessing Giga Bowser for the first time.

"He-He turned into a monster!" Sanji exclaimed. Giga Bowser then breathed an enormous stream of fire around the hole he made through the ceiling, engulfing it with flames as he then roared again, causing everyone to cover their ears from hearing the loud noise.

"He's no longer himself anymore! He's acting like a mindless beast!" Zoro exclaimed. Giga Bowser then looked down on the Strawhat, and spun his tail towards them.

"Look out!" Franky yelled as everyone jumps out of the way as Giga Bowser left a big cut across the walls that were above the entrance to the hallway. Some debris then fell, and covered the exit, preventing the crew from escaping.

"Damn it! It's more powerful than it looks!" Sanji muttered.

"There is no escaping from this creature…" Robin said in a calm tone. Luffy was thinking what to do as he then looked at the portal Xemnas escaped through. Nami and the others noticed this as they started to calm down.

"Oi, Luffy. Go after him." Nami said.

"Huh?" Luffy turned back to his crew, seeing most of them smiling, "What about this guy?"

"Don't worry about us!" Sanji said while taking out a cigarette, "We'll be here when you come back."

"You already fought Bowser many times already, so let us get a shot with this guy for once." Zoro said with a smirk.

"We'll be fine, Captain-san. You can rest-assured that we will take care of this beast." Robin said pleasantly.

"G-G-G-Go, Luffy! We can beat him by ourselves!" Usopp said, even though his legs shook in fear.

"We will be waiting, Luffy! I hope you can come back soon." Chopper said.

"Yeah, go nuts over that ruler guy, Strawhat. Leave everything else here to us!" Franky said while pointing at himself.

Luffy saw the confidence in his crew as he then smiled, and then gave the thumbs up, "Yosh! I'll kick that guy's ass again! I'll be back as soon as I can!"

"Yeah, yeah, just go already!" Nami said happily.

Luffy briefly stared at Giga Bowser before running towards the dark portal. Giga Bowser saw him as he then towards him.

"Oi, you shitty turtle!"

Giga Bowser stopped as Luffy then jumped through the portal before it disappeared. The big beast glanced over his shoulder to see Sanji smoking his cigarette, "You have been focusing your attention on our captain for far too long." Sanji said while breathing out a puff of smoke, "You seem to have forgotten that a pirate captain is nothing without his crew."

The Strawhat crew took a step forward, readying their weapons as Zoro held all of his three swords, Nami was holding her PCT, Usopp with his slingshot, Chopper in his arm point form, Robin with her limbs crossed, and Franky removing the skin off his right arm. Sanji breathed out one last puff of smoke before saying, "Our captain has already beaten you before. If you want to face him again, you're going to have to go through all of us."

Giga Bowser growled as he then turned towards the crew, and let out loud roar, shattering the stained-glass window into little pieces behind him.

Preview: I don't know where I am right now, but I know that black coat guy is around here somewhere! Oh, there he is, but he is wearing something different. Next time on One Piece: A Smash Adventure; Chapter 130: A Giga battle!, The last whim of darkness. I am gonna be the Pirate King!

After such a long trip, Bowser finally turns into Giga Bowser. The next chapter is going to be one heck of a show, I can tell you that, although it may take me longer to finish. No matter, as long the next chapter is coming, then that's all that matters! Ciao for now!

Final arc Pt 11

Before I say anything, I would like to answer Mysterguy's question I forgot to answer in the last chapter; sorry about that. Ahem, can you ask me about that sequel question at the end of this fic? I don't have a certain answer to that right now, and I'd feel more comfortable answering that after I am done with this story.

Anyway, this story is now two years old. I planned on updating on the 27th to celebrate, but this chapter was a doozy. This was the hardest chapter I have ever done. I may have gone a little overboard since you might've already noticed how long this chapter is. However, this will make up the wait after I didn't update for two weeks, I think? I'm very sure that all you battle-lovers will enjoy it, including everyone else, I hope. Heh heh…

Anyway, enough talk. It's time to bring Xemnas and Bowser down for good! HAVE A GREAT TIME READING!

A long-awaited reunion. After their first encounter in the Lylat System, Luffy finally confronted Xemnas in a one on one battle. They fought hardly, and in the end, it seemed like Luffy was the victor. Unfortunately, Xemnas still had fight in him as he and Luffy were about to square off again, until Bowser surprisingly fell into their battle, nearly knocking out Xemnas in the process. Bowser waited a very long time for his rematch, and as soon as he was about to deal with Luffy, the Strawhat crew intervened. Bowser was about to fight them off, until Xemnas stole Luffy's smash ball, and slammed on Bowser, causing him to transform into Giga Bowser. Luffy chased after Xemnas, while his crew went to deal off with the vengeful Koopa. Seeing how tired they were from their previous battles, will they all be able to defeat their opponents, or will they finally admit defeat?

Chapter 130: A Giga battle!, The last whim of darkness

The flames above the main tower were slowly spreading out from the outside, including the upper parts of the main room inside as Giga Bowser growled at his surroundings like a hungry dinosaur. The Strawhat crew watched him look at his surroundings as Usopp gulped while whimpering.

"He soo much scarier than before…" Usopp said as he looked back to see the exit blockaded by a bunch of debris, "I don't think we'll be able to run away from this."

"Who the hell said we're going to run?" Sanji asked as he breathed out a puff of smoke from his cigarette while glaring at Giga Bowser, "This turtle came all the way from the Mushroom Kingdom just to get to us, and look what happened to him. There's no way we can outrun this, even if we wanted to."

"I didn't expect him to use Luffy's smash ball." Nami said while gulping, but remained calm. She observed Giga Bowser, noticing something about him, "Strange, we just got it's attention, and it suddenly spaced out on us. It seems Zoro was right after all; Bowser is no longer himself in that monstrous form. He's nothing but a wild beast now, and will probably attack something that moves." Nami then placed her hand around her chin, "Who knows how strong he is. It's a good thing we're all here, because it seems nearly impossible to fight Bowser individually, even if we were in top condition."

"It looks like he's searching for something too." Franky said, noticing that Giga Bowser was sniffing around the room for something. Giga Bowser continued to do this, despite having the Strawhat crew standing right in front of him.

"It might be possible that he is looking for our captain." Robin said.

"Tch! Seriously? Didn't he see that Strawhat already left? This guy really did lost his mind." Franky said while putting his hands on the back of his head.

"Hmm, I don't like the looks of this. We should think of a plan how to get Bowser out of this place. We can't possibly fight him in a small place like this." Chopper said worryingly.

The crew wondered what to do, until Zoro took a step forward, "I don't know about you guys, but I plan on cutting this beast apart until there is nothing left of him."

"Eh! Zoro, you can't just attack it head on!" Usopp shouted, "Bowser used the power of the smash ball, and we all know how powerful those things are! Besides, we're all together now! We should just come up with a plan to get him out of this castle!"

"Didn't you hear me? I said that I plan on defeating this thing." Zoro said sternly while glaring at Giga Bowser, "Luffy is not going to come back anytime soon, and I don't plan to just stand here, and let this moron here intimidate me!" Zoro then placed one of his swords with his teeth, and held the other two in an angle against each other, "If I have to, I'll beat this guy by myself. If you guys are going to get in the way, then I suggest you stand back."

"Stupid Marimo. Don't you dare mock me!" Sanji said with a growl, "Shouldn't you be resting like you're supposed to by now!"

"Oi, this ain't the time to be fighting amongst ourselves." Franky said, breaking up the argument, "We got a big turtle that is probably going to attack us soon, and we haven't even come up with a plan!"

"Well… seeing how we barely have any idea how strong Bowser is now, I suggest we fight with him, and come up with a strategy later." Robin suggested.

"That's rather risky, but I don't think we have any other choice." Nami said with a stern look.

"Oooh, I think I am going to have a seizure for this…" Usopp said nervously as his legs shook repeatedly. Giga Bowser continued to sniff around the area, searching for Luffy even though he wasn't in the tower anymore.

"Okay, I'm ready! Let's go get him while he's distracted!" Chopper said confidently.

"Yosh… I'll make the first move." Zoro said as he lowered his stance while starting to spin his swords in front of him, "Luffy's counting on us! We have to stay alive, and beat Bowser before he returns!" The crew nodded as Zoro then spun his swords even faster, "SANTORYU OUGI!" Zoro then dashed towards Giga Bowser, who noticed Zoro coming as he faced towards him, "SANSEN SEKAI!" Zoro did a tremendous slash through Giga Bowser's body, leaving a big cut as some of the beast's blood spilled out of his chest. "Got him!"

"No, Zoro! Look out!" Usopp yelled.

"What!" Zoro turned around to see Giga Bowser already throwing a fist at him after a second later from getting slashed. "Whoa!" Zoro did a quick leap to the side as he avoided Giga Bowser's fist as it punched the ground, creating a dark shock wave that sends Zoro crashing into the wall. "Guh!" As Zoro bounced off the wall, Giga Bowser used the same fist he attacked him with earlier to backhand him in the front side of his body.

"Zoro!" Nami cried as Giga Bowser's fist was as big as Zoro himself as Zoro limplessly soured backwards across the room upon getting hit, and was about to crash into the wall behind him head first.

"CINCUENTA FLEUR!" Robin sprouted multiple arms from the floor, and from the arms' palms as they caught Zoro before he would've crashed into the wall. Robin grunted a bit from catching him as she casted away her arms after they gently placed Zoro on the floor. The crew then went to check up on his companion.

"Zoro, are you alright!" Chopper asked worringly. Zoro coughed repeatedly before sitting back up with one eye closed.

"Damn it! I didn't think he would move that fast after getting cut!" Zoro said bewildered.

"That's not all! He didn't even flinch when you did that! He acted as if he didn't get hit at all!" Usopp yelled before facing towards Giga Bowser, who was already looking down at the crew, "AHH! HE'S HERE!"

Giga Bowser breathed out an enormous stream of fire at them as the flames engulfed over the entire crew. The fire spewed over the walls and the floor in the side of the main room as Giga Bowser continued to breath out fire, unaware that Franky is splitting the flames apart with his shield, protecting his comrades from the flames behind him.

"Yeeooww! Come on, move!" Franky yelled.

"Eh!" Nami quickly bended parts of her PCT as Robin helped Zoro on his feet, "CYCLONE TEMPO!" Nami threw part of her PCT, as it released a powerful gust that blew away the stream of flames from the right side. Nami, Usopp, and Chopper then rushed out of the flames range, with Robin doing the same while helping Zoro out in the process.

"Damn turtle! Trying to cook me alive, huh!" Sanji yelled as he ran up the wall, and jumped through the flames as he flew towards Giga Bowser, "COLLIER SHOOT!" Sanji did a hard kick up against Giga Bowser's chin, but the beast didn't even flinch. However, it did caused Giga Bowser to stop breathing out fire, allowing Franky to move forward.

"STRONG HAMMER!" Franky punched Giga Bowser's wound on his chest, hoping it would cause great damage, but to his surprise, Giga Bowser acted as if he hadn't felt a thing. "Wah!"

"ROOOOARRRR!" Giga Bowser retracted into his shell, and rolled back to get some distance before coming out of his shell afterwards. He then knelt down, and swung his right claw at Franky, hitting him hard as he bursted into dark flames.

"GUAAH!" Franky soured sideways as Usopp and Chopper tried catching him, but Franky ended up crashing into them as the trio tumbled backwards the ground.

"Why you!" Sanji got back on the ground, did several front flips before leaping towards Giga Bowser's face, "EXTRA HACHE!" Sanji repeatedly thrusted his legs downward, but it turns out that Giga Bowser was much faster than he looked as he shifted his weight to the side to avoid Sanji's kicks, and countered by leaping upward to Sanji's level, and did a spin, hitting Sanji with his big tail. "GAAAHAAH!" Sanji soured across the room like a missile, crashing into the wall at his side before limplessly falling to the ground with a thud.

"Sanji-kun!" Nami cried out as he saw Sanji, dazedly getting up on one knee as he panted heavily. Nami nervously looked back at Giga Bowser, who started roaring again. "He's much stronger than before… and nothing seems to be working on him!"

"Grr, that bastard!" Franky mumbled as he, Usopp, and Chopper got up on their feet, "He's crazy if he thinks he's going to beat us like this!"

Zoro then stepped up, ready to fight again, despite being badly injured from before, "If anyone has a plan, I think it's the best time to be sharing it with us!"

Nami thought quickly before giving off a stern expression, "Okay, everyone! Follow my league!" She said as she then pointed at Giga Bowser, "Zoro, you go with Chopper and Sanji-kun, and fight off Bowser to buy us some time."

"Okay!" Zoro yelled as he charged forward with Sanji and Chopper.

"Yosh, I won't fall like last time!" Sanji yelled. Giga Bowser pulled back his fist, and swung it down towards the trio. He missed as Zoro, Sanji, and Chopper jumped away to avoid in different directions. Before Bowser pulled his arm back, Zoro leaped onto his arm while crossing his swords, "YASHA KARASU!" Zoro spins up on Bowser's arm like a wheel, leaving cuts that were shaped like crows' feet in the process. Giga Bowser then quickly swunged his free arm sideways towards Zoro, which went so fast that Zoro barely saw it coming.

"Robin, now!" Nami yelled while releasing some thunder balls up in the air.

"CIEN FLEUR!" Robin sprouted multiple arms around Giga Bowser's body. Giga Bowser growled as most of the sprouted arms pushed Giga Bowser's attacking fist to miss Zoro as Zoro leaped over Giga Bowser's head to avoid him. The arms pushed Giga Bowser's arm over his mouth, preventing him from breathing fire as this also forced him to lean back a little.

Sanji and Chopper, who was in his arm point, then took this chance by charging towards Giga Bowser.

"KOKUTEI DIAMOND!"

"VEAU SHOT!"

At the same time, Sanji did a powerful running kick, and Chopper thrusted both of his hooves into Giga Bowser's binded arm, causing Giga Bowser to lose his footing as he staggered back. Zoro, who was behind Giga Bowser, then rushed for Giga Bowser's knees. "DAI GEKKEN!" Zoro slashed through Giga Bowser's knees, causing the monster to finally fall back on his shell.

"Alright, now let's do this!" Nami said as she created a big thunderball in the air during the time Giga Bowser was distracted. "Usopp! Franky! Are you ready!"

"Yeah! Let's go for it!" Usopp yelled while aiming at Giga Bowser with his Kabuto slingshot.

"Ow! This is going to be suuuppaa!" Franky yelled as he stood in front of Usopp as he aimed. "Fire away, Long nose!"

"Yosh! ROKUREN MAMOSHI BOSHI!" Usopp fired a six-rowed pellet that slithered across the air. The pellet then went though Nami's big thunderball, gathering it's power as it was now covered with electricity. It continued to slither forward as Franky took out some yellow gum, and chewed it repeatedly.

"THUNDAA SPLIT!" Franky spat a bolt of lightning upward, hitting the six explosives as they then separated from each other, and flew towards Giga Bowser as electrical spirits of cobras were suddenly formed around each pellet. "Go! KOBURA GEIGEKI!"

As the electric cobra pellets headed towards Giga Bowser, Giga Bowser suddenly flipped himself up on his feet using his head, and faced his shell towards the incoming projectiles. The pellets exploded in electricity upon making contact, but it didn't release a big explosion the crew thought it would. "What's it doing!" Nami asked as she was that Giga Bowser absorbed the electricity, using the spikes on the back of his shell.

"He absorbed the explosion!" Usopp gasped.

"Tsk! Our supaa move has gone to waste!" Franky growled.

Giga Bowser then roared as he broke free from Robin's sprouted arms by spreading his binded arm to his side with a minimal of effort. The arms disappeared as Robin grunted in pain by this.

"Damn you! I'll make you pay for hurting Robin-chan!" Sanji yelled with a quick side kick to Giga Bowser's gut, but Giga Bowser countered with a swipe of his claws.

"GUARD POINT!" Chopper turned his guard point as Sanji leaped over Bowser's claw, while Chopper took it in he crashed into the wall beside him, and turned back into his brain point while feeling a little dazed, "Urgh… that still hurt…"

Sanji was delivering several kicks into Giga Bowser's chest while in midair, but Giga Bowser just wasn't flinching as he tried to smacking Sanji away from him, but Sanji kept jumping off from his body parts to avoid. Sanji then ran up against Giga Bowser's chest, and leaped over his shoulder, "CONCASSE!"

Sanji slammed his heel down on Giga Bowser's shoulder with great force, but Giga Bowser spreads out his arms, knocking Sanji back as Giga Bowser then threw a fist at him, "HYAKU-HACHI POUNDOU HOU!" Zoro then sprunged up in front of Giga Bowser, and threw a spiral cutting wave towards his face, which made impact as this caused the beast to blink a bit. Thanks to the mild distraction, Sanji kicked Giga Bowser's fist, doing a back flip afterwards as he planted his feet onto the wall behind him before landing back on the floor. Meanwhile, Zoro jumped up from Giga Bowser's snout, and got above his head, "ICHI GORILLA! NI GORILLA!" Zoro flexed his biceps as raised his swords, "NIGORI ZAKE!"

Zoro slammed his swords down on Giga Bowser's head, pushing Giga Bowser's body down so hard that a small dent was formed beneath his feet. Giga Bowser furrowed his brow as he countered with an upper swipe of his claws, which Zoro parried with his swords, but was suddenly bursted into dark flames upon doing so. "Gyyeergghhah!" Zoro was blown upwards as Giga Bowser then leaped up after him.

"CIEN FLEUR, PUSH!" Robin sprouted multiple arms from the wall, pushing Giga Bowser he could have delivered an upper headbutt to Zoro while he was in midair.

Giga Bowser's was knocked back into a wall, with his spikes impaling through it as he appeared to be stuck there. "You're mine now!" Sanji yelled as he started running along the walls towards where Giga Bowser was stuck into. Giga Bowser saw him, and was about to slam his fist on Sanji, but Sanji leaped off the wall in the nick of time to avoid.

"I'll help you, Sanji!" Chopper yelled as he turned into his horn point form.

"Okay!" Sanji said as he then landed on Chopper's antlers. Chopper yelled as he then raised his head, sending Sanji flying towards Giga Bowser from below, "POITRINE SHOOT!" Sanji does a strong, upper kick to Giga Bowser's chest, who growled angrily as he pushed himself from the wall using his arms and legs, "Wh-Whoa!" Giga Bowser fell over Sanji and Chopper as he was about to crush them into the floor.

"STRONG RIGHT!" Franky quickly launched his right arm, and wrapped it around his comrades. "Hergh!" Franky pulled them away, saving them from being flattened as Giga Bowser crashed onto the floor. "Phew! That was a close one!"

Giga Bowser then raised his head up, seeing that Zoro was still in midair. The beast then leaped up after him, "Oh no! Watch out, Zoro!" Usopp cried.

"Eh!" Zoro saw Giga Bowser coming as he then spreads out his swords against the fire around the hole in the ceiling where he was on, "Huuuaah!" Zoro spun repeatedly, gathering the flames around his surroundings as they formed around his swords. Zoro then flew down towards Giga Bowser while readying his blazing swords, "OKIBI DAIBUSTU GIRI!"

Zoro performed a series of left and right horizontal slashes at Giga Bowser while falling past him. Giga Bowser protected himself by slashing Zoro's blazing cuts with his claws on the way up. Once Zoro landed on his feet, and when Giga Bowser was at the peak height from his jump, Giga Bowser raised his legs arms, and fell down towards the ground with his rear.

"LOOK OUT!" Everyone scattered as Giga Bowser landed on the ground with his rear with tremendous force. The whole room shook violently as rubble from the ceiling began to fall down towards the floor. The crew were alright, but they panted heavily as Giga was stood up again. "Grr…" Usopp stood in front of Giga Bowser, and aimed at him, "ATLAS SUISEI!" Usopp fired four explosive pellets at Giga Bowser which converged towards him while getting close. The pellets exploded onto his face, but Giga Bowser didn't flinch as he charged towards Usopp afterwards, "KAMAKIRI RYUSEI! AGEHA RYUSEI! WASHI RYUSEI!" Usopp fired a multitude of pellets at Giga Bowser, but it didn't change the situation as Giga Bowser then leaped towards him, and the crew. "Gyyyyaaah!" Nami, Usopp, Robin, and Franky jumped out of the way as Giga Bowser crashed into the wall head first.

"Tsk!" Robin then turned towards Giga Bowser before he could get up, "OCHENTA FLEUR!" Robin sprouted multiple arms beneath Giga Bowser as they pushed his lower body upward, and turned him upside down as they slammed his spikey back into the wall he crashed into. "There!" Robin casted away the arms as Zoro, Sanji, Chopper, and Franky charged at Giga Bowser while he was stuck. They all separated as Zoro got on Sanji's raised leg, and Sanji swung it upwards, sending Zoro flying up to Giga Bowser's left knee with his swords ready, and Franky threw Chopper up towards Giga Bowser's right knee as Chopper turned into arm point when he got into range.

Sanji and Franky then charged towards Giga Bowser's arms as the foursome attacked simultaneously.

"TORA GARI!"

"COLLIER SHOOT!"

"KOKUTEI CROSS!"

"STRONG HAMMER!"

Giga Bowser's limbs were struck with great force, but despite all the effort, Giga Bowser still didn't seem hurt at all.

"RRRRRRRAAAAAAAAAGGG GGHHHHHHH!" Giga Bowser roared loudly, creating a force that knocked away Zoro and the others. He then hid in his shell, and rolled around the room on his sides, destroying the walls behind him with spikes as he moved around. This caused the room to tremor again as more rubble from above fell down towards the crew. Zoro, Usopp, and Franky knocked, and shot away the rubble that were about to fall them and their companions, as Giga Bowser suddenly got out his shell, and strafed behind Nami.

"Nami-san, watch out!" Sanji yelled.

"Wha!" Nami turned towards Giga Bowser, who breathed out a stream of fire down at Nami, "Neh! COOL CHARGE!" Nami released a cool wave of air in front of her before the fire engulfed all over her.

"Nami-san!" Sanji cried as once the fire touched the cold air, it created a mild mist around Giga Bowser, and the area in front of him. Giga Bowser looked at his surroundings for Nami, who snuck underneath Giga Bowser with her PCT having a blazing tip at it's end, "FIRE SPEAR TEMPO!" Nami swung her blazing staff across Giga Bowser's toes, with the cuts bursting into flames afterwards. Nami then ran through between Giga Bowser's legs, and pierced the blazing tip of her staff in Giga Bowser's tail from below, and dragged the tip across the tail until she reached the tail's midway point, bursting the first half of the tail into flames in the process.

Giga Bowser growled as he raised his tail, and slammed it hard on the ground, causing Nami to jump out of the way. "Aah!" Nami fell on her back, and out of the mist as Giga Bowser came out of the mist, leaning towards Nami with a snarl.

"Don't you even dare!" Sanji yelled furiously as he jumped on Giga Bowser's back, and ran up across, "HUUUUGHH!" Sanji then leaped above Giga Bowser's head, "ANTI-MANNER KICK COURSE!" Sanji dived down, and kicked into Giga Bowser's head with tremendous force.

Giga Bowser nearly lost his footing as Nami ran away to safety, running pass Usopp, who aimed at Giga Bowser's foot while it was slightly raised, "TOKUYOU ABURA BOSHI!" Usopp fired a pellet at the ground, which splattered into oil as Giga Bowser slipped over it, but kept his balance by hopping on one foot. Nami noticed this as she raised her PCT, "COOL BALL!" Nami threw several cool balls on the ground, covering it with ice as Giga Bowser slipped forwardly.

As Giga Bowser fell, Zoro and Chopper charged at him from the front side. Chopper galloped towards Giga Bowser in his horn point, as Zoro jumped on Chopper, before leaping off towards Giga Bowser's face, "NIGORI ZAKE!"

"ROSEO GACHAN!"

Zoro slashed his swords through Giga Bowser's face at the same time as Chopper slammed his antlers into his upper chest. Giga Bowser was blown back a bit as Robin then crossed her limbs, "DOSCIENTOS FLEUR!" Robin sprouted a hundred arms from each side of the room as they grabbed Giga Bowser's arms while he was in midair.

Robin grunted a bit as Giga Bowser was pretty heavy, but managed to hold on as the arms then swung Giga Bowser forwardly towards Franky, who connected his arms into his tube. "Let him go, Robin!" Franky yelled. The arms released Giga Bowser as he flew towards Franky, whose arms were getting inflated, "Let's see you get up after this! 1.5 MAX COLA POWER HOU! COUP DE VENT!

BOOOOOOOOOOOMMMM!

Franky released a massive current of air, pushing Giga Bowser back in midair as the beast crashed through the walls behind him, leaving a massive opening of the room as Giga Bowser propelled out of the tower. The whole ran up to the opening in the wall as Usopp was relieved.

"Yosha! How do you like that, huh? We're unstoppable!" Usopp exclaimed while raising his fist in the air.

"I can't believe we did it! We actually defeated him!" Chopper said excitedly while happily jumping up and down.

"Ow! Now that's how you get the job done!" Franky said while doing his victory pose. As they celebrated their victory, Zoro squinted his eyes at the falling beast.

"He's not done yet." Zoro said bluntly, "He's going to come back here one way or the other."

"Hmm, I don't know. Even if he still has fight in him, it will take a while for him to get back here." Nami said.

Giga Bowser continued to sour across the air as he flew over the back castle gates. His eyes then widened with anger, as he growled before regaining his composure in midair. He then hid into his shell, and briefly breathed out a stream of fire, rocketing back towards the tower. "I don't… think that's the problem." Sanji said. Usopp, Chopper, and Franky stopped celebrating as they, and the others were seeing Giga Bowser flying back to them.

"I-It's too far. He can't make it… right?" Usopp asked as his eye twitched nervously.

Giga Bowser stopped breathing out fire, as he then spun inside his shell repeatedly, flying towards the tower even faster than anybody could possibly imagine.

"Everyone, get back!" Sanji yelled as the crew attempted to get away, but it was too late.

BOOOOOOOOOOOMMMMMMM!

"Waaaaaahhaaaaah!" The crew were blown in several directions after Giga Bowser crash landed back into the main floor of the tower.

The crew dazedly gets back on their feet, only for Giga Bowser to bounce off the floor before coming out of his shell, and slammed both of his fists down at the floor upon landing. "Yaaaaaaah!" Zoro, Nami, Sanji, and Robin tumbled backwards, across the ground, while Usopp, Chopper, and Franky crash into the wall hard.

The crew were heavily injured at this point as Giga Bowser roared loudly, proving to be the toughest adversary yet.

Meanwhile…

Luffy blinked in confusion. When he stepped through the portal, he found himself in place much stranger than where he fought Xemnas a while ago. "Hmmm… where am I this time?" Luffy asked while scratching his head.

Luffy was in a white, yet a dark-looking dimension, filled with spacial worm holes that were bright white that were around some dark grey areas. Luffy looked down, and noticed that he was standing on nothing, as if he was standing on an invisible floor as he could see some white worm holes below him as well.

"Ehh? Such a weird, quiet place. Where did all this come from?" Luffy asked while still looking at his surroundings. As he did that, Xemnas finally appeared.

"So… you decided to follow me here." Xemnas said. Luffy turned to see Xemnas, and noticed that Xemnas was now wearing a black and white coat, which was mostly white from the front and the inside, but mostly black in the back. The color shapes the coat looked better than his dull black coat, but it was hard to describe how it looked in words.

"Black coat guy! Ugh… black and white coat guy? How did you change your clothes so fast?" Luffy asked while scratching his head in confusion.

Xemnas ignored Luffy's question as he let out peaceful sigh before speaking, "I'm glad that you decided to come here. It's not everyday that a pirate gets to see what really is important in our lives! Take a good look at your surroundings! The light and darkness; the two most important elements of our bodies. They both hold tremendous power that brings structure into our very lives! These elements are what brought us here to clash against each other, and fight until the very end. It's because of these opposing elements is that everything has come to this." Xemnas then looked up towards the sky with a smirk on his face, "You see, light and darkness is what created us. It's what created the things we love and hate. The light and darkness are exactly the same as we nothings long for it's control… we are eternal."

Xemnas then smirked, "I will not allow this battle to end in your favor. What you see here is just a small portion of the real strength these elements possess! I was chosen to destroy the balance of these elements, and allow the darkness to take over all life!" Xemnas then raised his clenched fist, "Obscurum was betrayed by it's counterpart, and will now take back what it created! Soon… very soon… the light will finally cease to exist, and the darkness will rule everyones lives as it was meant to be from the start!"

Luffy had nothing to say against what Xemnas said. Instead, he seemed rather annoyed by it, "You really are annoying with your darkness garbage. I don't care if light or darkness are a part of our lives or not; all I want to do is to stop this world from ruining everyone else's lives! How many times do I have to say that to you!" Luffy then got into his stance, "If the light and darkness is what made me the way I am today, then I am going to make sure it stays that way! No matter how much darkness or light I get into me, none of them will control me!"

"Heh heh heh ha ha ha ha… you amuse me even during this conclusive moment." Xemnas said with a smile, "Actions will always speak louder than words. The darkness will turn you into an Aterneco, including your families and friends that reside in your world. Not to mention your naive comrades that are bound to meet their doom against Bowser. There is no longer any hope for you all. This is where it all ends."

"You're right! It will end here…" Luffy replied sternly, "It will end by me kicking your ass again, and you won't be getting up ever again! The pain from losing will be eternal, just like the darkness junk you love so much!"

"Ha ha ha ha ha ha… no more eternal than that radiance of yours." Xemnas said before getting stoic, "It's thanks to your presence, my anger has increased drastically. I am much more powerful than ever! My rage will destroy everything that means dear to you! Once you're finally gone, Obscurum will be mine for the taking!"

"Are we going to keep talking, or are we going to end this now?" Luffy asked, "And for your information, I have grown much stronger myself. Not even your anger and hate for humanity is going to be enough to stop me! You wait there, and I'll prove that to you!"

"Hmm hmm… you foolish boy. Anger and hate are supreme!" Xemnas said as he raised his arms to the side, generating energy from his hands as Luffy charged at him with all his might.

"GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!" Luffy repeatedly stretched his arms back and forth at Xemnas while running towards him, but Xemnas moved his body around to avoid all the blows. Xemnas then summoned his aerial blades, as he then came close to Luffy while he was still attacking, and swung his aerial blade at him. Luffy jumped back to avoid the slash, and countered by stretching his leg, "GOMU GOMU NO STAMP!" Luffy stretched his leg towards Xemnas, who sidestepped to avoid, and leaped towards Luffy, and thrusted his aerial blade at him. Luffy leaned back, avoiding the thrust as Luffy then kicked Xemnas' aerial blade, and swung his fist at him, but Xemnas blocked with his leg, before flipping back on the ground.

"Begone!" Xemnas threw two spark bombs from both his palms at Luffy, who couldn't avoid in midair as the bombs expanded upon making contact to Luffy.

"Ugh!" Luffy was blown back as Xemnas rushed towards him from the ground, and leaped at him with a spinning slash with both blades, but Luffy twisted his body in midair, avoiding the slashes as he countered with a right fist, but missed as Xemnas warped away without even engulfing himself with an orb of darkness. Xemnas appeared behind Luffy, who turned around to fight back, but Xemnas acted quickly as he delivered a kick to the side of Luffy's head. "Ah!"

Luffy soured sideways across the air, as Xemnas warped in front of Luffy's path, and kicked him down to the floor with his heel. Luffy frowned as he managed to land on his feet, and leaped away to the side, avoiding Xemnas slashing him from above as he only slashed the invisible ground instead.

"Yah!" Xemnas charged at Luffy with multitude of swings from his aerial blades, with Luffy doing his best to dodge every slash while taking steps back. Luffy then punched Xemnas' right aerial blade away, and then swung his fist towards Xemnas' face, but Xemnas knelt down, and spins, doing a sweep kick that knocked Luffy on his back.

"Gr!" Luffy grunted as Xemnas then thrusted his aerial blade down at Luffy's face, but Luffy moved his head to the side to avoid, and spinned with his legs up, forcing Xemnas to back away to avoid injury, but allowing Luffy to flip back on his feet.

"Bind!" Xemnas fired black and white thorns from his palms as they headed towards Luffy, who did a side roll to avoid as he then rushed over to the Nobody while he was defenseless.

"GOMU GOMU NO BAZOOKA!" Luffy stretched his arms back, and thrusted them into Xemnas, who blocked by casting his spark wall in front of him. "Grr!" Luffy staggered back upon hitting the wall as Xemnas then charged at Luffy with several forward backflips with his aerial blades extended. Luffy avoided Xemnas by taking several leaps back as Xemnas then landed on his feet, and did his aerial dance, slashing his blades around Luffy, who was focused as he managed to avoid the first slashes.

When Xemnas leaped, and spun his aerial blades upside-down in midair, Luffy does a spinning backhand, punching Xemnas leg in the opposite direction from where the Nobody was spinning, causing him to stop as Luffy then pulled his arm back, "GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!" Luffy stretched his arm forward, and punched Xemnas in the gut in midair, pushing him back across the realm.

Xemnas grunted before he warped away while Luffy's arm was still stretching, and reappeared in front of Luffy before grabbing him by the neck, causing the captain to gasp for air, "We shall go together!" Xemnas said before throwing Luffy up in the air. Xemnas then warped, and reappeared in midair, shooting some black and white thorns at Luffy afterwards. Luffy avoided the thorns by moving his body around, as Xemnas then warped in front of him, and spun his aerial blades at him while flying up.

"Gah!" Luffy cried as he got slashed a bit before Xemnas warped somewhere else, and fired more thorns at him, "Yah!"

Luffy avoided the thorns again, as Xemnas warped in front of him again, spinning his blades in midair at Luffy, who managed to avoid the second time around, and countered with a kick to Xemnas' aerial blade, leaving him wide open, but not for very long as Xemnas warped away to safety. "He's faster than before!" Luffy said before Xemnas shot another thorn beam at him, and Luffy didn't manage to avoid the third time. "Ugh!"

Luffy soured back, and fell down towards the ground as Xemnas then flew towards from above. "You're useless here!" Xemnas yelled before slashing Luffy's limbs to prevent him from attacking, and delivered several slashes across Luffy's body before kicking his opponent down to the floor.

"Gyah!" Luffy yelled upon crashing as Xemnas then warped to the other side of the floor, and watched as Luffy was slowly getting back up on his feet.

"You don't have enough hatred like before. You cannot beat me in that state." Xemnas said with a smirk.

"GOMU GOMU NO MUCHI!" Luffy stretched out his leg, and swung it towards Xemnas, who warped to avoid, and reappeared running towards Luffy afterwards. Luffy pulled back his leg the way it was, and did a spinning back elbow at Xemnas, who blocked with his aerial blades, before side-kicking Luffy in the gut. "Oof!" Luffy staggered back as Xemnas flipped towards him, and swung his aerial blade across Luffy's neck, but missed as Luffy ducked, and countered with an upper kick. Xemnas knocked Luffy's attacking leg away before landing behind him in a distance. Luffy nearly lost his balance, but quickly did a handstand while facing towards Xemnas behind him upside-down.

"GOMU GOMU NO YARI!" Luffy stretched both of his legs at Xemnas, who knelt down to avoid, and ran towards Luffy while keeping his head lowered. Luffy instantly pushed himself from the floor, flipping over Xemnas as he swung his aerial blades at him, but missed as Luffy then stretched his arms while winding his body up, and grabbed Xemnas' shoulders from behind, "GOMU GOMU NO MARUNOKO!" Luffy unwinded his body as he did multiple front flips while pulling himself towards Xemnas like a buzzsaw.

"Hmph!" Xemnas did a front roll while Luffy was still holding him, springing Luffy over his body, and slamming him into the ground in front of him.

"Ugh! Wah!" Luffy gasped as Xemnas crossed his blades, and impaled his aerial blades around Luffy's head, and attempted to cut Luffy's head off using his blades like a pair of scissors, but Luffy had his foot between Xemnas arms, preventing him from pushing his blades across each other. "Take that!" Luffy then raised his other foot, and kicked Xemnas in the face.

"Gugh!" Xemnas staggered back upon getting hit as Luffy flipped back onto his feet, and turned to attack Xemnas with a right hook, which Xemnas managed to block with his arms, but the force of the blow knocked him off his feet as he flew across the room sideways.

Despite getting hit so hard, Xemnas side-flipped back onto his feet, and saw Luffy coming towards him. "Bind!" Xemnas shot some thorns at Luffy, who avoided them by leaping over them as he then stretched his arms back while flying downwards to Xemnas.

"GOMU GOMU NO BAZOOKA!" Luffy thrusted his palms towards Xemnas, but missed as he hits the ground after Xemnas did multiple backflips.

"Here!" Xemnas then shot out some red beams at Luffy, who avoided by running to the side, and then stretched his arm to grab Xemnas, but the Nobody kept jumping back until Luffy couldn't reach him from where he stood.

"Grr!" Luffy then raised his stretch arm as he ran towards Xemnas, "GOMU GOMU NO HAMMER!" Luffy slammed his fist to where Xemnas stood, but missed as Luffy slammed his fist into the ground instead. Xemnas then warped several times before appearing in front of Luffy with his aerial blades slightly extended. "Whoa!" Luffy ducked as Xemnas did a spin that released black and white thorns from the end of his aerial blades, and continued his attack with a lower spin of his blades, which Luffy avoided by leaping over them, "Hiya!" Luffy countered as he delivered a right fist to Xemnas, only for Xemnas to block it with his palm after casting away his blades.

"Bind!" Xemnas then used his free hand to shoot out some thorns at Luffy before letting go of him, as the thorns left several cuts on Luffy's body.

"Gaah!" Luffy tumbled back before falling onto his rear, while Xemnas charged at him with another side kick. "Gyergh!" Luffy was able to catch Xemnas' attacking leg after moving his body to the side to avoid, as he then twisted his lower body while getting up, and untwisted himself as he spun Xemnas in circles.

Xemnas remained focus as Luffy then tossed him up high up in the air, before taking in a deep breath while twisting his body again, and released all the air inside him from his mouth as he flew up towards Xemnas while pulling his arms back, "GOMU GOMU NO STORM!"

Luffy unleashed a constant barrage of fists right up towards Xemnas, which looked completely possible to avoid while in midair. "Tsk! This is serious!" Xemnas muttered as he warped several times in different places while going down, completely avoiding the barrage of fists that were coming towards him. By the time he avoided the last punch, Xemnas cross-slashed through Luffy's body while falling by him.

"Gyaaahhh!" Luffy cried as he limplessly crashed into the floor, while Xemnas warped up high in the air, and shot down a spark bomb at Luffy. Luffy saw it coming as he dazedly got up, and leaped away to safety, but Xemnas warped in front of him, and kicked him right back below the spark bomb, which exploded into a bigger orb upon impact. "Aaaaaaaaahhh!" Luffy cried in pain as once the orb disappeared, Xemnas swooped in, and kicked Luffy, tumbling him sideways across the ground. Luffy was hurt bad as he got up on his hands and knees, only for Xemnas to slash him across the ribs, causing Luffy to roll on his back in sheer pain.

"This was bound to happen from the moment you fought against us." Xemnas said while pulling his aerial blade up to his side, "Perhaps in the brink of death will make you realize how pointless your actions were from the start." With a stoic look, Xemnas brought down his aerial blade to finish off Luffy, but missed as Luffy did a quick backflip to avoid. Xemnas stared as he saw Luffy fail to land on his feet, and fell on his back instead.

"Nyupe! Ah!" Luffy flipped back onto his feet, and brushed the dust off his attire. He then did some warm up exercises before letting out a yawn. "Mmmmmaahh, that's better." Luffy said before staring at Xemnas, "You sure got stronger rather quickly. If this keeps up, I'd might die." Luffy then knelt while clenching his right hand into a fist, making Xemnas wonder what he was up to. "Time to switch it to high gear!"

Luffy then slammed his fist on the ground as his feet started pumping up his blood pressure, causing his body to let out steam, and turn red. "GEAR SECOND!" By the time Luffy was in his new form, Xemnas was already in front of him as he attacked Luffy with a slashed of his aerial blade.

"I've already said that your resistance is meaningless here!" Xemnas yelled as he then swung his aerial blade at Luffy, who suddenly disappeared in a blink of an eye, "He's gone?"

"JET PISTOL!" Luffy stretched his arm incredibly fast at Xemnas from a distance. Xemnas barely saw it coming, and moved his head to the side to avoid, but received a cut across his cheek as the fist went by him.

"What is this? He's gotten faster than before." Xemnas said curiously before he then charged at Luffy with great speed.

"TWIN JET PISTOL!" Luffy stretched both arms at Xemnas, who sidestepped to avoid, and readied his aerial blade to counter, but he then saw Luffy stretching his leg, "JET AXE!" Luffy brought down his leg towards the ground in front of him, as Xemnas had to dash sideways with incredible speed to avoid. Just as Xemnas thought he got away, Luffy appeared in front of his path, and charged at the nobody before he could react. "JET RIFLE!"

"GUAAAHHH!" Xemnas got punched in the gut by Luffy's twisted arm as he propelled backwards across the air before tumbling repeatedly across the invisible floor. He later regained his posture as he got on one knee while skidding back across the floor with his head lowered. He then raised his head, smirking as he stared at Luffy, "This power… now this is more like it."

Luffy then got into his fighting while cracking his knuckles, "I'm ready this time! Come on!"

Meanwhile…

The main floor in the tower was a mess as rubble and debris were all over the place. Giga Bowser snarled as he faced his back at the opening in the wall, glaring down at the crew as he watched them getting up one by one.

"Ugh, damn. That really hurt…" Nami groaned while rubbing her head. Once the crew were back on their feet, they stared at Giga Bowser, who suddenly spaced out as he started sniffing around the floor, "He's ignoring us again. This might give us some time to think of a plan."

"We fought this guy for several minutes already, and he has countered every single plan we use against him." Zoro said while resting his sword over his shoulder, "We need to hit him harder than before."

"What we really need to do is to find an easy to knock Bowser out. If we do, this monstrous form of his would probably disappear." Robin said while crossing her arms.

"You're right… but he hasn't even broken a sweat. It'll probably take a miracle to beat him now that we know what we're up against." Nami said while biting her thumb worryingly.

Usopp, Chopper, and Franky were standing behind their comrades as Franky suddenly sighed while shaking his head, "Looks like there is only one way to beat this thing… and that is to fight in it's own level."

"Uh!" Usopp gasped as he looked at Franky in disbelief, "Franky… you don't mean… !"

"W-We haven't tested that maneuver yet!" Chopper said worryingly while turning into his brain point form.

"And there isn't a better time to test it than right now!" Franky said with a confident smirk, "Let's do this! It's time to go with tactics 15!" Franky, Usopp, and Chopper then yelled determinedly while running forwardly, "Swordsman! Swirly! Standby!"

"Huh?" Zoro and Sanji turned towards the trio curiously, as well as Nami and Robin, "Standby?" Sanji asked.

"Just wait for us there! We need to do this in order to beat the big turtle!" Franky yelled while Usopp and Chopper continued to scream while running along with Franky.

"… What is he going to do?" Nami asked.

Franky, Usopp, and Chopper then jumped into the air, as the background turned colorful behind them. "Here we gooooo! TRANSFORMATION!" Franky spreads his limbs in midair, as they released red beams in different directions. The red beams that were shot out from Franky's feet pulled in Zoro and Sanji from the ground, while Usopp was somehow flying around the floor, and Chopper was flying straight up through the hole in ceiling.

The back collar of Franky's shirt magically hooded over Franky's head as Franky slowly floated over Zoro and Sanji. Zoro grabbed hold of Franky's right leg, supporting it with his left shoulder; and Sanji grabbed Franky's left leg, supporting it with his right shoulder as the 'legs' of the transformation was complete.

Franky then spreads out his right arm as Usopp slowly floated behind it. Franky grabs hold of Usopp's body, while Usopp wrapped his legs around Franky's arm, and raised his own arms over his head, with the fingertips facing each other. Franky's sunglasses then gleamed, making a robotic noise as Chopper went flying down into the tower again, and clamped his arms and legs around the back of Franky's head, being the 'head' of the transformation. Chopper's 'X' mark in the front side of his hat then shined briefly as Chopper opened his eyes, which glowed bright yellow with determination.

"PIRATES DOCKING SIX!" Chopper yelled as Franky, the body of the transformation, leaped into the air while doing a quick turn.

"GIANT ROBOT SOLDIER!" Usopp yelled as Franky's 'legs' landed perfectly on the floor.

"BIIIIIIIIGGGG EEEMMMMPEERROOORRR!" Franky exclaimed as a big blue star was formed in the background, signifying that the transformation was complete. The imaginary background then disappeared as Giga Bowser turned towards Big Emperor, seeing the confident expressions in the crew's faces. Chopper gritted his teeth with confidence, until he gasped.

"Wha! Wait a minute, Franky!" Chopper exclaimed.

"What's wrong, Chopper!" Franky asked.

"The… The left arm isn't complete!" Chopper gasped while looking at Franky's empty hand.

"WHAAAAAAAAAAAAATTT!" Franky gasped in shock as he then looked over at Nami and Robin, "Oi, one of you has to fill up this spot! We won't be able to beat Bowser this way!"

"Please! You must hurry!" Chopper pleaded.

"Come on, it's easy! Just do what I'm doing!" Usopp yelled.

Nami and Robin were both dumbfounded at this amazing team maneuver. They found rather strange, for some odd reason. "… I know that this is a desperate situation, but I am not going to degrade myself to get out of it." Nami said before sighing irritatedly. Franky, Usopp, and Chopper were confused, as they could see Robin was also reluctant to join.

"That docking of yours… as a human being, it's too embarrassing." Robin said bluntly.

"EEEEEEEEHHHHHHHH!" Franky, Usopp, and Chopper were dumbstrucked hearing such a thing, especially Franky, "E-E-Embarrassing?"

"It's too embarrassing." Robin repeated.

"SHE SAID IT AGAIN!" Franky, Usopp, and Chopper gasped, more surprised than before. Giga Bowser then growled as he threw a fist at the Big emperor formation.

"Tsk!" Zoro and Sanji leaped back, still being the legs of the Big Emperor as they got some distance from Giga Bowser, "Oi! You better do something good in this form, or I'll leave!"

"Tch! Embarrassing, huh? Such disrespect… GRRRRAAAGHH! We'll show you the might of the Big Emperor!" Franky yelled as he then raised the right arm. Usopp then threw out his Kabuto slingshot, and later caught it with grace. Colorful electricity then formed around the Big Emperor as Zoro took a step forward, allowing Franky to face Giga Bowser from his right side. Franky moved his right arm in a circle, gathering the electricity into Usopp's slingshot as he pulled back the elastic band of it, and aimed at Giga Bowser, who started to run towards him.

"Special attack ready!" Chopper exclaimed with eyes sparkling.

"We're at maximum power! We're ready to fire!" Usopp exclaimed.

"Yooooossshhhh! BIG EMPEROR; SUPAA POWER ARROW!" Franky released the band, firing a gigantic, rainbow-colored arrow that exploded upon making contact with Giga Bowser. Nami watched in awe as it turns out that Franky's tactics successfully worked afterall.

"RAAAAAAAAAAAAGHHHH!" But from out of the blue, Giga Bowser came out of the explosion, and delivered a straight jab into Franky.

"Guaaahh!" Franky was blown off of Zoro and Sanji's shoulders as he, Usopp, and Chopper crashed into the rubble behind them.

"THAT DIDN'T DO ANYTHING AT ALL!" Nami exclaimed with a furious expression, and with sharp teeth.

Zoro got out his swords again, blushing a little bit from what just happen, "Damn it… making me do something so stupid! I'm never doing that again!"

"Me too! I'll just fight the guy in my own way from now on!" Sanji said as he and Zoro went off to brawl with Giga Bowser. Franky, and his team were upset that their strategy didn't work, especially that it wasn't truly complete.

"Damn it, you two! If you have joined us, that turtle would've fallen onto his knees, begging for mercy by now!" Franky yelled while laying on the rubble.

"Why didn't you help us! Why!" Chopper cried.

"You cowards! All our hardwork has gone to waste because of you!" Usopp exclaimed.

Robin simply glared at Giga Bowser, trying to forget about pirates docking 6 formation, "Just don't ever do that docking again." Robin said, mildly angry. Franky, Usopp, and Chopper then rose up from the rubble, with their arms raised in fury.

"I'm really pissed off about this! I had a good idea, and you two ruined it!" Franky yelled while Usopp and Chopper screamed beside him, "Because of that, King turtle over there is going to get what's coming to him!"

"Whatever!" Nami replied as there were several dark clouds around her, "Atleast you distracted him long enough so I can make these clouds. I just need to use them at the right time." While Nami waited for something, Zoro and Sanji were fighting off Giga Bowser alone.

"HUUUAAAGHH!" Zoro and Sanji attacked Giga Bowser from both sides, performing multiple slashes and kicks at him, but Giga Bowser retaliated by attacking back with his claws, parrying Zoro and Sanji's attack one swipe at a time. Zoro then strafed towards Giga Bowser's front side, and threw a spiral cutting wave at Giga Bowser's belly. Giga Bowser got hit by the wave as Sanji then ran up the wall, and jumped off of it to deliver a flying kick straight into Giga Bowser's cheek.

"Graaagaaaghh!" Giga Bowser fought back by pushing his head towards Sanji while Sanji's foot was still pushing his cheek, knocking Sanji back in midair, as Giga Bowser then lowered his stance, and threw a lower uppercut at Zoro.

"Gr!" Zoro leaped sideways, clashing his swords against Giga Bowser's attacking arm as it went by, causing the blade to release sparks in the process. Zoro then landed on his feet, and held his blades horizontally, "HIRAMEKI!" Zoro swung his blades sideways at Giga Bowser, but missed as Giga Bowser did a side flip, jumped off the wall beside him, and fell towards Zoro with a flying elbow attack. "Whoa!" Zoro leaped out of the way, while Nami suddenly threw part of her PCT at the falling beast.

"Now! THUNDER COMET TEMPO!" The dark clouds around Nami suddenly released a long lightning bolt that struck over the flying adjacent staff, covering it with a ball of electricity as it then struck Giga Bowser hard in the gut. Giga Bowser didn't flinch at this, but it did turn him over his back at the ground, as Franky rushed in, and leaped over Giga Bowser while doing several flips.

"HEN TAI! FRANKY KENTAROUS!" Franky's leg split open from the front as he then placed his feet on Giga Bowser's gut, and raised his steel arm up high, "Grrrr! ULTIMATE HAMMER!" Franky slammed his steel fist into Giga Bowser's gut right before Giga Bowser crashed hard into the ground, creating a blue shockwave that the crew avoided by jumping away.

"Oi, watch it! That almost got us!" Sanji scolded.

Suddenly, Giga Bowser raised his head to look at Franky, who gasped as Giga Bowser was about to breathe fire at him, and he didn't had much time to dodge. "Whuh!"

"CINCUENTA FLEUR!" Robin sprouted multiple arms from the ground underneath Giga Bowser's head, as they wrapped themselves around the beast's mouth, preventing him from breathing fire as the arms also pulled Giga Bowser's head back. Franky got off of Giga Bowser while he had the chance, while Sanji then leaped above Giga Bowser's face, and flew towards him.

"BROCHETTE!" Sanji spun like a drill with his leg facing down at Giga Bowser's face, but Giga Bowser suddenly hid into his shell, breaking free from the sprouted arms' grip as Sanji landed on the ground instead.

"RAAAAAAAGHHHH!" Giga Bowser then started spinning in his shell with his spikes on the ground, creating a violent tremor as the spikes were releasing currents of electricity across the floor as well.

"Ahhh!" Robin cried as her sprouted arms got shocked by the electric current before she collapsed on her knees.

"Gah! Robin-chan!" Sanji cried as he too got shocked by the electrical current. The crew helped her up as they stood on the rubble around the floor where it was safe. Usopp gulped nervously watching Giga Bowser spin, and aimed at him.

"It probably won't do much, but I have to help my comrades! HISSATSU KATAKI BOSHI!" Usopp fired several explosive pellets into the opening of Giga Bowser's shell as it spins. They all managed to get inside as they exploded consecutively from within. Usopp fired more and more pellets as Giga Bowser was starting to slow down, causing the electrical current on the floor to disappear.

"My turn!" Chopper yelled as he galloped towards Giga Bowser in his walk point, and turned into his arm point as he pulled his hooves back, "KOKUTEI CROSS!" Chopper thrusted his hooves, and slammed them into Giga Bowser's shell in the opposite way it was spinning. Chopper then got out of the way as the shell slightly spun towards where Chopper struck him just now, causing Giga Bowser to come out of his shell, but the sudden exposure made him nearly lost his balance as he was balancing on one foot again.

"You finally showed you're ugly face again, huh!" Sanji snarled as he rushed towards a big chunk of rubble, and kicked towards Giga Bowser, "Eat this!"

The rubble flew towards Giga Bowser like a meteor, but Giga Bowser regained his balance, and caught the rubble with his sharp teeth before crunching it into little pieces. It was then that Giga Bowser fired several fireballs at the crew, who avoided as much as they could the fireballs were engulfing the walls around the room.

"This is getting more troublesome than it was before!" Zoro yelled as he dashed at Giga Bowser, and delivered a double upper slash across his body. Giga Bowser countered with a lower left hook, but Zoro back flipped to avoid, and later jumped on Giga Bowser's attacking arm, "TATSU MAKI!" Zoro spun with his swords, creating a tornado of cutting that repeatedly struck Giga Bowser up across his chin. While Giga Bowser was distracted, Nami retrieved the parts of her PCT, and puts them back together before charging at Bowser from the side.

"HEAT CHARGE! FIRE SPEAR TEMPO!" Nami ignited the end of her staff with a blazing cutting tip, and was about to thrust it into Giga Bowser's foot, but Giga Bowser shifted his eyes at her, and delivered a lower, but swift side kick, kicking Nami off her feet as she tumbled backwards across the ground, "Ahh!"

"ROOOOOOARRR!" Giga Bowser then swiftly pulled back his arm that Zoro was standing on, knocking Zoro in midair as Giga Bowser then grabbed him with both hands, squeezed him to weaken him for a bit, and did a front backflip while holding Zoro, attempting to body slam him onto the floor.

"CIEN FLEUR!" Robin sprouted several arms from the floor, pulling Zoro out of Giga Bowser's grasp as the arms then formed into a pillar, "COLUMN SPIKE!" Giga Bowser crashed into the pillar, with his gut taking most of the damage as his limbs limplessly moved closer to the ground.

Robin also felt injured from the arms holding up Giga Bowser as she then casted away the arms, allowing Giga Bowser to fall on the ground, but to her surprise, Giga Bowser managed to land on his hands and feet. Giga Bowser growled as he then breaths out fire at her, but Chopper came to her rescue by scooping up from her feet in his Heavy point, and ran out of the fire's range, but Giga Bowser turned his head to breath fire towards the two. "STRONG RIGHT!" Franky then came out of nowhere, and launched his right arm directly into Giga Bowser's left eye, which made Giga Bowser lose focus as he breathed out fire in another direction.

While being carried, Robin crossed her limbs, sprouting some arms around Giga Bowser's mouth, "VEINTE FLEUR, SHOCK!" the arms slammed their fists hard on Giga Bowser's mouth, causing it to shut while the beast was still breathing out fire. This made Giga Bowser to cringe for once as he staggered back, while the arms around his mouth disappeared.

"Now you're mine!" Sanji yelled as he did multiple front flips and cartwheels before leaping at Giga Bowser from behind. "ANTI-MANNER KICK COURSE!" Sanji delivered a powerful, flying straight kick into Giga Bowser's back between his spikes. Giga Bowser was knocked off his feet as he crashed through the blazing wall in front of him, making another big hole in the wall like before, but this time, he dugged his left nails into the ledge of the floor to prevent being knocked away from the tower. Giga Bowser then pulled himself into the floor, and did a spinning punch, which Sanji barely avoided by doing a backflip. Giga Bowser then took a step forward, and delivered a straight punch into Sanji before he finished his flip.

"SANJI!" Chopper cried as Sanji was bursted into dark flames upon getting hit, and crashed into the blazing wall behind him, before he collapsed on his hands and knees. Chopper then grew furious as he puts down Robin to safety, and then charged at Giga Bowser while turning into his horn point form, "I'm going to make you pay for that! ROSEO COLLONADE!" Chopper raised his sharp horns close to Giga Bowser, but missed as Giga Bowser leaned back to avoid. "Gah!" Giga Bowser then grabbed Chopper with both hands, and raised him up above his head, ready to piledrive Chopper's head into the floor.

"Damn it! Don't attack him carelessly!" Zoro yelled as he charged at Giga Bowser, and ran up his chest, "HIRAMEKI!" Zoro swords across Giga Bowser's vision, making him lose his focus for a bit as Zoro then leaped over Giga Bowser's hands, "HYOU KINDAMA!" Zoro spinned with his swords, repeatedly slashing Giga Bowser's fingers, causing the beat to let go of Chopper as he then fell.

"Th-Thank you, Zoro!" Chopper said in relief while falling. But Giga Bowser then retaliated by slapping Chopper's body hard into the ground, "GAAAH!"

"Chopper!" Zoro cried as Giga Bowser swiftly leaped into the air beside Zoro, and hits him hard with his tail, "GUUAAGH!" Zoro got hit pretty hard as he crashed into the wall, and collapsed over Sanji, who hasn't recovered from getting hit before.

"Damn it! Stop hurting our friends!" Usopp yelled while aiming at Bowser in midair, "SANREN HIMAWARI BOSHI!" Usopp fired fifteen explosive pellets, firing five pellets at each shot as they took shape of three pentagon patterns formed into a row as the consecutively exploded on Giga Bowser in midair. Giga Bowser retaliated by firing a big fireball at Usopp, which exploded in the ground in front of him, and tumbled backwards across the ground. "Aaaaagh!"

"Usopp!" Nami cried until she gritted her teeth in anger, "We can't get beaten like this! CLOUDY TEMPO!" Nami pointed her PCT at the ground as it created a cloud around the floor instead of in the air like she usually does. The cloud spreaded around the ground in front of Giga Bowser, who just landed on his feet as Nami then released several cool balls into the cloud. "ICY FLOOR TEMPO!" The cloud then dispersed revealing that most of the ground was covered in ice. Giga Bowser had no room to get over the ice as Nami then shifted her eyes at Robin, "Robin, push him!"

"Okay! TREINTA FLEUR!" Robin sprouted several arms on the ground behind Giga Bowser, and pushed him with great force, causing him to fall on the ice as he slipped forward across it.

"Franky, hit him again!" Nami yelled.

"Gotcha!" Franky yelled as Giga Bowser was slipping towards him. Franky connected his arms into his tube again, and aimed at Giga Bowser while his arms were inflating, "I'll make sure you won't come flying back like last time! COUP DE VENT!" Franky an immense current of air at Giga Bowser, who quickly clawed through the icey floor, and took in the air head on. The air was slightly pushing Giga Bowser back, but Giga Bowser fought on as he then started to push the air current back, overpowering it's force until it was over. "H-He took the whole thing in!" Franky gasped as his hair fell out of place. Giga Bowser then made a quick leap, punching Franky before falling on his chest again. "GIIYAAAAHHH!"

Franky soured across the room before crashing into the wall behind him, and collapsing on his chest afterwards. Nami and Robin were in shock to see that they're losing. They then came back to their senses as they saw Giga Bowser standing up, and looking down towards them.

"R-R-Robin! We need to… !" Nami couldn't finish her sentence as Giga Bowser then hid into his shell, and started spinning in circles, creating a blizzard around him that blew all over the main floor, freezing up the fires on the walls, and covering the floor with some snow as well. "Yaaaaaaah!" Nami, Robin, and the whole crew were blown by this breezing wave as Giga Bowser then stopped spinning, causing the crew to fall down.

"O-OCHENTA FLEUR! SPIDER NET!" Robin groggily sprouted multiple arms from the frozen walls in the main floor as they formed into a net, catching Robin and the crew without fail. Unfortunately, due to the cold, Robin could barely keep her sprouted arms in play, and before she could gently lower her comrades to safety, Giga Bowser came to them, lifting a big debris over his head. "Tsk!" Robin was a little weak to defend herself as Giga Bowser lowered the debris onto her and her comrades.

"HISSATSU HINATORI BOSHI!" Usopp fired a flaming phoenix at Giga Bowser as it exploded upon making impact on the debris he was holding. Chunks of flaming debris rained over Giga Bowser's head as Nami then raised up her PCT.

"CYCLONE TEMPO!" Nami threw part of her PCT directly towards Giga Bowser as it released a current of air that blew rubble around the beast in several directions before the parts hit Giga Bowser in the forehead. Some pebbles from the burning rubble also flew into Giga Bowser's eyes, causing him to squint, showing signs of fatigue upon as he took some steps back to recover, giving the rest of the crew the time to regain their senses.

"Uoohh, ah!" Sanji groaned as he, and the rest of the guys were getting up, "What happened? Ugh, and why is it so cold all of a sudden?"

"No time to talk! Hurry, get moving!" Usopp panicked while waving his arms up and down. Robin was able to focus clearly again as the sprouted arms that were holding her, and her comrades lowered them gently to the floor while Bowser was still distracted. The arms disappeared as Robin panted heavily before getting up.

"I don't think we can stay alive if this battle keeps going." Robin said while holding her stomach.

"Yeah, I'm sick of this guy pushing us around." Sanji said with a snarl. Franky replaced the empty cola bottles inside his stomach with new ones, regaining his energy afterwards while Nami went to retrieve the parts of her staff from the ground in front of her. The crew were now ready to face Giga Bowser again, who growled as he noticed them once more, and started panting.

"He's getting tired. This is our chance to bring him down." Zoro said bluntly, "We can't afford to mess this up! Let's show him why he can't lay a finger on our captain, and get away with it!"

The crew nodded determinedly as Giga Bowser then charged towards the group, "Scatter!" Sanji yelled as the group ran in several directions, while Sanji ran straight towards Giga Bowser, "COLLIER SHOOT!" Sanji thrusted his leg towards Giga Bowser's gut, but missed as Giga Bowser sidestepped to avoid. Giga Bowser was about to counter with a lower right hook, but Chopper sprunged towards the beast's arm in his arm point form.

"KOKUTEI ROSEO MICHIERI!" Chopper thrusted his hooves forward, repeatedly hitting Giga Bowser's bicep in less than second. The force of all those strikes combined managed to push Giga Bowser's attacking arm back, leaving the beast wide open as Chopper then ran towards Sanji, "Sanji, give me a boost!"

"You got it!" Sanji yelled as he then does a backflip, with Chopper jumping onto his feet in the midpoint of his flip, "ARMY DE L'AIR, KOKUTEI ROSEO SHOOT!" Sanji propelled Chopper forward with the force of his legs, as Chopper soured across the room, and carved his hoove directly into Giga Bowser's gut, leaving a humongous hoove print in the process.

"RRRAAAGGHHH!" Due to recieving massive damage during the start of the battle, Giga Bowser was finally reacting to the pain as he staggered back upon getting hit.

"Ow! If you think that hurt, wait 'till you feel this!" Franky yelled while connecting his arms to his tube, and faced his back at Giga Bowser,

"COUP DE BARGE!" Franky released a strong current of air from his tube, which blew him into the air as he then did a flying shoulder barge across Giga Bowser's jaw. Giga Bowser was dazed as the force of the blow caused him to spin around in one foot.

He manage to regain his balance, but still felt a little dazed as Giga Bowser's vision was getting blurry. "Ooooii! Bowser!" Usopp yelled in front of him while standing on a pile of rubber, "What's the matter? You can't fight? I should have known from the start. I, Captain Usopp, was always the stronger guy." Usopp said with a cocky smirk, obviously lying as he then sticked out his tongue, "You can't even beat an ant in that useless form! If you really want to beat us, why don't you come after me? Or are you just big chicken without feathers? Haaa ha ha ha ha ha!"

Giga Bowser grew furious as he charged towards Usopp, even though his vision was blurry, "Oooh, the big baby got bwery angwry!" Usopp said in a taunting as he tapped his butt at Giga Bowser, "Let's go, put all your strength into here! I doubt you can do it, though, since you're such a loser! Nyaaa, nya nya, nyaa, nyaaaa!"

Giga Bowser jumped, and delivered a flying drop kick at Usopp, kicking away the pile of rubble he stood on, and the entire frozen wall that was behind him. The walls of the main floor were now gone as Giga Bowser stood up, and looked over the ledge to see if Usopp fell off the tower. What Giga Bowser didn't know was that he actually attacked a mirage of Usopp Nami made hiding behind some rubble next to the beast, as the real Usopp jumped behind another pile of rubble, and aimed for Giga Bowser's eye.

"I'm right here! HISSATSU KAEN SUISEI!" Usopp fired four blazing pellets that converged together before exploding into flames upon making impact to Giga Bowser's eye. Giga Bowser growled in pain as he staggered back while rubbing his eyes continously. He was so hurt, he didn't notice Zoro approaching him slowly.

"NITORYU IAI!" Zoro sheathed his swords, and ran through Giga Bowser while drawing them out in a blink of an eye, and sheathed them again while standing on his knees behind Giga Bowser. "RASHOUMON!"

Giga Bowser raised his head in sheer pain as long, and mildly deep cuts were formed on his shoulders and legs, with blood dripping from them as well. Giga Bowser was losing consciousness as he could barely stand, while Nami just stared before making a big heat ball.

"I haven't forgetten that day when you kidnapped me!" Nami said angrily before gritting her teeth, "It's payback time! Robin, throw them up!"

Robin had her limbs crossed as she had sprouted multiple arms on the outer wall from the tower, and they were holding rubble from the walls Giga Bowser knocked down earlier. "Here they come!" Robin said as the arms tossed the rubble back over the main floor. The rubble flew down towards the giant heatball as the crew backed away before Nami pointed at Giga Bowser with her PCT.

"Today's forecast, expect a meteor shower! HEAT METEOR TEMPO!" The rubble went through the giant heat ball, gathering it's flames as they rained down towards Giga Bowser like an actual meteor shower.

The meteors crashed violently at Giga Bowser and at his surroundings, as the beast was knocked off his feet, and then crashed hard on his back before tumbling onto his chest. He was losing consciousness as his eyelids slowly closed shut.

The crew gathered around him, and could see that they were victorious. "Yes, we did it this time! We won!" Usopp exclaimed while Chopper jumped up and down with joy.

"It's finally over…" Nami sighed in relief.

They thought they had this match won… but they didn't.

Giga Bowser was still moving as he got up on his hands and knees. The crew backed away immediately after seeing this.

"He's still up! How much more can this guy take!" Franky asked in shock. The crew then noticed something different about Giga Bowser as they could feel a dark aura coming from him.

"Oi… what's going on with his eyes?" Usopp asked nervously as he, and the crew could see Giga Bowser's eyes glowing purple with rage.

Meanwhile…

"JET STAMP!" Luffy stretched his leg at Xemnas, who avoided by sidestepping, and retaliated by trying to slash Luffy's leg, but before he could swing his blade, Luffy already pulled his leg back the way it was, "JET PISTOL!" Luffy stretched his arm to attack Xemnas again, but Xemnas sidestepped while spinning his body to avoid, as he then warped in front of Luffy with some spinning slashes, which Luffy avoided by running by underneath Xemnas' blades. Luffy then leaped and turned towards Xemnas while stretching his leg to the side, "JET WHIP!" Luffy swung his stretched leg at Xemnas from behind, but missed as Xemnas back flipped to avoid, and flew above Luffy while facing his palms at him.

"Bind!" Xemnas shot some thorns at Luffy, who moved his body around in midair to avoid.

"JET PISTOL!" Luffy stretched his arm through the horns, and into Xemnas' face, knocking him higher in the air. Xemnas grunted in pain as Luffy stretched both his arms, and grabbed Xemnas by his shoulder, "JET MISSILE!" Luffy sprung himself towards Xemnas like a missile, but Xemnas acted quickly by spinning his body around, twisting Luffy's arms around each other, causing Luffy to spin uncontrollably as Luffy flew pass Xemnas. "Whoa! Whoa!" Luffy yelled before Xemnas swung his aerial blade across his gut before he flew by completely. "Ahh!"

As Luffy spiralled across the air, Xemnas flew after from around the sides, shooting several red beams at him in the process. Some of the beams struck Luffy, causing him to lose more control of himself as he then tumbled forwardly across the floor, until he then sprung up on his hands and feet while skidding slowly across the ground, and turned towards the incoming beams. "Hurragh!" Luffy zipped through the beams with ease, and charged towards the floor where Xemnas was about to land on.

"Ha ha ha!" Xemnas laughed as he leaped back to avoid Luffy's fist, and kept doing jumping back while Luffy repeatedly stretched his arms at him constantly. "Begone!" Xemnas shot out two spark bombs at Luffy, who instantly leaped through the bombs before they exploded, and flew towards Xemnas.

"JET KANE!" Luffy stretched his neck back, ready to deliver Xemnas a quick devestating headbutt.

"SPARK DOME!" Xemnas spreads his arms, creating a dome of energy around himself, which appeared to be an advanced version of his 'Spark wall', as Luffy lowered his head onto the dome, creating an invisible force that nearly destroyed the dome entirely.

"Uuagh!" The recoil, however, was too much for Luffy as he staggered back while holding his head dazedly. Xemnas then dashed forward, and crossed his blades across Luffy's chest, knocking Luffy off his feet, "Ow!"

Xemnas then warped over Luffy, and was about to shoot some thorns at him, but Luffy caught his palm, and pulled back his free hand to punch Xemnas across the face, "Gugh!" Xemnas grunted as Luffy as the punch caused his body to spin right after Luffy released his palm.

"JET YARI!" Luffy stretched his legs right up against Xemnas back, sending him sky high as he limplessly soured up into the air. Luffy then flipped back onto the ground, and charged up his arms before Xemnas could crash into the ground, "JET CANNON!" When Xemnas was close, Luffy jumped, and thrusted his charged into Xemnas, hitting the nobody with full force. But to lessen the blow, Xemnas casted a spark wall beside him to block Luffy's attack as he was then propelled backwards while receiving only half the damage. "Eh! Cheater!"

While souring across the air, Xemnas fired some red beams at Luffy from afar, but they didn't do much as Luffy evaded the incoming beams while trying to catch up to Xemnas. Xemnas landed on his hand before flipping back onto his feet, as Luffy then rushed towards him with while stretching his arm back, "JET BULLET!"

Xemnas lowered his head to avoid the fist, and as he regained his posture, he countered with a sidekick to Luffy's face, staggering Luffy back as Xemnas flew towards him with a flying kick, "FUUSEN!" Luffy inflated his gut, taking in Xemnas' kick as the Nobody got bounced off, and was sent airborne again. Luffy turned away, and released the air from his mouth as he flew towards Xemnas with great speed. Once Luffy released all the air, he turned towards Xemnas while stretching both his arms back, "JET BAZOOKA!" Luffy thrusted his palms into Xemnas, but was shocked as Xemnas avoided the attack by clinging onto Luffy right before Luffy thrusted his palms forward. "Ugh!"

"Die!" Xemnas warpped along with Luffy, and appeared up high in the center of the realm, where Xemnas brought Luffy all the way down as the Nobody piledrived Luffy's head into the invisible floor.

"Gyeeeghh!" Luffy grunted in pain as Xemnas warped back, and slashed through Luffy's body before Luffy could react. "Eh!" Luffy was knocked into the air as Xemnas zig-zagged across the ground after him before leaping towards him with a spinning heel attack. "Dah!" Luffy caught Xemnas' leg, and flipped him over in midair, "JET PISTOL!" Luffy stretched his arm towards Xemnas in close range, but Xemnas warped away to avoid quickly, and reappeared below him.

"AERIAL SHOT!" Xemnas spins rapidly with his aerial blades above his head, doing multiple slashes in every direction afterwards as he headed up towards Luffy. Luffy used his legs to kick back Xemnas, but only ended up getting slashed several times around his ankles, and was later knocked away soon afterwards.

"Ah!" Luffy cried as when he started falling down, Xemnas turned, and flew downwards at Luffy while still slashing his blades around himself. Luffy gritted his teeth as he quickly stretched his and twisted both his arms back before thrusting them forward at Xemnas, "TWIN JET RIFLE!"

Luffy untwisted his arms directly towards Xemnas, hitting him so hard that the nobody stopped spinning with his aerial blades entirely. "Yaaah!" Luffy then kicked Xemnas across the chin before landing on the ground, knocking Xemnas up high as the Nobody retaliated as he remained floating in midair.

"This is not over yet, Monkey D. Luffy! This test has yet to come to a close!" Xemnas yelled as he then shot out some black orbs into the floor, darkening it to make it look visible as the whole floor was now black.

"Gah!" Luffy gasped as the parts of the floor were now releasing multiple black and white thorns into the air, and remained there as part of the realm. "Yikes!" Luffy then started running, avoiding the thorns as they were being released several times behind him, and his surroundings.

The more Luffy ran, the more difficult it was for him to avoid the thorns as they kept appearing all over the place. Luffy kept running as one of the thorns left a scratch on his arm as he ran by. "Ah! That's it!" Luffy quickly stretched his arms to grab one of the thorns over him, and despite feeling the pain he received by touching them, he sprung himself out of the thorn trap, and was now safe in the air for a short amount of time. "Black coat guy! Where are you!"

"Right here!" Xemnas replied as he kept warping around Luffy, making him feel dizzy as the Nobody then fired several red beams at him in the process.

"Ow! Ow! Ow!" Luffy got shot by the beams from every direction, and he couldn't do much to avoid them since he was in the air. Inspite of this, Luffy remained focus, and stretched his arm repeatedly at Xemnas, but kept missing as Xemnas was warping even faster. Xemnas then slashed across Luffy's back, before kicking him down to the thorn trap below with his heel. "Yaaahh!" Luffy cried as he then went through several thorns, until he then stretched his arms up to grab some thorns above him before falling into the ground, and sprung up into the air again as he flew towards Xemnas, "JET VOLCANO!" Luffy stretched his leg up high towards Xemnas, but Xemnas warped away in the nick of time to avoid.

"Rage! You need more rage to win!" Xemnas replied while reappearing besides Luffy, and slashed him across his arm. Luffy cried in pain as Xemnas then warped below Luffy, and flew up towards him with his aerial blades extended, slashing Luffy a bit as he flew by.

"Ah! Damn it!" Luffy grunted as Xemnas then warped in front of him, and shot some thorns at him from his palm, "JET WHIP!" Luffy stretched his leg, and swung it through the horns, and kicked Xemnas across his chest. Xemnas grunted as he soured sideways in the air, while Luffy took in a deep breath to inflate his stomach, and released the air behind him to fly over to where Xemnas is going.

"JET YARI!" Luffy stretched both of his legs at Xemnas, who warped to get away, and reappeared in front of Luffy to slash him, but Luffy kicked his aerial blades back, and then stretched his arms back, "JET BAZOOKA!"

Luffy slammed his palms into Xemnas' chest, blowing the Nobody to the other side of the realm, "Guh!" Xemnas grunted in pain as Luffy then stretched, and twisted his arms around eachother before grabbing Xemnas by his feet. Then while still in midair, Luffy turned, and swunged Xemnas over his shoulder while untwisting his arms, spinning Xemnas multiple times as well.

"JET HAMMER!" Luffy slammed Xemnas right through the thorn field, causing the thorns where Xemnas crashed through to disappear afterwards. Luffy then landed on the ground where Xemnas fell, and looked around to see that Xemnas was no longer in sight again.

"Huaahh!" Luffy turned around to see Xemnas cutting through some thorns, and slashed at Luffy repeatedly, who took several steps back to avoid the slashes. "AERIAL ILLUSION!" Xemnas crossed his arms in front of his face before he disappeared into thin air, and only kept his aerial blades visible. Luffy blinked in confusion as the aerial blades suddenly attacked him from his surroundings, doing multiple vertical, horizontal, and diagonal slashes in the process. Luffy covered his face with his forearm to prevent getting slashed in the face, as he was also getting tired in staying in gear second form for too long.

"Herrraaaghh!" Luffy then made a quick leap into the air, with the aerial blades following as Luffy then twisted his body around itself in less than a second, "JET HANABI!" Luffy untwisted himself, stretching his fists and legs in every direction, hitting everything that was close, including Xemnas, who returned visible as he got hit by Luffy's attack.

"Grrr!" Xemnas grunted before crashing into the center of the invisible floor, destroying some thorns in the process. After Luffy finished his attack, he took another deep breath to inflate his stomach, and released the air behind him, so he can fly over the center of the floor.

"GOMU GOMU NO…" Luffy pulled back his arms as he fell towards the center of the floor where Xemnas is, "JET GATLING!" Luffy repeatedly threw his fists downward at the floor with such incredible speed, his arms turned invisible. "HIYAAAAAAAAHHH!" Luffy yelled as he kept punching, and punching the ground as he was also punching the thorns that were around the center, making the area in the center more freely to walk upon without worrying about the thorns. This kept on going on for a little while longer, until Luffy grew exhausted, and finally landed in the center of the floor, where there were no longer any thorns, other than the ones far off from the center.

Luffy panted heavily as his fists were covered in his blood due to punching through the sharp thorns. He then fell on one knee as his body returned to the way it originally was. He gritted his teeth as he then got up, until his eyes widened as he then turned around, and caught Xemnas aerial blade with his hands, preventing Xemnas from slashing him. "Daaaahhhh!"

"Pathetic." Xemnas muttered before kicking Luffy in the chest, causing him to fall on his back. Luffy panted before stretching his arm towards Xemnas, but since Luffy was no longer in his gear second form, his arm moved much slower, allowing Xemnas to easily dodge by moving his head to side, and countered by kicking Luffy across the face.

"Guahyaghah!" Luffy tumbled back before landing on his elbows and knees as Xemnas raised his left aerial blade to thrust it through Luffy's head, but missed as Luffy sat up on his knees to avoid, "GOMU GOMU NO BAKU BAKU!" Luffy opened his mouth wide open, and bites Xemnas in the legs, causing Xemnas to cry in pain. Luffy then grabbed hold of Xemnas' left arm with one hand as Xemnas slashed constantly across Luffy's back to make him back away.

"No matter how ridiculous your tactics are; you won't win!" Xemnas yelled as he then formed a small spark bomb from his free palm, and pushed it up against Luffy's cheek, "SPARK BOMB!"

The spark bomb expanded a bit, hitting Luffy with dark energy as this caused him to slowly let go of Xemnas arm. But suddenly, Luffy regained his grip, and stopped biting Xemnas' legs before he sticked out his tongue in disgust. "Why don't you shut up for once!" Luffy asked as he then threw Xemnas over his after getting up on his feet. Xemnas managed to land perfectly on the ground after being thrown, as Luffy then charged at while throwing multiple fists at him. "GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!" Xemnas easily avoided this attack like the last time as he then started laughing.

"Ha ha ha! You continue to amaze me, Monkey D. Luffy." Xemnas said while avoiding Luffy's barrage of fists, "But are you sure you can go on with your silly task to stop Obscurum if you somehow manage to beat me?" Xemnas then thrusted his right aerial blade at Luffy, who ducked to avoid, and countered by kicking Xemnas' arm away, knocking Xemnas a little off balance as Luffy then threw a fist at him, but Xemnas blocked Luffy's attack with his forearms.

"Of course, I can!" Luffy replied to Xemnas before uppercutting Xemnas' forearms away before swinging his leg at him, which Xemnas avoided by jumping back, "Me and my crew can do anything if we can do it together! That's how it has been from the start!"

"I am aware of that!" Xemnas replied, "But what if they fall at the hands of Bowser? What would you do then?"

"They won't lose against that guy! I know they can beat him!" Luffy yelled as he charged at Xemnas while stretching his arms back. Xemnas realized that Luffy was going to thrust his palms at him, so he warped to the side to get away, but what he was wrong as Luffy swung his stretched arm, and managed to wrap it around Xemnas neck.

"Geh!" Xemnas gasped as Luffy then pulled the Nobody towards himself while winding up his other arm.

"GOMU GOMU NO…" When Xemnas was close, Luffy threw his winded fist at him, "HEADSHOT!" Luffy drove his bloody fist directly into Xemnas' face, leaving some of his blood on him in the process.

"GUUGGHH!" Xemnas was blown back afterwards as he tumbled back repeatedly across the invisible floor before crashing right through the field of thorns behind him, making some of the disappear after crashing into them. Luffy remained silent as he didn't see Xemnas getting up after that.

"… I was surprised that Bowser appeared in Obscurum." Xemnas said before he sat up, despite Luffy's blood dripping from his face. Luffy didn't say anything as Xemnas got up from the field of thorns, showing his attire has multiple cuts on them. "Who knew he had such a vendetta against you? I sensed his heart was filled with rage by the time he appeared. His anger is just as equally as powerful as yours." Xemnas then smirked, "But I felt that his power was unbalanced. The way you use your hatred to try and defeat me is also unbalanced; your body couldn't handle that much power for a long period of time. If you continue to use your anger in that method, you will end up killing yourself, therefore, if Bowser has the same problem as you do, then he too might kill himself if he were to fight your crew in that condition."

"I don't really care what you say." Luffy replied bluntly, "And my crew will beat that big dragon-turtle guy. I'm sure they've already beaten him by now."

"I doubt that." Xemnas said with a chuckle, "You see, when he expressed his anger towards you and your crew, that glowing object in your pocket was reacting to his words. It grew stronger by the second, and I had to put in Bowser before you would've defeated him easily. It's thanks to me, he has power, and he will become a great asset to this world as well."

"What?" Luffy asked curiously.

"When I placed that object into his heart, I also added a little something more to it." Xemnas said while smirking as he raised his hand, which conducted dark electricity, "As a ruler of this world, it was my duty to recruit many dark-hearted people as I can… so what I added into that object you had… was an Obscurum tear." Xemnas then swayed his arm to the side, "Thanks to the power of Obscurum, I transformed Bowser into an Aterneco, and with that extra power, he will destroy your crew without fail!"

Luffy's eyes widened in shock, before he furiously charged at Xemnas, "You bastard!"

Meanwhile…

The crew slowly backed away from Giga Bowser, keeping their distance from him as a dark aura emitted around his body. "This energy… I've felt this somewhere before." Zoro said while gritting his teeth.

"It shouldn't even be standing anymore." Sanji snarled, "And I can feel a deadly vibe from him. It's like those creatures we fought back in town."

"W-Wait! What does that mean!" Chopper asked.

Before anyone could answer, Giga Bowser growled louder than before, as the dark aura around him grew even stronger, creating a gust of wind that nearly knocked the Strawhat crew off their feet. "Whoa!" The crew held on to their surroundings to prevent the gust blowing them off the tower, as Giga Bowser then raised his hands, creating purple electricity from his palms as it shot out far up from the tower, and rained down to the surface below.

The electricity coursed the entire area of the castle as an earthquake suddenly arose. The castle gates were suddenly falling to pieces, and were magically flying up towards the tower. Not only that, but the castle was also raised from the ground as it was also tearing itself apart into little pieces. The only thing that remained on the floor was the tower as the rubble from the castle and the gates circles around the main floor, shocking the crew as they couldn't believe what they were seeing.

"The castle is… gone! How is this happening!" Nami gasped.

"Th-Th-Th-This is cannot be happening! It's like we're in a nightmare!" Usopp yelled while his hands on his head.

"Waaaaaaaaahhhh! What do we do!" Chopper cried while his eyes popped out from his head upon seeing such a scene. The rest of the crew were just as shocked, but kept their guard up as the rubble suddenly piled up next to the ledges of the main floor they were on.

"Now what!" Sanji asked.

All the flying rubble were piling up next to each other, increasing the area of the main floor. The rubble then magically blended into each other, making a brand new floor around the main floor as the chunkier rubble formed into big boulders that floated in the air. The rubble beyond the new floor then formed into brick-like walls, and the rubble between the walls and the floor melted into purple lava. Giga Bowser roared as he and the crew were now in some kind of arena, made out of everything that the dark castle, and it's gates had.

"… I don't understand this! Since when could Bowser make something like this!" Franky asked.

"Damn it! It seems he had more power left in him than we hoped!" Nami said while gritting her teeth, "Let's get at him one more time! I know we can beat him!"

"Uuughhh! This is never going to end!" Usopp cried as he then faced towards Giga Bowser, but gasped when he didn't see the beast there, "Oi, where did he go!"

Zoro was looking down, noticing a big shadow over him and his comrades. He looked up to see Giga Bowser, falling down towards the crew rear-first. "GET OUT OF THE WAY!" Zoro yelled. Everyone else realized Giga Bowser was coming, and quickly jumped away in different directions, before Giga Bowser planted his rear into the center of the arena, creating a strong shockwave that knocked the crew away even further. The crew tumbled backwards across the arena, with Chopper nearly falling into the purple lava if Robin hadn't sprouted an arm from where he was, and pulled him back from his pants to prevent him from going over the ledge.

The crew groggily regain their posture as Giga Bowser roared, before firing several dark fireballs at all his surroundings. "Look out, Robin!" Chopper got in front of Robin while turning into his arm point, and faced towards the dark fireball. "KOKUTEI ROSEO!" Chopper thrusted his hoove through the fireball, splitting it into as they flew pass him and Robin.

"WEAPONS LEFT!" Franky shot several blasts at the dark fireballs that were coming his way, with Usopp helping him by shooting several explosive pellets at them as well. Zoro slashed through several fireballs that were in his way, while Nami readied her PCT.

"CYCLONE TEMPO!" Nami threw adjacent parts of her staff to the fire balls, blowing them off in several directions, making an opening as Sanji then ran ahead, and charged at Giga Bowser, along with Zoro.

"Slash him hard this time! We can't afford to hold back!" Sanji yelled.

"Speak for yourself!" Zoro replied as he ran ahead towards Giga Bowser, who faced towards Zoro, "ONI GIRI!" Zoro attempted to slash through Giga Bowser, but the beast attacked first by slamming his fist into the ground in front of Zoro, creating several dark spikes from the ground as they knocked Zoro back while leaving some cuts on him in the process. "Gugh!"

"Damn it!" Sanji mumbled as he jumped up the spikes, and towards Giga Bowser, who suddenly jumped towards Sanji as well. "Eh! VEAU SHOT!" Sanji delivered a powerful kick to Giga Bowser, who blocked effortlessly with his forearm, before retaliating with a roundhouse kick, kicking Sanji far off to the side. "GUUAAHHH… !"

Sanji limplessly soured across the arena, and was about to crash into the wall beyond the purple lava, until Robin sprouted multiple arms from the ledge, and caught Sanji using all of their strength, causing Robin to grunt in pain. The arms saved Sanji as they gently lowered him back onto the arena, but Giga Bowser saw this as he walked over to Sanji to finish him off.

"HISSATSU SAKURETSU SABOTEN RYUSEI!" Usopp shot a green pellet at Giga Bowser from behind, as the pellet exploded into numerous of needles upon making impact into the back of Giga Bowser's head. Despite numerous needles that were piercing his skull, Giga Bowser continued walking towards Sanji, who managed to regain focus as he saw that the beast was about to breathe fire at him.

"GRROOOORAAHH!" Giga Bowser growled as Zoro came from behind, and pierced his bladed into the back of his right knee. Giga Bowser was about to retaliate, but a blinding light suddenly exploded in front of his vision, causing him to rub his eyes while turning away.

The light came from Usopp shooting at Nami's thunderballs she threw close to Giga Bowser's face, which they kept this procedure going as it was keeping Giga Bowser stunned, giving Franky the chance to attack him from behind. "Ow! Here I come!" Franky yelled while taking out a pair of heavy nunchucks, and held them by the chain. "KNEE CRASH!" Franky slammed his nunchucks into Giga Bowser's left knee, forcing the beast onto his knees as Sanji then stood up straight before crouching down on his right leg.

"MENTON SHOT!" Sanji leaped up high, and delivered a double kick hard up against Giga Bowser's chin.

The kick raised Giga Bowser's head up high, causing him to lean back as Robin quickly sprouted multiple arms from his body, and the ground underneath him. "CLUTCH!" The arms cracked Giga Bowser's back with a loud cracking sound that echoed throughout the arena. This caused Giga Bowser's eyes to shot open as the dark aura around him grew more powerful, knocking the crew away from him, and the sprouted arms off of him. The crew later regrouped as Giga Bowser growled more intense, before leaping up into the air, grabbed a boulder that was floating in midair, and piledrived it down towards the crew. "Gah!" The crew jumped away as Giga Bowser slammed the boulder in the ground, breaking into several pieces.

"WEAPONS LEFT!" Franky fired several blasts at Giga Bowser's face while getting up, but Giga Bowser came towards him with a swipe of his claw. Fortunately for Franky; Zoro, Sanji, and Chopper barged into Giga Bowser's attacking arm, knocking it to the side as Giga Bowser then used his other arm to attack to swipe at the trio.

"TATSU MAKI!" Sanji and Chopper jumped to the side as Zoro did a spin with his swords, creating a tornado of cutting waves that repeteadly clashed with Giga Bowser's claw. When the tornado was gone, Giga Bowser repeatedly swiped his claws down at Zoro, who took big steps back while parrying the beast's claws with all his swords.

"HEAVY GONG!" Chopper, who turned into his Heavy point form, attacked Giga Bowser from behind, and delivered a strong right hook at the back of his injured knee.

Giga Bowser growled furiously as he retracted into his shell, and spun in circles, creating a blizzard around him that blew Zoro and Chopper off their feet, and into the air. Before Giga Bowser could get out of his shell, Sanji came running through the blizzard, and leaped up to the center of the storm above Giga Bowser. "BROCHETTE!" Sanji drilled down towards Giga Bowser with one leg down, spinning in the opposite direction Giga Bowser is spinning as Sanji landed hard on Giga Bowser's shell between his spikes.

Sanji continued to drill his foot on Giga Bowser's shell, as Giga Bowser was starting to slow down, making the blizzard around him to disappear. Zoro and Chopper then started to fall down, while Sanji jumped off of Giga Bowser before Robin crossed her limbs, "CIEN FLEUR!" Robin sprouted a hundred arms that immediately struck Giga Bowser in the gut, sending him airborne while limplessly coming out of his shell.

"GUARD POINT, SPIKE!" Chopper turned into his guard point form as his fur took form a spiked ball. Zoro fell down behind Chopper as he readied his swords.

"ZOCHO HYAKU-HACHI KASUI HOU!" Zoro unleashed a spiraled cutting wave that propelled Chopper downwards with great speed, as his spiky fur pierced into Giga Bowser's gut with great force. Giga Bowser growled as Chopper bounced off of Giga Bowser, and landed on the ground along with Zoro before Giga Bowser crashed into the floor. By the time that happened, Nami created a thunder cloud over the beast's chest.

"THUNDERBOLT TEMPO!" The cloud released a lightning bolt onto Giga Bowser, sending him tumbling across the ground, before the beast flipped back onto his feet, and did a hard swipe with his claw, releasing a dark cutting wave into the crew.

"Gaaah!" Zoro, Sanji, and Nami were knocked back by the slash as they tumbled backwards, before falling flat on their backs. They were still alright, but were a little dazed upon getting hit.

"Damn! Oi, Chopper! Follow me!" Franky yelled. He and Chopper ran towards Giga Bowser as Franky then took out several planks of wood from out of nowhere, "FRANKY SKYWALK!" Franky was creating a wooden stairway while going up them at the same time, with Chopper following him while carrying the planks for Franky.

"Let's hit him, Franky!" Chopper yelled.

"Yosh!" Franky replied as he and Chopper leaped towards Giga Bowser's face while pulling their fists back, "FRAPPER GONG!" Both Chopper and Franky swung their fists at Giga Bowser, but the beast quickly reared his head back to avoid, and was about to fight back.

"Don't worry, I'm coming!" Usopp yelled frantically while sprinting towards Giga Bowser to save his companions. He quickly puts on his springboard shoes while running, "USOPP HOPPING!" Usopp leaped between his comrades and Giga Bowser, who was about to deliver an explosive headbutt to them. "Eep!" Usopp quickly took out his impact dial, and faced it forwardly at Giga Bowser, who struck the dial with his head as his horns released a deadly explosion. The dial saved the trio as it absorbed the explosion, allowing the threesome to land back on the ground without getting hurt. Giga Bowser roared as he was about to swipe at the three, but Robin sprouted several arms from the ground, and held Giga Bowser's arms back.

"Now, Usopp! Hit him with the dial! Eh!" Robin grunted while her sprouted arms where holding Giga Bowser back.

"O-Okay!" Usopp said before growing confident as he took out his 5-ton hammer, which was actually light as we all know, as Usopp attached his impact dial in the end of it. "Here I come!" Usopp ran towards Giga Bowser through between his legs, "IMPACT POUND!" Usopp slammed his hammer into Giga Bowser's crotch area, releasing a massive force from the impact dial as Giga Bowser gritted his teeth in anger upon getting hit so hard. Usopp's hammer was also destroyed as he, Chopper, and Franky quickly ran back before Giga Bowser fell on his hands and knees. As the beast panted, Nami sat up dazedly, and noticed that Zoro and Sanji were slowly approaching Giga Bowser.

"ASURA!"

"DIABLE JAMBE!"

Using the dark aura around him, Zoro now has two extra pairs of arms, and two heads around his real one, while Sanji spun on one leg repeated until it was caught on fire. The two determined warriors dashed through Giga Bowser with blinding speed, creating a spiral wave of fire and darkness that hits Giga Bowser all over his body, "ASURA DIABLE DOUTEN!"

Giga Bowser was heavily injured, but despite the pain, Giga Bowser retaliated by jumping back, and landing his spikes over the Zoro and Sanji, but the duo escaped from the crash landing as Giga Bowser was about to get up, only to see some more sprouted arms from the ground trying to hold him down.

"Ergh.. I hold him down." Robin said, feeling groggy as the arms she sprouted were moving slowly. Giga Bowser then retracted into his shell, and breathed out fire from within, launching himself out of the arm's range as he rocketed towards Robin, who gasped as she created a massive blockade with some more arms, but Giga Bowser crashed through it, knocking Robin over to the side. "Aaaahh!" Robin cried in pain before landing on her back while Giga Bowser came out of his shell, and landed back on the ground.

"ROBIN!" Chopper cried before growing furious, "You monster!" Chopper yelled as he galloped towards Giga Bowser in Horn point, "KOKUTEI COLLONADE!" Chopper raised his antlers up, creating a cutting wave with sakura pellets that struck Giga Bowser head on, but it only made the beast to stagger back a bit. Chopper then turned into his Arm point, and leaped towards Giga Bowser, "KOKUTEI ROSEO MICHIERI!"

Chopper repeatedly thrusted his hooves into Giga Bowser, leaving many hoofprints all over his front body. Giga Bowser had enough as he countered with several fists that moved as fast as Luffy's gatling gun attack. Chopper fought back with his hooves, but started to slow down as he couldn't keep up with Giga Bowser's pace.

"As if I'd let you get away!" Sanji yelled as he charged at Giga Bowser with his blazing foot, "FRIT ASSORTI!" Sanji repeatedly thrusted his into Giga Bowser's arms, helping Chopper fight back. They attacked each other for several seconds as Franky then leaped over his companions, and flew down towards Bowser from above.

"FRESH HELL!" Franky breathed out blue fire all over Giga Bowser's face, causing the beast to stagger back while stopping his attack. Sanji and Chopper took the chance to attack him while he was open, but the chance didn't lasted very long as Giga Bowser attacked the trio with his dark fire breath, causing the three to retreat.

"HISSATSU HINOTORI BOSHI!" Usopp fired a flaming phoenix towards Giga Bowser from the side, but the beast saw it coming as he punched through the phoenix with ease as it faded into thin air. Usopp gulped, and ran along the side as Giga Bowser then breathed out multiple fireballs at his direction. "Yaaawaaah!" Usopp screamed while taking out a string of shurikens, "HISSATSU SHURIKEN RYUU SEIGUN!" Usopp fired the shurikens towards Giga Bowser, who swapped most of them away, while letting some of them pierced into his chest.

Giga Bowser didn't know that in the center of the shurikens were some explosive pellets as Usopp then did a leap before firing an explosive pellet at the shurikens that were stuck into Giga Bowser's chest.

"Grraaaaaaaaaaghhh!" Giga Bowser staggered back from the explosion as Zoro then charged at him from behind. Unfortunately, Giga Bowser noticed him coming, and turned around to swipe at Zoro with his claws, who parried with his blades, but was knocked airborne in the process.

"Ugh!" As Zoro uncontrollably flew up in the air, Giga Bowser ran up to a floating boulder, and jumped to kick it towards Zoro, who frowned while crossing his swords against his chest, "ONI GIRI!" Zoro slashed through the boulders cutting into pieces as they fell onto the ground. While Zoro was still in midair, Giga Bowser got back on the ground, and cartwheeled towards Zoro to strike him from below.

But suddenly, his hand slipped on an icy floor that was made by Nami as he spun around the floor uncontrollably, going passed Zoro in the process. At the end of the icy floor, Nami stood there, with the end of her staff covered in ice. "Fall already! COOL SPIKE TEMPO!" Nami thrusted the end of her staff into the ground when Giga Bowser came close, creating icy spikes from the ground that struck Giga Bowser in the rear, knocking the beast up as he rubbed his rear in pain. Sanji then rushed into the scene as he leaped towards Zoro, who was still in the air.

"I need a boost from you this time, Marimo!" Sanji said as he balanced on the back of Zoro's swords unexpectedly.

"Tsk! Just don't mess things up!" Zoro yelled as he then propelled Sanji towards Giga Bowser, using the back of his blades. Sanji then faced his blazing foot towards Giga Bowser, who had no idea that Sanji was coming to him.

"PREMIER HACHE!" Sanji delivered a blazing kick to Giga Bowser's back as the beast soured forwardly over the river of lava, and crashed forcefully into the wall. The thud of the crash was loud and tremendous as Sanji started to fall down, but some rows of sprouted arms caught, and gently lowered him on the floor. "Robin-chan!" Sanji turned to see Robin back on her feet.

"I'm okay. Don't worry about me." Robin said while holding her shoulder. The crew then regrouped again, and watched Giga Bowser tumbled down along the wall, and was about to fall into the lava.

But suddenly, Giga Bowser clawed the wall, preventing him from falling down as he then climbed up, startling the crew as they couldn't believe the beast still had some energy left in him. Giga Bowser then made a long leap, jumping across the arena, before landing on the wall in the other side, creating a big shockwave in the process that shook the wall a bit. He started jumping from wall to wall, several times across the arena, leaving several shockwaves behind as the walls started to collapse.

"What's he doing!" Franky asked while he and his companions kept their guard up.

Giga Bowser then flipped up high in the air, before he dived down towards the center of the arena, and landed with a loud thud, creating a humongous that spreaded throughout the entire area, and towards the crew. Very quickly, Chopper turned into his Jumping point, with Nami and Robin holding onto his back, while the guys got on Franky's back. "COUP DE BOO!" Franky inflated his rear, and lets out a current of air, flying over the shockwave with the guys, while Chopper leaped over it while holding onto Nami and Robin on his back. They safely landed on the ground as the shockwave blew the purple lava back, and destroyed the walls of the arena.

"What's happening!" Usopp asked while the crew watched that the rubble of the walls, and the lava spiraled up into the air.

Giga Bowser then made one huge leap up to the lava and rubble, and raised his arms high to gather the flying objects over his palms. The lava and rubble mixed together to form a purple meteorite, which dumbfounded the crew instantly.

"It's humongous! There is no way we can avoid that!" Chopper gasped.

"Then we'll have to destroy it!" Zoro yelled. He and the others got into their defensive stances, ready to unleash their devastating attacks into Giga Bowser's meteorite. "When it comes close, we give it everything we got! Let's not give up while we can still win!"

Giga Bowser then threw down the meteorite with all his might as the big, flaming rock flew down towards the crew, who were ready to strike back. "Okay! Go!" The crew attacked the meteorite simultaneously, with Nami, Usopp, Robin, and Franky attacking from afar, while Zoro, Sanji, and Chopper leaped towards the meteorite to attack it head on. Robin sprouted multiple arms from the trio, which helped them pushed the meteorite back while they kicked, slashed, and hooved at the thing at the same time. Franky fired a coup de vent; Usopp fired a fire bird star; and Nami threw part of her staff, which blew of a current of air towards the flaming rock as the crew's attacks somehow managed to stop the meteor from falling down.

The problem wasn't resolved, though, as the crew only blew away part of the meteor back at Giga Bowser, and the remaining parts rained down over the crew nonetheless. "AAAAAAAAHHHH!" The crew and Giga Bowser cried as the meteor exploded into darkness, covering most of the arena floor with purple flames.

The crew were knocked around all over the arena, while Giga Bowser limplessly crashed into the center. The area remained quiet for a little while, as if everyone lost their will to fight.

"Eh…" Luckily, that wasn't the case as the crew were groggily getting right back on their feet, but they were heavily exhausted; they can't take any more hits if they want to stay alive. Giga Bowser was also coming too, as he got up, but was so heavily injured, he could barely keep his eyes open. Nonetheless, the beast focused his glare at the crew, who glared back with stern expressions. They remained silent while staring each other, until they slowly started approaching each other.

It was then they started to walk faster, and then up to the point where they started charging at each other. "LET'S HIT HIM ONE MORE TIME!" The crew yelled as Giga Bowser growled while charging towards his opponents.

Meanwhile…

"Gyagh!" Luffy got kicked in the shoulder by Xemnas, and later got slashed across the body again by Xemnas' aerial blades. Luffy staggered back exhausted as Xemnas then shot a spark bomb at him, which exploded into a bigger orb upon making contact. "Gah!" Luffy tumbled back, and fell on his knees. He started to get up, until Xemnas placed his aerial blade next to Luffy's face.

"Is this all the rage you have left in you?" Xemnas asked, "Hmm… I suppose it doesn't matter anymore. I was bound to defeat you anyway. It's time you submit to your fate."

"Hiya!" Luffy punched the aerial blade away, and threw a backhand at Xemnas, who stepped back to avoid as Luffy then leaped back to get some distance. "Ha… ha… G-GEAR SECOND!" Luffy slammed his fist into the ground, with his legs pumping up his blood again as his body released steam and turned red afterwards. Luffy then stood up while raising his finger, "One more time! Let's do this again until one of us truly falls."

"Sounds fair enough. But allow me to raise the odds of you winning." Xemnas said before he warped away, and reappeared beside Luffy. Luffy shot out his arm towards him, but Xemnas moved out of the way to avoid as Luffy was then suddenly strucked from behind.

"Yah!" Luffy staggered forward, as he turned around to see what hit him, "What the!" What Luffy saw was another Xemnas behind him as the replica warped beside the original Xemnas, "You can create clones of yourself!"

"Only one, but it's just as strong as I am." Xemnas said as he and his clone then charged at Luffy directly. Luffy had no other choice but to fight Xemnas and his clone as he shot out his arm at him, but Xemnas and his clone dodged in opposite directions, and stood beside Luffy.

Xemnas and his clone then attacked Luffy from both sides, swinging their aerial blades repeatedly at him, while Luffy tried to fend them off while also avoiding their attacks. Luffy then did a handstand, and stretched his legs at both sides to kick Xemnas and his clone, but missed as they both warped away to avoid.

They reappeared standing next to eachother as they faced their palms at Luffy, "Why don't you vanish?" Xemnas asked before he, and his clone fired multiple red beams at Luffy. Luffy ran around Xemnas and his clone to avoid the barrage of beams, as Luffy then charged towards the duo with stretched leg.

"JET WHIP!" Luffy swung his leg across the duo with great speed, but Xemnas warped away as his clone leaped over to avoid. The clone then extended his aerial, and spinned with them extended as they released black and white thorns in the process. Luffy avoided the double slash spin, and countered by repeatedly attacking the clone with his fists, but his hands just went through the clone as he could not injure it.

"Here!" The real Xemnas appeared behind Luffy, and did a reverse forward flip with his blades extending, slashing Luffy repeatedly across the back of his shoulders.

"Ugoah!" Luffy staggered forward before the clone delivered a strong kick to the side of his head, causing Luffy to tumble sideways across the ground before managing to get back on his feet. "Tsk! I won't lose! JET STAMP!" Luffy stretched his leg at Xemnas, but his leg went through him as it turned Luffy attacked the clone instead.

"Bind!" The real Xemnas reappeared close to Luffy as he flew around him, leaving off a circle of red beams facing towards him before warping away, "Fire!" The red beams converged towards Luffy, who instantly jumped to avoid the beams. The clone then came, and kicked Luffy in the ribs while his in midair, knocking him far back as Luffy landed on his feet, and skidded across the ground before evading more slash attacks from the clone. The real Xemnas then came towards Luffy from behind, but Luffy acted quick by raising his leg over his shoulder, kicking Xemnas' attacking arm back before jumping to the side. Luffy then breathed heavily as he had a furious, but desperate look on his face.

"J-JET.. GATLING!" Luffy repeatedly thrusted his arms forward again, moving them so fast, they turned invisible. He didn't know if he was hitting Xemnas or not, he just kept attacking until he was out of breath. "Geh!" Luffy then looked over his shoulder to see Xemnas and his clone shooting several spark bombs at him from behind, and could only stare as they exploded upon making contact. "GAAAAAAAAAGGGHHHH!"

Luffy was knocked onto his back as his body returned to normal. His body twitched with pain as the real Xemnas walked over, and raised his aerial blade at him, "Wait!" Luffy yelled as he did quick backroll to escape from Xemnas, as he then stood up, while placing his thumb into his mouth, "Not yet… just one more time! GEAR THIRD! HONE FUUSEN!" Luffy bit, and blew a huge amount of air into his thumb, inflating his arm up to a size of a giant. He then transferred the air through his body, and into his left arm as he charged Xemnas while dragging the arm behind him.

"That arm again? It won't work the second time." Xemnas said before Luffy threw his giant fist at him. Xemnas avoided the giant fist, as his clown attacked Luffy with an upper slash across his body, causing Luffy to stagger back as he then transferred the air from his arm to his leg.

"GOMU GOMU NO GIGANT WHIP!" Luffy swung his leg around in a big circle, kicking through the rest of the thorns on the ground, but it was useless as Xemnas and his clone floated up in the air to avoid the whole kick. "Ah!" Luffy gasped as the Xemnas and his clone appeared to his side, and attempted to slash at him, "Bastard! Get away!" Luffy yelled before letting out some air in him to the Nobody duel, startling them a bit as they staggered as Luffy then jumped back on one leg, and transferred the air in his giant leg, into his right arm, "GOMU GOMU NO GIGANT HAMMER!"

Luffy slammed his giant fist into the ground, finally hitting Xemnas again as his clone disappeared. "GUUGGH!" Xemnas gasped in pain as the arm crushed him hard into the floor.

"Negh… AHH!" Luffy couldn't hold the air in him anymore in his state, and released all the air from his mouth as he was blown around in circles. He turned into his chibi form as he fell flat in the center of the floor on his rear. "I.. I won.." He panted heavily while trying to get up on his feet.

Unfortunately, Luffy was wrong. Luffy turned around to see Xemnas giving off a death glare while panting heavily. Luffy blinked in shock as Xemnas then raised his palm at him. "Can you spare… a heart?"

Xemnas then shot out an electrical current as Luffy, engulfing him in a blue orb of dark energy. Xemnas was draining the life Luffy had left in him as Xemnas raised his energy current up, raising Luffy up in the air. "AAAAAAAAHHHHHH!" Luffy cried continuously as Xemnas laughed at his pain.

"Soon, you are going to die, and before that happens, I would've already taken your will to live!" Xemnas laughed, "You will be the perfect sacrifice for Obscurum! I will prove to this world once and for all that I am it's supreme ruler!"

Luffy's eyes then shot open as he then yelled furiously while clenching his fist in anger. The orb around him was starting to break all of sudden, surprising Xemnas as he could feel Luffy resisting. "This isn't possible…"

"HuuuuUUAAAGGHHHH!" Luffy's body then returned to it's original size as he then stretched his arm to grab Xemnas' palm, stopping the current he was releasing entirely. Xemnas gasped as Luffy then flew down at him with a right hook across the face.

"Grr!" Xemnas grunted as he flew across the room, but landed on his feet as he was shocked to see Luffy still alive. "How can this be! You're still fighting even in the brink of death! You know you can't beat me! Why bother trying to fight back!"

Luffy then cracked his knuckles as he then looked stoic, "This is over… I know how to beat you now." He said, "I've been fighting you the wrong way this whole time. The only way to beat a guy like you is to not by rage, but by determination. You can hit me as many times as you like; I will still beat you!"

Meanwhile…

Giga Bowser brought down his claws at Sanji, who stepped forward to avoid, and countered with several kick to the beast's gut, "EXTRA HACHE!" Sanji delivered some more kicks before jumping away, avoiding a punch from Giga Bowser, who suddenly got shot in the face by Usopp.

"KOSHOU BOSHI!" Usopp fired pellets that exploded into screens of pepper, causing Giga Bowser to sneeze uncontrollably while being unaware of what is happening in his surroundings.

"CIEN FLEUR, BIG TREE!" Robin sprouted a row of arms that formed into one big tree. The arms bended as it whacked Giga Bowser from the front side, staggering him back as Chopper stood behind him before turning into his Horn point.

"ROSEO COLLONADE!" Chopper slashed through Giga Bowser's knees with his antlers causing him the beast to fall on his back.

Meanwhile…

Xemnas was confused at what he just heard, "You plan to beat me without hatred!" Xemnas asked furiously, "Don't make a fool of yourself! Anger and hate are the key to winning your battles! Without them, you're just a weak puppet!" Xemnas then yelled as he charged towards Luffy, but before he could swing his blades at him, Luffy caught him off guard, and socked him in the face, "Geh!"

"Haaa!" Luffy then charged in, and delivered a headbutt into Xemnas' neck, staggering the Nobody back as Luffy then did a roundhouse kick, kicking Xemnas across the face as he fell on the ground in an instant

"What is going on!" Xemnas thought angrily. He then got up, and was about to do an aerial dance, but Luffy caught him before he could spin, and suplexed him into the ground behind him. Luffy then backflipped on his feet while letting of Xemnas, and stretched his arm into his face, driving him across the floor as the Nobody tumbled backwards. Xemnas groggily gets up, and noticed that Luffy looked absolutely calm. "Where is the rage! He's not fighting with rage, yet he is attacking much faster and stronger than ever before! How is he doing this!" Xemnas then warped behind Luffy, who turned, and grabbed Xemnas by his wrists, before delivering a headbutt to Xemnas' head, "Ugh!"

Xemnas staggered back as Luffy then charged at him while stretching his arms back, "GOMU GOMU NO BAZOOKA!" Luffy thrusted his palms into Xemnas' gut, sending the Nobody across the air in sheer pain.

Meanwhile…

"HYOU KINDAMA!" Zoro leaped over Giga Bowser's body, doing multiple slashes across his body while flying by. Giga Bowser growled as he sat up to retaliate, but Franky launched his right arm towards him.

"STRONG RIGHT!" Franky grabbed Bowser's collar from afar, and pulled it back, staggering Giga Bowser forward as Nami then charged at Giga Bowser, with the end of her staff covered in electricity.

"THUNDER CHARGE, SWING ARM!" Nami swinged the end of her staff at Giga Bowser's crotch area, causing the beast to double over as he fell on knees and forehead.

Meanwhile…

Xemnas regained his balance as he floated in midair, panting heavily while holding his stomach, "This cannot be happening to me… I was winning, wasn't I?" Xemnas asked in deep confusion, "That boy is suppose to die here, not me! I cannot fail Obscurum like this! I cannot lose against an ignorant pirate who can't accept his fate!"

"Here I come for more, Black coat guy!" Luffy yelled determingly, while Xemnas glared back.

"No… I won't accept this!" Xemnas yelled before flying up high into the air. Luffy stopped running to see Xemnas' body glowing blue, "You think you can beat me? You're such a fool, Monkey D. Luffy!" Xemnas placed his arms against his stomach, causing the whole realm to turn pitch black. Then suddenly, a dome of red beams floated around Luffy, surprising him in the instant the beams appeared.

"Whoa! They're so many of them!" Luffy gasped as he realized he was trapped.

"Now! Accept your fate!" Xemnas laughed before spreading his arms out as the dome of red beams fired multiple beams around Luffy.

"OOOWWWAAAAAAAHHHHHH!"

Luffy was actually fighting back against the beams, punching and dodging them with each millisecond passing by. It seems that no matter how exhausted Luffy he was, he was extremely determined to survive for the sake of himself, and everyone else he have met throughout his big journey across the cosmos. A minute has passed since the beams were shooting at Luffy, who was still fighting back as the dome suddenly exploding from the outside, releasing a blind light that covered the entire realm.

The light faded as Luffy was now back in the strange realm on one knee, but before he could get up, Xemnas kicked him down on his back, and faced his aerial blade at him, "You will die here!"

Meanwhile…

Giga Bowser felt dazed and exhausted as he pushed himself up from the ground, but his body was so injured, he could barely move his body the way he wants to. The crew stood around him as they prepared their final attack. Nami smiled as she then pointed at the beast.

"Okay, guys! Let's finish him for good this time!" Nami said. The crew nodded as they then ran off in separate directions, while Nami raised her PCT up, "COOL CHARGE!" Nami released a cool breeze from her staff as it blew around her, creating several kinds of mirages of herself, "MIRAGE TEMPO, FATA MORGANA!"

Giga Bowser wasted no time, and swiped his claw at Nami and her mirages, but Zoro and Sanji came in attacking, attacking Giga Bowser's arms with slashes and kicks.

"COLLIER SHOOT!"

"ONI GIRI!"

Zoro and Sanji attacked Giga Bowser's legs, forcing the beast to fall on his knees. The duo then retreated as Giga Bowser went to get up again, but felt weaker than before as Robin sprouted multiple arms from his body, and binds him in place, preventing him from going anywhere, "DOSCIENTOS FLEUR!" With over two hundred arms holding him in his condition, he stood in place dazedly while trying to regain his focus.

"Yosh! I expect you to put this in good use, Longnose." Franky said as what stood in front of him and Usopp was a giant slingshot strap, The Kuwagata, clamped to the floor.

"It's huge! But I will do my best to use this at it's full potential!" Usopp said while giving the thumbs up.

"Ow!" Then it's time that I go off!" Franky yelled as he then ran towards Giga Bowser. Giga Bowser saw Franky coming, and despite being binded in place, he managed to rear his head back to headbutt Franky, but Chopper came from the sidelines, slammed his hoove across the beast's jaw. The beast screeched in pain, and immediately felt dazed as Chopper then looked at Franky while landing on the ground.

"Hurry, Franky! Get up on him while he is dazed!" Chopper yelled.

"Right!" Franky yelled as he then did a leap, "COUP DE BOO!" Franky inflated his rear, and released a current of air, sending him flying way above Giga Bowser. He then refueled himself with more cola before doing his natural pose, "SUPAAA!" Franky then connected his arms into his tube before aiming down at Giga Bowser.

"I'd never thought I would use this, but now is the best time!" Usopp said as he placed a big explosive pellet for the Kuwagata, and placed it in the front of the strap before pulling the strap back with all his might. "Grr… it's strong…"

"Let's go, let's go!" Nami said while creating a big heat ball, cool ball, and thunder ball around Giga Bowser, along with her mirages.

"ASURA!" Zoro casted up his extra limbs and head again, and focused the tips of his blades at Giga Bowser from the front. Chopper then leaped up from Zoro's shoulder in his jumping point, and turned into his arm point while up in midair.

Sanji smoked a cigarette as he tapped his blazing foot on the ground behind him, getting ready to attack Giga Bowser from behind.

Giga Bowser regained his focus as he realized that he was surrounded, and could barely do a thing to fight back.

Meanwhile…

Luffy gritted his teeth as Xemnas raised his left aerial blade to the side to finish off Luffy, "I'M NOT GOING TO LOSE!" Luffy yelled as he then punched away Xemnas' aerial blade, and stretched his other arm back, "GOMU GOMU NO BULLET!" Luffy pulled in, and thrusted his fist into Xemnas gut.

"Gegh!" Xemnas grunted as he immediately retaliated by doing a quick spin, and striking Luffy in the ribs with his right aerial blade. Luffy was knocked off his feet sideways as he went over Xemnas' blade, and was about to fall flat on his chest. "I will become the ruler of this world! I will become the ruler of it all!"

"I… WILL… WIIIINNNNNN!" Luffy managed to land on his feet, and charged at Xemnas with multitudes of fists across Xemnas' body.

"GAAAGHH!" Xemnas cried as Luffy then kicked him up high in the air. Luffy then leaped after him, and kicked Xemnas in the back, kicking up in the air even higher. Luffy then got back on the ground, and did multiple back flips to get some distance. Once he did, he crouched, and slammed his fist on the ground.

"GEAR SECOND!" Luffy's body released steam, and turned red again as Luffy then placed his thumb into his mouth, "GEAR THIRD! HONE FUUSEN!" Luffy inflated his arm, and transferred the air into his pumped up body, making it round. Luffy then crouched down while holding the air inside him, as he then looked up to see Xemnas limplessly falling towards the ground. "GOMU GOMU NOOOOO…"

Meanwhile…

The crew waited to strike until Nami then snapped her fingers, "NOW! LET'S TAKE THIS TURTLE DOWN!"

And with that said, the crew initiated their final attack. Zoro slashed through Giga Bowser in his Asura form; Nami threw her bended staff underneath the beast, causing the energy from the elemental balls she created to shot down through Giga Bowser's body to get absorbed by the staff; Usopp released the strap, causing it to fire the pellet onto Giga Bowser's gut before it exploded violently upon impact; Sanji did a running leap, and planted his blazing foot on the back of Giga Bowser's shell between the spikes, shooting out a blazing beam from the foot as it caused the beast's shell to crack; Chopper dove down towards Giga Bowser, and thrusted his hooves into his forehead, leaving a big imprint that looks like a sakura pellet in the process; Robin's sprouted arms snapped Giga Bowser's back with great force; and Franky unleashed a Coup de vent, with the massive current of air raining down over the beast.

All of these attacks struck simultaneously, as they all mixed to release a colorful and massive explosion, "STRAWHAT ULTIMATE PIECE!"

The attacks were unbearable to resist as Giga Bowser screeched in sheer pain with his head raised up, as his eyes started to turn back to normal.

Meanwhile…

"GIGANT JET SHELL!" Luffy launched himself across the air like a giant, speeding cannonball. As Xemnas fell, he noticed him coming, but was so weak, he couldn't move a muscle.
"HIIIIYYYAAAAAAAAA!"

CRAAAAAAAAAAASSSSHH!

"UGGGGHHHHHHHHHHHhhhhhh… !" Luffy rammed his body into Xemnas, pushing his body through the air like a missile until Luffy rammed him into a barrier close to one of the white wormholes. "O… Obs… Obscurum… UGH!" Xemnas eyes rolled back into his head as Luffy continued pushing the Nobody's body with his own, as the barrier behind was starting to crack.

The whole realm started to have cracks as a matter of fact, as Luffy rammed his body into Xemnas so hard, he broke through the barrier, destroying the mysterious realm as the entire place released a bright light upon it's destruction.

Sorry this took so long to come; I wanted this to be perfect. You might've already noticed that this chapter is long, so you might want to skim through the first parts until you notice something important. Trust me; you're going to find something you need to know that is probably going to blow your mind away. And I expect plenty of commentary in this chapter as well… okay, you can review if you want, but it would be nice to hear from folks that have read my story, but haven't reviewed my story that much, since I do believe this is my best work yet.

Alright, enough chitter-chatter. It's time that everything comes out in the open. Here goes nothing…

Battles of hatred ending with a bang. The Strawhat pirates, who have endured such a difficult journey, have finally confronted the last obstacles in their way from taking down Obscurum. Luffy went to face the last ruler, Xemnas, in a different realm alone, while his crew went to face off Bowser in his ultimate form, Giga Bowser. Their battles were challenging, brutal, devestating, and overall, the chances of the Strawhats surviving were drastically low. Yet, in the end, Luffy and his crew managed to overcome all odds, and defeated Giga Bowser and Xemnas.

The crew has reached their goal. They have overcome the dark fortress; survived against the Aterneco; infiltrated the dark castle, and defeated the Obscurum rulers one by one, including their minions; and now stand between in the dead lands, which now lie in ruin due to the aftermath of the crew's battles. Their is only one thing left for the crew to do, and that is to destroy the source of darkness itself. They must do something to stop Obscurum from gathering dark life, before it's too late!

The crew have made it this far, but can they stop Obscurum! It's time to find out, as the long-awaited confrontation between the Strawhat pirates, the crew that never gives up on their dreams; and Obscurum, the dead world that absorbs the darkness, and spreads it amongst other, will finally be told!

Chapter 131: Obscurum's core, The world of hell

The entire dark fortress floating in front of Obscurum's core turned quiet from that moment; the moment when the Strawhat crew delivered their all to defeat Giga Bowser with one big group attack.

On top of the tower, the Strawhat crew were also silent, as they were standing in the places where they attacked Giga Bowser. The beast's body twitched with unmeasurable pain. The wounds, cuts, bruises, and the blood around his body were very hard to not notice.

"Graaaghh… graghh.. graghh…" Giga Bowser panted in pain as he was staggering a bit from his injuries. The crew then took a step back from the beast, watching him raise his head, "RROOOOOOOOOOOAAAAAA ARRRRRRR!"

"Yah!" Usopp and Chopper gasped while stepping away, while the rest of the crew got ready without saying a word. They kept their gazes on Giga Bowser, as they thought he was going to fight back, but that never happened.

"Uggrroough… grughh…" Giga Bowser's eyes closed as his body then released a blinding light, causing the crew to step away as something was happening. The light grew smaller and smaller by the second, until the light vanished, and revealed Bowser was reverted back into his normal form. The crew didn't let their guard down, however, as they were still cautious of Bowser, and thought that he might do some sort of trick.

But the only thing Bowser did was stare at the ground with his eyes nearly closed. He still had the injuries from his Giga Bowser, and he hanged his arms loosely while barely being able to stay standing. He panted very slowly, and looked at the Strawhat crew, seeing how they are still lively, despite the injuries they have obtained. Bowser was hurt, numb, and was mostly tired. He went through so much to get his revenge at Luffy, but in the end, he got beaten by his crew instead. There was nothing much for Bowser to do now in his condition, except for one thing. The Koopa king gave off a weak smile, before he slowly closed his eyes, and collapsed on his chest. And just like that, for the first time ever in this fic, Bowser fell unconscious.

The wind blew by as the crew looked down at Bowser silently, not showing off any expressions upon their victory over him for a little while.

"It's finally over…" Nami said before sighing. The others then finally took a moment of rest as some of them panted out of exhaustion. Zoro sat down with his legs crossed, and sheathed his swords away before taking off the bandanna off his head.

"He was pretty tough for a while there…" Zoro said with his eyes closed.

"Ughhh, that was brutal!" Usopp said while he and Chopper slowly sat down on the floor next to each other, "I really thought we were going to get killed by him."

"Y-Yeah. Me too…" Chopper agreed.

Franky walked over to Giga Bowser, and tapped him with his foot, "Yep, he is down and out this time. He was sure relentless the way he followed us all the way here."

"Revenge can drive someone to do extreme and unnecessary things." Robin said while walking up to the unconscious Bowser, "It's a shame that it had to end like this for him."

"As long as he learned his lesson about never messing with us again, then I could care less." Sanji said as he sat on Bowser's shell between his spikes, and smoked a cigarette, "What troubles me is that we have to get this guy out of this place after Luffy comes back."

"Oh, that's right! We don't know where Luffy went to!" Chopper exclaimed while standing up.

"He still must be fighting with that last ruler." Zoro said while rubbing his head, "He must have beaten him by now."

"Hmm… oh?" Nami blinked as she could hear a trembling noise. She looked behind her, and saw that the floating ground around the tower was starting to collapse. Usopp, and the others got up once they noticed this too.

"Whoa! Back to the center, everyone!" Usopp yelled.

The crew ran to the center, with Franky and Zoro picking up Bowser, and carried him on their shoulders while catching up to his crew as the floor around the arena was falling apart, starting from the ledge, and to the surface around the tower. They fell, and crashed down into the floor below, causing them to break into smaller pieces of rubble, but were still big nonetheless. The Strawhats stood on the tower, watching this as they looked over the ledge, seeing the destruction below.

There was hardly anything left in the fortress. The crew could see the path from where they got into the fortress, and to where they entered the castle was a complete wreck, and most of the castle gates, and the castle itself were nothing but rubble now. The only thing that stood intact was the main tower, except for the gaping hole it has in the center, and not to mention, the main floor no longer has any walls anymore.

"I can't believe this much happened ever since we've arrived." Robin said.

"Well, this is mostly our fault." Nami said, "I kinda knew from the moment we got here we would end up destroy something, but I never thought there would be this much damage." Nami then sighed while lowering her head, "And I don't think we will find anything of value here now that the castle is destroyed…"

Zoro and Franky dropped Bowser on the floor, and approached their comrades, "What's done is done." Zoro said, "All that matters now is to wait for Luffy until he gets back."

"What if he came back, but appeared in a different place. Should we get down from here, and take a look around?" Sanji asked.

"No way! As far as I know, up here is the safest part of this place! We go down there, we might encounter more of those dark creature things!" Usopp said.

"We won't go anywhere! We'll wait here until Luffy returns!" Nami said sternly. Everyone then grew silent, as they then waited somewhat patiently until Luffy returned. As several seconds went by, a loud sound could be heard.

"What was that?" Franky asked while turning around. The crew could hear some sort of a cracking sound from behind the main floor. The crew approached where the sound was coming from, as they then saw visible cracks forming in the air.

"Something is there." Sanji said. The cracks grew bigger as everyone was taking a step away from it. As the cracks grew bigger, they could hear also hear someone yelling.

"What could be happening?" Robin asked. The cracks finally stopped as the yelling grew even louder.

"Everyone, step back!" Zoro yelled as everyone backed away before the cracks shattered like glass, revealing a dark portal as something were flying out of it, or in this case, somebody. The crew looked up to see none other than their captain, Luffy, inflated in his gear second form as he flew up high in the air, pushing the unconscious Xemnas up in the air with his head.

"It's Luffy!" Chopper exclaimed happily. The crew were relieved to see their captain alive, and also noticed Xemnas as well.

"H-He did it! He defeated that creepy coat guy!" Usopp said while pointing up in the air excitedly.

Luffy then reached his limit as he released the air in him from his mouth, and limplessly flew down to the main floor while reverting back to his normal form.

"Quick, somebody catch him!" Nami exclaimed. Zoro, Usopp, Sanji, Chopper, and Franky quickly rushed underneath Luffy to catch him, but Luffy ended up crashing onto them with a loud thud, and formed a dust cloud afterwards. The cloud faded as Luffy was lying ontop of his crew, who were dogpiled underneath.

"Bah!" The crew got up, knocking Luffy over onto the ground carelessly. Nami, and Robin got around Luffy as Chopper knelt down in his brain point, and puts his ear against Luffy's chest, hearing his heart still beating.

"He's okay. He's just worn out." Chopper said. The crew sighed in relief, as suddenly, Xemnas crashed into the floor with a thud near the ledge facing towards Obscurum's core. They turned to see Xemnas knocked out as he lied on his back motionlessly. The crew didn't care about him as they turned their attention back towards Luffy.

"How hurt is he, Chopper?" Franky asked.

"He has many injuries, but nothing that looks as fatal." Chopper said upon observation, "He should be fine after he takes his rest."

"Ergh, we don't have that kind of time. We need him awake now." Sanji said with a frown.

"Wait, I'll get him up." Usopp said as he then looked at Luffy, "Oi, Luffy! The core just changed into a big ball of meat!"

This immediately woke up Luffy, as he then sprung up to his feet, startling the crew as Luffy looked very excited, "A big ball of meat! WHERE IS IT!" Luffy asked as he turned towards the core with an overly excited face, but then frowned upon seeing that the core was still the same, "Heeeeeyyy, you liar! It still looks the same!" Luffy said as his body then twitched in pain, causing him to fall on his rear, "Ooooooohhh, I feel so hungry. I need food!"

"He sure woke up rather quickly…" Robin said.

The crew then helped Luffy on his feet, as Luffy then looked at his surroundings, "Oh, so everyone is here, huh?" Luffy asked while looking at his crew, "Where are we, anyway? I don't remember this place." He said while scratching his head.

"We're still ontop of the tower. It's just that things got a little crazy after you left." Nami said, "We were able to beat Bowser while you were gone. He's right there, just so you know."

Luffy glanced over his shoulder to see Bowser unconscious on the floor, "Huh. He looks pretty beat. He must have been pretty strong guy. I sure wish I knew why he was so angry at me though…" Nami sighed as Luffy then noticed Xemnas on the ledge, "Oh! It's the black coat guy! He's here too?"

"Don't you remember?" Usopp asked, "You sended him flying just now. How can you forget that?"

"I don't know. I guess I beat him up so hard, I forgot how I did it." Luffy said with a shrug. The crew then lets out a sigh before showing off their happy expressions.

"I guess that doesn't matter; you defeated the last ruler guy, Strawhat. We knew you could do it!" Franky said with a thumbs up.

Luffy smiled upon seeing the happy expressions in his crew's faces, until Nami placed her hand on Luffy's shoulder from behind, "This isn't over yet, Luffy. We still have that 'thing' to take care of." Nami said sternly.

Luffy's smile then faded into a stoic look. The crew also grew serious as everyone then turned towards the illuminating core of the dark world. They watched as the core emitted electricity from the inside, and it remained glowing in a light blue color as before. The Strawhats were silent while looking at the core. After everything the crew went through to defeat the rulers, destroying the core might be their toughest challenge yet.

"So… what do we do?" Zoro asked. The crew was still silent; they were clueless in what to do in this situation. Even though the Strawhats were not willing to give up after getting so far, they have never encountered a situation like this before, so they just realized that destroying a core of a deadly planet seems impossible.

"Let's throw a rock at it." Luffy suggested.

"You think something like that would work?" Usopp asked a little frustrated.

"I don't know. We won't know until we try." Luffy said.

Nami slapped her forehead, and lets out a stressing sigh, "This is way harder than it looks. We never really came up with a plan for this."

"If only Mr. Crazy Hand was here to help us." Robin said while rubbing her chin.

"We don't even know if he is still around here." Sanji said with a sigh.

"Oooo! I know! How about we about throw this piece of glass at the core?" Luffy asked Sanji while holding a piece of glass over his head. Sanji ignored Luffy, who dropped the glass, and started searching for something, while the discussion continued.

"Hmm, with what we have now, it's probably not going to work against that big ball anyway." Franky said while scratching his head, "We really need that hand bro to help us out…" Franky then realized something as he then snapped his fingers, "Hold on, isn't the other hand here too?"

"Oh, that's right! We forgot about Master Hand!" Chopper exclaimed while waving his arms, "He's probably around here! We should go find him, and ask for his help!"

"Let's hope he wasn't around the castle." Zoro said while looking over the ledge of the floor, "If he was, he must be sleeping under a pile of rubble by now."

"Does that mean we he have to go all the way down from this safe spot?" Usopp asked nervously.

"It's not like we have a choice, bro." Franky said while patting Usopp on the shoulder, "We've came here to rescue the guy anyway. We might as well go fetch him now."

The crew then agreed to the idea, while Zoro suddenly turned around, and looked at Xemnas. "Okay, then let's get down to the rubble below, and find him as soon as we can." Nami said as she then looked at the core with a concerned look, "The more I just look at that, the more I get this bad feeling. We really can't waste more time just standing around here."

"Yosh! How about we throw him into the core instead?" Luffy asked with a confident look as he pointed at the unconscious Bowser behind him.

"WILL YOU SHUT UP ALREADY!" Nami yelled with sharp teeth showing.

"Hold on, you guys." Zoro said, "I sense something strange here…"

The crew looked over Zoro, and noticed he was looking at Xemnas, "What is it? Is he still alive?" Usopp asked behind Zoro.

"I'm not sure, but I'm sensing something strange from him." Zoro said while putting his hand around his blades, "I can't pinpoint it exactly, but I could feel a weak presence that's growing stronger as we speak."

"It must be another trick." Robin said with a worried look, "We should be very careful. If this man is still conscious, who knows what he'll might do next."

"No problem! I'll just kick his ass again!" Luffy said confidently as he walked over to Xemnas while winding up his arm. Usopp and Chopper then held Luffy back.

"Wait a minute, Luffy! It could be trap!" Usopp yelled.

"So what! If I beat him up again, it wouldn't be a problem! Let me go!" Luffy grunted while trying to break free. As Usopp and Chopper kept holding him back, the rest of the crew could also feel something growing stronger, as the winds were also blowing around them harder than before due to this mysterious force. Luffy, Usopp, and Chopper noticed this too as Usopp and Chopper used all their strength to push Luffy back, and stood next to their companions.

"Eagh! Wh-What is with this breeze!" Nami asked while keeping her head low, along with everyone else.

"I think we're about to find out!" Franky yelled while raising his guard. The crew were ready to fight yet again, as they stared down at Xemnas, waiting for something to happen. The wind then stopped as something big flew from behind the ledge where Xemnas is. The crew gasped in shocked upon what they saw, but it wasn't something they expected in the least.

"KOOOOWAAAAAAABUUUUUN NNNNGAAAAAAAAAAAAAA AAAAA!"

What turned out to be an incredible force around Xemnas' body actually turned out to be Crazy Hand, making a flashy entrance by popping up from behind the tower. He was carrying Master Hand, who was still unconscious, by his fingers with his thumb, as the crew were surprised to see Crazy Hand again.

"Oi, It's Crazy Hand! He's still alive!" Luffy exclaimed as his crew were also relieved to see him. Crazy Hand then looked down, and noticed the Strawhats waving at him.

"Ahhhhhh! It's you guys!" Crazy Hand exclaimed happily as he carelessly tossed his unconscious brother over the crew, and into the ground behind them. "Oohh, I'm so glad to see you guys again! Come here; let me give ya a hug!" Then without thinking, Crazy Hand dived in towards the crew, who suddenly gasped as they tried to run away.

CRAAAAAAASHHH!

Crazy Hand crashed onto the crew with a loud thud, and later picked them all up from the ground, and hugged them tightly while crying with joy, "Oh ho ho hoooo! It's been so scary without you guys! I'm so glad that you are all safe…" Crazy Hand then wiggled his fingers, feeling the crew, who were grunting in pain, "… And it's good you guys you still feel as soft as before." Crazy Hand said seductively.

"PUT US DOWN, DAMN IT!" Nami yelled while pounding her fists at Crazy. Crazy then gently puts the crew on the floor again, allowing them to regain their breath as they too were happy to see Crazy.

"Uooh… C-Crazy Hand! We're so glad to see you okay!" Chopper exclaimed happily after regaining his composure.

"I'm not okay, I'm completely insane. But thanks for caring, little man." Crazy Hand said before he snapped his fingers, and pointed at Chopper approvingly. Chopper then did his happy dance upon being complimented, while the others approached Crazy.

"Crazy Hand, where have you been all this time?" Robin asked.

"Well, after I got you guys on here, I fell like a gajillion miles down until I regained conscious, and flew back up here a gajillion miles later." Crazy Hand said, probably a little overexaggerated, "Then I faced some scary zombie people, and I got away before they could devour my gorgeous figure. I then came here, but… wow this place is messed up." Crazy Hand, noticing the destruction of the castle, but then shrugged, "So, I came here, and guess what? I found my brother in a cage! I tried getting him out, but the cage suddenly went rolling down the fortress, going through like… 130 buildings or so, but I was able to catch up to the cage, and destroy it with a mighty karate chop!"

Crazy then looked away, "But I kinda hit my brother with my chop too, so he's still knocked out." Crazy then looked at the crew upon realizing something, "Oh yeah, if you hadn't figured it out by now, my bro is right behind you."

The crew turned around, and for once, they see Master Hand in person. The Strawhats walked over to the hand, who was still unconscious, as Luffy knelt down close to him, and stared at him in awe, "So this is Master Hand…"

"We meet the big guy at last. I didn't expect meeting him would be like this." Sanji said.

"He looks so much cooler in real life. Even unconscious, I can still feel a good vibe from him." Usopp said in awe.

"You guys are admiring him too much. He looks like Crazy, only he's a righty." Franky stated while rubbing his head.

Nami went to check on Master Hand, before glancing over her shoulder to look at Crazy, "Is he going to be alright?"

"Oh, sure! I have hit him harder before. He'll wake up eventually…" Crazy Hand reassured. The crew stared at Master Hand for a little while, until Crazy finally noticed Bowser laying on the floor, "What in the… what's Bowser doing here?" Crazy Hand asked a little shocked as he floated above Bowser, and poked him in the head, "Yo, Bowser! Whatcha doing in a deadly life-sucking planet such as this? Huh? Huhh? Huuuhhh?" Crazy asked, not realizing that he was poking Bowser so hard, a dent was forming on the ground underneath his head.

"Cut that out! He's already hurt!" Nami yelled, causing Crazy to stop poking Bowser, "Huh… anyway, it's good that you're here. We need your help. When you brought us here, you never exactly told us how to stop the core."

"Huh? The core?" Crazy asked curiously.

"You know, the core of this world." Zoro said while facing towards Crazy, "We don't know how to stop it, and we figured you might know what to do."

Crazy Hand then turned towards Obscurum's core, and gasped while spreading his fingers apart. "Ooooh, that core! Dang, it's waaaay bigger up close." Crazy commented. He then rubbed his fingers with his thumb, thinking deeply in how to destroy the core. The crew looked at Crazy silently, until the hand suddenly snapped his finger, "Ah ha! That's it!" Crazy then looked at the Strawhats, "Have you guys ever considered throwing a rock at it?"

The Strawhats, except for Robin and Luffy, fell on their backs in disbelief. They all then got up, and furiously looked at Crazy, "YOU HAVE GOT TO BE KIDDING! YOU DON'T KNOW WHAT TO DO!" The Strawhats asked furiously, except for Robin and Luffy.

"I know what I'm saying here." Crazy replied calmly, "Usually, cores are, like, the biggest weakspots ever. Just touching one could make it explode. Trust me; when my brother and I were started creating the smash world, I touched the core, and it easily exploded. The explosion wasn't all that big for us, but my bro got angry at me anyway. The point is, if we throw something at the core, I'm sure it's going to blow up."

"That sounds rather simple, but it doesn't sound safe." Robin said, "There is still a matter of escaping this place. We don't know how fast the core will blow up, so how are we going to escape safely?"

"Pfft! I can get you guys outta here faster than you can say 'rock bottom'." Crazy said confidently, "I can carry you guys back to your ship, and high tail it outta here just like the way we came in."

"I doubt that's going to work the second time, but seeing that there are no other options, I guess we can only hope your plan works." Nami said a little concerned.

"Right on. Now…" Crazy then picked up Bowser, "Since Bowser is the heaviest thing here, I will throw him at the core. He's bound to go through with his massive buttocks."

"You're NOT throwing him at the core!" Nami scolded furiously.

"I was just kidding. Geez, you're always so mean to me." Crazy whined.

While the crew tried figuring out what Crazy should use, Luffy continued to stare at Master Hand with a dull expression, "Mm?" Luffy's eyes widened a bit as he could see Master Hand's fingers twitched.

"Uu..ugh…" Master Hand groaned as he was regaining conciousness. The crew and Crazy realized this as they quickly rushed around Master Hand to see if he was okay.

"He's coming to!" Chopper exclaimed.

"Bro! Are you okay! Those losers didn't do anything nasty on you, did they!" Crazy asked. Master Hand groaned in pain as he didn't get up, but could hear Crazy talking to him.

"Crazy Hand… is that you?" Master Hand asked weakly.

"Y-Yeah! It's me, man!" Crazy hand exclaimed as he sounded like he was crying in joy, "Don't worry, you're safe now! We're here to rescue you!"

Master Hand panted as he finally noticed the Strawhat crew. He looked at Luffy, who stared back with the same dull expression. "Who… are you?"

Crazy responded for Luffy, "They are the Strawhat pirates, bro! They are the guys I have always talked to you about! I brought them here so they can help me rescue you!"

"Rescue me…?" Master Hand sounded confused hearing this, "This can't be… where are… ughguh!"

"You're still hurt! Just rest for now, and let us take care of you!" Chopper exclaimed. Master Hand then grew quiet, and was so low at energy, he couldn't help but rest. Crazy hand was worried about his brother condition, along with Strawhat crew as they worried about Master hand as Crazy Hand is. They were all silent while looking at Master Hand, as someone else was regaining consciousness.

"Rrrgghh…" Xemnas, after getting beat so hard by Luffy, was suddenly coming to. He groggily sat himself up by pushing his upper body up with hand up against a glass on the floor, which shattered afterwards. Luffy heard the glass break, as he then turned around, and saw Xemnas.

"You…" Luffy growled. The crew, and Crazy Hand then looked at Xemnas, and couldn't believe their eyes.

"I don't believe it! He's still alive!" Usopp asked. Xemnas tried his best to get back up on his feet, but ended up collapsing on his hands and knees. He panted and weaved repeatedly as he raised his head, and saw the crew and the hand brothers. He smiled as he slowly rose up on his knees with his hands lowered.

"Isn't this a pleasant sight?" Xemnas asked, "There is nothing more pleasant than to see a helpless soul reuniting with his pathetic brother. Too bad they won't be together for long…"

"You bastard! Even in your condition, you still think you can beat us!" Sanji asked.

"You don't have the right to threaten us! You've already lost this battle!" Nami yelled.

Xemnas merely laughed at those remarks, "Fools… this was never about winning or losing." Xemnas then stood up while slouching, "It was about making a point. You will not escape from this world. Everything will go according to plan, even if I do happen to die here."

"No, it won't, bro! You're going to watch us destroy the core, and then we will leave you here to die with this world!" Franky exclaimed, "You're so called perfect world is about to get what it deserves for trying to take over our lives!"

"Ha ha ha ha ha… it is futile." Xemnas said before collapsing on his knees again, "… You cannot destroy this world. It's unstoppable. I should know, because this world has given me the knowledge to rule it. I know everything about this new world, and I know that it bears no weaknesses. It cannot be destroyed… especially by the likes of you."

"You liar! There has to be a way to stop this world! It can't be invincible!" Usopp yelled.

"The only way to destroy this beautiful world, is if the ray of hope were to come, and blast the dark energy away like it did before." Xemnas said as he then collapsed on his hands, but remained smiling, "But let's face it, not even that managed to get rid of this world completely; it only delayed it's ultimate purpose to conquer it all. Even if the ray somehow managed to come, and attack this world now, it wouldn't deliver the same effects as it did before. Ever since I was reborn, I made sure this world would end up living forever by giving my life to it! I have given up everything I once cherished just to help this world prosper, and destroy it's enemies. That's my purpose as the chosen one, and I can clearly say, that your meaningless lives will end here."

Luffy had enough of Xemnas, as he walked over to him, lifted him up by the collar of his coat, "Tell us how stop this world! There has to be a way!"

"It's hopeless for you all…" Xemnas replied with a soft smile, "It was already too late since way before the days we were born! You can't possibly be dull enough to believe you can save everyone? You're pathetic… just like the rest of you!"

Luffy then dropped Xemnas forcefully on the floor, panting with anger as Xemnas merely laughed while crawling back to the ledge behind him, "Threaten me all you like; it won't change a thing! As the chosen ruler, I have no doubt that Obscurum will help me kill the fools who stand in it's way! Behold the true power of the darkness!" Xemnas then turned around, and faced towards Obscurum's cores on his knees. Xemnas bowed down towards the core gracefully, and raised his head towards it. "Obscurum… I beg of you; as your designated ruler, please grant me the strength to destroy these fools who dare question your power! I know I've failed to do so upon my own strength, but I refuse to give up while I still have the chance to prove I am worthy for you! It's because of your existence, I have felt whole again! I don't need a heart to know that I can be of great use to you. So please… lend me your power! Lend me the strength to wipe out all the threats in your path, and together, nothing will ever stand in our way again!"

Xemnas maniatically stared at the core, waiting for some kind of response. The Strawhat crew and Crazy Hand were a little nervous; they had no idea what was going to happen as they were on alert, waiting for something bad to happen.

But it never came. Xemnas' wish for power was never granted; the core didn't change, deliver some kind of waves, or anything mystifying at all. Xemnas was dumbfounded; he remained on his knees, still expecting for some power, but he still remained the same. "Why…? Why won't you help me? I-I have done everything you asked for me to do. I have given away my life for you!" Xemnas then pointed at the Strawhats while still glaring at the core, "It was them that kept getting in the way! Don't blame me for my mistakes! It was all their fault from the start! They kept meddling in your affairs, and I did all I could to stop them! All I'm asking from you is some help, but you won't even give me that! How much more do I have to prove my loyalty to you!" Xemnas then gritted his teeth in anger, "I have held my tongue from asking you for your power. I know I must deserve it, but you can atleast give me an answer! I will not allow things to end like this!"

Xemnas then punched the floor, breaking some glass that was in front of him. He then slowly reached his hand towards the core, "Can you atleast spare me a heart? That's all I need to be truly whole! That's all I ever desired from you. If I can just get a heart, I swear I can kill these people in an instant! Please… I demand your strength! I BEG OF YOU! GIVE ME YOUR POWER! DAMN IT!"

Xemnas then pounded his arms on the floor repeatedly, begging the planet itself for power nonstop. The Strawhats just stared at him going nuts over power. They couldn't help but feel somewhat sorry for him.

"He's really lost his mind." Usopp said before gulping nervously.

"That guy will do everything just to get rid of us. He's even threatening the world he adores, for crying out loud!" Franky said with a shake of his head.

"He's no longer himself anymore." Robin said bluntly, "If he were a normal human being, he would've died by a heart attack by now. It's saddens me to see such a powerful man, dedicated to ruling this world, has deduced himself to this level. I know now that he is not capable of ruling a powerful planet like this one. No one is…"

"This guy had it coming." Sanji said with his hands in his pockets, "As if we allowed him to get away with this. It was only a matter of time."

The Strawhats silently watched Xemnas slamming his hands on the floor with anger. Xemnas then finally stopped, and panted heavily while looking away from the core, "I need… power. I need it… I need it…"

"Heh heh heh…" Crazy Hand chuckled as he walked pass Luffy with his middle fingers, and approached Xemnas from behind, "Well, well, well. Not so Mr. Tough And Serious anymore, are ya? Karma really did bit you hard in the ass this time."

"Eh!" Xemnas glanced over his shoulder, staring at Crazy Hand with a mild scared expression.

"You sure knew how to talk smack. You think you can do every single thing, just because you know how to keep a straight face all the time. Well, guess what, Mansex!" Crazy yelled, taunting Xemnas by rearranging the letters in his name, "You just showed everyone here that you are nothing but a big pancy, who didn't even realize that these awesome guys here were too awesome to fall against the serious, and so called 'badass' guys like you! Just because you have long, girly hair, doesn't mean you can beat everyone! In fact, you're a disgrace to those long hair guys after the whole dramafest you just performed for us. You make me sick!" Crazy then pointed at Xemnas with disgust, "And to top it all off, your real personality doesn't go with that big zipper coat you're wearing! THAT REALLY PISSES ME OFF!"

Xemnas could only watch in fear as Crazy then cracked his fingers, "It's payback time! You're going to pay for the things you have done to me and my brother, and I couldn't think of a better way of getting my revenge than to the things you were DYING to do to other men!" Crazy Hand then got above Xemnas, who tried getting away, but was too weak as Crazy then placed his thumb towards Xemnas' rear.

"Oh! He can't be serious!" Nami gasped as she, and the crew were a little frightened to see what Crazy has in mind for Xemnas, as Usopp covered Chopper's vision from seeing such a creepy thing that is about to take place.

"Hold still, this won't hurt much… oh ho ho, who am I kidding? It's going to hurt alot!" Crazy laughed maniacally as Xemnas couldn't escape, "Bottoms up!"

DOOOOOOOOONNNN!

Just right before Crazy was about to scar Xemnas for life, a loud sound echoed throughout the core. Everyone looked at the core, and noticed it was emitting a wavy aura that grew brighter and stronger by the second.

"What's happening!" Luffy asked. He and his crew looked at their surroundings, noticing the dark energy gathered around the the fortress they were on and the core was moving rather strangely. The dark energy was spreading and narrowing frequently like a heartbeat. Crazy got off of Xemnas, and regrouped with the Strawhats, also startled by these new turn of events.

"What's going on with Obscurum!" Usopp asked.

"I-I don't know! It has never done this sort of thing before!" Crazy replied nervously.

"The dark life is moving strangely! What is going to happen to us!" Robin asked. The dark energy then stopped beating, and started to shrink, closing in on the core, and the fortress.

"It's coming! Hold on, everyone!" Luffy yelled. Everyone lowered themselves as quickly as they could, with the dark energy closing in on the core with such speed, it was only a matter of milliseconds before the darkness would engulf over the fortress.

"Aahhhh!" Chopper cried as the darkness was only a few centimeters from engulfing the Strawhats and everyone else, but the energy suddenly came to a halt. "H-Huh?" Everyone gazed up at the dark element energy, which was really close for them to touch. Everyone was really scared, not even Zoro and Sanji could even keep a straight face just looking at the dark atmosphere from up close. The darkness then started to spread out once more, but in a slower pace than it did when it closed in on the core.

Suddenly, the dark energy suddenly released a regular sized vortex of dark element life, which soured across the air as it flew over the Strawhats, and released dark energy in between the fortress and the core. Immediately after that happened, more vortexes were made from every direction, and spreads out until they were all across the interior of Obscurum, and released dark element life in the same area where the first vortex did before.

"Stay back!" Zoro yelled as everyone was keeping their distances from the vortexes, which were more than the crew could count. The energy the vortexes were releasing formed into a pitch black cloud, which was bigger than the fortress itself. The vortexes then returned into the hollow pool of dark energy from whence it came, while the crew took some steps forward, looking at the humongous cloud in awe.

The whole planet was then silent for atleast a minute. Luffy squinted his eyes to see what lied inside the cloud, but the moment he did, The cloud engulfed throughout the interior of Obscurum, turning every single part of Luffy and everyone else's surroundings into pitch black.

"Uwaahh!" Everyone gasped as they couldn't see a thing. Everything was dark and cold, as if they were no longer in Obscurum anymore. Strangely enough, despite the darkness, everyone could still see each other.

"Where are we!" Franky asked while raising his sunglasses over his forehead.

"Everything is dark! Where the heck are we!" Usopp asked very nervously.

"Is everyone alright!" Nami asked.

"Tsk! This is bad! I can't tell what's going on around here!" Zoro grumbled.

"I'm scared! Somebody turn on the lights!" Chopper whimpered.

"Damn it! I can't see anything!" Sanji yelled while gritting his teeth. The crew desperately tried to see where they were, but they failed miserably.

"What's happening to this world… !" Robin asked as she was getting nervous as well.

"Grr!" Luffy looked around, and saw Xemnas still lying on the ground. Figuring that Xemnas might be up to something, Luffy went straight towards him. "Ugh!" Luffy stopped suddenly as he could see a purple light in front of him. Everyone else saw this too as the purple light grew in immense size before splitting in two. The light energy then formed into eyes, as they both shot wide open, startling the crew as they couldn't believe what they were seeing.

"I-I-I-IT'S A MONSTER!" Usopp yelled in fear. Everyone gazed at the pupiless purple eyes in shock; even Xemnas looked shocked by this.

The eyes then stared down at the crew, and spoke, "… I am… the darkness." The mysterious eyes said with a multitude of calm voices, but they sound scary nonetheless, "I helped create life… now I shall take it all back."

The Strawhats tried to remain calm from hearing the mysterious being speak, but they couldn't help but to shake a bit from hearing a voice that can make anyone shiver. The one who was mostly shocked was Crazy Hand, as he looked at the eyes while shaking nervously.

"No… it can't be. This can't be real!" Crazy said nervously.

"What! What is it, Crazy!" Luffy asked as he and his crew looked at Crazy for answers.

"This presence… I've felt it before. I recognized this aura the instant I it came! Nobody else has this amount of dark life in them, other than the one that's right in front of us!" Crazy Hand then backed away, "This presence… I don't know how, but it's definitely him! It's… the Emperor God of Darkness… Obscus!"

The Strawhats were utterly shocked hearing this, even Xemnas was surprised once he overheard that. "The Emperor God! Alive!" He thought in shock.

The crew still in shocked hearing this, "O-Obscus! As in the Obscus who died with this planet!" Nami gasped. Everyone then looked back at the purple eyes, feeling the dark radiance from them. They actually felt weak by just looking at them.

"This world is full of it! Are you actually telling us that thing there is one of the Emperor gods you talked about!" Zoro asked while glaring at the eyes.

"Shit… We're really in trouble…" Sanji muttered. The crew kept their gazes on Obscus, who silently stared back as he could see Luffy glaring at him.

"I've waited patiently throughout countless of eras for the day that I would reign supreme over the cosmos I helped create, and these creatures before me dare to get in my way? I have never been so insulted… However, I never thought it would be this amusing neither." Obscus said as he then fixed his gaze at Xemnas, "You… you and the others were worthless to me from the very start! I have given you a purpose, and this is how you repay me?"

Xemnas was still bewildered of Obscus presence, that he nearly forgot to reply, and quickly rose up on his knees, "M-My lord… I-I-I didn't mean to displease you!" Xemnas said right away, "I did everything I could for you, but it just wasn't enough! If you might give me another chance, then-"

"SILENCE!" Obscus yelled while widening his eyes in anger. The rise of Obscus' tone unleashed a tremendous force that made Xemnas fall on his chest. This even made the Strawhats to lose their balance, and fell on their backs, including Crazy Hand, as he fell on his back as well.

"Tch! What power… !" Zoro gasped. He and everyone else have lost their breath just hearing Obscus talk; they couldn't even believe that they were still conscious. The crew groggily got up on their feet again, and stared at Obscus with somewhat nervous expressions.

Xemnas also managed to get back on his knees, but instead of looking afraid, he glared back at Obscus, "I realized that I've failed you!" He yelled, "But doesn't my will to keep fighting for you mean anything! I don't care what you do to me, but I will never lose my loyalty towards you, and this world you created with your bare hands!"

"Do not lie to me, Xemnas." Obscus replied calmly, "Even if you are telling truth, your body is not listening to your thoughts anymore." Xemnas eyes widened as he tried to prove Xemnas wrong by getting up, but only ended up falling on his hands and knees, "You see? You are useless to me now. I have no longer any need of your so called assistance."

Crazy Hand then got, and approached Obscus without fear, "O-Obscus! Don't you remember me?" Crazy asked, "You created me and my brother in the beginning of space and time! You are our master! Remember!"

Obscus stared at Crazy, and looked down towards Master Hand, who was still resting. He was quiet for atleast a minute before speaking, "I see… you two still live." Obscus said, "… Filthy creatures. You dare stand against your creator as well?"

Luffy was pissed hearing that as he clenched his hands anger while glaring at Obscus. Crazy was taken back by Obscus words, but tried remaining calm, "Obscus… you were alive all this time… why? Why are you doing this! During the war, you and Luminarious were being controlled by your people's anger towards each other. Luminarious didn't mean to destroy your planet! It was all just one big tragedy that should have never happened in the first place! Don't you realize what you're trying to do is so stupid!"

"I remembered what happened…" Obscus replied with a snarl, "The fools of Luminarium despised my people. They believed every single problem they had was because of the darkness I radiated into their lives. It was always this world that gets mistreated; it was always this world that never received the respect it deserved." Obscus then narrowed his eyes, "My people had the right to fight back. Those people of light thought they were so perfect, but I knew the truth. They were so blindsided by their precious light, that they believed they were perfect. It was because of that, they started the war. They lowered my people into their level… a bunch of bloodthirsty maniacs. That proved that not even the creatures of light deserve any respect. Everyone is the same as cruel…"

"That's not true!" Crazy yelled, "It's true that everyone in Luminarium and Obscurum during that time insisted in getting rid of each other, but after this world was destroyed, they've realized that they have made a huge mistake! The people from Obscurum that managed to survive that day managed to coexist with the people of Luminarium, and they got along well for this long now! If you can see that, then I know you will stop what you are doing!"

"I understand perfectly what happened after the war, and I couldn't be more betrayed!" Obscus replied, "My people sold themselves out to Luminarium. They knew they had nowhere else to go, and they betrayed me by coexisting with their opposites! And now, everyone has forgotten about the war, and their own rightful god! They even attacked me again with the power of Luminarium, trying their best to make sure I would stay out of their lives for good! They are no longer my people… and I will get my revenge! My darkness will consume them all, including those who never took part of that war, because they are just as same as everyone else! They will all be my slaves for eternity… they will soon understand that I am the only Emperor God who deserves to be the ruler of all life. I will prove it to you all… starting by engulfing the Grand universe with darkness first!"

Crazy Hand was dumbstrucked; he was so afraid of Obscus saying those words. "You… you really are going to do this… you aware of what you are going to do to all those people, and yet, you're still going through with this! If you would've said those things when Master Hand was conscious, you would've taken his will to live! He respected you and the other Emperor gods so much, and.. and you're saying this kind of crap!" Crazy then grew so furious, he emitted a powerful aura that bewildered the Strawhats, making them tremble in fear while they watched, "You nearly took my brother away from me… I don't have any respect for you anymore! In order to make sure you won't hurt anyone else… I'M GOING TO KILL YOU! GYYYAAAAAARRGHHH!"

Crazy then flew in towards Obscus while folding himself into a fist, but right before he could punch Obscus in the eye, Obscus radiated dark energy that bursted Crazy into dark flames. "GUUGHHHH!"

"CRAAAZYYYY!" Luffy cried. Crazy was then shot down in the dark floor between the Strawhats, and remained motionless afterwards.

"Oh no, Crazy!" Nami gasped as she and the rest of the crew rushed towards Crazy's aid. The dark flames around Crazy vanished as the hand tried to get up, but was so weak, he could barely move his fingers.

"Crazy, get up! You're much stronger than this! Crazy!" Usopp yelled while shaking Crazy's index finger back and forth.

"Oi, bro! Quit messing around! He hardly did anything to you! Get back up, and show him who's boss!" Franky yelled, trying to get Crazy up again, but Crazy couldn't as his fingers started to twitch.

The crew desperately tried to do something to help Crazy, while Luffy has already lost his patience. He glanced back at Obscus with a deadly glare, and took a loud step forward towards him.

"OOIII! WHO THE HELL DO YOU THINK YOU ARE!" Luffy yelled as his voice echoed throughout the dark atmosphere.

Xemnas turned back at Luffy with a shocked expression, and couldn't believe he was yelling at the Emperor god, "That idiot… what is he trying to do!" He thought nervously, but furiously at the same time.

Obscus merely stared back at the captain, who could feel the anger in his glare. "You are the leader of the group who is trying to stop me, aren't you?" Obscus asked while narrowing his eyes, "First, you interfere in my affairs; killed my followers, and now you speak to me with such disrespect? Aren't you aware that I created your lives?"

"I don't care! You attacked my friend! You are going to pay for that!" Luffy replied furiously as he then pointed at Obscus, "And you're also going to take so many lives away, just so you can feel better about yourself! I can't let you get away with that no matter what!"

Obscus didn't react upon hearing that, and seeing Luffy's determined look didn't faze either. Obscus' eyes then widened a bit, as he saw Luffy's crew approaching their captain from behind, and stood beside them without fear. They glared at Obscus as well, which made the Emperor God sound a little puzzled.

"Interesting…" Obscus said, "It's possible, yet it's still surprising to see so many of them in a group. All of you people have balanced elemental properties. Your light and dark elements do not overcome each other; you're all the same." Obscus then snickered, "Huh huh huh… now I see how you managed to overcome all obstacles. With such a perfect balance, you can do almost anything that comes to mind. You stand out from the rest of those inferior beings; you're are what us Emperor Gods like to call 'The perfect beings'… although, being perfect has it's own qualities, not all perfect beings are smart enough to walk away from where they don't belong."

Obscus' dark presence rose the tension in the area even more, shaking up the Strawhats to the point where they might try to flee. Unfortunately for Obscus, the Strawhats wouldn't run away, no matter how scared they felt, "… Being brave will get you nowhere. There is nothing you can do to stop my wrath towards you inferior beings!" Obscus stated, "I am the all-powerful emperor god that will conquer the cosmos! I will eradicate any living being that dares goes against my wishes without any remorse. Your presence here has been, by far, the most disturbing. I have made you… and I will unmade you, if you dare proceed of your intentions any further! Leave now while you still have time to spare."

"We're not going anywhere!" Luffy replied, "We made a promise to Crazy that we will save Master Hand, and stop this world for good!"

"We made it this far… and you expect to us leave just because you want us to?" Zoro asked with a glare, "God or no god, I'm slicing you up into pieces."

"Well, to be honest, I'd rather avoid unnecessary fights… but seeing that this is important, I might as well stay until it's over!" Nami said with a smirk.

"Y-Y-You have no chance against us! We're an unstoppable force! Nobody and nothing can beat us!" Usopp yelled while his legs shivered.

"I can't just sit here, and let you get away with some stupid desire. We're going to put an end to this stupidity." Sanji said while standing up straight.

"We have made so many good friends on our way here, and I don't want to see them get hurt by anybody… especially by you!" Chopper yelled.

"We've made up our mind. If we were to die, then atleast we should die fighting for what is truly right." Robin said.

"Ow! Who cares if you created us! Anybody who messes with our way of life, he is going in for a world of hurt!" Franky yelled while giving a thumbs up.

Xemnas glanced over at the Strawhats, and was dumbfounded, but aggravated seeing them so positive in a situation like this. "Tch!" Xemnas looked away in silence while closing his eyes enraged. Obscus, on the other hand, was surprised. He didn't think the Strawhats would try to go against him, considering the terrible conditions the crew was in.

"So… despite the impossible, you will still fight for your lives, even for those you don't even know?" Obscus asked.

"That's right! Everyone deserves to live! They shouldn't die just because somebody wants them too! It's only because you have so much power, you think you know everything! Well, after what I just saw, you don't know anything about the people you helped create!" Luffy yelled, "I'll admit that I'm not even sure we can get out of this world… but I do know one thing!" He then threw a fist in the air, "I will make sure, that even if I die, I'm going to kick your ass!"

Obscus looked over at Luffy and his crew silently, before closing his eyes for several seconds, "… Very well. As your creator, even I can't change your mind. If it's a battle to the death you want… then it's battle you will get!" Obscus eyes then widened tremendously, causing the whole area to shake violently.

"Waaawahhh!" The Strawhat crew did their best to retain their footing as the dark atmosphere started to sink in towards Obscus' eyes.

"I shall reveal my form in your regular height level. You will rue the day you defied against your Emperor God!" Obscus' eyes then started to swirl in with the darkness, as if it was sucked in by a dark whirlpool. As all the darkness was being absorbed, the Strawhats and Xemnas could see that they were back on the top floor of the tower, and observed the darkness forming into one big sphere.

The sphere then slowly descended between the Strawhat and Xemnas, as the sphere glowed purple from within. The sphere then started to take form of a figure covered with darkness. Xemnas watched in bewilderment, while the Strawhat got ready to fight, despite in their conditions. "Oough.. wha?" Crazy Hand regained consciousness, and gasped upon seeing the sphere. "Ooh…"

"I am the Emperor God of darkness. There is nothing that is too bright, nor that is too big for me to engulf." Obscus said as the sphere finally disappeared, and the regular-sized figure formed remained floating in midair. The darkness the figure radiated slowly came off like burning pieces of paper. "No lesser being can escape the darkness. All will be consumed until there is no light left."

Everyone watched Obscus silently, waiting for it's figure to take it's final form. With each passing moment going by, the Strawhats eagerly waited to attack the Emperor God with no regrets.

But as time went by, the Strawhats were noticing something about Obscus' figure. They didn't know what, but something about Obscus figure is reminding them of something. As Obscus figure was nearly finished, it was then that the Strawhats recognized it, but they couldn't believe what they were seeing. Not one bit.

"Huh…?" Luffy blinked in confusion as the darkness around Obscus figure finally disappeared as he descended towards the ground, floating inches away from it.

"It is time that I end your adventure; the adventure that will also end all adventures." Obscus said, but with one voice. Obscus then spreads out his arms and stood straight, turning the darkness that came off of him into confetti. What Obscus looked like appeared to be someone familiar to everyone, someone really, REALLY familiar, "I am the darkness… the strongest of all Emperor Gods… the master of dimensions… pleaser of crowds… I am Dimentio!"

"UGH!" The Strawhats, Crazy Hand, including Xemnas were competely and utterly shocked to see Dimentio, who was as alive as ever as he laughed optimistically before planting his feet on the ground.

"Th-The clown guy!" Luffy gasped.

"H-He's here too!" Usopp asked.

Nami was the one that was deeply in shock, above all. Afterall, she was the one who defeated Dimentio, and saw him die before her. And yet, there he was, standing right there as if he never died at all. Nami was so shocked, she remained silent as Dimentio then sighed after laughing so much.

"Oh my! That was a beautiful performance!" Dimentio said with glee, "Somptueux acting, everyone! You all made this very enjoyable to the very end! It's a good thing that I am such a talented actor, otherwise, I would've never pulled this off! Ah ha ha ha ha ha!"

"Dimentio… you're still alive! Wait… how did you come back!" Xemnas asked while turning towards him with a shocked expression. Dimentio ignored Xemnas, and noticed the heavily damaged fortress beyond the ledges, and sounded upset.

"Dear me, would you look at all this mess?" Dimentio asked while shaking his head, "I'd never thought there would be this much damage, and the castle is nothing but rubble now. Dear, oh dear, what travesty… oh well, all can be repaired with a little patience and hard labor. As they always say, if it's broken, then just fix it! Ah ha ha ha! How fun…" He said optimistically. Dimentio then looked over at the Strawhats, who were still in shock, "Ah, if it isn't my dear friends. It's so wonderful to see you all alive and well. Did you enjoy my little show?"

"What is going on? Why is he here!" Sanji asked with a snarl.

"Nami, didn't you take care of this guy? Did he escape from you?" Zoro asked, still shocked as well.

"No…" Nami said with a scared look, "I know I fought him… I used all I had at him at the time, and he died. I know it happened, because it DID happen… but… how is this…?"

"Oh, Nami-san. Is there something the matter? You look a little pale, my dear. Mmm hm hm!" Dimentio giggled.

Nami then grew angry, and stepped forward at Dimentio, "How is it that you're still alive! I watched you die, you bastard!"

Dimentio remained smiling as he then nodded, "Ah, yes. I remember… you did kill me." Dimentio said before he tilted his head sideways, "But! I'm alive again! And it's all thanks to you all, my precious friends."

The Strawhats were confused, "What do you mean thanks to us? We didn't do anything to bring you back." Robin stated.

"Oh, but you did." Dimentio said before giggling a bit, "For you see, Obscurum always revives the ones with the most darkness inside them. None of those are ever overlooked… including me. Seeing how everything was running so perfectly… I decided to come back alive, and bring this show to a close."

"You decided that?" Luffy asked, "Hold on, since when can you decide to come back to life! And where is that Emperor God guy! He was just talking to us, and you suddenly come from outta nowhere! Where is he!"

Dimentio laughed uncontrollably hearing this; he was laughing he let out a tear, "Oh ho ho, Luffy-san, you're so hilarious as always!" Dimentio said before wiping the tears from his eyes, "Haven't you realized it yet?" Dimentio then flew in front of Luffy in less than in a millisecond, and peered in close to his face, startling Luffy as Dimentio spoke to him with a soft, yet intimidating tone, "I… am… Obscurum."

The Strawhats, Crazy Hand, and Xemnas were shocked; but at the same time, they believed Dimentio was bluffing, "You can't be serious!" Sanji said furiously, "You expect us to believe that crap! We're not here to mess around with you, clown!"

"It's all true, Sanji-san." Dimentio replied optimistically while backing away from Luffy, "Didn't you all notice it before? The Aterneco; the collapsing buildings; and the whim of despair? That was all just a measly part of my colorful nature, flowing across this world's beautiful atmosphere! It's hard not to feel it souring across the air."

"As if we'll believe that!" Franky yelled, "If you're going to keep playing games with us, we're going to beat the living hell out of you for good!"

"Hmm… I see you want a demonstration. Very well." Dimentio said happily.

Dimentio slowly raised up his right hand, and as he did, Obscurum's dark energy started to swirl around each other. Everyone watched in awe as the core then released it's aura again, allowing the dark energy to create millions of dark vortexes that swirled towards the bottom of the main tower. The darkness consumed the rubble of the castle below as it then swirled up over the main floor, and fell down towards everyone on it.

"Watch out!" Usopp cried as everyone braced for impact, but Dimentio remained calm, and stopped the flood of darkness with the tip of his finger. The crew nervously looked at the darkness that was inches away from touching their bodies. They couldn't believe Dimentio stopped it with just a finger, but that was just the start, as Dimentio then pushed the darkness away with the same finger, causing all the dark energy to return to their rightful place.

The core then reacted normally again as everyone was still awestruck at what they've just seen. "You see? I told you…" Dimentio said happily, but radiated a dark vibe that was creeping out everyone on the floor, "I am the darkness. I control every aspect of Obscurum. This whole world is a part of me…" Dimentio then pointed at the core behind him without looking away from the Strawhats, "And the core… is my heart, beating enthusiastically upon revealing this dark secret of mine. Ah ha ha ha, I suppose it's not a secret anymore, now that you all know it. Consider you all lucky to be the first to see my true power… among the rest of the zillions and zillions of worlds that will soon be a part of me. Mmm hmm hmm!"

Everyone was completely nervous; they had no idea how to react upon realizing this. Seeing Dimentio controlling Obscurum's darkness really blew their minds away, "It's an illusion!" Usopp blurted out, sweating in complete fear as he has never been this scared before, "That had to be an illusion! Y-You're a magician, right! Magicians can pull of great stuff like this all the time. You're just messing with our heads, that's all! Ah ha haaa…" Usopp laughed weakly, trying to believe in his own words, but seeing Dimentio's expression hasn't changed at all, he immediately turned towards Crazy Hand, "That was fake, right! You know more about this kind of stuff than we do! You must know that this was just a big trick! Right!"

"That was no trick." Crazy Hand said in awe while his fingers twitched nervously, "That was very real alright. I felt it; his power was unmeasurable! He controlled the darkness, and made it look like it was an easy task! And above all that, I can feel that this world is somehow connected with the jester!" Crazy then slightly backed away, "This guy isn't lying; he really is Obscurum!"

By seeing how Crazy Hand was acting by this, the Strawhats knew he wasn't kidding around this time, and sounded very serious. "Then it's all true…" Luffy said as he and everyone else stared back at Dimentio, who simply laughed again.

"Ah ha ha! Yes, it's really true; I am Obscurum." Dimentio said proudly, "This whole time, you were trying to stop this world from growing, and you had no idea you were trying to stop me this whole time! Ah ha ha ha ha! AH HA HA HA HA HA! Oh, how I just love these kind of turn of events!"

"I don't understand… how is this possible? How are you connected with this world!" Robin asked.

"Ah yes, an explanation is a must for a time like this." Dimentio nodded, "I won't mind telling my story to you all, especially to those who really need to hear this." He said while glancing over his shoulder to smile at Xemnas, who was still shocked to say a word. Dimentio then turned back towards the Strawhats, and began telling his story, "You see, a long time ago, I was just an ordinary man, who only wanted to put smiles on peoples' faces, and as I did enjoy making the people around me laugh, there was something that was missing in my life. Something that would make me treasure always; something that would make me feel complete… power." Dimentio said with a wider and creepier smile, "I wanted power. I wanted so much power, that I could make an entire world laugh off their sorrows, until they actually die from laughter. What better way to lose your life than dying with a smile?"

Dimentio actually thought of what he said, imagining several faces laughing nonstop while coursing his hand across his cheek, "It was a dream of mine, to see everyone happy while they still breath. Why, just thinking about it makes me want to giggle. Ah ha ha… haaa, it was wonderful while that lasted, but I then realized something dear." Dimentio said while raising his finger, "I was being too self-centered; I was only thinking of the people from my world, and not the people living in the rest of the worlds. I asked myself, 'Why should I keep all this joy to this planet if there are other worlds in dire need of happiness as well?'. So, I began to think of an answer, gathering much more power as I go. I pondered, and pondered for the solution, but as time aged on, I began to realize, that I can never do such a thing. I can't give joy to other worlds with the power I have then. It would take far more than everything I know to figure this problem, possibly even more knowledge than my universe had."

Dimentio then looked away, sounding a little sad, "I started to lose hope; my dream of making everyone happy was slowly fading away… but I remained strong, and found the solution to my problem. It wasn't the answer I was searching for, but it was something that can atleast keep me strong. I decided… if I can't make everyone happy, then I should atleast make everyone in my own world happy. Yes, I wanted to have a world of my own; a brand new one for me to rule over, and where people will find peace and harmony as they can laugh even in the face of death." Dimentio then rubbed his chin, "Although, getting a world of my own was also quite a task. I didn't know where to begin, much less in what to do. I was, as people say, stumped during that time. However, I wasn't planning to give up so easily. It was then, after time aged some more, that I met someone who made my goals so much easier."

Dimentio laughed pleasantly, standing beside a group of people who somewhat share the same goals. He was with a big guy with a scottish accent; a green girl with a square head; a secretary with blue skin and glasses; and with the leader, who wears a white cloak, gloves, and top hat. He held a baton as he spreads out his hands and cloak, revealing a cosmetic atmosphere underneath as he laughed maniacally.

"I joined forces with a man known as Count Bleck." Dimentio explained, "He had a special book known as the Dark Prognasticus; The book that said it could reveal one's greatest desire, but in reality, it leads to certain doom. Using the book, and with a great source of power known as the Chaos heart, we could have destroyed an entire universe, and rebuild it so we can call it our own." Dimentio clenched his hands into fists, "But I was deceived! Count Bleck had no intention of rebuilding anything! He only wanted to destroy the universe, and leave it in ruin, just because he was heartbroken, and could never overcome his pain! My dream of having my own world was in a brink of extinction, and I had no choice, but to deceive Bleck as well! But it was futile, I didn't had the strength to fight Bleck, and time was running short. Fortunately for me, there was a group of heroes that wanted to stop Bleck, so I used them in part of my plans. As everything went in my way without Bleck suspecting anything, I decided to let the heroes join me by telling them about my real intentions, and allowing me to give them more power. That way, we can rule more than just one world; we can rule an entire universe!"

Dimentio then turned away from the Strawhats, remembering what happened that day, "But they rejected my offer. They thought what I was doing was pure evil. A silly thought, don't you agree? Everything I do is for a greater cause, even if everyone else has a different opinion of it."

"But what you're doing is evil! You're trying to take so many lives away just so you can be happy!" Chopper exclaimed angrily.

"Oh dear, don't tell me you believe those heroes were right, Chopper-kun?" Dimentio asked while glancing over at Chopper, "-sigh-… That's a shame, really. You must know by now that right and wrong are only a matter of perspective; those who know that are doing terrible things will certainly get punished, while those who know that they are doing the right thing will get rewarded. Hm hm, I should know…"

Dimentio trailed off as he then looked away from the crew again before he continued telling his story, "So the heroes moved on, and fought Count Bleck. They were able to defeat him, and they thought it was all over… until I came in. I appeared before Count Bleck, and took the power of the Chaos heart and the dark prognasticus from him. With those powers combined, my power intensified; I truly felt unstoppable, and the 'heroes' didn't stood a chance against me… right before they suddenly found another source of power, which led to my ultimate defeat." Dimentio then sounded angry, but remained smiling, "That extra power came from the people from all the worlds in the universe. They were so relentless to deny change, that they give their hopes and desires to those heroes in order to stop me from helping everyone! I was disappointed… but I didn't plan on giving up, even if I was going to die there and then!"

Dimentio then looked up at the core with a chuckle, "Using the last ounce of power I had, I self-destructed along with Chaos heart, and the prognasticus. With their destruction, it created a destructive force that was sure to destroy the entire universe. If I couldn't follow my dream, then I should atleast punish those who dared crossed my path. Unfortunately, the heroes managed to find some way to stop that from happening. Ah ha… it's amazing how things don't go your way after working so hard. It's a little disturbing if you think about it."

"If you died there, how did you come back?" Luffy asked.

"Obscurum must have revived him, but that doesn't explain why he has this kind of power." Nami said.

"Maybe he got it from those heroes. He was talking about them getting extra power." Luffy said while crossing his arms.

"On the contrary, it wasn't exactly their doing at all." Dimentio explained, "As I said before, I committed suicide in attempt to destroy my universe, but those heroes somehow managed to stop even that. They were so relentless, it's creepy." Dimentio then turned towards the Strawhats, "I'm sure you know them. One of them happens to be a plumber, always jumping into situations where he doesn't belong."

Luffy was confused, but his eyes widened as he thought he knew who Dimentio was talking about, "You mean Mario!"

"Ah, you do remember!" Dimentio said happily, "I was so close in fulfilling my dream if it hasn't been for that pesky plumber! All I needed was his brother, Luigi, but even he was too much trouble, including the princess, and the big brute!"

"Princess? You mean Princess Peach!" Sanji gasped, "She was one of the heroes that defeated you!"

"That's incredible! I never thought Mario, Luigi, and Peach were the heroes you were talking about!" Usopp said in awe, but then grew confused, "But, wait; who is the 'big brute' that was with him."

Dimentio merely smiled with a gleam from his eyes, "He's right there, lying unconscious before you." The Strawhat crew turned to their side, and saw Bowser. They were then surprised to figure out that Bowser was the 'big brute' Dimentio spoked of.

"Bowser! You mean this guy helped out the plumbers, and the princess!" Franky asked, "Okay, now you lost me, bro!"

"Believe what you want, it happened." Dimentio said with a shrug, "With him and the other three, they defeated me with ease, and they do believe that I am still gone from their lives."

"I see…" Luffy said while staring down at Bowser, "So this guy really isn't all that bad afterall…"

"In any case, they are of minor importance to my story. This is where it gets interesting." Dimentio said with a wider smirk, "When I lost all my power, I felt like my soul was being drifted away into the cosmos. I could actually remember how it felt."

Dimentio's soul soured across the cosmos, with his elemental properties shining from within his body. Dimentio could feel, nor see anything. He was oblivious at what was going on with him.

"I was encased with these colorful streams. I didn't knew what they were at the time, but they were actually my elemental properties. I noticed that they were all the same, except for my dark one, which looked somewhat bigger than my other elements. I felt sad; I knew I have done good things in the past, but why does my darkness surpass my other elements? Was it because I lost my only chance to fulfill my dream? I like to think so…"

Dimentio's soul then entered into the grand universe, where is elemental properties started to separate, causing his soul to disappear for good.

"I didn't know what was happening to me. I felt like I was being torn apart; I didn't know what to do! I only kept regretting that I couldn't succeed in life… the only thing I wanted now was a second chance! I kept wishing dearly for that chance, even though it was impossible to obtain it! Then… a miracle happened."

Dimentio held his chest tightly, preventing the elemental properties inside his body from leaving. As he did that, the dark element started to grow even more. In fact, the dark element grew so powerful, that it turned his other elements into darkness itself. Dimentio's eyes widened in shock, as he felt something dark glowing from within him. His soul then started flying towards Obscurum, which was nothing but a floating rock, only a seldom of darkness covering it. Dimentio was being pulled in by Obscurum, as he was then about to make impact.

"My desire to live was so strong… that I was pulled into this world, which was nothing but a floating rock before I arrived. At first, I was frightened; I didn't know what was going to happen to me. Was I going to hell? No… it was something more better than that… much more better."

Dimentio closed his eyes as his soul went through the surface of Obscurum's core, and now lied in the center. Dimentio nervously looked at his surroundings, which were completely dark as he could he then hear his own heart beating. He looked at his chest, and noticed a purple glow coming from within. His eyes then widened as the darkness was starting to come into his body. "GAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAAAAHHHHHHHHH HHHH!" Dimentio cried in sheer pain as from the outside, the core started illuminating.

"I was in great pain. I thought I was going to die for good that time… but I didn't. In fact, I was gaining something special. I was gaining the knowledge of this world's past; how it all started, and how it tragically ended. Not only was I gaining such vast knowledge, I was also gathering the power the Emperor God, Obscus, left behind after he died."

The core released a blue glow that caused the dark element energy to come off, and float around the core. "GYAAAGHH!" Dimentio then obtained his body back as his heart released an electrical current that shot out from his body. "GUUGHHUGHH!" Dimentio cried in pain again as he then placed his hands into his chest. His hands then phazed through his chest, as Dimentio grabbed his heart, and took out his body. He felt no pain upon doing this, as he then lied his heart in the center, and watched it sparked continuously.

Obscurum then released a purple wave that didn't do any harm to the worlds near it, but instead, it acted like a magnet, as it caused the dark element streams that were still in cosmos to home towards Obscurum with great haste. The streams showered down at the world like a meteor shower, only it looked like it would never end as Obscurum's dark energy was growing was so thick, it was separating from the core as far it could. Dimentio watched this in awe, before he then stared back at his own heart. He approached it, and placed his hands around its sides. Dimentio could feel the power growing within him as he then showed of a demonic grin. "AAAHHHHHHH HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA! AAAHHH HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA!"

The Strawhat crew were silent, but their expressions showed how nervous they still were, as hearing Dimentio's story just kept getting to them, "I don't care if it was by destiny or luck; I became the Emperor God of this beloved world!" Dimentio said happily, "This was the answer I was searching for this whole time! With this world, I can finally fulfill my dream of making everyone happy! With full control of this world, life is we know it will finally be at my palm, where I will treasure it always."

"Good story, but if you had all this power, why reveal it now?" Zoro asked.

"… I was about to get to that." Dimentio said while nodding, "You see, even though I have obtained this much power, I don't have any experience with it, so I decided to try out my new power."

Dimentio, who stood ontop of the illuminating core, raised his hand towards the dark energy in the atmosphere. With a flick of his pinky, Dimentio pulled in an Obscurum tear from the dark energy as it lowered before him, and began reviving somebody.

"With this new power, I can tell who dies in an instant no matter where they are located, and know everything about him and/or her as well. I picked very specific person for me to control who didn't had much darkness in him, but was the perfect man to be my slave."

The Obscurum tear then formed into a big person. That person turned out to be Yojimbo, who looked calm as he looked down at Dimentio, who merely smiled back, "You will become my puppet. You have no choice in the matter, so you will do everything I say from now on."

Zoro's eyes widened in shock as he remembered what Yojimbo told him before he passed away.

"I was brought here by choice, not by destiny…"

Zoro then frowned furiously while giving Dimentio a deadly glare, "You bastard!"

"Ah ha ha ha! It was nothing personal. I only wanted some company, that's all. Even I can feel lonely at times." Dimentio explained, which only made Zoro even more angry, "Anyway, once I successfully revived someone for the first time, I realized that my power was a little too strong…"

Dimentio laughed while standing beside Yojimbo on Obscurum's core, until Dimentio then saw somebody approaching Obscurum. It turned out to be Master Hand, who was shocked to see the Obscurum active again as he was about to investigate further, until Dimentio snapped his fingers, causing Master Hand's darkness to rise a bit. Master Hand grunted in pain as he had no choice but to retreat. Dimentio chuckled, as several moments later, Obscurum tears were heading towards the Smash world.

"It seemed that I didn't had much control over my power, so it caught the attention of a certain hand. I casted him away, of course, but my reckless control also revived some more people by accident. I was about to dispose them, but then… I came up with such a wonderful idea. It was the best moment for me to play the role of an Emperor God. I decided to use these 'accidents' as characters for my grand entrance as an Emperor God. Every God needs a proper introduction to their followers, and what better way to do that than by doing a show? Ha ha, so Yojimbo and I went to the Smash world first before the tears did, and played along with their confusion."

Everyone revived in the Smash world were confused of their surroundings. Dimentio only recalled the time when he tried to break up a fight between Yojimbo and Sigma, only for Yojimbo to choke him. What everyone else didn't know, was that Yojimbo wasn't really choking Dimentio; those two were just playing along while Dimentio took a good look at the people he accidentally revived.

"Every single one of them were so dull; they were all so selfish, and unfriendly. I couldn't possibly pick one of them to be a main lead. Until…"

While still pretending to be choked, Dimentio eyed Xemnas, and smiled. Dimentio then snapped his fingers when nobody was looking, making Obscurum to create the dark fortress using the dark energy. Ahead of time, when they arrived in the main floor, Xemnas looked at Obscurum through a window, which Dimentio noticed as he then winked, causing Obscurum to release a brief light that momentarily blinded Xemnas, but it gave him knowledge of Obscurum's past just like it did to Dimentio, only Xemnas recieved knowledge of the things he only needed to know.

Dimentio then glanced over at Xemnas with a smile, "Out of those accidents, I picked you to be the leader. You should feel grateful." Xemnas didn't reply as Dimentio then looked back at the Strawhats, "So with all 8 of us, we went to the Smash Mansion."

The 8 rulers were exhausted from fighting the hand bros., except for Dimentio, who was pretending to be hurt. He then smiled as he summoned Obscurum's dark energy to knock out Master Hand, and take him away.

"We took away Master Hand, and before we knew it, Sir Crazy Hand decided to call for help."

Crazy summoned the second Master Door, and tried to get a certain group into the smash world. Dimentio didn't like this as he used Obscurum's darkness to destroy the door before that group would appear.

"I thought I took care of the problem, but it seemed as if the individuals arrived in another world instead. Of course, we all know who those individuals are." Dimentio chuckled, which the Strawhats didn't find amusing, "I was disappointed, but as I thought about it, this might go along with my plan. When I heard you defeated Bowser the first time, that was when you fully grabbed my attention, so I sensed that you went to the peaceful Hyrule, and during that time, I was starting to question your abilities, so… I decided to give you all a gift, by reviving Ganondorf to wreak havoc on Hyrule once more!"

"You did what!" Luffy asked furiously.

"I had to know your limits. To be honest, I thought you might flee. But no… instead, you fought for a land that didn't even belong to you. There was no reward for you, except for the kindess of the people you saved, and you probably didn't even wanted that from the start." Dimentio said, "After seeing that, I knew you pirates would be perfect for my little scheme! So before you arrived in Indigo Plateau, I went to Giovanni."

Dimentio was in Giovanni's office, as he explaining to Giovanni about Obscurum, and was inviting him to be a ruler. Giovanni rubbed his chin with a interested look as he then replied he would do anything for him to be a part of it.

"I told Giovanni to host a tournament. Not just a pokemon tournament, but a tournament where people can fight in as well. Using the resources he had, he hosted the tournament, which was good for strong people to compete in… and you all took the bait. I observed your skills up close in person."

Dimentio, who was sitting between Sanji and Robin, observed the matches where the Strawhat crew were participating in. He observed them carefully as he was truly pleased.

"Don't you all remember that day? It was the day we met, and that we became great friends." Dimentio said happily, "It was also the day you defeated Giovanni, and that you decided to 'rebel' against me after helping out! Ah ha ha ha! It really looked as if you hated me, but we all know that you were just playing around."

"Like hell we were playing! You are our enemy, and you always have been from the start!" Nami yelled.

"Oh, Nami-san; no need to yell. I am standing right here, you know?" Dimentio said, "So after you left the town, you ended up in Mute City, am I correct? I'm sure Deathborn had a pleasant time with you, Luffy. Remember when he nearly killed you with that banishing spell of his? Let's just say I was involved…"

Luffy jumped into the Falcon Flyer and quickly pressed all the buttons, but nothing was happening. "Come on! Work! Come on!" Luffy panicked as he could then see the orb was getting closer to him. "Whoa!" Luffy crouches and pulls his hat down as the orb covered him and the Falcon Flyer. But the orb never touched him as Dimentio was there, pushing the orb back as he then faced his palm at Luffy when he wasn't looking, and teleported him away to safety.

"Wait, you helped me?" Luffy asked very curiously.

"Why, of course! I had to!" Dimentio said, "And let's not forget that disgusting creature of darkness that tried to kill you, or as you call it, 'the ugly chicken'."

Luffy was surprised to see none other than Emperor Ing right after beating up Ridley. "Damn! I can barely move!" Luffy muttered as he tried to crawl away from Emperor Ing. He then realized he wasn't being chased. Luffy looked behind his shoulder and see what was going on. Emperor Ing seemed to be quite injured as it can barely stand on it's legs.

"Did you know what that creature was doing when you're fighting with Ridley? It was making eggs. That creature planned to take over the Luminoth like before by creating an army of Ing, but fortunately, I came in the nick of time, and destroyed the eggs, before severely hurting Emperor Ing without trouble. It ran away from me, but I'm sure you remembered how it died. Ah ha ha!"

"Wait, what?" Sanji asked as he and the others were confused at what they were hearing.

"Oh, and let's not forget about Dreamland, when I actually lowered Kefka's power to the minimal percentage before you had that ship fight with him. He was too powerful for his own good, and if he had fought with full strength, some of you might have not made it."

"So that's why he was so angry. He didn't know it was you who lowered his strength!" Usopp exclaimed, "And you raised his power up during my fight with him! I almost died back there!"

"Now, let's not get off-topic. I still have plenty of more to reveal." Dimentio said, "Gee, I think Luffy received a transmission from someone when he was imprisoned. Do you also remember that, Luffy?"

"Ugh! You mean… !" Luffy gasped.

"There is no time for introductions!" Said the voice during the codec transmission, "Listen, I am going to let out of that cell. Once I free you, head out to the hanger, and find a way out of Arsenal as quickly as possible."

"Wait a minute, tell me who you are!" Luffy said.

"You must hurry! There is not much time before Arsenal is launched! You must stop it at all costs!" Said the voice.

"Wait, please! Who are you!" Luffy asked.

"… For now, let's just say that I am your biggest fan…" Replied the voice.

"That was you too!" Luffy gasped.

"Yes! I do admire the things you do. Consider me a big fan, if you must." Dimentio giggled.

"Now, hold on a sec!" Franky yelled, "What is the purpose of doing all that for us! We're not on the same side!" Franky then remembered something important, "What about our ship! Back in Corneria, you gave the order to those wimpy bastards to steal our ship! What was so nice about that, huh!"

"It wasn't nice at all, but it was necessary." Dimentio replied, "You see, I know the ship wouldn't be so easy to take, so I knew somebody would try to fight back. And thanks to your violent behavior, Franky-san, not only you retrieved the ship, but you rescued the general, and destroyed Oikonny's fleet. It was because of my decision to take the ship, that it all those good things happened."

"Guh? Well.. huh?" Franky scratched his head in confusion.

"So you were helping us this entire time." Robin said, "But why? We were a big threat to you, and knowing the consequences, you still helped us. I don't understand you at all."

"Robin-chan, you and your comrades are my dearest friends. Why wouldn't I help you in your time of need?" Dimentio asked, "To tell the truth, I wanted to make sure you leave those worlds in top condition. You all would still have made it here without my interference, but things wouldn't feel right if you were to leave, and something really bad were to happen later on. Consider my help a part of this ultimate show of mine, for you all play an important part in my little scheme."

"Which is?" Chopper asked.

Dimentio paused before spreading his arms up high in the air with glee, "You were more than just friends, you were also entertainers! Pirates that do good things instead of bad things are hard to come by, and are viewed with no value. But not me, I love the things you do. You are so inspiring, that I can see why Crazy hand picked you in the first place." Dimentio tilted his head to the side, "In every world you went to, I revived people of the darkest kind to square off with you, and you always ended up winning… but more importantly, you were the only ones who were qualified to answer my last question."

"Your question?" Sanji asked.

"I wouldn't let go of this power even if I didn't had a choice… but I refuse to accept this great power, if I cannot control it for eternity. So when you came here to the castle, the plot twist of my show has finally come." Dimentio then towards Nami, "Nami-san, we had a glorious fight a while ago. When you used your final smash on me, I really felt like I was going to die, but do you know what made me think otherwise?" Nami shook her head in response, allowing Dimentio to answer for her, "It's because I believed that I would stay alive. The moment you saw me disappear into thin air, was when I automatically returned inside the core in tip-top condition. My ultimate show has foreshadowed me with my happy ending, and I couldn't be more pleased. The talent of every character involved up to this point has done more than I could possibly imagine, and I couldn't be more grateful! It's thanks to everyone here, that I realized that I am an immortal being, which convinced me that I really am a god. It's thanks to your efforts, that I can fulfill my dream in peace."

"You…" Xemnas growled as he crawled towards Dimentio from behind, "You used us! This whole time, we were nothing but characters in your little show! You filthy backstabber! We were supposed to rule this world together! We were suppose to help our kind rule amongst those who casted us aside! This was supposed to be our dream!" Xemnas then narrowed his eyes, "I believed every word you said, and somehow, I can't believe it… you didn't have the right to mess with my head! Me and the other rulers may have been fooled, but I refuse to give up on this world neither! I don't care if you have the power to control this planet; I am the only on capable of ruling it! Me! Only me! You understand!"

Dimentio slowly turned towards Xemnas, smiling down at him, "Xemnas-san, there is no need to sound so tough in that condition. I already know how you feel… you little coward. Ah ha, it's always been like that, hasn't it, Xemnas? You've always craved to be whole again, yet you didn't work well with others. You always wanted to be alone; you always pushed everyone around, only because you think is best for everyone." Xemnas glared at Dimentio, but started coughing as he was losing energy, "Did you actually believe that reviving only sinister beings would make them coexist with each other? That's repulsive! I always lied to you, Xemnas; I never had the attention to revive anybody. I plan on ruling this world, where everyone will look up to me, and smile with pure joy. They will remember how I saved them from their past lives… because I'm planning to turn every single being in the cosmos into dark beings, the Aterneco!"

Hearing this made the Strawhats angry, as Xemnas was losing his breath upon feeling a dark aura from Dimentio that was getting stronger by the second, "You cared for no one. You only wanted to have power, that's all, but you were going to use it for the wrong reasons." Dimentio said with a smile, but sounded angry, "Who do you think you are, begging me for power when you already had enough! And after I allowed you to live, you had the gull to ask me for a heart! You ignorant fool; even with a heart, you would still be as pathetic as you are right now!"

Xemnas then looked up, only to see Dimentio pointing his finger at him, "You are no longer any use to me, Xemnas. It is time that you die… not for you, but for me." Dimentio said bluntly. The Strawhats watched silently, but nervously as Xemnas was starting to be afraid. He breathed more frequently as Dimentio gave the final word, "You disgust me, you roach."

Dimentio then shot a dark beam from his fingertip, as the beam went through Xemnas' forehead. Xemnas' body then started to disintegrated as pieces from his body rained down towards the core behind. "Geh! Uughaah!" Xemnas watched his body disappear as he extended his hand towards Dimentio, who only smiled upon seeing him dying, "AAAAAAAAAGHHHHHHHH!" Xemnas body then disappeared; he was gone for good. The Strawhats were shocked, as Dimentio then licked his fingers.

"Disgusting… yet so delicious." Dimentio moaned with pleasure, "You don't know how good it tastes to kill off the people you don't like."

"Alright, I had enough of this!" Luffy yelled furiously, "It was all your fault! Everywhere we went, you tried to destroy! It was because of you that the people we met in our journey have suffered! They have never done a thing to you, and you laugh at their pain! I cannot take any more of this stupid world anymore! Before I destroy this place, I'm going to kick your-"

"Ass?" Dimentio asked while facing towards Luffy and his crew, "My dear delusional monkey friend; I have already won." He raised his hands to the side, "You cannot kill an Emperor God, especially when you are in his land. And my power has been increasing ever since I have obtained it. Do you know what this power made me like the most in life?" Dimentio then peered over to the crew with a sinister smile, "… Death. Death has made me stronger. As we speak, many people are dying, and their element properties come here." Dimentio then wrapped himself with his arms, "I can hear them now; crying and suffering before they give out their last breath. All those men, women, and children… it may sound dreadful towards an ordinary person, but these feelings soothe my being. I will never grow tired of this. Even now, I can still here the souls moaning in despair up in this planet's atmosphere."

Crazy Hand was then confused, "What did you say?" Crazy then looked up at the dark energy, using his super vision, despite having no eyes, he could energy up close from afar. "Gegh!" Crazy then saw it; the dark element energy was more than just darkness. From up close, atleast several centimeters away, you can see purple souls flowing amongst the dark energy. They were moaning in despair, which were the source of the dark radiation the energy was reproducing. Crazy was utterly shocked; he couldn't believe he noticed this sooner, "Damn… even the dead people are here…"

"Ah ha ha ha ha! I made this world into Hell!" Dimentio laughed, "Since I do have the power to control the darkness, I can raise the dark elements in their spirits to it's maximum potential, turning their other element properties into dark energy, just like it happened to me. Not only does their darkness come here, but their spirits as well!" Dimentio then licked his upper lip, "This is how I managed to get this world to gather dark energy so quickly. Every being that has passed on come here to my domain, even if they were good people. Despite their differences, their dark elemental properties are the same as valuable, as well as their other elements. So why give the other elements to those other useless worlds, if I can have them all to myself?"

"This guy… he is a monster!" Sanji muttered. Chopper leaned on Usopp's leg nervously, while the others were just as nervous, but they were more pissed off.

"Those spirits… they're not supposed to be here." Crazy hand growled while turning towards Dimentio, "You know that, right!

They're not suppose to be here!" Dimentio chuckled, causing Crazy to yell louder, "You dick! The afterlife cannot be here! You're making a big mistake!"

Dimentio then giggled, before laughing gently, "Ah ha ha ha ha ha ha… Ahh ha ha ha ha ha ha ha ha ha… ah ha ha ha ha ha ha ha ha ha ha haaaaa.. AH HAAA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA! AH HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HAAAA HA HA HA!" Dimentio laughed like a maniac, as he covered his eyes with his hand to prevent the tears from pouring out rapidly. He kept laughing, as Luffy couldn't take it anymore.

"WHAT THE HELL IS SO FUNNY!" Luffy asked furiously. Dimentio managed to regain his posture little by little, as he then lets out a long, but calm sigh. He removed his hand from his face, and stared at the crew once more.

"People are so afraid to get punished, they do anything to cover up their mistakes." Dimentio said, "Except me, I have nothing to fear anymore. I cannot die. I'm an Emperor God… and very soon, I'm going to become the god of all life itself."

The Strawhats then got defensive, as they were ready to face off with Dimentio, who merely gave off a soft smile, "… There is still one thing left for me to do… but first, I would like for you all… to come down from here."

Dimentio then teleported away, escaping from the Strawhats as Luffy gasped before running pass the ground Dimentio was standing on, "Where is he! Where did that bastard go!"

"I don't know! He's gone!" Nami yelled.

Everyone looked at their surroundings, desperately trying to find Dimentio, until something really big happened.

BOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO
OOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO

OOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO
OOOMMMMMMMMMMMMMMMM
MMMMMMMMMMMMMMMMM!

"AAAAAAAAAAAAHHHHHH!" The Strawhats lost their footing as the tower they stood on started collapsing. It wasn't just the tower that was collapsing; every single object in the fortress were falling as well. To make matters worse, the entire ground was falling apart. The entire dark fortress was being destroyed.

"What's going on!" Chopper asked.

"The whole place is coming down!" Franky yelled.

"Everyone, hold on to something!" Nami yelled.

When the tower started to fall, everyone began falling down towards the rubble was forming beneath them. "Guys!" Crazy yelled, since he was the only one who could fly. "Don't worry; I'm coming for you!" Crazy flew down, and grabbed his unconscious brother by his thumb, before he flew down to catch the Strawhats.

The Strawhats were falling down with big chunks of rubble falling beside them. They screamed as they fell, except for Luffy, who was so enraged, he was punching any piece of rubble that came close to him, "Damn it! Where did you go!" Luffy yelled while breaking a chunk of rubble into pieces, "WHERE DID YOU GO! DIMENTIIIOOOOOOOOO!"

Luffy's cries were left unheard as from the outer look of the fortress, everything was slowly being destroyed.

Yep, Dimentio was the main baddie all along. From the very start up to this point, he has done every single bad thing you've read in this fic. Well… now you know everything. Tell me what you think about this, if it isn't too much trouble; I'd appreciate your thoughts.

Okay, time for me to get the new Punch-out, and start working on the final battle later. Ciaaoooo for now! Ah ha ha!

Final arc Pt !

Before you begin reading the chapter, let me answer some of your questions. To Jackcrusher; I planned Dimentio as the main villain around the Mario arc, so yeah, I planned this from the beginning, and yes, I fancy the clown above the rest. And to Mysteryguy: Yeah, the chaos heart and/or the prognasticus may be the reason why Dimentio has obtained such power… OR maybe it was just his sheer determination to live, that he would sacrifice himself to the darkness, and become one with Obscurum. You decide… and Phil-The-Smasher; I don't know if I will continue writing. Ask me that in the end of this story.

Oh, and this may be my computer acting strange or something, but for any members reading this, if you ask me questions in your reviews, or in your private messages, be sure to enable your private messaging in your profile so I can reply, because I prefer to answer your questions that way instead of like this.

Well, I know you all have been dying to see this chapter, and here it is. Enjoy it while it lasts!

Used… It appeared that throughout this entire journey, Dimentio was the mastermind that was pulling all the strings in his so called show. The Strawhats were dumbstrucked hearing this; all the trouble they went through was all because of a crazy jester, who used them as part of his enjoyment the entire time. The Strawhats were more than ready to beat the heck out of Dimentio, but before they could do anything, Dimentio disappeared, and the fortress slowly crumbled into pieces… what does Dimentio plan to do with the Strawhats…?

Chapter 132: Dark hell, The Strawhats' taste of death

"AAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA AAAAAAHHHHHHHHHHHHH HHHHH!"

The Strawhats were all falling down, with big chunks of rubble falling beside them. The Dark fortress was being destroyed as mentioned previously in the last chapter, and Dimentio was still nowhere to be seen.

"Dimentio! Come out!" Luffy yelled as he stretched his arms, and punched a chunk of rubble into pieces. Luffy was giving off an intense glare, still furious for what Dimentio has done since this adventure began. Luffy continued to destroy every object in sight nonstop, while he and his crew continued falling to their impending doom.

"Waaaaahhh! Why is this happening!" Chopper asked while frantically shaking his limbs while falling.

"The whole place is falling apart! It has to be that damn clown's doing!" Franky yelled before punching a big chunk of rubble away with his steel fist.

Sanji fell beside Nami and Robin, as he was kicking away the rubble around them to ensure their safety. "Tsk! There's is no end to this!"

"How are we suppose to survive this! There is no bottom anymore!" Nami cried.

"Then we'll make one!" Zoro yelled furiously while cutting several rubble below him to pieces, "We have to stay alive! We can't afford to die in a place like this!"

"DIIIMMMENNTTIOOO!" Luffy twisted his body, and untwisted it, allowing him to punch every rubble in his surroundings, and nearly hitting some of his crew.

"Luffy, calm down! He's not here!" Usopp yelled frantically before getting serious, "There is no point in getting angry at a time like this! If you want to face him, we have to find a way to survive this!"

Suddenly, a shower of rubble from above was destroyed as Crazy Hand went flying down towards the crew while carrying his unconscious brother with his thumb, "Look! It's Crazy Hand! He's coming to save us!" Chopper exclaimed happily while tears poured out of his eyes.

"Hang on, guys! I'm comin' for ya!" Crazy Hand yelled while flying down pretty fast. He then spotted Bowser, limplessly falling a little from where the crew was, "I'll save meathead first!" Crazy flew in, and grabbed Bowser with his pinky, but a boulder suddenly fell ontop of him, and pushed him further down below the crew. "OWWW!"

"Aahhhh! Crazy is in danger!" Chopper cried.

"You idiot! Stop wasting time, and save us!" Nami yelled furiously, but nervously as well.

"Gegh!" Crazy retained his flight pattern, and knocked the boulder off of him with his back. He then flew through some rubble, before doing a U-turn, and flew towards the crew again. "Get on!" The Strawhats got up on Crazy's back when he got close, except for Luffy, who was still letting out his rage on the rubble falling beside him.

"Luffy, come on!" Zoro yelled as he reached, and grabbed the back of Luffy's vest collar, and pulled him on Crazy's back with the others. Luffy wouldn't calm down, as Franky and Sanji had to hold him down from moving so much.

"Okay, guys! Hang on tight; we're going up!" Crazy then started to fly upwards to get out of the storm of rubble that was showering over him and everyone else. Crazy moved side to side while going up, as he had no trouble of getting pass the rubble whatsoever. The crew hanged on Crazy hand's back tightly so that they wouldn't fall off, but as for Luffy, he got ontop of Crazy while facing up towards the rubble.

"Luffy, that's dangerous!" Nami yelled, but Luffy ignored her.

"GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!" Luffy repeatedly stretched his arms up, punching through every single chunk of rubble that was in the way. He was even punching the rubble that was nowhere near of falling onto him or the crew.

"Oi, Strawhat! You're going overboard here!" Franky exclaimed.

"Luffy, come back down here! It's not safe!" Robin yelled.

"L-Luffy! Dude, you don't have to go all whacky on us! I can get through here without any help!" Crazy exclaimed, feeling nervous by seeing Luffy's behavior.

"GRRRRRRAAAAAAARRGGH HHAAHHH!" Luffy continued punching and punching through the storm, until Crazy finally flew through where it was safe. Crazy sighed in relief as he remained stationary in midair, allowing the Strawhats to calm their captain down.

"That's enough, Luffy!" Sanji yelled as he, Zoro, and Franky grabbed Luffy's arms, and pushed him down his back. Luffy was panting and weaving from all the anger he unleashed, and as his crew stared at him worringly, he was beginning to calm down.

"Ah… mmm.. I'm fine." Luffy replied calmly. Zoro and the others gently released Luffy, allowing him to sit up, and breathe normally.

"Ugh, well… atleast we're safe." Nami said while rubbing her temples with one hand.

"But for how long?" Zoro asked with a blunt look.

Everyone was silent, as they were overwhelmed, but saddened from hearing the terryifying things Dimentio revealed to them in the previous chapter. There expressions were shaded by the light of Obscurum's core, which was Dimentio's heart, beating normally from within. Why, the Strawhats were so down, even Crazy Hand was upset.

"Tsk! I can't believe this!" Sanji mumbled while looking for a cigarette in his pocket, but he found nothing as he was fresh out. He sighed irritably while closing his eyes, "That clown used us this entire time! We were nothing but puppets for that damn bastard! Ugh… I knew he was trouble from the first time I laid eyes on him!"

"I never expected things would turn out like this…" Nami said sadly, "All this time… it was because of him. All those jerks coming back to life was all his doing! Everything he did to the people we met was all his fault! We went through all that trouble just to entertain him!" Nami was furious thinking about what Dimentio did, but then grew sad again, and calmed down, "… He has to be stopped. We can't let that maniac win."

"I agree." Usopp said, with his body shivering in fear while sitting, "It's scary, but it's not like we can get away. Even if we could, it wouldn't feel right." Usopp then looked at his slingshot, "We can't just leave. Even if it is going against someone with god-like powers, we can't just run away!"

"Usopp…" Chopper said in awe, but then grew serious before looking away, "I don't want him to do any more bad things too. But how are we suppose to beat him if he is too powerful?"

Franky then slammed his fist on Crazy's back out of frustration, "So what if he is powerful! You're saying that as if we couldn't beat him at all!" Franky replied, "So he has powers of a dead god, so what! When we thought he was that Obscus guy, we were ready to fight him despite what would happen to us! He had us all fooled, yeah, but now that we know that it was him pulling the strings, that gives us the better reason to punch his face deep into his skull! We've been through harder things before; we can surely get through this!"

"However, this situation is far more complex that anything we have seen before." Robin said, catching Franky off guard, "We are facing a dangerous man in his own world. If we fail to stop him… we'll lose more than just our lives."

The Strawhats grew silence once more, but this time, they looked more serious. Crazy, on the other hand, feels disturbed while looking at his dark surroundings, "… They are not suppose to be here." He said, "My brother and I know what happens to those who die, and this place is not where they end up. Dimentio really did turn this place into hell."

The crew looked at Crazy, feeling worried about him, "So everything around us are souls?" Nami asked, feeling a bit nervous just by looking around, "Could they be the reason why Obscurum gathered this much darkness so quickly?"

"Probably…" Crazy replied, "When people die, their dark elements come here at their own pace. It may take a day, or even years for those elements just to get here." Crazy then sounded sad, "Dimentio's ambition to live must have triggered something to Obscurum's core, allowing it to pull in all the dark element streams to it all at once, including the spirits they were in. That must have sped up Obscurum's growth rate by a thousand times, maybe even more. So yeah… if you wondering why this world got so big so fast, I just might have answered your question."

"Then let's find Dimentio." Luffy said before standing up with a stern look, "Right now! We have to stop him as soon as possible! We can't let that guy mess with this place anymore!"

The crew agreed silently, as well as Crazy Hand as hearing Luffy's determined speech made him feel better.

But before the crew could do anything, strange noises could be heard beneath them. Franky peered over Crazy's back, and gasped at what he saw. "Oi! Something is happening down there!" The crew gathered, and looked down along with Franky, and saw something strange. Where the Dark Fortress used to be now lied a gigantic cloud of darkness. It radiated a dark substance, and also made a dark and eerie sound. The cloud was so dense, it was impossible to see through it.

Usopp puts on his goggles, and tried to get a better look at the cloud, but to no avail. He removed the goggles, and sighed, "I don't know what that is, but I can't see a thing down there."

"Dimentio must be behind this!" Luffy snarled with clenched fist.

"I've never seen a cloud like that before!" Nami said in awe, "I can't even tell what it might cause."

"Crazy, get us down there! Dimentio must be in there!" Luffy demanded. But suddenly, Crazy was immediately pushed down by a dark force. Not only him, but the Strawhats too were being pulled down along with Crazy.

"AGH! What is this!" Zoro asked.

"Too… heavy…" Crazy muttered while trying to remain in the air, "The gravity has changed! It's pulling us down!"

"Gagghh! It hurts!" Chopper cried.

Crazy snarled as he tried to fly up, but the force of the gravity was too much even for him to withstand, "I-I can't.. I can't do it! I can't.. GUGH!" Crazy then gave up as he, and everyone else was being pulled into the cloud faster than a speeding bullet. The Strawhats screamed in fear as they couldn't do anything, but hold onto Crazy.

"AAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA AAHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHHH HHHHH!" The Strawhats screamed as they, and Crazy, along with Master Hand and Bowser, were pulled into the dark cloud. They continued falling inside the dark depths of the cloud, as they could barely see a thing. They fell down even faster, and it didn't appear that they would stop.

"How long is this going to last!" Usopp panicked while holding onto Crazy for dear life.

"Grr! Until we land, that's when!" Zoro replied.

"At this speed, we'll die if we hit land!" Robin said. Crazy heard this, and slowly started to turn around.

"Crazy, what are you doing!" Luffy asked right before-.

CRAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAASSSSSSSSSS SSSSSSSHHHHHHHHHHHHH HHH!

A loud thud was heard from the outside of the cloud, as the sonic waves caused the center of the cloud to spread out, revealing where the everyone is. Everyone appeared to have crashed onto some kind of surface, which the Strawhats were concerned about.

The Strawhats have managed to survive the fall, all thanks to Crazy Hand, who turned onto his back, and created a barrier around the Strawhats, Bowser, and Master Hand just before he crashed onto his back. The Strawhats were dumbfounded by this as they were on Crazy's palm, watching Crazy cast away his barrier before his fingers limplessly fell back.

"Crazy!" Nami gasped as she and the crew got off him.

"Y-You idiot! Why did you do that! You could have killed yourself!" Sanji yelled.

"Agh… tsk.. yeah, right! As if someone like me is going to die this stupid!" Crazy replied furiously, but was heavily injured by the fall, "Nrgh.. the heck with me, are you guys okay?"

"We're fine. You protected us from the fall. Master Hand, and Bowser are alright as well." Robin said, as Master Hand and Bowser were lying unconciously around the visible floor.

"Ah, good… I wish my bro was awake to see this; he would have been proud, for once…" Crazy said with a chuckle, before grunting. As Nami, Usopp, Chopper, and Robin checked on Crazy's wounds, Luffy, Zoro, Sanji, and Franky looked at their surroundings.

"Where are we this time?" Franky asked.

"I can't see through the dark. Who knows what might lie around here." Zoro replied.

Luffy stared at the darkness around him and his friends, as he stared at the darkness circle around them in a slow process. He looked up, and saw from where they entered the dark cloud. The gaping hole was the only thing that was brightening the area where Luffy and company are in. Luffy silently narrowed his eyes, and clenched his fist as the quiet area was making him uncomfortable, but before he could say a thing, the floor started to shake. "Whoa!"

"Ah!" The crew staggered while the floor shook, but they managed to retain their balance as the darkness around them started to spread away from them. "Yah! Is the place falling apart again!" Usopp asked.

"No, look!" Nami yelled.

The darkness continued to spread back, allowing the crew to see that they were in a massive sized platform from which they have never seen. The platform was just as big and wide the dark fortress used to be, only this platform was completely plain; there were no buildings, or hills, or any object whatsoever. The floor was black, with dark purple swirly lines glowing on it, and near the edges of the platform, the darkness that spread out earlier sunk into the ground. Few seconds later, the darkness spewed out from the edges, turning into solid purple shapes that appeared to be giant sharp teeth, with purple lanterns hanging from the teeths' tips as they leaned over the floor. The hollow mountain of purple teeth surrounded the crew, preventing them from leaving as they seemed overwhelmed, and terrified upon seeing this new land.

"I thought things couldn't get any stranger." Sanji said with a frown.

Now that the crew could see their surroundings, Franky quickly searched the place, and sighed in relief upon seeing something,

"Oooh.. thank goodness! The ship is still alive!" Franky exclaimed while wiping the sweat of his brow, as the Thousand Sunny was still intact, as it was lying in front of one of the teeth, which was way far behind where the Strawhats were.

"Ooh, phew! I thought we lost the ship when the fortress went down." Usopp sighed in relief.

A dark mist then emerged in front of the crew, and grew bigger as it appeared to be forming something big. "Now's not the time to worry about the ship! We got bigger things in hand!" Zoro replied. Crazy then slowly emerged from the ground, while the Strawhats watched as the darkness was turning solid. It was forming a set of red stairs, with a purple surface with several happy, but creepy faces on it supporting the stairs from below. When the stairs were high enough, a big, purple wall formed on that that took shape of several body figures that seemed to be dying in agony, but their faces of despair were replaced by happy faces instead.

And in the ground in front of the wall, purple flames spewed out, circling around each other as they formed a black chair, with a wooden black heart and flames around it on top. A small portal then formed from above the chair, and slowly, Dimentio came out of it leg first, with the darkness around him coming off like water. Luffy and the others glared as Dimentio then placed a foot on his throne, and bowed down.

"Ah ha ha ha ha ha! Ta-dah!" Dimentio exclaimed proudly with open arms. Everyone wasn't amused, bringing Dimentio's mood down, "Aw, no applause… oh god… no wait, shouldn't it be, 'Oh me?'. Ah ha ha ha ha ha ha!" Dimentio laughed as he then sat on his chair, and crossed his legs, "Ahh, this is lovely. This is far more comfortable than that rusty, old castle. I feel more at home now."

"Dimentio!" Luffy exclaimed furiously, "You bastard! Don't you dare run away from me again!"

Crazy then floated beside Luffy, "Hey! What were you trying to do! You nearly killed us for a second there!"

"Ah ha ha ha!" Dimentio laughed before resting his elbow on his chair's handle, and placed his hand on his cheek, "Oh, don't be absurd. As if you all were to die by some simple renovations of mine. Hm hm!" Dimentio then uncrossed his legs, and crossed them again with his other leg, "I hope you didn't mine, but seeing that the fortress was nearly no more, I felt obligated in destroying it, and replacing it with an even better land, made out of my great imagination. What you see here is my new throne! Of course, there are still things to be done, like making some more decorations here and there, and an even bigger castle underneath this place, but this will do for now." He then placed his hand on his chest, "Destroying that old fortress from the past was a little disturbing, I'll admit, but I shouldn't be guilty of it; I can do whatever I want. I am THE god, afterall. Ah ha ha ha ha!"

"You're not this world's god! You destroyed a historical landmark that wasn't even yours!" Robin snarled, "How dare you use this world's past for your personal amusement! The real Emperor God of this world would never toy around it's land like that!"

"Oh ho, silly Robin-chan. Gods have the power to create and destroy whatever they want." Dimentio replied with a tease, "Since you're just a human, you wouldn't understand my position. Anything you believe in are just opinions, but since I am an Emperor God, everything I say is always 100 percent correct." Robin frowned hearing this as Dimentio then looked to his side, "In any case, I knew you all were to survive the destruction of the fortress. You are the Strawhat pirates; anything you want you always get, and any enemy land you step foot on always end up in ruins later on. Ah ha ha! It would be silly if you were to die by me unintentionally, why, it wouldn't even make sense to harm good friends of mine. Especially if you're still of some use to me…"

"Forget it, you clown! We're not falling for any of your schemes anymore!" Sanji replied.

"We will never give in to your actions!" Nami yelled, "You can try forcing us, but we'll never let you use us! If you try to pull a trick on us one more time, we'll make you regret for eternity!"

"Awww, but we were having so much fun, weren't we?" Dimentio asked with a sad tone, "I swear, sometimes you are all so frustrating to be with. However, since I can't get enough of your company, I'll disregard those minor issues, for I have something that I wish to do with you all before I can truly live my dream to it's fullest."

"Whatever it is, we're not going to do it!" Luffy replied with a clenched fist, "We have no time to play your stupid games! The only thing we're going to do is to beat the living hell out of you, and get out of here!"

"I'm sorry, but leaving here is not an option." Dimentio said as he then twirled his finger near his head. He casted a dome-like barrier over the floating throne area, preventing anything from coming in or out. The barrier then turned invisible, as the Strawhats were shocked by this.

"Oh no! Now we're sitting ducks!" Usopp exclaimed nervously.

"We can't get away!" Chopper exclaimed.

"Oi, you clown! Don't you dare look down on us! We weren't planning on running away even if we had that option!" Franky yelled at Dimentio.

"Of course, you were." Dimentio said happily, but bluntly at the same, "Confidence can lead to so much these days; it's even clouding your natural senses. With just a thought, I can wipe your cocky attitudes right off your cerebral cortexes, and turn you all into the spineless beings you really are. None of you will be leaving here… you're too much of an importance to be discarded."

Zoro unsheathed his swords, and pointed one of them towards Dimentio, "I'm sick of hearing you talk." He snarled with a glare, "If you have something to say, you might as well come down here, and tell us already. If not, then we'll come up there, and end this. Either way, somebody is going to get hurt if this tease of yours lasts any longer."

Dimentio stared down at Zoro, feeling the tension coming from his eyes. It was the same with other crewmembers he looked at, especially Luffy. Dimentio could feel a great sense of power ready to be unleashed from Luffy just by looking at his eyes. The longer Dimentio just stared silenty at the Strawhats, the more eager Strawhats were in attacking Dimentio. Dimentio then chuckled before uncrossing his feet again.

"Mm hm hm.. Ha ha ha.. oh, very well. I might as well greet myself to my people. It will be practice before I have it all." Dimentio said. He then got up from his chair, and raised his head and arms up high, feeling the dark energy in him growing stronger before releasing a relaxing sigh. He then lowered his arms around his body, and lowered his head to gaze towards the crew with a pleasant, yet sinister smile. "Luffy… you and your crew know everything about me. I've told you of my dreaded past, and what I had to do to make my dream a reality. I had planned to make a beautiful future with this sanctum of a world. It will be a hard journey… a journey that it's much like yours."

Dimentio then started to walk down the stairs, talking as he did, "… It wasn't because of Crazy Hand that you have been taken out of your world. It was all because of me that you're here. If I hadn't gained this power that I so much deserved from the start, none of this would be happening. It was actually fate that brought us all here together." As Dimentio took another step down the stairs, a dark mystic aura formed from the bottom of his feet. The darkness then slowly oozed up along Dimentio's body while he continued walking down the stairs, "Let me tell you this… fate isn't made by natural causes or the sort; it's made by sheer power from an unstoppable being who can control every aspect of everyday life. One is qualified to control such power is the only person allowed… to call himself a god."

Usopp and Chopper were feeling nervous, while the rest of the Strawhats were still glaring at Dimentio, watching his darkness around him engulfing his lower body, and was now engulfing the his arms, and the rest of his upper body.

"I am an Emperor God, therefore, I control fate. It was because of me that you are all here. You have already felt my power, but it is now time for everyone else to see what I am capable of. Life, as we know it, will experience a new way of living. Life and death will forever be the same; and all those helpless souls will always be afraid of them both! With this world… I can create my era. Obscurum will be the home for every life and death specimen from now on. Obscurum is now… Dark Hell."

The darkness then engulfed Dimentio's face as his entire body was now engulfed with oozing darkness. Nonetheless, Dimentio continued walking downstairs as the darkness on him started to come off like fire, starting from his feet. As the darkness was coming off, the crew could see that Dimentio now has a different attire just by noticing his shoes. Once the darkness finally got off of Dimentio's figure in a blazing, yet in an elegant matter, it revealed that Dimentio now looked a little different from before.

Dimentio's clothing was somewhat the same, only the cheerful yellow and purple colors of his clothes looked more darker and sinister than before. The dark clothing he has underneath were still the same, only it has red outlines instead of white ones, and the makeup on his face had more colors to it. For example, on the white side of his face, there was a black stripe coming from the side of his brighter black eye to down across his white cheek; same goes with the black side of his face, only it was a dark yellow stripe coming from the side of his brighter yellow eye to all the way down across his black cheek. To put it simple, Dimentio's clothing has turned from a cheerful, yet somewhat scary jester, to a less cheerful, and more of a demonic jester.

Dimentio smiled, which looked scarier than before as he finally got to the bottom of the stairs, where he confronted the Strawhats, face to face.

"As you can see, if one must be a god, one must look like one." Dimentio giggled, "And also, as an Emperor God, I have to make the right decisions. Death is very beautiful thing, my friends, but… I don't want any of you to die." Dimentio then said as he was about to approach the crew, but stumbled into Bowser, who lied unconsciously on the floor in front of him. Dimentio looked down on him with a neutral look, "Oh… the big brute is still here…" Dimentio said unpleasantly.

The jester then raised his foot to the side, and kicked Bowser hard in the ribs. The Strawhats were shocked seeing that as Bowser gasped while some of his blood came out of his mouth, as Dimentio's kick sends him souring across the floor in sonic speed, and was about to crash into one of the mountain teeth behind him.

"Bowser!" Luffy cried out towards Bowser, who was still unconscious as he was about to crash. Dimentio laughed as he then twirled his hand at Bowser's direction, opening up a dark portal in Bowser's way as Bowser flew into it before disappeared into thin air. Luffy gritted his teeth in anger as he glared at Dimentio. "What did you just do! Where did he go!"

"No need to worry; I only took him back to his homeworld where he belongs." Dimentio assured, "He had no business here, and as enjoyable his trip was from the start, I'm afraid he won't be able to settle the score with you anymore." Dimentio then delightfully placed his hand against his cheek, "Let's look on the bright side; he was always getting on your nerves, and he was one of the four that took away my regular life. Kicking him away like the filthy dog he is was justifying in the end."

"You're really sick, bro…" Franky snarled.

"Oooh, let's not pity the useless fool anymore; let us get back to what is important." Dimentio said with a wink, "As I said before, I don't want any of you to die. As best friends, I want you to live. I want you to cast away those misplaced feelings you have towards me right now, and replace them with kindness, because… you cannot defeat me. Not to mention in your conditions, why.. you all will die soon if you don't get treated right away."

"You worry less about what condition we are in, and more about how you will feel in the future!" Sanji growled, "We will stop you, and there is nothing that we'll change our minds!"

"That's why, I'm going to make a deal with you all. Why create such bloodshed for no reason? Instead of fighting, why not make peace?" Dimentio asked as he then spread out his arms, "This is something I wish to do before I can feel good for the rest of my era. No one deserves this opportunity more than you all, because let's face it; everyone else is just garbage. They only care for what they think is right, and not what IS right. I can already feel them, doing so many stupid goals for no good reason, but atleast it's hysterical how they die in the end. Ah ha ha… so, what I really want from you all… is to show me some perspective. What I wa-"

"HURRRRRRAAAAAAAAAA AGHHHH!" Luffy didn't wanted to hear it, as he ran towards Dimentio, and socked him hard in the face.

POOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO
OOWWWWWWWWWWWWWWWW WWWWWWWWW!

Crazy was shocked to see Luffy attack so suddenly, but the crew weren't since they were actually relieved seeing Luffy hit the demonic jester. Luffy remained standing where he was, having not pulled his fist out of Dimentio's face yet as he had to shift his weight on his left knee, and thrust his fist over his head to hit Dimentio with full force, and it turns out, Dimentio was now bleeding from his forehead. Yet, despite all that, Dimentio didn't faze from getting hit. He didn't even flinch as he was still smiling, inspite that he has blood on his face.

"… I didn't finish." Dimentio replied happily, yet bluntly. "Was there something… you wanted to say first?"

"I told you I'm going to kick your ass! I don't care what you want from us!" Luffy replied, still having his fist in Dimentio's face, "Hearing you talk about people dying like that is making me sick! You think you're a god! You're nothing like one! You don't want people to be happy forever, you're the only one who wants to be happy forever!"

The Strawhats, and Crazy Hand got into their defensive stances as Luffy continued talking, "I don't care if you are a god; I don't care how you became a god; and I don't care how you plan to rule as a god! I'm not going to let you do this! You're the only guy left that has pissed me off during this whole adventure. Me and my crew are no longer going to fall in any of your tricks! I don't know how… but I will stop you, so you won't be able to hurt anybody anymore!"

Dimentio was silent, but he sounded a little disappointed, "How sad. You have come this far, and haven't learned a thing throughout you entire voyage. Life can only be valuable as how people treat it, and you waste yours by sacrificing it all the time. Well…" Dimentio then raised his hand in front of Luffy's face in a blink of an eye, and flicked Luffy across his forehead, sending him flying off his feet.

"Luffy!" Luffy's crew cried out as Franky and Chopper caught Luffy, but fell onto their backs upon doing so. They quickly sat up, and see if Luffy was okay, as well as the other crewmembers. "Luffy, say something!"

"AAAAAAAGHHH!" Luffy cried in pain as he held forehead, which was bleeding, "Damn it… it hurts! Ah!"

"You're hurt! He couldn't have taken you down this easily!" Usopp exclaimed furiously, but nervously.

"That clown… he's stronger than we thought!" Sanji snarled as he and the others glared back at Dimentio, who gazed on his hand he hit Luffy with.

Dimentio could see Luffy's blood oozing down from his fingertip, and licked the blood clean, which tasted good to him as he smirked. He then gazed back at the Strawhats, "Let's see, since you all have trouble learning a thing from me, I might as well teach everything you need to know all in ten minutes. Let's start with an opponent, shall we!" Dimentio then faced his palm towards Master Hand, with everyone watching cautiously.

"… UGGGGGGGGGGGGGGGHHH HHHHHHHHHHHH!" Master Hand gasped upon regaining conciousness as he kept screaming in agony.

"Wha! Bro!" Crazy flew in beside Master Hand, and watched him scream in pain. Crazy was terrified seeing this, and tried to figure what was wrong, "B-Bro! What's wrong! Snap out of it! It's me, Crazy!"

"GUUAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAEEEEEEEEGHHH HHHHHHH!" Master Hand cried even louder.

"Please stop crying! Tell me what's wrong! Let me help you!" Crazy Hand pleaded, but to no avail. As Master Hand continued to cry out in pain, the Strawhats instantly drew their attention towards Dimentio.

"Oi! What the hell are you doing to him!" Franky asked.

"Don't you see? I'm making Master Hand more of a use in his life than what he has done for himself and for everyone else." Dimentio replied happily, "As the Emperor God of darkness, I have the power to control the dark elements inside a person's body. I can weaken, and strengthen their darkness without a fuss, meaning I can control anyone I please." Dimentio then stared back at Master Hand, seeing him cry in pain even more, "Right now, I'm increasing the power of Master Hand's dark element to much greater proportions. He will have so much darkness in his body, that he will no longer be himself. The darkness inside him will turn him into an Aterneco, and he will become my slave for an eternity. Ah ha ha ha, just look at the pathetic accident forming into a creation of my own."

"No…" Luffy grunted as he forcefully sat back, inspite of the heavy injuries he has, "Stop it… he hasn't done anything to you! STOP IT!"

"AH HA HA HA HA HA! BE MINE!" Dimentio laughed as darkness started to engulf Master Hand's body.

"BRRROOOOOOO!" Crazy cried before the darkness around Master Hand's body exploded, knocking Crazy Hand on his back as the Strawhats went to help Crazy up. Crazy managed to get up on his own inspite of help, as he then gasped seeing his brother still conscious, but looked much different. The Strawhats were also in shock, as Master Hand's glove figure was now black, and was radiating dark energy. "Brother.. no… what has he done to you!"

"GRRRRRRRRRRRREEEEEA AAGGHHH!" Suddenly, Master Hand attacked Crazy with a tackle, pushing him pass the Strawhats, and into the ground behind them. The crew were shocked as they were seeing Master Hand attacking his own brother.

"Ugh! Bro!" Crazy cried as he tried pushing Master Hand off him, but Master Hand was too strong, and kept pushing Crazy down into the floor hard enough that he'd get flattened, "Br-Bro! Stop! What are you doing!"

"GRRRRRRRRRRRREEAAAA AAAAAAARGHHH!" Master Hand growled as he kept squishing Crazy's figure into the ground, which was very endurable to not have received a dent so far.

"Hey, stop! You're going to kill him!" Chopper pleaded. The Strawhats then went for Master Hand, and tried to pull him away from Crazy, but Master Hand released a dark aura that knocked the entire crew away from him. "Ugghhh!"

"GRREEEEAAAGH!" Master Hand turned towards the Strawhats, and were about to attack them, but Crazy came from behind, and tackled Master Hand, tumbling with him across the floor, and ended up on top while forcing Master Hand on the floor, "GRAAAEEGGHHHHH!"

"Dammit, bro! Stop attacking us! It's me, Crazy! You're suppose to be the smart one! Control yourself!" Crazy exclaimed, having a little trouble keeping Master Hand floor as he kept rampaging nonstop. The Strawhats recuperated as they got up, and watched Master Hand trying to break free of Crazy's grip.

"What's happening? Why is Master Hand acting like this!" Usopp asked while panting heavily.

"The way he's acting… that's definitely not himself." Nami panted with a shocked expression, "I don't understand it, but… Master Hand is no longer himself. The darkness inside him must have taken over him."

"He's become a monster. There is no stopping him now." Robin panted.

"But why! Why does this have to happen to him! He's a good person, I know it!" Chopper cried as tears came out of his eyes.

"It's not his fault!" Luffy said while gritting his teeth furiously, "IT'S BECAUSE OF HIM!"

The Strawhats faced towards Dimentio, who was only laughing nonstop upon seeing Master Hand acting a like a fierce beast. The Strawhats glared at him, as Luffy pounded his fists together, before charging in towards the demented jester along with his crew, "Dimentio! You'll pay for this!"

Luffy then stretched his arm out towards Dimentio, who instead of taking it in like the last time, he caught Luffy's fist that was inches away from hitting his fist. "Ah ha ha! I was wondering when you wanted to play." He said before his smirk widened, "Now that you're ready… let's play."

"Whoa!" Luffy was pulled off from his feet as Dimentio pulled his stretched arm, and threw Luffy behind him without turning around. Luffy crashed onto Dimentio's chair face first before he started tumbling down the staircase. Dimentio laughed as seconds later, Zoro appeared from his side, and placed his blades around the jester's neck.

"GAZAMI DORI!" Zoro clamped his swords together to cut Dimentio's head off, but Dimentio teleported to escape, and reappeared behind Zoro. "Gegh!" Zoro instantly turned, and slashed at Dimentio behind him, but Dimentio swayed his body to his right to avoid the slash. "TATSU MA-gugh!" Zoro was about to spin with his swords, but gasped as Dimentio's face was facing inches away from his. Zoro's eyes widened as Dimentio then plunged his thumbs up into Zoro's wounds that were in front of his shoulders, causing it to open as blood started pouring out. "GAAAAAAAAGHH!" Zoro fell on his back, and dropped his swords to cover his wounds with his hands so blood wouldn't come out as much. Dimentio laughed at Zoro's pain, while Luffy regained his footing on the stairs, and leaped down towards Dimentio from behind.

"GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!" Luffy repeatedly stretched his arms back and forth at Dimentio while falling towards him, but the jester teleported inches in front of him as Luffy fell directly into his fist, which caused a shockwave between his face and Dimentio's afterwards. "GUUUGHH!" Luffy was then soured back, and crashed right through the stairs, creating a big dust cloud as Dimentio gently placed his feet on the ground.

"Oh?" Dimentio moved his head to the side, avoiding a fist from Chopper in his Heavy Point from behind.

"You monster! Turn Master Hand back to the way he was!" Chopper yelled as he attacked Dimentio with his left fist, but Dimentio blocked his fist with his own. "Aaaagh!" Chopper cried as the recoil from hitting Dimentio's hand was too much for him as he staggered back while holding his fist with pain, while Dimentio then faced towards him, and punched him in the gut with an underhand fist. "AGAAGH!"

Chopper cried while some of his blood came out of his mouth, as he then doubled over right after he turned back into his brain point form, and held his stomach with sheer pain. "It hurts so much…"

"Pain leads to death, Chopper-san." Dimentio said with passion, "Embrace your pain! Let it make you stronger until death leads you the way to happiness!"

"VEAU SHOT!" Sanji leaped over Chopper, and flew towards Dimentio with a flying kick, but Dimentio flew to the side to avoid, but then saw Franky running at him from the side.

"STRONG HAMMER!" Franky threw his steel fist at Dimentio, who moved his head back to avoid, and did a hard chop at Franky's back, "Grrergh!" Franky's eyes rolled back into his head as fell flat on his face, tumbling forward across the ground before crashing into Chopper, and knocking him on his back, "Ugh…"

"EXTRA HACHE!" Sanji came back towards Dimentio with a flurry of kicks, but Dimentio avoided with ease while still having a smile on his face, "We're not going to let you get away with this! I don't care what you think you are, you will never conquer life, not after what I am going to do to you!" Sanji did a strong side kick, which Dimentio evaded as Sanji used his same leg to spin, and do a roundhouse kick, but Dimentio caught his leg, and squeezed it with one arm, nearly breaking his leg in the process, "Aaaahh!"

"You can say what you believe in all you want, Sanji-kun." Dimentio giggled while gazing into Sanji's eyes up close, "But people are still dying, and I'm still getting stronger because of it! Ah ha ha ha ha!" Dimentio then spun Sanji around while holding his leg, and tossed him into Zoro as they both tumbled across the ground upon impact. "Ah ha ha ha ha! I had never had this much fun in years! I wish it would never stop!"

"HINOTORI BOSHI!" Usopp fired a flaming phoenix at Dimentio from behind as the bird exploded onto him, engulfing most of the ground around him in flames. Usopp panted heavily as he took out several explosive pellets, and aimed at the fire, "I can't run away… I won't run away after what you did! HISSATSU KAEN BOSHI!" Usopp fired some blazing pellets at the fire to make it bigger, but a hand sticked out of the flames, and caught the pellet so gently, it didn't exploded. The other blazing pellets exploded into the fire, but the flames suddenly turned black, and disappeared shortly afterwards. Usopp eyes widened in fear as Dimentio was still alive, with not a single burn mark on him, and his attire.

"Now, now… attacking a god from behind is starting to get a little repetitive." Dimentio laughed at Usopp as he then shot his pellet back to him using his thumb. The pellet moved so fast, Usopp didn't even see it coming, as his own pellet went right through his rib like a beam.

"Ugh… !" Usopp gasped as his the pellet that went through him exploded in the ground behind him. Usopp then coughed up some blood before collapsing on his back in sheer pain.

"USOPP!" Luffy cried from the staircase he crashed into earlier. He then got up, and jumped off the staircase as he then got back on the ground, and faced towards Dimentio, "GEAR SECOND!" Luffy slammed his fist onto the ground, as his body then turned red from his legs pumping up his bloodflow. Steam came out from his body as he charged at Dimentio with blinding speed, "JET PIS-"

"Uh uh uhhh." Dimentio teased as he created magical box around Luffy, trapping him inside, "Behave yourself like the little good boy you are, okay?" He asked pleasantly before he snapped his fingers, creating several explosions to erupt inside the box Luffy was in.

"AAAAAAAAHHHH!" Luffy cried in pain before the box disappeared, allowing him to fall flat on his chest while retaining his form. Dimentio was enjoying every second of this battle, until suddenly, a multitude of arms sprouted from the ground around him, and trapped him from within.

"Oh? What is this now?" Dimentio asked curiously. More arms then sprouted beneath his feet, taking him up in the air, along with the arms around him.

From the outside, the arms have a formed a giant rectangle holding Dimentio inside. Robin was giving off a death glare, as she was prepared to do her worst. "CIEN FLEUR… COFFIN!" Robin closed her palms, causing the arms to harden and close in on each other, crushing everything that was inside it like a trash compacter. Robin heard the sound of bone crushing from within arms, allowing her to breathe calmly as she thought she has killed Dimentio. "Ah!" Robin blinked for just a second, but as soon as she opened her eyes, Dimentio was seen standing in front of her, without any injuries whatsoever. "MMMFF!" Dimentio grabbed Robin by her face, and lifted her up with only one hand. She was suffocating as she kept hitting Dimentio's arm to make him let go, but Dimentio hardly felt a thing.

"I always loved your thirst for knowledge, Robin-chwan." Dimentio laughed, "Everything about is you nearly perfect… the only flaw you have, is that you never learn your place in front of your superiors." Dimentio then started crushing Robin's skull, cutting the circulation from her head as Robin started bleeding from her nose and mouth.

"Aaahaaaagghhh! Aaaaaaaahh!" Robin cried nonstop, as her blood was dripping from her chin, and down her body.

"LET HER GO!"

Dimentio looked to his left, and saw his dearest friend, Nami, standing in front of him with her PCT in hand. Nami looked fierce; she was ready to attack Dimentio, even if it meant casting out her life. Dimentio simply smiled pleasantly before dropping Robin on the floor. Robin's body shivered with great tension, as she could barely keep herself from shaking, while Dimentio walked away from her, and confronted Nami.

"Ah, if it isn't my favorite female friend, Nami-san." Dimentio said while rubbing the crew's blood on his hands, "Have you come to play with me again? Be aware I'm a little more competitive this time around."

"I'm going to kill you…" Nami snarled while gritting her teeth. "No one hurts my comrades, and gets away with it! NO ONE!"

"Aww, how sad…" Dimentio said while raising his bloody hand up, "There is always a first time for everything, I'm afraid. Killing your friends, and getting away with it is something I can do without any effort." Nami's eyes narrowed in anger hearing this, "However, you are full of surprises as well. Why don't you come, and show everyone how far you can go against me this time?"

"THUNDER CHARGE!" Nami charged the end of her staff with electricity, and ran towards Dimentio before swinging her staff to him, "SWING ARM!" Nami connected the end of her staff to the side of Dimentio's head, but to Nami's surprise, the electricity was absorbed by a dark barrier that appeared beside Dimentio's head, and the recoil from hitting the barrier caused Nami to stagger back until she fell on her rear. "Eh!"

"Oh ho? That was cute, Nami-san. What else do you have to show me?" Dimentio asked optimistically.

"Grr!" Nami separated her staff, and created a dark cloud. She then threw the cloud at Dimentio, who swayed his head to the side as the dark cloud remained floating behind him. Nami then puts her staff back together, and held it vertically while knelting down, "How's this! THUNDER LANCE TEMPO!"

The dark cloud behind Dimentio released a stream of electricity that pierced through Dimentio's back, and through his chest as the electricity was absorbed by the end of Nami's staff. Dimentio didn't utter a sound from getting hit as Nami quickly threw several heat and cool balls up above Dimentio, forming a thundercloud as Nami then ran away to get some distance before she created a big thunderball using the electricity she absorbed from her attack earlier.

"My comrades mean more to me than anything else in my life." Nami yelled before she turned back towards Dimentio, and the cloud above him, "So I will not let you take them away from me!" Nami then threw the thunderball at the cloud, which started to release some sparks, "THUNDERBOLT TEMPO!"

The cloud released a violent thunderstorm that showered over Dimentio, hitting him head as the thunderstorm lasted for about more than 10 seconds. Once it was over, there was nothing but a humongous dust cloud from where the storm hit. Nami panted heavily, and wasn't about to let her guard down just because Dimentio took that storm in.

"Come out! I know you're still alive!" Nami yelled furiously, but saw no sign of Dimentio "Stupid clown… I was never your friend! All your mind games in trying to get in my head never worked!" Nami kept a sharp eye out at her surroundings, making sure that Dimentio hasn't already teleported to her without her knowing, "You're no Emperor God, you're just somebody posing as one! You'll never get your slimy hands on me! You'll never get away with any of this! YOU'RE NOBODY!" And with that said, Dimentio appeared right in front of her, "Ugh!" Nami gasped as Dimentio had a spark ontop of his finger, and was closing it into Nami's chest.

"Nami-san… you were always my favorite." Dimentio said pleasantly while Nami was petrified with fear, "I only wished that we have done more things together. Things that go beyond friendship…" Dimentio then placed the spark into Nami's chest, and everything went silent from there and out for about 7 seconds.

"AAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA AAAHHHHHH!" Nami then screamed in immense pain as a great amount of electricity bursted out from her body. The electricity was the same Nami used on Dimentio moments ago, and she was now getting the same treatment. The burst of electricity suddenly stopped as she was now covered with char, and fell onto her back nearly dead.

The entire Strawhat crew were done and out, and Dimentio was laughing at their loss, "Ah ha ha ha ha ha! Now that was entertaining! Don't you all agree? Ah ha ha ha ha… ha?" Dimentio turned around, and noticed Luffy, slowing getting back up on his feet while still in his Gear Second form. "Ah.. Luffy-san. Are you having fun yet?"

"Grrrr… errghhh…" Luffy panted heavily while giving Dimentio a deadly glare, but was so weak, he could barely stay in his form. He looked around, and saw his entire crew bloodied, and nearly in the state of death. Seeing this just made him even angrier, until he finally went for Dimentio, "JET WHIP!" Luffy quickly swung his leg, but Dimentio avoided by warping back where the leg didn't reach. "JET STAMP!" Luffy pulled his leg back the way it was, and thrusted his other leg at Dimentio, kicking him hard on the gut that the jester skidded backwards while still standing on his feet. Luffy then dashed at Dimentio while stretching and twisting his arm back, while Dimentio raised his head, and smirked at him.

"JET RIFLE!" Luffy untwisted his arm directly towards Dimentio, but missed him as Dimentio laughed while spinning his body around in circles. Luffy was getting very impatient as he stomped his legs on the ground, and pulled his arms back, "GOMU GOMU NO JET GATLING!" Luffy released a storm of fists that moved so fast, they were invisible, but they kept missing as Dimentio kept flying around him, "GAAAAAAAAAAAAAHHHH!" Luffy screamed while trying to hit Dimentio, but he was only wasting the energy he had left.

"Ah ha ha ha! You're so persistent in trying to get rid of me; it's like seeing a washed up boxer trying to beat a man who took his championship belt away from him, and ended up losing in the end." Dimentio chuckled, "Only the difference here is I that I am always the champion, and you are always the rookie who never learned to grow. I have already proven the difference in our strength, plus I always grow stronger while you grow much weaker. So instead of making of a fool out of yourself, why not we stop playing, and hear what I have to say? I'll assure you, you won't be sorry."

Luffy then stopped attacking, and ran in front of Dimentio's path, "JET PISTOL!" Luffy stretched his arm, and punched Dimentio in the face, raising his head up until he was looking behind himself. Luffy then stretched his arms back, and charged at Dimentio before he could recover, "JET BAZOOKA!" Luffy thrusted his palms at Dimentio, who instantly recovered, and caught Luffy's palms with his own with ease. Luffy tried to push Dimentio's hands back, but Dimentio was just too strong for him, as the jester was hardly doing any effort to fight back. This was tiring Luffy, but he didn't plan on giving up.

"I will never give in to you!" Luffy yelled, "I will kick your ass… and end all this!"

"Oh, but there are much better options to choose from." Dimentio replied, "If you would just give me a chance to let me explain to you of what I want. Just stop fighting so we can end all this."

"The only thing that I want to end is your role in this world!" Luffy replied furiously, "Everything here has to stop! I can't let you get away with any of this!"

"You still refuse to listen? I can't believe you have this much energy left in you…" Dimentio commented as he then released Luffy's left arm. Luffy was about to attack, but saw that Dimentio already raised his free arm, and was about to strike, "Perhaps a little nap will calm your senses."

"GUAAAGGHH!" Dimentio punched Luffy square in the face as the force of the blow knocked Luffy down on the floor, creating a shockwave upon the rebounce that spread across the floor. "Ughh.." Luffy then fell on his back, already out of breath, as he was really exhausted, and didn't have the strength to get up as he then turned back to normal. Dimentio merely stood next to him, and knelt down at him.

"Luffy… if only you were to deny death as an accomplishment." Dimentio said, sounding disappointed, "You could achieve so much more that way. Hearing you say that you would die just to get rid of me, is really heartbreaking. You say it so carelessly to me, that I don't even find it funny. I mean, you view me as one of those people who would kill anybody just to be happy, or control something to rule this world and that." Dimentio then grabbed Luffy's chin, and moved his head to make him look at Dimentio, "I am not like them, because I am better than they are. I am the source of all darkness; all of those who walk to that dark path will never achieve as much as I have. They are all my underlings, and will forever worship me once I have them in my grasp. And you… hmph! You were no match for me… so don't ever say you will die trying to stop me, because you will die in vain, and I don't want to see that, let alone feel it."

Dimentio then stood up, and stared down at the heavily injured crewmembers, "That goes the same for the rest of you. Why die in vain if you can all die with a great big smile on your face? That's what we live for, right! So we can be happy until the very end! Ah ha ha ha ha ha!"

"Grr! Oh no! Everyone is in trouble!" Crazy exclaimed, still holding his brother down as he still under control by Dimentio. Crazy then applied more pressure to Master Hand, causing him to struggle even less, "Bro, you have got to wake up! Don't let the clown take over your non-existent head! You're our only hope!"

"GREEEEEAAARGHHH!" Master Hand replied like a beast, as he started to struggle even more. He then started screaming even louder as a dark burst of energy came out from his figure, knocking Crazy Hand off of him.

"Ah!" Crazy Hand cried until he regained his flight pattern, and stared down at Master Hand. Master Hand then rocketed towards him, but Crazy Hand moved out of the way as Master Hand flew by him, "Alright, if you won't let me do it your way, then I'll knock some sense into you in MY way! Bring it on!"

Master Hand turned around, and fired dark bullets at Crazy Hand from his fingertip. "Oh, please!" Crazy mocked as he easily evaded the bullets while flying towards his brother, "Hiya!" Crazy Hand tackled his brother, and tried to bring him down to the ground, but Master Hand fought back as they both were struggling while flying around all over the place. While holding him, Crazy was hitting Master Hand's palm with his ring finger, "Why are you holding back, huh! Come on, hit me!" Crazy kept hitting Master Hand, who was getting irritated as he then slips through Crazy's hold, and grabbed him using all his fingers, "Eh!" Master Hand then flew Crazy down towards the ground, intending to piledrive him.

"Come on, you're so predictable!" Crazy yelled as he then flipped Master Hand towards the ground, and piledrived him instead, creating a big dust cloud in the process. Bullets were then shot out from the cloud as Crazy came flying out, with Master Hand chasing him while shooting some dark bullets at him, "Is this the best you got! I can still beat ya!" Crazy then did a U-turn, and flew back at Master Hand like a rocket. He and Master Hand crashed into eachother, pushing eachother back as a shockforce was being made. "Eh… whoaw!" Unfortunately for Crazy, Master Hand overpowered him, and pushed him down on the ground with a thud. Crazy tried to recover, but Master Hand walked on his fingers, and was flicking Crazy repeatedly, "Ow! Oh! Okay, I'm in a little trouble here! Ow!"

While Crazy Hand tried to fight Master Hand off, Dimentio watched the battle with amusement before looking at Luffy, "Ha ha! what an ironic twist; a brother fighting his controlled brother just to save him. I swear, the things you do for family these days…" Dimentio then noticed that Luffy was crawling away from him, "Hm?" Dimentio didn't stop him as he was curious what Luffy was up to.

Luffy panted heavily, and was seeing the battle between Master Hand and Crazy Hand. He couldn't bare to watch it any longer, and intends to do something about it. "… Guys! Is everyone alright!" He asked. His crew were starting to regain consciousness, but most of them didn't had the energy to get back up.

"Lu-Luffy… we're here. We're still here." Sanji said, slowly getting up on one knee along with Zoro. Chopper and Franky were also getting up, as well as Robin, who was still feeling pain from before. Nami and Usopp were alright as well, but they couldn't get up like everyone else.

"Ah.. I'm fine, Luffy." Usopp said while holding his wound, "Captain Usopp won't die this easily. Ha ha-ow!"

"Nergh.. what's wrong, Luffy? What do you want us to do?" Nami asked while holding her stomach.

"It's Master Hand. We need to stop him…" Luffy said.

The crew looked over at Master Hand, who was slowly gaining the advantage over Crazy Hand as he was shooting lasers at him. The crew were silent until Franky spoke up, "Yosh… we're on it." He said.

Dimentio observed the crew as Zoro suddenly charged at Master Hand from behind, despite having some serious injuries, "TORA GARI!" Zoro leaped into the air, and brought his swords down at Master Hand's back, surprising him as Master Hand faced towards him, "TATSU MAKI!" Zoro then spins with his swords, creating a tornado of cutting waves that struck Master Hand repeatedly. Unfortunately, Master Hand was fazing from getting hit, and was about to slam his palm down at Zoro.

"Oh no, you dont!" Crazy exclaimed as he grabbed Master Hand from behind, "You leave grassy head alone!" Crazy then flipped Master Hand over himself, and into the ground behind him. But Master Hand didn't stop, as he then got up, and pushed Crazy back towards Zoro, who tried getting away, but was too injured to do so.

"I have to do everything here!" Sanji yelled as he ran, and leaped over Zoro, "SHISHINAMI SHOOT!" Sanji delivered a straight, flying kick into Crazy's back, helping him push Master Hand back.

"OOOWWW!" Crazy uttered as he managed to push Master Hand down to the ground again, "I'm still fragile over here, you bully!" Crazy yelled while holding Master Hand down. Master Hand broke free of Crazy's grip again, and got some distance to fight back, but was suddenly shot by some blasts coming from his right side.

"Ow, over here! Come and get us!" Franky yelled while shooting several blasts at Master Hand to get his attention. It worked as Master Hand flew towards Franky with great speed, but Crazy flew after Master Hand even faster, and tackled his brother from behind as they skidded across the ground. Chopper then galloped towards Master Hand in his walk point, and turned into his arm point to attack.

"KOKUTEI DIAMOND!" Chopper thrusted his hooves at Master Hand knuckles as he skidded towards him. Chopper's attack was strong enough to make the hands stop skidding, and allowed Crazy to pick his brother up from the ground, and spin him in circles before throwing him up into the air.

Master Hand soured up into the sky, but stopped himself as he then fired purple lasers down at Crazy Hand, who flew around the floor so he wouldn't get hit. Master Hand then crossed his beams, creating one, big laser that could engulf an entire building. Crazy Hand was trying to avoid this big beam as best as he could as Master Hand was drawing the beam close to the Strawhats as well.

"Geh.. no way I'm going down this easily!" Nami mumbled while getting up on her knees, and bended her staff, "Usopp, I need your help on this!"

"R-Right!" Usopp replied, still laying on his back as he aimed at Master Hand with his Kabuto slingshot.

Master Hand was moving his beam closer to Crazy, who couldn't get away as he seemed like he was going to get hit, "Now! NAMOPP CYCLONE HEATWAVE STAR!" Nami threw her bended staff, and Usopp fired several blazing pellets at Master Hand simultaneously. The bended PCT spinned as it was bringing in Usopp's pellets, and spinning them around several times. This caused the fire inside the pellets to be released, creating a mild-sized fire tornado as it then engulfed over Master Hand, forcing him to stop his beam attack, and giving Crazy the chance to fight back.

"Ha ha! Here I go!" Crazy exclaimed as he then turned, and flew towards Master Hand while spinning his figure around like a drill. Crazy hits Master Hand head on, drilling hard into his palm as they both flew up high during this process. Master Hand was screaming in sheer pain, until he released another dark burst that once again, knocked Crazy away from him. Master Hand was then covered with darkness as he flew towards Crazy with great speed, but flew by him as Crazy moved out away to safety. Master Hand then turned around, and flew back at Crazy, who was getting so irritated, that he was glowing "Tsk… I can't afford to lose!" Crazy muttered before his body was covered in a golden light, and charged after Master Hand with the same speed as Master Hand was going.

The hands folded themselves into fists, as they both hit eachother with all their might, creating several intensive shockwaves throughout the entire area. Their powers were so great, it's surprising that the floating platform hasn't been destroyed yet. The Hands then seperated from eachother, and started attacking one another by flying past eachother with great speed. The Strawhats watched in awe as Crazy Hand caught his brother by surprise, and punched him in the back before flying by.

"Ough!" Master Hand grunted before he gathered more dark energy around himself, and chased after Crazy Hand. He flew by his brother, turned towards him, and slammed his palm hard on him, bringing Crazy down towards the floor in lightspeed.

"Ugh!" Crazy grunted before he slapped Master Hand away, and took some distance from him. He and Master Hand faced each other silently, until Master Hand started gathering more dark energy than ever before, "… I have no choice… in order to save you, I'm going to have to use one of my strongest moves! HaaaaaAAAAAAHH!" Crazy placed his fingers on the floor, as his body was getting brighter and brighter by the second. Master Hand was also charging himself to use one of his strongest attacks, which the Strawhats weren't going to let him do.

"DOSCIENTOS FLEUR!" Robin sprouted over two hundred arms from the ground around Master Hand, and tried binding him in place. The arms held Master Hand tightly, but with the hand already starting to move, Robin already has trouble keeping him down. "Eh…"

As Master Hand tried to break free, Luffy got back on his feet, and limped towards Master Hand from behind. Luffy then started walking normally before he then started running at full speed. "Huuuuraaaghh!" Luffy stretched his arms back, and leaped at Master Hand, "GOMU GOMU NO BAZOOKA!" Luffy thrusted his palms onto Master Hand's back at the instant the hand broke free of the arms' grip.

"Alright, now!" Crazy yelled as he then flew towards Master Hand, who lost balance prior to Luffy's attack.

BAAAAAAAAAAAMMMMMMMMM!

Luffy fell on his back as Crazy punched Master Hand, and took him over Luffy, and up high into the air. Crazy then spun himself while holding his brother, spinning so fast he created an orb of gold around themselves. The orb was then shot forward, and started moving around all over the place in lightspeed. From left to right; up and down; Loops and U-turns; they were moving so fast, the Strawhats couldn't even see them anymore, other than the brief stream of golden light that was left behind.

Dimentio watched this carefully as well, but he didn't look impressed as the others. He only stared silently as the orb finally came to a halt way above the center of the platform. The orb glowed brightly once more before it rocketed down towards the center of the floor with a loud thud.

BOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO OOOOOMMMMMMMMM!

"Waaaahh!" The crew held onto the floor as the crash released a tremendous shockwave, followed by a big dust cloud that was formed around the center. To lessen the trouble, Dimentio snapped his fingers, causing the shockwave to weaken, and the dust cloud to vanish into the darkness on the floor. Luffy got up, and saw that both Crazy and Master Hand were down.

"Crazy!" Luffy rushed over to Crazy's aid as fast as he could, and saw that he was still moving. The crew were helping each other up, with Franky helping Usopp up, and Sanji helping Nami and Robin up on their feet. They slowly approached the hands, and saw that Master Hand was knocked out, but his form hasn't changed. They said nothing when they saw this, as they then went to check how Crazy was doing.

"That was some crazy move you pulled of. You continue to surprise us, bro." Franky said weakly.

"Ha ha…" Crazy laughed as he rolled back onto his palm, "Ah… I think I used all my juice back there. Can't do much for now…" Crazy then turned towards his brother, sighing afterwards, "He hasn't changed back… Damn, I was hoping he would lose that dark form…"

"Atleast you knocked him out. We don't want him to be any trouble for us…" Sanji replied while barely being able to stand while holding onto Nami and Robin beside him. Everything was then quiet again, until he heard someone clapping. Luffy and the others turned around, and saw Dimentio clapping at them while floating towards them.

"Bravo… that was a nice intermission." Dimentio said happily, "It was so tender; the way you ignored me, and wanted to help your friend's brother turn back to his inferior form. Unfortunately for him, he already belongs to me. There is not a thing you can do to bring him back. He's my little pet now…"

The Strawhats glared at him silently, as Luffy then stood in front of his crew, and pointed at Dimentio, "We're not done with you yet!" He said, "We still have what it takes to beat you.. egh!" Luffy stumbled forward, but managed to regain his composure again, "You… ah! You can't defeat us! Will never be defeated by you! Not ever!" Luffy then collapsed onto his knees, and Dimentio gave him a pity look.

"What a shame… your resolve is as lovely as ever, but you just don't have it in you anymore." Dimentio said, "Look at all of you; you hardly did a thing to me before, and you were already in no condition to fight. How can I take you seriously, if you don't even know the conditions you are in?" Dimentio then rubbed his chin, before sighing in annoyance, "-sigh-… I can already feel your spirits leaving your bodies… the only thing that's holding them back is me. Right now, I am holding down your dark elements inside you. If one element can't leave your body, neither will your other elements, nor your spirits themselves. Of course, you will continue to feel pain until your whole body grows numb, be grateful that I'm still keeping you alive."

It was true; the Strawhats were in a peril condition. They didn't had the energy to fight, much less to even move. And the pain they were feeling was unbearable. With each second passing by, they felt nothing but pain that just felt worse and worse, and like Dimentio said, he was keeping them alive by keeping their spirits inside them. They were just puppets, helplessly standing in place before Dimentio, and couldn't do a thing about it. But despite all that… they didn't look like they were going to give up.

Dimentio noticed they're determined, and couldn't but to giggle a bit, "… This is what I like about you pirates; you never give in. Not even in the brink of death will take those expressions away from you. It's a fact that in your last moments in living, you show your true colors…"

Dimentio smiled pleasantly, "And seeing you all like this… just proved to me, that you are all great people that can never be broken under any circumstance." Dimentio then watched Luffy stand back up, and noticed his glare, "… Well, now. It seems we got the energy out of our system. It's about time that I do one more thing before I feel complete…" Dimentio then turned silent. It was a big pause before he revealed of his intentions, "… Join me."

"What!" Luffy asked as he and his crew were shocked and confused from what they just heard.

"Join me." Dimentio repeated, "I want you all to be a part of this wonderful experience I'm about to share with the rest of the cosmos, but I'm going to give you more than I will share with anyone else." Dimentio then spreads out his arms, "I want you to become my guardians. I want to share my success with you all. You will always be by my side, watching this world get everything it deserves. You will retain your feeling, and I will give you everything you have always wanted. I can help make your ship as powerful to travel any sea in the cosmos; I can answer questions about forgotten pasts; I can create miracles so nobody has to be sick; I can lead you into wonderful oceans were all the fish in the world go to; I can make you feel brave than anyone else; I can help you gain knowledge of worlds, and obtain the title of the strongest and deadliest warrior of space itself! But most importantly, I can take you to the most greatest of treasure of your world, the One Piece!"

The Strawhats were silent, having no comment at what they just heard.

"Wealth, fame, and power; that's all you desire, am I correct?" Dimentio asked, "I can give you all those things! And Luffy-san… the title of the Pirate King… I can give you that as well." Luffy stared at Dimentio silently as the jester then laughed, "Ah ha ha ha ha! You all will never have to feel sorrow ever again! You always get what you want, and best of all, we'll always be together, as the best friends that we are! Ah ha ha ha ha ha ha ha!" Dimentio then sighed happily before extending his hand towards Luffy, "No one will get in our way,

I promise you. Happiness will forever be on our side… if you agree to join me, you will never have to go through any problems ever again. We'll rule this world as best friends… we'll rule life forever."

Luffy was still silent, and looked down at Dimentio's hand, as Dimentio was waiting for a handshake. Luffy glanced over his shoulder, and looked at his crew. None of them said anything about Dimentio's offer, but their expressions sure did. The crew looked serious, but at the same time, they looked confident. Luffy knew what he had to do.

"… I've always wanted to become the Pirate King. I'll do anything to obtain that title." Luffy said before looking back at Dimentio, "… But not like this. I can't accept something like this. I won't…" Dimentio's smiled lessened a bit as Luffy continued speaking, "I made a promise to someone very important to me that I would become the Pirate King. If he were to find out I have become one like this, he wouldn't be proud at all. And even if he didn't find out, I would still be pretty upset. I've… we've have gone through a long journey, and I don't want it to end like this." Luffy then stood back, standing beside his crew as they were smiling at him, "I've made my decision. I want to continue sailing through the Grand Line, and find the One Piece by ourselves. It will be hard, but that's the great part of being pirate; you risk everything to get what you want, and you live out those moments to the fullest! So, Dimentio… sorry, but my answer is no. I don't want anything to do with you, this world, or anything you plan to do in the future. We're just going to stick with our original plan, and stop you by kicking your ass!"

Dimentio was severely confused; even he didn't expect to be rejected like this. He thought happiness would make the Strawhats, but seeing them decline was dumbfounding to him. The jester looked at his hand he extended towards Luffy, and slowly clenched into a fist.

"I don't understand… you reject happiness? How can you say 'no' to me?" Dimentio asked with a shocked expression, "I offered you the things you wanted most, and you reject those as well? I don't understand you… why don't you want to be happy? Are you so blindsided by your thoughts, you are willing to do anything that would make me upset! Well!" Dimentio held his hand in anger, as his eyes were showing nothing but rage. He was getting so tense, that the platform started shaking.

"Whoa! Hold on!" Usopp cried as everyone managed to stay on their toes, and watch Dimentio have a panic attack.

"No… I am your Emperor God! I cannot be rejected! I'll never be rejected! NEVER!" Dimentio yelled, causing his throne area behind him to collapse into rubble, which turned into darkness that disappeared soon afterwards. The shaking then stopped as Dimentio then chuckled in a sinister way, "… I'm sorry, I've must lost control of myself." He said with a happy face, "I guess I'm not so used to rejection as I thought. Ha ha…" Dimentio then smirked sinisterly at the crew, alerting them to keep their guard up, "So… if happiness isn't something you desire, then I'll shall offer something even better. I intend to spare your lives, including the rest of the cosmos, and let them live out the rest of their days."

The Strawhats were confused, and thought that Dimentio was just messing with them, but they couldn't tell since Dimentio was still smiling. "Really? You will do that?" Chopper asked.

"Yes, I will…" Dimentio said before his happy expression turned sinister again, "… as long as you can stay alive, of course. That means, by the moment you all die, I will use all my strength to absorb all the life around me, and everything outside this place will be a part of this world in a matter of seconds. Your deaths are the key to my goal! How does it feel now that you know that you will be source that 'ruined' life! Ah ha ha ha ha ha!"

"You sneaky bastard!" Luffy yelled, "We won't die here no matter what happens!"

"You're right; we shouldn't keep this moment in the dark. Everyone should know about this glorious moment!" Dimentio then turned around, and looked up in the air, before glancing at Luffy over his shoulder, "And when I mean everyone, I mean every single creature you befriended in every world you went to! Let your friends see you die, and ruin their lives in the process! AAAHH HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA!"

Obscurum's dark energy then started waving like a heartbeat again, creating a powerful breeze from withing as everyone tried to stay on their feet. "No, stop it! Don't do this, Dimentio!" Luffy yelled.

"AAAAAAHHHHHHH HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA!" Dimentio laughed insanely, "YES! LET THE REALITY OF EGASM WITNESS THE GRAND FINALE TO MY SPECTACLE! LET THEM KNOW THAT I WILL BE THEIR SUPREME RULER!"

Meanwhile…

We are now back in the Mushroom Kingdom, where everything was as peaceful as it always was. Since Bowser wasn't their to cause havoc, the Mushroom Kingdom has been at peace longer than it ever was since… ever. In the capital, it was bright, beautiful day, where everyone was having a good time. Toads were having nice conversations with each other; the kids were playing; even business was doing fine, as we see our good friend, Wario, coming out of the item shop with a medicine bottle in hand.

"Oooh, I'm still having stomach problems." Said the grumpy fat man, "I can't believe I haven't recovered since that day I took that stupid ball." Wario rubbed his tummy as he then angrily remembered Zoro and Nami, "Grr! It was there fault to begin with! If I ever see them again, I'll-gurgh!" Wario stopped upon feeling the pain in his tummy, "Nevermind that, I should take this medicine already. It better work, or I'll sue the store… or the company that makes this… better yet, I'll sue them both even if this does work! Wah ha ha ha ha ha! Ooh…"

While Wario went to fix his stomach problem, in another part of town, two of our favorite plumbers came out of a warp pipe. It was none other than Mario and Luigi, who started walking across town, talking to each other.

"Ah, it sure is beautiful day we're having, isn't it, bro?" Luigi asked.

"I couldn't agree-a more, Luigi." Mario replied, "It's been quite-a while since we-a didn't had-a peaceful day like this. I'm-a sure glad-a that Peach invited us for-a picnic today."

"Oh, yes! I cannot wait to taste the cake she baked for us today." Luigi said excitedly, "Yum! I can already taste the sweetness!"

"You sure love-a your sweets, don't-a you, Luigi?" Mario asked as he and Luigi both laughed while heading towards the castle.

Speaking of the castle, it was already repaired from the incident that happened when the Strawhats visited. The gate was fixed, and the wall in the dining was already repaired as well. And ontop of the castle, where a room full of supplies were, was Peach, putting some food in a picnic basket, along with Toadsworth, who seemed reluctant of something.

"Please, princess. If you were to go this picnic, you should atleast bring someone to protect you." Toadsworth stated, "Having a princess go out by herself is blasphemy, I tell you!"

"Oh, Toadsworth. I won't be going alone." Peach replied kindly, "Mario and Luigi are going to be with me, of course. I will be safe with them. And besides, it has been so peaceful as of late, it's not like today will be any different."

"Yes, I know. But still… I worry about your safety." Toadsworth reminded Peach, "It's my job to ensure the safety of the princess. If I were to let you leave unprotected… why, I might as well jump off a stadium to calm my nerves."

As serious as Toadsworth sounded, Peach couldn't but giggle at Toadsworth, who was confused why she didn't take him seriously.

While Peach was just about ready to leave, a sudden breeze blew into the room, startling Peach and Toadsworth as Peach rubbed her arms from the cold air. Suddenly, they could then hear a commotion coming from outside. Peach and Toadsworth glanced at each other before got out of the room, and stepped onto the balcony, where they saw everyone in town gazing up at the dark clouds above.

"That's strange; I didn't know it was going to rain. There was hardly a cloud in the air just a moment ago." Toadsworth said while rubbing his chin confusion. Peach was also confused by this, as she could feel something strange from those clouds. She tried to figure what was going on, as in the town below, Mario and Luigi stopped walking, and looked at the clouds as well.

"A storm-a?" Mario asked.

"Ohh…" Luigi lowered his head and arms depressed, "It looks like there is no picnic today…"

Wario was walking around town, a little further from where Mario and Luigi was, as Wario was just looking at the clouds, and saw the people feeling a little sad, "Wah ha ha ha! What a bunch of losers! Getting all sad because of some dark clouds." Wario continued laughing as he opened up his medicine bottle, and was about to drink it.

Then, right in that instant, the whole sky turned purple, glooming the entire Mushroom Kingdom. The citizens were shocked as then a huge current of air swooped by, causing everyone to panic as the wind also blew medicine into Wario's face, "Waghah! Blagh!" Wario then fell, and crashed into a tree behind him, making him dizzy afterwards.

Peach and Toadsworth hanged onto the balcony, while Mario and Luigi were wondering what was happening.

"GAAAAAAAAHHHH! IT'S THE END OF THE WORLD!" Luigi panicked while running around in circles, "OH NOOOOO! WHY DOES THIS HAVE TO HAPPEN! WHHHHHYYYYYHYYYHYYY!"

"No, Luigi! Look up in the sky-a! Something else is-a happening!" Mario yelled. Part of the purple sky, a mystical screen was starting to appear. Once it finally took form, Mario gasped as he was seeing the Strawhats inside Obscurum, looking at the situation that they were currently, "Mama mia! It's-a Luffy, and-a Strawhats!"

"Ahh! Luffy!" Luigi gasped as he looked at the Strawhats in the image, "What is going on! Why is Luffy and his crew in there!"

"Mario! Luigi!"

Mario and Luigi turned around to see Merlon coming to them in a hurry.

"Merlon! What is-a happening!" Mario asked.

"I have forseen the future, and it was terrible!" Merlon panicked, "I have predicted something like this decades ago, but I refused to believe it. But I'm afraid that my prediction will come afterall!" Merlon then pointed at the image, "Also… I'm afraid to say this, but… the Strawhats… I sense that they are going to die!"

"What!" Mario and Luigi gasped.

Up on the castle balcony, Peach and Toadsworth were also dumbfounded by the image in the sky, "My word! It's Luffy and his crew! By all that is right, what does this all mean!"

Peach puts her hands together, feeling something bad that is going to happen, "I don't know, Toadsworth. I don't know…"

Meanwhile…

In Hyrule, the same thing was starting to happen. Dark clouds were forming up in the sky, and it darkened the Hyrule field. In Kakariko village, the villagers were wondering what is happening, including Renado and Barnes, who stepped out of the inn to what was going on.

"The clouds look huge today." Barnes said while scratching his head, "I wonder if there is going to be a storm."

"It doesn't seem to be that way…" Renado replied as he then noticed some chickens going crazy while running all over the place. Renado knew something was really wrong, but didn't know what it was as he and Barnes could only look at the dark sky above them.

In the fields, there was Link, riding his horse, Epona, throughout the eastern part of the Hyrule field, but suddenly, Epona cried while raising up her legs, knocking Link off of her back.

"Ah!" Link fell on his back, and wondered what is wrong with his horse. "Epona? What's wrong!" Link got up, and calmed down Epona by stroking down her face, "What is it, girl? Is something wrong?" Link was worried; he could see a scared look on Epona's face.

The sound of lightning was heard as Link then looked up to see the sky turning purple, "What is all this!" Link asked before he was startled by the sudden breeze, "Ah, what!" When the breeze calmed down, a cloudy screen was formed in the sky. Link looked at it, and gasped upon seeing the Strawhats in the moving image. "L-Luffy! Zoro! What is going on!"

Back in the town in the center of Hyrule, people were wondering what has happening, including the guards of Hyrule castle. On top of the castle, Zelda came out of her throne room, and saw the Strawhats in the image.

"What is this!" She gasped before placing her hands ontop of her chest, "And what is this terrible aura I'm feeling…?" She looked up at the sky once more, and couldn't do anything else but watch.

Meanwhile…

In the Kanto region, Pichu was happily jumping from tree to tree, still having the small green hankerchief Zoro gave him wrapped around his head. He then stopped on a brande, and looked at the sky curiously, smelling something strange. "Pichu?"

Back in the Sinnoh region, Ash, Brock, and Dawn were facing with Team Rocket again, who were in their Meowth air balloon as they have cage being hanged from a rope below the balloon, and inside, Pikachu was trapped, and couldn't get out due to the cage being lightning proof.

"Team Rocket, get back here with Pikachu!" Ash yelled while running with Dawn and Brock.

"Ah ha ha ha ha! Finders keepers, loser weepers!" Jesse teased.

"Pikachu is ours for good this time, and there is nothing you twerps can do about it!" James said while sticking out his tongue at the trio.

"Da boss is gonna reward us for sure this time!" Meowth said with a smirk.

"Oh, happy day! Ah ha ha ha!" Team rocket laughed simultaneously as they were getting away.

"We won't catch up to them like this!" Dawn exclaimed while her Piplup was running beside her.

"We have to cut the rope that's holding the cage! It's our only chance!" Brock said.

"Right! Go, Staravia!" Ash threw a pokeball as it then opened, letting out a red beam that soon became an eagle-like pokemon, with black and white feathers. The pokemon said it's name, as it flapped it's wings to stay in midair, "Staravia, cut down that rope the cage is holding on!"

"Starrrrrrrraaviaa!" The bird pokemon flew towards the air balloon, and cuts the rope beneath it with it's peck, allowing the cage to fall.

"Pikaaaa!" Pikachu cried while falling down with the cage.

"I got you, Pikachu! Ha!" Ash jumped, and caught the cage just before it could crash into the ground. upon catching it, Ash picked up a rock, and bashed the cage door open, letting Pikachu out as the mouse pokemon jumped into Ash's arms. "Heh heh! Are you okay, Pikachu?"

"Pi, Pikachu!" Pikachu replied happily.

"Aaaaah! James, you numbskull. What kind of rope did you tie the cage with!" Jesse asked.

"Don't blame me! We didn't pick up any good ropes because we didn't had any money!" James cried. While Team Rocket was arguing with each other, Ash took this chance to teach Team Rocket a lesson, yet again.

"Let's not let them get away! Pikachu, use thunder-wah!" Ash was interrupted by a sudden breeze that was nearly blowing him, and his friends off their feet.

"Hey, where did this storm come from!" Brock asked while covering his face with his arms.

"Ah! My hair is going to get ruined if this keeps up!" Dawn cried. Up in the air balloon, Team Rocket were having more problems with the wind.

"Wh-Wh-What's going on! Where did this wind come from!" Jesse asked, holding onto the air balloon while she still can.

"It's too dangerous to be up here! I knew we shouldn't have used the balloon today!" James cried.

"Stop crying, and start getting us down here, or we're gonna get blown away!" Meowth yelled. The air balloon was being blown back into a big tree, as the balloon suddenly from touching one of the branches, causing it to release the air inside, causing the balloon to lose control as Team Rocket was taken along for the ride.

"LOOKS LIKE TEAM ROCKET'S BLASTING OFF AGAIN!" Team Rocket cried before they disappeared in the distance. As the wind died down a bit, Ash and his friends were wondering where the sudden breeze came from.

"Geez, what was that all about!" Ash asked.

"Pika!" Pikachu agreed. Brock and Dawn looked at their surroundings, and gasped in shock upon seeing the sky purple.

"Whoa! It's dark already!" Dawn asked.

"No, it's barely the afternoon!" Brock said. Ash and Pikachu looked up, and gasped upon seeing the sky purple, but what they are most surprised of, is that they saw the Strawhat crew in a cloudy screen formed in the sky.

"It can't be… !" Ash took some steps forward as he and Pikachu couldn't believe what they were seeing. "I don't believe this at all… Luffy!"

"Pika pi!" Pikachu gasped as well.

Meanwhile…

The same thing was happening in Mute City; everyone in town stopped doing what they were doing just to look up at the cloudy screen they were viewing the Strawhats with. Outside of town, Jody Summers and John Tanaka, along with some officials stepped out of the station, and were seeing the screen as well.

"What could all this mean! Is this some sort of natural disaster!" John asked.

Jody frowned, and faced towards her men, "Everyone, we need to get to town! We must keep things in order no matter what!"

The officers agreed as they hurried into their vehicles, and drove towards Mute City.

And back in Mute City, Captain Falcon pulled over his vehicle, and got out of his cockpit as he rushed over to the scene, and looked up at the Strawhats in the cloudy screen, shocked as everyone else.

"Luffy!" Falcon yelled, "Oh!" A loud thunderbolt was heard from the distance, which started to make the people in town scared, and started running for their homes. Captain Falcon remained standing outside of town, and observed the screen with a worried look on his face.

Meanwhile…

In Aether, the same thing was starting to happen. U-mos was meditating in his room ontop of the sky temple, when suddenly the sky was turning purple, and the cloudy screen showing the Strawhats in danger appeared. U-mos looked up, and his eyes widened in shock, "Luffy…" He then grew calm, but was troubled upon what he was seeing, "What tragedy are you facing now?"

In Outer Space, Samus' ship was stationary in space, as it was facing some several planets. Samus was inside in her Zero suit outfit, resting before she could get back on her job. Suddenly, an alarm went off, waking her up as a red, holographic screen popped up in front of her, flashing the words, 'warning'.

"-Warning! Heavy climate has drastically appeared in less than 10 seconds in the planet Aether!-" The computer voice alarmed, "-Immediate evacuation is advised!-"

Samus blinked in confusion as she readied her ship to go to Aether, until another warning hologram appeared, "-Warning! Heavy climate has drastically appeared in less than ten second in the planet..-"

"-Warning! Heavy climate has drastically appeared in..-"

"-Warning! Heavy clim… -"

"-Warning!-"

"-Warning!-"

"-Warning!-"

"What the hell is this!" Samus asked herself as dozens of warning screens kept popping up in front of her. She moved the screens out of her way, to see all the planets in front of her turning purple through her windshield. Not only the planets, but also space itself as everything in Samus' view turned purple. Samus was at a loss of words until a humongous mystical screen formed in space, where Samus could see the Strawhats in. "Okay… what the hell is that!"

Meanwhile…

"Catch, Kirby!" Tuff said, kicking the soccer ball at Kirby. We're back in Dreamland, where everything was just as peachy as it has ever been, but it was going to be for long. Tiff was reading book while sitting up against a tree next to Kirby's house, and was about to turn the page, until the wind blew it for her.

"Huh?" Tiff looked out over the horizon, and saw some dark clouds coming. "Oh, is it going to rain?"

Back in Dedede's castle, you-know-who, is coming out of his throne room, along with Escargoon. "Ahhh, now that was a job well done!" Dedede said before yawning, as he and Escargoon were working on their anime project, despite that nobody was going to watch it.

"Yeah, next time, can you atleast pitch in a bit? My hands have grown numb from exhaustion just coloring your lousy artwork." Escargoon said before blowing on his hands.

"Bah, quiet being such a baby!" Dedede replied with an annoyed look, "Phew.. all that hard work I did sitting around doing nothing sure took alot out of me. What I need is some good ol' fresh air to lighten up my mood." Dedede walked up to his balcony, and took a deep breath to suck in the pure air, only to cough repeatedly afterwards, "Gah! What was I thinking! This is terrible…"

"Y-You're Majesty! Look at the sky!" Escargoon exclaimed.

"Dyeh!" Dedede gasped as he looked up, and saw the sky turn purple. "Huuuuuuuooooooooghh!" Dedede gasped in shock again as everyone in Dreamland was seeing this. The Waddle Dees and Waddle Doo were also surprised, including Tiff and Tuff's parents who watched from the balcony outside their house.

At the village, the Cappys were also pretty shocked, as Kawasaki came out of his empty to see what was going on, "Is it dark already? Oh!" Kawasaki upon seeing the purple sky, "Uooah! What happened to the sky!"

"It turned purple! But how!" Curio asked.

"Has the day passed by already?" Mayor Len asked.

"No! It's only in the middle of the afternoon, for pete's sake!" Chief Bookem exclaimed. As everyone in the village was worried, outside of the village, Tiff, Tuff, and Kirby was just as shocked as everyone else.

"This can't be… is Nightmare back again!" Tuff asked.

"No, this looks different than before!" Tiff said. Lololo and Lalala then came to the children with worried looks on their face.

"Tiff, you guys have to come back home! It's not safe out here!" Lololo said.

"It looks like a big storm is coming! We have to get out of here quick!" Falala exclaimed.

Kirby kept looking at the sky, but then saw a cloudy screen showing the Strawhats in danger, which caught his attention, "P-Poyo! Poyo, poyo!" Tiff and Tuff turned around, and gasped upon seeing the screen.

"Isn't that Luffy!" Tuff gasped.

"Oh my god! Luffy!" Tiff gasped while covering her mouth in shock.

Back in the castle, Dedede was getting really angry upon seeing the screen as well, "Escargoon! What are THOSE guys doing up there, darkening up MY sky!" Dedede asked while choking Escargoon with one hand.

"H-H-How should I know! Gugh! Let me go already!" Escargoon gasped for air.

"Grr! They dare make a fool out of me, and now they do this! They are going to pay! DYAH!" The breeze then came, blowing Dedede and Escargoon back into the throne room with the door shut. After that happened, Metaknight, along with Blade and Sword, were standing on a balcony outside a tower, watching the screen above them.

"Kabu… was this the darkness you foretold?" Metaknight asked as his eyes glowed green.

Meanwhile…

Snake and Otacon were in a jeep, as Otacon was driving across a desert field, while Snake was sitting in the passenger seat, thinking to himself. "Don't worry, Snake; we'll find Liquid sooner or later. It's only a matter of time." Otacon said to cheer Snake up.

"That's what I'm afraid of." Snake replied.

Otacon stared at Snake before concentrating back on the road. Then suddenly, it grew dark as the sky turned purple, "Huh? That's strange… where the light go?"

This caught Snake's attention as well, as he peered over the window, and saw the purple sky, and there formed another mystical screen showing the Strawhats. Snake's eyes widened as he then looked at Otacon, "Stop the car!"

"Wah!" Otacon hits the brakes, as Snake got out of the jeep, and looked up the screen with a furious look. Otacon got out of the car as well, and gasped upon seeing the Strawhats, "Hey! Isn't that Luffy and his crew! What are they doing there!" Snake took out his binoculars to get a better look, and saw that the Strawhats, including the dark atmosphere in their surroundings, which he instantly recognized.

"Shit!" Snake cursed before throwing the binoculars away, "Otacon, we're in trouble! It's Obscurum!"

Otacon kept his eyes on the screen in shock, as Snake also looked at it before cursing again.

Meanwhile…

In the Lylat System, things were also turning for the worse.

In the planet, Sauria, King Tricky was in the Walled city, seeing his people, and the Sharpclaw working together for once as they were repairing the damages. Tricky was happy to see things are in order, until the sky darkened, and looked up to see what everyone else is looking at right now.

"That… I don't know what to think of that." Tricky gasped, blinking in confusion.

Sauria wasn't the only place seeing the darkness, as Corneria was also getting the same sky as well. The townspeople were worried as in the top floor of Peppy's reconstructed office, a soldier ran into his room, "S-Sir!" He stuttered in fear, "Outside! Something is-!"

"I know… I'm seeing it!" Peppy said as he was sweating with fear, seeing the mystical screen showing the Strawhats in pain through his windows, "By goddess, nothing as this as ever happened before! Why is this happening!

And outside in space, every single planet in Lylat was purple as the Great Fox was flying through space, and inside the bridge, the Star Fox team were looking all this through the windows, and were at a loss of words.

"Every planet in my radar has been infected with this dark aura." ROB said to the Star Fox, "I cannot find where this aura came from, nor do I know a way to stop this."

"Wow! It's like the whole system is covered with this purple stuff!" Slippy said in awe. It was then that another mystical screen appeared in space, "H-Huh! That's Luffy and the crew!"

"Who the! What's goin' on here! Why are we seeing them all of sudden!" Falco exclaimed.

"They're hurt…" Krystal gasped, "I can feel them… they are going to die in that state!"

Fox then slammed his fist on the control panel, "Damn it! We should have gone with them! They shouldn't suffer like this!"

As the Starfox team didn't know what to do, the same thing went for the Starwolf. Back in Starwolf's base, all the men inside were making a fuss over the screen they were seeing in space, as Wolf, Leon, and Panther approached them from behind.

"Shut up! Move aside, and let me see!" Wolf yelled as his men got out of his way, allowing him to see the screen out the window, which actually made him in flinch.

"Ugh! Miss Nami! Why is she in that terrible condition!" Panther growled.

"It looks they're going to get killed! Even those guys wouldn't survive in that state!" Leon said, causing Wolf to frown.

"You little brat; you plan on dying right in front of me?" Wolf asked, referring to Luffy as he clenched his hands into fists.

Meanwhile…

And finally, back in the Smash World, all the four alloys, and R.O.B. were watching the horrified scene of the Strawhats in the mystical screen in the air. The darkness was stronger in the Smash world, since it was closer to Obscurum, as R.O.B. stood in front of the alloys, hoping that his masters and the Strawhats would come out safely. He looked up at the dark planet, which radiated bright purple glow from within.

And inside Obscurum, the Strawhats could see them too. All of their friends and companions could be seen on several screens that surfaced from the dark energy above them. They could see how terrified they look upon seeing them in the condition they were in. This was all very hard for the Strawhats to take in.

"Mario.. Link, and Pikachu. They can see us." Chopper said in shocked.

"Falcon… Samus-swan… and Kirby too! This can't be real!" Sanji growled.

"Snake and Fox as well… this is terrible." Robin said, finding hard to believe that the Smashers she and her comrades met are watching them suffer.

"Ah ha ha ha ha ha ha ha ha ha ha!" Dimentio laughed while dancing around like a balley dancer, "Isn't this great! Now we have an audience to behold your demise! They can all see that their once great heroes will also be their executioners! By the time you all die… they will become mine, including their friends and families! My dream will finally come true! And everything you desired will soon be mine to treasure! Ah ha ha ha ha ha ha ha ha!"

"You sick monster… they have nothing to do with this!" Luffy yelled.

"Now they do!" Dimentio replied as he stopped dancing, and gave off a sinister smirk, "For you see, I am their god, and I must show them things that will make them worship me, even if it is gruesome. Even though they will all be nothing but dark, and sorrowful creatures after this is over, it would be good for them to see how the so called perfect team meet their dreaded demise. Although, we all know that you aren't perfect…" Dimentio said a sneer, "Who was responsible for a great pirate losing his arm? Who lost the chance to beat his rival after the idiot fell down the stairs? Who was the girl that lost her stepmother because of her existence? Who was the boy who lost her mommy, and the kid who took away a man's purpose? Who was the monster that killed his best friend, and the demon child that saw her home get destroyed because of her lust for knowledge, or who was the brat that caused his mentor to perish in the depths of hell! Ah ha ha ha ha!"

The Strawhat crew were shocked hearing Dimentio talk about their pasts, as Dimentio kept mocking them, "Yes, I can read the darkness in you, and it's burning strong inside! The truth is, you want to pain the go away! Well, there is only one way to be free, and that is to die!" Dimentio then spreaded out his arms, and laughed, "Let your deaths start my era! Let your dark pasts make me complete!"

The Strawhats have heard enough, as Zoro suddenly charged at Dimentio with one sword in hand, "You won't make a fool out of us again! I will kill you right here and now! Hiiyaaaaa!" When Zoro got close, he thrusted his blade at Dimentio, who kept on laughing despite the danger he was in.

"Gugh!" Surprisingly, Zoro actually stabbed Dimentio through his stomach. Dimentio's body shook in pain as Dimentio was now bleeding from the mouth, and from his wound Zoro gave him.

"Y-Yosha! Good work, Zoro!" Usopp praised while raising his arm in joy. The crew was relieved seeing Zoro finish Dimentio off, but something wasn't right. Luffy could sense this as Zoro was looking at Dimentio with a surprised look.

"That was way too easy…" Zoro thought, "He could've avoided that thrust easily… what is he trying to pull?"

"Ughugh…" Dimentio gasped as more blood came out of his mouth, and from his wound. Zoro hadn't removed the blade from the jester's stomach yet as Dimentio then collapsed on his knees. He looked at his blood oozing down from his wound, and looked very shocked, "I'm… dying? I'm… dying!" Dimentio then lowered his head, and closed his eyes in pain for a couple of seconds, until he smirked again, "… Just what I needed." Suddenly, Dimentio raised his head, and placed his wrists beneath Zoro's blade, and to everyone's surprise, Dimentio raised his wrists through the blade, cutting his own hands off.

"What the!" Zoro gasped as he removed his sword from Dimentio's body as Dimentio cried in sheer pain as his blood was pouring out from his wrists.

"GAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA AAAAAAHHHHHHHHH!"

The Strawhats were disgusted seeing this happen as Dimentio fell on his arms, before slowly losing conciousness. "I'm.. I'm… NOT DEAD! AH HA HA HA!" Dimentio got up as his blood stopped pouring out from his body.

"Whoa! What the hell was that all about!" Franky asked.

"We thought you were going to die for good!" Nami gasped, "Why did you cut your own hands off!"

"Ah ha ha ha ha ha ha! Have you forgotten that I can never die! No matter what happens to me, I'll always survive!" Dimentio said, raising his handless arms, which disgusted the crew even more, "But to be honest, I was getting tired of this mortal form. I should now commence the last part of the Grand Finale. It's time that I show you my god form! AH HA HA HA!"

Master Hand's body then started moving again, shocking the crew as Crazy then got furious, "What are you doing! Stop controlling my brother! He can't even move anymore!"

"Oh, don't worry, Crazy-san; I am not going to leave you out either." Dimentio replied sinisterly.

"Huh!" Crazy gasped before he felt something dark growing in him, "AAAAAAAAAAUUUUUGGG GGGGGGGGHHHHHHHH!" The Strawhats watched in fear as Crazy was going through the same transformation process his brother went through moments ago. He cried in sheer pain until his figure turned black, and later turned motionless.

"CRRRAAAZZZYYYYY!" Luffy cried out as he, and the others watched the hands remain stationary in midair, while Dimentio started laughing even more.

"AH HA HA HA HA HA HA! The time has come!" Dimentio yelled as his body started changing, "Now… I shall unleash my darkness sealed within me! Let me be one with the cosmos… OBSCUMENTIO!"

Dimentio's body then started to mutating, unleashing a dreadful dark aura that shook the entire platform. "Aaaaaah!" The Strawhats tried to stay on their feet as Dimentio's was beginning to grow.

"AAAAAHHH HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA!" Dimentio laughed sinisterly as his purple and yellow attire turned to black and red. His clothing beneath his attire was turning into a dark mist, but it retained shape of the jester's body nonetheless. Dimentio's jester hat also turned black and red, and they looked like they were horns of a demon. Dimentio's face also changed as his black and white makeup on his face were mixing up with each other, making Dimentio's face even scarier as the jester also grew fangs, and his eyes turned bright purple. Dimentio's body then stopped growing as he was nearly as big as a regular giant, and laughed with a multitude of calm and scary voices.

"Now for the finishing touch!" Dimentio said as his arms suddenly disappeared, and were replaced with golden chains with spikes in the ends. The chains flew in towards Master Hand and Crazy Hand, and plunged their spikes into their backs.

"Noooo!" Luffy yelled as he, and his crew watched in horror as the chains suddenly disappeared, but Dimentio was moving the hands as if they were his own.

Dimentio laughed sinisterly again as he moved his new hands around his body before he created a dark aura from his palms, and released the energy in the air, as they then exploded like dark fireworks. Dimentio now has the body of a dark god, and has a new name. He is now called, in his new form- Obscumentio.

"Ah ha ha ha ha ha ha ha ha ha ha ha! Aaah ha ha ha ha ha ha ha ha ha ha!" Obscumentio laughed before he looked down at the crew with a terrifying smirk, "So… do you still believe that you can win! I think I have already changed your minds! Ah ha ha ha!"

The Strawhat crew were looking at Obscumentio in disbelief; they were terrified of the Dark Emperor God. But inspite of that… Luffy still refused to accept defeat.

"I told you already! We'll win no matter what you say! You're not a god!" Luffy replied as his crew agreed by shouting loudly.

"AH HA HA HA HA HA HA! My dear friends… I'm afraid it's time to put an end to your misguided thoughts!" Obscumentio chuckled, "Don't be afraid… I won't kill you… I'm just going to make your lives more valuable to me…" Obscumentio then looked at his new hands, "Just like I did to these two… HAAAAAAAA!" Obscumentio then reached his hands at the Strawhats, creating a dark field that was raising their dark element through their limits.

"GAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA AAAAAHHHHHHHHHHHHH!"

The Strawhats cried in pain, as their darkness was taking over their minds. Slowly and painfully, they were turning into Aternecos as they started collapsing one by one.

"AH HA HA HA HA! You'll be my slaves! You'll never find the light again! You will be my friends forever! FEEL! MY! JUDGEMENT!" Dimentio laughed as the darkness was too much for the Strawhats to handle, and were losing because of it.

"Eeergh… aahhh!" Luffy cried, trying to stay on his feet, but ended up falling on his knees. Then everything around him turned quiet, and the pain he was feeling was gone. He looked around, and saw his crew behind him suffering. He groggily looked up at the screens where his friends are watching, and he could see them shouting and screaming nonstop. Luffy couldn't hear them, but he knew they were trying to encourage Luffy not to surrender. They didn't wanted to see him and his crew die, and that's when Luffy's eyes shot open, and grew serious as he then heard their cries, and felt the darkness once more.

"Grrrrrrrrrr!" Instead of giving up, Luffy was forcing himself to get up, as he managed to get back on one knee, and slowly rose up on both, but with a low stance.

"Ah ha? It seems that the captain still refuse to accept his fate!" Obscumentio laughed, "Do you fear death, Luffy-san! Are you afraid of my darkness!"

"I'm… not… going to give up!" Luffy muttered while trying to raise his head up, "Everyone is depending on us! Everyones' lives are at stake, and we're the only ones that can save them!" Luffy then clenched his hands into fists, as Obscumentio's smile started to vanish from seeing Luffy's will to live, "I won't let you… control us! These guys are my crew! The people watching us are my friends! You cannot break us apart!" Luffy then raised his head with a furious look, "EVERYONE I KNOW ARE MORE THAN JUST FAMILY TO ME! THEY ARE MY NAKAMAAAAAAAAAAA!

Luffy kept his scream as he and his crew were suddenly engulfed by a bright light, startling the Emperor God as he grew irritated, "Hmph! Your resolve doesn't mean a thing to me!" Obscumentio yelled as he strengthen his field, causing the light around the crew to fade, "My power is unmatched! Nothing can stand up against it, even if you refuse to accept it!" Then suddenly, another bright light appeared from way over to the other side of the platform. "Huh!"

The light was creating a portal, and the mystical screens everyone was seeing inside Obscurum with suddenly turned white. The screens then released a ray of light, as they were shot down at the portal, making it big enough for something to arise, and it was something unexpected. It was the Master Door, with all eight hearts in their slots.

"The Master Door! What's it doing here!" Obscumentio asked in shock. The mystical screens then turned back the way they were, allowing everyone outside of Obscurum watch the events happening from within again. The rays of light that helped the Master door to appear made the door disappear, but left the mystery hearts floating in the air. The hearts then flew, and circled around the crew as they released all their energy into each other, forming a ray of light that struck down towards the Strawhats.

"Aaahh!" The light caused Obscumentio to stagger back, since it appeared that the light was strong enough to burn him. The beam of light created a dome over the Strawhats, and was healing all of their wounds, and turned back into top condition. The dome disappeared after the Strawhats were healed, as the Mystery hearts slowly disintegrated from using all the energy they had, and no longer existed.

"Mmm… wh-wha?" Usopp opened his eyes as he and everyone else were okay. They didn't feel pain, nor did they felt tired. All the Strawhats were perfectly healed right before they would succumb to the darkness. "I don't believe it… we're okay!"

Zoro sat up, and saw all of his wounds were gone, even his clothes were back to the way they were, "Hmph! To think I was ready for death only to be cheated out of it…" He said while smirking.

"Oh, whoa! That was some power-up! I've never felt better in my life!" Franky said while getting up with a smile.

"I feel so refreshed! I never felt this good before." Chopper said in awe while also getting up. Sanji flipped back onto his feet, and was so relieved to be back in good condition.

"Heh heh… I somehow knew we weren't going to die. We're too good for dying miserably anyway." Sanji chuckled.

"This must be miracle…" Robin said in awe before Nami helped her up on her feet.

"This is no miracle." Nami said as she then smirked at Obscumentio, "This is just proof that we can get through anything! Even against god's judgement itself!"

Obscumentio was utterly shocked; he did not expect things to turn against his favor. The Strawhats were already back in good condition in a matter of seconds, and even he didn't know why. He looked at the mystical screens, seeing the Strawhats' friends were relieved, and were supporting them with cheers and uproars.

"This can't be…" Obscumentio blinked in confusion, "How did this happen! I didn't forsee this! Why couldn't I kill you?"

The Strawhats looked at each other before they smirked back at Obscumentio, as Luffy then got back on his feet, and gave Obscumentio a stern look.

"This is the end…" Luffy said, "We're going to end this once and for all!"

TO BE CONTINUED…

The REAL final battle begins in the next chapter, and boy, is it going to be a doozy! Will the Strawhats beat Obscumentio? Stay tuned to find out! Ciao for now!

FINAL BATTLE Pt 1

Hey, I'm back! Hope I didn't lose any viewers out there, although I've been gone for a while, I wouldn't be surprised if I did. Heh heh, anyway, I know you've been waiting very long for a new chapter, and I'm sorry I took nearly three months to update and all; I have been unmotivated as of late for the past couple of weeks, and then there were these life issues going on, blah, blah, blah, I don't wanna bore you with details, but I just want you to know that I'm not planning to give up on this fic after working so hard on it for the past two years.

On an important note, I've realized that this battle is going to be super long, but probably, my best battle ever. I just got back working on this battle a couple of days ago, so with that said, it's going to take me some more time before it's all finished.

Therefore, I decided to split this battle into some parts, so what you see here is only the very beginning part of the fight. I wanted to put everything into one chapter, but it's probably best this way, seeing it's going to take a while longer for me to finish the rest. This chapter ain't that long, but I'm sure it will still be epic for you all. So, enough of my pointless chatter; it's time for you guys to see the chapter you've all been waiting for… a part of it anyway. Have fun!

A second chance. With the Strawhats nearly beat, they confronted Dimentio once more, but inspite of their determination to win, they couldn't do anything against the god-like jester. Things turned for the worst when Dimentio took control over Master Hand, and made him attack his own brother, Crazy, who fought back, and had no choice, but to knock out Master Hand for his own good. The situation worsened when the Strawhats refused to be a part of Dimentio's rule, as Dimentio spreads his power towards the worlds the Strawhats have visited, and every single living creature there are now watching the Strawhats final moments.

Dimentio said to the Strawhats that their deaths will initiate his control over all of space, and then made things even worse by controlling over Crazy Hand as well. Dimentio then transformed into his Emperor god form, Obscumentio, with Master and Crazy Hand as his own hands after he sliced his own hands off using Zoro's sword. With his power, he then tries to turn the Strawhats into Aternecos, forcing them to serve him forever. But fortunately, something strange happened.

The Master Door appeared before Obscumentio, and the Strawhats, and with it, the Mystery Hearts where there, as they helped the Strawhats come out of the darkness, and recover all of their wounds from their previous battles by releasing all their energy into them.

The Strawhats are now ready; with their friends watching, and their greatest enemy standing before them, it's time to see who deserves to be the one last standing.

Chapter 133: Dark Hell 2, The Strawhat pirates vs Obscumentio (Part 1)

Luffy, Zoro, Nami, Usopp, Sanji, Chopper, Robin, and Franky all stood tall, ready to fight against Obscumentio after the Mystery hearts have healed them back in their top conditions. Everyone that was watching the Strawhats from their worlds were supporting them with thunderous roars that echoed throughout Obscurum from within.

Obscumentio was still kinda shocked to see that their so called 'friends' were able to resist him this far, especially with the Mystery hearts coming out of the blue, and healing them during their predicament. The god-like jester remained speechless for a little while, until he then smirked.

"Ah ha ha… my, it seems old habits have gotten the best of me." Obscumentio said while placing Master Hand, or his new right hand, over his mouth, "This isn't exactly new to me. When I unleashed chaotic powers in the past against my enemies, their friends supported them, giving them the strength to defeat me in the end. It was terrible, but I managed to gain something good in the end. And now, I see the hearts mysteriously appearing during my moment of triumph, and helped my… former friends… into regaining their strengths back." Obscumentio then placed his hand on his cheek while shaking his head, "The irony never stops for me… and I believe it was my fault to begin with. Who would've imagined if I made your friends watch you suffer, you would find a way to turn things around? Oh ho ho, how unlucky I am…"

Obscumentio then sounded serious, "Unfortunately… the crying boys and girls won't be getting their treats at the very end. I am the strongest of all gods; I can never be defeated. I can control the fate of all live itself. There is none that can measure up to my power." Obscumentio then placed his hand down from his cheek, "As for all of you, your fate has not changed. I composed almost every single thing to you during your trip, and I already decided how it would end." The Strawhats didn't lose their focus on Obscumentio as he kept talking, "I may not know how or why those mystical hearts appeared to help you, but it matters no less to me since you can't do a thing to stop me."

"That's not true!" Luffy replied, "You tried to turn us into your slaves… but we're still here!"

Obscumentio chuckled before peering down at Luffy, looking at him up close as Luffy could see Obscumentio's horrific look real close for the first time, but Obscumentio's didn't intimidate Luffy one bit.

"Aww, Luffy-san. You always make things more difficult for me to do." Obscumentio said pleasantly, "How I will ever resist your passion to live, I will never know. But what I do know, is that even though you are fully recovered, it won't change the fact that you can't defeat me. Can you really… resist me again?"

"I did before, didn't I? We all did!" Luffy replied as his crew were just as serious as he was, "We are all ready for you this time! So give us your best shot!"

Obscumentio's smile widened with glee, "Mmm hm hm… your confidence is still dulling your natural senses. It amazes me how much strength heroes get just by getting yelled at. I wonder if…" Obscumentio then glanced at the people in the screens, hearing them shouting to support the Strawhats nonstop. With a snap of his fingers, Obscumentio silenced them all in an instant. They were still yelling, but none of them could be heard.

"What happened! We can't hear them anymore!" Usopp gasped while looking at the screens.

"It was getting a little loud in here, so I turned down the volume." Obscumentio explained, "I am sure they don't mind; they can't even hear us anyway. The only thing they are hearing right now are the strong gusts of wind, blowing the darkness into their lives. Their lands and space are being caught within this world's tight, eerie grasp, and the only thing that is preventing this world from gaining their lives and worlds, is because of your lives." Obscumentio then raised his left hand while smirking down at the crew, "Let's stop all this nonsense. The faster you submit your lives to me, the faster the pain will disappear from your friends. My power is law; you cannot overcome my judgement."

"And you also said that we can overcome anything that comes against us." Franky added before smirking, "Look, pal, if you are just going to keep babbling about your role as a god, we're never going to get anywhere. Either you strike first, or we'll knock you down now!"

"We're not going to let you beat us this time, clown." Nami said while holding her PCT tightly, "As long as we work together, you can never take anything away from us!"

"Ha ha ha ha! That's cute and all, but actions will always speak louder than words! And if I say that, then it is true!" Obscumentio replied. He then opened his palms towards the Strawhats, and emitted another dark area around them, trying to raise their dark elements like before. The Strawhats endured, but they weren't suffering like last time. Instead, they barely felt a thing, and it only made Luffy angry as he knelt down, and punched the ground beneath him so hard, he blew away the darkness from him and his crew. Obscumentio blinked in confusion as he pulled back his hands around his waist. "Oh? It didn't work this time?"

"Of course, it didn't! Why should it! We're so angry at you, that your magic tricks won't work on us anymore!" Luffy replied before standing up with clenched fists, "This is where it all ends for you! There is nothing that you can do to make us surrender! We've went through alot of things to settle the score with this world, and you're not going to get in the way! We won't let you take away what belongs to us!" While still glaring at Obscumentio, Luffy pointed at the people watching in the screens. "Do you see them! They deserve to live their lives the way they want, and not the way you want. We're going to make sure that you will never win, so they can live out their lives normally before you came along, and tried to ruin everything!" Luffy then punched his palm with sheer determination, "You want to give happiness to the people around you! I got something better! I'm going to give everyone the joy in seeing me kicking your ass! That will be something they will never forget!"

It was that time that everyone watching the Strawhats began to cheer. They didn't hear what Luffy said just now, but just by looking at his determined expression they recognized from when they first met him, they knew that he was ready for action. From the people they knew, and their people of their worlds, the Strawhats could see that they have brought nothing but hope to their friends. The joyful expressions in their faces made the Strawhats more ready than in any situation that they had to deal with before.

Obscumentio looked impassive by seeing all this. He expected the people watching to be afraid, but inspite of showing his unsurpassable power to everyone, they still believe that the Strawhats could win. What's worse, is that from all this commotion, Obscumentio couldn't even feel the elements inside the Strawhats' bodies, because the Strawhats have their elements so balanced with each other, that the proclaimed Emperor God couldn't even feel it. This made Obscumentio upset, and just by feeling upset, made the Emperor God turn maniacal.

"… Then I believe it's time that we reach this show's final act!" Obscumentio snarled with a demented smirk as he clenched his hands into fists, emitting a powerful, dark aura all over his body. "A show cannot end without an epilogue! I cannot allow you to stain my finest achievement! I am the master of all realities! The crowd will be blessed by my presence! I am their ruler… and as of now, I AM LIFE ITSEEEEELLLLLLLLFFF FFFFFFF! AH HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA!"

Obscumentio then spreads his arms, and looked up into the dark element energy around his planet. His dark aura then grew massively as Obscurum shook with fierce power. Obscumentio laughed maniacally as he could feel the darkness inside him growing even more powerful, thanks to the energy that keeps being gathered into the planet. His darkness kept getting stronger, making the aura around him grow even bigger and destructive.

The Strawhats only glared at the demented jester, not flinching, nor even fazing from Obscumentio's wrath. They knew what they were up against, and as said before, they were ready for anything this time.

"I don't want people to get hurt by you anymore…" Chopper growled at Obscumentio, "I am going to protect everyone dearest to me! I am not scared of you… I will never be afraid of you!"

"Let everyone see how we settle our business with people that gets on our nerves…" Zoro said bluntly before holding his third sword with his teeth, and gripped his other swords tightly while glaring at Obscumentio.

"Ahem, it's about time I show my true potential as the bravest warrior!" Usopp said over confidently before raising his arm up, "It's time that we spread our name throughout the cosmos! Yeah! We're the Strawhat pirates, and we're gonna win!"

"Nami-san. Robin-chan. Please step aside as I, the great prince of love, will put an end to this root of evil." Sanji said bravely while standing in front of Nami and Robin, and placing his hand up against his heart before glaring at Obscumentio.

"Ha! As if we're going to let you guys get all the action." Nami chuckled, "We're not going to sit this one out. We're going to give it our all against this wacko as well. Isn't that right, Robin."

"Of course." Robin replied kindly, "After all, we wouldn't be a part of this crew if we weren't as fearsome as you all are. We will gladly join you in battle until the end."

Franky then refueled himself up by placing full cola bottles inside him, and later raised his head up with a confident look, "Yo, Strawhat! Anytime you're ready, bro! I'm fueled up, and ready to go! Let's take this nutjob down!" Franky exclaimed excitedly before doing his natural pose.

Luffy glanced over his shoulders consecutively, seeing his crew ready to fight their biggest challenge yet. Luffy then faced towards Obscumentio as he cracked his knuckles once more, before clenching them into fists around his waist.

"Okay… LET'S DO IT, GUYS!" Luffy exclaimed with sheer determination.

"RIGHT!" The crew replied with determination as well, as they were ready to battle with Obscumentio, who looked down at the Strawhats with pity.

"Ah ha ha ha ha! This day will be the climax of your miserable lives! Today will be marked as a historic event, as the day that the Strawhat pirates have given up my friendship for death!"

Dimentio's dark aura then disappeared as he then raised his right hand, and brought it down towards the Strawhats, who were running towards Obscumentio while his hand was coming down towards them. "Separate!" Luffy yelled as he and his crew ran off in different directions, avoiding Obscumentio's palm as it slammed hard on the floor, creating an immense shockwave across the ground afterwards.

The shockwave did knock the crew off their feet, but they all managed to land back on them, and attacked Obscumentio from different directions.

"GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!" Luffy stretched his arm towards Obscumentio while running at him, but Obscumentio laughed as he gently sidestepped to avoid the attack after raising his hand from the ground.

"Really, now, this is nothing, but deja vu." Obscumentio teased as he placed his left hand close to Luffy in order to flick him, but was interrupted by Chopper and Franky shoulder barging his hand away. "Oh?"

"ANTI-MANNER KICK COURSE!" Then from below Obscumentio, Sanji came flying up towards Obscumentio's chin with a flying upper kick, however, Obscumentio reared his head back to avoid, and laughed at Sanji as he was about to grab him with his right hand.

"ATLAS SUISEI!" Usopp aimed at Obscumentio from afar, and shot four simultaneous pellets that converged towards Obscumentio's head. Obscumentio glanced at the pellets, before effortlessly blocking, and letting them explode on the back of his right hand, while Sanji then fell as Zoro then hopped onto one of his legs.

"ARMY DE LAIR POWER SHOOT!" Sanji launched Zoro up in the air with the force of his leg, as Zoro flew up towards Obscumentio's face with his swords ready.

"OMNI OUTOUROU!" Zoro raised his swords up across Obscumentio's face, releasing a powerful cutting wave that flew upward from the tips of his blades, but ultimately missed as Obscumentio weaved his head back to avoid the big slash. Obscumentio smiled at Zoro, who wasn't finished as he held his swords in a circular motion. "HYAKU-HACHI POUNDOU HOU!" Zoro swung his swords circularly, releasing a giant, spiral wave towards Obscumentio's face from up close. Unfortunately, Obscumentio arched his back to a point where his body was parallel to the ground, avoiding Zoro's cutting wave entirely as Zoro growled upon missing.

Obscumentio smiled pleasantly at Zoro above him, but his expression turned to a confused look upon seeing a giant thundercloud above Zoro while he was still in midair. "Hmm?"

"CIEN FLEUR!" Robin sprouted multiple arms from the ground, and grabbed Zoro to pull him away from the Obscumentio and the cloud, which Nami created while Obscumentio was distracted moments ago.

"THUNDERBOLT TEMPO!" Nami threw a thunderball at her giant thundercloud, and when it got absorbed, it unleashed a thunderstorm towards Obscumentio below, but he saved himself by warping behind the Strawhat crew to avoid the lightning bolts altogether. Nami, and the others gasped and turned around to see the demented jester laughing at their efforts in attacking him.

"You're wasting your precious time, I'm afraid." Obscumentio said with a smile, "I'm invincible! I cannot be defeated by some mor-"

"GOMU GOMU NO…" Before Obscumentio knew it, Luffy could be seen flying towards him, "BAZOOKA!" Luffy thrusts his palms directly into Obscumentio's face, surprising him as he staggered back by one step.

"Ugh… !" As Obscumentio placed his hand over his face, Luffy landed back on the ground, where his crew regrouped with him. It turned out that Luffy used Robin's sprouted arms she used to catch Zoro earlier to sprung himself towards Obscumentio just now when he was praising himself. Obscumentio was still in shock as he felt pain from getting hit, and glared down towards the Strawhats, "You dare lay a finger on your god? I am not amused…"

"We're not finished yet! Stop crying, and fight us seriously this time!" Luffy exclaimed furiously.

"As you wish… ha ha ha!" Obscumentio snarled with a smile as he then positioned his hands like guns, and fired dark bullets from his fingertips at the Strawhats repeatedly. The crew seperated again as the bullets released a mid explosion of darkness upon making impact to the ground. Obscumentio laughed some more, firing more bullets in the process as Usopp suddenly stopped himself, and turned towards the incoming bullets while pulling back the elastic band of his slingshot as far back as he could.

"HINOTORI SUISEI!" Feeling very confident of himself, Usopp fired not one, not two, but a flock of blazing phoenixes simultaneously at the incoming bullets. Some of them exploded into flames while destroying several bullets that were in their way, while the rest of them managed to keep flying forward. "Yosha! How do you like that!"

Obscumentio only laughed again as he caught the remaining phoenixes that were flying towards him with his right hand alone, and once he caught them, he used his power to merge the fire birds into a big, black fireball. Obscumentio held the fireball with a backswing of his arm, and tossed it like bowling ball as the dark fire ball soured towards Usopp while leaving a trail of black fire behind.

"Look out, Usopp!" Chopper cried as he ran towards Usopp's aid in his walking point. He galloped quickly until he got close to Usopp, and yanked him off his feet with his teeth, yanking him away from the fireball's path, and the trail of fire it left behind as they by them seconds later.

"Whoa! That was a close one! I thought I was going to get burned to a crisp!" Usopp gasped while Chopper was still dragging him across the ground.

"It's not over yet! Ah ha ha!" Obscumentio laughed as he was seen kneeling down towards the duo from the side. Usopp and Chopper gasped as they didn't even see Obscumentio reach them so quickly, as Obscumentio was about to grab them, until the trail of fire he created was suddenly blown away by a massive current of air.

"COUP DE VENT!" Franky released a massive current of air from his tube between his arms to blow away the trail of fire, and attack Obscumentio with it as well. The wind flew towards Obscumentio from the side, but the jester was prepared for it as he sticked out his left hand up, and pushed the air hard enough to disperse it in several directions, creating a big gust in his surroundings. "Guoh!" Franky got knocked off his feet by the gust, and was knocked into the air afterwards as Obscumentio then aimed at him with his finger.

"DOSCIENTOS FLEUR!" Robin quickly sprouted a hundred arms on each of Obscumentio's hands, and binded them right before Obscumentio fired a big bullet at Franky. Franky gasped, and instantly inflated his rear.

"COUP DE BOO!" Franky released the air from his rear, flying upwards to avoid the bullet, and as soon as he flew directly towards Obscumentio, he took a very deep breath. "FRESH HELL!" Franky breathed out an immense stream of blue fire all over Obscumentio's chest. As the flames set ablaze to Obscumentio's attire, Zoro rushed towards the jester while spinning his swords in front of him.

"SANSEN SEKAI!" Zoro slashed through Obscumentio, leaving an immense cut across his chest as the sudden dash from Zoro created a swift breeze that pushed Franky's flames on Obscumentio into his cut, and skewer through his back afterwards.

Obscumentio seemed emotionless after this happened, until he then raised his head, showing a devious smirk on his face, "Ah ha ha ha! The pain feels wonderful! It's like the pleasure a person gets after recovering from a flu!" Obscumentio then raised his hands, which were still covered by Robin's sprouted arms, as the flames on his body were being gathered above his head, "Let me share the joys that the darkness can give you. Turn those disgusting frowns upside-down!" Obscumentio then lowered his hands forcefully, bringing the fire he took off of him into the ground below, causing the flames to spread, and hit everything in a 50 foot radius around himself.

"Aaaauugh!" Zoro, Robin, and Franky were hit by the waves as they tumbled backwards in different directions. Once they fell on their backs, the arms Robin sprouted on Obscumentio's hands earlier quickly vanished, as Obscumentio then teleported in front of Robin. Robin gasped as Obscumentio then raised his hand over his shoulder, and threw a fist down at her.

"Don't you even think about hurting her!" Sanji yelled furiously as he ran at Obscumentio in top speed, and later jumped towards him from the side, "SHISHINAMI SHOOT!" Sanji flew towards the side of Obscumentio's head with a flying kick, but Obscumentio turned, and punched Sanji with the fist he raised earlier. Sanji kicked Obscumentio's attacking hand, but the force of the jester's punch knocked him away as he flew in a big distance. "Ugh!"

"KOKUTEI ROSEO MICHIERI!" Chopper charged at Obscumentio from behind in his Arm point, and repeatedly thrusted his hooves at the back of Obscumentio's right leg, leaving several hoof marks afterwards, but they suddenly disappeared in an instant. "Huh!" While Chopper was confused, Obscumentio turned towards him, and backslapped him away. "Gyaaahh!"

Franky got up, and quickly caught Chopper before he could roughly tumble across the ground, but the force of Obscumentio's slap was stronger than Franky thought, and ended up falling on his back with Chopper landing hard on his chest.

"Oh! Franky, are you okay!" Chopper asked after turning back into his brain point, and got off of Franky with a worried expression.

"Don't worry about me, just keep your eyes on this guy! We can't afford to get distracted at a time like this!" Franky yelled before getting up.

"I know, but… his wounds recovered right after I attacked him!" Chopper said before glaring at Obscumentio.

"What?" Franky gasped upon hearing this.

"Have you forgotten that I'm a god, little ones?" Obscumentio asked with a chuckle as the wounds he recieved previously were then completely healed, "As good as pain feels, I don't want to be disfigured. So don't blame me if I happen to recover; it's just a reflex of mine, that's all-"

Suddenly, Luffy ran towards Obscumentio from behind. Luffy then took a deep breath, and twisted his body around, before releasing the air from his mouth, propelling him towards the center of Obscumentio's back, "GOMU GOMU NO STORM!" Luffy unleashed a storm of fists directly towards Obscumentio's back, but the jester saw this coming, as he then turned towards Luffy, and blocked every single punch with one palm alone. "Yaaaaataatatatatahhh!" Luffy screamed while continuing to throw more fists at Obscumentio.

"Why do you always interrupt me?" Obscumentio asked before thrusting his palm forward, halting Luffy's attack as he was blown back.

"Gugh!" Luffy gasped as he was soured back across the air. As that happened, Obscumentio went towards him by doing several flips, despite his massive size. Each time he did a flip, he made the ground shake violently, causing the Strawhat crew to lose their footing while they watched the jester going towards their captain. "Ugh!" Luffy then saw Obscumentio falling towards him as Obscumentio then lowered his legs at Luffy at the end of his flip.

"CYCLONE TEMPO!" Nami acted quickly, and threw part of her PCT at Obscumentio's legs to blow them off course, but seeing that it wasn't strong enough upon making impact, Sanji came from out of nowhere, and leaped pass Luffy, and towards the adjacent PCT pushing Obscumentio's legs back.

"ANTI-MANNER KICK COURSE!" Sanji thrusted his right leg into Nami's staff, helping it push Obscumentio's legs back with an even greater force that eventually forced Obscumentio to flip back in the other direction. "Luffy, grab my legs!" Sanji yelled as Luffy nodded before stretching his arms, and grabbed Sanji's left leg while stil airborne, "ARMY DE LAIR GOMU SHOT!" Sanji kicked forward, propelling Luffy forward as he inflated his body, and twisted it around again, before releasing the air from his mouth behind him, and flew directly towards Obscumentio right after he gently landed on his feet onto the ground.

"GOMU GOMU NO STORM!" Luffy unleashed another storm of fists towards Obscumentio, only this time, Luffy was hitting him over and over again onto his chest. Obscumentio was skidding back upon receiving these multiple hits, but laughed uncontrollably in the process as well.

"Ha ha ha! Stop it! That tickles!" Obscumentio laughed before he crushed Luffy between his palms.

"Luffy!" Nami cried before Sanji landed back on his feet, along with the parts of Nami's staff.

Obscumentio smirked upon smashing Luffy between his palms, but then looked confused as he felt his hands were getting pushed back. Once Obscumentio's hands were apart, he saw Luffy pushing them apart with his arms and legs, with the help of some arms Robin sprouted on him as well.

"Gyegh… ah!" Luffy grunted as Obscumentio was easily overpowering him, and was about to crush him between his palms once again.

"I'm coming, Luffy!" Usopp yelled before halting in front of Obscumentio, and aimed at him with his slingshot, "KATAKI BOSHI!" Usopp fired two explosive pellets at Obscumentio as they exploded into the jester's eyes.

"Oh!" Obscumentio was startled, giving Luffy the chance to break free from his hands, and leap towards the jester's face while still having Robin's sprouted arms around his body.

"GOMU GOMU NO MUCHI!" Luffy stretched his leg, and kicked Obscumentio across the face with it. The kick didn't faze Obscumentio, nor did it made him flinch as Obscumentio retaliated with a slap, but Robin saved Luffy by controlling the arms on him, making them grasp the exterior of Obscumentio's hand the moment it was close, and rolled Luffy down below the hand to avoid the attack.

"Yah!" Luffy gasped as the arms then swung him towards Obscumentio's attire, and pivoted him around the jester's body with great speed. Obscumentio tried catching them, but thanks to this distraction, Zoro, and Sanji were running up an unstable staircase Franky was building towards Obscumentio, with the help from Chopper in his heavy point form.

"You better not mess up, Marimo!" Sanji yelled while running up the stairs alongside Zoro.

"Same goes for you, stupid cook!" Zoro replied.

"You two better shut up, and release your fury on this clown!" Franky scolded before building the last step on his staircase, "GO!"

Zoro and Sanji then leaped over Franky and Chopper, who stayed behind as Chopper turned into his guard point, and bounced over Franky, who connected his arms into his tube again as he aimed for Obscumentio's gut. "Ready when you are, Franky!" Chopper exclaimed before falling directly into Franky's direction.

"Yoooosshhh! 1.5 MAX COLA HOU, COUP DE VENT!" Franky released a massive current of air that strucked Chopper from behind, and blew him towards Obscumentio faster than a speeding bullet. Obscumentio was still trying to catch Luffy rolling around his body, but stopped as he soon noticed Chopper flying towards him with a strong current of air following behind him.

In slow-motion, Chopper turned into his arm point, as he raised his muscular arms around his waist before thrusting them forward into Obscumentio's gut, "MICHIERI BAKUDAN!" Back in regular speed, Chopper thrusted both of his hooves directly into the jester's body with blinding speed, and with the boost from the current behind him, he rapidly thrusted his all over Obscumentio's gut, leaving countless of hoove prints in the process in just a matter of miliseconds.

"Ooooh?" The force from all the attacks skidded Obscumentio backwards, and caused him to double over in pain, but before he could lower his head completely, Zoro, and Sanji flew towards his face.

"SANTORYU…"

"ANTI-MANNER…"

"ONI COURSE!" Zoro swung all his three swords at the same time Sanji thrusted both his legs forward as they attacked Obscumentio's face with full force. Obscumentio grunted as the attack pushed his head and body back, until his body was adjacent to the ground again.

Once that was done, Obscumentio could see another thunder cloud, but this was two times bigger than the last one he avoided earlier. Nami was panting with tension after creating the biggest thunder cloud she has made yet, as she then shouted, "Robin, do it!"

Robin nodded as she then manipulated the arms on Luffy to roll him around Obscumentio even faster to gain some momentum, and let's go of Obscumentio's attire to sprung Luffy up towards the thunder cloud. The arms on Luffy then disappeared as Luffy then took another deep breath to inflate his body, and then released it from his mouth as he flew up close where the cloud was. While that happened, Usopp ran below Obscumentio's back, and charged up his slingshot to attack the jester from underneath. "HISSATSU RAIGAROU BOSHI!" Usopp fired a big thunderball that later took form of a wolf, and struck Obscumentio from behind.

"Goooough!" Obscumentio gasped as the wolf exploded into electricity, knocking the jester off his feet as he was blown up for atleast 3 or 4 feet into the air.

Usopp then ran through the dust cloud of the explosion he created, and looked up at Luffy with great determination, "Go, Luffy! Finish him off!"

"Okay, I hope this works! THUNDERSTORM TEMPO!" Nami then threw one thunderball, which was a size of an ant compared to the cloud as it went inside the cloud, which started to release some currents around itself.

Luffy then inflated his body once more while twisting himself in the process. He then released the air in him towards the sky as he propelled himself downward towards Obscumentio, who looked curious as the thunder cloud above was getting even more violent. "GOMU GOMU NO YORASHI!"

Luffy unleashed a storm of fists directly into Obscumentio's face at the same time the thundercloud unleashed it's deadly lightning bolts towards the ground. The Strawhat crew stepped far away from the scene as possible as they watched this incredible display of brute force. Luffy wasn't getting hurt by the lightning due to him being made of rubber, but was using the storm to his advantage. With each punch that Luffy delivered, a bolt of lightning goes through Obscumentio's head, and was then shot back up towards the sky. The thunder storm was devastating, that it was powerful enough to destroy a whole city, only all the power was focused into Obscumentio's face.

"YAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA AAAAAAAAAAAAHHHHH!" Luffy roared as he went on with the assault, until the thunderstorm finally lost all it's power, and released one more lightning bolt that went through Luffy's fist at the same time it made contact with Obscumentio's face.

KABOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO
OOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOMMMMMMMM!

A big explosion occurred when that happened, creating an enormous dust cloud as Luffy was blown back from the explosion, and roughly landed on the ground afterwards. "Luffy!" The crew went, and helped Luffy to sit up as Luffy stared at the cloud where Obscumentio.

"Did that beat him!" Luffy asked. Everyone else stared at the dust cloud as well, as they silently watch the dust fade away, revealing Obscumentio was right were Luffy fought him, "What the!"

Obscumentio was lying on his back, floating 2 inches away from the ground. He chuckled as he slowly floated back into an upright position, where the Strawhats could see his face covered in his own blood, which turned out to be black. The Strawhats were horrified as Obscumentio merely tilted his head sideways amusingly.

"Very good… very good." Obscumentio said impressed, "It's astonishing what you can do with the help from others. Look at me… if I was mortal looking like this… I would already be dead. Ah ha ha ha…" Obscumentio's blood dripped down from his face, and into the floor below. The liquid spreads far and wide, alarming the Strawhats as they backed away from the pool of blood just to be on the safe side. Obscumentio noticed this, and waved his palm across his face, making the blood and injuries he had on him to disappear like magic. "… If you don't mind, I'd like to do some renovations before we continue."

"What do you mean by that!" Luffy asked before getting up.

"I mean, I should add a little more flavor to our surroundings." Obscumentio replied as he then floated up higher in the air, "You all seem to be a little uncomfortable with this atmosphere, even though it's quite beautiful. My dream is to make people happy, and as god, I will accomplish just that! Ah ha ha ha haaaa!"

Obscumentio then flew high up into the air, and raised hands that caused the platform to shake tremendously. "Whugh!" The Strawhat crew lost their balance as they could see their surroundings were darkening in an instant. As everything turned dark, the Strawhat crew couldn't see a thing. They could only see Obscumentio in the air, and the Obscurum core, which was now glowing purple instead of blue. Before the Strawhat crew could even know what is going to happen, the platform they were on shook even more violently, and suddenly came to a stop as the Obscurum core turned blue again.

The crew were regained their footing, and instantly noticed an endless amount of white cracks all over their dark surroundings, "What's happening!" Chopper asked in shock. Obscumentio then pulled his hands against his chest, before swinging his hands to his sides, causing the dark atmosphere to shatter like glass. The Strawhat crew held their heads low to try and protect themselves against the falling glass, but the shards disappeared after a while from falling, so the Strawhats weren't hurt.

Luffy and his crew opened their eyes, and raised their heads, gasping at something they didn't expect to see.

Remember, this is just the beginning. The second part will come in due time. I hope this chapter eased your fury over my unacceptable absence for a while. Oh, and if you can, please spare the rants over my delay; you guys weren't the only ones suffering throughout this summer, you know.

And before I go, I'd like to answer Mystery guy's question about me making a story with game2002. Um, I don't know; I don't plan to work on anything else until I finish this story. I'll have to think about that, and ask him about it. Oh, and you should ask him the same question, just incase.

Oh, and Jakecrusher, about your question of the science thing in the Mario arc; I didn't put much effort into logical things back then, like the crew being blown away towards those weird directions you mentioned in your review. I'll make sure to edit those parts after this story is done.

Well, I think that's it for today. I'll be sure to get the next part up as quickly as I can, and that's a promise this time. Ciao for now!

FINAL BATTLE Pt 2

Alright, here we go with the second part of what supposed to be a whole chapter, but whatever. Remember, the last part was just the beginning; here is when the juicy parts come in. Have a blast!

Chapter 134: Dark hell 2, The Strawhat pirates vs Obscumentio (Part 2)

"No way! It can't be!" Nami gasped.

"W-Why are we back here!" Usopp exclaimed nervously.

"This place can't be real!" Sanji gritted his teeth in anger.

What the Strawhat crew were seeing was a very familiar atmosphere. They appeared to be on a strange road, with blocks floating in the air, and green pipes sticking out from the ground. Not to mention that some of the objects have happy faces, and endless pits here and there. There was only one place the Strawhat's remember about this place, and that was…

"The Mushroom Kingdom? We're back here?" Robin asked.

"That's not possible! We were just in Obscurum! What happened!" Franky asked, looking frustrated while looking at his surroundings.

"There is nothing to be surprised about, my dear friends." Obscumentio said as he gently landed on his feet several feet in front of the crew, with the Obscurum core also floating up high in the sky behind him as well.

"You… why did you bring us here!" Luffy asked furiously.

"Ah, but I didn't take you anywhere. This is just an illusion made by me, of course." Obscumentio said with a giggle, "I decided to take you down to memory lane, where you will see every single thing you've encountered throughout your journey, before I turn it into my own vision. Take a good look at this marvelous place before you; you'll never see it the same way again! Ah ha ha ha ha!"

"Bastard! I won't let you change anything!" Luffy yelled before leaping towards Obscumentio straight afterwards, "GOMU GOMU NO RIFLE!" Luffy stretched his twisted his arm forward, but Obscumentio swapped it away with his right hand, and flicked Luffy down to the ground with his other hand. "Ugh!" Luffy crashed into the ground hard, and tumbled back roughly until Chopper and Franky caught him before falling on their backs as well.

"Ah ha ha ha! This is so exciting! I just have to show you a preview now!" Obscumentio laughed. And with a flick of his finger, the clouds were covering up the sky, and a big thunderstorm was unleashed. Zoro was furious, and unleashed a spiral cutting wave towards Obscumentio's direction, but Obscumentio laughed as he stopped the wave effortlessly with the palm of his hand.

"If you think you can mess with our heads with this, you're wrong!" Zoro yelled while charging towards Obscumentio, who tried hitting Zoro with a vertical kick, but ended up missing as Zoro got underneath the jester, and leaped at him from below, "HYOU KINDAMA!" Zoro spins his body with his swords extended, attempting to cut through Obscumentio's body from below, but the jester jumped back, and did a handstand. Zoro gasped as Obscumentio turned his head 180 degrees, and laughed as he swunged his legs in a circular motion at Zoro while still doing the handstand.

"DOSCIENTOS FLEUR!" Robin quickly sprouted multiple arms from the ground to form one big arm that caught one of Obscumentio's legs from behind, stopping the circular motion as she saved Zoro in the process.

"Nngh!" To Robin's surprise, Obsucumentio's legs' were slowly fazing through her giant sprouted arm. Zoro quickly realized this, and ran up Robin's sprouted arm, and leaped from it to high above Obscumentio's body. Instantly after Zoro was in the air, Obscumentio legs fazed through Robin's giant arm, and spinned his legs repeatedly while hitting the sprouted arm multiple times like a whip. Despite the pain, Robin held on, as Sanji then came to her aid.

"You shitty clown! You're pissing me off!" Sanji yelled before leaping towards Obscumentio's optimistic face, "SHISHIGAMI SHOOT!" With a deadly flying kick directly into Obscumentio's forehead, Obscumentio slowed down his spinning momentum, giving Robin the only chance to move her sprouted arm underneath Obscumentio's legs, as she yanked him off his handstand by pulling his attire back with all her strength, pulling the jester off the ground by several feet. Just before Obscumentio was flipped right-side up, Sanji quickly jumped on the jester's horns, and jumped directly towards Zoro in midair as Obscumentio was beginning to fall back towards the ground. "Don't miss! ARMY DE L'AIR POWER SHOOT!"

Zoro balanced on Sanji's leg before he swung him towards Obscumentio with it. Zoro soured through the air as he sheathed two of his swords, while holding only one sword with his left hand. He gripped tightly on his left wrist using his right hand, as blue flames taking form a dragon appeared, and followed Zoro from behind.

"HIRYU KAEN!" Zoro flew through Obscumentio's body with a powerful slash of his blade, leaving a big cut on the jester's chest as the flaming dragon following Zoro rammed into Obscumentio's cut, setting the wound ablazed soon afterwards. Obscumentio was expressionless upon getting hit, until he then smirked mischievously.

"Ha ha ha ha ha ha!" Obscumentio ignored the flames on his chest, as he quickly pointed at Sanji while he was still in midair. Sanji gasped as Obscumentio did something from his fingertip to make Sanji disappear.

"Sanji!" Nami gasped.

"Ugh!" Zoro gasped as well as Sanji suddenly appeared right in his way while still in midair, "The hell! How'd you get here!"

"Don't ask me! I don't know what happened either! Grgh!" Sanji grunted as Zoro couldn't stop himself in the air, and crashed into Sanji while falling down to the ground. They both grunted in pain, but Sanji gasped upon seeing Obscumentio turning towards them. Zoro glanced over his shoulder as he and Sanji were shocked upon seeing Obscumentio's right fist heading right at them. Before they could even scream, Obscumentio punched him hard into the ground, creating a dust cloud that was a size of a building shortly afterwards.

"Zoro! Sanji!" Chopper gasped in fear. Usopp wasted no time, and aimed at Obscumentio from his side before he could pull his hand back from the ground.

"I won't let you get away! HISSATSU YUUDACHI BOSHI!" Usopp fired a shower of explosive pellets at Obscumentio's open left side.

"Oh?" Obscumentio looked at the incoming pellets, and closed his eyes cockingly, "I don't think so." Suddenly, the happy faces on the blocks and objects turned angry, and shot square projectiles from their mouths towards Usopp's pellets. All the projectiles had excellent accuracy as all of the pellets were being shot down in a matter of seconds.

"Grr! I won't stop!" Usopp yelled as he continued to fire more pellets, but to no prevail. Obscumentio grew tired of this, and made a huge leap into the air. He flew so far up, that the crew could barely see him. Usopp stopped firing, and also looked up like everyone else.

"Where did he go!" Franky asked. Nami's eyes perked, and could see Obscumentio began to fall down towards the ground. The big problem was, that he was going to fall ontop of the crew, as Obscumentio's has eyes set on them with a big target icon around them.

"Move out! He's coming!" Nami yelled as she, and the crew ran as far away as they could, with Franky carrying the nearly conscious Luffy on his shoulder in the process. Obscumentio then made a very hard landing that shook the entire illusionistic land of the Mushroom Kingdom. "Gaaaaghhh!" The crew lost their footing not only from the big tremor, but also from the land being torn to rubble. The impact was strong enough to destroy the entire landscape, including the territory over the horizons. The dark clouds then unleashed some lightning bolts towards the surface, damaging it even further as the Strawhat crew slowly got back up, seeing the destruction that leap caused while Obscumentio just laughed.

"You see? The Mushroom Kingdom is no longer familiar to your eyes. And the best part, is that I'm not even finished yet! Ah ha ha ha ha!" Obscumentio laughed maniacally.

Luffy regained from the blow he got earlier, and looked stunned upon seeing the destruction before him. Even though it was just an illusion, it really ticked him off. "BAAAASSTTTAAAAAAAAR RRDDDDDD!" Luffy charged at Obscumentio head on like before, but Obscumentio didn't do anything to defend himself.

At that moment, Zoro, and Sanji appeared from the area they were punched into, and appeared with serious injuries. They began from walking out of the big dust cloud from before, to running with blinding speed as they leaped towards Obscumentio's back. Luffy, Zoro, and Sanji yelled in fury as they unleashed their heavy attacks onto Obscumentio from both sides, but the jester quickly blocked them with both palms without even moving out of place. Luffy, Zoro, and Sanji were repelled back a bit as Obscumentio then raised his left hand to the side, hitting a random block floating next to him as a fire flower popped up from the block.

"What is that?" Robin asked.

Obscumentio then touched the fire flower with his finger, causing it to disappear as Obscumentio side-stepped, and faced towards the trio before releasing a stream of dark lasers from his fingertips, with a stream of fire spiralling around the lasers in the process.

"Yaaaahhh!" Luffy, Zoro, and Sanji tried to get away with the lasers being hot on their tails. The dark blazing lasers were eradicating even more of the landscape; It was too much for the place to withstand.

"I'll save you guys!" Chopper cried as he turned into his walk point, and galloped towards his comrades' aid, while the others tried to figure out what to do.

"He's too powerful! We can't stop him like this!" Usopp yelled, until he then realized something, "Hey, wait! Do you guys remembered when Mario got a mushroom from those kind of blocks the other day!"

The others looked at him, as Franky caught on what Usopp had in mind, "I get it! We'll find a mushroom to get ourselves big, and get even with that clown!"

"I'll look for it!" Robin exclaimed as she then sprouted arms from every single random block in the area, and started hitting them repeatedly. None of them seemed to have the mushroom, until one of them finally released one as it fell off the block, and moved along the ground.

"I'll get it!" Usopp yelled as he dashed for the mushroom. Obscumentio was still attacking Luffy, Zoro, Sanji, and Chopper with his lasers, but soon stopped as he smirked, and coursed the lasers towards Usopp's direction. "Huh!"

"Look out, Longnose!" Franky yelled as he launched his right arm, and pulled Usopp back from his clothing, saving him from the lasers before they could fry him. Dimentio stopped shooting his lasers, and leaned forward to grab the mushroom with his right hand, which made the crew gasp as Obscumentio's hand grew two times bigger than it originally was before. The hand was now almost as big as Obscumentio's body as well.

"Ho ho ho! Thank you very much." Obscumentio thanked for the mushroom as the crew glared at him, "Now I can finish my little preview with this!" Obscumentio then made one small leap in the air as everyone watched on with a horrified look on their faces as the jester raised his gigantic right hand against his right side. "Hiiyyaaaa!" Obscumentio then planted his fist into the ground, creating a destructive shockwave that destroyed the landscape even more. The Strawhat crew tried to best to stay on their feet, until they suddenly saw magma being shot up from the ground around them in a distance.

"Impossible…" Nami said with a stunned expression, "Is his power this destructive?"

The lava reached high up into the air as it was forming a wave around Obscumentio and the Strawhat pirates. It was impossible to avoid this, as Obscumentio was laughing at the chaos he inflicted upon the illusionary world. "Ah ha ha ha! THIS IS IT! This was my preview of the Mushroom Kingdom! I hoped you enjoyed it!"

The crew looked helplessly as the lava that was about to destroy them, but they didn't give up hope as they charged at Obscumentio head once again. "You won't get away with this! Never!" Luffy yelled as he leaped towards Obscumentio right before the lava was about to fall on them both.

"And… Intermission time!" Obscumentio yelled, causing the Obscurum core in the sky turned purple again to darken the Strawhats' surroundings once again. The core turned blue again as The illusionary world of the Mushroom Kingdom was gone, including the lava that nearly killed the crew. Obscumentio's hand returned to it's original size as he floated back into the air, while the crew were shocked at the sudden change in scenario.

"Everything is dark again!" Nami exclaimed in shock. The Strawhats didn't had much to say, considering that they were troubled by what they just experienced moments ago.

"The Mushroom Kingdom was destroyed so easily… we couldn't do anything to save it." Chopper said sadly.

"Don't get frustrated; that wasn't the real place!" Zoro stated before glaring up at Obscumentio, "That guy plans to destroy us mentally, so whatever happens next, don't let him get into your heads, or we're all done fore!"

"Aw, trying to ignore change, are you?" Obscumentio asked from above, "It's no use; you can try to avoid my way of changes as much as you like," Obscumentio then whispered, "The important thing is that you won't be able to stop any of it. Hmm hmm hmm hmm hmm! Time for scenario number two!"

Multiple white cracks formed on the dark surroundings again as the Strawhats watched Dimentio pull his hands up against his chest, and swung them up to his sides, causing the dark atmosphere to shatter like glass for the second time. The dark shards disappeared like before, as the Strawhat crew took a look at their new surroundings.

"Hyrule…" Robin said upon observation.

The Strawhat were now in another illusion that looks exactly like Hyrule fields. They were standing in the middle of a large valley, west of the Hyrule castle in the center of Hyrule fields. The Strawhat pirates could see the skies were covered in clouds darker than the ones they saw previously in the fake Mushroom Kingdom, and far off over the horizons where the clouds didn't reach, the skies were in twilight instead of blue.

"Remember, none of this is real." Nami reminded her comrades.

"I can't say that for sure." Obscumentio said from afar as he gently floated down towards the field, and playfully sat on the south gate of the bridge of eldin, looking at the dark atmosphere with a pleasant look on his face, "Everything you see and feel is real no matter how you look at it. Even if it's not the same place, it's still Hyrule in your treasured memories."

"This place is still not Hyrule!" Luffy yelled, "And even if it's fake, I won't let you destroy this place just like you did to the fake Mushroom Kingdom!"

"I beg to differ. Hmm hmm hmm!" Obscumentio then floated up from the gate, did a slow loop before flying towards the crew like a missile, "AH HAAA!"

The Strawhat lowered themselves, and jumped out of the way as Obscumentio flew over them with great speed, creating a strong gust that blew the crew away from each other in the process. "Ah!" Nami grunted while tumbling onto her knees, as she then saw Obscumentio turning around, and flew straight towards her. "Tsk! Like I'll run away!" Nami readied her PCT, and ran towards Obscumentio's direction, "FIRE SPEAR TEMPO!" Nami created a blazing tip from the end of her staff, as she then dropped down to her knees, avoiding Obscumentio's dive as countered by piercing her blazing staff into the jesters chest, slashing him across his body while flying over her.

"Heh heh heh!" Obscumentio laughed as his dark energy sealed up his wounds, and swallowed the fire on him as he then stopped in midair, and landed hard on his feet, creating a circular shockwave that spreads across the west plains. The shockwave was just air, so it didn't do much damage to the Strawhats other than knocking their balance off a bit, as Usopp quickly aimed at Obscumentio after the moment he landed.

"ATLAS SUISEI!" Usopp fired four explosive pellets simultaneously that converged while getting close to Obscumentio's face, but Obscumentio blocked them effortlessly as the pellets exploded onto his right palm. "Go, Chopper!" Immediately after that happened, Chopper rushed towards him in his horn point, and rammed his head into Obscumentio's left ankle, piercing his antlers into the jester's leg as well.

Obscumentio chuckled as he then went to grab Chopper with his left hand, but Chopper transformed into his jumping point while crouching down in the process, "KOKUTEI SPADE!"

Chopper leaped towards Obscumentio's palm, as he quickly turned into his arm point, and thrusts his left hoove directly in the center of Obscumentio's left palm, with petals spewing out from the back of his hand afterwards. "Oh?" The thrust was strong enough to push Obscumentio's hand towards the side, leaving his body wide open for an attack.

"Gotcha this time!" While leaping towards Obscumentio from afar, Franky turned his back on him while connecting his hands to his tube, "COUP DE BARGE!" Franky released the air from his tube, rocketing himself directly towards Obscumentio's gut head on. Obscumentio seemed like he was worried, but quickly smiled.

"I'm afraid not." Obscumentio said as he recovered his guard much quicker than the crew anticipated. Franky frowned, but then gasped as Obscumentio suddenly pierced his fingers into his own body, and pulled it apart, making a big hole in the center of his body, completely shocking the crew in the process.

"What! Is that even possible!" Franky gasped as he flew through Obscumentio's hole much to his dismay, "Dammit! This guy is full of dirty tricks!"

"No tricks…" Obscumentio said as his body returned to normal. He then backslapped Chopper away while he was still close, and then shot a projectile at Usopp, who leaped to the side to avoid, but was blown away from the explosion of the projectile. The two cried in pain as Obscumentio then did a backflip, heading towards Franky in the process, "It's magic!" Obscumentio laughed as Franky could only watch in fear as Obscumentio's legs were about to slam him in midair.

"CIEN FLEUR!" Suddenly, a hundred of arms sprouted in one area below Franky as they took form of a giant tree that caught Franky in the air, and also binds Obscumentio's legs in place, "BIG TREE!"

Obscumentio looked surprised as he nearly forgot about Robin's ability during the battle. Robin managed to save Franky in time as some of the arms gently placed Franky back on the ground, but catching Obscumentio in the middle of his flip made her felt a little dazed. "Luffy… hurry!"

"Right!" Luffy yelled as he then rushed at Obscumentio while his body was falling towards the ground while his legs were still binded in place, "GOMU GOMU NO…" Obscumentio turned his head towards Luffy, and gasped as it was too late to do any defense maneuvers. "DOUBLE RIFLE!"

Luffy threw his twisted arms forward, hitting Obscumentio directly into his eyes. "Agh!" Obscumentio cried as Luffy untwisted his arms, drilling Obscumentio's eyes to further the damage as the jester's eyes bled shortly afterwards. "Nghahh…"

"BIG WHIP!" Robin then controlled her sprouted arms to flip Obscumentio overhead before slamming him hard on the ground behind them. Obscumentio looked unconscious as the arms then flipped him off the ground again, only they tossed him across the plain instead.

"Ngh.. my turn." Zoro said, still feeling groggy from his injuries he received before as he gripped tightly on his swords before dashing towards Obscumentio, who soured uncontrollably towards him. "SANTORYU…" Zoro leaped towards Obscumentio head on, "KARASUMA-!"

Zoro's eyes widened as when he could see Obscumentio's face, he saw that the jester was smiling with all of his injuries on him gone, "Ah ha ha ha! Fooled again!" Obscumentio laughed as his body became transperant as Zoro went through his body without slashing him. Zoro landed on the ground, and turned back to see Obscumentio slowly fading into thin air the moment he landed.

"He disappeared!" Sanji gasped as he and his comrades looked at their surroundings, "Dammit, where did he go!"

As they searched, Nami's eyes widened in shock. "What the! Guys, be careful! There is going to be another storm, and it's going to be bigger than the last one!"

"What! J-Just how big is it!" Usopp asked while helping Chopper up on his feet.

And at that moment, the dark clouds unleashed a dreadful thunderstorm, as lightning bolts were being shot down all over the west plain where the crew was.

"Whoaa! Watch out!" Franky yelled as the Strawhats did their best to avoid the lightning, but it was nearly impossible even for them. They all helped each other to stay safe as well, as Luffy wrapped his arms around Zoro, Usopp, Chopper, and Franky, and ran around the plains while carrying them, even though they can just run for themselves. Sanji sticked with Nami and Robin, protecting them from any danger as Nami then came up with an idea.

"I hope this works!" Nami said as she then pointed her PCT in the air, "DARK CLOUDY TEMPO!" Nami released a condensed cloud much bigger than she usually makes from her staff as the cloud began to float up high up in the air, and it was so thick, that it was used as a magnet to suck in all the lightning bolts that were being shot down from the clouds above. The crew calmed themselves upon seeing this.

"You did it, Nami! You saved us!" Chopper exclaimed before Luffy dropped him, and the others he was carrying on the ground.

"Alright! Way to go, Nami-san!" Sanji exclaimed proudly.

"Ha ha.. I am little surprised that it actually worked." Nami said while laughing weakly, but suddenly looked surprised, "No, wait!"

Suddenly, a multitude of twisters were being formed around the plains. They were strong enough to demolish the forest on the mountains nearby, not to mention the landscape was getting heavily damaged itself. The Hyrule fields were literally being blown away, as the Strawhats were desperately trying not to get caught by the winds.

"Urgh! How can that clown find any of this funny!" Franky yelled while covering his face with his arms from the heavy wind.

"Ahhh!" Luffy cried as the wind suddenly blew him off his feet.

"Luffy!" Robin gasped as she quickly sprouted several arms from the ground, and caught Luffy before he was pulled into one of the twisters. Inspite of this, Luffy's body was stretching back from the force of the wind, but Robin wasn't going to allow her captain to be blown away as she held on to him as hard as she could. The crew were stuck as if they were to move from several feet away from where they stood, the twisters were to blow them off their feet in an instant.

"Things couldn't get any worse!" Usopp panicked. The Strawhats then heard a loud tremor coming from a distance, "Aw, now what!"

The Strawhats turned to where the tremor was coming from, and just when things couldn't get any worse, it did. "Hyrule castle!" Zoro gasped as he and the crew could see that there was an earthquake going on where the Hyrule castle was located, including the town in front of it.

"Zelda-swans castle… damn that clown, he is going way too far!" Sanji growled.

The Strawhats watched as the castle was being taken down by the earthquake. The town itself didn't last, as it was destroyed several seconds after the earthquake commenced. The castle gates were falling apart, and the garden was now a big mess. The towers that were connected around the castle were falling apart as well, as some of them crashed around eachother, while the rest fell into the bottomless gaps nearby. What the crew found very strange from all this, was that the castle itself was still intact.

As it turned out, the castle was part of the reason there was an earthquake, as it was actually being raised from out of the ground. Usopp, Chopper, and Franky's jaws dropped down towards the floor as the Strawhats were utterly flabbergasted at what they are seeing. They remained watching as the castle was being raised way up high towards the sky, and to more of the crew's dismay, they saw that Obscumentio was holding up the massive castle from below like it was nothing.

"Ha ha ha! I'm curious how you'll get out of this!" Obscumentio said, "Catch this, if you can!" And with that said, Obscumentio threw the Hyrule castle directly towards the crew, as the castle itself was falling apart while it soured threw the air, but was still big enough to crush the crew from where they stood.

"THIS IS INSANE!" Usopp exclaimed as he bursted into tears, "WE'RE GOING TO DIE IF WE DON'T DO SOMETHING!"

Nami thought quickly; she desperately looked at her surroundings to find out what to do. The twisters wouldn't allow her and her comrades to move from where they stood, and and it was only a matter of seconds before the castle would crush them for good. "Wait a minute!" Nami remembered about the cloud she made to absorb the lightning bolts from before. The castle was coming in fast, as Nami quickly bended her PCT into a triangle. "Zoro! Franky! I need you to shoot my clima tact towards the castle! It's our only chance to survive from this!"

Zoro and Franky glanced at Nami in confusion before they later nodded at her in agreement. Franky quickly refueled himself with new bottles of cola, and connected his hands into his tube again, while Zoro held his swords horizontally over his right shoulder. The two faced towards the incoming castle without fear, while Nami stood behind them, ready to throw her PCT without hesitation.

"Hiyaaaaa!" Nami threw her triangle-shaped staff pass her comrades, and towards the hyrule castle as it was now Zoro and Franky's turn to strike.

"HYAKU-HACHI POUNDOU HOU!"

"COUP DE VENT!"

Franky fired a massive current of air from his tube at the same time Zoro unleashed a circular cutting wave from his blades. The cutting waves spiraled around the current as it then struck Nami's staff from behind, causing it to spin, and move faster into the castle until it then released an electric charge.

"This better work!" Nami exclaimed, "STORM LANCE TEMPO!"

All of the lightning gathered into Nami's gigantic cloud was suddenly shot down towards where Nami's staff is heading, and struck the castle with fierce power upon doing so. Thanks to the pressure of Zoro and Franky's attacks, it helped the staff propel through several rooms and hallways in the interior of the castle, coursing the giant lightning bolt following behind as they demolished through every single thing in sight. The staff finally made it through the castle, with the bolt doing the same afterwards as the destruction in the interior of the castle, caused the outside to fall apart into chunks of rubble. The Hyrule castle was destroyed, as nothing but rubble rained down across the west plains.

"Yah!" Zoro, Sanji, and Franky destroyed the rubble that were heading towards them, and their comrades way, as the remaining pieces of Hyrule castle scattered across the plains. At that time, Robin successfully pulled Luffy back down on the floor as they then witnessed the destruction before them. Luffy could see that, inspite of saving themselves, Nami and the others were distraught for what they have done to the landmark of Hyrule, even though it wasn't the real thing.

Luffy was furious again as Obscumentio teleports in front of him, and his crew, and sat down on big chunk of rubble behind.

"Ah ha ha ha! Oh, what irony!" Obscumentio laughed while wiping a tear from his eye, "After all that fuss of protecting this fake land, you ended up destroying this place far more easier than you have done saving the real one. Judging by the looks on your faces, I'd say your character has developed into a sorrowful state. That's perfect; a show cannot be exciting without a little drama from your part!"

"SHUUTTTTT UUUUUPPPPPPP!" Luffy yelled as he dashed towards Obscumentio. Obscumentio winked, and flew up high in the air as Obscurum's core glowed purple before turning everything dark again. Luffy stopped, and looked at his dark surroundings in frustration, "Not again!"

The crew were still silent from what they just did, but they slowly regained composure as they have not given up yet. "Time for part III to commence!" Obscumentio exclaimed proudly as the Obscurum turned blue again, forming white cracks all around the dark surroundings like previous times. The darkness then shattered like glass, and the shards disappeared into thin air, as the Strawhat crew were now in a middle of a familiar-looking stadium.

"We're back in the Pokemon Stadium." Chopper panted.

The Strawhats were back in the Pokemon Stadium in Indigo Plataeu, where Giovanni's tournament took place long ago. Everything looked normal to the Strawhats, with the exception of the sky being purple, and the water around the land was black. Obscumentio gently landed behind the Strawhat's in the arena floor, as he lets out a pleasant sigh.

"Why, this is so nostalgic." Obscumentio said, placing his hand up against his chest, "Now this world is the place where I will always treasure in my heart. Do you not remember this place, my friends? This is the world where we first met. Oh, such wonderful memories; do you not wish to relive that moment, where your misguided feelings towards me weren't in the way of our friendship?"

The crew turned towards Obscumentio with a glare, except for Luffy, who clenched his fist in anger as he turned, and dashed towards Obscumentio without even replying anything to him, "GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!" Luffy leaped forward, and attack Obscumentio with rapid barrage of punches. Obscumentio smirked as he was dodging so fast, it looked like Luffy's fists were just going through him as if he was a ghost. Frustrated, Luffy stopped attacking, and stretched his arm up to grab one of Obscumentio's horns, "GOMU GOMU NO KAMA!" Luffy rocketed towards Obscumentio's face with an attempt to clothesline him, but the jester moved his head back, avoiding Luffy as he propelled up towards the air instead.

"Grr! GOMU GOMU NO YARI!" Luffy looked down in midair, and stretched both of his legs at Obscumentio's head, but missed as Obscumentio avoided by weaving his body to the side, but Luffy didn't stop as he stretched his right arm towards his side, and swung it towards Obscumentio's head horizontally.

"Don't forget about me!" Sanji growled as he ran, and jumped off from the arena wall next to Obscumentio, and flew up towards Obscumentio's blind side with a flying kick, but Obscumentio saw this coming, and raised his pinky as it blocked Luffy's incoming arm.

"Huh!" Luffy gasped as his arm automatically wrapped around Obscumntio's pinky. Obscumentio giggled as he swunged his hand towards his back, whipping Luffy directly into the stadiums seating area. "Guah!" Luffy crashed through one of the seating aisles, ending up in the stadium hallways afterwards.

"JOUE SHOT!" Sanji flipped upside down in midair, and threw an upside-down kick towards Obscumentio, but just missed as Obscumentio moved his head to the side before setting his gaze on Sanji, "Tcheh!" Sanji gasped in pain as Obscumentio delivered a heabutt directly into the chef's body, sending him crashing onto the seating area as well.

"Sanji!" Usopp cried before he started firing several explosive pellets at Obscumentio when he wasn't looking. Like previous times, Obscumentio avoided the small pellets by simply taking several sidesteps to his left, until he bumped into the seating area next to him.

"Got you now! WEAPONS LEFT!" Franky fired multiple bullets at Obscumentio the moment he stopped moving sideways, but unfortunately, instead of dodging, Obscumentio countered with a fierce wave of his hand, creating a strong gust that blew Usopp's explosive pellets, and Franky's bullets back towards them. "Whoops! HOSHI SHIELD!" Franky quickly raised his left arm, which expanded into a shield as he blocked his own bullets. Usopp didn't had anything to protect himself from the rain of bullets, so he scurried behind Franky to protect from any damage. Zoro protected Nami, Chopper, and Robin by slicing each pellet and bullet that came towards their way, and as soon it stopped, Zoro instantly dashed towards Obscumentio's legs.

"ONI GIRI!" Zoro held his swords across his chest, and slashed at Obscumentio when he was close, but Obscumentio just barely avoided the slash as he backflipped onto the seating area at the other end of the stadium behind him.

"Behold the tiny fragment of my power! Fear it as if you were elephants spotting a mouse beneath your feet!" Obscumentio exclaimed as he placed his palms close to each other, and formed a dark orb, with smaller dark orbs circling around it.

Zoro knew something big was about happen, and instantly rushed towards Obscumentio onto the seating area, and leaped towards the orb between the jester's palms with a slash, but the orb deflected Zoro's attack easily, and bounced him off the seating area with ease, "Guoh!"

"Ahh! Zoro!" Chopper cried before he charged towards Obscumentio, but he was too far to reach in time. Usopp and Franky wasted no time as well, as they began firing at Obscumentio's orb from a far distance, but the projectiles were easily deflected as soon as they made contact towards the target.

The crew were desperately trying to stop Obscumentio, but it seemed hopeless as the jester laughed at them, "Ah ha ha ha! It's too late! I've already had my surprise ready right before you even tried to ruin it! You're just going to have to-"

"CIEN FLEUR!" Robin crossed her limbs as the seating area below Obscumentio began to tremble, "DOS MANOS!" Suddenly, to gigantic arms bursted through the seating area, and pulled Obscumentio through the stands by his attire.

"Whoaa!" Obscumentio gasped as his lower body was sunk into the stands, with only his upper body sticking out. The two big arms wrapped himself around Obscumentio to prevent him from moving, giving the crew the chance to strike.

"Sanji, get up! I need your help!" Chopper yelled at Sanji from the stands while galloping towards Obscumentio. Sanji rubbed his head as soon as he got up, and noticed the jester was vulnerable. Seeing the orb between his hands, Sanji already knew what to do.

"Okay! I know what to do!" Sanji said before he dashed towards Obscumentio on the stands. Zoro got back on his feet after his failed attempt to destroy the orb, as Chopper galloped past him, and leaped onto the stands. He then turned into his arm point, as he and Sanji then ran towards the palms facing in their direction. "CHOSAN OUVRIER CROSS!" Sanji and Chopper diagonally leaped across each other, leaving a yellow and pink trail that left an 'X' cross behind, as they both attack Obscumentio's palms with a powerful kick and hoove combination.

"Ouch!" The double attack seperated his hands from the orb as Zoro then rushed at it while Obscumentio wasn't holding it.

"NIGORI ZAKE!" Zoro horizontally slashed his swords across the orb, hitting it like a baseball as it nearly struck into Obscumentio's face if the jester hadn't arched his head backwards to avoid as it flew by.

"Oh my! That was really dangerous!" Obscumentio scolded as he faced back towards the crew, but all of sudden. the seating aisle in front of him were forming cracks, "Huh!"

"Huuuuraaaaaghhh!" The aisle then bursts into flying rubble, as Luffy could be seen running up Obscumentio's body while stretching his arms back, "GOMU GOMU NO BAZOOKA!" Luffy thrusts his arms up directly into Obscumentio's chin at full force. Obscumentio grunted in pain as he ended up looking at the purple sky from the force of the blow. Luffy then jumped away from Obscumentio's body, and stretched his arm back to attack again, but then saw Obscumentio raising his hand back, "Wha?"

Since Obscumentio didn't had any arms, his left hand flew far away from his body with great speed, and to the crew's shock, he caught the dark orb Zoro blew away earlier.

"Oh no! We're in trouble!" Nami gasped as she, and the crew were really worried, except for Luffy, who didn't even know what Obscumentio caught.

"As I was saying…" Obscumentio said before his hand came back with the orb, and smacked away Luffy, Zoro, Sanji, and Chopper with it. The four cried in pain as they tumbled back across the arena floor, where the rest of their comrades went to see if they were alright, while Obscumentio regained his composure, and passed the orb onto his right hand. "Now that you're all in one place, you'll get to see the outstanding visuals of a slightly bigger demonstration of my power!"

"Run for it!" Usopp panicked as he and the crew separated, while Obscumentio raised the dark orb over his right shoulder, anxiously to use it already.

"And now… I'll turn this lovely town into dust!" Obscumentio laughed maniacally as he then thrusts the orb forward, which released a massive sized black, and purple layered beam that destroyed the arena floor, including the seating area, and the stadium wall behind them. The beam increased in size as it destroyed everything in it's path; obliterating plazas, buildings, parks, and the majority of Indigo Plateau. The beam even made it's way past the docking bay, and flew across the ocean floor, splitting the water apart from each other as the beam then the beam thinned away into thin air before going countless of kilometers over the horizon, destroying who-knows-how much more land beyond it.

Obscumentio leaped through the gap of stadium wall he destroyed, and shaded the light from his eyes with his hand, as he was actually astonished for the power he unleashed in one of the famous towns of the pokemon world. The jester smiled with glee, as he couldn't help, but to feel proud of himself.

"Oh ho ho ho! I didn't think I'd do this much damage! I am so powerful, that I can even surprise myself sometimes! Ah ha ha!" Obscumentio laughed before he sighed, "But still, it tears me to pieces seeing my favorite world being changed for the better; I kinda liked it the way it normally was. -sigh-… oh well, it's not like guilt is enough to kill me! Ha ha ha ha!" Obscumentio then lowered his head, and looked at the ground around him, "Now where did my widdle fwends go? I'm positive that they are still around here."

Obscumentio searched low for the Strawhats, "Luffy-saaaaaann. Where aaarrrrre yooouuu?" The jester asked before giggling. He then got confused, and stood up to suddenly a stretched arm holding onto a flagpole on a stadium wall that was still intact. "Hoh? If that's there, then what lies at the other end is certainly where… !" Obscumentio realized that the arm was stretching from over behind his shoulder. Obscumentio quickly turned around, and saw Luffy was rocketing towards him, with all of his male comrades hanging tight around his body.

"GOMO GOMU NO ROCKET KANE!" Luffy crashed into Obscumentio with a deadly headbutt hitting the jester between the eyes. Obscumentio cried in pain as the sudden hit staggered him back multiple steps.

From outside the stadium, Robin was watching everything from an eye she sprouted inside the stadium wall, as she then helped the men by sprouting a long row of limbs around her comrades, and Obscumentio, "DOSCIENTOS FLEUR, DELPHINIUM!" The arms grabbed Luffy around the waist, and helped move forward across the air. The men hanging onto Luffy then jumped as Luffy caught Chopper and Franky from the back of their fur and shirt with his left hand, while he caught Zoro and Sanji by the back of their attire with his right hand. Usopp remained on Luffy's back with his legs around his captain's waist, while aiming at Obscumentio with his slingshot at the same time.

The arms moved Luffy towards the jester, as Luffy then stretched his arms back while holding onto his crew, "241,000,000 BERRI JUGGLE!" Luffy swings his arms forward, throwing Zoro, Sanji, Chopper, and Franky directly towards Obscumentio, and delivered their charged attacks directly into the jester's chest.

"Aaaahhhhh!" Obscumentio was hit hard as he staggered, and crashed through the stadium wall, which was the only thing supporting what's left of the stadium as the building then collapses soon afterwards. Luffy kept his arms stretched, and caught their men by the back of their clothes (fur for Chopper), as Obscumentio tried to regain his balance, but suddenly slipping back, "What!"

"ICE TEMPO: ICY FLOOR!" During the attack, Nami created a path of ice behind the stadium, giving Obscumentio trouble to recover his composure as he kept slipping back.

"Ah! This won't be enough-Ahhh!" Obscumentio gasped as an explosive pellet exploded onto his vision.

"I won't let you fight back!" Usopp proclaimed while getting more ammo from his bag, "You keep going, Luffy! Don't stop, even if we don't succeed!"

"Yosh! Take this!" Luffy yelled as he continued his attack by throwing his comrades towards Obscumentio, only this time, he was throwing them one by one. With his arms still stretched, Luffy tossed Chopper in his arm point towards Obscumentio, as Chopper thrusts his hooves into the jester's chest. Obscumentio staggered back even further as Chopper fell, while Luffy then threw Sanji at the jester so he could kick him, while Luffy caught Chopper from falling with his left hand. Luffy then threw Franky with his left, as the cyborg hits Obscumentio with his steel fist, while Luffy caught Sanji from hitting the ground with his right, and then threw Zoro with his right so he could attack before catching Franky with his left.

Luffy was practically juggling his crew at Obscumentio in a way, as Robin's sprouted arms helped move Luffy faster through the air, while Obscumentio couldn't do anything to counter as he couldn't retain the balance due to the slippery floor, and the explosive shots Usopp keeps shooting at him in his eyes.

Whether Obscumentio was just toying with the crew or not, Luffy kept repeating his attack procedure over and over, until Obscumentio completely slipped, and skidded back across the floor on his neck before he stopped on the beach near the ocean floor. The sprouted then disappeared as Luffy landed on the beach as well with his crew, and noticed that Obscumentio was shaking.

"Woooo! Woo ah ha ha ha ha ha ha ha!" Obscumentio laughed insanely, despite the treatment he just received, as he was too happy to even get up, "Oooohh dear… that was completely unexpected! I didn't think you had the energy to do that!" Obscumentio kept laughing, angering Luffy as he ran and jumped onto Obscumentio's chest at the same time Nami and Robin regrouped with the guys. Luffy then stretched his arms again, and wrapped them multiple times around Obscumentio's neck, and began choking the jester, causing the jester to finally stop laughing. "Guoh!"

"I'm going to break you!" Luffy snarled.

"Ohh.. guh! As if you actually have the time to do that, when instead, you should be looking at the wonderful scenery I made behind you! Ha ha-gugh!" Obscumentio gasped as Luffy squeezed his neck tighter.

"I don't care what you did; this place isn't real! It doesn't matter to me!" Luffy yelled, but his face looked somewhat frustrated.

"I reeeaaally think you should turn around. Heh heh heh!" Obscumentio chuckled.

"Luffy, he's right! Look!" Nami exclaimed as she, and the others were already seeing something that made them really nervous. Luffy finally turns around, and then saw a humongous tidal wave that could level the entire town.

"Wh-Where did that come from!" Franky asked.

"It may be a wild guess, but that beam must have went so far, it must have created such a tremor, that created a giant tidal wave." Nami said nervously before she glanced at Obscumentio over her shoulder, "Or it must be one of his tricks again!" Obscumentio only giggled in reply as Nami turned back on the wave, having no ideas on stopping it whatsoever as she was shaking in fear.

"Well I'm not going to let some wave take me down!" Franky yelled as he, Zoro, and Sanji were actually going to confront the wave, despite having any chance of surviving. Luffy wanted to help too, but he didn't wanted Obscumentio to get away from his grasp. Noticing this, Obscumentio sighed before facing his hand towards the wave.

"Perhaps I'm doing a little too much to impress you…" Obscumentio said as the tidal wave was swallowing up the town with great ease, and was about to wipe the crew into the water. The Strawhats screamed until Obscumentio suddenly snapped his fingers, instantly turning the black wave into ice.

Obscumentio smiled as the crew were in complete shock, seeing that all of their surroundings, except for the spot they were standing on, were completely frozen. It was like beginning of an ice age for the destroyed town.

"Even if it's an illusion… it's impossible to not feel anything from this…" Robin said nervously, obviously feeling upset for what just occurred.

"I agree…" Obscumentio said sadly while Luffy was looking at the cold scenery while still having his arms around the jester's neck, "Even as an emperor god, I still feel sad changing the world we first met. It's heartbreaking…" Obscumentio then smiled with glee, "But it's also necessary. Change is part of Mother nature's calling, but now, that is my decision to uphold!"

The obscurum core turned purple as everything turned dark once again. Obscumentio teleports away from Luffy's grasp, causing the captain to fall a bit before hitting the invisible ground below him. Luffy's crew helped him up, as they then looked at the core, which turned blue as white cracks appeared over the dark surroundings again. The darkness then shattered like glass, as the shards then disappeared afterwards, putting the Strawhats into a different world.

"Aaahhhhh!" The Strawhats as they suddenly fell from high up in the sky. As they fell, they noticed that they were in another familiar place, which was the enormous town of Mute City.

"Gah! This is where Captain Falcon lives!" Luffy gasped. He and the crew then fell onto some F-zero vehicles that were racing on a circuit that goes through nearly every part of Mute City. Usopp, and Chopper were hanging onto the vehicles they were on for deal life, while the others took a breather, and somewhat got accustomed in the situation, all except for one person.

"Noooooooooo! I hate these things! Someone help me offhaaughh!" Nami bursts into tears while hanging onto a cockpit of a big, and black vehicle.

"I'm coming, Nami-san! Whoagh!" Sanji exclaimed as he tried jumping vehicle to vehicle, but it proved to be harder than he anticipated due to the great speed the vehicles were in.

"Tsk, tsk, tsk! You should know better than to not put your seat belts on, you naughty children!" Obscumentio laughed, flying beside the vehicles along the circuit while avoiding the big buildings along the way, "I thought we'd spice things up with an aerial show. Remember, the point of a show in the air is to never touch the ground, so…"

Luffy looked over the side of the vehicle he was on, and saw that the main ground of Mute City was engulfed with dark energy, "If anyone falls towards the ground below, you'll never stop falling again! Ah ha ha ha ha ha! Catch me, if you can!" Obscumentio flew away from the circuit, and flew behind several buildings in a distance.

"Why you… !" Luffy growled as he was about to go after the jester, but the vehicle he was on ended up going right from a fork on the road, nearly knocking him off as the vehicle drove him farther away from his target. "Whoaaaa!" Luffy held on as his vehicle drove him into the lower parts of Mute City; passing through several buildings until he was taken into a tunnel near the dark floor.

"Luffy! Gahhh!" Usopp cried as he, and the rest of the crew were getting split up as the vehicles they were on took different routes coursing towards different areas and altitudes of Mute City.

Franky's vehicle drove around the perimeter of the city, racing along the course that was closer to the ground, as the vehicle suddenly took a sharp turn from around a corner of the track. "Tehh! Huh?" Franky managed to hold on, and at a clear view, he could see Obscumentio flying closely against some buildings. "WEAPONS LEFT!" Franky sat on his knees of the cockpit of the vehicle he was on, and fired multiple blasts at Obscumentio from a great distance.

"Hmm?" Obscumentio saw Franky attacking him, as he flew alongside some buildings so that none of Franky's shots could hit him, "Didn't they teach you to never take your eyes off the road?" The jester asked, as he then thrusts his palm into a building next to him, causing the whole structure to slide off from it's spot, and head towards Franky's direction.

"WHOA!" Franky gasped, but the good news for him, was that the building missed him, and ended up going through Franky's track before it collapsed into several pieces. But Franky's troubles were far from over, as now that the track ahead of him was destroyed, there was no other route to take, except for the big fall towards the dark floor below. "Gyaah!"

"CIEN FLEUR!" Watching the incident from on a race track far above, Robin sprouted multiple arms from Franky's destroyed track to form a bridge, filling the gap as Franky's vehicle drove acrossed safely shortly afterwards.

"Phew… thought I was a goner." Franky siged while wiping his brow.

"Franky, look out!" Robin cried while still holding up the bridge.

"Ah ha ha ha ha ha ha!" Obscumentio laughed as Franky turned towards him, and saw that the jester was flying right towards his direction with a maniacal smirk on his face.

"Tsk!" Franky growled as he quickly connected his arms into his tube, and aimed at the demented jester, "Don't even think about it! 1.5 MAX COLA HOU, COUP DE VENT!" Franky fired a massive current of air from his tube, hitting Obscumentio at point blank range as the jester soured backwards across the air shortly afterwards. But since Franky wasn't standing properly, his own attack blew him off from the vehicle he was on, as he fell of his track. "Guaahh!" Franky until he landed hard on a lower race track, which was closer to the dark floor, as Franky instantly got up, and ran along the long track to get back in the battle as quickly as possible. "No way I'm finished with you yet, clown!"

Putting Franky aside for a moment, Obscumentio was souring all away across Mute City. As he did, bits of his dark energy were leaving his body, and were scattering all over town. As that happened, Obscumentio was going to crash through a part of a race track outside of the city's perimeter, as Usopp was on that track, and saw the jester heading his way.

"Geh! Here he comes!" Usopp gasped nervously. He then thought for a second, and grew serious upon looking at the buildings around him. He then aimed at Obscumentio with a fierce look on his face, "This place helped me regain my confidence once before! I won't let you mess around with it!" The elastic band he held with his fingertips then glowed brightly as Usopp then fired, "HISSATSU SOGEKAMA BOSHI!"

Usopp fired the glowing light, which later took form of a statue-like god. Obscumentio raised his head back, and could see the statue-like figure was about to bring his sword down on him. "Oh my…" The jester gasped lightly as the statue-like figure slashed through Obscumentio's body, which then resulted into a big explosion of light that took down every building that was close by. "Oooooh!" Obscumentio cried as he could be seen being blown into the air by the explosion. Light was glowing from the cut he just received as he limplessly flew over the race track Usopp was on, and fell towards the clouds outside of town below.

Usopp's vehicle continued to move along the track as Usopp raised his slingshot in victory, "That's right! Captain Usopp will never fall against the creatures of the dark! Never!" Usopp yelled valiantly. Usopp continued to laugh, as he watched Obscumentio falling towards the clouds, but suddenly, Obscumentio flipped onto his feet, and hovered inches away from the clouds beneath, and smirked as his dark energy swallowed the light from his cut, and it disappeared altogether. "Eh?"

"Why, Usopp, you naughty boy. I must teach you some manners!" Obscumentio laughed as darkness suddenly engulfed his body, "DEMINOVA!" The darkness took form of a giant tip of an arrow, as Obscumentio launched himself with it, and headed directly towards Usopp.

"Ugh… !"

CRAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA AAAAASSSSSSSSSSHHHH HHHHHHH!

Obscumentio rammed through the side of the track, destroying it as most of fell apart. Not only that, but he also went through several buildings here and there, creating one, big line of destruction and darkness. Obscumentio kept going, until he stopped towards the center of Mute City, as he then turned, and laughed at the destruction he just created.

"Usopp!" Chopper cried from afar on his vehicle, which was driving along another race track that took course over the south part of town, along with Zoro with his vehicle as well.

Zoro kept his eyes open, searching where the track was destroyed among the dust clouds that were just formed. His eyes widened, and pointed towards a building, "There he is! He's still safe!"

Back where the tracks were destroyed, Usopp was hanging from an intact building using his grappling hook that came from his belt he took out just before Obscumentio attacked him. He was safe, but he was out of breath to even pull himself up.

"Ooooohh.. that was soo close.. UOOGH!" Suddenly, Usopp was being pulled up by an invisible force. Before he could find out what was going on, he screamed in fear upon seeing thousands of dark orbs stationary in midair, and were growing as time pass. The buildings and rubble that were close to orb were also being pulled up in midair, baffling Usopp even more "What's going on now! What is all this!"

"Ah ha ha ha ha! It appears that I accidently dropped some of my unlimited energy all over town." Obscumentio said with a smile, "Oh, this might be a problem. If this keeps up, they're going to keep growing, and this town will be swallowed up by their void. Not only that, but judging the position you're in, Usopp-kun, I'd say they're also messing up the gravitational fields around themselves." Obscumentio tilted his head sideways, "Well, on the bright side, the chances of falling into the abyss below has gotten slimmer. But on the other hand…"

Some of the buildings that were floating around ended up hitting eachother hard. Usopp saw this, and immediately screamed now seeing the danger he was in. Obscumentio laughed at him, while Zoro and Chopper watched from above.

"D-Did you hear that! We have to save Usopp!" Chopper exclaimed.

"He said those orbs messes up the gravitational force, so… Chopper, follow my league!" Zoro yelled.

"Eh?" Chopper blinked as he watched Zoro hop on to the left side of his vehicle. While holding onto the edge of the rooftop, Zoro pushed his vehicle down to the side with his feet, causing the machine to turn towards the left, and go off track as Zoro and the vehicle he was on flew down towards town. "Gaaahhh! You're crazy!" Chopper exclaimed with his eyes popping out of his sockets. With a gulp, he transformed into his Heavy point, and leaned towards the left with his eyes closed as his vehicle turned left, automatically going off course, and fell down with great speed. "GYAAAAAAAAHHHHH!"

Zoro remained calm as his vehicle fell close to one of the orbs. Once it was close, the vehicle automatically went driving along the messed up gravitational. Zoro moved his vehicle from the top, making sure it would stay close to the orbs as it looked like the vehicle was flying through the air.

Chopper, on the other hand, was so afraid to open his eyes, he couldn't maneuver his vehicle very well. He luckily got close to one of the orbs to remain in midair, but his vehicle was being pulled along several more orbs that were up in a higher altitude, and launched

Chopper and his vehicle several meters up in the air. "Gyyyyaaaaaaaahahaaaa haaa!"

Obscumentio turned towards the incoming duo, and spreads his hands apart from his chest in a welcoming manner, "I see you're anxious to join in the fun. Feel free to come after me, just make sure you watch your step! Ah ha ha ha ha!"

While Obscumentio laughed, more buildings and objects were being pulled up from the ground, making it harder for Zoro to navigate through. When a big building suddenly floated against Zoro's path, Zoro had to jump off his vehicle before it crashed into the building wall, as Zoro then landed on another building close by, and ran towards Obscumentio, leaping from building to building while doing so. While Zoro was getting closer to the demented jester, several buildings around Zoro were converging towards him.

"Eeek! Look out, Zoro!" Chopper cried up high on his vehicle, but Zoro wasn't afraid. The swordsman gripped the hilts of his blades tightly, and leaped towards the buildings.

"KARASU GARI!" Zoro slashed the buildings several times, safely getting past them as the buildings were sliced up into pieces. Obscumentio was impressed by this as he awaited for Zoro to come even closer. Chopper was following him from behind, as he then saw the chunks of the building Zoro sliced up just now, and came up with an idea, as he turned into his arm point, and aimed for the rubble.

"Zoro, use these! ROSEO ARASHI!" Chopper jumped off his vehicle, and proceeded to hit every single chunk of rubble in his way while falling down towards the ground. Every chunk Chopper placed his hoof on where immediately glowed pink, and were covered in pellets as they stormed their way towards Obscumentio's direction like meteors.

"Alright! Those are good enough!" Zoro exclaimed while glancing over at the pink meteors. He then made another leap from a floating building as he held his swords horizontally over his shoulder.

"HYAKU-HACHI POUNDOU HOU!" Zoro swunged his swords in a circular fashion, creating a spiral cutting wave that took in Chopper's meteors, and spins them around in a spiral fashion as Obscumentio raised his palm in front of them with no worries.

Obscumentio smirked as his hand then began to spin vertically in the opposite direction the meteors were spinning towards them. Obscumentio's hand was spinning so fast, that it overpowered Zoro's spiral wave, and blew away Chopper's meteors in several directions as they destroyed several buildings in town instead. "Too bad!" Obscumentio said as he then warped in front of Zoro while he was still in midair, "Ha ha!" Obscumentio attacked Zoro with a right backslap, which Zoro countered with a double slash to the jester's hand, but got smacked away anyway as he soured backwards across town in sheer pain.

"Zoro! Aaahhh!" Chopper screamed while he continued to fall, but the dark orbs below prevented him from falling any further as he was then caught by the gravitational fields of the orbs, and couldn't move in midair without any surfaces nearby. "Someone help me!"

"Grrr!" Zoro growled in pain as he continued to sour back across the air, until he stopped himself by thrusting his swords against a building wall he was passing through, causing him to slow down as he managed to recuperate, and jumped down from every building in his way, and went to help Usopp below him.

"Help me, help me!" Usopp cried while shaking his limbs frantically as Zoro then came to his aid, and carried him while jumping up the floating buildings again to escape from the orbs' gravitational fields, "Oooh, thank you, Zoro-AHHH!" Usopp screamed as Zoro carelessly tossed him up on a racing track far up from town, which he landed with a thud on his rear.

"Stay there!" Zoro stated before he took the long way back towards Obscumentio by jumping from building to building again. Watching from afar, Obscumentio was impressed, yet again.

"It's so admiring to see you all fighting in this massive landscape. I would've already lost my breath, if it weren't-!" Obscumentio was interrupted by a flying kick upside the head by Sanji, who was running towards the jester ever since the crew got seperated.

"You should talk less, and start fighting like a real freak, for once!" Sanji growled before landing on Obscumentio's left shoulder. Obscumentio only laughed as he raised his left hand to grab Sanji off his shoulder, but was too slow as Sanji cartwheeled onto the jester's other shoulder, and raised his leg as Obscumentio turned his head towards him, "MAILLET JOUE SHOT!"

Sanji does a mid cartwheel, and does a one-hand handstand as he then thrusted both his legs to the side to deliver a powerful kick to Obscumentio's cheek while he was turning towards him.

"Heh heh heh!" Obscumentio merely laughed as he tried grabbing Sanji again, but he jumped off from his handstand, and went swinging up by the jester's horns with great agility. Sanji then did several flips while going up, and then jumped off the horns to do a handstand on Obscumentio's head. "Oh?"

"MALLIET MENTON SHOT!" Sanji flips his legs forward, and double kicks Obscumentio directly between the eyes. The hit was strong enough to knock Obscumentio's head facing up as Sanji did multiple flips back before landing on a building floating horizontally from the ground.

"Not bad, but your kicks lack a certain spark!" Obscumentio said while regaining his posture as he then formed a long, and broad sword of dark energy from his palms, "Ha ha ha ha!" Obscumentio raised his dark energy sword, and slashed it vertically across the building Sanji was standing on, slicing the big building in half.

Sanji avoided the blade in time as he was then jumping from wall to wall as soon as the two halves of the cut building were floating vertically from the ground, and apart from each other. Obscumentio swung his sword horizontally at Sanji while he was jumping, but the chef dodged again by jumping up high into the air from the buildings as they were cut again, and flew down towards Obscumentio while doing multiple flips, preparing to do another powerful kick, "MALLIET CONCASSE!" Sanji then extended his legs, and lowered his heels onto Obscumentio's head, but the jester suddenly disappeared as Sanji uncontrollably crashed onto a rooftop of another building. "Ooww!"

"Nngghh!" Nami whimpered as she was still holding onto the big black vehicle as it was driving around the center of town while being very close to the dark abyss below. "I can't take this anymore! Somebody get me off!"

"Ooooh, you don't like my ride, Nami-san? That's too bad."

"Ugh!" Nami gasped as she opened her eyes, and saw Obscumentio right in front of her. She was surprised as the jester was flying backwards along the track at the same speed her vehicle was going.

"The last thing I would want to do is to upset you again, so allow me to put an end to your misery." Obscumentio said with a grin as he reached his right palm towards Nami, who couldn't do anything to escape as she could only watch in fear. Until suddenly, a flaming phoenix struck Obscumentio from the side, startling the jester as he used his dark aura to put out the flames. "What's this?" Obscumentio looked towards his right, and saw Usopp from a great distance as he could see him still standing on the track where Zoro left him.

Usopp panted heavily after firing, "I.. won't let you.. lay a finger on anybody or anything that I care about! Stop thinking that you can!"

Obscumentio was stoic, but was startled again upon seeing Sanji landing on Nami's vehicle from above, and side kicked his hand away. "You can't forget about me!" Sanji yelled as he then leaped at the jester while he was open, "ANTI-MANNER KICK COURSE!"

Sanji thrusts his leg upwards, kicking Obscumentio right up across his jaw, knocking the jester's head back until he ended up looking behind him. Sanji merely snarled at the jester while in midair, until Obscumentio then brought his head back, and blew at Sanji as the wind current took far up into the air.

"Sanji!" Nami cried as Obscumentio went after Sanji, emenating a dark aura all over his body as he then brought up his sword again, and swung it diagonally at the defenseless chef, when suddenly, an arm grabbed Sanji from the back of suit collar.

"STRONG RIGHT!" Franky was standing on one of high altitude tracks after a long run from the bottom as he pulled Sanji away from harm with his launched arm. Obscumentio swung his sword fiercely, creating a dark wave that spreads out towards a section of Mute City he was facing towards. The wave destroyed everything in it's path, leaving nothing but a dark atmosphere created by the wave. "Whuh!" The sudden wave knocked Franky on his back right before Sanji landed on the track he was on with a thud. They both got up, and observed the destruction Obscumentio has created. "That bastard…"

Sanji was furious over this too, but was silent as he then kept gaze at Obscumentio, who casted his sword away before pleasantly looking at the destruction he created. Nami and Robin could see the destruction from the vehicles they were on, and they were just as shocked, but the one that was mostly hurt was Usopp. Seeing the destruction before him made his body shiver; he was so upset, he nearly cried. He wiped the tears off his eyes, and furiously aimed at Obscumentio when he wasn't looking.

"DAMN YOU! STOP IT!" Usopp exclaimed as he fired a frenzy of explosives nonstop as they were all exploding onto Obscumentio's back. Obscumentio slowly glanced over his shoulder to gaze at Usopp, and no matter how much Usopp fired at him, it didn't even seem to hurt the maniac, as he was just allowing himself to get shot over and over again.

"Such pain.. hatred.. darkness… I WANT IT!" Obscumentio laughed maniacally, and flew towards Usopp with intense speed, despite getting shot at in every second. The crew were desperately yelling at Usopp to get away, but Usopp continued firing as he was so angry, he wasn't aware of the danger he was in, and Obscumentio was about to kill him without remorse.

"ONI GIRI!" Suddenly, Zoro came out of hiding from a building in front of Obscumentio, and slashed through his gut to slow him down. He was successful as Obscumentio was going into a fetal position to cover his wound, until Chopper came down towards him from a building floating up above.

"ROSEO MICHIERI!" Chopper thrusts his hooves repeatedly on the top of Obscumentio's head, leaving so many hoofprints behind that the force of all those thrusts put together pushed Obscumentio's face right through a building that was still on the ground. In that moment, Obscumentio lost control of his flight pattern as his speed momentum made him crash hundreds of more buildings, leaving a giant trail of dust behind.

Zoro and Chopper landed on separate buildings, and watched as Obscumentio finally stopped himself by regaining his flight pattern, and floated back in midair to regain his composure. While he did, he noticed that multiple were slowly spinning around, as if they were connected to each other.

"DOSCIENTOS FLEUR!" From the roof of her vehicle, Robin sprouted countless of arms from the building walls floating around Obscumentio, preventing the jester from moving by any normal means, which probably won't last for long.

Refueling himself with cola, Franky was ready to head towards Obscumentio while Sanji jumped on his back. Franky then got on one knee, and inflated his rear "COUP DE BOO!" Franky released a current of air from his rear, allowing him to sour off the track he was on, and head all the way where Obscumentio was trapped in. "You distract the clown, while I go prepare the big guns!"

"You don't need to tell me twice!" Sanji replied. He then jumped off of Franky, and headed towards some floating rubble above the buildings around the Obscumentio, "JENGA HOU!" When close, Sanji kicked a chunk of rubble three times his size, as they headed towards Obscumentio, who merely raised his palm to block them with ease. Sanji kept kicking rubble at Obscumentio to distract him from Franky, who jumped onto a rooftop of a floating building close to where Usopp was.

"Oi, Longnose!" Franky shouted, "We're going to take this guy down, so give it all you got."

Usopp was still angry from before, but he slowly came back to his senses, and took out several oil pellets, "Okay! Robin, let them go."

Robin casted away her sprouted arms, allowing the buildings to separate from each other. Obscumentio was curious as he watched Franky turn towards him while crouching down, while Usopp was aiming at him again.

"TOKUYO ABURA BOSHI!" Usopp fired multiple oil pellets towards Obscumentio's direction as Franky took a deep breath before they went over his head.

"FRESH HELL!" Franky breathed an immense stream of blue fire up at the oil pellets once they flew over him. This caused the oil to splatter, and burn into one, humongous phoenix, only it was blue, and it was a little bigger than Obscumentio himself. Obscumentio watched in amazement as the phoenix spreads it's huge wings before flying towards Obscumentio.

Unfortunately, the phoenix never made it, as the dark orbs around town have already grown huge, and the ones around the phoenix was being distorted by them. The phoenix was eventually swallowed by the orbs as they got bigger, as the bird gave out one final cry before it was completely gone.

"No! It was so close! Whugh!" Franky gasped as he was suddenly being pulled up in the air. And it wasn't just him; the entire crew were being pulled by the gravitational force of the orbs, which can reach all over town as the orbs then combined themselves into one big orb, engulfing all of Mute City.

"Yaaahh! Help!" Nami cried as she and the others couldn't do anything to escape from the fields, and could only watch the orb swallow all of town below.

"Ah ha ha ha ha! What a shame!" Obscumentio laughed while observing the dark orb from afar, "If only you could stop being so sensitive about this place, and enjoy the power of nature changing it's landscape for the better."

It was finally then, that Luffy appeared from the other side of the tunnel he got himself into earlier, which was a little far out from town as his vehicle drove him up to a very long loop of the race track.

"Gahh! I thought I was never going to get out! Huh!" While holding onto the roof of his vehicle, Luffy glanced over his shoulder to see the big orb engulfing the town. "Wh-Wha?" Luffy then saw his crew being pulled into the air by it, and finally saw Obscumentio in the distance, "What have you done!" As Luffy's vehicle was reaching towards the top of the loop, Luffy's legs pumped up his blood, turning his skin red as it released steam. "GEAR SECOND!" Luffy got into his gear second form as his vehicle was about to get into the loop, until Luffy suddenly jumped off his vehicle, and destroyed it as he also went through the track, destroying the giant loop as it collapsed, "DIMENTIO!"

"Huh?" Obscumentio turned around, and was happy to see Luffy again, "Well, there you are! I wondered where you were. For a second there, I thought you were going to miss this part of the spectacle!"

"JET…"

"Oh?"

Luffy inflated his stomach, and twisted his body around as he then released the air, and untwisted him, heading towards Obscumentio like a beam. "AIR STRIKE!" Luffy stretched his arms so fast, they've become invisible as Luffy kept moving them back and forth to hit Obscumentio over and over again. The attack was extremely brutal, as Luffy punching every part of Obscumentio's body. He was even punching, and destroying most of the surface of Mute City that hasn't been engulfed by the dark orb; it was like the town was getting destroyed by a nuclear bomb that just went off.

"Th-That's incredible…" Nami said in awe as she and the others were watching this from in the air.

"Go, Strawhat! Take him down!" Franky yelled.

"HIIIIYAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA!" Luffy continued his assault as the force of his blows were pushing Obscumentio so hard, he himself got engulfed by the dark orb. Once that happened, Luffy stopped as he couldn't keep on attacking. He was so tired, he reverted back to normal, and was then caught by the gravity field as he then went to join his crew. But as he did, he saw that the orb has grown so big, all of Mute City was already engulfed. "No…"

The Strawhats watched in horror, until the orb suddenly shrunk. As it did, the Strawhats could see that a humongous crater was formed where the town used to be, as the crater was big enough, you could see it from the planet's outside view.

"It's gone… the whole town is gone.." Chopper gasped in horror.

The orb continued to shrink until it was a size of a volleyball, and Obscumentio was there, holding the orb between his palms. The Strawhats then fell as the gravity turned back to normal, and were falling towards the jester, who looked up at the crew, and smiled.

"Mute City… a town where 1 billion people reside." Obscumentio said proudly, "This place is where all people of different kinds coexist, and enjoy the spectacular races that occur here every now and then. This, and more happens to this one-of-a-kind town, and it now rests on my hands."

"DON'T DO IT! DON'T YOU DARE DO ANYTHING TO IT!" Luffy yelled furiously while still falling.

Obscumentio smiled pleasantly before he 'accidently' crushed the orb between his palms, "Oopsie." Obscumentio giggled.

The Strawhats were strucked with fury, "DAMN, YOU BASTARD!" Luffy yelled as the Obscurum core glowed purple as everything turned dark again, and he and his crew immediately landed on the invisible ground.

The Strawhats didn't get up on their feet to quickly, as they were still recuperating from the scenario they just experienced. This battle was starting to get into their heads; even they couldn't help but feel uneased at where this battle was going. It's without doubt, that they cannot keep fighting like this forever.

"Come on, guys. Get up…" Luffy said sternly. He and his crew were regaining their composure as they all then stood tall, but were actually a little exhausted as they glared at the Obscurum core above them. "We can still do this… we can still win…"

TO BE CONTINUED…

Part 3 will be the final part of the final battle chapter. I'll try to finish it real soon. Hope this part satisfied your story hunger in the meantime. Ciao for now!

FINAL BATTLE Pt 3

Phew, it's so late, but atleast I got this done! Before I continue; Linkhelios, about your story idea, I'm going to consider it for now, okay? Sorry I didn't reply in the last chapter; I accidentally forgot to reply. Silly me. And MysteryGuy, about Vorago… I don't know, we'll see.

Anyway, this is the last part of the final battle chapter that I could've finished a long time ago, but you can blame my unmotivation for that. Hope you enjoy it! Have a great time!

Chapter 135: Dark Hell 2, The Strawhat Pirates vs Obscumentio (Final part)

White cracks were appearing all over the dark atmosphere as soon as the Obscurum turned blue again. The Strawhats were still uneased, but they were ready for another one of Obscumentio's sick illusions. The dark atmosphere shattered like glass, and the shards disappeared afterwards as the Strawhats were now in another familiar territory.

Even though the place was familiar, Luffy was mostly shocked by just seeing it again. "What… !" Luffy and his crew saw that they were standing in a center of a vast area, with huge cylinder walls having huge statues, and the area was below over the great temple above. The Strawhat crew were now in an illusion of the planet Aether, only the atmosphere is much darker and sinister looking than the original. "I don't believe it! This is where the ten foot, bug-eyed people live!"

Luffy was so in shock, he took several steps around the area without even realizing. Then in a split second, something changed in the area, and Zoro was immediately cautious, "Luffy! Stop!"

Luffy blinked in confusion as he stopped walking back, and felt something really hot behind him. "Yeow!" Luffy jumped forward in surprise as he then turned around, "Eh… wha!" What Luffy and the others were now seeing the walls, statues, and the beams supporting the Great Temple in the air were covered with the deadly phazon.

"Ph-Ph-Phazon! Phazon everywhere!" Usopp shrieked in horror.

"Where did it all come from! It wasn't here a second ago!" Franky exclaimed.

"Anything can happen in this clown's sick illusions…" Nami snarled until she then realized something, "Speaking of which, where the hell is that guy?"

A rumbling sound was then heard above. The Strawhats looked up at the bottom of the glass floor in the Great Temple above, and saw it shaping into something.

"I knew this world was the most precious to you, Luffy-san. That is why it gives me such pleasure to make things here even better than you will ever imagine." The bottom of the Great Temple took form of Obscumentio's face, scaring the heck out Usopp and Chopper while the others just glared, "It's so titillating to see your expressions; you must be outstanded by the visuals before you. Phazon could be such a treat for the eyes if handled well. It's so deviant this place, that it burns your skin off! Ah ha ha ha ha!"

"Get down here, or I'm coming after you!" Luffy exclaimed while pointing at Obscumentio, furiously.

"There's no need to rush; patience is a virtue, afterall. Ha ha! Here I come!" Obscumentio laughed as a purple fog formed beneath the Great Temple, and below Obscumentio's face. The Strawhats prepared themselves as more rumbling noise could be heard from the fog, until Obscumentio appears again with his body this time he flies down towards the vast area, "Ha ha ha ha!" Obscumentio then flipped, and landed on the center of the vast area, creating a mild shockforce that knocked every single Strawhat member off their feet.

"Ahh!" The Strawhats cried as they were heading towards the phazon behind them.

"OCHENTA FLEUR!" Robin quickly sprouted multiple arms from her and everyone else's back, and the ground behind them as they halted them from tumbling closer to the phazon. "Phew…" Robin casted away the sprouted arms as the Strawhats slowly got back on their feet.

"Oooh, that was so close! You nearly ruined the phazon on the walls with your bodies." Obscumentio said in relief.

"Grr… SHUT UP!" Luffy yelled as he charged towards Obscumentio.

"Wait, Luffy!" Nami cried out, but Luffy didn't listen as Obscumentio then leaned towards Luffy while reaching his right hand towards him. Luffy didn't stop running as he stretched his arms back while the hand came closer to him.

"GOMU GOMU NO BAZOOKA!" Luffy thrusts his palms at Obscumentio's right palm, but that didn't do anything as Obscumentio grabbed Luffy whole with his right hand, "Grragh!"

"Luffy!" Usopp cried as Obscumentio laughed while raising Luffy above his head. The crew could then hear Luffy screaming in agony as Obscumentio was crushing him within his palm.

"We're coming, Strawhat! STRONG RIGHT!" Franky launched his right arm at Obscumentio from behind, but the jester swayed his head and body towards his right side, as Franky's arm went by the jester's head. Zoro and Sanji then attacked Obscumentio then dashed towards Obscumentio from both sides.

Zoro moved in first as he held his swords in hand parallel to the one he was holding with his teeth, "SANTORYU: GUFUU HAJI!" Zoro did a multiple, triple-sword spin with his swords along the ground as he headed towards Obscumentio's legs, but missed as the jester jumped from his legs to avoid as Zoro passed by, and did a handstand with one hand while his body was diagonally facing towards the ground.

After missing, Zoro stopped spinning while Sanji jumped, and landed on the back of Zoro's swords. "Come on, throw me!" Sanji exclaimed. Zoro then did a reverse spin with his swords, launching Sanji directly towards Obscumentio's head with a straight kick, but Obscumentio jumped off from his handstand to avoid the kick as Sanji flew by, and hopped back on one foot to see Chopper jumping towards him in his jumping point from the same side Sanji attacked from just now.

"ROSEO…" Chopper turned into his arm point while flying towards Obscumentio, "CRO-"

"I'm sorry, but that's a no-no." Obscumentio said as he leaned his body to his left, and thrusts his raised his leg sideways at Chopper.

"Yaahaah!" Chopper quickly turned into his guard point, making him smaller and lighter as he was nearly kicked as Obscumentio's foot went under him with haste. Unfortunately, the lower half of his puffy fur got hit by the edge of Obscumentio's foot, which made Chopper spin uncontrollably in midair as went over the jester, and headed towards the ground.

Sanji saw him coming, and took a long leap back into the air, stopping Chopper from spinning using his right foot during the midway of his flip, "Chopper, I'm going to send you flying back at him! Get ready!"

"O-Okay!" Chopper replied as Obscumentio watched them while not moving an inch.

"ARMY DE L'AIR, POWER SHOOT!" Sanji launched Chopper towards Obscumentio with the swing of his leg, as Chopper headed towards the jester's right hand where Luffy was trapped in.

"HEAVY POINT!" Chopper turned into his heavy point, and held his right wrist tightly while extending his shoulder out, "HEAVY BARGE!"

Chopper was close into slamming into the arm, but Obscumentio did a side flip away from him, and stood on his left hand and legs while his body was facing the ground as Chopper flew under him. "Whoa!" Chopper turned back into his guard point to soften the landing, and then turned into his brain point to scurry away from the Phazon he nearly crashed into on the wall.

Sanji landed safely on the ground as he and the others watched Obscumentio's right hand fly away from the jester, and remained afloat high up in the center of the vast area where no one could reach Luffy inside. The hand was still crushing Luffy as he screamed, frustrating the crew even more than before.

"Oi! You can't kill Luffy by just crushing him! Nothing you can do will ever kill Luffy!" Zoro yelled at Obscumentio, who quickly jumped into the air from his hand and legs.

"I know that all too well, Zoro-kun!" Obscumentio replied in midair, "That's why he will die by the failure of you all trying to save him from my clutches. There is no worse death than by the dying thanks incompetence of your friends! Ha ha ha ha ha!"

Obscumentio then landed back on the area, and performed several kinds of flips near the Phazon against the walls. Each flip Obscumentio has done made the area tremor violently, causing the Phazon hanging out from the supporting beams of the Great Temple to fall off, and crash into pieces on the safe area where the crew was.

"Take cover!" Franky exclaimed as the Strawhats ran around the area, avoiding the phazon as best as they could while also getting out of Obscumentio's way from his nonstop flips.

"Geh!" Nami nearly got hit by a chunk of Phazon from above as it shattered into pieces upon hitting the ground. Nami stepped away from the pieces, but quickly jumped out of the way as Obscumentio flipped over her, nearly crushing in that instant. "Tch! If this keeps up, we're not going to survive! I have to stop him!" Nami then stood on a safest spot of the vast area, and separated her staff as she released several heat balls into the ground in front of her.

"Yikes!" Usopp cried as he frantically runs around the area to avoid the raining phazon until it finally stopped moments later. There was now Phazon across the area, making it difficult for the crew to walk around. But this didn't stop Obscumentio from flipping as Usopp stopped running, and turned towards the jester's right hand up in the air. "I'll save you Luffy!" Usopp aimed his slingshot towards the hand, "HIMAWARI BOSHI!" Usopp fired five explosive pellets simultaneously in a pentagon pattern as they flew towards Obscumentio's right hand. But the pellets never made it as Obscumentio flipped over his right hand, and blocks the pellets with his left hand, letting them explode onto his palm. "No!"

"Ah ha ha ha! As if you could save him so easily!" Obscumentio laughed as he landed on the other side of the area, "Oh! Ouch!" Obscumentio gasped in pain as he raised his right foot, which was covered in flames as the jester hopped around on one foot in pain.

"Yes, it worked!" Nami exclaimed as she had heated up a part of the ground with her heat balls, making that part of the ground blazing with heat before Obscumentio accidentally landed on it just now.

"Ouchie! So hot!" Obscumentio cried as he kept hopping around in one foot, and made sure he wouldn't fall into the phazon walls near him.

"CIEN FLEUR!" Standing from the other side of the area, Robin sprouted multiple arms from Obscumentio's hopping foot, and the ground around it as the arms binds the jester's foot in place before he would hop again.

"Whoa!" Obscumentio lost his balance from that point, and was about to fall towards the Phazon, but he used his left hand to push himself away from the Phazon, and recover, but Robin sprouted even more arms from the hand, and the ground below it, so it wouldn't move either. "Eh…?"

While Obscumentio was stuck, Chopper turned into his jumping point, and jumped as highest as he could to save Luffy from the hand he was trapped in. Obscumentio saw this, and despite being stuck, everything, except for his left hand turned into dark particles, escaping from the sprouted arms' grasp as they reverted Obscumentio back to normal, as he then assaulted Chopper with a lower diagonal kick with his burning foot.

"GUUGHH!" Chopper coughed up some blood as he soured back into the ground, crashing into Robin in the process.

"Ahh!" Robin cried upon getting hit as she and Chopper skidded backwards on their backs towards the phazon nearby.

"Robin!" Sanji and Nami gasped as they rushed towards their aide, but they were too far to save them in time.

"I'll get them!" Franky exclaimed as he jumped, and grabbed the two before skidding sideways across the ground. "Grr! You guys alright!"

Chopper and Robin were injured, but they were somewhat alright as they both nodded weakly in reply. The arms Robin sprouted disappeared as Obscumentio landed on one knee while his left hand floated alongside him again. "HIMAWARI BOSHI!" While standing behind him from afar, Usopp fired more explosives in a pentagonal pattern as they flew towards Obscumentio's right hand.

"Again? Huh huh!" Without turning around, Obscumentio turned his right hand floating in midair towards Usopp, and extended out his fingers to release Luffy. Usopp gasped as his explosives were heading towards Luffy.

KABOOM!

"L-Luffy!" Usopp cried in horror as a dust cloud was formed after the explosion. Luffy could seen falling limplessly from the cloud as he looked unconscious, and badly injured. Obscumentio then turned around, and grabbed Luffy again with his right hand. The crew gasped as Obscumentio then raised Luffy above his head, and threw him down towards the ground, making the vast area to have a huge crack around the center where Luffy crashed.

"Ugh!" Luffy gasped in pain as was knocked back in the air from the rebound. Obscumentio then raised his foot, and lower it down on Luffy to stomp on him hard, but Sanji interfered by doing a handstand underneath Obscumentio's foot, and thrusts both legs back at full force to push Obscumentio's foot back.

Obscumentio smirked as he was easily overpowering Sanji in strength, and pushed down his leg, increasing the pressure for Sanji to push back as the floor beneath his palms were cracking, but he retained his stance nevertheless.

Zoro then rushed in from the front, and ran up Obscumentio's raised leg before leaping up into the air. "YASHA KARASU!" Zoro crossed his blades, and spins vertically with great speed as he lands on Obscumentio's stomach, and rolls up while leaving several cuts shaped like crows' feet up across the jester's body. Obscumentio didn't seem to mind as Zoro stopped spinning, and leaped towards Obscumentio's face with a flying slash. "HIIIIYAAAAAAAAAAAA!"

Obscumentio reared his head back as Zoro flew right over him, avoiding the attack in the process. "Hee hee!" Obscumentio giggled as his hands glowed with dark energy, and attacked Zoro with them while he was defenseless.

"Oh no, you don't! STRONG HAMMER!" Suddenly, Franky attacked Obscumentio from behind, and delivered a strong blow at the back of Obscumentio's left kneecap with his steel fist.

"Whoops!" Obscumentio nearly lost his balance because of that as he missed hitting Zoro with his hands after swinging them up. Also due to the lost of balance, Sanji managed to regain the upper hand. Sanji mustered up all his strength into his legs, actually pushing Obscumentio's leg back just for a bit, but it was enough to make the jester fall onto his back. "Ugh!" Obscumentio landed on his back with a thud, creating a mild tremor in the process as Zoro landed safely on the ground next to him before regrouping with Sanji, and the others.

Obscumentio's eyes widened in pain as he felt the radiating heat from the phazon that fell on the ground from the support beams earlier. "Ngnngh.. a littler hotter than I thought…" Obscumentio said to himself as he sat up to recover, "Ugh?" But Obscumentio stopped as he saw several arms sprout around him that formed into four giant arms big enough to hold him.

"CUATRO MANO!" Robin's giant sprouted arms then grabbed Obscumentio from his attire from both sides, and tried to pull him towards the Phazon on the walls behind him. He was groggy at first, but then grabbed hold of two of the four arms holding him, and tried to break free while pushing his upper body forward while to get away from the phazon. Robin couldn't hold on much longer, and just before the crew thought that Obscumentio was about to break free, Luffy leaped towards his face, ready for action again as he moves his arms back and forth to charge himself with energy.

"GOMU GOMU NO CANNON!" Before Obscumentio knew it, Luffy thrusted both of his palms into the jester's face with tremondous force, knocking his head back in pain as Robin's sprouted arms then threw him back into the phazon headfirst, cracking the wall in two as some of the phazon fell of from the wall, and rains over the jester's body as well.

"GYAAAAAAAAAGGGGHHH!" Obscumentio cried in agony as he was hurt in every single part of his body. Some of the Phazon was actually piercing through his body, but even so, the Emperor God stood up on his feet, and glared at Luffy standing in front of him,

"Grrrragghh!" Obscumentio charged at Luffy despite the condition he was in, as his hand emitted a dark aura, and punched Luffy with it as the dark aura exploded into a pillar of darkness.

The jester raised his hand to see the damage he caused, but it turned out he only attacked a mirage of Luffy created by Nami. He would've noticed that earlier if it wasn't for the excruciating pain he was in.

"NIGORI ZAKE!" When Obscumentio wasn't looking, Zoro flexed his biceps, and lunged at the jester from his right side with a horizontal slash, with the tips of his blades hitting Obscumentio at his ribs.

"Ugh!" Obscumentio staggered sideways from the hit as Nami bended a part of her PCT while he was seemingly defenseless.

"CYCLONE TEMPO!" Nami threw her adjacent-bended staff at the right side of Obscumentio's face, as the staff released a strong current that halted the jester's tracks. The wind didn't do much to blow him at the opposite direction, until Chopper and Franky attacked Obscumentio's legs from the other side, helping the staff to blow him across the other side of the field.

While the jester was about to sour into the Phazon wall, Luffy suddenly jumped in his way from the right, as he pulled back his clenched right hand to his side, "GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!" Luffy delivered a strong punch directly into Obscumentio's left cheek. Luffy kept stretching his arm to increase the pressure as Obscumentio could see the deadly glare he was giving him, which made him smile with glee. Luffy's arm stretched long enough until he applied enough pressure to send Obscumentio flying across the area once again, as the jester then crashed into other side of wall filled with Phazon, destroying the wall as it split some part of the higher terrain around the area.

"GYAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA AGHHHHHEEHHHHH!" Obscumentio cried in sheer pain as most of his body was now covered in Phazon, including his face. Obscumentio crawled back onto the area, but the pain was getting the best out of him as he then started laughing. The Strawhats stood back as Obscumentio got on one knee, and stood up before clenching his hands into fists. "Such pain I'm in… not even this amount of pain can kill me! Ah ha ha ha ha ha!"

Then the back of Obscumentio's wrists ignited like jet boosters as the hands suddenly flew up in the air, and flew around the vast area with great speed.

"Watch out!" Nami cried as everyone stayed close to each other to avoid the hands. While the hands were going faster as they flew, they spiralled up on a higher altitude, ramming through the support beams of the Great Temple in their way, destroying them all in the process.

Without the beams, the Great temple began to fall down towards the vast area, as Robin quickly sprouted a stairway of sprouted arms that leads towards the higher grounds around the temple. "Quickly, everyone! We have to go!" Robin yelled.

The Strawhats hurried up the arm stairway as fast as they could, as Obscumentio just stood in the center of the area, laughing his head off as the Great Temple was falling towards him. "Ah ha ha ha ha ha… oh…" Obscumentio just realized the trouble he was in as the Great Temple flattened him before it crashed into the ground hard enough to create a loud tremor that could be heard throughout the entire land, with a big dust cloud forming, and clouding over the vast area shortly afterwards.

The Strawhats managed to get away just in time as they observed over the mess while panting heavily in the process. "That was way too close…" Sanji panted. Everyone was regaining their composure as Nami turned around, but she was utterly shocked at what she saw, and was shivering in fear.

"Guys… look at this…" Nami said in a scared tone. The crew turned around, and they all stood shocked as well, especially Luffy, who can't even express his emotions upon seeing this.

What the crew was seeing before them was the entire land of Aether was absolutely covered with Phazon; everywhere except the spot the crew were standing on was covered with the deadly substance. Even though it looked rather artistic, it was downright scary to look at.

"This is terrible…" Chopper said sadly, trying to hold back his tears. Luffy fell on his knees, feeling very upset about seeing this. His favorite world having a lifeless atmosphere was too much even for him. He had flashbacks of when he met U-mos, and the other Luminoth back then, and seeing this sight just made him really angry.

Obscumentio's hands then flew down, and held the edges of the terrain behind the crew, as the loud noises could be heard from the vast area below.

"He's coming back again!" Zoro exclaimed as he, and the crew turned towards vast area to fight again, but Luffy remained where he was, as the captain raised his head in anger.

"GEAR THIRD!" Luffy bites the joints of his thumbs, and blew into them, inflating his arms as they grew into a massive size. The crew was startled by this as they stepped away from their captain. Once he finished blowing, his arms were the size of a giant, as he turned around with them, and charged towards the edge of the terrain he was on, where Obscumentio emerged from as the Strawhats could see that his entire body was covered with phazon.

"Ahh?" Obscumentio saw Luffy charging towards him with his massive arms, but was so weakened by the phazon, he couldn't react in time.

"GOMU GOMU NO GIGANTO BAZOOKA!" Luffy thrusts his massive arms directly into Obscumentio's body with sheer force. The impact of the blow was powerful, as Obscumentio was sent flying across the vast area, and crashed through the wall behind him. He kept souring back, with his back splitting the terrain behind him in half while leaving a humongous trail of dust behind in the process, until he finally flew over the edge, and fell into the dark ocean below, disappearing from the Strawhats' sight.

Luffy was successful in getting rid of Obscumentio for a moment. However, Luffy's hands shivered in pain upon hitting the jester while his body was still covered with Phazon, thus immediately releasing the air in his body as Luffy spins uncontrollably in the air before turning into his chibi form, and falling before the crew. "Gyaaaaghhh! It hurts!"

"Luffy!" The crew cried out as he went to his aid.

As they did, the Obscurum core in the air turned purple again, darkening the crew's surroundings again Luffy's palms were slightly burned from the Phazon, but he took deep breaths to recover slowly. The Obscurum core turned blue again as white cracks formed all over the dark atmosphere, and shattered like glass as the shards disappeared shortly afterwards.

Luffy reverted back to normal as his crew stood up, and saw that they were in Dreamland, only the skies were covered with purple clouds, and the sea was completely black.

"Dreamland…" Zoro stated with a stern look.

Before the crew could do anything though, Obscumentio emerged from the dark sea behind them, and his body looked fully recovered from the phazon as the jester raised his right hand behind his back as the hand emitted a dark aura that took form of dark claw.

"Watch out!" Usopp cried as the crew seperated before Obscumentio attacked.

"Ah ha ha ha ha!" Obscumentio swung his dark claw upwards, unleashing invisible cutting waves all across Dreamland, destroying everything in its path, including the destruction of several forests, meadows, and splitting an entire mountain in half. Obscumentio wasn't finished as he then slammed his palms at the surface of the cuts he created, igniting them with dark energy as the darkness elevated up towards the thick clouds, and blew it into several pieces, clearing them from the sky, which now showed the numerous of stars in outer space.

The Strawhats were alright, but they were separated from the assault as Luffy, Usopp, Sanji, Chopper, and Robin were on the left side of the cut on the island, while Zoro, Nami, and Franky were on the other side.

They groggily got back on their feet, while Obscumentio enjoyed the view as his right hand turned back to normal. "Yes, that's good! The stars are as bright as ever! I cannot wait until I devour every single speck of life they contain!"

"Oi! You better shut your mouth!" Franky yelled as he connected his arms into his tube as it sucked a massive amount of air into his arms, "COUP DE VENT!" Franky fired a massive current of air directly towards Obscumentio. But the jester wasn't afraid, as he spins his hands in front of him like a propeller, creating a wind current of his own as it blew into Franky's current, and overpowered it with ease. "Uh oh!" Franky gasped as Obscumentio's current blew into him, Zoro, and Nami with great force.

"Yaaahhh!" Nami cried as she, Zoro, and Franky were blown back by the current, and soured across the meadows.

"Guys! Ugh!" Luffy cried in pain as he was still hurt from earlier, and fell onto his knees. His crew with him helped him up, while Obscumentio suddenly puts his hands into the dark water, and raised them up high with force, shooting to gigantic streams of dark water up high into the air. While the streams remained as they were, Obscumentio flew towards Zoro, and the others. "Eh… Zoro, look out!" Luffy yelled.

"Tsk..!" Zoro recovered by backflipping onto his feet, and skidded backwards across the meadows, while Nami and Franky had a rough landing in the process. Zoro raised his head, and charged towards the laughing jester. "ASURA!" While running, Zoro turned into his Asura form, giving him more arms and heads with swords as he held them in a wheel formation, "MAKYUSEN!" Zoro spun with tremendous speed with his swords extended as he headed towards Obscumentio head on.

"Ooh! I can play that game too!" Obscumentio laughed as he then spins his hands as quickly as Zoro was spinning. Obscumentio's hands spins around his body as they came in contact with Zoro's blades, creating several shockwaves in between, making the surface around them crumble into several pieces.

Nami and Franky sat up from the fall, and watched Zoro and Obscumentio attacking each other with amazement. "Whoa…" Nami said in awe, as the two kept going at it against each other, destroying more of the atmosphere around them without even realizing. Obscumentio's smile then grew wider as he then raised his right hand, while his left spins even faster to keep up with Zoro's pace.

"What the… what's he up to!" Franky asked as he kept an eye over Obscumentio's right hand.

Obscumentio then snapped his fingers with his right hand, causing the dark water streams all the way behind him to separate, and form into multiple dark water orbs, floating in the air.

"That doesn't look good…" Nami said worryingly.

One of the dark water orbs then floated above Obscumentio's open palm, as the jester smiled again before slamming the orb down onto Zoro.

"Gugh!" Zoro gasped in surprise as the sudden attack him made him stop spinning, and reverted back to normal, as the orb then exploded into a dark wave, wiping Zoro back as Nami and Franky tried to escape, but they too got caught by the wave as the water then slammed them into the cliff wall behind them. The wave dispersed, allowing Zoro, Nami, and Franky to get back on their feet. They were soaked from head to toe as they were about to retaliate, but they suddenly collapsed, and could barely stay awake. "Ugh… what's going on…?"

"My body feels heavy… I can barely move…" Franky said forcedly as he then laid on his back. Nami collapsed on her chest, and glared up at Obscumentio, but her vision was so blurry, she couldn't tell where she was.

"He did something to us… dammit, I can't move…" Nami said weakly.

"Ah ha ha ha ha! It's only natural to feel disoriented after getting knocked away by a huge wave." Obscumentio explained, "Water can be a healthy, natural resource, but can also be the deadliest. My dark water, on the other hand, is simply the deadliest of all liquid substances." Obscumentio then pointed at Nami and the others, "That water will drain every spec of energy you have. You just might survive if you have a strong will to live, but even if you do, death will still have the advantage! Ah ha ha ha!"

Obscumentio laughed, until he suddenly turned to his left, and blocked Sanji and Chopper's flying kick and hoove simultaneously with both hands. "Too bad." Obscumentio giggled as he countered by flicking Sanji and Chopper away while they were still in midair.

"Agh!" Sanji and Chopper cried in pain as they crashed into a hill behind them, leaving small craters in the process. Obscumentio flew towards while they were down as he summoned another dark water orb onto his palm, and laughed as he lowered onto them.

"VEINTE FLEUR!" From afar, Robin sprouted some arms on the ground underneath Sanji and Chopper, as they quickly pushed them pass Obscumentio before he lowered his dark water orb onto them. They were saved as the orb exploded into a big wave again upon hitting the ground, as the wave traveled towards Luffy, Usopp, and Robin.

"It's coming this way!" Usopp exclaimed. Luffy glared at the wave as then wrapped his right arm around Usopp and Robin, and ran away with them. "O-Oi! What do you plan to do!"

"I don't know yet!" Luffy replied as he then saw a tree above a cliff in front of him, "I got it!" Luffy then stretched his left arm all the way up towards the branch of the tree on the cliff, "GOMU GOMU NO ROCKET!" While still holding onto Usopp and Robin, Luffy sprung all the way above the tree, and flew high up into the sky, which was far enough to get over the wave as it then dispersed upon hitting the cliff. "Whoa!" Luffy, and the others began to fall down, but stopped upon landing on a purple cloud, which was strong enough to support the weight of Luffy, Usopp, and Robin combined.

"This cloud saved us. Phew… thank goodness." Usopp sighed in relief. He then looked over the edge of the cloud, and gasped as he saw Obscumentio heading towards him, and his comrades. "Watch out; here he comes!"

Luffy and Robin saw the jester too, as Luffy then tossed Usopp and Robin onto separate clouds without giving it a second thought. The other clouds were dense enough to hold them as Luffy then gave his crew a brief stare, "You stay away while I take care of this guy myself!"

Usopp and Robin just watched as Luffy then jumped off the cloud he was on, and headed down towards Obscumentio. While going down, Luffy stretched his leg upwards in the process, "GOMU GOMU NO ONO!" Luffy lowered his leg down at Obscumentio's head when the jester got close, but it didn't seem to do anything to him when it landed as Obscumentio countered with a thrust of his right palm, hitting Luffy hard as he soured up high into the sky. "Ah!" Luffy cried as his body spins uncontrollably, until he regained his composure in midair, and headed down towards Obscumentio again while stretching both his arms behind his back, "GOMU GOMU NO BAZOOKA!"

Luffy thrusted both of his arms towards Obscumentio, who countered with a left fist which made contact with Luffy's palms. Obscumentio's attack turned out to be stronger as his punch sends Luffy even higher up into the sky, nearly going through the orbit as Obscumentio then flew right above him, and tried to crush him from both sides with his hands.

"GOMU GOMU NO FUUSEN!" Luffy took a deep breath, and inflated his body into a big balloon. He then exhaled all the air in him from his mouth once he was upside-down, allowing him to do multiple flips forward while avoiding Obscumentio's hands as they clapped by accident. Luffy then stopped flipping as he twisted, and stretched his arm back while flying closer towards Obscumentio, "GOMU GOMU NO RIFLE!" Luffy swung his twisted arm forward, and punched Obscumentio hard in the center of his gut.

"Oof!" Obscumentio cringed as Luffy untwisted his arm to apply more pressure into his punch, hitting the jester hard to atleast knock him back by an inch. Obscumentio then looked ill as he suddenly puked out a dark water orb as it splattered over Luffy.

"Egh!" Luffy was surprised as he quickly felt weak and disoriented, as he then began to fall all the way down towards the dark ocean floor below.

"Oh ho! Please, excuse me." Obscumentio apologized before wiping some of his bark off his bottom lips, and chin. Obscumentio then warped next to Luffy, falling beside him as the jester spins his hands around his body, and hits Luffy with a backhand from above.

Luffy nearly lost consciousness as the blow made him fall even faster towards the ocean. Obscumentio wasn't finished with Luffy as he flew down towards him, and did a front flip so he could hit him his right heel. But suddenly, Luffy recovered from the dark substance on his body, as he quickly stretched, and wrapped his right leg around Obscumentio's attacking leg. Luffy barely avoided Obscumentio's heel with an air dodge as Obscumentio swung his leg until his heel ended up facing towards his back, swinging Luffy along during the procedure.

Obscumentio then brought his leg back to the front where he could see, as Luffy quickly unwrapped his leg from the jester's ankle by spinning his body around it several times. Obscumentio blinked in confusion as Luffy sprung himself up from his momentum, and headed up towards the jester's chin.

"Ughh!" Obscumentio cried as Luffy delivered a devastating uppercut across his chin before flew above him. The jester quickly recovered as he teleported in front of Luffy, and charged his right leg up with dark energy as Obscumentio swung his right leg horizontally at Luffy. Luffy attempted to block with his arms, but it didn't help at all as the kick hits him hard on the side, sending the captain souring sidways across the sky.

"Ahh!" Luffy cried as Obscumentio swiftly flew beside him again, and while flying sideways, Obscumentio attacked Luffy with an inward, roundhouse kick with his left leg. Luffy air dodges by flipping over Obscumentio's leg, "GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!" Luffy countered by stretching his arm towards Obscumentio's face, but the jester wasn't done, however, as he finished his roundhouse with a spinning, right kick, kicking Luffy hard before he could deliver his punch. "GUGHHHGH!"

The kick sended Luffy towards the opposite side of where he was hit moments ago, as he limplessly soured over Dreamland, and headed towards the Cappy village.

"Luffy!" Usopp and Robin cried simultaneously as they watched on from the clouds they were on, seeing Luffy crash into the empty streets, and tumble backwards rapidly until he crashed, and knocked the big tree in the middle of the village, forming a big trail of dust shortly afterwards.

Luffy was badly hurt, but despite what he just went through, he groggily gets back up from the tree he crashed into, and took a few steps forward to gaze over at Obscumentio from afar while panting heavily.

Obscumentio laughed as he flew above Dreamland, "I can't express how much fun I'm having right now." Obscumentio said to Luffy from afar, "Please, do demonstrate how you can escape from this fatal blow."

The jester then snapped his fingers, causing all the dark water orbs floating in the air to merge with each other, forming one massive, dark water orb as it slowly descended towards the ground. From that instant, Luffy knew he was in danger, as he quickly ran across the village as fast as he could before the water orb formed into a massive-sized wave that headed directly towards Luffy.

Luffy jumped on a house, and ran across several rooftops nearby. He took a brief glance at the wave, which luckily turned into a stream from far away, but the stream itself was still too big to jump over. "Eh! What do I do!" Luffy gasped until he noticed some purple clouds floating around. "Over there!" Luffy jumped up on the cloud nearby, and quickly went hopping up from cloud to cloud, getting higher and higher until he could avoid the stream completely.

The stream destroyed the entire village in a matter of seconds and covered most of the lower land with it's dark substance. It was dangerous to head back down now as Luffy sets his gaze at Obscumentio again, who rubbed his chin while in thought, "Simple, yet very effective. Good job surviving that one, Luffy-san." Obscumentio praised.

"Shut up! I'm coming after you again!" Luffy yelled as he hopped from cloud to cloud to get towards Obscumentio.

Obscumentio merely shook his head left and right in pity, "You still want to play the hate game, I see. Suit yourself." Obscumentio then raised his hands, and created dark stars above his head, "Ha!"

Obscumentio then pointed at Luffy as the dark stars were shot towards him one by one.

"Yah!" Luffy quickly hopped to a cloud nearby to avoid the first several stars heading towards him. He didn't stop moving as Obscumentio keeps shooting dark stars at him, and laughed maniacally at the process.

"Ah ha ha ha ha! Seeing you flee like that is like watching a child frantically running away from a poodle!" Obscumentio laughed as he smirked mischievously. The jester then aimed at a cloud Luffy jumped towards to, and as soon as Luffy got on it, he watched the dark stars heading right towards with a worried look on his face. But in just in the nick of time, several bullets from above and below shot the stars, which were easily deflected as they were shot away in several directions. "Hmm?"

Obscumentio looked to his left, and saw Usopp on a cloud from afar, as he was one of the people responsible for shooting away the stars. "Ha ha! Your stupid stars are nothing against the great Captain Usopp!" Usopp said proudly while pointing at himself.

"Don't forget about us either!"

Obscumentio looked down towards his right, and saw Zoro, Nami, and Franky going up on the clouds towards him. Franky was carrying Nami on her back with his right hand, as he too was the other man shooting the stars away earlier with his left hand. "Oh ho? So your ambitions have saved your lives from my grasp yet again. How admiring." Obscumentio commented. His sight then shifted a little towards the left as he could also see Sanji, and Chopper in his jumping point jumping up from cloud to clouds as well. "I must say, I never expected you all to last this long. My show will be the best form of entertainment ever if this keeps up just a little longer!"

"As if we cared about that!" Zoro yelled as he moving faster than the others, and held his swords over his shoulders once he had reached Obscumentio's altitude, "NANAJUU-NI POUNDOU HOU!" Zoro swung two of his swords in a circular motion in midair, creating a mid-sized cutting wave that spiralled towards Obscumentio.

The jester merely moved his hips back to avoid it as he then began firing more dark stars at his surroundings. The Strawhats got defensive as Zoro deflected every star heading towards by swinging his swords rapidly once he got on a cloud. Franky was still going up the clouds, shooting the stars in his way with his left arm, while Nami bended her staff in the process.

"CYCLONE TEMPO!" Nami threw a part of her bended staff in the air as it released an air current, blowing away all the stars close by in multiple directions. Sanji jumped on a higher cloud, and kicked a star directly towards Obscumentio, but the jester flew up to avoid, and emitted dark electricity around his hands. He then shot dark lightning bolts from his hands into the big, purple clouds beside them. The lightning bolts were then being shot to every cloud nearby, slowing the Strawhat crew as they did not wanted to electrocuted.

"This doesn't scare me!" Chopper yelled as he jumped past Sanji, and headed towards Obscumentio by himself.

"Chopper, wait!" Sanji exclaimed, but stopped as a lightning nearly strucked him from the side, "Tsk!"

Chopper kept jumping on the clouds, until he jumped towards Obscumentio when he was close, "GUARD POINT; SPIKED BALL!" Chopper's round form took form of a spiked ball, but the jester simply kicked it up in the air, despite injuring his ankle from the spikes in the process. "Geh!" Chopper cried as he turned into jump point again after recovering in midair, "You have to stop this! There are good people who live in this place! They have done nothing bad to you!"

"Their lives are meaningless unless I make that change! Don't you want what's best for everyone, Chopper-kun?" Obscumentio replied while looking up at Chopper.

Chopper was now angrier than before as he flew down at Obscumentio, who warped above him as the jester slowly floated higher in the air. Chopper landed on a cloud below as he chased after the jester, with the crew following him shortly afterwards. While going up the clouds, Robin sprouted multiple arms from the higher grounds of dreamland as each arm was sprouted from their palms. They kept going until they reach where Luffy.

Luffy grabs onto the arms, and jumps back from the cloud he was on to stretch his arms, "GOMU GOMU NO ROCKET!" Luffy sprung himself up high in the air, with the help of the arms launching him forward as he soured across the air with great speed, and headed towards Obscumentio, "GOMU GOMU NO GATLING!" Luffy unleashed a flurry of fists in Obscumentio's way, but the jester flew over it, and kicked Luffy down afterwards. "Ugh!"

"Luffy!" Chopper yelled as he jumped towards Luffy, who saw Chopper, and grabbed him by his hand.

"Go get him, Chopper!" Luffy exclaimed as he threw Chopper high up towards the sky before landing on a cloud beneath him. He quickly got up, and continued the chase, with his crew following beside him as Chopper went pass Obscumentio while changing into his brain point.

"SCOPE!" Chopper faced his hooves in front his vision so he could aim well, and attack without fail. The reindeer then turned into his arm point as he flew down at the jester while raising his bulky arms to his right side, "ROSEO CROSS!" Chopper thrusted his hooves directly towards Obscumentio's head.

"Ah, this spot has the perfect view!" Obscumentio said before he teleports away from Chopper's deadly hoove attack. Chopper turned back to his brain point, and cried while falling for a bit, until he luckily landed on a purple cloud below him. Obscumentio reappeared higher up in the sky, as the Strawhats glared at him, but then saw thousands and thousands of comets heading towards their way from space. Obscumentio glanced over his shoulder to look at them briefly before smiling back at the Strawhats, "It's time to show another highlight of my spectacle!"

"What are you planning to do!" Luffy asked.

"Don't fret; it won't hurt. It's just going to be very flashyyy!" Obscumentio exclaimed while raising his hands around his sides, right before the comets soured past them. The Strawhats were baffled as they didn't had any time to react, but to their surprise, none of the comets were hitting them. All the comets were going right past them as they all have one destination in particular.

"Oh no!" Chopper exclaimed as he, and his comrades turned around, and saw the comets crash land into the surface of Dreamland, creating one gigantic explosion after another. The once beautiful land of dreams is now becoming a land of a neverending nightmare, as Chopper collapsed on his hooves and knees, bursting into tears upon seeing the destruction go on. "It's not real.. sniff… THIS IS NOT REAL!" He kept yelling at himself, but he was only making himself feel worse.

"Ah ha ha ha ha ha! Oh my! What an outstanding light show!" Obscumentio exclaimed happily, viewing the destruction of dreamland as a fireworks festival, "Even I can't describe how amazing this is! It goes to show that even gods can be amazed by the wonders of chaos! Ah ha ha ha ha ha ha ha!" He then stopped as he saw Luffy jumping on several clouds, charging towards Obscumentio with a very fierce look, "Oh, what's this? No witty comeback? You're just going to assault me without cursing me whatsoever? I don't know why, but I like this new approach of yours."

Luffy didn't reply, as he furiously puts his thumbs into his mouth, "GEAR…"

"Now, hold on; you've already done that a while ago. Now it's my turn!" Obscumentio said as he simply thrusts his palms downward at full force, creating such pressure that it instantly blew Luffy, and his entire crew through the clouds, and into the destruction below.

"Ahhh!" The Strawhats fell towards their doom, but the Obscurum core turned purple, darkening the surroundings again right before the Strawhats could get caught in the nonstop explosions. But the Strawhats were still falling as it seemed endless to them, until the core turned blue again, and white cracks appeared all over the atmosphere. They darkness then shattered like glass, and shards disappeared as the Strawhats fell onto a blue platform in the middle of a dark atmosphere.

Somehow, the Strawhats weren't hurt from the fall, as they got up, and took a look at their new surroundings. Robin looked on the ground, and saw holographic, sprite-like hexagons beneath her feet. She looked at everyone else's feet to see that they have hexagons underneath them as well.

"I know this place…" Robin said in realization, "We're on Arsenal Gear!"

"Huh? You mean that big machine from before! Why here, of all places!" Nami exclaimed.

"Shh! I hear something!" Zoro yelled as he looked into the dark atmosphere around the platform he and his comrades were on. It was then a big bullet came towards the Strawhats way, as they quickly dodged as the bullet disappeared into the darkness at the other side of the platform.

"What was that!" Luffy asked.

Then suddenly, more big bullets were being shot towards the crew from every direction possible. "Look out!" Sanji yelled as he kicks one of the bullets heading towards him away. Zoro was slicing up most bullets in it's path, while Usopp and Franky were shooting the others down.

"GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!" Luffy stretched his arm, and punched a bullet directly, hitting hard enough that it flew towards another direction, hitting another bullet which created an explosion. The bullets then stopped coming as the platform shook violently. "What the!"

The Strawhats looked at the ground, and saw that there was dark portal being formed from the center, as the portal grew wider as time pass. "Stay away from it!" Sanji said as he and the crew stepped away from the portal, as Obscumentio suddenly flew out of it with great haste as the jester then disappeared into the dark sky above.

"Where did he go!" Chopper asked.

Before the crew could do anything else, the portal then released a thick, dark beam. The Strawhats were surprised to see this as they watched the beam's energy gather up in the air, and formed into a giant, dark orb afterwards. "I don't even want to know what that is for…" Franky stated.

Obscumentio then teleports before the crew, and thrusts his palm on the ground, releasing a wave of darkness from the ground in front of them, as they traveled across the platform towards the crew, "CIEN FLEUR; BIG TREE!" Robin sprouted a big tree of arms from the ground in front of her, as the arms bended, and whips through the center of the dark wave, splitting it apart as it cleared the Strawhats' path.

"Let's go!" Luffy yelled as he, and his crew charged at Obscumentio after Robin dismissed her big tree of arms. Obscumentio laughed as a dark wave automatically appeared, and went towards the crew again. Sanji ran ahead of his comrades, as he then skidded forward on his right foot, and spins rapidly.

"DIABLE JAMBE!" Sanji stopped spinning as his right foot was covered with flames. Sanji did several cartwheels as he confronted the dark wave, "FRIT ASSORTI!" Sanji delivered three, blazing kicks towards the wave, destroying the center as Zoro then jumped over Sanji, and made a long leap towards Obscumentio.

"HYOU KINDAMA!" Zoro spins with his swords extended in midair, leaving several cuts on Obscumentio's body, but the jester didn't faze as he countered with a double, diagonal chop with both hands. "KARASUMA GARI!" Zoro did a front flip in midair, and did multiple slashes in every direction nearly simultaneously, slashing the hands hard enough to knock them away. "NIGORI ZAKE!" Zoro then finished his assault with a double swipe of his blades, but Obscumentio evaded by jumping back, and countered with a straight foot, hitting Zoro at point-blank range. "Gugh!"

"CINCUENTA FLEUR!" Robin quickly sprouted net of arms in a criss-cross formation, as they caught Zoro after he was kicked, saving him from being soured across the platform.

"EPLUCHAGE!" Immediately after Robin helped out Zoro, Sanji did several front flips before bringing his blazing foot down on the ground, creating five blazing, cutting waves that moved forwardly across the ground in different directions.

Obscumentio cartwheeled to the side to avoid the waves, but Franky caught on as he launched his right arm, and wrapped his chain around the jester's neck after he cartwheeled. "Guh!"

"Longnose, now!" Franky yelled, as Usopp placed a long rubberband around Chopper's antlers in his horn point, and placed his hammer in the center.

"HISSATSU USO-CHO…" Usopp pulled back the band with his hammer as if it were a slingshot as he took aim at Obscumentio while he was struggling to break free from Franky. "HAMMER SUISEI!" Usopp released his hammer, as the rubberband shot it towards Obscumentio's face with tremendous force.

Obscumentio stopped struggling as his smile grew wider, "Ah ha! As if this could hold me!" Then with a wink, he teleports, and switched places with Franky, who gasped as he was in midair, and then got struck by Usopp's hammer in the forehead. "Gooaaghh!" Franky fell hard on the ground after getting hit as Usopp and Chopper were dumbstrucked at what just occurred."

"Oh no! Franky!" Usopp gasped with a horrified look. Obscumentio laughed again as he dived into the platform, and forming a dark portal at where he dived as it traveled across the area, until it got underneath Usopp and Chopper. They both gasped as the portal depicted Obscumentio's face.

"You sure enjoy harming your own friends, don't you, Usopp-kun? Ah ha ha ha ha!" Obscumentio laughed before his face disappeared from the portal, and out of it came a countless amount of dark shots, striking Usopp and Chopper several times.

"Usopp! Chopper!" Nami cried as the shots knocked Usopp and Chopper from the shooting range, but they were severely injured. Nami and Robin went to check up on them, while Luffy went towards Obscumentio's portal.

"Come out of there! GOMU GOMU NO AME!" Luffy jumped above the portal, which was still shooting multiple dark shots as Luffy took some hits before unleashing a flurry of fists at the portal below him. Luffy's punches were strong enough to destroy the shots as he was falling closer and closer towards the portal.

"Ah ha ha ha ha! Let's move even faster!" Obscumentio laughed as he portal stopped firing dark shots, and out came Obscumentio, who spiralled up towards the air, knocking Luffy away with ease in the process.

"Aghh!" Luffy cried in pain he crashed into the floor. Obscumentio stopped spinning as he then flew down towards Nami and Robin, who were still helping Usopp and Chopper up from before. Obscumentio faced his fists towards them, as Robin then gave the jester a glare.

"DOSCIENTOS FLEUR; DEFENSE!" Robin crossed her limbs, and created multiple layers of arms in a criss-cross fashion, making them look giant nets. Obscumentio flew, and hits the nets of arms head on with his fists, and the nets actually managed to hold, despite Robin nearly loosing her focus after the impact. However, Obscumentio's purple eyes glowed even brighter, creating a blurry force of darkness that instantly blew Nami, Usopp, Chopper, and Robin away from him in that very instant. "Ugh!" The four nearly fell off the platform, and nearly fell off the platform into the dark pit below, which originally was suppose to have water in it.

"NAMI-SWAN! ROBIN-CHWAN!" Sanji yelled before he furiously ran at Obscumentio from behind after the jester placed his feet back on the ground, "You son of a bitch! SANTEN DECOUPAGE!" Sanji leaped, and did a 1080 degree spin with his blazing leg extended. He spins horizontally fiercely, intending to kick Obscumentio hard, but the jester merely did a back side kick to stop Sanji's kick, and kick him real hard at the same time. "Gaaaaghh!" Sanji hurt his leg as Obscumentio's kick made him sour back a little bit before he crashed onto the ground.

"ENBIMA YONEZU;.." Obscumentio looked towards his right, only to get slashed from his face across down his legs, leaving two deep cuts that ignited into blue flames in the process. Zoro ended knelting down at Obscumentio after finishing his slash, "TORA GARI!"

"Ughh…" Obscumentio was in pain, but it didn't last for long unfortunately. As Obscumentio's wounds recovered, his hands teleported in front of Zoro, and flicked him at his chest with their pinkies.

"Aaaaghhh!" Zoro tumbled back until he recovered by skidding on both feet, but later collapsed onto his knees from the pain. Obscumentio smiled as he then towards Luffy, who just happened to be charging at him, "GOMU GOMU NO BAZOOKA!" Luffy thrusts his palms at Obscumentio, but the jester countered with a mere poke from his right finger. "Grrrghaah!" That poke engulfed Luffy's body with dark flames as the captain soured, and tumbled backwards across the platform before stopping towards the edge of it.

The dark flames died off as Luffy panted before getting up, while noticing that his crew were also down as well. "Ah ha ha ha! Don't you think it's best that you submit to your fate by now? It's faster and easier compared to this nonsense activity of yours." Obscumentio suggested.

Luffy didn't reply as he simply slammed his fist into the ground, "GEAR SECOND!" Luffy's legs pumped up his blood flow, turning his skin red as steam also came out of it. Obscumentio was disappointed as Luffy glared at the jester before moving so fast, he disappeared in sight. Obscumentio wasn't intimidated, as Luffy appeared behind him in midair after moving so fast, "JET WHIP!" Luffy swung his stretched leg at great speed, but Obscumentio by ducking. Obscumentio got back up, and turned around to grab Luffy with his hand, "JET BAZOOKA!" Luffy stopped him by thrusting his palms at the hand when it got close, knocking it away as Luffy stretched his arms, and grabbed Obscumentio by the horns, "JET MISSILE!"

Luffy sprung forward, and barged into Obscumentio's forehead with such tremendous force, that the jester was knocked off his feet, and soured back across the platform.

"Hmph! You just never learn!" Obscumentio said as he stopped himself, and floated upside from the ground. Luffy headed towards him, but Obscumentio thrust his palm at him, shooting a wave with a demented face on it that strucked Luffy head on.

"Ugh!" The wave knocked Luffy back, but it didn't do much as Luffy landed on his feet, and ran super fast until he got below Obscumentio, "JET YARI!" Luffy did a handstand, and stretched his legs at Obscumentio's head all in half a second. Obscumentio swayed his body to avoid the legs as Luffy quickly brought them back while taking in a deep breath, so his body would inflate like a balloon. He then released the air from his mouth as he flew towards Obscumentio from below, avoiding the swipes from the hands in the process, "JET RIFLE!" Luffy thrusts his twisted arm directly in Obscumentio's gut. The jester coughed up some blood as Luffy did multiple flips in midair before landing back on the ground.

Luffy wasted no time as he stretched, and twisted his arms around themselves before his wrists wrapped around Obscumentio's horns when they were close. Obscumentio was still weak from the blow as Luffy turned around while untwisting his arms in the process. "JET MALLET!" While untwisting his arms at great speed, he was spinning Obscumentio multiple times while swinging him over his shoulder, and then finally slamming him hard on the center of the platform with a very loud thud. Obscumentio looked unconscious as Luffy unwrapped his arms from the jester's horns, and stretched his leg up way up high in the air, "JET AXE!"

"Heh heh!" Obscumentio chuckled as he then disappeared right before Luffy brought his leg down on him. Luffy ended up slamming his foot on the platform, which couldn't take any more damage as the lights of the platform were instantly shut off, making the area much more darker than before.

"Damn!" Luffy muttered before he tried to catch his breath from using so much energy. His crew later got back up, and from where they stood, the only thing that brightening up the place was the huge dark orb floating high above them.

The crew watched as the orb suddenly separated into thousands and thousands of orbs that stormed down into the ocean floor close to Arsenal.

"What just happened!" Usopp asked, while everyone else was trying to figure that out.

Then Arsenal Gear began to rock left and right, catching the crew by surprise as they quickly lost their balance, and were tumbling all around the platform.

"Yaaah! What gives!" Nami gasped. The shaking then was then slowing down, as a purple fog emerged from out of nowhere, and covered up the entire platform where the crew was on.

"Tch! Watch out; something is about to happen!" Sanji yelled to his comrades as he, and the others could barely see a thing through the fog. After some seconds have passed, the fog finally cleared, but not entirely as the Strawhats could only see each other on the platform, but not from anything beyond it. And the one thing that the crew also noticed immediately, was that the platform now depicted Obscumentio's face.

"Whoa!" The Strawhats were surprised by this, but that was the least of their troubles as Obscumentio's optimistic faces were popping up from the fog beyond the platform. They were all laughing simultaneously, as there were enough of them to surround the platform in a dome-like matter, and slowly spin around it.

"I thought one face was enough already!" Nami gasped.

The faces then made replicas of themselves, as the replicas then attacked the Strawhats while laughing in the process.

"Here they come! WEAPONS LEFT!" Franky opened his left wrist, and fired multiple blasts at the incoming faces, creating dust clouds in the process. It wasn't enough as the faces emerged from the clouds, and barged into Franky in retaliation, "Guah!"

Franky was knocked back just a bit before he rolled back to his feet, as he moved clear from the faces while shooting at them in the process. One of the faces swooped in towards Franky, who had to had to retaliate with close-ranged combat, "FRANKY BOXING!" Franky unleashed a flurry of fists at the face, and at plenty of other faces that shortly joined the fray.

"SLALOM VINE!" Robin sprouted a chord of arms from her palm, and used it as a whip, as she swung it around, and whipped several faces around her directly in the eyes. The faces' eyes bled, but they remained laughing as their laughter were releasing sonic waves every now and then, but she avoided them gracefully while whipping some more faces with her chord of arms.

Chopper was in his walk point, heel kicking any face that came near him. "JUMPING POINT!" Chopper turned into his jump point, and jumped from face to face to knock some of them away in order to gain some distance. Chopper then jumped up towards a group of faces, who were chasing Sanji around the area, "HORN POINT; ROSEO COLONNADE!" Chopper turned into his Horn point, and galloped towards the group, and knocked them all high in the air with quick raise of his antlers.

Sanji would've attacked the faces chasing him if he weren't so focused going after the faces attacking Nami and Robin, "QUASI!" Sanji does a double handstand, and spins his body with his legs spread out, kicking any face that came near him. He then leaped from his hands, doing a dropkick on a face that was about to attack Nami from the front, and kicked some more faces after he got back on his feet, "If any of you touch Nami-san, or Robin-chan, you're all dead!"

"PACHINKO CHAOS!" Usopp fired multiple shurikens at the faces. The shurikens sliced the faces apart, but to Usopp's surprise, the faces regenerated, and made even more faces. "Eh!" Usopp quickly took out a smoke bomb, and sets it off on the ground, creating a smoke screen as some faces entered it, "USOPP HAMMER!" Usopp was using the smoke to his advantage by hitting every face he saw rapidly with his hammer.

With some help from Sanji, Nami didn't had much trouble whacking some faces away with her PCT, but she was getting tired of how relentless they were, "COOL CHARGE!" Nami released a cool wave from her staff, cooling up the atmosphere around her. She used the reflections and refractions of the air to make four replicas of herself in different shapes and sizes, "MIRAGE TEMPO; FATA MORGANA!" Nami and her mirages attacked the faces with multiple thunder balls, with the real ones electrocuting the faces, while the fake ones were used to confuse them.

Zoro was surrounded by a group of faces, as he slashed every single one of them without slowing down, "TATSU MAKI!" Zoro then spins with his swords extended, creating a tornado of cutting waves that blew away most of the faces while leaving several cuts on them in the process.

"JET PISTOL!" Still in his Gear Second form, Luffy quickly punched face right between the eyes, sending it crashing through several of its kind before disappearing from the platform. Luffy then saw his crew fighting the other faces, as he realized that there was no end to them, and their assault. He was about to fight on anyway, until Obscumentio's 'hands' appeared from the dome of masks circling around the platform, "Master Hand! Crazy Hand!"

The right hand fired dark bullets at Luffy, who quickly ran to the side avoid getting shot. "I don't want to do this, but…" Luffy stopped running as he aimed for Master Hand from afar, "JET PISTOL!" Luffy stretched his arm at Master Hand with great speed, but Master Hand avoided by moving to the side. Crazy then came in towards Luffy with a drill attack, but Luffy got out of the way, and kept running as Master Hand fired more bullets at him from behind.

"Luffy!" Zoro yelled as he went to Luffy's aide, and charged towards Master Hand from the side, "TOUROU!" Zoro slashed his swords downwards across Master Hand's back, injuring him in the process, "OUTOU-ugh!" Master Hand retaliated with a backslap, slapping Zoro away before he could attack again.

"Dammit, wake up!" Luffy yelled as he turned around, and leaped towards Master Hand while twisting his arm behind his back, "JET RIFLE!" Luffy threw a twisted punch at Master Hand, but it never connected as Crazy swooped in, and pulled Luffy away from Master Hand by carrying him from the back of his vest collar. "Let me go!"

"ATLAS SHUISSEIGUN!" From afar, Usopp fired four rows of explosive pellets the pellets in front converged towards Crazy Hand, while the pellets in the back shortly followed the same procedure.

They all exploded onto Crazy, creating a chain of explosions onto his back as this gave Luffy the chance to escape.

But before Luffy could get back on the platform, Master Hand rocketed towards him, and crashed into him with great force, "Ughhh!" Luffy gasped in pain as Master Hand took him along for the ride. Crazy Hand shortly recovered inspite of the explosions he took in as he floated closely over the ground, and opened his palm as Master Hand rocketed straight towards it, intending to crush Luffy into Crazy's palm.

Robin saw this as he then dismissed her chord of arms from before, and crossed her limbs, "CUATRO MANO!"

Robin sprouted several arms around Crazy that formed into big, four arms that clenched their hands into fists, "SHOCK!" The arms slammed their fists onto Crazy, hitting him so hard that the platform shook upon the force of the slam. But either way, Master Hand continued to fly down, until Luffy wrapped his fingers around Master Hand's thumb and pinky, and began to twist his body around vertically.

"JET BOWGUN!" Luffy untwisted himself, doing multiple front flips, with the last flip ending with a strong heel kick at Master Hand's fingers. This caused Master Hand to fly out of control, as Luffy let's go of him, and safely lands back on the ground.

Luffy then turned to see Crazy Hand getting up by his fingers, slowly pushing away the sprouted arms of Robin. Crazy then broke free, knocking the arms away as they then disappeared, as Crazy then flew up while spinning his figure, and flew down towards Robin, who gasped as she didn't had time to get away.

"ANTI-MANNER KICK COURSE!" Sanji flew, and delivered a straight, flying kick directly into Crazy's palm with his blazing foot, sending the hand flying away momentarily before the hand recovered, and flew far up on the platform. Crazy then dropped several dark bombs onto the ground, which exploded into dark cutting waves that scattered mostly throughout the platform, "Look out, Robin!"

As Sanji took Robin away from harm, Master Hand came back floating above the platform, and shot dark laser blasts from his fingers. The blasts traveled forward before they took form of spheres, which exploded into multiple laser beams being shot in every direction, adding more chaos along with Crazy's bombs on the area as the Strawhats were having a hard time avoiding. Zoro charges in on Master Hand while try avoiding the lasers, receiving a few scrapes around the arms and legs from the beams he couldn't avoid properly. "Grr!" Zoro kept on moving until he was close to Master Hand, and turned into his Asura form, "ASURA; ICHIBUGIN!"

Zoro slashed through Master Hand, doing multiple slashes on him in a blink of an eye with all nine swords. This disrupted Master Hand's laser attack, as he was blown away across the platform, where Chopper and Franky waited for him.

"FRAPPER GONG!" Chopper and Franky thrusts their fists at Master Hand simultaneously before the hand could crash into the ground. Master Hand was sent flying in the air yet again, and crashed into Crazy with great force, as they both lost their focus while fell towards the platform.

As they did, Nami charged the front end of her PCT with electricity, "THUNDER CHARGE!" Nami then bended her staff into a triangle shape, and threw it below the hands like a frisbee. The electricity from the staff gathered into it's center, as the electricity was then shot vertically downward and upward simultaneously, piercing both the hands through their palms once the staff got below them, "THUNDER PILLAR TEMPO!"

The hands were nearly paralyzed from the bolt, but they somehow recovered quickly as they circled around the platform, gathering dark energy around their fists.

Luffy ran towards the center as the Hands were now covered with darkness, and clenched themselves into fists, as they flew in towards Luffy from opposite sides. "GOMU GOMU NO…" Luffy quickly leaned back, and lifted his legs from the ground as the hands were about to crush him, "JET GATLING!" Luffy unleashed a rapid barrage of high-speed punches onto the hands, creating countless of air bursts in the process. The constant flurry of punches slowed down the hands until Luffy's brute strength halted them completely. The Hands couldn't take anymore hits as they were eventually knocked away high up in the air, allowing for Luffy to stop as he fell on his back while panting heavily afterwards.

Unfortunately, even Luffy's efforts weren't enough to stop the hands, as they quickly recovered, and engulfed themselves with darkness again. They spin around the platform to gain some momentum, as the Strawhats regrouped around their captain, who reverted back to normal to conserve his energy for later.

"Grr! Let's hit them hard!" Luffy yelled before hitting his palm with an angered look. Luffy's crew looked ready, as the hands charged at them from both sides like before, while the faces that were still around also went at them as well. Despite being surrounded, the Strawhats attacked simultaneously, with Luffy stretching his arm forward; Zoro swiping his blades across each other; Nami swinging her staff she retrieved earlier; Usopp firing a pellet; Sanji thrusting his leg to the side; Chopper thrusting both hooves forward in his Arm point; Robin sprouting several arms from the ground in front of her; and Franky launching his right arm forward, "$667,000,050 BERRI JACKPOT!"

Upon attacking simultaneously, the spiritual force of the Strawhats' attacks combined with eachother, thus creating an invisible force that obliterated all the faces on the platform, and blew the Hands away with great force, as they were blown through the dome of faces circling around the platform.

"We did it…" Nami panted heavily as she, and the others were exhausted from unleashing such a deadly attack together. But they didn't care, as they got rid of the hands long enough for them to catch their breath.

"I didn't wanted to attack them, but we had no choice…" Sanji panted.

"As soon as we beat Dimentio, the sooner we can save them!" Luffy said determinedly.

Soon after the hands were gone, the dome of faces, including the purple mist, disappeared too, as the Strawhats could see their surroundings now, but they immediately saw something weird.

"Um… why do I see clouds over there?" Usopp asked, noticing some clouds around Arsenal Gear. It was then the Strawhats were suddenly floating from the platform they were on.

"Wh-What's happening! Why are we floating!" Chopper asked.

But it's not that they were floating at all, as they appeared to be falling. The Strawhats quickly realized this when they and Arsenal Gear were falling towards the clouds.

"We're not floating, we're falling! Brace yourselves!" Nami yelled.

The Strawhats fell fast, with Arsenal falling faster as the Strawhats could see that Arsenal Gear was completely top to bottom except for the platform on the top center. Fire spewed out from the Arsenal's face, including the gear's openings as it fell through the clouds, with the Strawhats following shortly afterwards. The Strawhats closed their eyes while going through, as once they did, they opened their eyes to see what lied before them.

The Strawhats gasped, as they could see the entire landscape below was engulfed with dark flames, including the ocean surface below. The flames made the land look like it was moving in a wavy pattern, as the Strawhats couldn't withstand the sight of this.

"Dimentio! Come on out! Stop pulling these stupid tricks on us right now!" Luffy yelled fiercely.

Obscumentio then appeared in the sky, with Master and Crazy Hand being his 'hands' again, as he laughed at Luffy's dire request.

"You're so silly, Luffy-san." Obscumentio said, "As if you actually believe this scenario is fake. Look around! This, and the other 'tragedies' you have seen so far were not even a scrape of my intentions for my permanent era. Just hold your criticism for a while longer, and continue to suck in all the magic my show has to offer!"

"Damn you! Ahhhhh!" Luffy yelled as he and his crew were about to fall in the sea of flames below, as Arsenal already fell in, and disappeared into the flames. Obscumentio watched on with a pleasant look, as the Obscurum core turned purple, and darkened atmosphere again, saving the Strawhats from certain doom once more as they suddenly land gently on the dark floor.

Without questioning how that happened, the Strawhats tried to pull themselves together, but all the images they have seen so far throughout this struggle were to hard for them to forget. They were exhausted; both physically and mentally. They even now find it surprising that they made it this far, showing how much frustration they are in.

It's obvious that the Strawhats can't take much more of this, as the Obscurum core turned blue, and white cracks appeared all over the dark atmosphere. The darkness shattered like glass, and the shards disappeared into thin air, as the Strawhats were now in space, and appeared to be on something.

"Eh! We're in space!" Usopp gasped as seeing that he was in outer space, he took a deep breath to conserve oxygen.

"This is just an illusion. None of this is real…" Robin said, but she still looked concerned. The Strawhats got up, and saw that there were red ships shooting laser beams at their direction. The beams weren't aimed for them, but the grey and blue ships around them shooting back, as the Strawhats appeared to be on one of the big ships, watching this war between ships take place.

Franky turns around, and saw a familiar blue planet that the grey and blue ships are defending. "No way… this is the Lylat System!" Franky yelled as he glared back at Obscumentio, floating up high in space where the ships, nor the Strawhats could reach him, "You bastard! What the hell is with all these ships shooting each other!"

"Why, this system is well-known for war, Franky-san. It's tragic, I know, but it's what the creatures of this system know what to do best… including the rest of every spec of life out there." Obscumentio explained before extending out his hands, "But that trend will be the thing of the past. As soon as my era begins, war will no longer be needed. Heck, by the time I'm done spreading my joy to everyone, they will feel so dead inside to even care about such stupid things! Get it? Dead? Ha ha ha ha! Come, and catch me!"

"Wait!" Luffy yelled as Obscumentio flew in, and disappeared into the shooting range. Luffy, and the others couldn't chase after him from where they stood, as the ship, and the ships around it began to close in on the red ships at their own pace. "We have to get over to him!"

"It's way too dangerous to get into that crossfire!" Zoro exclaimed while looking at the insane shooting gallery below, "We can only wait until he gets out of there."

"I'm not going to wait here, and let that maniac mess this place up!" Franky yelled as he walked over towards the front ledge while opening his left wrist, "There is no way that guy could avoid those lasers! I'm going to fish him out no matter what! WEAPONS LEFT!"

Franky fired multiple blasts onto the multiple lasers being shot back and forth by the ships, hoping Obscumentio would eventually pop up. And as Franky fired a few more shots, Obscumentio appeared again, only he appeared by going through the ship the Strawhat crew were on, and teared it apart before flying by.

"Ahhhhh!" The Strawhats were knocked away from their ship as it exploded shortly afterwards. The crew were knocked in several directions in space, as Luffy, Nami, and Robin landed on what appeared to be a space cruiser with some platforms on the back, while the others landed on separate ships around them.

Luffy looked around, until he saw Obscumentio backswimming above the ships shooting each other. "There he is! I'll get him!" Luffy yelled as he jumped off the ship.

"Luffy, wait! It's dangerous!" Nami yelled, as Luffy headed down towards Obscumentio.

"GEAR THIRD! HONE FUUSEN!" Luffy bits, and blew air into his thumb that inflated his right arm. He transferred the air from his right arm into his left, as it was now the size of a giant's arm. Obscumentio opened his eyes with a smile, as he saw Luffy heading straight towards him, "GIGANTO PISTOL!" Luffy thrusts his huge fist at Obscumentio, who simply teleports away as Luffy punched the top of a ship instead, leaving a huge dent on it, and knocked it a little off course afterwards. Luffy looked around as he fell, as Obscumentio then warped over him.

"You know, I'm a little worried about you, to be honest." Obscumentio said while rubbing his chin in concern, "I can't shake the feeling how you will react once you lose. It must be because I have never seen you given up anything before."

"Grr!" Luffy growled as he transferred the air from his arm into his right leg, "GIGANTO WHIP!" Luffy turned around, and swung his gigantic leg at Obscumentio, who halted it just by grabbing it with one hand.

"Seriously, I'm not kidding this time." Obscumentio continued, "Being fearless is one thing, but there is such a thing as a limit. Look at you; you're already at the brink of defeat. Submit your loss so I may see your look of despair, before the hype ruins it for me."

"GIGANTO…" Luffy transferred the air in his right leg into his left leg as he thrusts his giant leg forward, "STAMP!" Luffy kicks Obscumentio straight in the chest, but the jester countered by thrusting his dark palm at Luffy from afar, hitting the captain hard as he was blown into one of the big red ships at the other side of fake ship battle.

"Luffy!" Sanji cried as he, Zoro, and Usopp were running along the top of the big ship they were on. Zoro and Sanji made a long leap towards another ship, and landed on it as they were going after Obscumentio, leaving Usopp behind.

"Oi, you guys! Be careful! We're in the middle of a battlefield, for crying out loud!" Usopp yelled at Zoro and Sanji, who were moving even faster, as they landed on a ship that was the closest to Obscumentio, even though the jester was still kinda far away from it.

"DIABLE JAMBE!" Sanji spins on his right foot, engulfing it with flames again, as Sanji then did a handstand, and spins around with his legs extended, creating a small tornado of flames in the process.

"Alright!" Zoro said confidently as he held his swords over his shoulders while he stood a little distant from Sanji, "ZorSan ANTI-POUNDOU FLAMBAGE HOU!" Zoro swung his swords in a circular motion, creating a cutting wave that spiralled through Sanji's flames, engulfing itself with flames in the process, as the flaming wave struck Obscumentio's through his chest.

"Uuughhh!" Obscumentio gasped in pain, before he smiled, and teleported away.

"What! Where did he go!" Zoro asked while Sanji stopped spinning, and stood back on his feet.

Usopp saw this too, and looked at his surroundings to see where Obscumentio disappeared to, "He couldn't have gone that far!" He said sternly, as suddenly, his feet were getting hot. "Ow!" Usopp took several steps back, as Obscumentio suddenly appeared in front of him, melting through the ship's top structure, as Obscumentio's wounds healed before he raised his left hand to the side. "Ahh!" Usopp desperately searched into his bag, and took out his impact dial. Obscumentio smirked as he swung his fist at Usopp, who absorbed the blow with his impact dial. Unfortunately, not even the impact can absorb the whole blow, and Usopp cried as he was knocked off his feet, and soured over several ships before crashing into Zoro and Sanji.

"Agh!" Zoro and Sanji cried as they got knocked off from the ship they were on too, and even though they seem to be in space, they fell towards the crossfire below.

"CIEN FLEUR!" From afar, Robin sprouted a chord of arms from the back of the cruise ship she and Nami were on, as the chord of arms grew longer, until they wrapped themselves around Zoro, Usopp, and Sanji, and slowly pulled them over onto the cruise ship while it was still moving.

Meanwhile, Luffy sat up from the red ship he crashed into earlier, and reverted back to normal after going into his chibi form due to his aftereffects of Gear Third. He stood over the front ledge, and saw most of his crew on the cruise ship. He then sets his eyes on Obscumentio, who pulled himself up from the ship he attacked Usopp earlier, "Oi, I'm still alive, and I still want to kick your ass!"

Obscumentio laughed when he heard that, "If you say so…" Obscumentio chuckled as he flew up, and floated in front of a blue and grey mothership, and actually stopped from moving just by pushing it back with one palm. Luffy blinked in confusion, as Obscumentio the grabbed the bow of the mothership with two hands, and lifted over his shoulder, "Remember when I said that being fearless is limited? This is one of the reasons why!" Obscumentio then threw the entire mothership directly where Luffy stood.

"Tsk! GEAR SECOND!" Luffy turned back into his Gear Second form, and charged towards the incoming ship. While the ship was flipping from the throw, Luffy landed on the top of the ship on it's second flip, and ran as fast as he could before the ship could flip over to it's back. The ship's back was now facing upward as Luffy jumps up high from it, and ran down the back of the ship as soon as it was facing upward. Obscumentio was just in front of him, as Luffy screamed before taking a leap towards him, right before the spinning Mother ship exploded into red ship Luffy was on earlier, "JET GATLING!" Luffy unleashed a barrage of high speed fists at Obscumentio, who didn't bother to avoid as he took all the hits into his chest.

"Ah ha ha ha ha!" Obscumentio flew at Luffy while rapidly getting hit by him, and formed a dark energy sphere, as he lowered it to hit Luffy with it.

"Gaaghh!" Luffy soured pretty far, until he backflips onto one of the red ships that were closer into the battleships' crossfire. Luffy looked up, and now saw Obscumentio, skipping merrily from ship to ship behind. Luffy chased after him by jumping off the ship he was on, and went after Obscumentio, jumping from the walls of every ship between him.

Obscumentio then appeared floating Luffy's direction, causing the captain to move even faster, "Luffy-san, our show must come to an end sooner or later, and I do believe it's time to close the curtains of this masterpiece." Obscumentio said.

"JET GATLING!" Luffy ignored the jester, and attacked him with a barrage of high speed fists again while flying towards him.

"You don't seem to get it." Obscumentio said as a dark barrier with spikes automatically formed in front of him, which not only blocked Luffy's punches, but it also released multiple dark beams from it's spikes upon getting hit.

"Ugghhh!" Luffy got hit by one of the beams from across his ribs, which were then engulfed by darkness afterwards. Luffy fell in pain as the beams also destroyed some red ships in the front, and all of the blue and grey ships on the other side of the spacial battlefield, as they too were engulfed with darkness from top to bottom, and dissolved into nothingness sooner afterwards.

Obscumentio's barrier then disappeared as well, as he smiled pleasantly while looking at Luffy while he fell, "You can never stop me… I'm your superior now…"

Nami and Robin were watching the battle from the cruise ship, as Robin's arms finally pulled Zoro, Usopp, and Sanji onto the ship before Robin casted the arms away. The three sat as they tried catching their breath, while Nami looked very concern.

"I hate to admit it… but we're not getting anywhere doing this." Nami said. While she got quiet, Chopper and Franky emerged from the ledge, and panted heavily as they slowly got on the ship.

"Oh, thank goodness.. are you two alright!" Robin asked.

"No!" Franky replied, "When that maniac fired at the ships, we barely had enough time to grab onto this ship from below to escape!" Franky patted as he then looked where most of the ships used to be before Obscumentio destroyed them, "There has to be a way to beat him! Everytime we attack him, he keeps recovering. We need a trump card if we want to beat him."

"Ow!" Usopp suddenly cried as he dropped his impact dial near Nami's feet.

"Ergh.. are you okay, Usopp?" Chopper asked before getting up.

"I'm fine." Usopp panted before blowing on his hand, "I think the impact dial absorbed a lot more than it could take. It's really just by touching it."

That's when Nami's eyes widened, as she thought up an idea. Everyone noticed her expression as Nami then looked at them, "This is not the time to be laying around! This ship is heading where Luffy just went! Don't just stand there, let's help him!"

While the cruise ship was heading in the midst of the red ships left intact, Luffy was still falling, with dark energy slowly swallowing him up. Luffy then gritted his teeth, as he placed his hand over his wound fiercely, fighting over the pain as the darkness on him then disappeared from the force implied on the wound.

"Oh? Still not giving up?" Obscumentio said, noticing that Luffy just recovered from above.

"GrrrrrrrrrRRRRAAGHH!" Luffy stretched his right arm over the bottom part of the ship to his right. He grabbed onto the bottom corner, and sprung himself over to the ship. He held onto the corner as he swunged himself over towards the top of the ship, where he reverted back to normal as he ran across the top structure, and leaped towards Obscumentio, "GEAR THIRD!" Luffy inflated his arm, and raised it above his back to attack with full force.

"Luffy!" Nami yelled from afar as the cruise ship was flying towards the scene, where the crew were standing on the top platforms, where Usopp was holding to his Kabuto slingshot with two hands, while everyone else was pulling back the elastic band to it's limit, "Alright, you guys! Let go!"

"Yosha!" Usopp yelled as everyone lets go of the band, shooting the impact dial directly between Luffy and Obscumentio.

"Oh?" Obscumentio just watched as it took Luffy a few seconds to realize his crew fired the Impact Dial for him to use.

"Oh, I see it!" Luffy exclaimed, "Yosh! Here it goes! GIGANTO IMPACT!" Luffy threw in his giant fist forward, as he caught the impact dial from it's behind with his knuckles, and pushed it forward with his fist as hard as he could.

BOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO
OOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO
OOOOOOOOOOOMMMMMMM

"AUUUUUUUUGAAAAAAAAAA GGHHHHHHHHHH!"

Luffy punched Obscumentio directly in the face with the impact dial, which released an incredible wave of pressure that completely Obscumentio's face, including his entire body. And it wasn't just the jester that received the damage, but the ships flying side by side as gigantic holes appeared through the sides from the force of Luffy's punch and the impact dial, causing them explode massively shortly afterwards.

The cruise ship flew over the scene as Usopp puts on his goggles, and saw that Obscumentio received countless of fatal wounds from head to toe, causing Usopp to feel super happy.

"He did it! Luffy defeated Dimentio! He did it for sure, this time!" Usopp exclaimed in joy. Robin sprouted another chord of arms, and pulled Luffy back onto the ship before he turned chibi. The crew gathered around him to see if he was alright, as Zoro then looked over at Obscumentio with a stern look. He could see Obscumentio's body just standing there in place after the carnage he went through. Zoro's eyes perked, as Obscumentio's hands twitched just a bit. Zoro's eyes widened in shock as he turned back towards his crew.

"He's still alive!" Zoro exclaimed, shocking everyone as they went to see for themselves.

"Ngh.." While still in his chibi form, Luffy went to check out Obscumentio, as the jester was laughing rather normally than usual.

"Ha.. ha.. ha.. ha…" Obscumentio laughed slowly and weakly, as he slowly sets his gaze on the Strawhats, "Do you think something so weak can kill me? I'm afraid you're wrong, my friends… ha ha.."

Usopp fell on his rear in shock, as he couldn't believe what he was seeing, "… Nothing is working.." He said with a horrified look, "We've been giving it our all since the start… and yet he still lives… I don't understand how could this be happening…"

"Let me be frank with you guys." Obscumentio continued as he then gave off a devilish look, "Since the start of our friendly quarrel, I have been doing nothing, but toying with you all this time." The Strawhats were surprised hearing this, "That's right; I was just playing with you; I played at the level where you guys can barely handle against, and you all did well to last up to this point. Now.. I wish to raise my level up just a bit higher. I want you to see more of what I can truly do."

"Stop it, Dimentio!" Robin yelled, "You have done far enough to us already! Do you think you can force us to give up after you've been taking it easy on us!"

"Robin's right! Who cares if you were messing around with us; we can still beat you!" Sanji yelled.

"We're going to turn that smile upside-down after we're done with you!" Franky exclaimed.

"Yeah… that's right!" Usopp exclaimed while getting back up, "We're the Strawhat pirates! We're the guys that can do anything, and nobody can stop us from doing so, no matter how powerful they happen to be!"

The Strawhats looked very confident now; despite all odds, they still believe they can win. But Obscumentio laughed as he thought they were just bluffing.

"I believe that will change, starting after this moment. " Obscumentio replied, as dark sphere of energy formed around his body, "Mortals have always desired the power to control everything from out of their reach… but not once has anybody thought of destroying it all for the better!"

"Look out, everyone!" Luffy yelled as he and his crew took cover for what Obscumentio was about to do.

The jester's sphere glowed in a dark manner, and beated like a heart as Obscumentio then opened his eyes, and raised his right hand,

"STRAGES REBIRTH!" Then with a snap of his fingers, the dark sphere expanded to great lengths, destroying everything in sight, and engulfing everything with dark energy.

BOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO
OOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO
OOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO
OOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO
OOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO
OOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO
OOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO
OOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO
OOOOOOOOOOOOMMMMMMM MMMMMMMMMMMMM!

The dark energy destroyed everything in the Lylat System; nothing was left. It wasn't just there either, but parallel universes as well. But that wasn't even the majority as every world, dimension, and universe were consumed by the darkness, never to be seen again. With just one raise of power, the entire reality of Egasm has been destroyed.

… And the Obscurum core turned purple. With everything already darkened, the core turned blue again, only instead of white cracks appearing everywhere, the core sucked in the darkness into itself as it disappeared.

The illusionary stage was finally gone as everyone was back on the massive platform inside Obscurum, where it was still floating in front of the planet's core.

Obscumentio, who just completely recovered, gently landed on the ground, and looked at the Strawhat pirates, who were still alive, but who knows for how much longer. They were all knocked out; the power of the fake destruction of Obscumentio's illusionary universe didn't harm them, but it was still so massive that they've lost consciousness from the pressure. None of them moved a muscle; they handled more than enough images Obscumentio had to share, and it didn't appear likely for them to be getting up anytime soon.

Obscumentio walked over towards Luffy, who laying on the ground in front of his crew, as the jester knelt down to him, and sighed.

"… Didn't I tell you it was hopeless?" Obscumentio asked softly, "Of course, I did. Was it necessary for me to show you such destruction? No, but I had to show you the truth." Obscumentio then lowered his head closely above Luffy, and whispered, "… Did you actually believe you can beat death? Of course not… there is nothing in existence that can defeat death. I AM DEATH!" He yelled before he calmed down, "… I've always thought that you were admirable, Luffy-san. The way you think, and the things you do may be baffling at times, yet very inspiring in the end. You always knew what to do to get away with the things you've always wanted to do… until today. You and your crew have done a formidable job standing up against an Emperor god, but in the end, death proved to be the victor over your fists, despite that they can still hit harder than what you've thrown at me thus far, but that would still mean nothing to me."

Obscumentio then looked up the dark element energy around the atmosphere, "To tell the truth, I still consider you all as my friends. I know we have our differences, but I believe that's the reason why I like you all so much. People never lasted more than ten seconds after they confront me, but you nice people have made it possible for me to make me grow fond of you for this long. That's why I'm finding it hard to kill you, for you see, the more pain you feel, the more destruction your friends will encounter in their homelands."

From the screens that are allowing people from other worlds to view the Strawhat's struggle against Obscumentio, you could see terrible storms, and such wreaking havoc into their lands. Everything was so catastrophic, that nobody was watching the struggle anymore.

"Don't you see that they're suffering?" Obscumentio asked, looking at the screens, "They had so much hope for you to save them, but sadly, hope never lasts as long as they hope for. Your deaths are the only things that can put an end to this. Allow your deaths to be the key to end this tragedy, and allow me to take all their sorrows, and replace them with joy forever."

Luffy and his crew remained motionless, and everything that Obscumentio said seemed to be left unheard. Obscumentio shook his head, as he got up, and faced his back at the crew, "This was fun while it lasted. I'm sorry to say that my show has to come to it's dramatic close. Everything life has to offer will be mine for eternity. The deaths of all mankind will continue to make me stronger, making it impossible for anyone to stand up against me ever again. My dream will finally come true… my, have I waited for such a long time for this day to come. However… what's the point of dreaming, if I can't share it with anybody close to me?"

Obscumentio then glanced over his shoulder, and looked at Luffy, who was still unconscious, "If you wake up… would you please reconsider of being a part of my liege? I would be most grateful if you do, and I will forgive every single thing you have done against me. There is nothing I treasure most right now, then to have my closest friends joining me under my rule as Emperor God. If you're awake… please accept my friendship once again."

Luffy and the crew were still motionless, as their eyes were shadowed by the light of core, finding it hard to tell that they are pretending to be unconscious or not. It didn't matter, as Obscumentio faced towards the core with a gentle smile.

"Alas… I grow tired of this." Obscumentio said as he then walked towards the core's direction, "My children are waiting for me. I can't keep them waiting; they need me. They're nothing without my guidance. They are nothing without my existence." Obscumentio stopped walking as he raised his hands before the Obscurum core, "Today… will forever be marked as the last historic event for life's sake… today, my era will begin, and it will be the start of a glorious and neverending future!"

SLAM!

Obscumentio's eyes widened as he heard something behind him. He slowly glanced over his shoulder, and saw Luffy, already standing up on his hands and knees after slamming his fist on the ground, as a colorful aura was emitting throughout his body for that brief moment.

"One… more… time… !" He growled. His colorful aura emitted every once and a while as Luffy forcefully stood up on his feet, and gave Obscumentio a devastating glare, "Just one more go… and I'll be done with you… !"

Luffy's crew also stood up weakly, but managed to get up at their own pace. They all looked serious, as Zoro stood up with the help of his swords maintaining his balance; Usopp, with the help of his slingshot; and Nami with her PCT. Sanji got up with his hands with his pockets, while Chopper and Robin got up while putting their arms against some of their wounds, and lastly, Franky got up while fixing his hair, and readjusting his sunglasses.

Luffy's colorful aura then faded away, as Luffy then slammed his fist into his palm, "COME ON! WE'RE STILL ALIVE! WE'RE GOING TO BEAT YOU, AND END THIS THING TODAY! LIKE I'VE TOLD YOU MANY TIMES BEFORE; WE'RE GOING TO KICK YOUR ASS!"

Obscumentio was silent, and stared at the Strawhat's with a stoic glare. However, this just made the jester happy, as he turned towards them with a smile on his face. "Then shall we resume to the final act?"

The Strawhat Pirates and Obscumentio glared at eachother, as this final bout will determine the outcome of life itself.

FINAL BATTLE End

… Okay… I'm really tired. First, let me answer some questions.

And Mystery Guy, I talked to game2002 about us working a story together. Yeah.. we have nothing in mind, so no, we won't be working on anything together. Sorry.

Alright… I know that I said that I wanted to finish this story on the 27th, but it seemed like faith had other plans. Ugh, I blame myself for being so lazy, but I will try to end this story this month hopefully. But none of that matters right now, for the last chapter of the final arc has come.

Everything I worked so hard for has finally come to this. I really hope you enjoy this chapter, because I sure enjoyed my time working on it. So, here it is! The conclusion of the final arc is just few paragraphs away! ENJOY THIS AT YOUR HEART'S CONTENT!

An undefeatable darkness. With them being the final hope for salvation, the Strawhat pirates were determined to defeat Obscumentio at all costs. They endured every attack that went at them, including Obscumentio's illusions of the worlds they have visited, which the jester used to destroy in order to severely damage the crew's mental stability. Any other living being would already be dead if they were to face a being this powerful, but not the Strawhats; they've faced countless of life threatening situations before, and this battle of survival is no different to them as they keep pushing over their limits in order to defeat the evil jester. But in the end… Obscumentio proved to be too much for the crew to even handle together, and are at the point of losing everything worth fighting for.

However… the ray of hope was still shining so strongly. The Strawhats got up once again, having just enough strength left that they believe they can still win. Everything has now come to this. The Strawhats and Obscumentio;… This final round will conclude either one of these two opposite forces. One of them will end everything in one final act.

Chapter 136: Dark hell 3, The one to end it all!

Obscumentio took a step forward, raised his hands gracefully, and looked up at the inner surface of darkness that Obscurum's core has gather, as it appeared to look much thicker and farther away than before.

"At long last, after a magnificent start, following with a brilliant flow of drama, thrills, and excitement, the best show of all time has finally reached it's climax!" Obscumentio praised, "Everything we worked so hard for to impress our beloved audience has finally reached the final act! In this final act, everything will be brief, but spectacular; it will be dramatic, yet treasured; it will only happen once, but it will be unforgettable! This, my friends, is where everything comes into place for my dream to be fulfilled at last! There is no reality out there that can ruin my spectacle! I'm like a child getting my first lollipop! This moment is THAT IMPORTANT TO ME!"

Obscumentio lets out a pleasant sigh, and waved his hand gently towards the crew, "And now, to treasure this act even more, my dear friends wish to make the final act even better by performing with me some more! How wondrous and exceptional for them to spend more of their time, doing things that make me happy…"

Obscumentio paused as he looked at the Strawhats, who were in no condition to fight much longer. The Strawhats went through such carnage and destruction, yet inspite of all that, they feel ready to go at it again against the jester. However, the way things are now, this may be their last chance of survival.

"Hm hm hm hm hm hmm.." Obscumentio snickered as he placed his right hand over his temples, trying to contain his laughter, "Hm hm hm hm hm hm hm hm… huh heh heh heh heh heh heh…" Obscumentio then placed his right hand over his mouth, and his left hand over his stomach to try and stop laughing, but it didn't help at all, "Hee hee hee hee hee hee! Ha ha ha ha ha ha ha ha ha ha ha ha! Ah ha ha ha ha ha ha ha ha ha ha ha ha! AH HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA! AHH HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA! AH HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA!"

The Strawhats merely watched in silence, as Obscumentio was laughing hysterically at them. The jester laughed some more as his laughter was echoing throughout the interior of Obscurum's dark elemental energy. It was terrifying, to say the least.

Obscumentio was then able to calm down, as he wiped some tears from his eyes from all that laughter, "Ha… this was fun." Obscumentio said in a relaxed tone, "I want to thank you all for helping me have such a great time. I'm probably going to miss the time when I wanted to control everything that was in sight. Don't get me wrong; I'm still bewildered by my own power, but the only downside I can think of being an Emperor God, is that I might never again experience this wonderful moment. Oh well.. it's not like it really matters anymore… I have the rest of eternity to make things go my way, so there is nothing to be sad about."

The Strawhats were still silent, as they seem to be getting weaker just by standing. It's no surprise, since they have been fighting for so long.

"Now…" Obscumentio continued, "I can see that you all still want to have a bigger role for this final act. However, I can tell that none of you have enough motivation for it for anything bigger than what I have planned for you. I'm afraid that you might pass out in the middle of the act, and I hate to see the show to get ruined at the last minute. I'm sorry, but you're going to have to settle with one of the two roles I have in store for you."

Obscumentio then raised one finger each from both hands, and wagged the right one, "You can play the role as the forgiven ones. Your hearts will be filled with regret from the actions you have committed against me, and you will do anything to beg for my forgiveness. I eventually accept it, and I take your hands, and allow you all to join me for an eternity of joy and pleasure, ending the show with!"

Obscumentio stopped wagging his right finger, and wagged his left finger, "Or… you can play the role of the trigger. You continue your efforts to defeat me, and no matter how much you struggle, you all end up dying filled with sheer pain and agony. Your deaths will bring everything in the cosmos under my grasp, and the scene will end, where you all will become Aternecos, roaming around this dark field in sorrow forever. A gothic ending, I must say, but it will be remarkable nonetheless." The jester then smiled gracefully at the Strawhats, "So, tell me, which role do you all want? I don't care which one you pick; both endings will still end with a bang. Ha ha… choose wisely…"

The Strawhats have not said a word. Obscumentio couldn't see their expressions well, but he waited patiently for their answer. It was then, that Zoro was the first to speak.

"Yaaaaaaaaawwwwnnnn…" Zoro yawned before rubbing the back of his neck, "I've never felt so sleepy for this long before. I could really use a nap."

Obscumentio blinked in confusion as he then noticed everyone else was acting the same way.

"Heh.. I still feel pretty energetic, if I do say so myself." Usopp said with a confident smirk, "Why, I have enough energy to take down a rhino with my bare hands."

"Whoa, really! That's amazing, Usopp!" Chopper exclaimed happily.

Obscumentio thought they were playing a trick on him, or that they were ignoring him the whole time. Either way, this wasn't making the jester happy.

"Damn… I'm running out of cola here." Franky said, seeing that the cola he has stocked up is running out, "I have to make good use of what I've got left."

"Nami-san. Robin-chan. Are you two feeling okay?" Sanji asked Nami and Robin without looking at them, "Do you need to get some rest? I'll be happy to keep an eye out for trouble while you rest comfortably."

"No way." Nami replied with a smirk. "I may look like I'm tired, but I'm just getting warmed up, that's all. Besides, there is nothing to be afraid of here. There is nothing, but stupid darkness talk, right, Robin?"

"Mm hm." Robin nodded pleasantly, "I can't say this place is healthy for us. Let's say we go back home after we're done here."

"What are you doing?" Obscumentio asked with an unpleasant look, "Whatever it is you're trying to pull, I am not liking this new game of yours. I have done so many things to your bodies and mind, and yet, somehow, I can still see those cocky expressions of yours. You shouldn't even be concerned for your own welfare, and you shouldn't be treating me like those weaklings you have faced before. You haven't even expressed a simple sign of defeat; that's the first step towards death, but not even that you could show me! I know you're at the brink of death, so why are you holding your true emotions back! That's pathetic, and you're inflicting more pain to yourselves!" Obscumentio then smirked, "You want to commit suicide… I can respect that. Go ahead, you won't be going that far anyway. Ah ha ha ha!

"Don't you get it yet?" Luffy asked as he cracked his knuckles, and stared at Obscumentio with a plain look, "We were waiting for you to shut up, so we can check how we all are. Then we can go back in kicking your ass, and we can finally destroy this place good. You know, for a powerful god, you sure are pretty stupid if you can't even realize something as simple as that."

Obscumentio perked his eyes, disturbed of Luffy's words. The jester blinked sadly, and lowered his hands around his sides, "You still refuse to accept fate… I cannot express how extremely disappointed I am at you." Obscumentio then took a step back, and glared at the Strawhats, who glared back, "You've seen a portion of what I can do, and that was clearly too much for you. All of your attacks were nothing but scratches to me, and they were simply healed afterwards. You've seen that I can destroy an entire reality, and I could honestly say, that it couldn't have been any more easier. It should already be clear to you that you can never beat me!"

"We understand that." Luffy replied, "We can never beat you like the way we are now. But that's why… we get so much stronger just by hearing you say it's impossible, and seeing how much stronger you can be! At this rate, we'll get to a point that we're so powerful, that we CAN beat you, and stop this world for good! That's why we're still alive! That's why we know we're going to beat you!

Tension grew between the two opposite forces. Obscumentio was truly astonished by this whole act of bravery. Even he didn't know that the Strawhats would last this long. The jester looked unpleasant, but he was simply uncomfortable at best to see still having their wills to fight on.

"… Ah ha. Do forgive me." Obscumentio said, feeling happy again after rather suddenly, "It seems that my sheer power has overclouded my sights of others. I've always thought until now that I can make anything I want happen as minimal possible. But that would be too easy for some, wouldn't it? I have nearly forgotten that you all have the tendency to keep fighting, even if you were to die in the process. After all, it's all or nothing when it comes to a mere group of pirates… isn't it? Hm hm hm hm hm hm!" Obscumentio placed his right fingers over his forehead in sheer amusement, "Yes! This final act is even more exciting than I could ever imagine!"

A loud, and thrilling sound echoed around the inner Obscurum. The Strawhats looked over Obscumentio, and saw the planet's core was glowing a little brighter than before. It made all of the dark energy the core has gathered to expand, and contract briefly, reproducing the same sound over and over again.

"The planet's acting weird again…" Zoro said sternly upon observation.

"What a strange occurrence this is… it's as if Obscurum is about to change." Robin said.

Obscumentio opened his eyes, and the sounds were becoming less frequent. The jester giggled, and addressed at the crew, "Oh, pardon me." He said gracefully, "It's just that I am so anxious to start, that I couldn't contain my enthusiasm." He then placed his hand over his chest, and the Strawhats looked at him, and the core that was still glowing brightly, "You felt it, correct? My heart was beating with excitement. It's that feeling that even made this beautiful world to express my feelings. This world is a part of me; this planet's core made the energy of the dead beat like my heart did just now. This world has done so much for us all, that I can't express my gratitude of it's existence. This world is indeed… perfect!"

"That's a lie!" Luffy yelled fiercely, as his shout echoed throughout inner Obscurum, "This world is ruining everyone's lives! This is the only world that should be destroyed!"

"Ah ha ha ha ha ha!" Obscumentio laughed, and pointed at Luffy "Your anger is overflowing your thoughts! You don't even know what you're saying! This world is going change everything for a real future! Luffy-san, there is no other world out there that can change for the better except for Obscurum! Think about it; this world will make everyone united! There will be no more quarrels! No more wars; everyone will finally accept each other, and be happy!"

"So what! If everyone were to be the same, life would be absolutely boring!" Luffy replied with clenched fists, "Life is not just about trying to be happy forever; it's about how you want to live with it! Life gives you dreams, dreams that are going to be very hard to turn real! Many things will always come in the way, but dammit, it will feel great to get them out of your path! If you don't succeed, then it doesn't matter; you've tried, and that's all that counts! But if you do.. then in the end… when that dream has come true… that's when you can be happy."

Luffy then cracked his knuckles while gritting his teeth in anger, "What you're trying to do is to destroy the dreams of everyone! You're going to take their lives away, just so you could be happy! I'm not going to take that, you idiot!" Luffy then slammed his fists together, making a dull sound, "Dreams are important to everyone, and you're one of those things that are in the way of making them come true! We're going to kick your ass so that dreams can stay alive!"

The crew prepared themselves to attack Obscumentio once more, while the jester himself merely scoffed at them, "So what you're saying is that everyone deserves to live for their dreams, even though they will end up destroying one another? Hmph! What rubbish! Only a few may live by their dreams, while others must be punished for their interference! I am the greatest of those few, and I intend to flourish those who share my desires, while I will force change on those who don't. I will make everyone happy! That's my dream, and I won't even allow my friends to take that desire away!"

"And we won't let you take everyone else's dreams away neither!" Luffy replied with a fierce wave of his arm, "Life belongs to everyone! Dreams belong to everyone! Your in the way of our dreams! We will not die here, because we have to go to one more world, and fulfill our dreams there! Are you listening to me! WE'RE GOING TO BEAT YOU!"

There was a long pause after Luffy's fierce statement. Luffy and his crew never felt more ready to defeat Obscumentio than they are now. Obscurum's energy beats a little more frequently, as Obscumentio emitted a deadly dark aura around his body. The jester was more than ready to finish this once and for all.

"Ah ha ha ha ha! This has become quite a start for the final act! Now let us end our show, like my dream turning everything else into a nightmare! AHH HAAAAA!" Obscumentio then lunged at the crew, resuming the fight for one last time.

"KEMURI BOSHI!" Usopp took several smoke pellets from his bag, and dropped them on the floor. The pellets exploded into a big smokescreen, engulfing the crew as Obscumentio slammed his fist down at the ground where the Strawhats were standing on, but he only hit the ground, as the crew has already split up in the smoke.

"You can't think this will stop me from finding you!" Obscumentio laughed as he looked around for the crew. He then noticed a silhouette running across a thin part of the smokescreen, "There you are!" Obscumentio went towards the silhouette, but he only dispersed a mirage of Luffy. "Oh?"

"Now!" Zoro, Sanji, Chopper, and Franky took this chance, and charged at Obscumentio from behind. They leaped simultaneously, and strucked their strongest blows onto the back of Obscumentio's knees.

"Ahh!" Obscumentio fell forward knees first, as Luffy then lunged from the smokescreen, and flew towards Obscumentio while pumping up his arms.

"GOMU GOMU NO CANNON!" Luffy thrusts his charged arms forward, directly hitting Obscumentio in the face. The jester gasped in pain as the force of the blow knocked him off his feet, and was flung out of the smokescreen area, and have fallen into a field filled with thunder clouds.

Nami made these clouds from out of the smokescreen after she separated from the crew, as she saw Obscumentio fly into her field, "THUNDERCLOUD TEMPO!" Nami threw several thunder balls from her staff, and into the thunder clouds above Obscumentio.

"Oops! I was careless there for a second! Ha ha ha!" Obscumentio laughed before he tumbled across the ground. The thunder clouds then shot lightning bolts down on him, but the jester quickly recovered from his tumble, and did multiple cartwheels at an incredible pace, avoiding the lightning bolts as they were being shot on the ground behind him.

"Damn!" Nami cursed as her thunder clouds weren't hitting Obscumentio due to his amazing speed.

The jester then made a leap back, jumping out of the clouds' range, as he landed on one knee and foot while skidding back in the process. Obscumentio raised his head, and grinned at the Strawhats, as he then leaped up high in the air, and unleashed several dark, crescent waves with replicas of his face in the front from the swift swipes of his legs.

"Split up!" Luffy yelled as he, Zoro, Sanji, Chopper, and Franky ran ran in seperate directions to avoid the smiling waves, as they made impact on the ground, and released several vertical waves one by one afterwards, which was not only dangerous, but it also cleared most of the smokescreen from the platform. Obscumentio laughs, until he notices more smokescreens were covering up the ground again.

"It's useless! I can still feel where you are!" Obscumentio laughed.

"HISSATSU KAYAKUBOSHI!"

Suddenly, hundreds of explosive pellets were being shot from the smokescreen from nearly every direction Obscumentio was facing towards. "Ooooh?" The jester blinked as all the pellets than exploded on him, creating a massive sized dust cloud afterwards.

The dust cloud remained in the air for a brief moment, as Obscumentio then flew out with great speed, dispersing the cloud in the process, "I know you're there, Usopp-kun!" Obscumentio yelled while flying towards the center of the giant smokescreen. "No need to hide from me; I already found you!" Obscumentio then landed on the ground with his fist, creating a powerful dark wave that blew away the entire smokescreen. He thought he have crushed Usopp under his fist, but he only ended up hitting another mirage again. Yet, Obscumentio was still smiling for some reason.

"CIEN FLEUR!" Then from afar, Robin sprouted multiple arms together in one place as they sprouted up diagonally into a big line of arms, and pierced through Obscumentio's chest. The arms from the front end then bended away from eachother, making all of the arms look like a giant fishing hook, "HOOK!"

"Ugh!" Obscumentio gasped in pain as the blood from his chest streamed down across Robin's sprouted arms. It seemed like he couldn't get away, as Franky was charging right at him.

"FRANK KENTAROUS!" Franky leaped into the air, as the front half of his legs vertically seperated forward, getting into his centaur mode. Franky then clamped his legs around Obscumentio's face, as he then charged up his arms with a blue light, "FRANKY BARRAGE! Franky unleashed a flurry of fists directly at Obscumentio's face at point-blank range.

Franky unleashing all his fury on Obscumentio, but inspite of all that, the jester smiled while getting hurt. "What the!" Franky's legs then suddenly sucked into Obscumentio's face as the jester's entire body was turning into a purple blob. "Guah!" Franky was sucked into Obscumentio's blob-like figure, with his hand sticking out before it was completely sucked in.

"Franky!" Chopper cried as he, and the others went to go save Franky from the purple blob.

The blob also sucked in Robin's sprouted arms around it, causing Robin to feel daze, and weak. "Eh.." Robin collapsed on her knees, as she could barely stay conscious.

"Robin! Dammit, let's get rid of this thing!" Luffy yelled as he charged at the blob, "GOMU GOMU NO GATLING GUN!" Luffy unleashed a flurry of stretched fists at the blob, but he wasn't doing anything to it. Luffy then realized that the blob was trying to suck his hands in, so Luffy stopped instantly, and backed away from it. "That was close!"

Zoro attempted to slash the blob apart, while Chopper tried slamming it away with his hooves, but the blob kept expanding, forcing the two to step away. "Nothing's working! We need to think of something fast!" Zoro yelled.

"Stand back! I'll take care of this!" Sanji yelled as he charged at the blob head on, "DIABLE JAMBE!" Sanji skidded forward on his right foot, and spins rapidly to cover it with a coat of heat. Sanji then stopped spinning, and attacked, "MUTTON SHOT!" Sanji swung his blazing leg horizontally, as the flames halted the blob from moving any further, "Gotcha!" Sanji then leaped in the air, and did several front flips before bringing his blazing foot onto the blob, "CONCASSE!"

Sanji brought his blazing leg down on the blob, creating several heat waves that blazed through the blob's figure. The blob was covered in flames, as it squirmed back while melting, dropping Franky, and Robin's sprouted arms behind. Robin quickly regained focus, and dismissed the arms before they could get caught by the flames, while Franky was covered with purple slime while trying to get up.

"Yuck! That clown is really getting on my nerves!" Franky yelled furiously while wiping the slime off himself. Some of the crew went to help him as Obscumentio was slowly turning to his original self. As Obscumentio did, the flames Sanji left on him were transferred to his hands.

"Here you go!" Obscumentio then thrusted hish hands forward, shooting a dark blast of flames towards Luffy, and the others.

Zoro rushed in as he sheathed his swords, "RASHOMON!" Zoro slashed through the giant blast with full force using two swords, splitting the blast into two pieces as they both were flew into different directions.

"Too good of a performance!" Obscumentio commented, as with a wag of finger, the two halves of the blast flew around in a circle, and floated above the jester's palms, "Now how will you fair against this!" Obscumentio slammed the dark flames into the ground, and raised his hands quickly as the flames combined to form a giant wall of dark flames that headed towards Zoro. Zoro was vulnerable from the slash he did, but fortunately for him, Chopper came to his rescue as the reindeer turned into his arm point, and confronted the wall.

"KOKUTEI ROSEO!" Chopper thrusted his hoove from his side, recieving some recoil damage from hitting the flames, but he managed to disperse the wall apart enough to save Zoro from getting burned.

"Yosh! My turn!" Luffy yelled as he ran past Chopper, and headed towards Obscumentio. The jester smiled as transperant replicas of himself flew out of his body, and surrounded Luffy in a circle, "Geh!" Obscumentio, and his replicas then spinned around Luffy, and unleashed a flurry of fists at him. Luffy was nearly caught by this onslaught, as he jumped high to avoid the fists, but Obscumentio, and his replicas stopped, and threw their right fists at Luffy while he was still in midair, "Whoa!" Luffy placed his feet on one of the incoming fists, and jumped off it with haste, avoiding all the fists as they all hit eachother.

"GOMU GOMU NO AME!" Luffy faced down towards the hands, and unleashed a flurry of rapid fists at them, hitting them hard enough so they could separate from each other. "GOMU GOMU NO HANABI!" Luffy twisted his body around as he fell in between the fists, and untwisted his body there, hitting all the fists again as they were knocked back.

"Ha ha ha!" Obscumentio's replicas flew in back into Obscumentio, as the jester then made a huge leap in the air, and flew down towards Luffy with a downward stomp.

"SHURIKEN RYUSEI-GUN!" From afar, Usopp shot multiple strings of shurikens at Obscumentio, as some of the shurikens left several cuts on the jester's body, but Obscumentio recovered from those small cuts shortly afterwards.

"Hmph!" While still falling, Obscumentio then placed his attention on Usopp, as the jester then thrusts his foot at his direction, and fired a dark beam from the bottom of his foot.

Usopp gasped, and ran far away from the beam, but the beam hits the ground behind him, and released a dark spherical explosion, knocking Usopp off his feet, as he then tumbled forward across the ground, "Ugghhh!"

"Usopp!" Luffy cried as he furiously glared at Obscumentio, and faced his legs at him, "GOMU GOMU NO YARI!" Luffy stretched his legs, and kicked Obscumentio right up across his chin.

"Ah ha ha!" Obscumentio giggled upon getting hit, as he flipped back in midair, and warped in front of Luffy. Luffy didn't had to react to this, as Obscumentio then brought down his fist at Luffy, hitting him hard as Luffy crashed, and bounced off the floor.

"Agh!" Luffy cried, but did several backflips upon the rebound, and skidded backwards on his feet. Obscumentio landed on the ground as well, and opened his eyes with a smile, to see several dark thunder clouds surrounding him. Around him as well, was Nami, and her four mirage figures, with their staff's charged up with electricity.

"I've got you now! THUNDER LANCE TEMPO!" Nami, and her mirages raised their staffs, as the electricity from the fake and real dark clouds were then shot towards the staff, and Obscumentio was going to get shocked as he was in the way. The jester already know which one was the real lightning bolt, but he dodged all of them anyway by ducking, and leaning on his left knee, with his right leg stretched out to the side, and his hands spreads out. "He dodged it again?"

"Ha ha ha! Is there more you wish to show me, Nami-san?" Obscumentio asked.

"CIEN FLEUR!" Then suddenly, multiple row of arms sprouted from beneath Obscumentio, "THORN GARDEN!" The arms sprouted into a form of thorn bush, as they all impaled through Obscumentio's body, legs, and neck.

"Gugghhhughh!" Obscumentio coughed up some blood, and sets his gaze on Robin, who glared at him, as he was only smiling back, "Ah ha.. you're so cruel…"

"I'll be even crueler until you're no longer a threat." Robin replied bitterly.

"Ha ha!" Obscumentio laughed as he then broke free in the most painful way by spinning his body rapidly to knock away the arms before they disappeared.

"Aghh!" Robin cried in pain from the damage her arms received as she fell on her back.

"Robin!" Nami dismissed her mirages, and went to check up on Robin, as Obscumentio kept spinning while moving around the platform. Dark streams of energy were circling around Obscumentio's body as he spins, and was heading towards the girls.

"Stop it!" Chopper yelled, as he galloped towards Obscumentio in his horn point, "ROSEO KEIKAN!" Chopper forcefully slammed his antlers at Obscumentio's ankles, and pushed the jester back with his antlers, trying to stop him from spinning. Chopper applied all his strength into his antlers, as the force of Obscumentio's spin was making the floor crack beneath Chopper's hands in hooves. "Slow down!"

In result of his efforts, Chopper was finally slowing Obscumentio down, but only by a bit, as it seems that Chopper can't hold his position much longer. "I can't… hold on…"

"I'm coming, Chopper! Hold him a little longer!" Sanji yelled as he dashed at Obscumentio, before making a huge leap towards the jester's upper body. Sanji spins his body horizontally, and extended his leg out as he kicked Obscumentio across the face with his blazing foot, "JOUE SHOOT!"

This made Obscumentio spin even slower, as he then spinned away from the girls, before he finally stopped spinning, and tried to regain his footing afterwards.

"HINOTORI BOSHI!" After recovering for a bit, Usopp fired a flaming phoenix at Obscumentio from afar. The phoenix flew across the floor, until it blazed into Obscumentio's chest. Obscumentio was speechless as he staggered back while the flames were burning his body.

"ASURA!" Zoro stood in front of Obscumentio while he was distracted by the pain, as Zoro then turned into his Asura form, "ICHIBUGIN!" Zoro slashed through Obscumentio's body with all nine swords simultaneously, leaving huge cuts all over the jester as the slashes were powerful enough to wipe off the flames off him as well. Obscumentio remained speechless as he bled from nearly every part of his body. As he staggered forward, his arms emitted a powerful dark aura, and went flying around the area, trying to hit the crew with full force as the left one tried to slam Zoro from the side, but the swordsman swung all his swords at the hand to knock off course, but still got injured anyway, "Grr!"

"Yaah!" Usopp ducked as the right hand flew over him, nearly hitting him the process. Everyone was defending themselves from the hands as Luffy, Zoro, and Sanji grouped together, and ignored the hands as they went for Obscumentio while he seemed distracted.

The hands saw what they were up to, as they flew over the trio, and got in their way. The hands then rocketed towards them, as Zoro and Sanji fought back.

"MAKYUUSEN!"

"FLAMBAGE SHOT!"

Zoro leaped, and spins his swords around in circle, slashing at the right hand repeatedly, while Sanji kicks the left hand pretty hard with his blazing foot. Both of the hands were flung away from each other, clearing the path for Luffy, as he took in a deep breath, and twisted his body around while running forward in the process. He then released the air behind him, as he propels towards Obscumentio with a fierce look.

"GOMU GOMU NO STORM!" Luffy unleashed a constant barrage of powerful punches, hitting Obscumentio at every front part of his body. Obscumentio was defenseless; he was getting punched around like a rag doll. Obscumentio received more injuries than ever, as Luffy stopped with the punches as he flew even closer to the jester. "And.. CANNON!" Luffy thrusts his palms at Obscumentio's chest with all his might, knocking Obscumentio back farther than his barrage of punches did, as the jester skidded a long way back on his feet while leaning forward.

He stopped skidding as he managed to retain his footing after that beating, as Luffy landed on the floor, and gasped along with his crew to see Obscumentio smiling again, as his injuries recovered instantly.

"Nice try!" Obscumentio said as his hands floated back around him, and waved his right hand to create a dark hurricane that grew more powerful by the second.

"Gyergh! Aaaahhh!" Luffy, and his entire crew were sucked into the hurricane, as it spins them around and around, until the upper half of the hurricane bended down until the top end was facing on the ground. Obscumentio then heard thuds from within that end of the hurricane, which made him smile out of pleasure, as he waved his left hand, dismissing the hurricane as he could see all the members of the Strawhat pirates, who were slammed into the ground thanks to the hurricane's current.

The crew lied on the ground as if they were dead, as Obscumentio laughed at them, "Ah ha ha ha ha ha ha ha! We're back on square one, it seems! Oh my, you must have thought you got me there! Ho ho ho! If the things you have done to me before haven't finished me off, it will certaintly be no different in that pitiful attempt! What's even more hilarious is that I was playing with your level again! Saying that just makes this situation twice as funny as before! Ah ha ha ha ha ha! If this is how you fight for your dreams, then you're certaintly a lazy bunch! Ah ha ha ha ha ha ha ha!"

The Strawhats remained motionless on the floor, but they appeared to be still conscious, as Luffy gazed up in the air with a furious look.

"My name is Dimentio, the charming magician, at your service."

"Woah, you are a magician? Can you do a magic trick?"

Luffy gritted his teeth, and sat up, while his crew were getting up as well, "One more time!" He yelled, "We're not going to give up this easily!"

Obscumentio smiled at Luffy, "Be my guest; the final act is still far from over." Obscumentio said as he spreads out his hands, and floated in the air, "Come, I'll let you make the next move."

The Strawhats took some time to regain their focus, and charged at Obscumentio once again. When all of a sudden, a violent tremor shook the entire platform, knocking the Strawhats off balance.

"It's an earthquake! Hold on!" Sanji yelled as he, and the others were acting careful on their surroundings.

Sections of the entire platform were slanting in different directions, making the once plain field a nearly impossible area to walk on. Obscumentio was safe as he floated higher in the air, while the Strawhats were sliding down from the ground they were on, and fell on a part of the platform that was still horizontal. "It's too dangerous to stay here! We have to keep moving!" Zoro yelled.

The Strawhats ran across some of sections that were still slanting, as two sections ended up slamming into eachother from behind the crew.

"There has to be an easier to get through this place!" Sanji yelled while running.

"DOSCIENTOS FLEUR; FLOOR!" Robin sprouted countless of arms from the slanted floors, to form a horizontal ground of arms, which was not only walkable, but also prevented the floors they sprouted from to slant any further, "Urgh.. I don't know how long I can hold this!"

"This is good enough for one hit! Let's go, bros!" Franky yelled as he, and the others jumped on the floor of arms where it was safe. Franky ran ahead, as Zoro and Sanji ran towards a slanted floor ahead that was completely from the ground.

Zoro lung at it, and headed towards the top, "DAIBUTSU GIRI!" Zoro performed multiple horizontal slashes at the big chunk of the slanted floor as he fell, leaving it in several pieces as Sanji leaped over Zoro, and flew at them.

"JENGA HOU!" Sanji kicked each of the pieces cut by Zoro one by one, as they flew towards Obscumentio's direction. Franky was way ahead in the slanted field, as he took a deep breath, and looked up towards the flying chunks of the floor flying over him.

"FRESH HELL!" Franky breathed out an immense, blue flame that engulfed the chunks, making them look like blue meteorites as three of them hits Obscumentio head on.

"Ah ha ha ha!" Obscumentio laughed as he thrusted his palm, and knocked the other blue meteorites back at the Strawhats.

"ROKUREN MAMUSHIBOSHI!" Usopp fired several rows of pellets that moved in a snake like pattern, as they all destroyed the meteorites with several explosions, leaving a field of dust clouds afterwards.

Obscumentio smiled, but then looked surprised, as Luffy appeared flying out of the dust clouds, holding a massive boulder with two arms. "Take this!" When he got close, Luffy swung, and smashed the boulder directly into Obscumentio's face, with the boulder crumbling into pieces in the process.

"Ouch!" Obscumentio said lightly, before he slapped Luffy into the ground, where he tumbled backwards before he stopped on Robin's floor of arms. Obscumentio's wounds healed, as he the jester formed several gravity orbs around the field, which obviously messed up the gravity as the entire floor began to float up around the air.

"Whoaa!" The Strawhats floated up in the air as well, as they went to get a hold of their footing by grabbing onto the floor of arms Robin still has holding some of the platform's pieces together. While the Strawhats tried to retain in the gravity fields, Obscumentio fired a gravity between them.

"Look out!" Luffy yelled as he, and the others were then blown away from eachother thanks to the gravity of the orb as Robin's floor of arms disappeared also.

"Yahh!" Nami and Chopper gently landed on a big piece of the platform that was closer to Obscumentio, as Nami frowned before she raised her staff, "COOL CHARGE!" Nami swung her staff diagonally, cooling the area around her and Chopper, as she then started spinning the front of her staff like a fan, blowing some of the cool air towards some of the other floating platform pieces in her direction. "ICY FLOOR TEMPO!"

Nami thrusts her staff into the land she was on, releasing a colder wave that froze the cold air she blew in front of her, into a slide made of ice. The slide was formed between several platform pieces, and reached towards where Obscumentio was. "Chopper, do us a favor, and get him!"

"Yeah!" Chopper replied as he then turned into his guard point, and began rolling along the slide, and rolled faster by the second. As he rolled, the ice track was covering Chopper's fur with ice, making him look like a big ice ball as Chopper then flew towards Obscumentio from the track, "SPIKE BALL!" Chopper's fur formed several spikes around him, and with the ice on him, Chopper looked like giant ice ball with spikes as he spins down at Obscumentio. The jester wasn't intimidated, as he simply backslapped Chopper away, despite that some spikes impaled through his hand in the process. "Waah!" Chopper flew across the field, destroying some of the floating platform pieces, and headed towards some of his comrades.

"Watch it!" With no choice in hand, Sanji kicked Chopper away with his blazing foot, melting the ice on him as Chopper reverted back to his brain point, where Robin sprouted a net of arms to catch him afterwards. "Chopper! You okay!"

"Uh-huh…" Chopper panted in a exhausted manner. The arms brought Chopper back to Robin, as a giant dark orb suddenly formed over the entire crew.

"Not again!" Franky yelled as the giant dark orb pulled in the entire Strawhat crew up towards it, along with the platform pieces following behind them. Obscumentio then teleports above them, and laughed as he dropped some square blocks of dark energy at the crew.

"HYAKU-HACHI POUNDOU HOU!" Zoro swung his swords in a circular motion, creating a cutting wave that spiraled towards the blocks. The wave hits them, and slowed them down greatly, as the gravity field around them pulled the crew in, allowing them to walk on them without falling off.

The Strawhats were still in danger, as the platform pieces were about to crash right into them. "GEAR THIRD!" Luffy bit the joint of his thumb, and blow a massive amount of air into it, inflating his arm to a size of a giant's, as he then raised his giant arm, and hits the pile of the platform pieces apart with just one punch. As soon as he did, Obscumentio fired a some small projectiles that made the square blocks the Strawhats were on to explode, knocking them out of the air, as they all fell to the platform below. "Aaaahhh!"

"No, not just yet!" Obscumentio snapped his fingers, turning the floating platform pieces into dark water.

The water went through the crew, and filled up the floating platform with water as the Strawhats fell into the pool one by one. Nami, and the others emerged from the water, as Nami turned around with a worried look.

"Luffy! Chopper! Robin!" Nami exclaimed as she looked around for those three, but couldn't see them anywhere, "They can't swim! We need to save them!"

"I'll find them!" Franky yelled as he dived into the dark water, and swims as quickly as he could to find his friends. While he did that, Obscumentio warped over the water surface, and placed his hand in the water.

"Hey, you bastard! You must know that Luffy, Chopper, and Robin-chwan can't swim! I'll never forgive you for this!" Sanji yelled as he swims quickly towards Obscumentio.

"Ah ha ha ha ha! That kind of suspense is what makes the final act interesting!" Obscumentio replied as he raised his hand from the water, creating a big wave that took the Strawhats that were in the water, and knocking them deep into the water.

All the Strawhats were now underwater, and it was draining the life out of them. Sanji quickly recovered, and grabbed Nami to help her escape. Zoro, and Usopp swims up quickly on their owned, as Franky was then seen carrying Luffy, Chopper, and Robin by his shoulders, and was rocketing pass them all from the massive air release from his rear.

"Baaaahh!" Franky gasped for air as he, Luffy, Chopper, and Robin were completely out of the water thanks to his rear blast. Up in the air, Obscumentio waited for them as the jester leaned towards them when they flew in close. "Ugh! Get out of our way! WEAPONS LEFT!"

Franky fired multiple blasts from his wrist, but Obscumentio leaned sideways to avoid all of them. "Ha ha!" Obscumentio then countered by swinging his leg sideways.

"CINCUENTA FLEUR!" Multiple arms then sprouted from Obscumentio's attacking ankle, and caught Franky, and the others, and tossed them up high so they could avoid the kick. Robin has already regained consciousness, including Luffy and Chopper, as the other Strawhats emerged from the water, and looked what was going on.

"There they are! Get them guys!" Usopp yelled while shaking his fist in the air.

"GOMU GOMU NO WHIP!" Luffy fell as he stretched his leg, and kicked Obscumentio across the face. Chopper, Robin, and Franky fell with him, as Franky tossed Chopper above Obscumentio's head.

"KOKUTEI CROSS!" Chopper turned into his arm point, and thrusts his hooves through Obscumentio's head, knocking the jester down to the deadly dark water.

"Eh.." Obscumentio halted himself in midair inches away from the water, and touched it, causing everyone in the water to be knocked up in the air, before the water turned back into the platform.

"Agh!" The Strawhats fell hard on the floor, as Luffy was about to get right back up again, but Obscumentio attacked him by lowering his fist at him.

"Whoa!" Luffy backflipped to avoid, as Obscumentio followed his attack with a lower leg sweep, but Luffy avoided again by doing a flipping over the jester's leg sideways. "GOMU GOMU NO STAMP!" While in the midpoint of his flip, Luffy stretched his leg towards Obscumentio's face, but the jester moved his head to the side to avoid. Obscumentio was about to counter, but Franky jumped in, and punched Obscumentio across his left cheek with his steel, knocking the jester's head closer to Luffy's stretched leg. Luffy used the same leg to wrap it around Obscumentio's leg, and stretched his arm to wrap it around one of Obscumentio's horns, as Luffy then pulled himself directly towards the jester's face, "GOMU GOMU NO ARROW!"

Luffy planted his right knee and fist directly in the center of Obscumentio's face, as Luffy's unwrapped his limbs from the jester before he was flung back. "Ah ha ha ha! That's still not enough!" Obscumentio laughed as he flipped back on his feet with his wounds already healed, and created a pair of dark claws around his fingers. "AH HA HA HA HA!" Obscumentio swung his claws across each other, creating dark and thin waves that headed towards the crew's direction.

Zoro got in front of his crew, and raised his swords over his head, "ZOU TSUNOBOE!" Zoro did a clockwise, and a counter-clockwise spin with his swords extended, creating an invisible force that destroyed the lower halves of the dark waves, but the upper waves flew over them, and sliced through one of the teeth-like mountains into pieces.

Obscumentio then teleported in front of Zoro, and swiped his claws at him, but Zoro parried using his blades as he and Obscumentio were clashing against each other for ten seconds, until Obscumentio managed to slash through the top of Zoro's shoulders.

"Ughhh!" Zoro staggered back as his shoulders bled, as Obscumentio then thrusted his left claw at Zoro to finish him off.

"TROISIEME HACHE!" Then suddenly, Sanji stepped in front of Zoro, and triple kicked Obscumentio's claw with his blazing foot nearly simultaneously, knocking it back over Obscumentio's side, but Obscumentio used his other claw to swipe at Sanji and Zoro horizontally, but the two ducked to avoid, and rolled over to the side, as Obscumentio then saw Franky's arms inflating with his tube between them.

"COUP DE VENT!" Franky fired a massive current of air directly into Obscumentio's body. Obscumentio bled from the mouth from the current, but remained in place as Obscumentio swiped his claws at Franky, but was stopped by Sanji, who kicked Obscumentio's claws off course with a strong swing of his blazing leg.

"CYCLONE TEMPO!" Nami then threw a part of her bended staff at Obscumentio, as the staff released a strong wind that struck into the jester's face, knocking him off balance.

Obscumentio seemed like he was hesitating as he quickly did several backflips to get some flips, but during the midpoint of his last flip, a tree of arms sprouted right behind him, "BIG TREE!" The arms bended, and swung their upper half at Obscumentio, but the jester smirked as he performed an air jumping, jumping over the tree of arms to avoid it entirely.

"YOTSU SUNE-KU BAKUHA!" From a great distance, Usopp fired several rows of explosives moving in snake-like patterns. Obscumentio floated in midair, and absorbed the pellets by opening a dark portal, where the pellets flew into afterwards. The portal closed, as Obscumentio raised his left hand, and fired dark energy orbs from his palm. The orbs formed together to form several dark snakes that flew towards the Strawhats in great speed. "Ahh!

"GEAR SECOND!" Luffy turned into his gear second form, and lunged towards the snakes while twisting his body, "JET HANABI!"

Luffy untwisted his body in a split second, punching in every direction in front of him with great force.

All the dark snakes were destroyed from the fists, as they disappeared into thin air. Luffy landed on the ground, and charged all the way towards Obscumentio with great speed.

"Now I would like for you to look under your hat." Dimentio said as Luffy was confused at first, until he took off his hat to see the card with Dimentio's face on it. Luffy's and Chopper's eyes popped out of their heads as soon as they saw that.

"Holy cow! How did that get here? Man, you are the greatest magician I have ever seen!" Luffy said excitedly.

"TWIN JET PISTOL!" Luffy slams his fists on the ground hard enough for him to go super high up in the air, and fly to where Obscumentio is, "JET WHIP!" Luffy swung his stretched leg at Obscumentio with great speed, but the jester lowered his head to avoid, and countered with several beam shots that came out of his fingers, "Gughh!" Luffy took in each shot, and was shot higher in the air while the dark beams covered him in dark energy for a brief moment, but Luffy quickly recovered as he took in a deep breath, and released the air behind him to fly back towards Obscumentio, "JET GATLING!" Luffy unleashed a barrage of rapid fists at Obscumentio, with his arms turning invisible in the process.

Obscumentio gracefully took some steps back, avoiding Luffy's fists with no fear as Luffy was instead hitting the ground, making the platform tremble a bit. While avoiding, Obscumentio gave Luffy a wink, which caught Luffy's attention as a replica of Obscumentio's face appeared right behind him.

"Uaaghh!" Luffy cried in pain as the face laughed while shooting several squared projectiles from it's mouth, and shot Luffy in the back over and over. The face disappeared as Luffy limplessly fell all the way towards the ground while covered in smoke from the projectiles.

"I got you, Luffy!" Chopper exclaimed as he was in his horn point, and leaped in the air to catch Luffy with his back. Chopper continued to gallop, as Luffy regained his focus, and held onto Chopper's back.

Zoro, Sanji, and Franky followed the two as Obscumentio then raised his finger, and shot long dark arrows at the crew. "Split up!" Zoro yelled as everyone charging at Obscumentio separated to avoid the arrows. But they couldn't get away from them completely, as the arrows were homing at them, and they wouldn't stop until they hit their target. "Get out of our way!" Zoro slashed a big arrow so he could keep on moving, but not until he received some recoil just by his blades touching the arrow. "Grr!"

Sanji was running faster than the others, so he had an easier time avoiding the arrows, while Franky was not so fast, and had to punch through some of them, only to get hurt anyway, "Agh! Dammit!"

While those three were slowed down by the arrows, Chopper ran faster than before, as Luffy grabbed his antlers from behind, and jumped off of Chopper while holding them as his arms stretched, "JET ROCKET!" Luffy sprung from Chopper's antlers, and soured towards Obscumentio.

"There's no need to rush. We can keep this act up as long as you want." Obscumentio said before he disappeared, and reappeared behind Luffy upside-down in midair. Luffy kept souring as he seemed like he was about to crash into the floor, but Luffy flipped upside-down, and grabbed Obscumentio by the horns before he could touch the ground. "Oh?"

"JET MISSILE!" Luffy sprunged directly towards Obscumentio, and tackled right into his face.

"Oooooohh!" The sheer force from Luffy's tackle made Obscumentio do multiple flips in an uncontrollable manner as Luffy flew passed them with an angry look. "Eeerrghh… ah ha ha!" But then, Obscumentio stopped himself with ease, as he got back on the ground on one knee, and thrusts his palm at the floor, creating a tornado around himself. Luffy, and the others close by got caught by it, and were being spins around at tremendous speed.

"Oh no! We need to save them!" Usopp yelled as he was with Nami and Robin, watching the tornado from a safe distance.

Nami bended her staff into a triangle, and gave it to Robin "Robin, spin this counter-clockwise as hard as you can! It's our only chance of stopping that thing!"

"Alright!" Robin said as she sprouted a chord of arms from her palm, and wrapped them around Nami's staff, "SLALOM VINE!" Robin unwrapped the arms from the staff, and released as the staff spins multiple times before reaching towards Obscumentio's tornado.

"Go! HURRICANE TEMPO!" Nami shouted, as her staff created a hurricane between itself, and the hurricane was spinning at the opposite direction of Obscumentio's tornado. Both of the winds hit each other, and cancelled each others force nearly simultaneously, as they then both disappeared, revealing Obscumentio standing in the ground afterwards.

"Hmm?" Obscumentio looked up to see Luffy, Zoro, Sanji, Chopper, and Franky falling down towards him. The five charged up their attacks, ready to unleash them at the jester below them.

"$541,000,000 BERRI CRUSH!" Luffy unleashed a constant barrage of rapid fists; Zoro goes into his asura form, and spins with his swords extended; Sanji spins with his blazing leg facing downward; Chopper turns into his Arm Point, and rapidly thrusted his hooves downward; and Franky released a Coup de Vent backwards to fall with a greater force. Obscumentio didn't bother to step away as all five of them crashed onto him on the same time.

"Whooaa!" Nami, Usopp, and Robin covered their eyes as once Luffy, and the others attacked Obscumentio simultaneously, a massive explosion of different kinds of energy erupted where Obscumentio stood, taking everything down in it's path.

But then all of a sudden, dark lightning bolts appeared from where the explosion took place, and out came Sanji, Chopper, and Franky, electrified from the dark electricity as they were blown all the way back to where Nami, Usopp, and Robin stood. "Gaaggghh!"

"Guys! Are you alright!" Usopp asked at the trio, but they were too hurt to reply. The dust of the explosion cleared as Usopp, and the others could see Zoro there on the ground. The Zoro was on his hands and knees in pain, as Luffy was facing towards Obscumentio, who had dark electricity coursing along his body.

"Don't you just love it when you're immune to a certain thing while your friends aren't?" Obscumentio said with glee, "It makes it easier for me to see the mental stress being expressed in your face! Ah ha ha ha ha!"

"You are really cool! Do you want to be a part of my crew?" Luffy asked.

Luffy gritted his teeth, and lunged at Obscumentio, "JET BAZOOKA!" Luffy thrusts his palms at Obscumentio, but the jester blocked with his hand, but he skidded backwards on his feet nonetheless.

"Be careful, now. You don't want your crew to get hurt, do you?" Obscumentio said with a smile as he slowly moved his hand close to Zoro.

"No! Get away from him!" Luffy yelled as he tried to save Zoro, but he wasn't fast enough to get to him in time. Zoro looked with an angry look as Obscumentio about to touch him, and electrify him.

"LIGHTNING ROD!" Nami retrieved her staff, as she sticked the bottom end of it on the ground, and charged the top end with electricity. Nami's staff then absorbed most of the electricity from Obscumentio's body, leaving only enough volts to shock a mouse. The top end of the staff was now covered with dark electricity, as Obscumentio looked at Nami afterwards

"Egh!" Zoro leaped out of the way to save himself, and rolled back to his feet, "TAKANAMI!" Zoro swung his sword, creating a strong gust that headed towards Obscumentio's face, but the jester blocked it with ease using only the back of his hand. Obscumentio then turned his body at Nami with a soft smile, "Very clever, Nami-san. However, I don't intend to run out of power at all." Obscumentio then raised his leg back, intending to kick the defenseless Nami, who quickly pulled her staff out of the ground, but didn't have the time to do anything else.

"Nami!" Luffy wrapped his arms around Nami, and ran away carrying before Obscumentio swung his leg forward, releasing three streams of darkness that coursed forwardly across the ground. Luffy ran faster then the streams as Nami dropped her with the others, and turned towards the dark streams, "JET AXE!"

Luffy stretched his leg up, and slammed it down hard on the floor, creating a force that dark streams stopped in front of him. But then, unexpectedly, Aternecos were coming of those streams.

"It's those creatures again from before!" Robin exclaimed.

"Aternecos…" Nami gasped, as Sanji, Chopper, and Franky got back up, and glared at them.

"So, what are we waiting for!" Franky asked while cracking his knuckles, "If we have to fight these guys, then let's kick their asses already!"

The Aternecos charged at the crew, who fought back fiercely as they were taking them out one by one. "Whoa!" An Aterneco with an axe for a hand attacked Usopp, who avoided quickly, but ended up falling on his chest, "Ouch.. huh!" Usopp then found his impact dial on the floor, and picked it up. He then turned around, and absorbed the Aterneco's axe with the impact dial. "Get out of my way!" Usopp needed some space as most Aternecos attacked him, but Usopp kept absorbing their attacks while he ran.

"Ah ha ha ha ha! Go! Attack your future kind all you want! You're going to end up like them shortly! Ah ha ha ha!" Obscumentio laughed while watching the Strawhats fight the Aternecos.

"HIRYU KAEN!" But from behind, Zoro slashed through Obscumentio's back before landing on the ground. Obscumentio was speechless as his cut bursts into flames afterwards.

"Ah ha ha ha ha ha! I'm afraid fire won't cut it!" Obscumentio said with a sneer. Zoro turned towards him, and gasped as Obscumentio's body was then covered with purple magma.

Back with the others, the Aternecos have been defeated, as Nami turned towards Obscumentio, and saw what was going on. "That's definitely not good!" Nami then looked at her staff, which still had the electricity that it absorbed earlier, "Sanji, follow me!"

"Yes, Nami-san!" Sanji replied as he and Nami went to aid Zoro, who made several cutting waves at Obscumentio's magma, but that only made it spread even faster.

"Dammit!" Zoro quickly sheathed his swords, and got into a drawing position, "SHISHI SONSON!" Zoro drew out one sword fiercely, delivering a devastating slash at the magma that most of it was blown in the air. Unfortunately, that was bad, as the magma then formed into a big wave that looked impossible to avoid. "Shit!"

"GLACIER TEMPO!" Nami then ran past Zoro, and slammed her staff on the ground, creating a glacier of ice that blocked the magma.

The glacier didn't last long as it was melting quickly by the magma's heat. Zoro and Nami stepped back as Sanji then ran past them, and lunged at the glacier, "ANTI-MANNER KICK COURSE!" Sanji delivered a powerful at the glacier from behind, causing the whole thing to tip over, and cover the magma beneath it. The glacier melted afterwards, but fortunately, the water from the glacier was enough to turn the lava into solid rock, and the magma around Obscumentio also turned solid as well.

"Useless!" Obscumentio laughed as he broke free from the rocks with a simple raise of his hands, scattering the rocks around himself as Zoro and Sanji knocked some of it away to prevent getting hit by them. "Show me more of your willpower!"

Obscumentio lunged at Zoro, Nami, and Sanji, who were about to fight back, until Obscumentio looked towards his right, and saw a massive-sized fist made of sprouted arms heading at his direction, "GRAN FLEUR!" Robin's massive sized arm punched Obscumentio directly at the left side of his body.

"Uuugghhh!" Obscumentio soured sideways, but recovered instantly by doing multiple cartwheels across the ground, and skidded sideways on his feet. "Ah ha ha!" Obscumentio raised his hand, and formed a dark energy sphere from the tip of his finger. He then fired the sphere at Robin's giant arm, as the sphere made replicas itself before they all exploded onto the giant arm's fist, not only making it disappear, but also harming Zoro, Nami, and Sanji who were still nearby.

"Ergh!" Robin panted excessively as she, and the others that were harmed are still able to fight on, but felt more exhausted than ever.

"Ah ha ha ha ha! It's only a matter of time before you can't fight anymore! Ah ha ha ha!" Obscumentio laughed.

"Ready, Luffy!" Usopp asked as he, Franky, and Chopper in his heavy point was pulling back at the big elastic band of the Kuwagata slingshot Franky set up just now.

"Yeah, I'm coming!" Luffy yelled as he reverted back to normal, and jumped towards the band before twisting his body around multiple times, until he took form of a ball, "BALL LUFFY!" Luffy landed in the front of center of the rubber band, ready to be launched at Obscumentio, "Okay! Don't miss, guys!"

"We won't! HISSATSU LUFFY CANNONBALL!" Usopp, Chopper, and Franky then released the band, as Luffy was shot towards Obscumentio at tremondous speed.

"Huh?" Obscumentio looked towards Luffy, but that was the only thing he could do, as Luffy slammed his ball-figure directly in the center of Obscumentio's stomach with such tremendous force, that several cracks appeared behind the jester. "Aaaaaagghhh!"

"Take that!" Luffy yelled as he reverted back to normal, and landed back on the ground as he watched Obscumentio stagger back. "What the!" Luffy gasped as Obscumentio suddenly barfed out a cloud of dark energy, which spreads throughout most of the platform, and caught all the Strawhats by surprise.

"Ugh! It's pitch black in here!" Nami gasped as Zoro and Sanji fiercely looked at their surroundings for anything suspicious. Zoro sensed something, and quickly ran towards his right.

"There he is!" Zoro exclaimed as he ran while getting ready to strike, "ONI GIRI!" Zoro cross-slashed through something that wasn't visible. Zoro turned around, and saw a copy of Obscumentio's face lit up, brightening up a part of the dark mist. "What's this!" Zoro asked as the face laughed before it released a spherical explosion.

"Did you hear that!" Franky asked while running around aimlessly in the dark mist.

"I don't know! I can't make anything out of this place! It's too dark!" Usopp replied.

"Ah ha ha ha ha ha!" Obscumentio's laughter echoed throughout the mist, startling the Strawhats, "Oh where, oh where, I might be, you may ask. Try as hard as you might, I'm sure you'll find me eventually."

Luffy gave a sharp eyeout at his dark surroundings, hearing nothing but Obscumentio's laughter. "There! GOMU GOMU NO STAMP!" Luffy stretched his leg in front of him, only to hit a copy of Obscumentio's face that brightened up the area. Luffy gritted his teeth in anger, until he then saw the real Obscumentio standing nearly next to the face that's about to blow up, "There you are! GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!" Luffy stretched his fist, and delivered a punch straight into Obscumentio's cheek.

Then the Obscumentio face exploded, not only releasing a spherical explosion, but making all the dark mist to float high up in the air.

Nami, Sanji, and Robin could be seen helping Zoro up after that explosion he took from before, while Usopp, Chopper, and Franky were relieved to see their surroundings again. The crew then saw Luffy, still having his arm stretched, and having his fist pushing up against Obscumentio's cheek.

"I see you all have escaped after all." Obscumentio giggled as a thunderous sound was made in the cloudy mist that was in the air, "Oh? I think it's going to rain."

The clouds then started to rain a dark substance, and once the crew felt the drops land on them repeatedly, their entire body were in sheer pain.

"Aaahhh! What is this! This stuff feels like acid!" Franky yelled. The others felt the same way, and they were getting even more weaker as seconds passed by.

"My objective, you say?" Dimentio asked, "Well I cant really say, but what I can say is that I like to help people that are in need of help.

Luffy then angrily looked at Dimentio. "You are more likely helping the bad guys to win!"

Luffy ignored the pain he was feeling, and pumped the flow of his blood to turn into his Gear Second form again, "Don't just stand there, guys! We need to beat this guy!"

The Strawhats did as Luffy as said, as they all charged at Obscumentio from multiple directions. Obscumentio sighed, as he raised his fingers at the crew to fire bullets at them, "CUATRO MANO!" Robin sprouted multiple arms from the hands, which formed together to create two pairs of bigger arms on each of Obscumentio's hands. The arms bended Obscumentio's fingers up, forcing them to shoot up in the air.

"SANREN HINOTORI BOSHI!" Usopp fired three flaming phoenixes from his slingshot simultaneously at Obscumentio, but the jester made a huge leap, spreads his legs apart as the phoenixes flew underneath, and exploded in flames in one of the tooth-shaped mountain far away behind him.

"EXTRA HACHE!" Sanji then made a fierce leap at Obscumentio while he was still in midair, and unleashed a barrage of flaming kicks directly in between of Obscumentio's legs. "I'll make you less of a man than you are now!"

"Oh ho ho! As if you actually had that kind of power to begin with!" Obscumentio giggled as he then created an invisible force that distorted the area around him for a brief moment, harming Sanji mentally as he was knocked back onto the floor.

"STRONG RIGHT!" Franky launched his right arm at Obscumentio from the right side, but Obscumentio reared his head back to avoid. Chopper got behind him, and lunged at him in his arm point.

"KOKUTEI DIAMOND!" Chopper thrusts his hoove fiercely at Obscumentio's head, but again, the jester avoid by leaning over to the side while landing on the ground on one foot. Obscumentio then saw Luffy running towards his face.

"JET BAZOOKA!" Luffy thrusts his palms directly in Obscumentio's face, but the jester countered by spinning his body around in circles with one leg extended, kicking everyone that was close to him. "Ughh!" Luffy, and his crew were knocked back a bit, as the dark rain was getting unbearable for them to ignore.

"Ah ha ha! You're only leading yourselves to your doom!" Obscumentio said before hopping back on his feet.

"INFINITO FLEUR!" Robin crossed her limbs, creating a field of petals that engulfed over the crew, and Obscumentio before disappearing, "AMARALYSIS!" Robin spreads out her arms, sprouting multiple arms in an instant in the diameter of where her petals extended. The appearance of the arms created an invisible force that blew away the drops of black water off the Strawhats, on the ground, and in the air, but it was only for a brief moment as the arms disappeared, and the rain was about to shower the crew again.

But from being clean from the water, the Strawhats manage to regain their focus, as Nami quickly bended her staff, and threw it towards the clouds like a boomerang, "TYPHOON TEMPO!"

The staff was absorbing all the water from the rain, and eventually the clouds got sucked in by the staff as well. The staff created a typhoon of black water, as it headed towards Obscumentio. "Oohh!" Obscumentio got hit by the typhoon, and was soaked from head to toe from the black water. The water had no affect on him, unfortunately, but it served as a good chance for the Strawhats to attack.

"JET RIFLE!" Luffy flew, and delivered a spinning fist directly in Obscumentio's face. Obscumentio was knocked off his feet, as Zoro ran under him, and got into his Asura form.

"ICHIBUGIN!" Zoro performed multiple swipes, and left hundred of cuts on Obscumentio's back, as the jester was about to hit the ground, but not until Sanji got to him from the left side.

"COLLIER SHOOT!" Sanji did a side kick, and planted his blazing foot against Obscumentio's face. The jester cried in agony as the kick sends him souring sideways across the platform. But the jester landed on his hands and feet, and countered with a leg sweep, creating a dark wave with a copy of his face in the front as the crew split up to avoid it as it flew by, and sliced several tooth-shaped mountains that were in other side of the platform. The upper halves fell off the platform, never to be seen again, as Usopp was amazed by all this.

"Damn, he's still too strong! It's a miracle that we're still alive!" Usopp said while wiping some sweat off his brow.

Franky then turned back, and smirked, "Then we'll just have to give a miracle of our own! Follow me, Longnose! I got a supaa idea!"

"Huh! Wait up!" Usopp exclaimed as he, and Franky ran off somewhere, while the others went to attack Obscumentio again.

"Ah ha ha ha! How's this!" Obscumentio asked as he sends off his hands to deal with the Strawhats. The hands speed walked at them using their fingers, creating short-ranged dark waves upon each step they took. They then went to flick at Luffy when he was close, but Luffy ducked as low as he could to avoid both of their attacks.

"TWIN JET STAMP!" Luffy flipped into a handstand, and stretched his legs to his sides, kicking both the hands with great force, that they were knocked off the ground. The hands recovered instantly, and attacked back at Luffy with their figures incased in fists.

"RASHOMON!"

"CONCASSE!"

Zoro draw-slashed through the right hand with two swords, while Sanji stomped his blazing heel on the knuckles of the left hand. At first, the hands acted as if they were injured, but then countered attacked, as the right hand turned around, and delivered a devastating back hand at Zoro. Zoro tumbled roughly across the ground sideways, until he lied on his back nearly unconscious.

"Zoro!" Sanji gasped, as the left hand also made a counter. "Whuh!" The left caught Sanji off guard by raising his fingers, and grabbed Sanji in between. The left hand then flew up high in the air, and piledrived Sanji's head into the ground hard enough to create a shockwave in the process, "Agh!"

"Sanji! Zoro!" Chopper cried while running, as he then saw the hands catching to him, and his comrades. "Damn you!" Chopper turned into Horn point, and galloped towards the hands while rapidly swinging his antlers, "ROSEO COLLONADE!" Chopper knocked away the hands, but they recovered as they countered with a double flick at Chopper from behind. "Whoa!" Chopper tumbled forward while automatically turning back into his brain point, and lied on his back in pain.

"No!" Robin sprouted multiple arms around the hands, and formed two big tree of arms, "DOUBLE BIG TREE!" The arms bended over, and whacked both the hands away with great force, knocking them up high in the air.

The hands recovered again, but they returned to Obscumentio, who then raised his hands to fire multiple dark beams in the air, and showered down towards Luffy, Nami, and Robin. "Grab onto me!" Luffy yelled as Nami and Robin held onto Luffy's back, as Luffy ran even faster to avoid the dark beams, which for some reason, weren't moving as fast as Luffy thought they would. Luffy finally got in front of Obscumentio, and leaped towards him with the girls on his back with a flying kick, "GOMU GOMU NO-"

"Time in!" Obscumentio snapped his fingers, causing Luffy to suddenly stop in midair. Luffy, Nami, and Robin appeared like they were frozen in time, as Obscumentio then moved his finger in a circular motion, reversing Luffy's steps as he, Nami, and Robin were sent way back to the area where the dark beams where about to hit. "Time out!"

Obscumentio snapped his left fingers, allowing Luffy and the others to move again as they looked up, and gasped at the dark beams that were going to hit them, "How did-!"

The beams exploded rapidly upon hitting the ground, hitting everything that was in their reach. Obscumentio observed quietly, and as soon the explosions have been cleared, he went to check up on Luffy and his crew. They were all nearly dead, which pleased the jester greatly.

"It seems to me that you're begging to pass on." Obscumentio said, "You should listen to your body for once, and surrender to your owner."

Luffy and the others didn't listen to him as they slowly tried to get back up on their feet, as Luffy was panting heavily while reverting back to normal. "One more time!" Luffy yelled again for the third time, still having hopes that he and his crew could win.

"Now that's really pathetic; you're getting weaker the more you fight, while I'm simply getting stronger. Nothing you can do will change that." Obscumentio stated.

"If that's true, why haven't you beaten us yet!" Luffy growled while raising his fist, "There's no point in dragging this fight if you can end it as fast as you can claim. I dare you to hit us with all you got, you poser!"

Obscumentio was not happy hearing that, "Ho.. you refuse to look at reality. You can't seem to accept the true light of things at all." Obscumentio's palms then glowed with a purple light, "Here! If it's light you need, then I'll give it to you! HAAAA!"

Obscumentio shot a swift beam of purple light across the ground, and towards the Strawhats. Everyone dodged towards the side, as the light left a trail of a dark energy, waving around like flames. The light ended at the other side of the platform, destroying the tooth-like mountains that were there.

"Tsk! That bastard is out of his mind!" Sanji growled bitterly as he and everyone were looking at the wall of dark energy. There, Obscumentio walked through with ease, and stared down at the crew with a sneerful smile.

"See? I'm too strong for you." Obscumentio said, "The only reason I kept you alive this long, is so that I can end this show with a perfect ending. Nothing you do to me happens by coincidence; I allow you to harm me as much as possible. That way, the show will not be biased, and everything will be balanced. Poor pirates; you can't seem to achieve anything in your own fashion at all."

"Now, now, let's not be violent. We are friends afterall." Dimentio said happily.

"We are not friends!" Luffy yelled, "I thought that you were a cool magician guy that only wanted to make good people happy. But now I know that you are nothing but a fat lie!"

Luffy glared silently at Obscumentio, who then raised his hand gracefully, "The curtain call draws near… if there is anything else you wish to do, do it quick. I cannot wait to end the show any longer, I'm afraid."

"We told you already that we won't give up." Luffy replied, "There's always a way to kick someones ass, and guess what! I already figured out your weakness a long time ago!"

Obscumentio eyes perked, as he then looked at Chopper, who panted as he had his hooves together, searching for Obscumentio's weakness. The jester smiled back, "Oh, really? Do you really know, or are you just saying that to annoy me? Either way, it doesn't make a difference. You can't hope to beat an Emperor God, even if you had god-like powers yourselves."

"We don't need that kind of strength!" Luffy replied confidently "As long as we're together, nobody can bring us down!"

Back at the Thousand Sunny, Franky was holding onto the steering wheel, "Alright, Longnose, get ready! We're taking that clown down with everything we got!"

Usopp was inside the Sunny's mane, preparing the cannon, "Okay, I'm good! Ready when you are!"

As they were preparing something, Luffy continued talking to Obscumentio, "I hope you keep feeling confident about yourself… because I'm going to destroy you with my fists!"

"Alright, it's charged up!" Franky yelled as the booster in the back of Sunny was fully charged up, "This is it! COUP DE BURST!"

The Thousand Sunny launched itself in the air, as it soured across the platform in the air. "Hmm? Oh." Obscumentio said in amusement, as he already saw the ship coming towards him.

"The Thousand Sunny!" Nami gasped after turning towards the ship.

"I see.. that's a good plan against this guy." Zoro said.

"Ah ha ha ha ha! Like I said, it's futile!" Obscumentio said as he drew back his fist, "I'll just destroy it and-!" Obscumentio then saw Luffy inflating his arm into a size of a giant's arm. "Funny, I didn't sense him inflating his arm.."

As Luffy charged at Obscumentio with his massive arm, Chopper finished scanning for Obscumentio's weaknesses, and was surprised of the results himself.

"Luffyyyy! It's up there! Dimentio's weakness is the core!"

Obscumentio's eyes widened as everyone looked at Obscurum's core in shock. Luffy gritted his teeth, as he raised his arm for the attack.

"I KNOOOWWW! GOMU GOMU NO GIGANTO PISTOL!" Luffy swung his massive arm at Obscumentio, and hits him square in the chest.

"Aaaaaaaaghhh!" Obscumentio skidded back, going through the wall of dark energy, destroying it in the process. The jester stopped himself, as he looked back up, and saw that the ship was about to crash into him.

"I got him on sights!" Usopp exclaimed. He then pulled the lever, as the bane opened it's mouth, and a big cannon sticked out while charging.

"Ooooooowwww! Take this, god! GAON CANNON!"

The Thousand Sunny released a massive energy beam from the front, and a burst from the back to prevent the ship from flying back. The beam was powerful as it hits through Obscumentio's entire body figure.

"AAAAGGGGHHH!"

Obscumentio was knocked off his feet as the beam shot all the way towards the back of the platform, crashing into some of tooth-like mountains behind them, and left several cracks on them in the process.

Luffy reverted back to normal from the affect of his gear third, as he then took some deep breaths before charging at Obscumentio once more. "GEAR SECOND!" Luffy went into his gear second form, allowing him to run even faster than before. "GEAR THIRD!" While in Gear second, Luffy inflated his arm, and made a long leap while transferring into his body.

Usopp got out of bane, and off the ship as he cheered Luffy on, "Gooo, Luffy! Beat him up!"

"GOMU GOMU NO JET SHELL!" Luffy landed on the ground, and made another huge leap with his round body, propelling towards Obscumentio like a speeding cannonball. Obscumentio raised his head up, and gave off a wide grin.

"AH HA HA HA HA!"

CRAAAAAAAAASSSSHHHH!

Luffy's head rammed into Obscumentio's chest, causing the jester to bleed immensely as the force of crash pushed Obscumentio harder up against the mountains, that they eventually tipped off the platform. Obscumentio limplessly fell with them, as Luffy jumped back on the platform, with his body reverting back to normal.

"Luffy!" Luffy's crew rushed towards his aid, and helped him up on his feet. Luffy panted for a while, until he gave the Obscurum core a sterned look.

"He's not done yet!" Luffy yelled furiously.

The crew's eyes widened, as Obscumentio then appeared before them from the area below. Obscumentio floated in front of the Strawhats, who were not afraid, as Obscumentio gave them a non-threatening stare.

"My… I'd never thought I'd ever grow tired of your persistence…" Obscumentio said as he slowly raised his hands, "But somehow, your presence alone just managed to annoy me. Congratulations, for that is the only thing you're going to get out of me!"

The dark layer around the core then started beating faster, and it sounded even scarier every time it beated. The Strawhats weren't intimidated by this, however, as they kept glaring at the dark emperor god. Obscumentio's joyful expression was slowly fading away, and in it's place, was a sadistic smile.

"I tried to take things easy for you! I tried to make things merciful, but you just keep pushing me away!" Obscumentio yelled, "We're friends! We're supposed to respect eachother's desires! You're supposed to like me the way I am, and I cannot be any more truthful! WHAT DO I HAVE TO DO TO GET YOU TO LIKE ME!"

"… It's over, Dimentio." Luffy said calmly, yet sternly, "Nothing good will ever come out of this place, even if you want it to." Luffy then gestured at his crew, saying he could stand for himself. Zoro and Sanji nodded as they allowed Luffy to walk forward, and stand at the edge of the platform. He glared at Obscumentio with a stern expression, "Get out of our way; we're ending this stupid world right now. We're going to smash that core of yours into dust."

"Fools!" Obscumentio laughed hysterically, "You cannot destroy the core! It may look close, but it's actually over 100,000 kilometers away! You'll never reach it!"

Luffy turned his back on Obscumentio, and walked passed his crew, "We're going to give whatever it takes to destroy this place. We may not be as strong as you, but we do know what to take things when necessary." Luffy then glanced over at Obscumentio over his shoulder, "You treat life like a joke, and that's why you will always be a fake god."

Obscumentio's eyes widened with hatred, feeling absolutely outraged for probably the first time ever. His eyes perked with hatred as another smile appeared on his face.

"A fake god, you say? Ha! I'm the only one capable of knowing how to make life advance to it's greatest stage. That's why this world choose me to control it's power! A couple of filthy pirates will never understand that!" Obscumentio's body emitted a dark aura, as the aura increased to incredible lengths, capable of engulfing the entire platform. The aura kept growing, as Obscumentio was still smiling in an insane matter.

"Listen, you. Be careful what you wish for!" Obscumentio growled, "I have gone easy for long enough for you, but it's time that I stop kidding around, and put this glorious show to an end. The only way I can this moment, is with something that nobody will forget. Oh… that's right! I'll use that! I'll combine every single thing I use to worship my life-long dream, into one whole being!" Obscumentio's palms then created dark orbs with purple electricity coursing around them, as his dark aura was making the entire planet shake to it's core.

"Geeeghh!" The Strawhats almost lost their balance as Luffy faced back towards Obscumentio, "What are you trying to do now?"

"I'm granting your wish! I won't hold back anymore! I will bring fear to you all!" Obscumentio exclaimed as he then placed his palms together, combining the orbs as this made his aura to widen and grow even more bigger, until it was big enough, that the aura was now as tall as the diameter of Obscurum. "OBSCU LETUM!"

The aura then slowly took form of a dark and demonic silhouette, surprising the Strawhats greatly. The dark being let out a screeching roar that echoed repeatedly within and without Obscurum, causing the Strawhats to cover their ears from the loudness. The dark being lowered it's head, and looked at the crew, smiling at them wickedly as they were the size of a microscopic cell to it.

"A.. a monster…" Chopper gasped.

"It's enormous…" Nami said in awe. The others were just as the same as amazed, but were also terrified by the creature as they couldn't help it, but to feel scared just by looking at it. Obscumentio smirked in delight upon seeing their expressions.

"Do you see it now? This is how much I care in accomplishing my life-long dream! No one can destroy the compassion for my dream! Nobody! Ah ha ha ha ha!" Obscumentio laughed.

"This is unreal.. can we really being something that unstoppable?" Usopp asked with a gulp. The crew looked at Luffy, who had a neutral look upon seeing the dark being.

"Yeah, it's just really big." Luffy said plainly, "We can crush that thing like a bug in no time."

"What did you say?" Obscumentio asked angrily as his dark being growled in anger.

"If that thing shows how much you feel for your dreams, than you're just making a fool of yourself!" Luffy yelled, "If we could create a creature with the love we have for our dreams, it would cover up everything in existence! You'll never scare us with that small desire of yours!"

Obscumentio had enough, as his dark being growled even louder, "Fine! I've had it with you! I tried to give you everything more than once, but you're just not worth it anymore! I'll kill you all, and start my rule as Emperor God!"

The dark being roared once more as the Strawhats retreat. Franky rushed in back to the steering wheel of the Thousand Sunny, as the man raised his sunglasses over his head.

"Ow! I've never felt this supaa before! It's time that I put this energy into good use! Longnose, get your butt up here; we're attacking him again!" Franky yelled as he rushed back to the storage area to refuel the Sunny.

"You ignorant mortals! As if I'd allow you to do what you want any further!" Obscumentio laughed as he then raised his hand, "Kill them!"

Obscumentio's dark being roared, as spreads it's arms apart from it's chest. The Strawhats turned towards it, as the dark being then shot countless and countless of dark energy beams directly towards the Sunny.

"Frannnkkyyy! Get out of there!" Usopp yelled at the top of his lungs.

"Huh?" Franky turned around to see the beams were heading right at him at great speed.

"Oi, hurry up! You're going to get killed!" Zoro yelled.

"Franky, hurry!" Chopper exclaimed.

Franky remained motionless at the sight of the beams, as even he knew it was too late to get away now. The shipwright smirked as he spreads his arms out in a welcoming manner. "Aaahhhh ha ha ha ha ha! What's wrong, clown?" He asked, "I thought you were just going to play with us! Are we playing too roughly for you, you desperate son of a-"

BOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO
OOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO
OOOOOOOOOOOOMMMMM!

"Guaaaaaaaaaaaggghhh!" The dark beams exploded rapidly onto the Sunny, as the explosions knocked the ship up into the air. The Strawhats watched in horror as Franky fell with his ship too, as he had injuries all over his body, and his eyes were rolled in the back of his head. The ship fell on the ground nearly in a complete wreck, as well as Franky as he fell on his back, and sunglasses shattered upon hitting the floor. He was done.

"FRAAANNNNNKKKKYYYYYYYYY!" Luffy yelled tremendously as Obscumentio laughed heavily.

"Ah ha ha ha ha ha ha ha ha ha ha ha! Oh, what delight! I loved that part completely!" Obscumentio said before getting on the edge of the platform, "That's one down; only seven more ignorants to go!"

"You will pay dearly for this!" Robin said with a furious glare, "GRAN FLEUR!" Robin sprouted a massive amount of arms around Obscumentio's body, as the arms then binds him in place, "BREAK!" The arms moved around in different directions, breaking each part of Obscumentio's body like twigs. Obscumentio looked disfigured afterwards, as Robin then manipulated the arms to tear Obscumentio's limbs apart.

Blood gushed out of Obscumentio's body, as she seemed like she was killing him, but she was suddenly scared, as she looked up, and saw the dark being staring down at her.

"Robin-chan! Get out of the way!" Sanji yelled as he ran to help Robin. The dark being then opened, and fired a very fast beam from it's mouth. The beam struck Robin, and engulfed her with it's darkness for a couple of seconds. The beam's energy knocked away Sanji, as the cook got up to see the beam disperse, and saw Robin injured head from to toe. The crew watched her in a petrified state as Robin collapsed.

"RRRROOOOBBBBIIINNNNNNNNN!" Luffy yelled as he clenched his fists so tight, his palms were bleeding.

"We will never… lose to you." Robin muttered before she fell unconscious.

"Robin!" Sanji and Chopper went to check if she was alright, but when she wasn't waking, that really angered the cook.

"I'VE HAD IT WITH YOU!" Sanji yelled as he turned, and rushed towards Obscumentio, who recovered after Robin nearly teared him apart. "FLAMBAGE SHOT!" Sanji swung his blazing leg at the jester, who quickly blocked with the back of his right hand. "Ughh!" The jester then countered with a downward swing of his right fist.

"Ah ha ha ha ha! How's this? How do you like it now that I'm acting serious!" Obscumentio asked while laughing as he kept punching downward at Sanji from each rebound from the ground like a basketball.

"GOMU GOMU NO STORM!" Luffy flew at Obscumentio from behind, and attacked him with a barrage of rapid fists.

"Wait your turn!" Obscumentio turned around, and thrusts his palm at Luffy's face, nearly knocking Luffy out of the platform as he held on to the ledge for dear life. "Ho?" Obscumentio then turned back at Sanji, who recovered again, as he crouched down below the jester.

"Do us a big favor!" Sanji said with a smirk, "Don't cry when you lose!" Sanji then flew up towards Obscumentio's chin with a flying kick, "ANTI-MANNER KICK COURSE!" Sanji nearly delivered a blazing kick up across Obscumentio's chin, but the jester moved his head back in the nick of time to avoid. Obscumentio then teleports above Sanji, and flew down on him with a dark kick. "Huh!"

SMAAAAAAAAASHHH!

Sanji was crushed between Obscumentio's foot, and the ground, as the jester raised his foot, and saw Sanji unconscious as his eyes can been seen rolled towards the back of his head.

"SAAAANNNNJJJIIIIIIIII!" Luffy yelled as he pulled himself up on the platform, and was angrier at Obscumentio than ever, "GEAR SECOND!" Luffy got into his gear second form, and rushed towards Obscumentio, "JET PISTOL!"

"Not your turn yet!" Obscumentio turned, and flicked Luffy, flinging him all the way near the edge of the platform again. Everyone else that were still standing were astounded by this, as Usopp collapsed on his knees out of fear.

"This isn't happening! We cannot be losing like this! We have to win in order to turn things back the way they were!" Usopp said as he watched his arms shiver.

"Ah ha ha ha ha! Oh, Usopp-kun. Your negative attitude has always brought me in a good mood." Obscumentio said as he glanced over at Usopp with a smile, "You should do what's best for yourself, and run away while you still can. Not only that will benefit your well-being, but you'd be doing the right thing to fear your god. Trust me; it's better that way."

Usopp was speechless hearing that, as he then stood up, and grasped onto his slingshot tightly, "It's better that way?… How is it ever beneficial to run away while your friends need your help!"

Usopp then aimed furiously at Obscumentio, "You filthy bastard, I'm going to make you eat those words! HISSATSU HINOTORI BOSHI!"

"No, Usopp! He wants you to attack him!" Nami yelled, but it was already too late. Usopp fired a flaming phoenix at Obscumentio, who made it disappear just by touching it with his finger.

"Pathetic as always!" Obscumentio laughed as he then threw a fist at Usopp.

"Usopp!" Zoro yelled, as Usopp seemed to have taken the hit hard, but Usopp actually absorbed the entire blow using the impact dial.

"You can't call yourself a living being if you enjoy taking the lives of others!" Usopp yelled as he thrusts his impact dial at Obscumentio's fist, "IMPACT!" Usopp's impact dial released all the absorbed blows it had stored in one big blow, knocking Obscumentio's fist way back as the jester also staggered back in the process. "AAAAAHHHHH!" Usopp yelled as his arm nearly broke from the dial's recoil, but sucked it up as he furiously glared before dashing towards him.

"Ho ho! You look even more pathetic when you're trying to be the hero!" Obscumentio commented as he thrusts his finger at Usopp, who swiftly dodged, and countered by dropping several bombs around Obscumentio's feet. Usopp jumped back as the bombs exploded, and Obscumentio was soaked with alcohol. "Hmm? Strange bombs…"

"I'm not the man to be messed with, you bastard!" Usopp yelled while taking out the remaining pellets he has left, "My friends are very important to me! I'll never abandon them! You will never make me think otherwise!" Usopp aimed at Obscumentio once more, "HISSATSU TAJUU BOSHI!" Usopp fired every single pellet he had left at Obscumentio, as the pellets created so many explosions, the dust combined to form a big mushroom cloud. Usopp panted heavily as he raised his arms in the victory, "HOW ABOUT THAT? AM I COWARD TO YOU NOW?"

Obscumentio walked out of the dust, and leaned forward at Usopp, giving him a swift poke to the chest. "AAAAUGHHH!" Usopp cried as he was blown back, and tumbled backwards in great speed before crashing into the Thousand Sunny, passing out afterwards.

"NOOOO! USSOOOOOOOPPPPPPPPP!" Luffy yelled as he tried to attack Obscumentio again, but fell on one knee out of exhaustion.

"Ah ha ha ha ha ha! This is becoming way too much fun! The horror; the pain; I want to see more! Ah ha ha ha!" Obscumentio laughed.

"You bastard…" Chopper said bitterly while gently lowering Robin's head down on the ground, "-sniff-.. You stupid bastard! I will never forgive you for this, Dimentio!"

"Chopper…" Nami said in a sad tone.

"Aww, did I hurt the little one's feelings?" Obscumentio teased, "That's quite a shame. Does the cute, little man want a big hug?"

Chopper turned towards Obscumentio as his eyes were mysteriously glowing in a dark color. Obscumentio was startled seeing that, as Chopper breathed heavily. "I hate you! I will never forgive you! NEVER!" Ugh.. gugh.. AAHHHH!" Chopper screamed in agony as his body then changed into something unexpectedly.

"Chopper!" Nami cried.

"It's that form again!" Zoro gasped.

Luffy stared in awe as Chopper turned into his Monster Point. "GRAAAAAAAAAAAAGGHHHHHHH!" Monster Chopper roared as dark aura emitted around his body.

"Ooooooooooh, how interesting." Obscumentio said with an interested look, "I didn't even knew that your dark elemental properties allow you to transform also. Did you eat something to get like that?"

"GRAAAAAAAAAAAAAAGGHHHHHHHH!" Monster Chopper ran at Obscumentio with multiple swings of his arms, but Obscumentio did some light steps back to avoid. Monster Chopper then hits the ground hard enough to create a tremor, nearly knocking Obscumentio off balance, as Monster Chopper then pushed him against on of the mountain barriers.

"Oh! A little angry, are you?" Obscumentio asked pleasantly, before Monster Chopper started choking him by pressing his arm up against the jester's neck.

"GGRRRRAAAAAGGHHH!" Monster Chopper roared again, as Obscumentio's dark being lowered his palm over Monster Chopper while he was distracted. A black hole then formed from the bottom of the dark being's palm, as Monster Chopper was then sucked into the dark being's hand.

"CHOOOOOPPPPPPPPPEEEEEERRRRRRR!" Luffy gasped as the dark being then aimed his hand, and shot Chopper out of his palm. The reindeer's body was engulfed with darkness as he reverted back to his brain point, as his eyelids closed before he crashed into the floor with tremendous force, landing on the back of his head unconciously.

Luffy and the others were shivering in shock, as Obscumentio took some steps while brushing some dust off his attire, "Well, I'd say that went rather smoothly." Obscumentio commented before giggling.

"JET AXE!" Luffy quickly flew down towards Obscumentio's head, lowering his leg down at the back of his head with great force. Obscumentio smiled as he didn't flinch, nor was he fazed as Luffy's leg rebounded off the jester's head, and lost control of himself in midair. "Agh!" Luffy then got smacked into the ground by Obscumentio's left hand, and then got kicked from the side. Luffy was flung across the floor, and ended up crashing pretty far away, as Obscumentio then looked forward, and saw Zoro step up to him.

"Oh? You want to be next?" Obscumentio asked with his tilted to the side a bit.

Zoro didn't reply, as he grasped onto his blades tightly, and charged at Obscumentio, "ONI GIRI!" Zoro attempted to slash through Obscumentio's ankles, but Obscumentio stopped him with his left finger. "Ugh!" The jester pushed Zoro away, as the swordsman staggered back a bit, before trying the same move again, "ENBIMA YONEZU: ONI GIRI!" Zoro's range increased as he dashed at Obscumentio while leaving two trails of blue fire beside him. Obscumentio once again blocked with the same finger, and gave Zoro a pitiful look.

"You weakling! It's sad to think that you believe by defeating the strongest swordsman in your world, you think that you will be the strongest swordsman from there on." Obscumentio said as his smiled widened, "Well let me tell you; there are millions of warriors out there that are much stronger than the one you're after, especially the ones of the Grand Universe! You'll never become strong, no matter how much you want to!"

Zoro remained stoic, as he then backed off to get some distance, "ASURA!" Zoro got into his Asura form once more, but not without panting heavily from using a ton of energy. Zoro then crossed all his swords against his chest, and gave Obscumentio a fierce look, "ONI GIRI!" Zoro lunged at Obscumentio, doing a powerful cross-slash at the jester, who blocked with both hands, as there were thousands of cuts left on the hands upon getting slashed.

Obscumentio was a little surprised, as his dark being then shot hundreds of dark discs from his fingers, and flew down towards Zoro's location. Zoro's eyes widened in shock, as the discs spins around the swordsman, leaving countless of deep cuts all over his body. "GUUUUUUUUAAAAAAAGGGGHHHHH!"

"ZOOOOOOOOOORRRROOOOOOOOOOOOO!" Luffy yelled from afar, as he tried to go rescue him, but collapsed on his hands and knees from his injuries.

Nami watched in horror, as the discs finally flew off, allowing Zoro to fall towards the ground as his blood splattered across the ground below him, "We're almost… there…" Zoro fell unconscious, and landed on the pool of his own blood.

"Ah ha ha ha ha! This is so enjoyable! I'll never get tired of seeing this!" Obscumentio laughed, as he sighed before looking at Nami. "Ha… and then, there's you. So you're the last one again? I must have a fetish for leaving my favorite things for last.

Nami couldn't deny it; she was scared. She wanted to run, but after looking at her down comrades, she knew what she must do. She raised her staff, which still had some of the dark energy she absorbed from Obscumentio earlier.

"Oh? What do you plan to do?" Obscumentio asked.

Nami bended her staff into a shape of a triangle, and held it in front of her, "TRI-CHARGE!" Nami's staff then charged itself with fire, ice, and lightning. The three elements combined with one another, as Nami then placed her arm in between, and moved her arm in circles to spin it. "Hmph! You may have taken us all down, but that will be your last mistake!" Nami said with a smirk, "Luffy will make sure you pay for what you've done! You can count on that!"

"Ah ha ha! He will never defeat me alone." Obscumentio stated.

Nami's staff then glowed more powerful than ever with the elements, as Nami then frowned with determination, "No! We've already beaten you! TRI-ATTACK TEMPO!" Nami threw her completely charged staff at Obscumentio, as it released a tremendous amount of elemental power.

"Aaaaaaahhhhh!" Obscumentio cried as the staff released it's flames, ice, and lightning all over his body simultaneously. Obscumentio then smiled as he held the staff back, and incase it with dark energy. "Ha! You speak such fierce words for a young lady, but I'm afraid we must end our long relationship here! Goodbye, Nami-san!" Obscumentio then tossed the charged staff back to Nami, as the staff was still releasing it's elemental power, but Obscumentio incased it with dark energy to make look darker, bigger and deadlier.

Nami gasped, as she couldn't escape even if she were to try. But then, she smirked, and clenched her hands into fists, "You think that scares me?" She yelled furiously, "It's just a bunch of mirror tricks!"

KAAAAAABOOOOOOOOOOOOMMMMMM!

The staff's energy exploded across the ground, destroying everything that was in it's range as a big dust cloud formed afterwards.

"Ah ha ha ha! Everyone is dead! Oh, such tragedy! I didn't even see this coming! Ah ha ha ha ha! Oh my! I can't stop laughing! Ah ha ha ha ha ha!" Obscumentio laughed as he wiped his tears from his sockets. His dark being laughed as well, as the Strawhat crew were all defeated; none of them had the energy to fight on anymore. The dust cloud then began to clear, as Obscumentio anticipated how Nami was after the explosion. "Ah ha ha! This is going to be good! Ah ha… oh?"

Obscumentio stood back, as he could see Luffy carrying Nami on his arms. She was unconscious as everyone else was, as Luffy then placed her gently on the ground. Luffy had a stoic look, as he looked around at his unconscious crew.

"I'm sorry guys… I screwed up big time." Luffy said, "I never thought you guys would get this hurt. I'll make it up to you… when we get out of here, you guys can beat me up as much as you want. Or… you can yell at me nonstop, or take my food away. No, no, that's way too much for me to handle. Man, I'm not really good at this…" Luffy said while scratching his head, until he grew serious, "Well… it doesn't make a difference to what I can promise. All I know is that we're getting out of here for sure!"

"Ah ha.. that's so sweet." Obscumentio commented, as Luffy grew serious upon hearing his voice, "Well, this is a touching moment. The only way that this could end perfectly, is that you show me that dismal expression of yours I always wanted to see." Luffy didn't turn around, "Oh, come on. I attacked your friends without mercy. Doesn't that make your blood boil? Come now, I took you seriously like you wanted, and your crew suffered for it. The least you can do for me is to show me how you feel by turning around, and allowing to gaze aroused at your hopeless look."

Luffy's head raised a bit, as he turned towards Obscumentio just like he was asked. Obscumentio was happy, but his smile faded, as he only saw Luffy having a plain look on his face, "There, are you happy?" Luffy asked plainly.

Obscumentio was not pleased, "Hmm… you're making fun of me again. Even with what I did just now, it still wasn't enough to break you." Obscumentio then scoffed at Luffy, "What do you plan to do next? You said that as long as you are with your crew, nothing can stop you, and that you also get stronger with them the longer you fight with me." Obscumentio smirked, "Your friends are gone… how do you expect to defeat now all by yourself?"

"I'll probably get lucky."

"Huh?"

"Who knows? I'm not going to stop fighting just because you want me to. I'll stop fighting when I want to stop." Luffy replied plainly, "I'm still alive, aren't I? You're not going to change my mind by hurting my feelings. So, unless I get lucky, and beat you, WE'LL keep fighting you forever."

Obscumentio finally looked frustrated, especially what Luffy just told him. He tried to hide it by grinning, "Ha… luck? Is that the best idea you can come up with? You plan to beat the most powerful of gods, capable of creating and destroying life with just a raise of a finger, with only luck? Oh, please! Ah ha ha ha ha ha ha!" The jester bursts into laughter before pointing at Luffy, "I've never heard such stupidity in my life! And to think, I once respected the way you think, but now you've gone completely insane! Ah ha ha ha!"

"I will beat you anyway, so I could care less what a fake god thinks of me." Luffy replied sternly.

The dark being growled in anger, glaring at Luffy with pure hatred. Luffy ignored him, and kept his gaze at Obscumentio, who had his hand over head while laughing for a few more seconds, but stopped. Hearing that made Obscumentio very unamused, and felt utterly insulted, as he then gritted his teeth in anger, "… I cannot retain my anger anymore. I've tried to stay patient from every negative thing you've said to me ever since the day we've met. I cannot do that thing anymore…" Obscumentio clenched his hands to fist, and startled Luffy as he swung his fist down at him, "I JUST WON'T!"

"Whoa!" Luffy jumped back to avoid the punch, as Obscumentio charged at him with a barrage of multiple fists. Luffy shielded his face with his arms as he couldn't avoid, as Obscumentio unleashed his fury on him with his fists.

"Why don't you ever face the truth? You're about to die, and your suppose to accept it!" Obscumentio yelled as he threw one more punch directly into Luffy's body.

"Ughh!" Luffy cried as he tumbled backwards across the ground, as Obscumentio teleports above him, and flew down at him with a stomp of his foot. Luffy recovered, and leaped towards the side to avoid the stomp, and landed on his feet, "GOMU GOMU NO PISTOL!" Luffy countered as he stretched his arm at Obscumentio, but the jester avoided, and countered with a backslap, knocking Luffy in the air, "Aahh!"

"You push me away over and over again, after so much I've done for you! Admit it, you're selfish!" Obscumentio teleported above Luffy in midair, and attempted to crush him between his palms, but Luffy stretched his legs up, and kicks Obscumentio hard in the eye.

"GOMU GOMU NO WHIP!" Luffy then pulled back his right leg, and swung across Obscumentio's face, but missed as the jester teleports higher up in the air, and fired several dark blasts at Luffy below. "Agh!" The blasts hits Luffy as he fell even faster, and crashed into the ground, creating a dust cloud in the process.

"You're always so full of yourself, even during this moment! Can't you see what you're up against? It's obvious that you're going to die here!" Obscumentio then flew down at Luffy at top speed, but quickly stopped as he flew to the side to avoid a massive arm punching him from below. "Grr!"

"GEAR THIRD!" Luffy flew up from the dust cloud by exhaling some of the air he blew into his arm just now, as he then transferred the air into his left foot, "GOMU GOMU NO GIGANTO VOLCANO!" Luffy thrusted his massive leg up towards Obscumentio, who blocked it using both hands.

"Nothing! No matter what tactics you use, everything will still end the same!" Obscumentio yelled as he then squeezed Luffy's leg, causing the air to nearly escape from Luffy's mouth. But Luffy acted quickly as he managed to hold the air in, and transfer it to his right arm.

"GOMU GOMU NO GIGANTO PISTOL!" Luffy swung his massive fist at Obscumentio, who blocked using both hands again as the hands shivered tremendously from blocking the massive fist. Obscumentio then countered by punching Luffy down with his right hand, "AAAHHHHHHH!" Luffy soured towards the ground, where Luffy lost all the air inside him before crashing very hard on the floor, creating another dust cloud in the process.

Obscumentio smirked in a devilish way, as he then faced towards Luffy, and flew down at him at top speed, "Everyones dreams are my dreams! Everyone would throw away everything they have and desire, just to be like me for a couple of seconds! Nobody lives their lives empty-handed; we all must take everything within our grasp, and change things the way we vision it, but we never know how! That's why it's my destiny alone to have this power; Because I desire this more than anyone else in existence! I deserve it!" Obscumentio's smile grew even wider, "So tell me, Luffy-san! Do you want my power? I need to know! There can't be no other reason why you want to destroy what I have other than jealousy! Your dreams alone cannot be enough reason to keep fighting for this amount time! SO TELL ME NOW! WHY DON'T YOU WANT TO DIE?"

Obscumentio then throw forward both his fists, and created an amazing wave that spreads out throughout the entire platform. The wave spreads immensely in midair, not touching, or moving anything that was on the ground for several seconds. As the waves stopped, Obscumentio was in disbelief, as somehow, Luffy caught his fists using both his hands.

"I DON'T WANT TO DIE HERE!" Luffy yelled furiously, "There is one more world we need to go to, and I can't afford to lose against someone who doesn't understand that!" Luffy's body then emitted a colorful aura, surprising Obscumentio in the process, "I can't go to that world yet, until you're dealt with! Everyone is counting on me!" Luffy then gave Obscumentio a super furious glare, "I won't die because as long as I'm still alive, I will never think about dying!"

"Whoaaa!" Luffy then threw Obscumentio back, as the jester then flew outside of the platform, glaring at Luffy with a furious intent, "His elemental properties are completely balanced! He managed to get to that form in such a weak state? I don't believe this!"

Luffy then slammed both his fists hard on the floor, creating multiple cracks all over the ground.

"FINAL SMASH!" Luffy then made an incredible leap in the air, going over several kilometers by the second. He was then so far up in the air, that the platform was the size of an ant to him, as Obscumentio's dark being roared at him, while Luffy gritted his teeth in anger. "HHHOOOAAARRRGGHH!"

Obscumentio watched Luffy with his eyes perked, as Luffy raised his arms horizontally around his waist, as his spiritual energy was engulfing him. His energy turned blazing red, making the energy visible as multiple red streams could be seen flowing up around Luffy's body. "In the start of my adventure, my fist was as strong as a pistol shooting a bullet! But now, my fist is as strong as a meteor!"

Obscumentio gasped as he teleports higher up in the air, and reappeared in the center of his dark being's stomach. Luffy then took a deep breath, and inhaled all his spiritual energy around his body, with more spiritual energy engulfing Luffy shortly afterwards. He then blew all of his spiritual energy he inhaled into his left thumb, as the air transferred directly from the left arm, to the right.

The right arm grew bigger, and bigger, and bigger, until it was a hundred times more massive than Luffy in his gear third form. The arm was incredibly huge, that even Obscumentio found it amazing. Then, just by seeing the arm, Obscumentio glanced over his shoulder to look at the core through his dark being's figure.

"He wants to destroy the core with brute force alone!" Obscumentio glared back at Luffy, "I won't let him!" Obscumentio raised his hands, and fired thousand of dark beams at Luffy, but surprisingly, all the beams he fired disappeared without even getting that close to Luffy. "What! What happened!" Obscumentio tried other things like shooting dark lightning, water, and even trying to reverse Luffy's movements chronologically, but nothing worked. "Damn!" Obscumentio teleports in front of Luffy, but as soon as he got that close, he felt an immense force, that even couldn't withstand. "AHHHH!"

The spiritual force, blew Obscumentio thousands and thousands of kilometers back, until the jester recovered, and teleported back where he was, close to his dark being, and the core. He looked up at his dark being, and even that monsterous creature didn't had the guts to get close to Luffy. "I don't understand it! How did he get so strong in just a couple of seconds? It makes no sense!"

"HOOOOOOUUUUUAAAAAAHHHH!" Luffy yelled fiercely as he clenched his massively gargantuan fist, and looked down towards

Obscumentio. "READY OR NOT; I'M GONNA KICK YOUR ASS! GOMU GOMU NO METEOR! AAAAAAAHHHHH!"

Luffy swung his meteor-like fist towards Obscurum's core, despite that Obscumentio and his dark being are in the way. The fist moved nearly as fast as the speed of light, as Obscumentio hardly had any time to react "I have to block this! I must!" Obscumentio formed thousands of barriers layered in front of each other, and were big enough to stop Luffy's fist from getting to the core.

However, the barriers were useless as Luffy's fist went right through each and every single one of them, as the barriers were destroyed by the energy around the fist, and not the fist itself.

"Impossible! I don't understand this! HOW CAN THIS BE HAPPENING?" Obscumentio yelled before it finally happened.

KAAAAAPPPOOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO OOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO OOOOOWWWW!

Luffy slammed his fist into Obscumentio, pushing him through the dark being's stomach in less than a second, leaving a gaping hole in the process. "YYAAAHHH!" Luffy then slammed Obscumentio right into the core with an unsurpassable force.

The moment Luffy punched Obscumentio into the core, it released a god-like shockwave that blew back through Luffy, and blew out a massive hole into Obscurum's surface.

"GAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAHHHHHHHHHHH!" Obscumentio cried in immense pain as Luffy increased the pressure of his fist to destroy the core behind the jester.

"HIIIYYYAAAAAAAAHHHHHHHHHHH!"

Luffy applied even more pressure, as the Obscurum core was still intact from taking in his punch. It couldn't be described the pain

Obscumentio was feeling as Luffy finally put enough pressure in his massive arm, to create one, microscopic crack on the core's surface.

Obscumentio's eyes widened in immense shock, as he felt that one crack, despite how really small it was for him. He was speechless, as his mind was overflowing with thoughts, wondering what went wrong. He kept thinking how Luffy manage to pull this off. But no matter how much he thought, he couldn't figure out an answer. Luffy applied even more pressure, breaking Obscumentio away from his thoughts as the jester cried in sheer agony.

"LIFE BELONGS TO EVERYONE! GIVE IT BAAAAAAAAACCCCKKKKKK!" Luffy yelled at the top of his lungs as his spiritual energy grow even more immense.

Obscumentio gritted his teeth in anger, having no strength to push back Luffy's fist… or so it seemed.

"IS THIISSSSS IITTTT?" Obscumentio yelled as he had the widest and scariest grin on his face yet, "YOU'RE SO NAIVE, LUFFY-SAN! IF YOU THINK THIS FIST OF YOURS IS GOING TO TAKE AWAY MY POWER, THEN YOU COULDN'T BE MORE WRONG!" Obscumentio then grabbed Luffy's fist by spreading his hands towards the two sides of Luffy's knuckle.

"Wh-What!" Luffy gasped.

"YYYYAAAAGGGGHHHH!"

Obscumentio released an excessive amount of darkness around Luffy's fist. The darkness expanded rapidly, until it engulfed Luffy completely, along with his meteor fist. Luffy closed his eyes, and then screamed in pain as the spiritual energy around him was being drained by the darkness. Obscumentio then released Luffy's meteor arm as it quickly reverted back to a regular arm, and snapped back into place as Luffy's final smash has failed him.

"ROOAAAAAAAARRRRRR!"

Obscumentio's dark being then leaned forward, and raised his arm over Luffy. Luffy showed a weak expression, as the dark being slapped him downward when he was defenseless.

Luffy felt nothing but pain, as he fell so quickly towards the platform all the way below him. The darkness was still around his body, as Luffy's eyelids then became heavy for him to remain open. He slowly closed his eyes, and continued to fall as it would seem the Captain of the Strawhat pirates have lost.

"Luffy…"

Luffy opened his eyes, as a thought sprung up in his mind, and someone was saying his name.

Shanks took off his straw hat, and placed over the Young Luffy's head. Young Luffy continued to cry as Shanks smiled at him. "I'm going to let you hold this for me…" Shanks said in a soft tone, "Give it back to me… when you become a great pirate."

Young Luffy grabbed the straw hat from his head, and held it up against his chest, as he looked up at Shanks, trying to stop himself from crying.

"I will show you," Young Luffy cried, "I will go to the Grand Line, and I will become the Pirate King!"

"Ah ha ha ha ha ha ha ha ha ha! AAAAAAHHHHHHH HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA!

Obscumentio laughed at Luffy nonstop as he teleports in front of the platform, waiting for him to crash on it. "YOU HAVE FAILED, LUFFY-SAN! EVERYTHING YOU HAVE WORKED SO HARD TO ACHIEVE HAS NOW GONE TO WASTE, JUST AS I PREDICTED! DEATH AWAITS YOU! DIE WITH YOUR CREW, LUFFY! AH HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA

Luffy's eyes were then shot open, as the darkness around him faded instantly. Luffy took an immense deep breath, and faced towards the platform before exhaling, slowing down his speed rate somewhat before crashing hard onto the platform, causing it to shake a bit in the process.

Obscumentio retained his overly scary smile, as he watched the dust clear, and saw Luffy lying on his chest, appearing to be lifeless. Obscumentio knew that he wasn't dead, but he felt Luffy's energy was at a critical state, and it wasn't even enough energy to make an insect live. This battle has ended.

"AH HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA!" Obscumentio laughed victoriously, "Finally… my reign as Emperor God can officially begin! No one can stop me! I'M TRULY LIFE'S RIGHTFUL OWNER! AH HA HA HA HA HA HA!" Obscumentio then looked down at Luffy, "It will soon begin… Luffy-san, if you can hear me, then there still a chance to save everyone." Obscumentio said wickedly, teasing Luffy as he barely had any energy life, "As long as you remain alive, I won't lay a finger on the friends you've made in your quest. Just go on; live on just a little longer, and maybe you would do me a big favor in-"

BAM!

"Hergh!" Obscumentio blinked as he then saw something unexpected, "WHAT!"

Somehow, Luffy forcefully got up on his hands and knees, supporting himself up with his right fist alone. Luffy panted heavily and very frequently, as he took one deep breath, and shouted.

"ONE MORE TIIIIIIMMMMMEEEEE!"

Those three words changed Obscumentio's mood upside-down. He watched Luffy getting up only on his knees, and then finally onto his feet. The captain could barely keep his eyes open, but somehow did anyway, as Obscumentio had enough of this.

"Same… you're still acting the same…" Obscumentio repeated as he then laughed a bit, "Heh heh heh! Heh heh! Y-You're still acting the same after… eh heh heh heh heh! Eh heh heh heh!" Obscumentio acted as if he lost his mind, until he regained control of himself, and yelled, "WHY ARE YOU NOT DEAD! HOW CAN YOU STILL BE ALIVE AFTER I JUST KILLED YOUR DESIRE TO FIGHT ME? WHY!" Obscumentio placed his hands over his face, and scratched it from top to bottom, leaving deep cuts that his face bled, "YOU BETTER ANSWER ME NOW, LUFFY-SAN! I'M NOT SURE HOW LONG I CAN STAY THIS CALM!"

"Because… everyone is still counting on me…" Luffy said weakly, until he forcefully regained his focus, and glared at Obscumentio afterwards, "Everyone is still counting on me! And I still need to kick your ass!"

"SHUT UP! JUST SHUT UP ALREADY!" Obscumentio replied furiously. He then looked at his hands, and just noticed that some of his dark aura have been depleted. He thought it must have been that time when he blocked Luffy's meteor arm, and it was strong enough to wipe out some of the dark aura controlling Master Hand, and Crazy Hand. Obscumentio still had control over his hands, though, as the jester finally calmed down, and smiled at Luffy.

"So… you still refuse to end this show." Obscumentio said, "Just stop already; you're performing to a point where you're simply dragging the story on. It's pointless, and we all know how it's going to end." Obscumentio's smiled then widened, "Besides… take a good look around here, and tell me what you see."

Luffy took a brief look at his surroundings, and saw that his crew were still unconscious. He then looked up at the dark being, and saw him laughing as the gaping hole through it's gut just recovered completely.

"Everything you did just now was all for nothing. Your act of bravery is just as big as your stupidity; I told you from the start that it was impossible to beat me." Obscumentio stated, "So, what now? Are you going to die anytime soon? I'm waiting… and you might as well. No one is watching you from the screens. They're too busy trying to keep themselves alive, rather than to risk their lives just to watch you try to defeat a god."

"I told you already, I'm not going to die!" Luffy replied, "And you're wrong, they are watching me! They're watching us beating the crap out of you like never before!"

"Ha! Don't be naive. I told you they're not watching you."

"YOU DAMN LIAR!" Luffy yelled, getting into Obscumentio's bad side again, as Luffy then stood straight, and pointed at the empty screens around the platform, "They may not be seen there, but I don't have to see them in order to know they're there supporting me!" Luffy then stopped pointing at the screens, and smirked, "I can hear them… LOUD AND CLEAR!"

Meanwhile…

In the Mushroom Kingdom, the dark storm was far worse than before. But Mario, Luigi, Peach, Wario, Toadsworth, and everybody there stood together, and watched Luffy in the screen. The Toads, Koopas, and all the people were cheering him on as Mario raised his fist.

"Go-a, Luffy!" Mario shouted, "I-a know you can-a do-it!"

"Yes, Luffy! Beat him up!" Luigi shouted a little nervously, "And hurry, I'm so scared!"

"We all know you can win, Luffy!" Peach said with her hands together, "I hope for the best of you!"

"Master Luffy, I couldn't be more honored to have my life in your hands!" Toadsworth said while swingin his cane, "Give that pyscho a.. butt-kicking of a lifetime!"

"Grr! You stupid loser!" Wario yelled while shaking his fists angrily, "If you lose, there won't be any money anymore! Go, and win already!"

Merlon stood behind the people, and smiled at the screen, "I sense hope… this may be our last shot."

Meanwhile…

The people of Hyrule were also cheering Luffy on. Renado, Barnes, and people and Gordons in Kakariko village; Ilia, Bo, Rusl, the kids, and everyone in the Ordon village; and the whole Bulbin tribe, including King Bulbin himself, where cheering Luffy on the eastern fields.

In the town of Hyrule, it was the same thing; everyone was cheering for Luffy. On top of the Hyrule castle, Zelda smiled, and prayed, "Luffy… I know you will succeed."

And in the west plains, Link rode on his horse, Epona, as he unsheathed his Master Sword, and pointed it up at the sky.

"I know you can win, Luffy! I have faith in you!"

Meanwhile…

In the Sinnoh Region, Brock, Dawn, and Piplup looked at the screen in silence, while Ash and Pikachu were on hill, cheering for him.

"Come on, Luffy! You're strong enough to beat that guy! I just know it!" Ash yelled.

"Pika! Pikachu!" Pikachu yelled in support.

In a distance, the team rocket air ballon was hanging from an edge of the cliff, as Jessie, James, and Meowth were hanging on from the bottom of the balloon, and watching Luffy on the screen.

"Say, do any of you know what is going on?" James asked his friends.

"Beats me." Jessie replied, "All I know, is that twerp up there is our last hope of survival."

"Either dat's a good thing, or we're in big trouble." Meowth said. Team Rocket was then quiet for a while, until James came up with a suggestion.

"Hey, why don't we cheer for him! It's the least we can do!" James exclaimed. Jessie and Meowth thought about it, until they shrugged.

"Fine. GO, STRETCHY TWERP! DON'T YOU DARE LOSE!" Jessie yelled.

"Yah, what Jessie said! Hurry up!" Meowth exclaimed.

Meanwhile…

Mute City, the biggest city in their galaxy, was louder than ever before. Every resident was shouting Luffy's name over and over again, and it wasn't likely to stop.

"Go! You must beat them! I demand that you win!" Samurai Goroh yelled from ontop of a garbage truck.

The Internova police force were also cheering Luffy on, as there in the streets, Jody Summers, John, and Captain Falcon where cheering as well.

"That boy will definitely save us! There is no doubt about that!" Jody said with a smirk.

"Uh, y-yeah." John stuttered before cheering, "Go, kid! Don't let us down!"

"That's it, Luffy! Don't ever give up!" Captain Falcon exclaimed, "If you continue to believe in yourself, you'll will sure to make it out alive!"

Meawnwhile…

U-mos, and his followers on the Great Temple were happy to see things turning for the better. "Luffy.. our prayers will help you fight on. May the light of Aether guide you until the very end."

The Luminoth continued to pray for Luffy's success, knowing for sure that he will succeed.

In outer space where Samus' ship is located, Samus smirked in her cockpit once she saw Luffy smiling in the screen. "That brat… when he smiles like that, there is nothing that can stop him." Samus said "Don't die, Luffy."

Meanwhile…

In Dreamland, everyone stood on a tall hill, cheering for Luffy as loud as they could. "Poyo, poyo!" Kirby exclaimed happily while jumping up and down.

"Go get him, Luffy! You're almost there!" Tuff shouted.

"Ooooh! Please, be careful, Luffy! You're one of my favorite customers ever!" Kawasaki cried.

"Luffy… I trust you." Tiff said with a smile, "Win for us!"

King Dedede, Escargoon, and Metaknight with Sword and Blade by his side were also there as well.

"Heey, come on! You're making me nervous, here! I know you can beat him, so beat him already!" Escargoon yelled.

"Grr, I can't believe I'm going to say this, but…" Dedede said bitterly before he shook his fist in the air, and shouted, "Strawhat! You better not screw up! Give that guy the same treatment you gave me! Do it, or I'll never forgive you!"

"You have made it this far, young one." Metaknight said as his eyes glowed blue in happiness, "I know that you'll be the one to put everything back in place."

Meanwhile…

"G-G-Go! Luffy, go and beat him! I know you can do it!" Otacon shouted as he and Snake were still in the desert mountain area.

Snake watched Luffy in the screen silently with a stoic expression, "Luffy… get him…"

Meanwhile…

In Sauria, all the dinosaurs were cheering Luffy on, even Tricky, who cheered even louder than everyone else. "You're Zoro's friend, right? If you are, then you've already saved us!"

In Corneria, everyone there was doing the same. General Peppy watched through the windows of his office, smiling at the screen in the air, "Luffy.. you, Franky, and your friends are capable of handling this situation. We will forever be grateful of your act of bravery."

And in outer space, the Star Fox team in their ship, the Greatfox, were also happy to see Luffy in top condition.

"Sensors indicate that Luffy will prevail." ROB said to the Star Fox team.

"Yeah! Way to go, Luffy!" Slippy exclaimed while raising his hands in the air.

"Oh yeah! That's right! Show that wimp who's boss, kid!" Falco exclaimed.

"It seems they will survive after all." Krystal said happily.

"Yeah… that's no surprise!" Fox stated with a smile, "After seeing what those guys can do, I knew they can get out of anything they come against!"

And in Star Wolf's lair, Wolf's men were shouting like crazy, supporting Luffy as well.

"What do you know; not only that kid made of fool of you, Wolf, but now he just made a fool out of everybody else. Heh!" Leon chuckled with his arms crossed.

"That little boy had Miss Nami with him from the beginning." Panther said while gracefully smelling his rose, and smiled, "Of course, seeing this happen now was predictable due to that lone reason."

"It's the help of his crew that made the boy stronger, not just the princess." Wolf explained as he then smirked, "You've really outdone yourself, boy. You and the princess have definitely gained my respect from here on out."

Meanwhile…

R.O.B., and the alloys watched Luffy in anticipation, staring at Obscurum with nothing else distracting them. They gazed into the big hole of Obscurum's surface, as within, things were finally changing for the better.

Obscumentio couldn't believe his ears, as multiple voices were echoing throughout Obscurum. His screen depicting fake images of dying lands instead of the real deal have failed on him.

"Do you hear that!" Luffy asked, "Nobody wants you changing their lives for them! It's already settled; they will never accept you as their leader no matter how much you force them to!"

Obscumentio was petrified in shock. All the shouts and cheers he kept hearing was crushing him from the inside. All the terrible things they are saying about Obscumentio made him grit his teeth in anger, and placed his hands over his face. The voices grew even louder, as Obscumentio lowered his hands from his face, and snarled at Luffy.

"How dare you…" Obscumentio growled, "How dare you ruin this moment for me! This is not how I wanted to start my reign! You've ruined the final act! You have ruined my entire show! Aahhh!" Obscumentio held his chest in pain, as something was burning him from inside. He panted, as he turned around, and gazed Obscurum's core, feeling the pain from the one little crack Luffy left on it. "GRRRRRRRRRAAAAAGGGGGGHHHHH!"

The Dark being roared as he swung his arm horizontally, destroying all the screens depicting the battle, stopping Obscumentio's show entirely. Obscumentio panted less frequently, and smirked.

"Ha! What now? I took away all your-!" But before Obscumentio could finish that sentence, the voices could still be heard within the planet, and Obscumentio didn't know how. "What! Why do I still here them? Those ignorant fools… they're refusing me to save them!"

"It's over, Dimentio!" Luffy yelled, "I'm going to end this now!"

"Ah ha ha ha ha! Don't be ridiculous!" Obscumentio scoffed, "Even though you may have ruined my show, it won't change what I have planned! My dream is to make everyone happy, and that's exactly what I intend to do!" Obscumentio then emitted a powerful dark aura around his body, and floated high up in the air, "You foolish child! Do you have any idea who I am! Don't you know that it's up to me to make things right? I am the Emperor God of Darkness! I will punish anyone who gets in my way! Luffy, you and your friends have caused enough harm as it is, and now, you will suffer the consequences for your actions!"

Obscumentio then spreads out his hands and legs, releasing multiple dark waves from his body as they scattered all over Obscurum from within, and the space around the planet. Obscurum's surface was beating more frequently like a ticking timebomb was about to go off, as various distortions were formed in the space around Obscurum, that the planet emitted a dark aura of it's own around itself.

But despite of all this darkness, Luffy remained stoic, as he clenched his hands into fists around his waist, "How many times do I have to repeat myself? We're not going to die here!"

"Ha ha ha! I know! You already said it before! You have one more world to go to before you can finally accept death!" Obscumentio laughed hysterically, "What other planet can be more important than the one we are in now! Obscurum is the best world that has ever been created by my predecessor, Obscus! This world cannot be compared to those other filthy planets! Obscurum is pure, and great! It will make everything perfect!"

"No… that's a load of trash! The world I'm talking about it is much better than this one in every single way!" Luffy growled with his head lowered, "In this world, you can't get there by flying at it, using secret passageways, or anything like that! The only way you can there is…" Luffy then raised his head with a smirk, "Is by sailing through the greatest sea in existence! The Grand Line!"

Then something unexpected happen. The voices that could be heard echoing within the planet were producing multiple sonic waves throughout every single direction. The waves hit each other rapidly, creating trillions and trillions of orbs of pure light, as the orbs remained stationary all over the inner surface of Obscurum.

"What is all this?" Obscumentio gasped while glaring at the orbs, "Where did this all come from!"

Luffy then knelt down, and placed his hands over his knees, "By sailing through the greatest sea of all time, you can reach this new world; a world that dreams will always come true! In that new world, me and my crew, we will become great pirates who won't be afraid of anything! In that new world, we will fulfill our dreams without anybody getting in our way!" Luffy then yelled with a fierce and determined, "AND IN THAT NEW WORLD, I'M GOING TO BE THE PIRATE KING!"

The orbs of light then shot towards Luffy like beams of light. Luffy absorbed every beam as they were filling him with god-like energy. Luffy's body then emitted another colorful aura, as Luffy slammed both his palms on the ground once more, "FINAL SMASH LV2!"

Once all the orbs were inside Luffy's body, Luffy leaped super high in the air like before, going thousand and thousands of kilometers in the air, before remaining stationary in the spot where he used his final smash before.

Back in the platform, Luffy's crew remained unconscious, but suddenly, their bodies glowed, and emitted colorful auras. Their energy were then shot up high in the air, and Luffy absorbed their energies simultaneously.

The Strawhat captain then crossed his arms and legs, and spreads them out with intensity, releasing his spiritual energy he has gathered as the energy flowed up around Luffy with streams of multiple colors being visible about kilometers away from him. Obscumentio watched, shocked to see Luffy's spread even farther than the last time, as the streams then released multiple elements like earth, wind, water, fire, light, and any other element you can think of, coursing along Luffy's body structure.

"GOOOAAAHHHHHHHHHHHHHHH!"

Luffy then inhaled every single bit of energy around his body, sucking it all in in one go, as Luffy then raised his left thumb, and blew everything he inhaled into it.

Like last time, he transferred the energy into his right arm, but this time, as the right arm grew bigger, many kinds of elements were coursing along it's figure. The arm continued to grow, as it was also changing. Around the arm, a visible colorful aura emitted out of it, with a dark, and sharp aura spiralling around it. There was also three spiral trails of fire, ice, and lightning trailing along the arm, as well as multiple transparent, and spherical explosions were erupting around the aura. A blazing flame engulfed over Luffy's super giant knuckle, and countless of petals were circling around his wrist.

Also, countless of normal sized arms sprouted from the bottom of the wrist, towards every single part of his arm. And finally, a visible and humongous air current circled around the elbow. The arm continued to grow, but it didn't grow 100 times bigger than the gear third version like before. Instead, the arm grew over a 1000 times more, as the arm was so incredibly humongous, it was big enough to be a planet.

Luffy's determination to defeat Obscumentio; the voices that guided him; and his crews' entities were now in one big fist. Obscumentio couldn't believe his eyes, as he then showed his scary smile again.

"THE PIRATE KING! YOU ALREADY HAD THAT CHANCE TO BECOME THAT A WHILE AGO, AND YOU TURNED IT DOWN!" Obscumentio yelled furiously, "YOU AREN'T CAPABLE OF REACHING TOWARDS THAT PLACE, AND YOU WILL NEVER WILL BE! I AM THE ONLY ONE CAPABLE OF GIVING YOU THAT TITLE, BUT YOU DIDN'T ACCEPT IT! IF YOU CAN'T REACH THAT GOAL, THEN WHAT MAKES YOU THINK BEAT SOMETHING AS SUPERIOR AS ME! YOU'RE STUPIDITY WILL LEAD YOU TO YOUR DEATH!"

Luffy raised his planet-sized arm behind him through the hole of Obscurum's surface.

"YOU'RE SELFISH ATTITUDE WILL NOT SAVE YOU FROM ME! I CANNOT BE BEAT BY AN INSIGNIFICANT MORTAL! I AM UNBEATABLE!"

Luffy clenched his planet-like hand into a fist, charging up his energy as it extended towards it's peak.

"I AM OBSCUMENTIO! I AM THE EMPEROR GOD TO RULE ALL LIFE! I CAN NEVER BE STOPPED! YOU'RE WAY OUT OF YOUR LEAGUE!" Obscumentio then used everything he got to create zillions of barriers with sharp spikes in the front layered in front of each other. Zillions of dark spheres formed in the air around Luffy from afar, as well as many other kinds of projectiles. At this point, Luffy was surrounded with the deadliest power ever. "I SHALL BRING JUDGEMENT TO YOU! MY SHOW WILL END ACCORDING TO PLAN! PREPARE FOR THE ULTIMATE DEATH SENTENCE HANDED DOWN BY YOURS TRULY, OBSCUMENTIO, THE CHARMING EMPEROR GOD!"

"THIS ENDS NOOOOOOOOOWWWWWWWWWW!" Luffy yelled at the top of his lungs, "UUUUUUGGGAAAAAAAAAHHHHHHHHH!"

Obscumentio snapped his fingers with tenacity, shooting every single thing he had towards Luffy at light speed, as the dark being roared, before leaning forward, and converged his hands at the Strawhat captain. "CIIIAAAAAOOOO, MY BEST FRIEND! AH HA HA HA

OOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO
OOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO
OOOOOOOOOOOOOOOWWWWWWWW!

Obscumentio was in such dire pain, he was speechless as Luffy's fist pushed him through his dark being's stomach again, leaving another big hole like before as the jester was then slammed onto the core again, only with much greater force. Visible cracks were appearing on the core's structure, as the cracks were spreading out a bit by bit, causing Obscumentio's heart from within to beat more frequently in a panic-like matter.

"GGGUUUUAAAAAAAAAHHHH!
NOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO!" Obscumentio yelled in sheer agony, as he was using all of his strength to push the fist away from his beloved core.

Things were much different this time around. Not only Obscumentio was feeling the pain from Luffy's fist, but the dark cutting waves; the fire, ice, and lightning energy; the spherical explosions erupting around the arm; the piercing flames from the knuckle; the cuts from the petals that spread out from the wrist and into Obscumentio; the sprouted arms that grew into incredible lengths, and punched Obscumentio from the sides; and the wind current that released a dreadful air current that pushed Luffy's arm deeper up against Obscumentio's body.

More cracks appeared on the core's surface, as well as Obscumentio. "Nugh!" Obscumentio watched his body reveal white cracks forming from the center of his chest. To easily put it, the more cracks the core received, so did Obscumentio's body. "Grr! Noooo! No! No! No! No! This is not the ending I wanted!"

Obscumentio then spread out his hands, and grabbed the sides of Luffy's god like fist to engulf it with darkness, but the pain was unbearable, and didn't had the strength to do it the second time around. "AAAAAAHHHHHH! I… CAN'T… MOOOVEE!"

"DAAAAAAAAAAAHHHHHHHHHH!"

Luffy yelled even louder as the core's cracks continued to spread, until the entire structure was filled with them. Obscumentio's eyes widened, as dark energy escaped through the cracks like gas, and was engulfing Obscumentio and the core itself.

"My elemental structure… my darkness… it's escaping my heart! I NEED THAT!" Obscumentio yelled in agony, as he tried even harder to push Luffy's fist back.

And eventually, he did.

"Huh!" Luffy felt that brief force as his fist was pushed back by just a tiny bit.

"AAAAAAHHHH HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA HA! YOU SEE! I STILL WIIIIIIIIIINNNNNNNNNNN!"

But Obscumentio's glorious moment fell short, as Luffy thrusts his arm, and got back by pushing Obscumentio against the core again.

"GAAAAAAAAHH! GUUUUUOOOAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAHHHH!"

"I'M GOING TO BE THE PIRATE KING!" Luffy yelled with a fierce glare, "I'M NOT GOING TO LET ANYBODY OR ANYTHING GET IN MY WAY! I WILL GET THE ONE PIECE, AND MY DREAMS WILL FINALLY COME TRRRRRUUUUUUUEEEEEEEEEEE!"

Obscumentio was losing so much darkness at a rapid rate, that the dark aura around his hands finally disappeared, and couldn't hold Luffy's fist back as they were shot away in opposite directions. "NO! MY HANDS!"

The darkness around Master Hand, and Crazy Hand were finally gone, as they have regained control of themselves once again. However, they were still unconcious, as they kept falling towards the bottom of the inner Obscurum surface.

"My hands… AAAAAAAAAAGGGGGHHHHHHH!" Obscurum's core was shattering into pieces, as the only thing that remained was Obscumentio's black heart floating in the center. When there was no longer any surface to hold Obscumentio back from the fist, Luffy thrusted his fist harder, as the jester crashed into his own heart.

The moment Obscumentio touched his heart with his back, the entire dark surface of Obscurum was waving around in an uncontrollable manner. Obscumentio's body was covered with white cracks, as this seemed to be the end for him. And then, everything was quiet. Obscumentio couldn't hear anything anymore. Not Luffy's cry, not the power that radiated from his fist, nothing. He didn't felt anything neither, as the jester stared up in the air with a calm look.

"Is this… how it suppose to end?" The jester thought, "Was I really suppose to beaten like this? Then what was the purpose of me obtaining such power? Have I'd grown more serious before, then this might have not happen. I am such a fool…" Obscumentio's eyes watered up, as then realized something. "No… it wouldn't make a difference if I have gotten serious from the start. I didn't lose this because of the lack of using my powers wisely, but… because of him." Obscumentio thought about Luffy, "It was him all along… he was right; he was stronger than me. Not in strength, or mentally or in tactics, but… in everything else. He believed in everybody. He focused his desire to save something precious to him, while I treated the things that were precious to me like an easy catch."

Obscumentio's heart then glowed in a dark light, as the jester was still lost in his trail of thoughts, "I only wanted everyone to be happy with each other, but that's selfish when I think about it. But wait… was it wrong for me to get this power at all?… I don't think so. I still think I deserved it, and it was most joyful while it lasted."

Obscumentio's heart was about to get destroyed, as the jester's tears fell from his cheek upon remembering the times he had in his life, no matter if they were good or bad. He felt grateful to have lived it all, "Luffy.. Nami.. Zoro.. Sanji.. Usopp.. Chopper.. Robin.. Franky..

my dear friends… I thank you from the bottom of my heart. Thank you for the wonderful memories. I am-"

The heart then exploded into a sphere of dark energy, as Obscumentio came back into reality, and screamed in sheer agony while getting sucked in.

"AaaaaAAAaaaahhhh! OoooaaaAAAAeegghh… !
AAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA
AAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAA
AAAAAAAAAAHHHHHHHHHHHHHHH!"

The orb sucked in Obscumentio, and the charming magician was never seen again.

The Dark Being roared in pain as he disintegrated from toe to head, and nothing remained of it as the planet began to shake violently. The dark orb where the core used to be was sucking in all the dark layered energy into itself, disfiguring the entire planet in the process with violent shockwaves, and tremors.

"Yes! I did it!" Luffy yelled before he slowly lost conciousness, "I did it…"

Luffy's arm reverted back to normal, as the captain of the Strawhat pirates fell to his impending doom below. It wasn't likely that he would wake up to save himself, as he kept falling and falling…

Then suddenly, Luffy was caught by none other than Master Hand, who was back to his old self again. Luffy rested on Master Hand's palm as the hand lowered him all the way down on the floating platform below. Master Hand placed Luffy gently on the center of the ground, and gathered his unconscious crew next to him, and placed the ship behind them.

Master Hand floated back, and stared silently at Luffy and his crew. He didn't say anything out loud, but only thought deeply in his thoughts, wondering how could anybody be so reckless to do all these heroic acts just to save him. Normally, he would feel outraged to see anybody risk their lives for something he thought they couldn't accomplish. And yet, he wasn't upset at all. He was proud of seeing such heroic efforts from just an ordinary group of pirates.

Master Hand then looked up, and saw that Obscurum was getting worse by the second. There was no time for him to just lay around, and do nothing.

"Crazy, we're getting out of here! Get ready!" Master Hand yelled. The Hand then flew around to the bottom of the platform, where his brother, Crazy hand, who was holding up the platform up.

"It's about time! Do you know how hard it is for me to lift this entire platform by myself!" Crazy asked, "It's actually super easy, but I feel insulted that you're not doing this with me!"

"Push the entire platform through the hole up there! We need to get out of here now!" Master Hand yelled as he helped Crazy with the platform.

"YAAAAAAAAAAYYY! Hold on, Broothhhhhaaaaaaa! We're going hooooomeee!" Crazy yelled enthusiastically. He and Master Hand then charged themselves with energy, creating a golden barrier around themselves, and the entire platform. The planet was losing even more control of itself as the Hands maneuvered the platform in several directions to avoid the darkness in the way. They flew the platform threw the hole in Obscurum, and escaped. The Strawhat pirates rested peacefully with their backs resting on each other, as the Hands took them far away from Obscurum.

Obscurum was falling apart, as the entire planet was contracting to where the core was once was, until all of the dark energy, was nothing but one, little dot. And then, that little dot beated like a heart just once more, releasing countless of dark waves from each beat, until Obscurum finally exploded.

BOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO
OOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO
OOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO
OOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO
OOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO
OOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOOO
OOOOOOOOOOOOOOOMMMMMMMMMM!

The planet exploded into masses and masses of dark energy, as several implosions occurred from within those masses, as the explosion itself looked big enough to destroy countless of planets nearby. Fortunately, the explosion didn't spread out that far, as all the dark energy formed into an immense tornado of darkness, with a thrilling sound of people screaming coming out from it. The tornado of darkness shrunk, and released even more dark shockwaves across the cosmos. The tornado then slowed itself down, and moved in a wavy-pattern as if they were flames. The dark energy continue to shrink as all the energy then formed into two gigantic whirlpools with one facing upward, and the other downward, and in the center was where the core was. The whirlpools span rapidly, sucking in everything that was in their reach, but didn't suck in anything as the whirlpools grew smaller, but more violent as time passed by.

The thrilling scenery then finally came to an end, as the whirlpools were sucked into the center themselves, leaving one big purple light afterwards. Then the light began to fade… and fade… and fade… until it was gone.

Obscurum… the most dangerous world that threatened our way of life; the planet that used to be a dark paradise; the world that kept spewing up trouble since the very beginning of time… was no more…

And here we are… after 110 chapters since he was first introduced, Dimentio has finally been defeated. And Obscurum, the story's center of attention, has finally passed on. -sniff- Wow, I can't believe it…

Well, there you go. Hope this was good enough of a finisher for you, although I think you did enjoy it. If not, then that's okay too. Ha ha! Anyway, I'm going to work on the ending tomorrow, and we'll see I can update on that same day. This story is finally coming to an end, and I couldn't be more happy to finish this, yet I also couldn't be more sad. But for now, leave your reviews, if you want to review. I'm not begging for them, but it would be nice to hear more from you viewers this time around.

Until the ending! Ciao for now!

Ending Pt 1 of 2

Hey, guys! I just wanted to thank you all for your feedbacks in the last chapter; they were very much appreciated, and I'm grateful that you have you enjoyed it. Before I go on; Mystery-guy, I will answer your questions in the order you asked me.

1) Read this chapter 2) Undecided 3) Undecided

Well, it's been a long year. It wasn't all that great of year, simply because I have gotten lazier in getting this story done. But we are really close to the finish anyway, so that's not really a problem anymore. I don't know what else to say, but… enjoy the chapter!

The darkness has passed… Obscurum's 'purpose' was finished. Dimentio, an optimistic and charming magician, who only wanted to fulfill his dream by making people happy with each other, had gained a power far beyond control; the power of an Emperor God. With that unsurpassable power, he controlled everything around him. He composed a 'show' for his initiation as the supreme ruler of life, and manipulated countless of lives for his pleasure. In one group of those lives, were the protagonists for Dimentio's show, The Strawhat pirates. From the start of their adventure, and towards the end of their lives, Dimentio could already feel that his dream will come true, and last forever.

But that never happened. Dimentio was looking up so high to reach his goal, he forgot to look down to see who were holding him back. The moment he underestimated Luffy and his crew for the very first time he laid his eyes on them, that was when he lost everything he worked so hard to achieve.

After the most gruesome, horrifying, and deadliest encounter in their lives yet, Luffy and his crew defeated Obscumentio, and saved all life from Obscurum. The dark planet has been destroyed, as Master Hand and Crazy Hand took the Strawhats away to safety victoriously. Life was now safe… but what's next for the Strawhats?

Chapter 137: A life of peace, Master Hand's gratitude

… Space has never been so quiet in days. Ever since the events of Obscurum, life in space was quieter and more peaceful than usual. Without that dark planet causing problems throughout all of existence, everything just went back to normal.

The elemental streams of those who've passed on, flew to their respective worlds of the Monarch Ring of the Grand Universe. As the streams entered into the five planets, the worlds then released some streams from their orbits, and those streams set off to create more life in the realities. The dark elemental streams could also be seen there, but it was yet to be seen to where they were going.

In the Smash world, it was night time; everything was dark and quiet as it always was. The planet was set for daybreak as scheduled, and depicted the sun rising over the horizon, brightening up the world itself for a brand new day.

The light of the day brightened the empty city of Smashtown, illuminating the streets, buildings, and the big blue skyscraper with a floating water current around it. The town looked amazing upon receiving the light of day, even though the town was practically empty.

The sun continued to rise, as the sunlight illuminated over the Smash Mansion far off from town. From the outside, it was also quiet, but what was noticeable was that the glass wall on the second floor in front of the mansion Crazy Hand shattered some time ago was fully repaired. Not only that, but the backyard was also back in top condition; it looked so beautiful again, it looked like it wasn't even destroyed by the Obscurum rulers in the first place.

Inside the mansion was the same story; any damages that were left in the battle between the Alloy Team and the Strawhats from when the crew first arrived at the mansion were also fixed up, and pretty clean too.

All the four members of the Alloy team were running around the mansion, cleaning everything in sight with mops, cloths, broomsticks, and plenty of other cleaning materials. They were pretty good cleaning up the mansion, and you can't even tell if they were getting tired, mainly because they don't even have any faces to begin with.

The Alloys continued to do their morning chores, as the Yellow Alloy zipped across the hallway on the second floor, not leaving a single stain on the carpet. He also went to every room in the floor, cleaning them all one by one in nearly light speed. In one of the rooms was the clinic room used for the Smashers to rest if they ever sustain any real damage during tourneys, or any incident of the sort.

Inside the clinic, the floor depicted a meadow filled with flowers, and the walls depicted a grassy horizon with a blue sky, while the ceiling depicted the blue sky with clouds as well. A soft breeze was heard in the room as the images actually moved as if they were the real thing, making it look like the room was actually outside. There wasn't much else in the room other than the clinic beds lined up side by side, with squared windows on the walls between each bed. And on those beds were none other than the Strawhat pirates, resting up on their clinic beds after such a gruesome battle.

The crew were sleeping soundly underneath their bedsheets, as all of the injuries they have received from Dimentio have been fully recovered, including the damages they received on their attire. Luffy was snoring loudly as he usually does whenever he sleeps, with his straw hat lying on the desk cabinet next to him on his left in front of a window. It was pretty much thanks to him that he and his crew were able to defeat Dimentio, and destroy Obscurum, but of course, he couldn't have done it without the help of his crew, and the friends he has made throughout this entire journey. However, it seems miraculous that he and his crew even managed to pull this off. Whether the Strawhats won due to the support from their friends, or it was nothing but sheer luck that helped them survive, the answer is unknown.

The doors then creaked open, and the quiet clinic room now had someone snickering in the background. Nami's bed then rocked back and forth a little violently, which caused Nami to narrow her closed eyelids as she was finally waking up.

"Ugh… huh?" Nami opened up her eyes groggily, as her bed stopped rocking back and forth in the instant she woke, as well as the snickering in the background. Nami still looked tired, and had messy bed hair too. "Hmm… where am I…?" Nami asked to no one as she rubbed her right eye. Nami pushed herself up from her bed with her arms, and turned around to sit up, but as soon as she did, she saw something she didn't expect to see. "Wh-Wha!"

Right ontop of Nami's midsection, was none other than Crazy Hand. The insane Hand was on Nami, with her being in the center of his fingers, and bottom knuckle. Crazy Hand just stood there, gazing at Nami in fear as he knows he's in very big trouble. "Um… hi?"

"GYAAAAAAAAAAAHHHHHH!"

"GAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAAHHHHHHH!"

KAPOW!

Crazy Hand was flung through the clinic entrance behind him, leaving a gaping hole through the wall as the hand then crashed forcefully into the wall behind him, leaving thousands of cracks before falling flat on his palm.

Nami was standing with her back facing her bed, and still had her arm extended forward with her fist blowing off steam from hitting Crazy Hand just now. She had a ferocious look on her face, as she was really awake now. "WHAT THE HELL WERE YOU DOING!"

"I…" Crazy began speaking with a weak voice, "I was fulfilling the dreams of every fanboy…"

CRAAAASSHHHH!

"Ooooooooohhh…" Crazy moaned in pain as Nami just threw her entire bed him, and was smashed in between the bed and wall behind him. "Ow.. It's not like… I can get you pregnant or anything…"

"SHUT UP!" Nami yelled while breathing furiously. She then stopped, as she then realized something, "Wait… you're not possessed anymore!" She then looked around, seeing the familiar hallways of the Smash mansion, "We're back in the Smash World? Then, did we..?"

"Gah! What is up with all noise! I can't even hear myself think!"

Nami glanced over her shoulder, and saw Franky sitting up from his bed while rubbing his head in annoyance, "Franky! You're here!"

"Huh? Orange sis?" Franky said curiously while blinking in confusion. He then looked at his surroundings to see his other comrades sleeping, "… Strange. How did we end up back here?"

Sanji was also waking up, as he had his arm hanging out from the side of his bed. He opened his eyes slowly to see Robin sleeping in a bed next to him. Just seeing her made Sanji blush, "Whoa!" Sanji jumped up on his feet, and panted a bit before realizing where he was. It was then that Robin woke up, and sat up while rubbing her head.

"Mm… oh?" Robin then noticed Sanji staring at her from his bed, and smiled, "Oh, good morning, Cook-san."

"Ha ha… good morning, Robin-chan." Sanji laughed weakly before calming himself down, "Wow! Seeing Robin-chwan wake up next to me is like watching a dream come true!"

"Yaahhh…" Chopper yawned, as he just woke up, and sat up straight while rubbing his eyes, "Oh.. what happened?"

Usopp let out a long yawn as woke up too, "Ah? .. I hope I'm not in the place I think I am…" Usopp got up, and saw his friends with him, "Ngh? Did we all die!"

Zoro then sat up with an tired-looking face, and spread out his arms after his long rest, "… Haven't slept like this in ages…"

"You guys!" Nami exclaimed happily as she faced towards them, "You're all okay!"

"Huh? We are?" Usopp asked until he finally regained his senses, and jumped off his bed, "Wait a minute, we're still alive! What happened! Weren't we fighting with Dimentio just now!"

"I don't know." Zoro said as he got up from his bed, and looked out the window, "I don't think we're in Obscurum anymore…"

"We're not! We're back in the Smash Mansion!" Nami said as she then pointed at Crazy Hand, still lying down with the bed ontop of him, "Just look! There's Crazy Hand, and he's back to normal!"

The crew looked shocked as Luffy continued sleeping while snoring loudly in the background.

"Are you sure about this?" Franky asked in suspicion, "How do we know for sure that this isn't just another stupid illusion that clown made up while we were knocked out?"

"Nyagh.."

Everyone looked back at Crazy, as the Alloy team arrived in a frantic manner, and helped remove the bed that was on Crazy. The Hand groggily stepped forward with his fingers, until he staggered sideways, and fell on the floor. "Gugh.. this ain't an illusion.." Crazy said dazedly before dragging himself into the clinic room, "You guys are really back in the mansion! If this was an illusion, you guys would already be in I'm-going-to-hurt-you mode… which some of you are not! This place is the real deal, and that clown… will not be bothering anyone anymore!"

The crew looked stun as even they couldn't believe what they were hearing. "So… this is real then?" Sanji asked in awe.

"And Dimentio has been…?" Robin began to say, until Crazy Hand interrupted her.

"Yes! He's been defeated! Luffy completely owned that guy with the most epic punch in the history of epic punches!" Crazy Hand exclaimed, "You guys did it! You saved every stinkin' person in the entire cosmos! You guys are the men of men; the saviors of saviors; the awesomness of everything awesome! You guys are our heroes!"

The crew looked unfazed, as they feel so happy to even show any reaction, "We.. We won!" Chopper exclaimed.

"YAAHOOO!" Usopp exclaimed happily as he threw his arms up in the air, and everyone else were extremely happy also, "WE DID IT!"

"Oww! That's what I'm talking about! We sure showed that clown who's boss!" Franky yelled happily with a raised clenched fist.

"Ohh, I'm so relieved! I could hardly believe we actually made it out of there alive!" Nami sighed with a big smile on her face.

"Hm hm! This will certainly stay in our memories for a very long time." Robin said with a pleasant smile.

"Haa! I'm so happy to see both Nami-san and Robin-chan as happy as ever! It makes my heart melt with joy!" Sanji exclaimed happily with heart-filled eyes, and shouting 'Mellorine' repeatedly afterwards.

Zoro smirked with his eyes closed, "Hmph… It took us long enough, but it was well worth it."

While the crew were celebrating, Luffy's stomach began to growl. "Agh.." Luffy moaned as the crew then stared at him. Luffy sat up with a tired look on his face, and rubbed his stomach in hunger. "Hey, guys, I'm hungrryyy.."

"LUFFY!"

"Huh? YAGAHH!" Luffy startled as Usopp, Franky, and Chopper in his Heavy point lifted him up in the air out of sheer excitement, "Ah! Hey! What are you guys doing! Stop it! Wugh!" The crew then accidentally dropped him on the floor, but they kept on laughing as Luffy pouted his lips in annoyance before sitting up, "What's wrong with you guys! You're all acting so crazy…"

"You moron! Don't you get it yet!" Nami asked with a joyful look, "You did it! You defeated Dimentio! You stopped him!"

"Hu.. ugh?" Luffy blinked in confusion, until he finally remembered, "Oh! Oh yeah! Dimentio! Is he really gone!"

"Yeah, man! You really did it!" Crazy Hand exclaimed while floating back in the air again. Luffy looked at Crazy, and couldn't be more happy to see him back to his old self.

"Crazy! You're back!" Luffy got up, ran towards Crazy, and gave him a big hug around his finger, "It's so good to see you back!"

"Ah! I'm so happy too, man!" Crazy replied in a crying-like manner, "You don't know how happy I am right now just for you having your arms around me! Ahh, this is so great!"

Everyone laughed as R.O.B. came into the room, and was ecstatic to see the crew again.

"Look, it's R.O.B.!" Luffy exclaimed as he unwrapped his arms off of Crazy, and then hugged R.O.B. tightly around his waist, "Gya ha ha ha! It's so good to see your funny looking head again!"

R.O.B. spins his arms around in circles as a reply, joyful to see the crew back up again. Luffy then opened as he then drops R.O.B. unexpectedly, and touched his head, "Agh! Where's my hat! Did I lose it!"

"It's right here, Luffy." Sanji said, pointing at Luffy's straw hat on the desk cabin. Luffy smiled as he went over to his hat, and grabbed it. The crew watched with joyful expressions as Luffy placed his hat right back on his head, right where it should be.

"Hee hee hee! This feels much better!" Luffy said with his usual wide grin.

"Luffy, you have to tell us how you defeated Dimentio!" Chopper exclaimed while jumping up and down on a bed close by.

"Yeah, Strawhat! How the heck did you beat that guy!" Franky asked, "We've been giving it our all against that guy from the start, and yet you beat him by yourself! How did you exactly take him down?"

"Hmm…" Luffy thought deeply, but was having trouble remembering, ".. Huh, I don't remember. The only thing I can remember was falling asleep, and waking up here."

"Well, none of that matters anyway; the important thing is that we all made it out alive." Nami said happily.

"Oh! I know! Let's go celebrate, and eats lots and lots of meat right now!" Luffy suggested excitedly.

The Strawhats looked very excited, as R.O.B., and the Alloy Team were happy just seeing the crew happy. "Yeah, let's celebrate!" Crazy yelled, "But instead of eating meat, let's all have sex together right now!"

BAM!

"Oww.." Crazy Hand was once again knocked into the wall in the hallway after Nami just slugged him for the second time.

"Tsk! What a way to kill the mood…" Nami muttered as the Alloy Team helped Crazy up from the ground in a frantic manner again.

"By the way, how long have we been asleep? I felt like I haven't woken up in ages." Usopp said while rubbing his shoulder.

"Now that you mention it, I do feel a little worn out." Robin said.

"Oh, do you need to rest again, Robin-chan?" Sanji asked worryingly.

"No, it's not a problem. It's just that I don't feel completely awake yet."

Crazy Hand then dazedly floated back into the room, and faced towards the crew, "Ngh. I'm not surprised you guys feel that way; you all look like you got a hangover." Crazy Hand said, "To tell you the truth; you guys have been sleeping for one whole week after that whole brawlfest you went through."

The crew were shocked to hear this. "Really! A whole week!" Chopper asked.

"One whole week!" Luffy gasped, "That's like 70 different meals I missed while I was sleeping!"

"70? Wouldn't that be twice as more than what you would normally eat in a week?" Usopp asked with a raised eyebrow.

"I'm extra hungry today!" Luffy replied "I want to eat as much food as I can before we can celebrate tonight, and eat even more food!"

"Okay… I'm not even going to ask why…" Usopp sighed.

"Yeah, that's good and all, but before you guys do that, I have to tell you something." Crazy Hand interrupted. The Strawhats looked at Crazy, wondering what kind of stupid thing he was gonna say. But unexpectedly, they heard him whimper, as the hand fell on his fingers, and bowed down to them, "Thank you!" Crazy cried, "Thank you for saving my brother! I really couldn't have done it without you guys! -sniff-.. -sniff-.. You're the best! You're truly the best! Waaaaaahhh ha ha haaaahhh.."

Crazy Hand cried immensely as the crew merely smiled at him.

"Ahem… I shouldn't be acting so wimpy.. but I can't help it!" Crazy cried as R.O.B. went to him with a tissue, "Not only you saved the grand universe and the realities, but you saved my brother! My dear, sweet, gentle, smart, boring, dull, ugly-butt of a brother! Ah ha.. thanks." Crazy said to R.O.B. as he grabbed the tissue, and blew it as if he had a nose, or boogers for that matter.

The Strawhats then remembered about Master Hand, "Oh yeah, Master Hand! Is he okay!" Luffy asked.

"He's just fine, thanks to you guys." Crazy said before floating back in the air, "Actually, he wanted to talk with you guys as soon as you all were awake. He's in his office now; if you want, I can drag his ugliness here for ya."

The crew looked at each other, as Luffy then smiled, "That's okay; we'll go and see him instead."

"Alright. We'll lead the way. Come on, pinheads." Crazy Hand said, referring to R.O.B. and the Alloy Team as they were ready to escort the Strawhats to Master Hand.

"Hee hee! This is so exciting!" Luffy said excitedly, "We're finally going to talk to Master Hand!"

"I'm also intrigued to see what he'll say to us." Robin said with a pleasant smile.

"I bet he'll thanks us for saving him when no one else could." Usopp said with a cocky smirk, "Then again, he might only thank me, for I did all the hardwork! Ah ha ha ha ha!"

"Whatever. I'm only interested how he is going to act when he takes a first glance at us. He'll be amazed for sure." Franky said with a smirk.

"All I know, is that anything else will be better, than to have that 'thing' humping me while I was sleeping." Nami said irritated.

"Hu-WHAT!" Sanji exclaimed as he furiously glared at Crazy while gritting his sharp teeth.

"It was dry humping! That's completely different!" Crazy Hand yelled, but Sanji still glared at him, "If it makes anyone feel better, I dry humped all of you during this week."

BAM! WHACK! SLAP! KAPOW! POW! BAAAMMM!

Crazy Hand was left with countless of bumps all over his figure as the crew walked away as if nothing happened. R.O.B., and the Alloy team led the way, as Luffy and his crew happily followed them without realizing they left Zoro and Chopper behind.

"Let's go, Zoro. We don't want to be left behind." Chopper said.

"Hold on, let me atleast get my swords." Zoro said while glancing back at Chopper. Zoro walked over to his swords lying up against the wall next to his bed, and grabbed them as he placed them around the right side of his waist. He then turned around while placing his hand over the hilts of his blades, as he was then about to exit the clinic.

CRACK!

"Hmm?" Zoro stopped as he heard something crack nearby. He then felt strange, and noticed that his arm resting over the hilts was in a different angle. Zoro narrowed his eyes seeing this.

"What's wrong, Zoro?" Chopper asked.

Zoro said nothing at first, but remained stoic as he looked at Chopper, "Can you wait out in the hallway? I need to check something."

Chopper looked concerned, "Um, okay. I'll be waiting close by, just incase you don't get lost out here."

Once Chopper left the clinic, Zoro looked back at his blades. He pulled out one sword in it's sheathe in particular from his waist, and looked at in a stoic manner. It was the sword he got from Wario back when he was in the Mushroom Kingdom. The sword helped him get throughout many difficult battles, despite how worn out it was the time he got it. Zoro knew one day the sword might finally break, but even so, he still seems a little surprised.

Zoro looked up at the hilt of the blade, and noticed that it was bent forward. It probably happened when Zoro placed his arm over it, but it's not like the battles it endured weren't also the reason why it turned out that way. Zoro grasped the hilt of the blade, and slowly unsheathed it. He pulled it out quicker than he thought, as he saw that the sword was indeed broken, with sword now looking more like an awkward shaped knife than an actual blade.

The pieces of the blade were still in the sheathe, as Zoro stared silently at the broken sword that helped him get through this cosmical voyage. He couldn't help but remember all the battles he had with the blade, especially the first time he got it.

In the end, Zoro said nothing. He sheathed the sword, and placed it around his right waist. He walked out of the clinic, saw Chopper, and walked with him to catch up with the crew, without saying a word for that matter.

The Strawhats were silent with anticipation on their way to Master Hand's office. This would be their first time to actually meet Master Hand in a proper manner unlike the time they met him nearly unconscious back in Obscurum. Luffy had his arms shivering up against his chest with excitement, as he was more eager to meet Master Hand then everybody else in his crew. He was dying to meet Master Hand the first time he heard his name a long time, so it's only surprising that he's able to restrain himself from rushing over to meet the hand while leaving everybody else behind.

The Strawhats remained quiet, as they finally stood in front of the giant doorway of Master Hand's office. They stared up at the door in silence as the Alloy team leaned their hands on the door, ready to open it for the Strawhats to enter.

"This is it.." Luffy whispered in awe. He then tapped his foot on the ground repeatedly, unable to contain his excitement any longer. "Hurry up! Open it!"

R.O.B. then gave the signal to the Alloy team, as they then opened the door slowly as the sunlight from the office shined over the crew from the center.

The crew also seemed excited in their own style. Zoro, Sanji, and Robin were stoic while looking at the door opening up; Nami looked a little nervous what would happen; Franky smirked, eager to meet the hand; and Usopp and Chopper were as a stiff as a board, feeling so excited to meet the hand, they were nervous as they both gulped in unison.

The door was completely opened, and stepped aside, allowing the Strawhat pirates to enter.

Luffy couldn't contain his excitement anymore; he quickly rushed into the office before anyone else. "Master Hand!" He shouted excitedly as he ran pass R.O.B., running past him so quickly that the robot spins in circles.

"Wait for us, Luffy!" Nami shouted as they ran after Luffy, running past R.O.B. in the process.

R.O.B. spins around even more as the crew past him, as once the crew ran ahead, R.O.B. slowed himself down, feeling so dazedly that he nearly fell on his back. He managed to retain his balance as he shook his head to regain his composure, and followed the Strawhats across the office floor.

Since the office was huge, it took the crew some time to get to the other end of the office where Master Hand was located. But they didn't care; like said before, they were just too excited to even care about anything else.

The crew then stopped running as they finally reached the end of the office. They panted a little from the running as Luffy raised his head, and smiled in amazement.

There was Master Hand, looking through the glass wall floating with his back facing his desk in silence. He was looking up the sky before him, and let out a quiet sigh. The Strawhats wondered what was wrong, but didn't had much to think about it as they saw Master Hand perk up.

"… Hello." Master Hand began to say. He paused for a minute before he continued, "I see that you're fully awake. That's good. I was getting worried that you were never going to wake up." Master Hand paused again, "To be honest, I have the power to restore mental capabilities after extreme exhaustion, or any illness, but… that wouldn't be natural to you. It would've been rude of me to disrupt your slumber after such a hectic event. But none of that matters now… I'm glad that you're all okay."

Master Hand then turned towards the Strawhats, "I am Master Hand. I'm am the creator of this world, and the founder of the Smash Bros. tournaments. It is of great pleasure to meet the ones who have saved me and my brother from a terrible, impending fate."

"Huuaahh! You're so cool! You even sound awesome!" Luffy exclaimed excitedly with sparkly eyes.

"He sounds pretty normal. He is like the exact opposite of his brother." Nami whispered to Sanji.

"Tell me about it…" Sanji agreed.

Master Hand then floated over his table, and approached Luffy, "Your name is Luffy, correct?"

"Uh-huh! That's me!" Luffy replied instantly, "And this is my crew: Zoro, Nami, Usopp, Sanji, Chopper, Robin, and Franky! We heard so many great things about you, and we came all this way just to meet you!"

"I see… I heard many good things about you as well." Master Hand said, "My brother speaks of you often. He tells me about your adventures; the good things you do for others; and the strong ambition you all have in fulfilling your dreams. I can now see why my brother worships you so much, that he has to tell me about every single day." Master Hand spoke in a grief tone, "Every… single… day… in great amount of detail… especially inappropriate things…"

"Why is he sad?" Chopper asked while blinking in confusion.

"I don't think we want to know…" Zoro said, noticing the gloomy, wavy line background around Master Hand.

"Ahem, sorry." Master Hand said, regaining his composure, "As I was saying, It is a big honor to meet you all in person. While you were recovering from your battle with Dimentio, Crazy Hand told me everything that occurred while I was in captivity. It's bewildering to know that you all went through so much trouble… and it was all because of one man's twisted game. I apologize for all this trouble that I have caused you.."

"Don't be." Sanji said with a smile, "It's fine. That clown was asking for it anyway. Anybody who messes with us, or anything else for that matter, will eventually get a taste of punishment from the best pirate crew there is."

"You…"

"It's okay." Luffy said with a big smile, "We would've helped you out, even if we knew something bad was going on from the very start. It's because of you, we got to see so many new places and people. The mushroom land, the elf world, the poke monsters, the big town place, the ten foot bug-eyed people world, the potato village, the giant robot things, Cornyera… all of those places were truly amazing! I'll never forget them! Especially the people we've met there! They're all so incredible, I'll never forget them neither! This adventure was the best, and best of all, we can finally thank you for it!" Luffy then raised his arm, and gave Master Hand a thumbs up, "So… thank you for getting captured, and letting us have the best time of our lives."

"Oi…" Luffy's crew muttered with frustrated looks.

Master Hand was speechless at first, until he laughed lightly, "Ha ha.. that's fine." He said, "I'm grateful for your actions. If I were to pick someone to save all of life, it would have been just you all."

Luffy's smile then grew wider to a point he was blushing immensely, and said some gibberish in attempt to hide how happy he was hearing Master Hand thanking him. His whole crew were also acting this way, with Usopp gloating about himself in a pathetic manner, and Chopper doing his happy dance. Zoro, Nami, and Robin were the only ones embarrassed seeing their comrades act like this.

"Bunch of morons. Enough already…" Nami muttered while blushing with embarrassment.

"It's because of you, everything is back to normal." Master Hand said, "Once again… thank yo-"

"HEEYYYZZZ!" Crazy Hand exclaimed, popping right out of nowhere as he startled the crew, and fell on the ground. They stood right back, and glared at Crazy with pupiless eyes. "Wh-What?" Crazy asked nervously, "Did I ruin another glorious moment again? My bad…"

Master Hand sighed, as the crew stopped glaring at Crazy. "Oh, I almost forgot!" Luffy gasped, "What happened to Obscurum!"

The crew just remembered about that world as soon as Luffy mentioned it, "Hey, that's right! What ever happened to that place?" Franky asked.

"Is it destroyed, or is it still there?" Robin asked a little worried.

"Please, calm down." Master Hand assured, "It's alright… there's nothing to worry about it anymore. That world will no longer cause any trouble."

"Really? Then it's gone?" Nami asked.

Master Hand moved aside, "Just take a look for yourselves." Master Hand then snapped his fingers, depicting the Grand Universe in his entire universe. The Strawhats were startled by this, as Master Hand then pointed ahead, "Look over there."

The Strawhats looked to where Master Hand was pointing, and they couldn't see anything there at first. However, they started to see something odd the more they look at that direction.

"It's too far. I don't even know what I'm looking at." Franky said with his eyes narrowed.

Master Hand helped the crew by zooming in on the image where they were looking at, helping them see what it is. As the image grew bigger, the Strawhats could see dark elemental streams flying into one certain area. When the image was big enough for the crew to see, they all gasped in unison.

"Obscurum!" Robin gasped as she and the others are looking at the planet was thought to destroyed.

"No way, it's still there! That's incredible…" Usopp said in awe.

"So what does this mean! Was all our efforts of destroying that place a big waste of time!" Sanji asked furiously.

"Calm down, everyone." Master Hand said before looking at the dark planet, "Look at it again, and tell me what you see."

The Strawhats looked back at Obscurum, and instantly, they saw something different. "It looks a little different." Zoro said with his arms crossed. The Strawhats thought deeply, until Nami snapped her fingers.

"No, wait, I get it!" Nami said upon realizing it.

"What? What is it?" Franky asked as he, and the others looked at Nami.

"Look at that planet carefully. You can see that the dark elemental streams are leaving the world as more of them enter." Nami pointed out. The crew looked at Obscurum again, and could see dark elemental streams leaving from the big cracks of the world's surface.

"So… what does that mean again?" Luffy asked while scratching his head.

"Don't you guys remember what Crazy told us about that world?" Nami asked, "It absorbs in all the dark elemental energy, but never releases any streams unlike the other five planets." Nami then stared back at Obscurum, "Because it doesn't release any streams, it's gets bigger and stronger to a point that it absorbs any life in it's path, but now that it's releasing streams, that's no longer an issue."

"Did I really say that?" Crazy asked, "I never thought I sounded that smart…"

"I see…" Luffy said, rubbing his chin as he was trying to understand what Nami just said, "So… the world's broken?"

"In a way, yes." Master Hand replied, catching the Strawhat's attention, "After you defeated Dimentio, Obscurum exploded. Obscurum's core was still active by the time the explosion occurred, and sucked in all of the dark energy of the explosion before it could spread any further, which was very fortunate, because if it weren't for the core, who knows how much destruction it would have caused. There's nothing left of the world but it's core once again."

"The same planet that wanted to take life ended up saving it in the end. Go figure…" Franky nodded.

"But Obscurum is still there. Isn't that still a problem?" Chopper asked.

"Not anymore." Master Hand replied, "As you can see from the core, it contains several cracks around it's surface, probably received after Luffy attacked it." Luffy tilted his head as Master Hand continued, "The core hardened after it absorbed the explosion, but it hardened too quickly, that it was unable to stabilize itself in the fullest, thus having those cracks as you see now. Those cracks are the only things that are preventing the core from containing the dark elemental streams within itself without releasing the streams out. I checked the core several times to make sure, and I can safely say that Obscurum is no longer a threat to our way of life. It's because that it's 'broken' no one has to fear from that world anymore."

"Amazing…" Luffy said as if he understood all that, "They're like… mystery cracks!"

"Then we did it! We actually saved all of life itself!" Usopp said while jittering with excitement.

"I don't believe it…" Nami said while holding her head in awe, "I never thought we end up doing something this big in our lives!"

"We're very lucky to have done this, and still be here." Sanji said with a smirk.

"Ow! This is our supaa day! I will never forget this!" Franky yelled while doing his victory pose.

"Wow.. I still feel so shocked that we saved everybody." Chopper said with a big smile.

"You guys need to calm down; it was obvious we were going to win from the start." Zoro said stoically.

"Hm hm! So serious as ever, Mr. Swordsman." Robin giggled, "But this is rather a good thing to feel proud of. Let's enjoy while we can."

"Hya ha ha ha! This is so great! Even though I can't really remember how it happened, this is still great!" Luffy yelled as he and the crew kept talking how great it felt to save everything. Master Hand watched them talk in silence, and felt proud of them. Luffy then stopped talking, catching Master Hand's attention, "I just remembered something…" Luffy then turned to Master Hand, and asked, "Now that everything is back to normal, and you're safe again… can we become Smashers?"

The crew stopped talking the instant they heard that. Crazy Hand, R.O.B, and the Alloy team also looked surprised, while Master Hand looked at Luffy without saying anything.

"I want to know how it feels to be a part of your tournaments." Luffy said, "I heard from Merlon that you put on fights that does good things for others, like peace, and all that stuff. I kept thinking about them for a long time, and I really had a good feeling about it. And now that I've met you, I now know that I was thinking clearly, and.. we really want to join now. So, can we?"

Crazy looked at Master Hand, wondering what he was going to say. Master Hand then spoke, "… My tournaments are special." Master Hand said, "It's a time where I pick those who are worthy enough to be a part of it. It was a great idea when I first thought about it, and has given me great results in each tournament I've held so far. I get to see the interaction between species of different worlds; it was wonderful to see them all get along in a certain way. The tournaments are not only beneficial to those participating it, but for me as well. Not because of hosting the tournaments, but for other reasons as well."

"Bro, don't.." Crazy said until Master Hand interrupted.

"It's okay; they deserve to hear this." Master Hand assured. The Strawhats blinked in confusion as Master Hand sighed before he started explaining.

"… When Luminarious defeated Obscus, killing him and his entire planet with it, the planet exploded, releasing it's energy throughout the entire cosmos. This created new planets, boundaries, and countless amount of life everywhere. Luminarious tried to protect the worlds of the Monarch Ring system, and while he managed to do so upon sacrificing himself, he didn't prevent those worlds from linking with the ones made in the aftermath from that war…"

Master Hand paused for a minute, thinking about that unforgettable event, until he quickly resumed, "Obscurum's dark energy from the explosion combined itself with the energy of the other five worlds, creating countless of planets in the process. The Monarch system gave birth to those planets, and to more life that would eventually come in the near future. However, the Monarch system would've faced extinction, if it wasn't for the fact that the Grand Universe named itself to be the source of all life by absorbing the elemental energy from the life and worlds that have passed on as their energy source, while also releasing energy to create more life at the same time. That way, the Monarch worlds would remain balanced in a healthy level for an eternity."

Master Hand then looked at Obscurum behind him, and sounded a little angry, "Unfortunately, Obscurum was the only one not following this procedure. Since it's destruction, nothing else remained of it but it's lifeless core, being the symbol of that war that should have never happened in the first place!"

The Strawhats were then startled by Master Hand, who was emitting a powerful aura, that not even Luffy could remain stoic upon seeing him act that way. "Yo, bro! Chill out!" Crazy yelled.

Master Hand realized what he was doing, and immediately drew back his power, and calmed himself down, "I'm sorry…" He said softly without even looking at anyone. He later resumed as if nothing happened, "Terrenus, Stillicidia, Ventosus, Adustum, Luminarium; all of those planets were filled with life that they were able to create more life beyond the boundaries, but not Obscurum; that world was dead the instant this life procedure began. Thus, even if it can absorb the dark streams, it has no life to give back… and brought chaos…"

Master Hand then looked back at the Strawhats, "Countless of millenniums I tried many things into stopping that world, but nothing I did work. I was filled with grief ever since the war, and I was on the merge of giving up… until he did it. When the great Vorago sacrificed himself to stop Obscurum, but it only delayed what could have been an inevitable fate. However, it wasn't all for nothing. What Vorago did that day reminded me that I wasn't alone in trying to stop the chaos. There are plenty of other creatures out there that were willing to sacrifice themselves in order to do the right thing, and not just me. This inspired me to move on, and to never give up no matter what."

The space illusion then disappeared as everyone was now back at the office. None of them seem surprised as they continued to listen to Master Hand's story, "For millenniums, I watched over people, doing good or bad things. The things they did, good or bad, has given me great knowledge, and brings me a step closer into stopping Obscurum. After so much time has passed, I've finally decided to host these smash tournaments, where I pick great and powerful individuals to see them interact in person. They're were all incredible, just as Vorago was. I figured, as pathetic this might sound, but that if I host more tournaments, I will have a group of great people that I would want them to help me stop Obscurum once and for all."

The Strawhats were surprised to hear that. They didn't know the tournaments were held majorly for Master Hand to get an army of powerful beings to stop Obscurum. They wanted to say something about that, but Master Hand then sounded happy.

"But… the more I see them interact, the more I was beginning to regret that idea. It was wrong for me to host tournaments for the wrong reasons, so I rejected that idea in the end. All in all, I was making things alot better for everyone. These tournaments were so great to watch, it even made me forget about Obscurum once in a while. Of course, Obscurum was still a threat, but for once in my entire life, I was living life the I should have done long ago. If Obscurum was meant to end life, then I wanted to continue doing the things I want do until that time comes. The Smashers have given me such happiness, I wanted to do this until the very end…"

Master Hand then looked at Luffy, "But that time has long since passed. Luffy… it's because of you and your crew, you have managed to do something not even the great Vorago could have done in his time. It's because of your courage and ambition to live on, the end of life will never come. You are all heroes, and I could never reject those who have done so much for us all."

"Hee hee! That's great!" Luffy said with a grin, "So, does that mean we get to be Smashers?"

"Unfortunately, no. I must decline only that." Master Hand said.

"EEHHHH!" Luffy, Usopp, Chopper, Crazy hand, almost everyone were very shocked.

"Why not!" Luffy asked with an angry, yet very sad look, "You just said we were heroes! Why don't you want us in, you stupid, floating… giant hand!"

"Luffy, shut up! If he doesn't want to, then he doesn't want to! Leave it at that!" Nami bickered.

"Please, don't get me wrong. There is nothing more honorable then to have the heroes of all life itself to participate in my tournaments, it's just that…" Master Hand paused, "It's not in my place to meddle with our people's affairs."

Everyone was silent, until Sanji spoke up, "I get it. I nearly didn't think of that."

"Damn.. I can't believe we forgot about that." Franky while rubbing his head.

"Huh? What did we forget?" Chopper asked.

"Are you serious?" Zoro asked as Chopper then looked at him, "We've been traveling out here for so long… we have nearly forgotten about our own adventure."

Nami and Robin smiled; Usopp nodded with a somewhat serious look; Chopper was embarrassed for asking that question, and smiled weakly; Sanji and Franky grinned; and Luffy calmed down, looking stoic. The Strawhats were silent, as Master Hand explained.

"From what I've heard from my brother, you are all on a big quest in the Grand Line." Master Hand said, "Luffy, you want to become the Pirate King. That goal is not something you should put aside, even for something as being a Smasher. I only allow individuals who are not occupied by fate to be Smashers, and your fate might change if I were to take you in as a Smasher. I'm sorry… but as long as you haven't met your goal, I cannot accept you here."

Luffy didn't express any emotion upon hearing those words. His straw hat was shading over his eyes, as he then suddenly grinned, "… Okay. Then promise me this." Luffy then raised his head up, and grinned while also raising his fist in the air. "When I become the Pirate King, I want you to be there. I want you to be right in front of me, and say, 'Luffy, I want you to become a Smasher!', and invite my crew as Smashers, if you want to. Hee hee!" Luffy then smiled pleasantly, ".. Do we have a promise?"

Master Hand admired Luffy's reply. He didn't know what to say, until he then gave the thumbs up to Luffy.

"I promise." Master Hand, "I shall wait for you when you become the Pirate King."

From that moment on, everyone was really happy, especially Crazy, who looked like he was going to pass out just by thinking of Luffy in the Smasher family. Master Hand then lowered his thumb, and spoke again.

"Now then, I'm sure you don't want to me ramble on any further. You must be starving after your long rest." Master Hand said, "Please, go downstairs to the dining room, and help yourself to all the food you want from the kitchen.

Hearing that one, simple sentence ignited Luffy's thirst for food. "FOOOOOODDD!" Luffy yelled as he turned around, ran past his crew, and dashed the way out of the office in less than a millisecond.

"Hey, hold on! Don't leave us behind!" Nami laughed as she and the others followed their captain. R.O.B, and the Alloy team also followed them, leaving only Crazy and Master Hand in the office alone.

"Ha ha! You see! I told you those guys are the best!" Crazy said happily.

"Yes, you were right." Master Hand before getting behind his table, "I'm really glad that you were in one of your smart periods during that time, and brought them here during that whole event from before."

"Dawwww, it was nothin'." Crazy Hand said embarrassed, "I mean, really, I had plenty of other freaks that came to mind that could've gotten the job done just the same, but I think I picked the best of them all to put an end to that stupid emo-ness of yours."

"Either way…" Master Hand said before he looked through the glass wall, "I'm glad everything turned out okay. Never have I felt this relaxed since I first laid my sight on our creators. I miss them so much…"

"Quit crying about it; they're still out there." Crazy Hand said, "I bet they're stalking on you right now, just like we always do to the mortals."

"Yes… you're right." Master Hand said as he then turned back to his brother, "Well, I should start working on…?" Master Hand then noticed shards of his precious glass vase scattered across his table. He then turned his gaze at Crazy, "Did you-"

"Yes." Crazy replied instantly, holding Mr. Cuddly-kins with his thumb.

Master Hand pondered how he got his doll from out of nowhere, but got back on the glass vase, "When did you-"

"Magic." Crazy replied instantly again. The brothers stared at each other silently from then on, as Crazy floated backwards slowly and very quietly. He kept his gaze at his brother just in case, as he eventually got out of the office, and closed the door on his way out.

Master Hand was left alone, as he sighed irritably, "24,693,425,436,079,969,242,547,369,644,398,598,590 times he has broken my vase on purpose… I need to find a way to make him stop doing that…"

As the hand went to pick up the remains of his glass vase, the Strawhats were running happily in the hallways of the second floor, finally being able to enjoy one day of peace from their one-of-a-kind adventure.

Meanwhile…

The rest of the day, the Strawhats relaxed in the comforts of the Smash Mansion, and were currently eating their first meal since they've woken up in their one week slumber.

"Mooaaaa! I vwhant moaa foowwdd!" Luffy yelled with mouth filled with different kinds of meat. He was taking in every single edible thing that was on the table into his mouth, increasing the size of cheeks by the minute. Luffy was sitting at the back end of the dining table, so he wasn't disturbing anyone close to him… mostly.

"Dammit, Luffy! You better chew all that up!" Nami bickered, trying to eat her meal in peace.

The alloy team was rushing in and out of the kitchen close by, bringing in multiple dishes onto the table a little faster than Luffy was taking in. Luffy wasn't slowing down, and ended up taking Usopp and Chopper's steaks from their dishes.

"No fair, Luffy! That was mine!" Chopper cried.

Usopp then stomped his foot on the table, and growled at Luffy while pointing at him, "Luffy, you bastard! Haven't you had enough already!"

"Mmm, mmmm!" Luffy shook his head, covering his gigantic mouth with both hands, as Luffy the squinted his eyes, and forcefully swallowed every edible thing he placed into his mouth without even chewing. Luffy's head looked normal again, but his body turned round as he then laughed, "I'm just getting warmed up! MORE FOOD!"

"Luffy, I thought I told you to chew!" Nami yelled as he slugged Luffy deep into his cheek, but the captain didn't faze as he kept on eating.

Crazy, and R.O.B. watched the Strawhats eat near the frontal staircase of the mansion, as the Hand suddenly laughed, "I could tell them that we have an unlimited supply of food, but damn, this is so funny to watch! Ha ha ha!" Crazy laughed while R.O.B. only shook his head in shame.

Usopp and Chopper ate their meals faster so that Luffy wouldn't steal theirs again, while Franky was drinking several cola bottles nonstop. Zoro and Sanji were eating their meals, lashing away Luffy's fists as they came near, while Robin was the only one enjoying her meal, drinking some tea quietly and calmly in the process.

Master Hand came downstairs, and looked at the monstrous eating display the Strawhats were showing. Master Hand was at a loss of words, as he has never seen such chaos on a dining table before.

"I'm still so hungry…" Luffy said rather suggestively after swallowing another batch of food, "I NEED MORE FOOD!" Luffy then grabs the end of the dining table, and began to lift it.

"What the! Wha!" Nami jumped out of her chair, as well as her comrades, who frantically took a step back, watching Luffy lift the table until it was in a diagonal position. Everyone watched as the food that were still on the table slid down towards Luffy, who opened his mouth very widely to take it all inside him.

"You idiot! You're going too far!" Zoro yelled.

"Put the table down, you dumbass!" Sanji yelled while Robin stood next to him, watching this scene while still drinking her cup of tea in a clam fashion, "You do realize that you're also eating the dishes, the utensils, and the freaking candlesticks, don't you!"

Luffy continued to lift up the table, bringing more food, and table objects into his mouth. Everyone watched in awe, and in irritance as Luffy raised the table a little too far. "Mmgh!" Luffy noticed this, but it was too late; the table fell over Luffy, smashing him into the ground, as the upper half of the table broke upon hitting the ground as well. Luffy didn't swallow what he had in his mouth, as he tried to get up, and get the table off him, but he was so round, that he couldn't even get up. "Mmmrgh… Hepgh.. bughh.."

The Strawhats then laughed uncontrollably, including Crazy Hand, who fell on his back, and laughed really loud while R.O.B. looked down on him, and felt pathetic for him.

"Oh my…" Master Hand gasped a little, and then sighed, "Not even all the Smashers could wreak this much havoc on the dining table… not even during dinner. Oh, wait… this is just breakfast." Master Hand then sighed as hanged his fingers loosely in grief, "This is going to be a long day…"

Meanwhile…

After breakfast, The Strawhats were out on the pool on the leftside of the mansion. They were all wearing their swimming gear, especially Nami and Robin, who were wearing some nice bikinis.

"Mellorrinnne!" Sanji exclaimed happily, shaking his legs up and down, and waving his arms left and right out of pure joy in his blue, and a pink hawain shirt.

Usopp and Franky both climbed the ladder up to the diving board quickly, and there they stood tall, wearing nothing but thongs, which was normal for Franky, but it looked a little gross on Usopp.

"O-kay! Are you ready, Franky!" Usopp asked while doing a dramatic stance.

"Ow! You bet I am! I'll show you what a real dive looks like!" Franky replied, also doing a pose. Chopper was watching them, wearing a yellow swimming cap with a pair of goggles over his head, a black and white striped swimsuit, and big floaties around his arms. He was sitting on an inflatable pink chair, floating around the corner of the pool.

"Wow! You guys are so amazing!" Chopper admired Usopp and Franky as they continued to pose on the diving board.

Zoro was on a beach chair, trying to relax. He wore nothing but black trunks, and a pair of sunglasses. He snoozed while most of his body reflected the rays of the sun.

Nami was also enjoying the rays, as she was on a beach chair, lying on her chest with her arms crossed in front of her face, and legs raised behind her. Sanji came up to her, holding a bottle of sun tan lotion.

"Excuse me, Nami-san. May I rub some sun tan lotion on your back?" Sanji asked in a suave tone.

Nami nodded kindly, "You may, but you better keep your hands on my back, and not somewhere where I might bite." Nami said playfully before winking. Sanji smiled as he squeezed the bottle over his hand, getting some lotion on his palm. He then rubbed the lotion between his hands, and then gave Nami a soft and smooth massage. Nami moaned in delight, and sighed as she was completely relaxed, "Ahh, that feels good…"

Sanji's suave look was quickly replaced with a goofy, gorilla smile with his nostrils flared up, "Haaa! I'm so enjoying this day!" He thought to himself.

"Come on, Usopp! Jump!" Chopper exclaimed.

"Yosh! It's time that I'd show you why they call me Pool Swimming Champ, Usopp!" Usopp laughed while flexing.

"And I'll show you why I'm a better diver than you are! Now get out of my way!" Franky said as he tried to jump off first, but Usopp wouldn't let him. They both attacked each other in a comical fashion, until they both ended up slipping off the diving board, and fell down towards the pool.

They both screamed in unison until the fell into the center of the pool, creating a wave that splashed Nami off her chair, and fell on the ground along with Sanji. Robin saw this, and merely smiled before she continued to read her book on her chair under an umbrella. Nami and Sanji remained motionless after that event, as Usopp and Franky emerged from the waters, and gasped for air after there terrible dive.

"That was great!" Chopper exclaimed on his pool chair while clapping. Nami and Sanji then got, and glared at Usopp and Franky.

"Hey! What's the big idea!" Nami asked furiously.

"You idiots have some nerve! I was-I mean, we were having a good time, until you screwed things up!" Sanji yelled, but Usopp and Franky laughed anyway.

"Hiya ha ha ha! My turn!" Luffy said excitedly, as he was already on the diving board, wearing red swimming shorts, and holding a floaty inner tube around his waist. This caught the crew's (except for Zoro) attention, as Luffy then jumped off the board, and fell towards the pool.

"Wah!" Usopp and Franky swimmed out of the way, as Luffy landed hard in the center, creating a big splash in the process.

"Wow! Nice jump, Luffy!" Chopper exclaimed happily, until he saw that Luffy was nowhere to be seen, except for his inner tube floating in the center of the pool. The crew got quiet when they saw this, as they then saw some bubbles popping up on the pool's surface, "Gaaaaahh! Luffy is drowning!"

Usopp and Franky dived into the water, and later came out holding Luffy by the arms. Luffy gasped for air as his crew brought him to solid ground, where Nami came up, and gently kicked Luffy in the head.

"Idiot!" Nami said before walking off. Immediately after that occured, Zoro could be seen with his body turning pink from the ultraviolet rays of the sun from while he was sleeping.

"… HOT!" Zoro gasped in pain before he fell backwards from his chair, catching the attention of his comrades shortly afterwards.

Meanwhile…

It was now lunchtime, as the Strawhats were now back at the dining room, eating at the dining table that was quickly fixed by the Alloys while the crew were playing the pool a while ago.

The crew were wearing their original clothing again, and were having an ordinary time on the dining table like before, all except for Zoro. Zoro had a smuggish frown on his face as he had received a nasty sunburn a while ago, and had his entire body, except for his eyes and hair, covered with moisturizer cream to ease the pain. Sanji snickered at Zoro while he was eating, while Zoro just hissed back.

"Food, food, FOOD!" Luffy was at again, stuffing everything he could get his hands. Then, once again, he lifted up his side of the table, forcing his crew to step away and raised it up to eat every single thing on it.

"Not again…" Master Hand groaned as he, and the others just watched in disgust, while Crazy tried to contain his laughter. And just like last time, the table smashed over Luffy's body into the ground, and the table ended up breaking in half the second time in a row.

"GAAHHH HA HA HA HA! That was even funnier than before! Gaah ha ha ha ha ha ha!" Crazy laughed uncontrollably, and fell on the floor again. Master Hand looked away, and sighed once more.

The day was still young, as Luffy, Usopp, Chopper, and Crazy Hand were playing hide and seek outside the mansion's gate. Chopper was it, and was counting with his hooves covering his eyes. Luffy and Usopp frantically hid in some bushes in front of the gate walls, as Luffy laughed, while Usopp tried to keep him quiet.

"8.. 9.. 10!" Chopper then opened his eyes happily, and looked around, "Ready or not, here I come!" He turned around, and immediately noticed something. Chopper ran past the bushes Luffy and Usopp were hiding in, and saw Crazy snickering behind a thin tree close by. Finding Crazy was easy, since his figure was enormous compared to the tree, as Chopper walked behind, and surprised Crazy. "There you are!" Chopper giggled.

"Ugh!… oh.." Crazy whimpered as his fingers curled up to his palm.

"Hmm? What's the matter?" Chopper asked while tilting his head to the side.

"N-Nothing." Crazy replied in a sad voice, "It's just that… I played this game with my brother, R.O.P., the Alloys, and with the Smashers millions of times… AND THEY'VE NEVER FOUND ME! Guhhh huh huh huh huh!" Crazy cried, and lied the left side of his knuckle against Chopper's shoulder, nearly knocking him down, "I'm so happy I finally found someone that was able to defeat my record! Now I can live in peace!"

Chopper was embarressed, and did his happy dance while Crazy was still lying against him, "I-Idiot! I'm not happy you said that! Shut the hell up! Ha ha.." Chopper exclaimed happily.

Luffy and Usopp then popped up from the bushes, as Luffy just laughed, "Hee hee hee! That guy is so funny!" Luffy laughed.

"Hardly…" Usopp muttered.

Meanwhile…

Robin stood in awe, as she was in Master Hand's room, looking at the countless amount of book on the bookshelves on the left side of the room. "Are you sure it's okay that I read your books?" Robin asked Master Hand next to her without setting her gaze off the books.

"By all means, go on ahead." Master Hand said kindly, "It's been a while since I've met someone having the same reading interests as I do. Here, you'll find stories that occurred in different lands, worlds, dimensions, universes, realities, and so on. I have books that can actually display those events, but I'm sure you just want to read them the way you're used to."

"Thank you so much." Robin said, "I'll try not to make a mess."

"Oh, don't worry about it. Help yourself to all the books here; I'll clean things up later." Master Hand replied, "Oh, that reminds me. I need to go get something from the third floor. Feel free to read in here, if you want."

"Yes.. thank you." Robin thank Master Hand again. Master Hand then left his office, as Robin began to browse which book she'll read first.

About 20 minutes, Master Hand came back into his office, holding some folders with his index finger and thumb, "There is so much work to be done.. I need to get started. Oh?" Master Hand then stopped as he then saw piles of books ontop of each other, and Robin was sitting on a small pile of books while reading a green book as well. A sweatdrop was formed in the back of Master Hand's figure, as he was obviously amazed by this. "Well… you certainly are a fast reader…"

Meanwhile…

After Robin left, and putting every book back on the shelves, Master Hand was looking for something in his safe; the safe where he stores his uncountable amount of smash coins. He took out a golden chest, and placed it in front of his desk. Master Hand then opened the chest, and looked for something inside it. While he was preoccupied with that, Nami peered her head into the office from the wall she was hiding behind. She saw that Master Hand forgot to close the safe, and smirked wickedly.

"Hee hee.. let's see what I can muster." Nami said with an evil look. Ever since she saw what lied in that safe, it has been on her mind the moment she woke up from her one week slumber. She just had to get some of those coins, even if it meant losing her life.

Nami looked at Master Hand again cautiously, and tiptoed her way into the office, and towards the safe. Slowly, she was reaching her destination, already tasting victory upon getting closer to those delicious coins.

Before she got closer to the safe, R.O.B. passed by the hallways, and a few seconds later, he rushed back in front of Master hand's office, and saw what Nami was about to do. R.O.B. suddenly panicked as he rushed over, and blocked Nami's path.

"Huh! Wahh!" Nami gasped as R.O.B. grabbed her, and took her away from the safe, and out of the office as quickly as he could.

"What's that?" Master Hand turned around, but didn't see anybody. The hand shrugged before he resumed looking into the things inside the chest.

R.O.B. successfully managed to get Nami out of there without getting caught. Unfortunately for Nami, she didn't get any coins, and pushed R.O.B. away, obviously feeling upset.

"Why did you do that?" Nami asked, "I was just going to take peek, I swear." R.O.B. replied by shaking his head in a frantic manner, "No? I can't even take a look at all?" R.O.B. waved his hands in reply, and left in a hurry without saying anything else. Nami only blinked in confusion, "Hmm.. oh fine, I'll just do something else." She said before walking away with her hands lying on the back of her head.

Meanwhile…

Franky was in the vault room, examining all the neat stuff the smashers would get or use during the tournaments. He drank a cola bottle as he walked in the explosive aisle, where all the explosive items are held in.

"Let's see what we got here." Franky said, as he observed a display of bob-ombs on the walls. "Oh, I remember this stuff. Strawhat blew up a chunky one before…" Franky smirked upon remembering that event. He slid open the glass case, and picked one of the bob-ombs to get a closer look at it. "You know, you're rather cute for something so dangerous. Then again, how dangerous can a cutesy bomb be? Ah ha ha ha ha!"

The Bob-omb then moved it's little legs, as it's fuse suddenly lit up. "Gyah!" Franky gasped, as he quickly placed the Bob-omb back into the glass container along with the other Bob-ombs, and panted while looking up at a sign. The sign read, 'Warning: Bob-ombs are very sensitive. DO NOT TOUCH… CRAZY!', "Oh crud!"

Then suddenly, all the Bob-omb's were activated by feeling the vibrations of the active Bob-omb in the center. "I gotta get out of here!" Franky exclaimed as he frantically ran away, and headed out of the vault room.

Franky got out of the room, and slammed the door behind him. He panted heavily, but stopped as he soon noticed that the Alloy team around the first floor were staring at him, "Heh heh.." Franky laughed weakly, and fast walked away from the vault door, until..

BOOM!

The vault room exploded, blowing the door open as fire spewed out. The Alloy team panicked, as they quickly went to stop the flames, while Franky slowly glanced over his shoulder with a frightened look, and saw the aftermath of his actions.

"Crazy!" Master Hand yelled from the second floor, startling Franky, "I thought I told you not to touch anything in the vault room!"

"I didn't!" Crazy yelled from outside, "I swear on my gorgeous looks that I didn't do anything like that again!"

Franky blinked, feeling a sense of danger from where he stood. "Huh.. nothing happened here.. nothing.." Franky said to himself as he drank his cola bottle, and whistled his way out the door to the front garden.

Meanwhile…

It was now dusk, as Zoro was in the back garden, walking towards the center of the concrete path. He plunged his broken sword with it's sheathe into the ground, leaving some cracks in the process. The sword remained standing in a vertical position, as Zoro sat down with his legs crossed, and lowered his head with respect.

"Thank you for your help. I couldn't have made it here without you. May you rest in peace." Zoro said to the sword. Zoro then remained quiet, and meditated with the sword in front of him. It was peaceful, until Sanji showed up, smoking a cigarette before sitting down on a bench chair close to where Zoro was sitting on the floor.

Sanji breathed out a puff of smoke, and placed his arm over the top of the bench he was on with his legs crossed, as he stared peacefully at the sun, "It's been quite a ride, hasn't it?" He asked.

"I suppose…" Zoro replied without breaking his focus.

"You suppose?" Sanji chuckled, "Don't tell me this whole journey was nothing to you."

"I didn't say that." Zoro replied as he opened his eyes, and stared at the sky, "I'm saying that you can't describe how special this whole trip was for all of us. All the things we've done and learned in the Grand Line cannot be compared to what we've learned out here. I still hold my dreams in being the strongest swordsman back home, but if we were able to have the opportunity to come back whenever we please, then I would aim to be the strongest swordsman that has ever lived by beating every single warrior out there in this vast land." Zoro then closed his eyes, "But the truth is, making it here will probably be a one time deal. We were only lucky enough to be here, and I doubt we'll be lucky again."

"Really? What makes you so sure?" Sanji asked.

"Anything can happen back at home." Zoro shrugged, "Whether we make it or not, I'm not going to get my hopes up for nothing. Besides, I'm just fine for what I'm aiming for since the start." Zoro then smirked at Sanji, "I'll show you; I'll beat Mihawk, and become the world's strongest swordsman."

Sanji chuckled as he breathed out another puff of smoke from his cigarette, "Yeah, keep dreaming…" Sanji said, "I know for sure that we'll come back here one day. Our captain made a promise, after all."

"We'll see what happens." Zoro said as he resumed his meditating position.

"Because, you know, I enjoyed almost every single thing out here." Sanji then smirked while laying back, "Especially when you were stupid enough to get sun burn."

"Whatever." Zoro replied stoically.

"No, really. You looked like a complete idiot back there."

"Shut up…"

"You know what you look like with all that cream on your body with your stupid grassy hair?" Sanji asked with smuggish smirk, pissing of Zoro as a vain popped over his forehead, "You look like an oversized turnip who has been lying under the sun for too long… which was exactly what you did today!"

"I'M GOING TO KILL YOU!" Zoro barked as he chased after Sanji all over the back garden, while the broken sword sticked in the ground reflected the light from it's figure.

Meanwhile…

It was now dinner time, and… well, you know the drill.

Like in breakfast, and lunch, Luffy was devouring everything in sight, only this time, his crew didn't even bother to say anything to him. And for the third time, Luffy raised the table to let all the food go into his mouth, only this time, his crew weren't surprised by this, and walked away as soon as Luffy showed signs of doing this before hand.

This time, however, a giant springboard was lying behind Luffy. Crazy placed it there, as it was he thought that if the springboard was there, it would prevent Luffy from falling back, and breaking the table again. Crazy was next to Master Hand, and R.O.B., posing like a smart person as they, and the Strawhat crew were watching Luffy raise the table even higher.

"Mmfff!" Luffy raised the table too high (again), as it was about to fall on him (again). Fortunately, though, the springboard behind him stopped Luffy from falling along with the table, saving him in the process.

"Yes! It worked! I'm a genius after all!" Crazy laughed.

But suddenly, the springboard pushed Luffy forward harder than expected, as Luffy ended up falling onto the dining table, crushing it in half before lying motionlessly on the dining floor.

Everyone was dumbfounded, especially Crazy Hand, who felt utterly depressed seeing his idea fail on him. "It was a nice attempt…" Master Hand comforted his brother as he moped.

Meanwhile…

It was already dark out, as Crazy gathered the Strawhats onto the couch in the front section in the first floor of the mansion to show them some tourney videos of the Super Smash Bros. Brawl tournament on the big screen TV.

"Yeah! Fight!" Luffy yelled with great excitement, watching a match between Mario and Bowser in the battlefield, with Mario ended up being the victor.

Other matches were shown as well, like Wario vs Zelda, Link vs King Dedede, Fox vs Luigi, and even more fights, including an amazing three way battle of Mario vs Snake vs Sonic the Hedgehog in the Halberd stage.

"This is unbelievable!" Nami said, nearly at a loss of words, "How are those three still on that platform while it's flying around in that pattern! That doesn't make sense!"

"This is so cool!" Luffy shouted in excitement, with Usopp, Sanji, Chopper, and Franky being excited along with him, "Mario is awesome! Snake is awesome! And.. I don't know who that guy is, but he's also awesome!"

"Look at them go. They, and everyone else in this Smasher thing are pretty something." Franky said, watching the match while standing behind the couch.

"They really seem to be enjoying themselves." Robin said upon observation.

"Go, you guys! Don't stop no matter what!" Usopp exclaimed excitedly on the big match, even though it was just recording.

"Come on, don't slow down! You nearly got him!" Sanji exclaimed during a part of match.

"Go! Go! I don't even know who I should cheer for, but go!" Chopper jumped up and down on the couch out of pure excitement.

"This is amazing…" Zoro said in awe, admitting that the tournament matches were something to look at. Master Hand was happy to see the Strawhats excited over the tournaments.

"Ha! That match is nothing!" Crazy said, stopping the match with a snap of his fingers before it was about to end. "You should take a look at this one!" The Strawhats were now looking at a recording of a battle between Crazy Hand, and Dr. Mario in the Final Destination stage, "Look! In this match, I owned the heck out of Mario's Dr. Mario clone."

"NO, CRAZY! DON'T SHOW THEM THAT!" Master Hand shouted.

The Strawhats watched the match as it quickly ended with Crazy shooting a devastating laser beam from his finger, beaming Dr. Mario from head to toe. The excitement that filled the minds of the Strawhat pirates quickly vanished as the 'elimination' of Dr. Mario turned out to be very disturbing, that I can't even describe how lost. All that could be said was, in the end, nothing remained of Dr. Mario but a pile of dust.

"I think I'm going to be sick!" Chopper said before he rushed off towards the bathroom. Zoro, Nami, Usopp, Sanji, and Franky also looked like they were going to hurl, and Robin was only emotionally disturbed as they all left the area as quickly as they could. Luffy was the only one left sitting on the couch, as he tilted his head without showing any expression.

"That was… hmm, I don't know what that was." Luffy said, scratching his head in sheer confusion, while Master Hand, and R.O.B. glared at Crazy, who only looked down at the ground with embarrassment.

Later…

Crazy Hand, R.O.B., and the Alloy team led the Strawhats towards Smashtown to show them something. Along the way, the crew were kinda quiet, not wanting to mention what they saw earlier.

Crazy felt bad for showing them that match, and looked up the multiple stars in the sky. He then laughed, as he then nudged at Luffy with his pinky, "Check it out! I know you always wanted to see this!"

Luffy was confused as Crazy then moved his finger in a circular motion, causing the entire sky to zoom up onto the stars like viewing into a telescope. The Strawhats were amazed, and saw the sky were depicting two planets in a distant universe. One brown planet was actually moving closer to blue planet. The crew thought that the brown planet was about to crash into the blue one, but instead, the brown stopped moving as soon as it got real close to the blue planet. Then, the brown planet started doing a little something to the blue planet. After they did that little something, a new, but smaller planet was born.

All the Strawhats looked at this in complete disgust, except for Luffy.

"That was soooo cooooooll!" Luffy yelled as his eyes were filled with sparks of joy and happiness.

"I knew you'd like that!" Crazy laughed as he then turned towards the others, "What about you guys, you liked that?"

KAPOW!

Crazy fell unconscious with multiple bumps all over his figure, as the Strawhat crew, except for Robin, fiercely glared down at him with a flaming background.

"STOP TRYING TO MAKE US FEEL BETTER! YOU'RE HORRIBLE AT IT!" They all yelled in unison.

Crazy later regained consciousness, and flew ahead of the crew, and faced towards them. "Okay, if that wasn't enough, let me surprise you guys with this little treat!"

Luffy and his crew were confused, as the Alloy team got around Crazy, and stood on one knee while shaking their hands diagonally towards the dark Smashtown.

"Feast your eyes on the biggest celebration for the heroes of life!" Crazy said dramatically, "R.O.P., if you please!"

R.O.B. then played a celebrational music from humongous that appeared from out of nowhere. The Strawhats had no clue what was going on, but they were feeling good about this as Crazy Hand then spinned around up in the air, before he waved at the town. "Behold! The greatest moment of your lives awaits you here! Welcome to Smashtown.. AT NIGHT!"

With a wave of his hand, Crazy hand released a sparkling wave from his fingertips, as it scattered across Smashtown. The waves turned on the lights of each building it came across, and as soon as he building had their lights turned on, the whole town looked amazing. It was a sight to behold indeed.

"Whoa!" The Strawhats gasped in awe, amazed by the lighting of the buildings and whatnot.

"What's all this for?" Franky asked.

"To celebrate, duh!" Crazy replied, "What perfect way to end this peaceful day, then to celebrate like maniacs in this wonderful town! Don't worry; I triple-checked this place out! You will not be seeing any zombies here today!"

The crew were speechless, and things got better a big red carpet leading to formed in front of the crew's feet. "Hiya ha! What are we waiting for! Let's party!" Luffy shouted.

The Strawhat pirates ran along the carpet, with Crazy, and R.O.B. following behind. They ran deep in the city, and as they ran, they saw the Alloy team were multiplying, and entered in all of the buildings in town. They then stood out the window, and clapped at the Strawhats as they ran across the street.

"This is fun!" Nami exclaimed happily.

The crew then made it in front of the blue skyscraper, where Crazy then stood in front of, and with a loud snap of his fingers, countless of fireworks were shot in the air from the buildings, filling the night sky with a beautiful display of colorful explosions.

This was a good time; everyone was enjoying themselves to the fullest. Luffy then stretched his arms up at the skyscraper, and sprung himself towards the top, getting a clear view of the landscape around. He held his hat so it wouldn't fall off, and watched the fireworks go off in the sky, feeling fantastic as he then raised his arms in the air.

"Everyone! This is the greatest day in our lives!" Luffy shouted happily, "Let's enjoy it until the end!"

"Yeaaahhh!"

And so, everyone partied at the town for hours, ending a great day that will be treasured always.

Later that night…

It was late. The Strawhats were already back in the mansion. Master Hand has allowed them to use the bedrooms in the second and third floor for them to sleep peacefully, although, some of them weren't sleeping there.

Robin read a book late at night with a cup of coffee on the coffee table in front of her. She was reading with Chopper awhile ago, but the little reindeer has already fallen asleep on her lap. Robin didn't mind having him there, as she continued to read silently.

Franky was sleeping next to the refrigerator with a couple of empty cola bottles lying next to him, along with Sanji, who fell asleep on the kitchen floor after writing down some recipes from the kitchen's big cook book.

Usopp was in one of the dormitories, sleeping in a bed, humming good things about himself between snores. Nami was in another room, sleeping peacefully with her hands underneath her pillow, and holding a bat just incase Crazy shows up. And Zoro was also sleeping in a room, only he was sleeping on a king sized bed all to himself. He snored loudly, as this was clearly the best sleep he has ever had.

Up in Master Hand's office on the second floor, R.O.B. slept while standing up, having his eyes shut, and his arms lowered. Crazy was sleeping next to him for some reason, as Crazy had his doll, Mr. Cuddly-kins on his palm.

"Mmm… what's that, Mr. Cuddly-kins? You want to touch me?" Crazy asked in his sleep, "How can you ask me that, if I'm already touching yo…" Crazy then began to snore loudly, and didn't say a word after that.

Master Hand was still in his office, doing something he has been looking on all day. He tapped his finger on his desk, and sounded a little frustrated.

"This doesn't seem right…" Master Hand said, looking a pile of paperwork scattered all over his desk. He then stopped, as he felt a presence on the roof. "Hm?"

On the roof was Luffy, sitting on the front ledge of the roof while playfully swinging his legs back and forth. He stared up at the stars, amazed how bright they looked at night. Luffy remembers the friends he has made in those stars, and couldn't help but wonder what they were doing.

"Oh, Luffy. You're still up."

Luffy glanced over his shoulder, and saw Master Hand on the roof as well. "Hee hee! I already slept for a whole week; I don't need to sleep today." Luffy said with a smile.

"I see…" Master Hand said. He then floated beside Luffy, gazing up at the stars with him. They were both quiet for a while, until Luffy spoke again.

"I think… we should go back to our world tomorrow." Luffy said with a regular smile.

"Oh?" Master Hand was a little surprised hearing that, "You plan to resume your quest in your world?"

"Yep." Luffy replied, and sets his view over at the stars again, "Today was really fun. I got to do everything I always wanted to do. Meeting you was one of those things… we had a great time today. But if I don't go back to my world soon, somebody might become the Pirate King before I do. I need to get back there, and make sure that doesn't happen." Luffy then looks back at Master Hand, "I'm sorry, I really want to stay here a little longer, but it just doesn't feel right to me…"

"No, it's alright. I understand." Master Hand said. Both of them got quiet again, staring at the stars once more. Master Hand wanted to say something, but he seemed hesitant. "Luffy.. I need to know something from you."

"Hm? What's up?" Luffy asked, looking back at Master Hand.

"Well… when my brother told you about my captivity, what made you put your life on the line to save me?" Master Hand asked, "I mean, I know you're kind hearted, and selfless at times, but why save me? There must be a better reason than just making things right. You hardly knew anything what you were coming up against, and you knew close to nothing about me… so why save me?"

Luffy didn't answer, and was just silent, "… I know it may seem that I'm asking for too much, but I just want to know." Master Hand continued to explain, "Was it something you learned from your journey here, or something that may have happened along the way? You don't have to answer me, but I really am curious."

Luffy looked at the stars again, and said, "It's like you said; I just did it because it felt like the right thing to do." Luffy replied. Master Hand was surprised to hear this, as Luffy then took off his hat, and looked at it, "I've always done things that felt right to do ever since I got this hat. I made a promise to someone that I would give it back to him when I become a great pirate, and I thought that in order to be a great pirate, I need to do the things that I believe in." Luffy then smiled at Master Hand, "So far, I've been doing just that. I hope I'm doing this right, or else Shanks might get upset with me. Ha ha ha ha!"

"So… you've been doing this since he gave you that hat?" Master Hand asked in suspicion. He then looked back at the stars, "I understand now… I'm sorry for asking that ridiculous question. I still find it hard to believe that someone so pure hearted could have done something so miraculous right in front of me."

"Don't be sorry." Luffy said, "We're friends, right? That's all that matters."

Master Hand stared back at Luffy, feeling warm inside that Luffy called him his friend. They stared at stars once more, until Master Hand turned away.

"I'll make preparations for your departure tomorrow." Master Hand said, "Meet me in the morning outside the mansion when you and your crew are ready to leave."

"Okay. I won't forget." Luffy replied happily. Master Hand nodded, and turned away to make his leave. He stopped, and looked like he was about to turn back at Luffy, but ended up not doing so, and went his way back to his office. Luffy turned back to gaze at the stars, but then suddenly turned back at Master Hand upon realizing something, "Hey, Master Hand! Wait a minute!"

Master Hand stopped when he heard Luffy call for him. Luffy then asked, "Do you think… that you can make a trophy for me like the ones you have in that trophy room? I really like those things, especially the ten foot bug-eyed people ones." Master Hand looked back at Luffy, and after staring at him for a while, he laughed a bit.

"Certainly… I'll work on that." Master Hand said, "Good night, Luffy."

"Hee hee! Okay! Good night!" Luffy replied happily. Luffy then turned around, and gazed at the stars quietly once again.

Master Hand then took his leave in silence. He didn't say anything, and only thought of the things he learned from Luffy, and nothing else.

The next morning…

Another day has come for the Smash world, as the sun rise brightened up the land with a few clouds in the sky, it was sure to be a great day.

The Strawhat crew have been fully rested, as Zoro, Nami, and Usopp went downstairs to the main floor. "Mmm.. that was a good rest." Nami said happily while stretching her limbs from sleeping peacefully.

"I never so slept so great in a while." Usopp said, "What about you, Zoro?"

"It was fine.." Zoro said, as he did a great night sleep, but didn't feel like talking about. Once the three have arrived down to the main floor, Robin, who was still on the couch with Chopper, glanced over her shoulder, and greeted her friends.

"Good morning." Robin said politely.

"Hey, Robin." Nami said as she, Usopp, and Zoro walked up to Robin behind the couch, "Don't tell me you were up all night reading books again?"

"I did." Robin replied, "The stories I've been reading here are so interesting. I didn't even wanted to put them down."

"Ha ha! If you wanted to listen to some stories, I could have told you some of my great adventures when I was just a kid." Usopp said proudly, obviously lying, of course. Usopp then noticed Chopper still sleeping beside Robin. Usopp smiled widely, and gently lowered his hands at Chopper, and tickled him. "Look out, Chopper! It's the laughing octopus! It's going to tickle you to death!"

"Gaaaahhh!" Chopper yelled, waking up instantly as he fell off the couch, and landed on his head. "Ow.."

Usopp laughed at this, while Zoro and Nami sighed in annoyance. Sanji and Franky then came out of the kitchen, rubbing their eyes as they still felt a little tired.

"Good morning, everyone.." Sanji said, with his body feeling ache from sleeping on the kitchen floor.

"Yo.." Franky said, having the same fatigue as well. Zoro glanced over his shoulder to look at them, and tilted his head sideways with a curious look.

"What's wrong with you guys?" Zoro asked, "… Did you sleep together?"

"Shut up. It wasn't like that." Sanji replied with a frown, "Eh. But next time, I'll be sure not to sleep in a kitchen ever again."

"Hey, where's Strawhat?" Franky asked.

The crew looked at each other with blank looks, having no idea where their captain is. "Yahoo!" Luffy then appeared by jumping over the railing on the second floor, and landed on the main floor, startling his crew in the process. Luffy then stood up, and smiled widely. "Good morning, guys!"

"Morning… what was with that entrance?" Usopp asked.

"I was up all night looking at the stars, and as soon I heard you guys were awake, I came down here as fast as I could." Luffy said energetically. The crew sighed, as Luffy then had something more to say, "Oh, I almost forgot! We're going to leave here today!"

The Strawhats were shocked to hear that, but not as much, since they knew they had to leave the Smashworld eventually.

"Right now?" Chopper asked a little sad, "Can't we stay here a little longer, like a day or two?"

"We don't have that kind of time anymore." Nami replied, feeling sad too.

The Strawhats didn't know what to say at this point; they had such a great time in the Smash world, and going to other worlds, so it was obvious they would feel upset that they had to get back to their own journey.

"This was fun, right?" Franky asked with a smile.

"Yeah.. It was fun while it lasted." Sanji replied with a smirk. The Strawhats then started to feel a little better, thinking all the good things that happened throughout their journey, as they then stared up at the portrait up at the wall in front of them.

"I will never forget this place." Usopp said with a tear in his eye.

"I doubt any of us will forget." Nami said with a smile.

The Strawhats were at ease, and were all smiling as they feel ready to go back home. Crazy Hand then entered the Mansion from outside, and saw the Strawhats together.

"Oh, hey." Crazy Hand said as he approached the crew, along with R.O.B., following from behind, "You guys look quite fresh this morning. It almost makes me want to stare at you all day."

"Don't try anything funny, or we'll hit you again." Nami replied with a smirk. Crazy laughed at that remark, with the crew joining on the laughter afterwards. The laughter then died down after a while, as Crazy then sounded a little sad.

"So… I heard you guys were going to leave today…" Crazy said in a sad tone.

"Oh, don't feel upset, Crazy." Usopp assured, "You knew that we had to leave sometime."

"I know, I know.." Crazy retorted, "Give me a break! For your information, I happen to feel very sad that my idols are leaving me for a very long time. If I want to cry like a little girl when I think about that, then I will!" The Strawhats just smiled at him, causing Crazy to regret for yelling at them, as he quickly spoke up, "Anyway, everything is all set for you to leave. My brother is waiting for you outside… we're ready to get this over with when you're ready.

Luffy looked at his crew, seeing them nod in approval. "We're ready!" Luffy replied with ambition.

Crazy cracked his knuckles, and turned around. "Then follow us, guys."

Crazy Hand and R.O.B. led the Strawhats to where Master Hand was, taking one brief look inside the mansion before they took a step outside. They walked across the front garden, and left through the gate. Luffy looked behind his shoulder, taking one last look at the mansion before he caught up with his crew.

The Strawhats didn't walk that far, as they went down a grassy hill, and saw a big lake with some trees around it. "Hey, it's the Sunny!" Franky gasped as they saw the Thousand Sunny anchored in the lake in front of them. The Strawhats also saw Master Hand, waiting on the land in front of the Sunny along with the Alloy team standing beside their master. Crazy and R.O.B. stepped aside as the Strawhats approached Master Hand, who greeted them.

"Good morning." Master Hand said kindly, "I hoped you all have slept well." Master Hand then turned to look at the Thousand Sunny, "I hope you didn't mind, but I took the ship, and fixed it into the way it was before. It was nearly destroyed from your battle with Dimentio, but it wasn't something I couldn't fix in a jiffy."

"What a relief." Usopp said while wiping some sweat of his brow.

"Everything is all set for your departure." Master Hand said as he faced the crew, "This is where we say goodbye."

The Strawhats didn't say anything, feeling upset again that they had to leave. "Ha ha! Cheer up, guys!" Luffy said happily, "When I become the Pirate King, we will definitely be back here in no time."

The Strawhats felt better when they heard that, while Master Hand didn't had anything to say about it. ".. Oh! I almost forgot!" Master Hand gasped as he signaled his red alloy, who then approached Luffy, holding something under a white sheet. Luffy and his crew what the Red Alloy was holding, "Luffy, I made this for you last night. I'm sure you're going to like it. Now, show it to them."

The Red alloy removed the sheet, revealing a smash trophy, and it wasn't just a smash trophy, but it was a trophy of Luffy. The Luffy trophy had his right knee raised as it if was jumping, and had his left arm raised in the air, and his right arm up against his chest, and lastly, he had a big smile on his face. What stood out of the trophy was that it was made of pure bronze, as nearly everyone, especially Luffy, were amazed at the sight of this gift.

"R-Really! For me!" Luffy asked in shock, as the Red Alloy gave him the trophy, "Oohhoh.. it's bronze.. it's like a bronze statue, only really small… it's so cool… I'll treasure it always!" Luffy said, acting like a child recieving his first piece of candy.

"Th-Th-That's not fair! I want a trophy!" Usopp exclaimed, feeling jealous over Luffy's trophy.

"What about me! I should have a supaa trophy of my own too!" Franky yelled.

"I want a trophy of Nami-san and Robin-chan together!" Sanji said with his visible eye with hearts spewing out, "I would be your personal slave if I had a trophy like that right now!"

"Will you guys knock it off! Stop being such morons already!" Nami yelled after leaving several bumps on Usopp, Franky, and Sanji's head. "Seriously, Master Hand was kind enough to even make even one of those trophy things, and you idiots had to ruin everything with your greedy attitudes!"

"I think you would have wanted a trophy of your own as well, Navigator-san." Robin said with a pleasant smile.

Nami froze for a bit, as she then lowered her head with tears streaming down her face, "I wanted a gold trophy…" Nami said, admitting her feelings.

"I'm glad you like your trophy, Luffy." Master Hand said, "Just remember to take good care of it."

"I will." Luffy replied happily while holding his trophy with delight.

"Now then…" Master Hand spoke in a serious tone, "Before you go, I just want to thank you all again for everything you have done for us. Nothing would have remained the same if it wasn't for your heroic actions."

"It was no problem." Zoro said smiling.

"Yeah, if you ever need us again, feel free to force back over here like last time." Sanji laughed.

"Ha ha! I'll be sure to do that!" Crazy replied. The crew glared at him, making him feel nervous, "… with my brother's permission, of course. Duh!"

"Alright then, with that said… it's time for you to leave. Are you ready?" Master Hand asked. Luffy and his crew nodded, "Okay, then. Stand back while I summon the door."

Master Hand then faced towards the lake, looking towards the other side. Master Hands fingers glowed with silver energy, as he lowered his fingers, before raising them up fiercely.

A rectangle light then appeared over the lake's surface. Everyone watched as something big was coming out of the light.

"This is it." Zoro said.

"We're going to be using this door one last time, huh?" Sanji asked.

"The Master Door helped us get through different worlds. I'm glad that we'll be using it to get back home." Robin said with a smile.

The Strawhats watched as they saw a door coming out of the light, but something was wrong.

"Hey, wait a second!" Franky gasped.

"What is that!" Chopper asked nervously.

"I don't know, but I know for sure that ain't the Master Door!" Usopp exclaimed.

Luffy and his crew were confused, as they weren't seeing the Master Door come out of the light, but a completely different door.

This door was just as big as the Master Door, and nearly had the same design and figure, with the exception of certain things. The sides of the door had red and white stripes; ontop of the door was cone-shaped party hat; the two doorknobs were in shape of bananas; the door was black, with red eyes, and a mouth sticking it's long tongue out towards the bottom; and there was a text bubble on the upper corner of the door that read 'Hab a Nice dayZ ur! P.S.s I likes zee ketchup!'.

The door was so random, the Strawhats didn't even know what they were looking at. They were all dumbfounded and confused, as the door finally emerged completely from the light as it disappeared. The door remained on the lake surface, as it then laughed, startling the crew entirely until the random door stopped laughing, and drooled over the lake.

"… Is this a joke?" Nami asked while her eye twitched.

"What the hell is that suppose to be!" Franky asked. Usopp and Chopper had their mouths hanged open; Zoro and Sanji gritted their teeth in annoyance; and Robin simply looked confused.

"Hoo! The door looks different than before.." Luffy said in awe, thinking what he was looking at might be the Master Door, only in a different aspect.

Crazy Hand, and R.O.B. were shocked as they know what that door is, "Um, bro! Isn't that-"

"Yes, it's the very same." Master Hand replied stoically.

"Huh? What's going on?" Robin asked.

"I'm sorry, everyone, but this needs to be done." Master Hand said while facing towards the crew, "What you see before you is not the Master Door. To return to your world, you will be using the Crazy Door. The Crazy Door automatically sends anyone back to their homeworld, with the price of taking the memories of every moment they have had outside their home territory. In other words, the moment you go through that door, all your memories of this world; the worlds you have visited, and the events that occurred there; and the people you have met; everything you know will be taken away from you."

"What!" The Strawhats gasped in shock.

"I don't understand!" Nami said furiously, "Why do we have to use that door! Why can't we use the Master Door!"

"I know this is all confusing, but please listen to me!" Master Hand exclaimed. The Strawhats took a while to calm themselves, allowing Master Hand to explain what was going on, "When you fought with Dimentio, I vaguely remembered that many people from other worlds were watching your battle. The threat may be over, and those worlds might have been saved, but all of those innocent lives had to suffer through the chaos Dimentio unleashed in their worlds for nothing! This is a big problem, because of that one unforgettable event, they're going to try, and investigate what occurred, and they'll cause even more problems to themselves and the people around them until something terrible will occur to them in the future!"

"What do you mean! What's going to happen to them!" Sanji asked.

"That's just it; anything can happen to them, but I will never allow anything bad happen to those unfortunate ones! I decided to find a solution to fix all this before it was too late!" Master Hand exclaimed, "For an entire week, I came up with several ideas how to make everyone who experienced that terror to forget all about it, and I came up with one idea that will sure to work. It's simple, since it was only the Egasm reality that watched the fight, I can use the Unlimited Boundaries of that reality to transfer signals to every living creature residing in Egasm, and those signals will erase any specific memory I want to get rid of. Therefore, I can make everyone that watched your fight forget about it completely!"

"You can do something that big!" Usopp gasped.

"I don't really get it, but it looks like you have it all figured out!" Franky said happily.

"Yes, however, this comes at a big prize." Master Hand said as he and the others looked at Crazy Door, "In order to send those signals, I need individuals that are heavily linked with the memories I need to erase." Master Hand then looked at the Strawhats, "And you are those individuals. When you go through the door, your elemental properties will link with the door's transfer streams, which will transfer the signals I implemented on the door to the Unlimited Boundaries, thus triggering the procedure I just explained. If this works, everything will certainly go back the way they were. The only thing you'll lose will be your memories."

"Couldn't you just use the Master Door or something!" Usopp asked.

"If I use the Master door, there might be a chance this will fail." Master Hand said, "The Crazy door has more power when it comes to transferring people across universes. I'm sorry… but this is the only way."

The Strawhats didn't know what to say. But Crazy Hand reminded the crew about something important.

"Wait a minute, guys! Don't feel bad!" Crazy exclaimed, "Did you remembered what I said about my door! It only seals away the memories of the people who use it!" The Strawhats looked at him in surprise, "I also forgot to say, that when I mean by 'seal', I mean that your memories are stored away. So, when you guys come back, all your memories will come back to you, and you'll act as if you've never forgotten a thing!"

"Wait, really!" Chopper gasped in surprise.

"Are you sure! We won't be really losing our memories, but you'll just put them away!" Usopp asked.

"Yeah! Trust me; that's how my door works!" Crazy exclaimed excitedly.

"All right! That means everything is okay!" Franky sighed in relief.

"I was scared that I'd really lose our memories there for a second…" Sanji said.

"Hiya ha! Then there really is no problem at all!" Luffy exclaimed happily as then smiled at Master Hand, "Right? Don't worry about us; even with our memories of this adventure gone, we'll get it all back when you come pick us up! It's a good thing Crazy reminded you about his door, or I would've been really worried. Hiya ha ha! Everything is going to be alright afterall. Right?"

Master Hand didn't say anything, causing Luffy to ask again, "Right?" Luffy asked, but more calmer. Master Hand still didn't reply, as he slowly looked away from Luffy and his crew. "Master Hand?"

Master Hand looked down at the grass, as the wind whistled by. As it did, everyone stared at Master Hand. Nami, Usopp, Chopper, and Franky looked worried, while Zoro, Sanji, and Robin looked stoic.

Luffy took a step forward, having a worried look as the wind continued to whistle by the trees. Master Hand watch the grass move by the wind, as he then looked up at the sky.

"I'm sorry… I really tried all I could." Master Hand said in regret, "… It's true that the Crazy Door can store the memories of those who go through, and whenever they come back to watch another tournament, they would get their memories of outside their home land back. However…" Master Hand paused, having a difficult time explaining himself, "There is just too many of them… there is no other way… In order to fix things with the unfortunate people of Egasm, something needs to be sacrificed. You all are the key to fix this, but you were all to die if you have helped me… I tried to narrow down the loss as much as I could… but even now, this hurts for me to say…"

Master Hand then looked at Crazy Door, who smirked even wider, "In order to fix this mess, not only must your memories of your adventure will be taken away, but… they will also be destroyed." Everyone was utterly surprised; the looks on their faces showed nothing but despair. "When you go through that door… you will never come back here again."

This news was unbearable. Crazy Hand, R.O.B., and the Alloy team were completely surprised to a point they couldn't accept it. Nami, Usopp, Chopper, and Franky were also devastated by this, while Zoro, Sanji, and Robin were really upset, with Zoro and Sanji frowning with their eyes closed, and Robin just looking upset.

Luffy didn't react; his expression remained stoic. The wind whistled louder as Luffy stared at Master Hand from behind, holding his trophy up against his stomach.

TO BE CONCLUDED…

Next chapter will be the final chapter of this 2 and half year long story. Since I can't make any promises, all I'll say is that I'll try finish the last chapter when I have the time. I want to thank you all again for supporting me this far, and stay tuned until the very end. Have a happy new year everybody! Ciao for now!

Ending Pt 2 of 2

Huh… well… this is it. This is the last chapter of my story. I never imagined this day would come, but here it is. I want to thank you all for reading this; I couldn't have gotten here without you. And now, without further ado… here's the end.

… The beginning of a desired adventure leading to an unwanted end. After awaking from their one week slumber, the Strawhats have learned from Master Hand that they have Dimentio, and saved the Grand Universe, and all life beyond it's boundaries. The unlimited amount of power Obscurum had to grab hold of every speck of life since nearly the beginning of time was now just a thing of the past, as it was now just a core, helping create more life like it's neighboring planets in the Monarch Ring system, rather than being a planet of doom like it was just a week ago. Hearing this, the Strawhats celebrated all day long, taking a well deserved break after from their unique and unforgettable adventure across the cosmos.

But while the crew were having fun, Master Hand was troubled by the people outside of the Grand Universe. Since many worlds in the Egasm reality have witnessed the events in Obscurum thanks to Dimentio, Master Hand believed that this will cause many burdens throughout the reality, and will lead to destruction. Master Hand decided to take full responsibility, and try to fix this dilemma before it could escalate any further. And after thinking through every solution possible, he decided to go with the best remedy to resolve this dilemma… but not without taking away something even greater.

On the next day, the Strawhats were ready to go back home, and sail on the Grand Line to pursue their dreams once again. At first, they were sad to leave, since they have gained very fond memories of the worlds they have visited, including the experience they have gained, and the wonderful people they have met along the way. They will never forget the time they had in this adventure, as they were ready to get back into their world via the Master Door. However, that door never appeared. Instead, it was the Crazy door that Master Hand summoned upon the crew, and once that door appeared, everything quickly turned for the worst.

Master Hand explained to the crew about the events in the Egasm reality, and that in order for the people there to forget everything that have happened in Obscurum, including about the planet itself, the Strawhats must leave using the Crazy Door, which Master Hand modified to take the crew's memories of their adventure. Their memories will transfer signals that will erase the events of Obscurum from the minds of those that reside in the Egasm reality, which life there will go back to normal, and regain it's natural balance.

However… by doing this, all of the Strawhats' memories of this adventure will be destroyed, and the crwe will have no recollection of anything, and anybody of this cosmical voyage. Therefore, without having those great memories, the Strawhats can never come back.

What will the Strawhat pirates do? Can they really go back to their world, and resume the adventure they left off with their memories of their cosmical voyage gone forever? All of those answers will be answered here in the last chapter of One Piece: A Smash Adventure!

Chapter 138: Our farewell, The end of a Smash Adventure

On the last day of the Strawhats' time outside their world, the last thing anyone would expect, and would want to hear is that they can never come back. That was what Master Hand just told the crew that the memories of their adventure must be destroyed in order to restore order in the Egasm reality. The news was simply shocking, and at the same time, it was unbearable.

The Strawhats have not said a word after hearing this, as they didn't know what to say. Crazy Hand's fingers twitched with sadness, as he broke the silence.

"This isn't fair, bro!" Crazy yelled at Master Hand from behind, "You can't just take their memories away! They risked their lives countless of times to save your non-existent butt in Obscurum! Admit it; they saved us from that clown, and you want to screw them over even knowing that!"

Master Hand was silent, looking down at the grass he floated over. No one else answered for Crazy, so he just kept yelling.

"W-We had a glorious time yesterday!" Crazy yelled, sounding like he was crying, "We laughed when our furniture got destroyed; I was finally found in our game of hide and seek; the vault room blew up without me actually doing anything that time; and in the town.." Crazy paused, "We had the best time of our lives partying in the town! Everyone was happy! I was happy that my idols were happy! It was the best day of my life! I can't believe you want to take all of that away!" Crazy shivered under his own words, and calmed down while everything was quiet again, "You have to think of something… there has to be another way! There's just has to be one! They cannot leave like this! You're the smartest guy I know, so I know you can come up with another way!"

"Crazy… I did my best." Master Hand said in a sorrowful tone, and without looking at Crazy, "There is no other way… this must be done."

"Why!" Crazy asked, "Why do you even care about those guys! Forget about them-"

"CRAZY!" Master Hand interrupted with a furious tone. Crazy shivered in fear, and backed away in silence. Master Hand regained his composure, and continued to look downward at the ground.

The area near the lake was quiet once more, as Nami walked up to the lake, and looked at her reflection.

"… Since we've been taken out of our world, I've always thought of this incident as a nightmare." Nami explained, "I wanted to forget about it, and go back home. Every world we went, there was nothing but trouble all the time, and we had to get involved with it. It irritated me so much, I thought this nightmare would never end…" Nami then smiled softly, "But… in those times, there were also good moments. It made me forget about the bad things altogether. In the end.. I've come to like what I have experienced. It was very unique and fun… and it actually made me change my opinion about this trip. I never want to forget about it…" Nami then raised her right hand, and grasped tightly around her left elbow, "But to know that I actually have to forget about it… it hurts…"

Nami bit her lower lip, trying not to cry as Sanji went over to her, and comforted her. Her comrades felt the same way, as Chopper sat down on the grass.

"We made so many friends." Chopper said, already letting out some tears, "They helped us when we really needed it, and we helped them back… I.. -sniff-… I don't want to forget about them!" Chopper cried, unable to hold back his tears, "Why do we have to forget! This isn't fair! I don't want to forget about anything! Ehuhh! I don't want to! No!"

While Chopper cried uncontrollably, Robin looked up at the sky in sadness. "Memories are precious… and so are those who are in need of help." Robin said as she lowered her head, and closed her eyes, "I understand what must be done, and it's not in our place to question your intentions, Master Hand. I won't be selfish… I am willing to go along with your plan, but…" She gritted her teeth, as her tears gently went down across her cheeks, "This is too hard for me to give up… I'm sorry…"

"Hold on! This has to be a joke!" Usopp yelled as his lips quiver while smiling, "Right, Master Hand! This is a joke… a big joke to throw us off guard! Of course, it's a really bad joke, but it's okay since you don't look like a jokester anyway! Ha ha.. If you say something silly, the joke will then…" Usopp stopped; he knew Master Hand wasn't messing around. Usopp gritted his teeth in frustration, and held his right fist up against his forehead in pain.

Zoro didn't like the news either, as he was thinking about all the battles he has was in, and what he had learned from them. He crossed his arms up against his chest with a frown, "I don't like this at all. I won't complain if there is no other way, but there has to be atleast one other option."

"Yeah… this can't end like this." Sanji said, still comforting Nami with a frown.

"This sucks! You can't do this to us!" Franky yelled while pointing at himself, "I made tons of friends out here! There is no way we're going to forget about them, even if you say so!"

"Can't you think of another way!" Nami asked, setting her gaze towards Master Hand with some tears in her eyes, "I-I know that were asking for too much, but I don't want to leave like this."

"Yeah!" Franky agreed instantly, "We don't have to leave now! We can stay here until you come up with some idea that will work for all of us! This place is the core of knowledge, right! I'm sure you can come up with something!"

"Please, Master Hand!" Chopper said with a sad face, "We don't want to forget about you and everyone else…"

"I've learned so much out here, and it has made me stronger. I used my strength to protect my friends…" Usopp said as he looked down at the floor with clenched fists, "I can't leave… knowing that I will get weaker once we go through that door…"

Master Hand heard all of them, and understood that the crew were upset, and that they were going to react this way. He remained calm, though, and didn't feel disturbed by the crew's words. The only thing that troubled him was Luffy, who didn't even say anything once he heard the sad news. Master Hand took a quick look at Luffy standing behind, as the captain of the Strawhat crew was looking down on his trophy he held with both his hands. Master Hand couldn't see Luffy's expression due to his hat shading his face.

Master Hand looked away, and stared at the lake, as everyone just stared at him silently, "… Don't misunderstand me," He said in a soft tone, "I am grateful for what you have done… but my role as an observer of life comes first. Everything around me… I want to protect it. It's what the Emperor Gods created, and are a part of… and mostly because every life out there means everything to me. I can't sit by, and let a part of life go to ruin when I know I can save it." Master Hand paused, "Please understand… this is very hard for me to do as well."

Everyone continued to stare at him, understanding what he was saying, but didn't say anything. Master then stared at the mane of the Thousand Sunny, "It's been so long since the war between light and darkness took place here in the Grand Universe. And yet, I can still remember how it all went… in every detail in that horrid century. I knew I had the power to stop them, but I was so scared.. It was the first time I have witnessed such chaos. I didn't wanted to interfere against the Emperor Gods' creatures, and I thought things would turn out alright once the war was over. It did brought peace between the people of Luminarium and Obscurum, but… things turned far worse than it did for the better."

The wind whistled by the lake again, "… A long time has passed since that event, and finally, everything was finally back the way it was, thanks to you kind people." Master Hand said, referring to the Strawhats, "I will never forget your kindness.. that is why it brings me such regret that you have to leave like this. I'm sorry, but you can't stay here anymore. Your true adventure awaits you back in your homeworld; you can't afford to stay here any longer. I really did all the research to fix this current dilemma, and take you back to your world without any trouble. I spent the entire week, gaining knowledge from all the realities, and the Grand Universe, but this is the only method possible. Normally, your lives would have been needed for something like this, but after making some modifications to the Crazy door, your memories are the only links I need to use."

Master Hand then turned towards everyone, "I know you're hurt… I know that this is a big loss, and you have trusted in me, but there is nothing else I can do. I'm sorry…"

Everyone stood in silence, but they looked as if they understand, especially the crew. The only one that hasn't said anything yet was Luffy. The crew, Crazy, R.O.B, and the Alloy team stared at him with concern.

"Luffy…" Nami said, wondering what was going on in Luffy's thoughts. Master Hand turned towards Luffy, as the hand was having difficulty trying to say something to the captain.

"Luffy… I-I…" Master Hand stuttered, "I don't know what to say to you. You had the most respect for me as I do for you, and seeing you upset is the last thing I would ever want to see. When we talked last night, I knew you entrusted me to always do the right thing, and.. I don't know what you are thinking, but all I want you to know is that I am deeply sorry that this has to end this way." But even with those sincere words, Luffy still didn't say anything, making Master Hand feel more anxious as the Hand looked away several times before looking back at Luffy.

"I see… this isn't just about that. This is also about our promise, that one day, when you become the Pirate King, I would accept you as a Smasher… I know we made that promise, and that I would fulfill my word, but your memories… there would no point in bringing you back without knowing what you have done for all of us. It wouldn't be fair for us, but it would certainly not be fair for you. You deserve to keep your memories… and coming back here without them would be terrible for you, because you will make memories of how you thought you first got here, how you will meet the other Smashers you will believe you have never met them in your life, and you will leave with nothing but fake memories that you will treasure in your lifetime. That's why…" Master Hand paused as his figure began to shook, "That's why you can never come back!"

Master Hand then fell on the back of his fingers; he was so upset, he couldn't remain floating from the ground. Everyone was concerned as Master Hand sounded like he was crying, as his body shivered with sadness, "I'm sorry! I really am sorry!" He exclaimed, "I don't want you to leave like this! Who am I to take your memories! I know I shouldn't, but I have no other choice! Those people in Egasm.. I don't want to abandon them! I don't want to feel helpless like that time during that wretched war! I want to help anybody and anything in desperate need of aid… I need to do this! Please, forgive me!" Master Hand's fingers curled up, dragging a chunk of the grass and dirt underneath him, and took up into his palm, "Please understand… I really am sorry… I'm sorry…"

Luffy then raised his trophy in the air, and slammed it down hard into the ground.

Everyone was shocked upon seeing that, including Master Hand. However, the trophy didn't break as Luffy simply placed it down on the ground in front of Master Hand before standing straight up. Master Hand was confused at this, as Luffy slightly raised his up, showing a determined look before putting his right hand against his waist, and pointed down at the trophy with the other.

"When we get back here, I want you to give me this trophy!" Luffy exclaimed.

The crew, Crazy, everybody was utterly shocked hearing those words, especially Master Hand, who was paying close attention to Luffy, but was still confused.

"I don't deserve to keep this trophy yet." Luffy explained, "When I become the Pirate King, I want this trophy on my hands as a prize once we get back here in your world!"

Master Hand did not expect this answer; in fact, he didn't think he would get an answer at all. "W-What!" Master Hand gasped, before he took some time to regain his composure. "N-No! I told you; without your memories-"

"I don't need memories to remember things!" Luffy said determinedly, "Let me tell you something; I never forget my promises! Never! If there is something, or somebody that I know, and my head won't let me remember what or who it is," Luffy then punches the side of his own head with some force, startling some his crewmembers, and everyone else watching, "I will kick my own ass, until I can remember!"

"I don't understand…" Master Hand said with a surprised tone, "You know what you're saying isn't possible, do you? You're memories will be taken, and will be destroyed as soon as you get back to your world! Coming back here without your memories will hurt you… you can't just say that you will remember by hurting yourself." Master Hand then floated back in the air, "I know it's difficult to accept this, but this must happen before things get worse in Egasm. Please understand!"

"I understand what you have to do. I didn't say you shouldn't do this to us." Luffy said as he then smirked, "Because once me and my crew will get back to our world, you're going to start finding a way to get our memories back."

Crazy, R.O.B., and the Alloy team were surprised, but not as much as Master Hand was when Luffy said that. Zoro and Sanji smirked as they, Nami, Usopp, Chopper, Robin, and Franky were feeling happy seeing their captain so confident.

"Like you said before; we made a promise. All that talk about you not keeping your word sounded really stupid." Luffy said, "As if you're going to hate yourself forever when you destroy our memories. You're not going to cry about it! Instead, you're going start thinking plenty of smart things to get our memories back, even if it means taking forever! And when you do find a way, you're going to keep your promise, and bring us back here in next Super Smash Bros. Tournament! I know you are going to do this, because that's what we promised! I will become the Pirate King, and you will be take us back, and be happy!"

"Yeah! You tell him! You rock, Luffy!" Crazy exclaimed, crying with utter joy as R.O.B., and the Alloy team were proud for Luffy. The crew were proud for their captain as well, as Master Hand didn't felt sad anymore. Looking into Luffy's determined eyes, Master Hand was slowly feeling better. And seeing Luffy's crew now feeling the same way, it was hard for Master Hand to feel bad when people around are feeling confident and happy.

"Amazing…" Master Hand said in awe, "This is definitely the first time I've ever met someone like you, Luffy. You have a heart of gold… thank you."

Luffy smiled widely as Master Hand then looked at the Crazy Door, "Are you sure you want to go like this? Because even if I try and find a way to get your memories back, there is no telling if I will succeed. Restoring something destroyed back in it's top condition is the hardest challenge for anybody to accomplish."

"Hee hee! Stop saying 'try'; you can do this. You're the best!" Luffy said with a thumbs up.

Master Hand looked at Luffy, and laughed pleasantly, "Ha ha ha… yes. I will do this. Once you become the Pirate King, I'll welcome you all back, and I promise you will have a great time."

Luffy smiled widely again as his crew then approached, "So, Luffy… ready to go?" Zoro asked with a smile.

Luffy turned around, and saw the crew were ready once more, "Yep! Everything is fine now. Let's go home."

And with that said, the Strawhats were ready to go. The Strawhats approached Crazy, and the others, saying their farewells. "You guys are pretty tough as a team." Zoro said to the Alloy Team, "Maybe one day, we can have a rematch, and see who truly is the strongest team."

"You bros take care now, alright?" Franky said. The Alloy team saluted simultaneously in response, showing their respect for the two as they smiled.

Robin hugged R.O.B., and then smiled at him, "Thank you for your kindness, R.O.B.. I hope we will meet again someday."

"Goodbye, R.O.B.. We won't forget about you either." Chopper said happily.

"Damn, I wish we had more time to know about you." Usopp said with a smile, "Don't worry; when we come back, I'll tell you how great it is to be me, Captain Usopp."

R.O.B. nodded, as he wished he could cry to show how sad, but happy to see his new friends finally getting back in their world.

Crazy Hand sniffed, as he sounded like he was crying, "Oi, what's wrong with you this time?" Nami asked with a smile.

"N-Nothing!" Crazy exclaimed, "I-I'm just happy that you guys were even here in the first place. You may lose memories when you get back to your world, but if you can, try not to forget about my gorgeous self!"

"Don't worry about that. How can we ever someone like you. That's impossible." Sanji said with a smile, actually saying that like a compliment instead of an insult.

"And above else, it was thanks to you that we had such a wonderful experience out here." Nami said with a pleasant, "We should be thanking you too, because if you hadn't picked us to do your dirty work, I doubt whoever else you picked could have get the job done successfully as we did."

"Oh… you guys…" Crazy whimpered in sheer happiness, "I LOVE YOU GUYS SO MUCH! LET'S GET BACK TO THE BEDROOMS, AND HAVE SEX RIGHT NOW!"

"Don't ruin this moment…" Nami and Sanji irritatedly in unison.

"Hee hee! Kidding! I was kidding…" Crazy said with a wave of his hand, "Ha ha ha… thanks for all your help, guys!"

The Strawhats laughed along with Crazy, as Master Hand then approached Luffy, "I will take you to your ship." Master Hand then faced his back towards the ground, and spread out his fingers away from his palm, "Get on my palm, everyone. Don't be afraid; I won't drop any of you."

Luffy and his crew then got on Master Hand's palm, as Master Hand then took the crew up to the Thousand Sunny, with Crazy, and the others watching them from where they stood. Master Hand floated over the ship's railing, as the Strawhats got off of him, and got on the lawn deck. "Ahh.. thanks, Master Hand!" Luffy said.

"No problem." Master Hand replied, "Now, allow me to turn the ship towards the door." Master Hand then floated closer to the lake floor, and pushed the Thousand Sunny from the side, turning it around until it faced the Crazy Door. Master Hand floated back up, and spoke with the crew once more, "There you go. Now, all you have to do is sail through that door. The ride may get bumpier than you are used to, but you will reach your world safely." Master Hand then paused, looking at the crew smiling at him, "Thank you all… your actions will never be forgotten. You have saved us all, and we're forever in your debt. May you have a safe journey back to your world."

The crew smiled, as Luffy then gave another thumbs up at Master Hand, and winked at him, "See you later, Master Hand!"

"Yes… farewell, my friends." Master Hand said.

The hand then left the crew, and went back to his brother, and the others. The Strawhats didn't move, as even though they look happy, they were sad that they were leaving. Luffy turned around, and raised his arms in the air.

"SET SAAAAIILLLL!" Luffy yelled.

With smiles on their faces, the crew got into their stations, setting the sails of the Thousand Sunny. "Crazy Door! You may now open!" Master Hand said from afar. The Crazy Door laughed as it sticked it's tongue back into it's mouth, and opened itself up to reveal a path of streams. The streams weren't made of light, darkness, or golden, but it was rainbow-colored stream, as the colors of the rainbow were flowing along the stream as well.

The wind blew, as the Thousand Sunny began to drift along the lake, and headed towards the door, where they would finally get back home.

But as the ship sailed forward, all the Strawhats rushed back to the railing behind the ship. Once they all got there, they saw Master Hand, Crazy Hand, R.O.B., and the Alloy team there seeing them off. They and the Strawhats stared at each other, before everyone screamed with joy.

"Goodbye, Master Hand! Goodbye!" Luffy waved, as he and his crew were waving goodbye to Master Hand, and the others, who were doing the same to them. Usopp, Chopper, and Franky had their faces filled with tears, but they kept on smiling while waving goodbye; Nami, and Robin had tears in their eyes, but they laughed while waving their hands; and Zoro and Sanji smirked while also saying their goodbyes. Luffy put his right foot on the railing, and happily waved goodbye to Master Hand, who waved back.

R.O.B. waved goodbye with his arm; the Alloy team waved goodbye in unison; and Master Hand watched the Strawhats, happily hearing their shouts.

"Unnghh! Take care of yourselves!" Franky yelled while crying uncontrollably, "And I am not crying! Ughh hu hu hu!"

"Farewell for now! I hope we will meet again very soon!" Robin exclaimed.

"Goodbye! Please don't forget about us!" Chopper cried while waving both his arms.

"See ya! I'm sure we'll see each other again!" Sanji said with a smile.

"We may leave now, but we'll always be together by spirit! Take care!" Usopp cried.

"Bye! Thanks for all the great memories!" Nami exclaimed.

"We'll show you that we can fulfill our dreams! You guys wait and see!" Zoro said with a smirk.

"Goodbye! Remember our promise, Master Hand! Goodbye, Crazy! I will never forget you either!" Luffy exclaimed happily.

"Guughh huh huh huh huh! Byyee! Don't forget about us! Especially me!" Crazy yelled, crying uncontrollably while waving back at the crew in a crazy manner.

"Luffy!" Master Hand shouted happily, getting Luffy's attention as Master Hand then gave a thumbs up, "Until we meet again!"

Luffy smiled, and continued to wave to him along with his crew, as the Thousand Sunny sailed closer to the door. Master Hand, Crazy Hand, R.O.B., and the Alloy team watched as the ship entered through the door, and disappeared as the streams took the ship away with great speed.

"Whugh!" The Strawhats cried as they nearly fell off their ship from the sudden increase of speed.

"Dammit! Master Hand wasn't kidding when he said this was going to be a bumpy ride!" Sanji exclaimed while holding onto the railing.

"Whoaah! This is way too fast! We're going to fall off at this rate!" Usopp exclaimed while also holding onto the railing.

"No we're not! Come on!" Luffy yelled as he suddenly ran off. The crew followed their to the lawn deck as quickly, and carefully as they could, as the ship was now moving even faster.

"Ah!" Chopper cried as he fell on his back when something flew out of the back his head.

"Chopper! Are you alright!" Franky asked, helping Chopper up.

"I-I don't know!" Chopper replied while rubbing his head, "I think something hit me in the head!"

Nami turned around, and saw what came out of Chopper's head, which was a light stream flying up into the rainbow stream path, "I think that was… a memory! Ahh!" Nami cried as a light stream also flew from out of her head.

"Nami-san! Aghh!" Sanji cried as a light stream also came flying off his head. Shortly afterwards, everybody was experiencing the same thing.

"Gagh!" Zoro cried as he gritted his teeth, looking at the streams flying away, "That has to be our memories! They're being shot from out of our heads!"

"At this rate, we will lose all our precious memories! Grergh!" Robin gasped as more light streams flew out of her head, and some of her memories faded away.

"No! Stay inside!" Chopper yelled, putting his hooves up against his head to prevent his memories in leaving, but to no avail.

The Thousand Sunny flew even faster across the path as several streams flew out of Usopp's head, as Usopp began to panic, "I don't even know what I'm forgetting! This has to stop!"

"We can't stop it! We've already agreed to do this! We can't turn back!" Sanji yelled before some more streams left his head.

"Everyone, calm down! We can't let this be the last moment we have while we still have some of our memories left!" Nami exclaimed with her hands on her head as some streams continue to fly off.

"What do you want us to do!" Franky asked before he cried upon more streams being shot out of his head, and more memories disappearing, "This isn't fun, it's messed up! I feel like we're getting killed here!"

"Concentrate! We have to get through this! If we have to lose our memories, I don't want to lose them this way!" Nami replied.

The ship then went even faster than before, "This is nothing compared to our last travels!" Zoro yelled while gritting his teeth, "I refuse to leave like this in a defeated manner! We will leave this place without any frustration!"

"SHUT UP, GUYS!"

Everyone turned towards Luffy, who stood in front of them with multiple light streams flying out from his head. And yet, Luffy wasn't flinching when this was happening. In fact, he was grinning widely.

"I plan to leave with a big smile on my face!" Luffy yelled, "You guys must do the same, for when we get back to the Smash World with our memories back, we will remember this day as the day we finished our greatest adventure with the happiest faces anyone has ever seen!"

The crew understood quickly. Despite their memories leaving them, Luffy, and his crew rushed up the staircase, and gathered around the helm. They all looked ready as Luffy then jumped on the mane of the ship, and raised his arms up high.

"Take away all our memories if you want; you'll never destroy the fun we had in this adventure!" Luffy yelled happily as more memories repeatedly flew out of the back his head, "We will never lose our memories! Do you hear me! WE WILL NEVER FORGET!"

A light could be seen at the end of the path, as it grew bigger and brighter the more closer the ship was getting towards it. Everyone smiled as the light engulfed them, along with Luffy, who continued to shout while the light silenced his words. The ship was engulfed with the light, along with the entire rainbow path. The light didn't dim as the Strawhats disappeared into it, and couldn't be seen anymore.

The Crazy Door then closed, and vanished into thin air. Master Hand, Crazy Hand, R.O.B., and the Alloy team stood there on the grassy field in silence once the crew have left their world.

"They're gone…" Master Hand said in a stoic tone.

"Yep…" Crazy Hand replied, sounding sad.

The wind whistled once more, as the hands were looking at the spot where the Strawhats have left. R.O.B., and the Alloy team already missed the crew, as R.O.B. then looked to his left to see the trophy Luffy left behind. R.O.B. went up to the trophy, lowered his arms, and grabbed the trophy, staring at it once he brought the trophy closer to his vision. After looking at it long enough, R.O.B. brought the trophy to Master Hand, who saw it, and felt happy.

"Don't worry about them, Crazy." Master Hand said, "I know that they have already forgotten about us, but we will never forget about them."

"I know." Crazy replied as he turned towards Master Hand, "But now that they're gone, what are we going to do? Without them, this place has gotten boring again, and I'm afraid of the zombies that might pop up in town…"

"Hmph! You seemed to have gotten over them." Master Hand chuckled, "And rather quickly, I might add."

"No way!" Crazy retorted, "I still feel bad that they left! It's just… ugh, I miss them already…"

Master Hand looked back at the lake, seeing a brief image of Luffy, and his crew smiling at him. That image faded into thin air, as Master Hand then sighed, "I miss them too." He said, "Come on, let's go back inside."

Crazy took one last look where the Strawhats have left the Smashworld, cherishing the last moments he had with them. Crazy then sighed sadly as he joined his brother, along with R.O.B. and the Alloy team back to Smash Mansion up the hill.

Once they have arrived home, Crazy opened the door, and cracked his knuckle while feeling a little better. "I'm going to see if they've got back to their world yet. I don't want to miss any second more of their lives, you know?"

Crazy then floated up the front staircase, and headed towards Master Hand's office in the second floor. Meanwhile, Master Hand was deep in thought while R.O.B. placed the bronze Luffy trophy in the center of the coffee in front of the big screen TV. Master Hand turned around, and looked at the trophy again, seeing the big smile on it.

"Hmm… you know what? Why not?" Master Hand said in a motivated tone as he then turned towards the Alloy team, "I'm going to find a way to get their memories back! I got nothing else to do, and it should be fun! What do you all think?"

The Alloy team looked at each other, and nodded with their master's idea. "Alright… I'll do it." Master Hand said happily as he folded into a fist, "I shall find a way to get their memories back, even if I die!" He said determinedly. He then looked at the Alloys and R.O.B., who were giving their master an odd look. Master Hand felt embarrassed, and unfolded himself, "Sorry… I was trying to say something Luffy would usually say in a tough time." Master Hand then faced towards the staircase, "-sigh-… okay, I should probably get started."

Knock! Knock!

Then suddenly, there was a knock on the right front door, catching Master Hand's attention.

"Oh? Now who could that be?" Master Hand asked.

R.O.B. went to open the entire door, as Master Hand looked outside, but saw no one. He then looked down, and saw somebody standing in front of him. The person in front of Master Hand was a man, wearing a long and black robe, with the back end of his robe formed in spike-like pattern that mostly covered the steps of the porch behind him. He wore a long hood over his head, concealing his face with darkness, and his arms were tucked inside his long round sleeves nearly touching the porch he stood on, and stood with a slouched posture, and with his knees bent.

"Oh, hello." Master Hand greeted the robed man as if he knew him, "Um… may I help you?"

"Greetings, Master Hand. I hope I didn't come at a bad time." The robed man said with a calm, yet somewhat eerie voice. Master Hand didn't reply quickly as R.O.B., and the Alloy team took some steps away from the man for some reason. The robed man then looked over his shoulder, and took a brief look at the sun. "Mmm, it's awfully sunny today. May I come in?"

"Um, yes. Please step inside." Master Hand said, welcoming the robed man in his mansion.

The robed man walked forward with the posture he had, and entered the mansion quietly. Once the back end of the man's robe was inside, R.O.B. closed the front door, and sticked closely with the Alloy team, staring at the robed man from behind. The man took note of his surroundings, as Master Hand gestured at R.O.B.

"R.O.B., if you be so kindly to serve some tea to our guest." Master Hand said politely.

"There is no need for that, Master Hand. I'm not going to take much of your time." The robed man said, "I am only here to finish some business."

"Oh, I see." Master Hand said, "That time again, I presume…"

Crazy Hand then appeared over the front staircase, as he looked pretty excited, "Hey, bro! I see them! They are back in their world!" Crazy exclaimed, "They looked knocked out, but I tell you when… !" Crazy stopped as soon as he noticed the robed standing in front of his brother. For some reason, Crazy felt enraged upon seeing this man. He felt so angry, that he actually forgot what he was talking about. The man looked up at Crazy, who twitched as he turned red while steam blew out of his fingers.

"Crazy… control yourself…" Master Hand said sternly.

"Yoouu.." Crazy said to the man in an unpleasant voice, "If it isn't my greatest enemy… I knew you'd come sooner or later… YOU FILTHY TAX COLLECTOR!" Crazy then stormed up through the roof, leaving a hole behind, until he then came back, "Bro, hold them there! I'm going to get my fly swatter!" He yelled from the second before he left again.

Master Hand sighed, "I'm sorry about him; he should know better by now…"

"Let's get back on topic." The robed man said, wasting no time explaining his intentions, "As you know, this is that time of the month again. I'm afraid I am going to need a certain amount of fee from you today."

"… That's fine." Master Hand said stoically as he then turned away, "I'll send you the Smash coins as soon as I can."

"Oh, but I'm not only here for that." The robe man added, confusing Master Hand, "You must also pay for your recent actions."

"Excuse me?" Master Hand asked, turning back towards the robed man.

"It's come to my knowledge that your precious Master Door has been used not once, but several times in such a short amount of time." The robed man explained, "I don't know why you would use it this much, but it doesn't matter to me. However, using that door goes against the fine print… and that is against the rules, Mr. Rule follower. Hm hm hm!"

Master Hand stared at the robed man in disdain, until Crazy Hand bursted through the floor of the 2nd floor, leaving another hole next to the one he created a while ago as he flew towards the robed man, holding a giant fly swatter.

"I'M GOING TO RAPE YOU IN A NON-EROTIC WAY!" Crazy yelled furiously.

KAPOW!

Crazy lied on the ground with a big bump on his back he received from his brother, as Master Hand turned back towards the robed man.

"Forgive me, but haven't you seen what was going on the last couple of weeks!" Master Hand asked.

"Maybe… but it doesn't have anything to do with this." the robed man said.

"It has everything to do with this!" Master Hand yelled furiously.

"Calm down; no need to get upset." The robed man said calmly, "However, if you wish to argue, do it with someone that actually cares." The robed man then took out a bill from his sleeves, holding the paper with his hand still hidden under his long sleeves, "Right now, I recommend you pay the fine, before things get more out of hand."

Hearing the word 'fine' made Crazy jump back in reality. Crazy approached his brother, sounding very nervous, "Um, bro… you might want to let me take a look at that first, so… you won't have to look at it."

"It's alright, Crazy." Master Hand assured. The robed man held up the bill in front of Master Hand so he could see it. Master Hand read the amount he needed to pay, and… "… WHAAAAT! THIS MUCH!"

Crazy Hand looked over his brother to see the amount, and jumped back in shock, "Oh shiatzu! Take cover!" Crazy hid behind R.O.B., and the Alloy team, as they all shivered nervously behind the robed man. Master Hand sounded dumbfounded upon seeing the bill, as his fingers twitched in surprise, and was also hyperventilating.

"I know it seems a little too much than what you are used to, but it's nothing to complain about." The robed man said, not realized that Master Hand was seething, "After all, you're just a hand; you don't really need money to keep you alive. You can have more eventually, so I don't really see the problem. So, what do you think? Be a smart hand, and pay the amount so I may leave already?"

Master Hand's figure twitched, as he really looked upset, but it was hard to tell since he didn't had a face. It's obvious that whatever might happen, Master Hand will be respectful, and-

"I THINK YOU'RE censored IN THE HEAD!" Master Hand yelled with pure rage, "WHO THE censored DO YOU THINK YOU ARE, BRINGING YOUR TIGHT censored IN MY MANSION, AND TELLING ME THAT I HAVE TO PAY THIS censored MUCH! YOU censored LUNATIC! DID YOU EVEN KNEW WHAT censored HAPPENED TO ME! I WAS HELD CAPTIVE, BUT I KNOW YOU DON'T CARE, BECAUSE YOU ARE A censored, censored MORON!"

Crazy, R.O.B., and the Alloy team completely afraid of Master Hand, going absolutely nuts over a bill, while the robed man didn't seem intimidated.

"OH SUUURE, I CAN MAKE MORE MONEY LATER, BUT DO YOU KNOW HOW LONG IT TAKES TO MAKE ONE censored COIN!" Master Hand asked, with his figure inches away from the robed man's face, "IT TAKES A VERY LONG TIME, censored! I MIGHT AS WELL GIVE YOU ALL THE STUFF I HAVE, SINCE YOU ALWAYS COME HERE, AND MESS WITH ME ALL THE censored TIME! SPEAKING OF WHICH… GRRRR!"

Master Hand flew next to the living room couch in a way Crazy would approach anything, "OH, LOOKY HERE! IT'S A COUCH!" Master Hand laughed in a berserked way, "GEE, WHY I WOULD I MAKE A COUCH, IF I HAVE NO BUTTOCKS TO LAY UPON THEM! I KNOW! I'LL GIVE IT TO YOU INSTEAD!" Master Hand then picked up the couch with ease, and threw it over the robed man, where the couch then broke upon hitting the next to the man, and fell into big pieces, "YOU LIKE IT! BECAUSE I'M NOT DONE GIVING YOU MY THINGS!"

Master Hand then flew over the robed man, who watched as Master Hand dug his fingertips into a wall, and dragged them downward, tearing the wallpaper, including the wall itself in the process. Some of the wallpaper fell on the robed man, who just stood there as Master Hand then laughed, "HOW ABOUT SOME WALLPAPER! IT'S PART OF A WALL… AND IT'S MADE OF PAPER! DYA BLB BLB BLB BLB LBL BLAH!"

Master Hand wasn't done as he then flew towards the big screen TV, and picked it up. The robed man removed the wallpaper from his head, and watched as Master Hand flew up high near the roof of the first floor, and aimed towards the center.

"BOMBS AWAY!" Master Hand yelled as he flew down, yelling out some more gibberish as he then slammed the television set into the ground, which then exploded into several pieces. The explosion created a dust cloud that spreads out throughout the ground in the first floor, as Master Hand emerged from the cloud triumphantly. "YYYES! TAKE THAT, SOCIETY! I'M THE KINDEST PERSON EVER TO GIVE AWAY SO MANY VALUABLE THINGS TO A STUPID PERSON!" Master Hand's finger twitched as he looked back at the robed man, who still doesn't seem intimidated, "WHAT'S THAT! YOU WANT MORE OF MY THINGS! OKIE-DOKIE! GWAAH HA HA HA HA HA!"

Master Hand then flew into the dining room, destroying every single thing that was there, creating even more of a mess. Crazy Hand, R.O.B., and the Alloy stood next to the robed man, as they continue to watch this madness, "DIE! DIE STUFF! I DON'T NEED YOU ANYMORE! I HAVE censored TO PLAY WITH censored, AND WITH THE BILL, HE CAN censored AND censored UNTIL THE CORPSES DISAPPEAR WITH censored censored censored censored censored censored censored censored AND FINALLY censored censored censored censored censored censored censored censored censored censored censored censored censored censored censored censored ALL THE WAY TO THE MUSHROOM KINGDOM!"

"Ah ha.. and they said I was crazy." Crazy Hand chuckled with a cocky attitude, and then looked at his brother with shame. They all just stared at Master Hand wreack havoc in his own home, while the sunlight from outside shined over the bronze Luffy trophy.

Meanwhile…

A dangerous sea exists where it takes more than guts to sail on. It takes knowledge, emotion, willpower, and ambition to overcome this deadly sea. This sea… is the Grand Line.

Today, the sea was calm, which was rather rare considering it's the Grand Line, as nothing else seemed to be going on this crazy sea. There was no island on sight, just some seagulls flying across the air… and one ship.

The Thousand Sunny was in the middle of nowhere, as Luffy, and his crew were sleeping on several sections of the ship. Zoro was sleeping on the staircase to the helm; Nami and Robin were sleeping on the lawn deck, as well as Chopper, who had his face in the grass; Usopp was sleeping as his body was hanging from the gaffles of the ship; Sanji was sleeping on the swing on the lawn deck; Franky was sleeping upside with his body lied against the mast, and his head and arms on the floor; and Luffy was sleeping on the ship's mane.

The Strawhats were home. After such a long journey, they have finally returned to where they belong.

"Mmm…" Luffy's eyelids began to open, and saw the bright sun shining over his vision. "Uh?" Luffy sat up, and realized that he was on the mane. He looked at his surroundings, seeing nothing but the sea, and looked puzzled, "Was I sleeping? Hmm…"

The crew were also waking up, "Ow, my head…" Nami sighed irritably while getting up.

"Hmm…" Usopp stretched his muscles, and woked up while rubbing his eyes to see that he was hanging from the gaffles, "Gah! What am I doing up here! Whoa!" From panicking, Usopp fell of the gaffle, and landed on the deck hard. "Ough.." He moaned as his body twitched upon landing.

"Gyargh. Wha? Where am I?" Franky asked, rolling over onto his chest. Robin and Chopper got up, as Zoro yawned before he got up from the stairs as well.

"My back…" Zoro said while holding his back. Sanji woke up, and got up from the swing, but not before tripping over it, and fell in front of Usopp, who hasn't got up yet after his rough landing. "Ouch! What the…?"

Everyone looked confused; they didn't seem to recall how they ended up sleeping when they came back to their world. ".. Is everyone okay?" Nami asked with a confused look.

"I don't know." Franky said, a little irritated, "I don't even know why we're out here."

"Did you guys just wake up?" Sanji asked, helping Usopp up on his feet.

"I think so…" Chopper said, rubbing his head, "Do you know why we were asleep?"

"No. I just woke up the same time you guys did. Strange…" Sanji said.

"This is strange indeed." Robin said rubbing her chin.

"You guys probably didn't felt like sleeping indoors, and ended up sleeping outside like I usually do." Zoro said, approaching his crew from the stairway, "It's no big deal, if you ask me."

"Oh, yeah? You never rest on the stairs before. Why start now?" Nami asked. Zoro looked back, and wondered why he slept on the stairs, rather than taking a nap on the lawn deck.

"And can someone explain to me how I ended up sleeping up there? I don't even know what's going on!" Usopp yelled, pointing up at the gaffles.

Then Luffy walked over to the rail near the helm, and looked at his crew on the deck. "Hey, guys." Luffy said with a tired look.

"Luffy." Nami said in a surprised tone, as she and her comrades looked at Luffy as he then walked down the stairs.

"Oi, Luffy. Where were you?" Sanji asked.

"I was on my favorite spot. I just woke up… -yawn-.." Luffy yawned as he took as he approached his crew on the deck.

"You were sleeping too, Luffy?" Chopper asked.

"You don't happen to know how you fell asleep, do you?" Franky asked.

"Mm… no, I don't remember anything." Luffy replied after thinking it through.

"-sigh-, This is so weird." Nami sighed, "Why were we all asleep out here during the day?"

"Perhaps we were attacked by somebody all night, and we were so exhausted, we ended up sleeping out here." Robin said.

"If that's true, the ship wouldn't be in such good condition." Zoro said upon noticing his surroundings, "Not to mention there is not a single living thing in sight."

"You guys were sleeping too?" Luffy asked.

"Yeah. We just woke up, and we don't even know we were all sleeping out here to begin with." Usopp said as he then crossed his arms, and was trying to remember, "Let's see, all I can remember was having a dream about me telling Chopper about my adventures."

"Huh?" Chopper said with a surprised look.

"What's wrong, Doctor-kun?" Robin asked.

"That's funny; what Usopp just said… I was having that same dream too." Chopper said, "He was telling me a story how he defeated a demon, and… I don't remember what happened after that."

"Strange, that also sounds familiar…" Nami said, as she then looked at the others, "What about you guys? Did you dream of anything?"

"I don't see how this is important, but all I know is that I was dreaming that I was arguing with Franky, and the cook about something… I think." Zoro said.

"No way! I was dreaming something like that too!" Franky gasped.

"Me too…" Sanji said as well, "Were we dreaming of the same thing?"

"That isn't possible." Nami said with her hands on her hips, "But… for some reason, what you guys just explained, I happened to see that in my dream too. I also remember I was talking to Robin. Right, Robin?"

"Yes, I remember." Robin replied. The Strawhats were now even more curious, as they were only remembering about the time before they were taken out of their world. They don't seem to mention anything from the ride they used to get back to their world. It's as if they…

"What about you, Luffy? What were you dreaming about?" Zoro asked.

Luffy thought long and hard, closing his eyes as he tried to remember his dream, "I was fishing… yeah, I was fishing. And then… a door?"

"Door? What door?" Franky asked.

Luffy tried to remember; he was thinking about the second Master door that took him, and his crew from their world, but couldn't remember in detail. He thought harder, trying to force that image to pop up in his head. He kept trying, until he then said, "Door? Did I say that?" Luffy blinked as that image instantly vanished from his head, "I don't remember a door.. all I remember is that I was fishing, and then I woke up. I don't think there was more, but if there was… I don't remember anymore."

The Strawhats have lost all their memories of their special adventure. They had no clue what they have lost, and as treasurable those memories were to them, the crew have lost them probably forever.

"Um, maybe we just felt tired, and fell asleep out here." Chopper said, "Nothing seems to be wrong with us, so I don't think we should keep worrying about it."

The Strawhats looked at each other, and seeing how they felt fine, and nothing out of place, they decided to agree with that statement.

"I guess so." Sanji said.

"Heck, even if we did had the same dream, I'm sure it was just a coincidence." Franky said with a smirk.

"Not really. Although, we are in the Grand line, and anything can happen here." Nami said while staring out at the sea.

"I'm hungry…" Luffy whined all of a sudden, "Sanji, food!"

"Right on it…" Sanji sighed as he headed towards the kitchen.

The Strawhats resumed their day like any other day, not thinking about anything else, for it was pointless to remember something forever gone from their minds.

Some time has passed since the Strawhats have awakened, as the Thousand Sunny was drifting across the sea, still in the middle of nowhere. Luffy was sitting on the rail of the left side of the ship, fishing after eating his lunch Sanji prepared for him. "Bite already, you stupid fish!" Luffy yawned, as he hasn't caught anything yet.

Zoro was up at the crow's nest, lifting some incredible weights alone. While he lifted his weights, he couldn't help, but wonder what he was doing the day before, but he was getting a headache upon doing so, and resumed to his daily activity.

Nami was in the library at the back of the ship, drawing some charts. "No, that doesn't look right." Nami said as she erased some lines in her chart, and started over.

Usopp and Franky were down in the Soldier dock area, checking up their supplies, "Are you sure this is all the stuff we need?" Usopp asked, standing on some lumber.

"I know what I'm doing, Longnose. Just count on me." Franky replied with his arms crossed.

Sanji was in the kitchen, washing the dishes. Chopper was in the medical room next door, preparing some medicines on his table. "Ha ha! I should be done in no time." Chopper said happily. Hearing Chopper's laughter from the room made Sanji smiled, as he then whistled while finishing up with the dishes.

Robin was in the lawn deck near where Luffy was fishing. She was reading a book on her chair under an umbrella, reading quietly to herself on this relaxing day.

The Strawhats resumed their lives on the Grand Line. If only they still remembered… they'd probably have a great time remembering about the good things they have done for the sake of life in every other world. If only they could remember…

"Aw, the fish are ignoring me!" Luffy whined. He turned around, and placed his feet on the deck, and reeled in his fishing hook. He faced back towards the deck while looking at his hook with no bait, "Maybe I should put bait on here next time…" Luffy then looked straight, and noticed some peculiar far off on the sea. Luffy blinked, as he squinted his eyes, and actually saw something nearly over the horizon. "Ohh! Oi, everyone! Come out here!"

Robin stopped reading, and looked at Luffy in confusion.

"What's going on?" Nami asked as soon as she left the library, and headed towards the deck. Sanji and Chopper came out from the kitchen, and walked over to the railing to see Luffy running across the deck.

"Hey, what is it, Luffy?" Usopp asked as he, and Franky appeared climbing up from the floor entrance to the soldier dock system room in the center of the lawn deck, and watched Luffy run towards the right side of the ship, and stopped in front of the rail.

It took a while for the crew to approach him from where they stood, as they wondered what Luffy was yelling about, "What's going on, Luffy? Why did you call us here?" Sanji asked.

"Look over there! There's an island right there!" Luffy exclaimed while pointing at the land far off. The crew took a good look, and could see it also.

"Oh? Is that really an island?" Chopper asked.

"It's a little far off. It could be a ship." Franky said with his hand shading over his eyes.

"Hey, guys." Zoro said as his voice could be heard from the megaphone on the bottom of the crow's nest he was in, "I can see an island from up here."

"You see! I told you it's an island!" Luffy exclaimed happily.

"By the looks of the place, it looks like a spring island." Usopp said by looking far away at the island with his binoculars. He placed his binoculars over his his forehead, and rubbed his chin, "I don't see anybody there. It looks suspicious."

"Hey, let's go over there, and check it out!" Luffy said.

"Are you kidding? We don't have time for that." Nami said as she raised her log pose around her wrist, "We would be going off course if we go all the way over there. And besides, what if the log pose resets, and picks up a location of another island? How do you expect we get to Merman Island if that happens?"

"The island is not that far off. This may be our only chance to investigate it." Robin said as Zoro then appeared going down the rope ladder, and jumped down on the deck to approach his comrades as they talked.

"So, do we go there or not?" Zoro asked.

"I say we go! Right now! I have a good feeling about that place!" Luffy said, smiling over at the island. Nami sighed as Franky hurried up to the helm, and changed course to the island.

"I don't know about this…" Usopp said as he went into a fetal position, "I think my I-don't-want-to-go-to-a-suspiciously-looking-island disease is acting up again."

"Oh boy, oh boy! I can't wait any longer!" Luffy said excitedly as he then raised his arms in the air, "Here we come, island!"

And so, the Thousand Sunny sailed all the way towards the Mystery island.

Once the ship has arrived at the shore, it's paws made anchor, as everyone got off their ship via the staircase, and looked at the sight before them.

The island was indeed a Spring island as Usopp said before. The island was filled with trees, flowers, rivers, and every natural and beautiful thing you can encounter during the spring time. There has never been such a peaceful looking island than the one the Strawhats are on right now.

What's very interesting about this island, is the fact that it's the same island I first mentioned at the start of this story, and I guess it did had something to do with this story after all. What do you know…

"Wow, this place is beautiful." Chopper said in awe.

"Let's take a look around." Luffy said happily, still holding his fishing rod over his shoulder. The Strawhat crew walked along the between some healthy-looking trees and flowers. They walked over a small bridge that leads a small river as the crew kept on walking for several minutes, until the ended up out of the forest, and into a meadow filled with flowers, and some trees as well.

"This is amazing." Nami said happily, "I don't even remember why I didn't want to come here."

"It's because you like to complain all the time." Franky chuckled until Nami hits him before walking off, "Ow!"

Luffy and Chopper ran ahead, while everyone else took a good look at their relaxing surroundings.

"So far, we haven't seen anybody here." Usopp said, "Maybe this island is uninhabited."

"No, there are some birds here." Zoro said, seeing some birds chirping on the tree close by, "But it's still a little too quiet here. It's getting to be uncomfortable."

"Relax for once, Marimo." Sanji said, walking pass Zoro, "This place is perfect for a romantic evening. And speaking of which…" Sanji then picked out some flowers from the ground, and held up against his face as his visible turned into a big heart, "These flowers will certainly make Nami-san, and Robin-chan happy! Hee hee hee!"

"There is something about this island, that you just want to relax here for a good while." Robin said happily.

"Oi, everyone! Come look at this!" Luffy yelled. Everyone came over to Luffy, and saw that there was an X shaped river that was connected to the sea, separating the island into four different parts, and sizes.

"Whoa! This is a big river!" Usopp said in awe.

"This is a perfect place to set up a picnic." Sanji said, "What do you think, Nami-san?"

"Y-Yeah. I want to be here for a little while longer." Nami replied with a smile.

"Yosh! Then let's party here all day!" Luffy yelled happily as he, Usopp, Sanji, Chopper, and Franky shouted in agreement, while everyone else just smiled.

"Right! I'll go get our stuff!" Franky said as he then rushed back to the ship. But he didn't managed to get far, as he stopped suddenly, and yawned, "Ughh.. but first, in order to have a supaa party, I need a supaa rest…" Franky then collapsed, and slept in the middle of the empty path between the field of flowers.

"Franky!" Chopper, and Robin noticed Franky passing out, and rushed over to his aid. When they checked up on him, they realized he was just sleeping. "Franky, what's wrong?"

"Mmm…" Robin then rubbed her eyes, as her vision was getting blurry.

This also caught Chopper's attention, "Robin? Are you feeling okay."

"I'm fine…" She said with her eyes half open, "It's just that this island is so relaxing, I can't… stay awake…" Robin then fell on her side, and fell asleep.

"Robin-chan!" Sanji immediately noticed Robin was in some sort of trouble, and rushed to her aid, while everyone else didn't even notice as they were close to the river, and were talking. Once Sanji arrived, he raised Robin's upper body from the ground, "Chopper, what happened here!"

"I-I don't know! All of sudden, Franky passed out, and then Robin did the same." Chopper said frantically.

Sanji stared at Robin, who just looked as if she was sleeping, "She looks alright. Are you sure… !" Sanji then saw Chopper losing his balance, and fell on his rear, and laid his back against a tree. "Chopper, are you okay!"

"I'm so sleepy…" Chopper yawned, "I want to take a nap…" Chopper then passed out sitting up.

Sanji was now more worried, and looked back to his comrades, "Oi, guys! You have to get…" Sanji stopped as he suddenly felt dazed, and wondered into the flower field nearby.

"Did you say something, Sanji?" Usopp asked as he, Nami, and Zoro looked at Sanji, "Sanji?"

"These flowers look pretty… Nami-san and… Robin-chan might like them…" Sanji then passed out in the flower field, and went right asleep.

"Sanji-kun!" Nami gasped.

Nami, Zoro, and Usopp went to check what was going on, while Luffy was left behind, as he was staring at the river, not realizing what was going on with his crew.

"Hey, Sanji! Why did you fell asleep!" Usopp yelled while running. But then, Usopp also felt sleepy, and tripped over his shoelace, "Oopsie… I need more rest…"

Usopp fell face first into the empty path, and fell into a deep sleep. "Usopp!" Zoro glanced over his shoulder, and checked what was wrong with Usopp, "Hey, Usopp! What happened to you!"

"You know… I'm getting tired again…" Nami said as she stopped in the flower field as well, "The climate won't change… it's a perfect time to sleep…"

"Oi, Nami!" Zoro yelled as he then watched Nami fall into a deep sleep in the flower field. Zoro went to check on her, until he too, was going through the same fate, "Tsk… dammit… I need a nap… a long nap…" Zoro collapsed, and fell straight to sleep on his back.

The entire crew was asleep, and the only one up was Luffy, who then turned around, and saw his crew sleeping all over the ground. "Hey, what are you guys doing?" Luffy asked, taking a few steps away from the river, "This isn't the time to be sleeping again. We should be having fun."

Luffy then stopped on his tracks, as he too, was going through the same phase his crew went through just now. "Huh… why am I so tired…?" Luffy asked. Luffy was losing conciousness, as he dropped his fishing rod on the floor. He turned around slowly, and walked towards the intersection of the river. "Heh heh… this a weird day. I keep sleeping all day… and I don't know why. This must be a weird day… a weird… day…"

Luffy collapsed on his knees, and fell on his chest, and went fast asleep.

The Strawhats slept as the wind blew through the flowers, and the leaves of the trees. Don't worry, for they were not in any danger. There just having there well-deserved rest from the best adventure of their lives, and there was no better place to rest on the island they were on right now.

The wind grew a little stronger, as it blew Luffy's hat from his head, and was blown up high in the air. The hat flew up high in a great distance, where anyone could get a perfect look of the spring island below, which very much resembles the emblem of Super Smash Bros.

Meanwhile…

The Strawhats may have lost their memories, but what they gave in return was peace in the Egasm reality.

In some calm meadows of the Mushroom Kingdom, Mario & Luigi were helping Princess Peach, and Toadsworth set up their picnic table with delicious goods. Wario was there too, but he sat alone on a tree stump, still having stomach trouble as he grumbles to himself.

"There, all done." Peach said satisfied as the Mario Bros sat down, as they were ready to eat.

"This-a looks so-a delicious, Peach." Mario said happily.

"Princess Peach worked very hard to prepare this wonderful evening for us." Toadsworth said, "Let's not leave any leftovers, shall we?"

"Oh boy! I am so hungry!" Luigi said, rubbing his hands together as he picked up a piece of cake from the center of the table, and placed on his dish. He picked it up as he was about to eat, but Yoshi appeared from behind a tree, and took away Luigi's cake with his tongue, "Ha!" Luigi gasped as Yoshi sticked out his tongue, and took every single meal on table into his mouth. Everyone looked shocked, as Luigi jumped out of his chair, "No, Yoshi! That's mine!"

"Yoshi!" Yoshi cried as he ran away while Luigi chased after him in circles.

"Wah ha ha ha ha! Loser… ow!" Wario grunted as his stomach disease acted up again.

"Oh, mama-mia…" Mario rubbed his head as Peach laughed, clearly enjoying this beautiful day. She then looked up at the sky, and thought of the Strawhats. Mario looked at her, and knew what she was thinking about.

"How do you think they are doing, Mario?" Peach asked.

"I know they're doing-a just-a fine." Mario said, "They are-a numbah one!"

"Indeed they are, Master Mario. Indeed they are." Toadsworth agreed. They all stared at the sky, remembering the Strawhat crew for the rest of the day.

Meanwhile…

Zelda sat on her throne, as it was a peaceful day in her kingdom of Hyrule. She got up, and walked to a stain glass window on the right side of her throne room, and she could see the bridge of eldin through it. She smiled as she placed her hand on the window.

"Link… how are you doing today?" Zelda asked pleasantly.

Link was venturing through the field of Hyrule as he usually does. His horse, Epona, galloped towards the center of the bridge of eldin, and stopped. Link looked towards, and felt that Zelda was watching him. He smiled, and looked up at the sky over the mountains to his left.

"Luffy… everyone… I hope we could meet again someday." Link said with a smile. "Ha!" With a loud cry, Epona raised it's upper body, as Link held tight as his galloped across the bridge, with Link smiling all the way.

Meanwhile…

In a big alley in some part of a town, there were several small pokemon sitting on tires, watching a little play of some sort from their friend, Pichu. Pichu's big brother watched his little brother with curiosity, as Pichu wore his green cloth Zoro gave him around his head.

"Pichu!" Pichu said happily as he then picked up some sticks, holding two with his paws, and the third with his teeth. Pichu concentrated, and crossed his sticks across his chest. "Piii chuu!" Pichu performed Zoro's Oni Giri, slashing through a leaf on the ground, not cutting it in half, but only it knocking it up in the air.

Nonetheless, Pichu's friends were still amazed, and clapped for their little buddy. Pichu's big brother came up to his little brother, and patted him on the back, "Pi, Pichu." He said with a smile.

"Pichu!" The little Pichu replied happily while blushing, and rubbing the back of his head.

Meanwhile, at the Sinnoh region; Ash, Dawn, and Brock walked along an empty, until Ash began to feel tired.

"I'm hungry again…" Ash sighed.

"We just ate a while ago, Ash. Can't it wait until we reach town?" Dawn asked.

"That's Ash for ya; if he doesn't he eat now, he'll complain for the rest of the way." Brock said with a smile. Ash panted as Pikachu climbed up on his shoulder.

"Pika, pi." Pikachu said, as Ash then looked at him. Ash then smirked, as he stood straight, and looked up at the sky, holding his fist in front of his chest.

"You're right, Pikachu! Luffy wouldn't have given up this easily if he was in my shoes!" Ash said with a smirk, "Let's show him what we are made of!"

"Pikachu!" Pikachu exclaimed happily with a raised paw.

Brock, Dawn, and Piplup had no idea who Ash was talking about, as they looked at each other in confusion. "Uh, Ash?" Brock said before Ash turned towards him.

"Come on, guys! Let's not slack off! Let's keep going until we reach town! I'll race ya there!" Ash said energetically as he then sped off.

Brock and Dawn still looked confused, "Piplup?" Piplup said to Dawn in a confused tone.

"I don't know either, but let's not get left behind! Let's go, Brock!" Dawn said.

"Ah! Wait for me, guys!" Brock said as he went off after his friends.

As the they left, Team Rocket appeared hiding over a hill a little far away from the path Ash and his friends were running on.

"They seem in a hurry." Jesse said after putting away her binoculars, "Let's take this chance, and take that Pikachu!"

"Alright!" James and Meowth said in unison. They all looked excited at first, but then sighed sadly as they stood up, and walked away with their heads lowered.

"I don't feel like doing that today." Jesse said sadly.

"It's the end of the story, anyway…" James added.

"Again, we were only used as comic relief in the last minute…" Meowth added as well.

The three sighed, as they all then said simultaneously, "Looks like Team Rocket is wondering off again…"

"Wobbuffet!"

Meanwhile…

It's the final lap in the finals of the Grand Prix. The F-Zero racers drove hard across the tough tracks, receiving multiple cheers from the audience, and the spectators watching at home. The one leading in first place was, surprisingly, Samurai Goroh.

"Ha ha ha ha ha! Finally, I will win the Grand Prix!" Samurai Goroh laughed in his cockpit, "Nothing can stop me from this glorious moment! Not even… !"

But then, from out of nowhere, the blue falcon zoomed past the Fire Stingray, making lose control of his vehicle. "Nooo!" The Fire Stingray spins uncontrollably as every other racer went past him, leaving that poor samurai dead last.

The Blue falcon made it first through the finish line, as the crowd shouted in sheer happiness. "And the winner of this year's Grand Prix! Captain Falcon!"

The Blue Falcon stopped, and out came Captain Falcon, who saluted his fans as they were throwing countless amount of flowers around his vehicle. Captain Falcon then saluted towards the sky.

"Strawhat pirates! This victory is for you!" Captain Falcon said proudly before he was showered with his fans.

The Fire Stingray then crossed the finish line in last place, before it broke down in pieces, with the only things intact was Goroh, and his seat.

"Aw, nuts!"

Meanwhile…

In Aether, the Luminoth were rebuilding their land. U-mos watched the construction from his quarters, and looked up at the sky. "Luffy… if only you could see us bringing our life back together. I'm sure you would enjoy it."

U-mos looked down on his land, which was now looking like a peaceful land for the Luminoth to live in for plenty of time to come.

And in a distant planet, Samus was investigating a world, suspected to have Space pirates hiding in. She walked around a forest, and there, she saw a base, with some space pirates lurking around.

Samus was ready to face them, but before she did, she looked at her arm cannon, and looked up at the sky, "Hmph… how do you keep getting in my head?" She asked with a smirk. She then came out of hiding, and shot the guards dead, which caused the alarm of the base to go off. "Lucky kid… go become a great man…"

Samus then ran off into the base, ready to kick some Space pirate butt.

Tuff was playing soccer with Kirby in the front garden of Dedede's castle. Tiff was nearby, reading a book near the fountain. "Heads up, Kirby!" Tuff said as he kicked the ball hard towards Kirby.

"Poyo!" Kirby leaped, and kicked the ball in midair. The ball soured into the castle, bouncing from every wall and ceiling in the second floor, and it wasn't going to stop anytime soon.

On that same floor, King Dedede is taking a bubble bath, as he was in tub, blowing some bubbles in the air. "Ah… this is the life." Dedede said as he then played with his rubber duckie, "I haven't had such a relaxing time like this in years. Yep… it's good to be the king."

But suddenly, the bathroom bursted open as the soccer ball Kirby kicked flew into the room. "What the!" Dedede gasped as he saw the soccer ball bouncing everywhere in the bathroom. The ball then bounced off the wall, and headed straight for Dedede. "DYEEEEHHHHHH!"

POW!

The soccerball landed directly into Dedede's face, as Dedede leaned back from getting hit, causing his weight to tip the tub over him, and splashed him with water. Escargoon, Waddle Doo, and some Waddle Dees entered the room from hearing the noise.

"Your Majesty, what-AHH! Your Majesty! What happened!" Escargoon cried as everyone went to check on Dedede.

From outside the castle, nothing but loud yelling from Dedede could be heard. Tuff, and Kirby wondered what was going on, as Tiff walked up to him from behind. "Okay, from now on, you'll play where you won't hurt anyone… even if it's Dedede."

"Okay." Tuff said.

"Poyo." Kirby said. "Poyo?" Kirby then looked up at the sky.

"Hmm? What is it, Kirby?" Tiff asked as she and Tuff looked up at the sky too, "What are you looking at?"

"It's the Strawhats, Tiff." Metaknight said, appearing right behind Tiff, Tuff, and Kirby, startling them in the process. Metaknight stood next to them, and looked up at the sky with his eyes turning blue in the process, "Kirby is remembering about the Strawhats. It's been a while since we've last seen them… so it's no wonder Kirby is thinking about them."

Tiff smiled, and looked up at the sky again, "I can't forget about them either. I really miss them."

"I hope they come back again." Tuff said.

"Me too, Tuff." Tiff said as she then looked at Kirby, "Kirby, you want to see Luffy and his friends back here again, right? Let's hope one day they will come back, and have fun with them again."

"Poyo!" Kirby replied happily, and stared at the sky once more.

Meanwhile…

In a cemetery, Snake stood in front of a grave, wearing a black suit instead of his usual attire. He saluted the grave in silence, and after a while, he left without saying word.

In an empty parking lot, Otacon waited for him, standing next to his jeep. "You never stop coming here, huh, Snake?" Otacon asked. Snake didn't felt like saying, and only nodded. Otacon patted Snake on his shoulder, and walked around his jeep to get to the driver seat. "I'll go prepare the car."

While Otacon got behind the wheel, Snake sat over the cover of the jeeps engine, and took out a cigarette. He took out his lighter, and lighted his cigarette with it. He was about to put the cigarette on his lips, but then stopped. He took the cigarette away from him, and looked up at the sky. He looked up for a while, remembering the day the Strawhats helped him stop Liquid. He smirked, and dropped the cigarette, and puts it out with his shoe.

"Not today." Snake said. He then got inside the jeep, and closed the door. He looked up at the sky once more before Otacon droved away from the parking lot.

Meanwhile…

In Sauria, The Sharpclaws were at peace with the other tribes, as they were helping the Earthwalkers lift up something in the Walled City with some rope.

General Scales, the once fearless leader of the Sharpclaws, was sitting in a cage, where two big Earthwalkers were watching over him. Scales weep to himself as Tricky looked over at the thing his people and the Sharpclaws were helping to rise up. At the end, they managed to rise up a rock statue of Zoro, posing with his arm raised.

"That looks awesome! Great job, everyone!" Tricky exclaimed happily as everyone shouted, feeling great after a job well done.

In Corneria, Peppy looked up at the sky through his window in the office, smiling, "Franky.. I wonder how you and your crew are doing. I hope you're doing well." He said.

And outside in space, Starfox just secured a transport, filled with illegal weapons that were being transported to Venom. "Where are they!" Asked a nervous lizardman pilot maneuvering the transport. It was then that Starwolf came with their Wolfens, and attack Starfox head on. "Finally!"

"Huh! Look who brought some fun!" Falco said as he maneuvered his Arwing as he faced against Leon in his Wolfen, "Come on, Bug eyes! It's that the best you got!"

"I'll show you the true meaning of fear, bird brain!" Leon replied, firing back at Falco.

Krystal and Slippy were taking on against Panther, "Ah, my sweet Krystal." Panther said romantically, holding a rose, "Forgive me for you meeting you again like this, but I will take it easy on you if decide to be with me again."

"Sorry, Panther, but I've already decided that I will always be on Fox's side!" Krystal replied.

"Yeah, so get ready, Panther! Here we come!" Slippy exclaimed.

Fox and Wolf were showing off their piloting skills, as neither one of them can hit each other, "Nothing personal, Fox, this is just business." Wolf said, shooting at Fox, "I make a good living doing the things I do, and I prefer you don't get in my way!"

Fox avoided Wolf's shots, and did a barrel roll, before activitating his boosters to fly towards Wolf, "I don't care what you do for a living! As long as you keep putting obstacles in my life, I will always fly through them!"

Wolf barrel rolled away to avoid Fox's ship, as Wolf then laughed, "Don't make me laugh, pup! You got that courage from that boy, didn't you!" Wolf then made a U-turned, and went after Fox, "Face it, Fox, that boy did everything you couldn't do, and that's why you'll never get in his league!"

By that time, everyone was smiling. Remembering about the Strawhats made them felt good, and it was probably the only thing Starfox and Starwolf can relate with. Fox looked up in the dark depths of space with a smile, and then smirked as he also did U-turn, and piloted his Arwing towards Wolf's Wolfen.

"If I can't get into Luffy's league, then neither can you, Wolf! Especially after he kicked your ass!"

"Ha ha ha ha!" Wolf laughed as his Wolfen, and Fox's Arwing crossed paths, with sparks spewing out from between there wings. Fox and Wolf smirked at each other as this battle between rivals continued.

It was all thanks to the Strawhat pirates that life continues to give us these treasure-able moments. It was all thanks to them, we can live our lives the way we want to. And with that said, there is nothing else to tell of this glorious journey.

BUT WAIT! We're forgetting one teensy, weensy, widdle thang!

Back in the Mushroom Kingdom…

In the volcano area, all of Bowser's minions were gathered up together, panting heavily for some odd reason. Kammy Koopa stood in front of Bowser's army, along with Bowser Jr., standing next to her. Everyone looked extremely tired, as Kammy wiped some sweat off her brow.

"I thought this wasn't possible… I thought something like this would only appear in some fantasy…" Kammy said with a surprised tone, "But, at last… after so much hard work… after countless of sleepless nights.. with no breaks, and constant suffering… the new castle… IS COMPLETE!"

What stood before Kammy, and Bowser's army, was a castle so unbelievable, it was hard to describe it in words. After such a long time, Bowser's minions have finished building Bowser's brand new castle, and with all honesty, this is THE castle.

The castle was the size of an impenetrable fortress, taking most of the space in the volcano. All the pretty flowers and trees the last time we've heard of this place were long gone, as the lava was pouring out of the sides of the castle, and into the pool of lava below the volcano recently regained. The castle was about several stories tall, with statues of Bowser holding giant cannons onto their shoulders in the front gate, as the power of those cannons were strong enough to destroy an entire land. The gate walls also have countless of spikes sticking out from everywhere, and above the gate walls were giant-sized thwomps, ready to crush anybody and anything that dares come over the walls.

Through the gates were several traps, like a giant spiky balls that were covered in flames, hanging by some chains that keep swinging around in circles while moving around the entire area, and a river of lava that can only be walked over using the small platforms floating above it, but they were so small, only ants will have an easy standing on them. Not only them, but in front of the castles entrance, there were multiple cannons that had gatling gun-like features, and can shoot hundreds of bullets bills in seconds, and not to mention, there was also giant spiked drills that drill into each other in every 2 seconds behind the cannons. And if there is a chance somebody was skilled enough to go through all that, there was also an invisible springboard behind the cannons, for if anybody steps on it, they will bounce back to start of the area, and redo the entire course again!

Inside the castle were even more deadly things, like holes in the ground, where spikes would pop up from there every 5 seconds, and giant statues of Bowser's heads on the walls would spit out streams of flames between that time. One could get high enough to avoid all that, but if they did, they would get pulled by a reverse gravitational field, sucking them into a pool of poison, meeting their foul end.

Deep in the castle were even more spikes, more lava, more fire, more spikey balls, more poison, more traps… AND MORE CANNONS!

The last notable feature of this place would be at the very top of the castle, where lied the biggest statue of Bowser, posing victoriously with his fist raised in the air, and his eyes and mouth spewing out flames.

I could tell you more about this castle, but it would just be impossible to describe it's epicness. This castle is so indestructible, it makes Obscurum's castle looked like it was built by kindergartners! This is the biggest, deadliest, scariest, mightiest, heaviest, awe-struckedness, artisticness, baffleness (I making some of these words up, just incase you haven't noticed), strongest, sexiest, and the best castle that has ever been created in real life, video game, movie, anime, and fanfiction history!

Bowser's minions roared with happiness, admiring at what they have accomplished. "It's soo beautiful!"

"That's fine craftsmanship right there! I love it!"

"This is the best castle EVER! I can't wait to live in it!"

"My life long dream has finally come true!"

"After living 90 years of a miserable life, I can finally have this one good moment!"

"I was afraid I was going to spend the rest of my life, seeing our lord capture the princess over and over again, only for Mario to come ruin it like always, and destroy our lords castle, along with our self-esteem. The lack of creativity of lord Bowser has brought my life into an everlasting depression, which makes me think of committing suicide. Like, I would use a starman, and fall into the first bottomless pit in World 1-1 like an accident. Yes… that pathetic… BUT WHO CARES NOW! Seeing this castle made me happy again!"

Everyone just stared blankly at the goomba who said that, before they resumed their shouts of glory over their new castle.

"Wait till' pops see this!" Bowser Jr. said excitedly, "He's going to be so happy!"

"Yes! Our Mightyness will finally have the power to kidnap Princess Peach, and do away with Mario once and for all! Nyeh heh heh heh heh!" Kammy laughed, "All that is left to do is wait until Our Beefiness comes back, and then, we will start the Bowser era!"

Bowser's minions cheered, as they knew this was their moment to shine. Nothing can possibly go wrong… right?

Just then, in the dark smoke that filled up the sky, a bright flash could be seen.

"Ehhh?" Everyone stopped cheering, and simultaneously looked up to see that something was coming. Something big appeared to be falling, or in this… somebody.

"GWAAA AAAA AAAA AAAA AAAA AAAA AAAA AAAA AAAA AAAA AAAA AAAA AAAA AAAA AAAA AAAA AAAA AAAA AAAA AAAAHH!"

It was our favorite villain, Bowser. The last time we've seen him, he was kicked away from Obscurum, and just now arrived at his home world.

"Yo-Your Chunkiness?" Kammy gasped.

"Pops?" Bowser Jr. blinked.

"GWAAAAAHH!" Bowser was falling straight towards his brand new castle, and ended up crashing through the giant statue of himself on the top through the head, destroying that, and the rest of the statue as it crumbles into a million pieces. A big dust cloud appeared from where the statue used to be, as the dust was coming from the hole over fancy throne room, and inside, Bowser was lying unconsciously on his new throne, which was crushed to bits once Bowser landed hard on it.

Fortunately, that ended Bowser's suffering, as he lied fast asleep, not needing to suffer anymore not that he's back home… pfft! Yeah right!

A little pebble from the cracks Bowser made upon his fall rolled down the steps of the throne, bouncing higher from each step it landed on. The pebble then fell into a fan, cooling off the paint on the pillars supporting the room. The pebble was being bounced left and right within the fan, until it was then shot forward, and hits a pillar in it's way. The force from that little pebble actually made the pillar to topple over, hitting the pillar nearby, which also toppled over, and hits the other pillar, and so on.

All of the pillars were knocked down, causing the room Bowser was in to cave, which also made the rooms below the throne room to cave in as well. This destruction also messed up the gravitational fields, causing the poison water to shower over the traps, and clogging up the flames from the statues mouths, which later, caused an explosion of flames. The sudden explosion teared through the east and western castle, with streams of lava pouring out from there in the process.

Bowser's minions just watched their mouths gaping open, as the destruction didn't end there. The lava that was still in the castle seeped through the entrance of the Bob-omb storage room, and eventually, all the Bob-ombs in there exploded, destroying the castle from within even more.

The castle was caving into itself, as the swinging spiked balls flew across the place once the chains have been melted. They collided with the giant drills, destroying them as they then knocked into gatling bullet bill cannons. The cannons shot multiple bullet bills everywhere, destroying every single thing in sight without remorse. And even worse, the bullet bills that were flying below the thwomps over the gates caught the Thowmps attention, and crushed the bullet bills without mercy, but also ended up destroying the entire gate walls in the process before falling into the lava below.

The entire castle was turning into ruins as the rubble from the castle was filling up the lava, slowly hardening it into solid ground. The castle was done for, but it wasn't over yet.

The Bowser statues on the gates fell over, as one of them fell on it's back, and automatically fired a gigantic cannonball in the air. All the minions stared up at the ball as it was covered with magic.

"The reverse cannonball…" Kammy said monotonously. The cannonball was suspended in midair for a while, until the minions watched it fall on the remains of the castle.

BOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOO OOOMM!

The cannonball released a sphere of magical power, turning everything ontop of the volcano into something else. The cannonball had the power to reverse something in it's surroundings other than it's target, so once it's firepower destroyed the castle, it's magic effects began to take effect around it.

The dark smoke of the volcano dispersed, showing the clear sky. All the lava dried up into the land, and the land grew a meadow of flowers, and trees in an instant.

In long story short, all of Bowser's lair turned back the way it was way back in hundred chapters ago; the exact same way during the time Bowser went to chase after the Strawhats.

The minions stared on sadly as their precious castle was completely in ruins after minutes of finishing it. They were at a loss of words, for they really didn't expect for this to happen… okay, maybe they did, but not this soon.

Bowser slowly stood up from the middle of the remains of his once glorious castle his minions worked hard to build for him. He looked at his surroundings, seeing only the pretty-giddy stuff he despised so much. Bowser breathed heavily with a big frown, and with time, his lips began to quiver upon aggravation. His eyes were then filled with tears, and enclosed in hands to fists. He growled before he then cried,

"CURSE YOU, STRAW HAAA AAAA AAAA A

Okay, so I should probably start saying some other stuff, like my next stories? I have recieved several story ideas (I'M LOOKING AT YOU, LINKHELIOS!), but I don't have any ideas for them yet. I might do some of them, but I don't know, I can't really think about that in the moment. I have some story ideas of my own, but I don't have many plans for them either, and my next semester is going to begin next week, so I won't be working on any projects for a while. But of course, there are other authors in this site, like game2002; he has good stories, you should check his projects too if you want.

And finally… about a sequel…

I am saying yes and no. It's undecided as of yet. I've actually been thinking about making a sequel for a while now, but I don't know if I have the energy to make another big story again. Even if I am going to work on a sequel, that doesn't mean I'll get started right away. First, I need to see some more development from One Piece. Besides Brook, I want atleast one or two more crewmembers to join the Strawhats. If I am going to make a sequel, I want it to be bigger and better than the original, and I might post a preview of it here. But don't get your hopes up, for this sequel may not come for a long time.

Well… I got what I had to say, and now I thinks it's time to say farewell too. Thank you all again for your time, and hopefully, I'll be back with another story! Until then, everyone! Ciao for… no… Farewell! And don't forget to review! Bye!
